RUPTURE

CHAS. CLUTHE, who, after many years a trial by the medical profession, has secured their confidence and esteem, will be in your neighborhood, see below.

If you or your Children are RUPTURED or DEFORMED, call and see him with your physician. Having spent his whole life in improving and perfecting appliances for rupture and other deformities, it is conceded by the best authorities that he is the only man in this line of business who can after examining a patient, invent and construct a proper appliance to overcome the most difficult cases, as many thousands have testified. No two are made alike. More patents have been secured by him, than all others combined. Testimonials of the most recent character have been received from people in all callings, who have used his appliances for cases of SPINAL DISEASE, CLUB FEET, and other deformities, especially RUPTURE. On receipt of six cents in stamps, an illustrated book containing valuable information will be mailed Address

THE BIG SKATER

Paulsen and McCormick Cannot Agree to a Match—The Latter's Challenge.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 27.—Skaters Paulsen and McCormick met yesterday and talked much, but couldn't come to any terms for a race. Paulsen refused positively to ... any race whatever on the track at the Races Rink in Minneapolis, claiming that it was too small to afford a fair test.

McCormick now comes out with a ... challenge to skate Paulsen three races of five, ten and fifteen miles each, for $250 a side, or he will skate him a five-mile race for $50 a side. He has deposited the $50 and awaits developments. A new wrinkle in the skatorial complications is expected at any moment. In the meantime the champions are all heading this way and as soon as the smoke has cleared away some good races are looked for.

Black, the Canadian skater from Fergus, Ont., arrived here to-night and will endeavor to arrange a match with Paulsen and McCormick. Black is accompanied by Mr. Graham of Toronto, who is after Donoghue's scalp.

The Brightest Jewels

in a mother's diadem are her fair, healthy children—the pride and ornaments of her home. But a mother cannot bear and nourish such children while she is the victim of suffering and disease. By a course of self-treatment with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, every woman can thoroughly eradicate those excruciating periodical pains and functional weaknesses incidant to her sex, and at the same time build up and invigorate her whole system by its health-imparting influence. A trial bottle will convince. "Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers to give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on every bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years. a

Valuable to Know

CONSUMPTION may be more easily prevented than cured. The irritating and harassing cough will be greatly relieved by the use Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, that curey coughs, colds, bronchitis and pulmocary troubles. 2w51d

Rose Island Reports

I CAN state that we have used Hagyard's Yellow Oil with great benefit for colds, sore throat, cuts, burns, chapped hands, etc. We can recommend it be very useful and good in many different ways.

MRS. ABEL HELPS,

Mothers!

Remeber that Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or any other narcotic substance, in any quantity, shape or form. It is entirely vegetable, pleasant to take, positively effective and perfectly harmless. It is not a secret remedy; the formula is printed on the wrapper. Your physician will recommend it. Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, and many so-called soothing syrups are composed principally of opium or morphine; in any quantity they stupify, and in large quantities are deadly poisons. Castoria assimilates the food and regulates the bowels, cures diarrhœa, allays feverishness and flatulence, soothes the pain in teething, relieves constipation and kills worms. It brings refreshing and natural sleep to the child, and gives rest to the mother.

"Castoria is so well adapted to infants and children that I recommend it as superior to any other known remedy."

DR. H. A. ARCHER,
111 S. Oxford st., Brooklyn, N.Y.
March 8, 1887.

"From personal knowledge and observation I can say that Castoria is an excellent medicine for children, acting as a laxative and relieving the pent up bowels and general system very much. Many mothers have told me of its excellent effect upon their children." DR. G. C. OSGOOD.

Wild Cherry Bark, Rhcumpanea, Horehound and Senega. These are the remedies with which Dame Nature has supplied Canada for the cure of Colds, Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Loss of Voice. All these are contained in Wilson's Wild Cherry in their most active form, and with other medicines constitute this most reliable cure for all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs. Wilson's Wild Cherry is sold by all druggists. dw

Death Dealing Drugs.

SUCH as Calomel, Morphine, etc., are remedies better left alone. They often weaken even strong constitutions. This Burdock Blood Bitters never does, it contains no mineral or other poison, and cures all diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood by unlocking the secretions and removing all impurities. 2w52d

Make no Delay!

I8 a perfect cure for croup and colds, and I can recommend Hagyard's Yellow Oil—one bottle of which cured me of a very bad cold. I would say to all sufferers, make no delay in using it as it gives quick relief.

Ayer's Hair Vigor keeps the hair soft and pliant, imparts to it the lustre and freshness of youth, causes it to grow luxuriantly, eradicates Dandruff, cures all scalp diseases, and is the most cleanly of all hair preparations.

AYER'S Hair Vigor has given me perfect satisfaction. I was nearly bald for six years, during which time I used many hair preparations, but without success. Indeed, what little hair I had, was growing thinner, until I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor. I used two bottles of the Vigor, and my head is now well covered with a new growth of hair.—Judson Gospel, Peabody, Mass.

HAIR that has become weak, gray, and faded, may have new life and color restored to it by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. "My hair was thin, faded, and dry, and fell out in large quantities. Aer's Hair Vigor stopped the falling, an restored my hair to its original color. As a dressing for the hair, this preparation has no equal.—Mary N. Hammond, Stillwater, Minn.

VIGOR, youth, and beauty, in the appearance of the hair, may be preserved in an indefinite period by the use of Ayr's Hair Vigor. "A disease of the scalp caused my hair to become harsh and dry, and to fall out freely. Nothing I tried seemed to do any good until I commenced using Ayer's Hair Vigor. Three bottles of this preparation restored my hair to a healthy condition, and it is now soft and pliant. My scalp is cured, and it is also free from dandruff.—Mrs. E. R. Foss, Milwaukee, Wis.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
Sold by Druggists and Perfumers.

PERFECT SAFETY, prompt action, and wonderful curative properties, easily place Ayer's Pills at the head of the list of popular remedies for Sick and Nervous Headaches, Constipation, and all ailments originating in a disordered Liver.

I have been a great sufferer from Headache, and Ayer's Cathartic Pills are the only medicine that has ever given me relief. One dose of these Pills will quickly move my bowels, and free my head from pain.—William L. Page, Richmond, Va.

A POETICAL TRIBUTE
—TO—
HONEST DEALING.

A grateful customer of MESSRS. H. LEBRUN & Co. has been moved to put into verse the following truthful tribute to the excellence of this firm's goods. Truth and poetry do not always go together, but in this case they go hand in hand. There is no exaggeration nor poetical license in the following lines:—

Last night I had a pleasant dream, and well I did enjoy it,
In sleep I scaled Parnassus' height, and awoke a full fledged poet;
I tarried not to eat nor drink, but quickly grasped my pen
To tell in verse how cheaply we could clothe our fellowmen.
Our prices make the rich to smile, the poor with joy to shout,
We are resolved from this henceforth to knock the bottom out.
The man must strike some unseen notch, and shout up from below
That undersells the clothing store of H. LeBrun & Co.

Our choice five dollar overcoats, our genial salesmen shows,
Will keep you warm as a pie in the wildest storm that blows.
No ground up rags, no shoddy stuff, no mill pressed guns and hair,
But every thread spun from the sheep—fine, cheap, and made to wear.
You need not walk round shabby dressed, our prices must you convince,
Our seven dollar suits will dress you stylish as a prince.
For two and fifty we will clothe your boy from head to toe
Right in the City Clothing Store of H. LeBrun & Co.

Our line of ready-made is good, choices you will receive,
Examine, choose and purchase cloth; with us your order leave.
We guarantee to cut and stitch complete as you command,
For style and finish every part here unsurpassed we stand.
Young gents that wish a stylish suit, for concert, church or ball
Will have their true wish gratified, by giving us a call.
Out walking, or in sitting room your girl will wish to know
If you had bought that pretty suit from H LeBrun & Co.

Our expert cutter measures true and strikes each new design,
With skilful hand his shears play crack, round angle, curve or line.
Our tailor's work, neat, strong, complete, o'er all the hot geese steams,
Leaving no wrinkles in the back, nor puckers in the seams.
We don't believe in paper puffs that float off like a kite.
Our goods and prices come and test, as proofs of what we write.
No shoddy pressed, no ripping seams, air holes in two weeks show.
Cheapness as and wear the motto is at H. LeBrun's & Co.

Before eighteen and eight-nine bids us a last adieu,
To all our patrons, rich and poor, thanks we return to you.
Fair honest dealing in the past upholds our business name,
And in the future, we resolve strict to pursue the same,
Come old and new friends, welcome come, Christmas is drawing nigh.
How you will smile to see how much a trifling sum will buy.
With pleasure we will suit your wants and salute you as you go.
With all the season's compliments, of H. LeBrun & Co.

The Cheese Industry.

Peterborough is recognized as the centre of the dairy industry in the Midland district, and apparently the local manufacturers are in demand. The Orillia Packet says:—A number of farmers of the township of Orillia are endeavouring to secure the erection of a cheese factory in this vicinity. They have been in correspondence with a Mr. Reid, of Peterborough, an experienced cheese maker. Mr. Reid has been here twice, and will build, probably on Silver Creek, if the milk of three hundred cows be guaranteed.

Model School Recommendations.

The following are the names of the successful candidates at the recent Model School examinations at Norwood:—Robert Armstrong, John Connolly, John Mahood, Ella Smith, Thos. Stephenson, Sarah Brown, Mary Casey, Jessie Calder, Jessie Clydale, Ella Crowley, Maggie Holdcroft, Maggie Kennedy, Tevera Kennedy, Mary Knapp, Sarah Paget, Maggie Nelson, Mary Williamson, Ella Wilson, Olive Stephenson, Nellie Stephenson.

They're Sorry to Lose Him.

The Orillia Packet says:—Mr. J. Waugh, B.A., second master in Orillia High School, on the strong recommendation of Inspector Hodgson, was offered a position in Peterborough Collegiate Institute, at an advance of $[illegible]. We are pleased to say, he has declined the offer. His [illegible] would be a great loss to the town, as he is a favorite with all who have had the pleasure of coming in contact with him, and his removal would be regretted by all.

[illegible] letter from St Petersburg says the [illegible] rumored relapse of the Czar was caused by a return of the influenza, from which he had been suffering, but from which he was [illegible]tely recovered. The symptoms of his illness were different and much more [illegible]. The Czar, apparently in good health, was suddenly taken with violent pain in the stomach after leaving the dinner table. His attendants were greatly alarmed, Physicians were summoned and administered [illegible] for poison. The story is that poison was found mixed with the food of which the Czar had partaken. Officials, who have been very active of late, confirm this report, but assert that the poison was administered by one of their number.

The Emperor's condition remains critical for a short time. Powerful [illegible] and skilful treatment saved him, but he is still very weak. Every effort is made to hush up the affair, the physicians were not allowed to leave buildings as they did hourly during the [illegible] illness. The report given out is that there had been a slight relapse.

The latest [illegible] above intelligence was not entrusted to [illegible], where it would have been subject to [illegible] inspection, but was brought to Paris by [illegible].

At Any Rate He Has Recovered.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 30.—The Czar has recovered from the [illegible].

It is stated that the latest illness of the Czar was brought on by the excitement caused by the sudden extinction of the electric lights in the Gatchina Palace. There was a violent rush of blood to the lungs and consequent congestion of these organs.

Theodore McLittle.

DUBLIN, Dec. 30.—The Earl of Zetland, the new Viceroy of Ireland, in reply to a number of addresses presented to him to-day said he was rejoiced that the condition of Ireland was so far different from what it was when Lord Londonderry, the late Viceroy, was welcomed in Dublin in 1886. The happy results which had been achieved induced the Government to persevere. The Government, he said, was sanguine of further progress and of the prosperity, peace and contentment of all desired.

Dom Pedro Prostrated.

OPORTO, Dec. 30.—Dom Pedro continues utterly prostrated. The doctors have advised that efforts be made to rouse him by conversation, but he cannot respond to questions. The Comte and Comtesse d'Eu arrived here to-day. The [illegible] meeting with his daughter was of a most [illegible] character.

The funeral of the late Empress is fixed for Jan. 4. The Pope has sent his benediction to the deceased.

Dom Pedro to-day received a despatch from President Carnot condoling with him on the death of his wife and expressing sympathy with the entire Imperial family.

ALL HONORABLE MEN.

Captain O'Shea's Advice to Mr. Parnell—Denials All Round.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—Capt. O'Shea to-day said he advised Mr. Parnell to assume the usual position of a co-respondent and to allow himself to be served with a citation. O'Shea stated there was not the slightest truth in Mr. Parnell's assertion that the suit had been instigated by the Times. Neither The Times nor Mr. Houston, he said, knew anything of the action before it became known to the public. In proof of this assertion he produced a letter from the editor of The Times, dated last evening, asking him to confirm or correct the report that he had filed a petition for a divorce.

Houston's Denial.

[illegible] Houston has written a letter denying the statement made by Mr. Parnell in his letter to The Freeman's Journal, that he induced O'Shea to bring the suit for divorce against Mrs. O'Shea. Houston said he had no knowledge of the action taken by Captain O'Shea until he saw the newspaper report.

Gladstone's Grateful Gratefulness.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—Mr. Gladstone has sent to the newspapers a general reply of thanks to those who sent him congratulations on his birthday. He refers to the indulgence shown him in the public estimation of his public labors and says he hopes it will help to make him watchful to avoid errors.

Salisbury's Answer to Lisbon.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—The channel squadron is proceeding to Gibraltar. The Calliope coming home to be paid off, was stopped at Port Said and is probably to go to Delagoa Bay. The Marquis of Salisbury has completed his answer to the Portuguese note. The silence of General Johnston encourages the opinion that he is organizing to oust the Portuguese from their new positions.

The Marquis of Salisbury is seriously ill.

A Papal Consistory.

ROME, Dec. 30.—A Papal consistory was held to-day. The Pope delivered an allocution, which he addressed his censure of the Government's Ecclesiastical Trusts Bill and condemned the position of the Bishop of Mantua, Italy.

The Pope also refers to the new Catholic universities in America, Switzerland and announced his intention to create two new cardinals—Archbishop Satolli, Delegate to the United States, and Mgr. Bourgeault and Mgr. Satolli will be the new cardinals.

The Pope has promoted three bishops in the United States to the [illegible] Sioux Falls; Charlotte, St. Cloud; Shelby, Richmond; Medrick, Duluth; Hurley, Jamestown, Dak.; Cotter, Winona.

Archbishop Ch Preconized.

ROME, Dec. 30.—The Pope has bestowed the Cardinal's hat on the Archbishops of Paris, Lyons and Prague has preconized many archbishops and bishops in different countries, including Bishop Cleary of Kingston, Ont.

Glad He had Remembered Brad.

PEMBROKE, Dec. 30.—[illegible] published here Oliver Aiken, Dec. 10, [illegible] communication from Dr. [illegible] announced the [illegible] and said he found dead.

Deputy [illegible] intended to six [illegible] duel, a carpenter, [illegible] received a [illegible] months' [illegible] months and [illegible], was sentenced [illegible] teen months. [illegible] witnesses found guilty [illegible] sentenced to [illegible] ranging from [illegible] days to three [illegible].

Scooped by the Guillotine.

BERLIN, Dec. 27.—The [illegible] has abolished the Berolina [illegible] at Berlin and Breslau.

QUEBEC WEST ELECTION.

Owen Murphy Defeats E. H. McGreevy for the Assembly by a Majority.

QUEBEC, Dec. 30.—In the election in Quebec West to-day for the Local House, caused by the unseating of Owen Murphy, the candidates were Owen Murphy (L.) and R. H. McGreevy (Con.). A large vote was polled. Owen Murphy was elected by 201 majority. Active fault-finding with the gentleman defeated Mr. Carbray by a majority of 39.

Mr. Boehm Elected.

MONTREAL, Dec. 30.—[illegible] Jetis, Wardsville and Dawlton, [illegible] election courts, [illegible] the election [illegible] A. Reclem, M.P.A. for Ottawa [illegible] on the ground of [illegible] general election. Mr. [illegible] as a Conservative. [illegible] petitioned against [illegible] Mr. Boehm [illegible] Mr. Carbray [illegible] Mr. Boehm [illegible] Mr. Carbray [illegible].

THE DOCTORS ARE BUSY.

LA GRIPPE DESCENDS SUDDENLY ON MONTREAL.

The Victims Suffer Severely but no Fatal Cases Reported yet—One Hundred Thousand Philadelphians Down With the Disease—In Other Cities.

MONTREAL, Dec 30.—Enquiries made by the officials of the Board of Health on Saturday failed to locate a single case of influenza in Montreal to-day nearly every medical practitioner in the city reports having some cases under treatment. Leading doctors agree that the disease is the form of influenza which has been epidemic in Russia and the rest of Europe. The disease as it has appeared here is extremely painful, the symptoms being severe headaches, pains about the loins and back, accompanied by chills and high fever. The disease appears to have paid a sudden visit to the city Saturday night and the doctors and druggists have been kept busy ever since.

A Fatal Case in New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Policeman Golden died to-day from influenza. Three hundred policemen are sick with the disease.

Even Philadelphia Has Caught On.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 30.—Some estimates place the number of persons in this city suffering from the influenza at 100,000. Mayor Fitler, the Director of Public Works, the Superintendent of Police, the Chief of Detectives and 135 policemen are laid up with the "grip."

A Luxury the Poor Can Have

PARIS, Dec. 30.—M. Rothschild has presented 100,000 francs to the municipality to be devoted to the relief of the poor of Paris afflicted with influenza. The weather is now fine. There were 342 new cases in Paris to-day from all causes, against 414 yesterday. There were 22 deaths in the Rue Brest alone to-day.

A Virulent Type.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—Influenza of a virulent type is raging in Birmingham.

There are a few cases of influenza in London and two deaths have been caused by the disease. The epidemic has appeared in Pesth where Ministers Teleki and Baross and General Klapka are among the sufferers.

Increase in Attendant Maladies

BERLIN, Dec. 30.—Statistics show a great increase in all maladies attendant upon the influenza. For the third week in December there were thirty-seven deaths from laryngitis, 122 from inflammation of the lungs and 10 from pleurisy. Dahn, the author, is ill at Breslau. Half of the police in Mayence are affected. There are thousands of cases at Stuttgart, at Augsburg and at Cologne. There is no abatement in the severity of the disease at Vienna, where there have been many deaths from pneumonia. The Archduke Karl Ludwig and his grandson have each had the disease.

AN INSURANCE SWINDLER.

South Dakota Detectives Looking for Dexter G. Turner.

SIOUX FALLS, S.D., Dec. 31.—Detectives are looking for Dexter G. Turner who, according to State Auditor Taylor, is an accomplished insurance rascal. "Turner," said the State Auditor, "came to South Dakota in June, representing himself as the state agent for the Citizens' Life Association of Cherokee, Ia. He organized the state system nationally to solicit life insurance, agents were appointed among the farmers and laboring classes. Turner and his agents had no legal authority to do business in this state. The attractive feature of his plan was to issue a conjoint policy covering both man and wife and in some instances the entire family.

"Business came pouring in at an enormous rate, notes or cash or anything that could be got being taken for premiums. The notes were sold at whatever figure the local banks would pay. The work Turner and his agent did was fraudulent from its inception. The policies written will reach $1,000,000.

The Warwick's Rough Passage.

HALIFAX, Dec. 31.—The Donaldson line steamer Warwick, from Glasgow, experienced terrible weather. Captain Coutts says he never met with such a succession of gales. Day after day they encountered these gales with tremendous seas, which made progress slow. On one occasion they had an electric storm with vivid flashes of lightning but no thunder. Despite all the bad weather Captain Coutts brought his vessel into port without damage. She had seven horses on board when she left, but there was only one when she got here. The poor animals suffered from the terrible weather and they stood it for a long time but six died after reaching the banks. Capt. Coutts reports that while off Cape Race he passed a steamer with a large vessel in tow bound east but it was at night and as it was dark he could not discover what they were. He also reports passing an iceberg near Cape Race but saw no other ice.

A Jersey City Mystery.

JERSEY CITY, N.J., Dec. 31.—The body of a well dressed, refined looking man, who was seen in the city several days, was found yesterday in the water at the Scranton docks in this city. The head and body were cut and bruised in many places. Every stitch of clothing was gone.

OUTRAGE IN ARKANSAW.

A Young Woman Brutally Maltreated by Drunken Ruffians.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 28.—A special from Harrison, Ark., to The Republic gives the following account of a brutal treatment of a young lady by five drunken men: On Tuesday night near Bellfonte, Boon county, an awful crime was committed. Miss Mate, daughter of John Mate, attended a dance, where her escort was taken ill, and she accepted the company of a young man named John Dees on the way home. Dees mistook the way and, though she protested, he insisted the road he had taken was the shorter way. After traveling a few miles the couple were overtaken by five drunken men, who made an assault on Miss Mate, dragged her from her horse and compelled her by force to submit to them. Her escort made no effort to defend her. She was kept in the woods at the mercy of these men until daylight. It is feared she cannot recover from her injuries. The injured girl cannot identify any of her assailants, but it it thought all of them will be captured, and summary justice will probably be visited upon them. Young Dee's conduct is the cause of great indignation, and it is freely charged that, while he was guilty of no overt act himself, he acted as a decoy for others. Dees is the son of a clergyman. The unfortunate girl is highly respected and bears an unblemished reputation.

GONE UP IN SMOKE.

Six Thousand Bales of Cotton and Other Property at Yazoo City, Miss.

YAZOO CITY, Miss., Dec. 28.—The Citizen's warehouse, 6,000 bales of cotton and seven freight cars were burned here this evening. The alarm was sounded at 1 o'clock and in less than five minutes the whole building and contents was a solid flame. It is the most disastrous fire ever in this city, the estimated loss being $350,000.

AN EXTRA DIVIDEND

The Canadian Pacific Railway Business a Supplementary One Per Cent.

MONTREAL, Dec. 30.—At a meeting of the directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to-day, statements of the results of working for the year were submitted, which, estimating for the month of December, showed net earnings for the year above working expenses $6,029,000, affording a surplus above fixed charges for the year of $2,250,000, which, added to the surplus from last year, would make a total surplus of $4,576,000 at the close of the present year.

The question of an extra dividend was considered and it was decided to declare a supplementary dividend of 1 per cent., payable Feb. 17, with the regular 1½ per cent. [illegible] from the annuity fund [illegible] of the Dominion Government, [illegible] for the half year of 3½ per

CANADA AND THE STATES

EVIDENCE BEFORE THE U. S. SENATE COMMITTEE.

A Wide Range of Topics Discussed—The Fishery Dispute, Canadian Railroads and the Interstate Law, Free Trade, Commercial and Political Union.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—The United States Senate Committee on Relations with Canada began its session here to-day. The fisheries matter was the first thing taken up. F. J. Babson of Gloucester, Mass., made a long statement of the fishery dispute. He urged that fishing vessels should have the same privileges accorded them that are accorded all other vessels of the world's merchant marine under the permits that are granted. Witness contended that the only way to remedy the difficulty was to withdraw from all British vessels such commercial rights as were withheld from American vessels in British waters. He did not believe in treaties. They were worthless in cases of this kind. Retaliation alone would quickly set matters right. He believed in maintaining duties on Canadian fish.

Erastus Wiman was the next witness. He spoke at length about the general desire of Canadians for closer relations with this country. Mr. Wiman believed there would be a very strong British protest against political union of Canada with the United States. This would result from the fact that in England at the present time there is a strong republican sentiment showing itself, and it was an open question whether there would ever be another British king. The commercial side of the question would benefit Canada greatly, but the higher classes would declare against it. Canada would be bettered a hundred fold by annexation. The question of political annexation was not growing as rapidly as it should. A forced annexation could not be thought of.

Senator Hoar said it was a question Canada must decide for herself.

Mr. Wiman then said one objection to the annexation of Canada was the immense increase in late years of the French Roman Catholic population. The witness favored a commercial union.

Senator Pugh took the witness in hand and showed that by a commercial union this country would reap no benefit. Canada would have a market of 65,000,000 people opened to her and the United States a market of only 5,000,000.

Mr. Wiman said the fact that Canadian railways were not under the Interstate Commerce Law gave them an advantage. If a proper commercial arrangement were made between the two countries this would not be so. The roads there were ready to comply with the Interstate Law and to a great extent are complying with it.

Senator Pugh said they were not doing anything of the kind.

Mr. Wiman said he so understood it. To the question by Senator Hoar as to what raw material Canada can furnish us, the witness replied, lumber, coal or the Pacific coast nickel, asbestos and iron ore. Continuing, he said the British idea of a great confederation of all the British colonies with a parliament in London meant discrimination against the United States. The Tory element in Canada was giving this sentiment great thought.

Francis B. Thurber was next examined. He considered the tariff a barrier against good commercial intercourse.

Thomas L. Greene said he came to give the railroad side of the transportation question. In his opinion it was impossible to sever railroad communication with Canada, as that would be as injurious to Americans as to Canadians. A remedy might be had if the "long and short haul" clause of the Interstate Law were observed by the Canadian railways.

F. W. Glen, who for nine years was a member of the Dominion Parliament, asserted positively that Canada must come to the United States to obtain a market for her products. In his opinion this was only a question of time. The theory that a commercial union was wanted by Canadians was wrong. The way to arrange matters was to leave Canada alone. As long as she was a colony of Great Britain we should not give her access to our markets, but when she was free and independent then she should have that access. He believed Congress should hold on to the Canadians no inducements. The result then would be that they would become independent.

Mr. Glen said Canada had adopted the free school system, decimal calculations and election methods of the United States, and was more eager to adopt American business principles than she was those of England. Instead of reading English magazines, Canadians read American publications, and more Canadian youths are educated in American colleges than in British universities. Canada also wants free access to our American markets. Many leading Canadians, the speaker held, favored annexation. If it was desirable that the United States should secure annexation the duties should be left as they are.

Mr. Glen said that as long as Sir John Macdonald remained in office any change in affairs was impossible, but when he died a change would no doubt follow.

This ended the hearing for the day.

WHAT IS GOING ON IN MONTREAL.

The Young Men's Reform Club's Invitation to Mr. Wiman.

MONTREAL, Dec. 30.—At the annual meeting of the Young Men's Reform Club it was resolved to invite Mr. Erastus Wiman to give a lecture here shortly under the auspices of the club, but it is to be distinctly understood that the club would not in any way commit itself to Mr. Wiman's views on the question of trade relations between Canada and the United States.

Mr. Mercier is receiving ovations all along the line. On Christmas Day he attended a grand mass at the French-Canadian Church in East 76th-street, New York. His name was mentioned from the pulpit as the champion of the Catholic religion and as having obtained high honors from Rome. After the service the congregation awaited him at the door and cheered him. He goes from New York to Salem, Mass., where he is to address a meeting of his compatriots.

A Big Year for Failures.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Bradstreet's reports 11,716 failures in the United States for the year 1889, with liabilities of $140,570,490 and assets of $70,969,769. This is the largest number of failures and greatest aggregate of liabilities for any year in the past five.

The Passenger Rate War.

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 30.—The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway Company to-day announced a cut of $2.50 in the first-class rate from St. Paul to Chicago and a cut of 70 cents in the rate on the same class to Milwaukee. To avoid violation of the law the company will have to cut its rates to Kansas City, Sioux City and Council Bluffs.

The Mississippi Closed by Ice.

LACROSSE, Wis., Dec. 30.—The Mississippi River is closed by ice to-day.

THE TISHWAWA TERRORS.

Or, Choctaw Pete's Last Howl—A Tale of the Border.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 30.—Two notorious Indian desperadoes named Red Lendall and Choctaw Pete, heavily loaded with tanglefoot, took possession of the town of Tishwawa Christmas day. After nearly killing the town marshal, when he attempted to arrest them, they emptied a drug store and tried to ride their horses into the hotel. At this juncture a well-armed stranger rode up to the hotel and dismounted. The outlaws ordered him away and cut the halter of his horse. The stranger remonstrated, whereupon Choctaw Pete covered him with his revolver and ordered Lendall to disarm him. As Lendall approached the stranger shot him through the heart. A duel then occurred between Pete and the stranger and Pete was shot through the head and killed. After eating his dinner the stranger leisurely rode away. He is supposed to be Winchester Frank, the crack shot and scout.

THE LADIES!

A great London Physician says that he notes a new and distinct form of nervous disease prevalent in Canadian women by worry about servants and overwork in caring for the house. This is only too true. It is why we see so many ladies pale, weak, languid and suffering from headaches and innumerable complaints. They cannot stand the strain upon their nervous system. Many of them have found the means to sustain their failing strength, to give color to the cheeks, and pure life and vigor to the body, in Paine's Celery Compound. This pure and scientific remedy is especially adapted to the needs of women, and is daily making the most remarkable cures. Mrs. W. E. Cooper, 35 St. Hyacinthe St., Montreal, was for a long time troubled with nervous headaches, loss of appetite, low spirits, etc. After using the Compound, her headaches disappeared, appetite was good, and her spirits restored.

Annie Gourley, of River Beaudette, P.Q., found the Compound a certain cure for weakness, and now leads as well as she ever did.

Many a Canadian lady has the same reason to be grateful.

Paine's Celery Compound can be purchased at any druggists for one dollar a bottle. If he doesn't not have it on hand, order direct from WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Montreal.

THE OLD AND THE NEW.

Another New Year is upon us. How the years do fly! It seems but as yesterday that we clasped hands and wished, one, the other, "A Happy New Year." Yet how many changes has the past twelve-month wrought. How many a cheerful voice is stilled forever, how many a bright eye has closed on this busy bustling world forever. In our business circles, in our homes, in our individual lives there have been many sad changes, but we still live, with much to be thankful for Whatever of crime, whatever of wrong, whatever of evil, of disaster—by field and flood—has marked the past year, he that thinks—that looks below the surface will decide that the world has grown better and it has grown wiser. Europe has been turbulent with threatened war, but as yet there is no bluck. Actual war seems to come as tardily as "Mowat goes." Europe has enjoyed a year of peace which few at last New Year expected to see. Africa has attracted more than her share of attention this year. The fate and doings of Emin and Stanley have shown them both to be heroes whose stories in detail will read like the veriest romance. The world generally has enjoyed peace, and the advancement in social arts and science and general improvement have been greater in the past twelve-month than would have been possible in a half century two or three centuries ago. Canada has had little cause of complaint, though the harvest has not been all that could be desired. The depression in trade does not appear to be greater than in other countries in parallel or nearly similar circumstances. Our political situation has been, unfortunately, marked by a controversy foreign to the discussion of any legitimate issue, forced upon it by those, who selfishly justify to themselves the employment of it as a means to an end, regardless of whatever evil consequences to the harmonious relations of two sections of our citizens may follow. Canada has certainly not certainly lost her sense of right and wrong; there is certainly left enough of public good sense to rebuke the driveling demagogueism of the times and to circumvent the schemes of plotters against the public peace and the public welfare. The town and county of Peterborough have passed the year amidst some little excitement, but this has apparently outlived; better thoughts and feelings seem to have taken the place of bickerings and disputes that never should have arisen, and we can hope that with the advent of a new year, good resolutions made in all sincerity, will restore peace and quiet, and that, as well as all the world, our own little country, as well as all the readers of the EXAMINER, may enjoy what we wish they may enjoy.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

THE SEPARATE SCHOOL AMENDMENTS.

One of the most industriously employed engines to rouse "Mowat go" has been the charge that he has unduly favored the supporters of Separate Schools by the amendments of the Separate Schools Act which were passed by the Local Legislature with the unanimous consent, or at least without the opposition of any single member, not even the redoubtable Mr. Meredith who is now trying to get into power by riding the anti-Roman Catholic hobby as valiantly as he rode the anti-Orange hobby a few years ago. "Anything to beat Mowat" is the cry, and at present Mr. Meredith seems to think that reaching for an Archbishop's scalp is a better policy than writing "Facts for Irish Electors." Mr. Meredith and his party, or rather, faction, made such a howl about the Separate School amendments, misconstruing them and wrenching their meaning to support their contention and injure the Mowat Government, that the Premier and Hon. Mr. Ross, Minister of Education, submitted to the Court of Chancery, a series of questions involving the rights of the opponents of the Government, involving the effect and interpretation of the disputed amendments. These questions and the answers and interpretations of the learned judges published in the EXAMINER on Saturday, [illegible] very, the result is, is fashioned out. It, "very," the Court, stripped of its legal [illegible] and reduced to every-day English, has [illegible] understood them by the Globe:

"The substance of the answers is, that a Roman Catholic is not entitled to exemption from the public school tax unless he gives to the clerk of the municipality notice in writing that he is a Roman Catholic and supporter of a Separate School" in the township. It will be proved hereafter that by the Separate [illegible] law of 1863 this notice has to be given [illegible] and it is not to be renewed annually. The answers further show, in effect, that the mere fact of the man's being a Roman Catholic is only prima facie evidence for the purpose of his being entitled to the exemption of his assessor is not bound to [illegible] that he is a Roman Catholic, [illegible] made aware of [illegible] placing his name, first name and surname, on a Roman Catholic or [illegible] and the notice required" for his exemption [illegible] school supporter, and the roll is returned in that form and not appealed against by either the ratepayer himself or any other ratepayer, the assessment goes into effect as any other wrong assessment done for that year, and for that year only."

There is a duplex dastardliness about these same Separate School amendment charges. Mr. Mowat and his government were charged with giving, for ulterior reasons, a bias to these amendments of a slavishly pro-Catholic character, which our most learned judges declare they do not possess. Again—the amendments were passed for the purpose of making more easily workable the Separate School law, which is a part of our constitution, and which Mr. Meredith has no more power to change than he has over the course of the gulf stream. These amendments were not objected to at the time of their passage by the Opposition, who are as much responsible for the amendments as Mr. Mowat's government, and yet they have the cowardly hypocrisy to attempt to saddle the blame upon that body entirely. "Anything to beat Mowat" necessitates a good deal of turning and squirming, and spineless Mr. Meredith seems to be particularly proficient in this sort of political gymnastics.

Peculiarities of the Hair.

There are times when all persons require to pay some particular attention to the hair. To reatndie the life on energy of the roots is a simple matter if taken in time. Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic will do the word, it works in accordance with nature, supplys fresh nourishment to the glands keeper, the hair luxuriant and natural in shade. Be sure to get, you cannot afford to miss it. Every druggist sells it. It is money well spent. See Dorenwends advertisement in another column.

Baby one Solid Rash

Ugly, painful, blotched eruptions—no rest by day, no peace by night—doctors and all remedies failed—Tried Cuticura—Effect marvellous—Saved his life

Cured by Cuticura.

Our eldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid mass, ugly, painful, blotched, and unsightly. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion, your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred.

Boy Covered with Scabs.

My boy, aged nine years, has been troubled all his life with a very bad humor, which appeared all over his body in small red blotches, with a dry white scab [illegible] year he was worse than ever, being covered with scabs from the top of his head to his feet, and continually growing worse. [illegible] he has been treated by two physicians. As a last resort, I determined to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and am happy to say they did all that I could wish. Using them according to directions, the humor rapidly disappeared, leaving the skin fair and smooth, and performing a thorough cure. The CUTICURA REMEDIES are all you claim for them. They are worth their weight in gold.

A POETICAL TRIBUTE
—TO—
HONEST DEALING.

A grateful customer of Messrs. H. LeBRUN & Co. has been moved to put into verse the following truthful tribute to the excellence of this firm's goods. Truth and poetry do not always go together, but in this case they go hand in hand. There is no exaggeration nor poetical license in the following lines:—

Last night I had a pleasant dream, and well I did enjoy it,
In sleep I scaled Parnassus' height, and awoke a full fledged poet;
I tarried not to eat nor drink, but quickly grasped my pen
To tell in verse how cheaply we could clothe our fellowmen.
Our prices make the rich to smile, the poor with joy to shout,
We are resolved from this henceforth to knock the bottom out;
The man must strike some unseen notch, and shout up from below
That undersells the clothing store of H. LeBrun & Co.

Our choice five dollar overcoats, our genial salesmen shows,
Will keep you warm as a pie in the wildest storm that blows.
No ground up rags, no shoddy stuff, no mill pressed glue and hair,
But every thread spun from the sheep—fine, cheap, and made to wear.
You need not walk round shabby dressed, our prices must you convince,
Our seven dollar suits will dress you stylish as a prince.
For two and-fifty we will clothe your boy from head to toe
Right in the City Clothing Store of H. LeBrun & Co.

Our line of ready-made is good, choices you will receive,
Examine, choose and purchase cloth; with us your order leave.
We guarantee to cut and stitch complete as you command,
For style and finish every part here unsurpassed we stand.
Young sports that wish a stylish suit, for concert, church or ball,
Will have their true wish gratified, by giving us a call.
Out walking, or in sitting room your girl will wish to know
If you had bought that pretty suit from H. LeBrun & Co.

Our expert cutter measures true and strikes each new design,
With skilful hand his shears play crack, round angle, curve or line.
Our tailor's work, neat, strong, complete, o'er all the hot goose steams,
Leaving no wrinkles in the back, nor puckers in the seams.
We don't believe in paper puffs that float off like a kite,
Our goods and prices come and test, as proofs of what we write.
No shoddy pressed, no ripping seams, air holes in two weeks show.
Cheapness and wear the motto is at H. LeBrun's & Co.

Before eighteen and eighty-nine bids us a last adieu,
To all our patrons, rich and poor, thanks we return to you.
Fair honest dealing in the past upholds our business name,
And in the future, we resolve strict to pursue the same.
Come old and new friends, welcome come, Christmas is drawing nigh,
How you will smile to see how much a trifling sum will buy,
With pleasure we will suit your wants and salute you as you go in.
With all the season's compliments, of H. LeBrun & Co.

PLUMS FOR THE XMAS PUDDING!

What's Nuts for the Buyers is Fun for Us.

12 DAYS OF SACRIFICE

From now until after Chrjstmas we intend to let everything go! Our great $40,000 Sale, at 50 cents on the dollar, was a great success—in fact, away beyond our most sanguine expectations. Notwithstanding the great business done, there is yet about 1300 Overcoats, and 1900 Suits, and nearly 10,000 pairs of Boots to close out. To convert this into money, we have organised a Grand Sacrifice Sale of our whole stock, for 12 days, and will sell every article in our two big stores at ten per cent advance on cost. Taking into consideration that the goods were bought at 50 cents on the dollar, the reader can readily see that this sacrifice means a saving to the buyer of nearly one hundred per cent; or, in other words, WE PURPOSE FOR TWELVE DAYS GIVING GOLD DOLLARS FOR FIFTY CENT PIECES.

PLUMS FOR THE PUDDING:

$2.95 will buy a Man's All Wool Etoffe Overcoat.
$3.90 will buy a Man's Tweed Overcoat, lined with Heavy Serge, trimmed with Velvet Collar
$5.00 is our sale price, for Twelve Days only, for a Fine Worsted Overcoat.
$9.00 gives you your choice for all $15.00, $16.00 and $18.00 Overcoats.

VOL. X. NO. 1 PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, JANUARY 2, 1890. PRICE TWO CENTS

POOR YOUNG ORPHANS.

TWENTY-SIX BOYS SUFFOCATED AT A FIRE.

The Holmes Burr Memorial Institution, While the Inmates Were Asleep, Destroyed by Fire—The Occupants of the Upper Stories Terrified—Heartrending Scenes.

LONDON, Jan. 1.—The boys' section of the paupers' school in the district of Forest Gate in connection with the Whitechapel and Poplar Unions took fire last night while the inmates were asleep and was burned. Twenty-six boys who were in the upper stories were suffocated. Fifty-eight other boys were rescued from the building amid terrible excitement. Two matrons of the institution escaped by sliding down the water pipes, and several boys escaped in the same way. The superintendent of the school repeatedly rushed through the flames and brought out a number of inmates. There were 600 persons in the institution. The bodies of those who were suffocated were carried to the main hall of the building, which was still profusely decorated with Christmas greens. The female departments, in which were 250 girls, was not touched. The boys retired last evening in the highest spirits, having been promised presents and a New Year's fete to-day.

The scenes in the main hall, where the bodies of the dead boys lie, are harrowing. Relatives and schoolfellows of those who perished are loud in their lamentations. The fire was caused by an overheated stove. It originated in a clothing room beneath the boys' dormitory. The smoke and flames issuing from the stove flue alarmed those sleeping on the top floor and they made their escape. The fire engines were promptly on the spot. The employes of an adjacent railway station rushed to the scene and rendered valuable assistance. The cries of the boys who were unable to escape were terrible. The bodies of two boys were badly burned, but it is believed they were suffocated before they were burned.

The ages of the dead range from 7 to 13 years.

The Royal Palace at Laeken Burnt.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 1.—The royal palace at Laeken, a suburb of this city, was burned to-day. Princess Clementine, the daughter of the king, had a narrow escape from being burned to death. Her governess was suffocated. All the royal art collection has been destroyed. As soon as the fire was reported to the king and queen they suspended the New Year's reception and hastened thither. They witnessed the total destruction of this magnificent palace, their usual summer residence. It is said the fire was caused by a defective stove in the officers' quarters. The loss is immense as to money value and as to destruction of art treasures that cannot be replaced.

It is reported that the fire was incendiary, the building having been fired in three places, and that Mme. Drancourt, the victim, perished while searching for Princess Clementine, whom she supposed to be still in the palace. All the private papers of the king and of Leopold II. and the queen's jewelry were destroyed. The walls are now standing. The body of the governess has not been found. It is reported two firemen were injured and another killed. It is said all the Gobelin tapestry was saved.

At 10 p.m. the burning palace looked like a huge furnace and there came from it constant crashes and volcanic bursts of flame and sparks as masses of debris fell into the fire. The heat was so great as to totally prevent the approach of the small fire brigade. The Queen's apartments suffered most. Much plate was saved, but the valuable pictures, the Gobelin tapestries and the great library were all consumed. The extensive greenhouses and stables were not touched. The king is very anxious about the statuary in the rotunda. There is little hope that any of it is saved.

The only occupants of the palace when the fire broke out were the Princess Clementine, aged 17, a lady attendant and her governess. The governess having escaped with the others, returned to the Princess' apartments to secure some valuables and was suffocated. The queen is greatly grieved at her fate. Her Majesty loses by this fire interesting souvenirs of her children, especially of her son who died at the age of 19.

Napoleon I. resided for a time in this castle, but it has since been much enlarged and improved.

A NEWSBOYS' RIOT.

Pittsburg Gamins Lead the Police a Lively Dance on New Year's Day.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 1.—There was almost a riot in the centre of the city to-day. Two hundred newsboys were returning from their annual dinner, when they made war upon some Hebrews. They next attacked some Italians with stones. Fifth-avenue, between Grand and Wood-streets was soon jammed with people. The cable cars manned by non-union men run on Fifth-avenue and as each car passed the boys yelled "scab" at the grimmen and conductors and threw stones at the cars. Many of the people in the crowd were in sympathy with the cable car strikers and encouraged the boys. The police on duty were unable to preserve order and clear the streets of the immense crowd and the reserve force was called out. They experienced considerable difficulty in dispersing the "newsies" and the crowd.

PROHIBITION IN SOUTH DAKOTA.

Saloonkeepers Totally Disregard the Constitutional Enactment.

PIERRE, S.D., Jan. 1.—Although constitutional prohibition went into effect to-day reports to the State officers from almost every city and town in the State will to the effect that with few exceptions all the saloons were wide open to-day and will continue to dispense "booze." The saloon men claim that no penalty attached to the law and this must be provided by a legislature at its coming session. The moral opinion is that the legislature will be a law similar to North Dakota, permitting saloons and Breweries to run until July.

DEFEATED BY FRAUD.

McCarthy Wilfully Tripped Up in His Race With Paulsen.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 1.—The first of a series of skating matches between Hugh J. McCormick, St. John, N.B., and Axel Paulsen of this city came off this afternoon at the Palace Rink in the presence of a large audience. McCormick trailed Paulsen the entire distance till the shot was fired announcing the last lap, then he spurted, gaining about ten yards, when a chain was thrown across the track, going him to sustain a terrible fall. He gained his feet and made an effort to overtake Paulsen but failed, the latter winning by a couple of feet. A protest has been lodged against paying over the stake money. Time—five miles, 20.18; 10 miles, 40.5; 15 miles, 1 hour, 1 minute, 37 seconds.

Foul Play Suspected.

RICHMOND, Jan. 1.—Frederick Goodrich, manager of the Richmond granite quarry and brother of lawyer William D. Goodrich of New York, died at the Exchange Hotel to-night under mysterious circumstances. On the night of Dec. 28 he was badly beaten, and on going to the hotel he showed wounds about his head to the clerk and said they received them by falling over a chair. He subsequently made conflicting statements. It is rumored that he was assaulted by a man who wanted to succeed him as husband of Mrs. Goodrich.

The McAuliffe-Carroll Fight Postponed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—The California Club directors have changed the date of the McAuliffe-Carroll fight from Feb. 20 to March 21. The purse is $500. McAuliffe has a bad hand and Carroll has time to get to the weight. The February date will be filled in with Pete McCoy and Charley Gleason, who will fight to a finish for a $1,000 purse. There is considerable betting between the last pair and a hot fight is expected. The club is in communication with Frank P. Slavin with a view of matching him with Joe McAuliffe. In case failure another attempt will be made to get Kilrain here.

SURE AND SPEEDY DEATH

NEW YORK'S ELECTRICAL EXECUTION MACHINES TESTED.

A Current of 1000 Volts Subdues the Prisoners of a Sparrowed Equine in a Few Seconds—A Calf Shocked Beyond Reprieve.

AUBURN, N.Y., Jan. 1.—The special commission appointed to test the efficacy of the electrical machines sold to the State to be used in putting murderers to death arrived in this city at 7 o'clock yesterday morning.

The commission purchased an old horse and a four-weeks'-old calf and took them into the prison. The animals were electrified, and last evening Dr. MacDonald described the result of the test to the reporters. He said they were very successful, and had demonstrated that the alternating current possessed the power to cause death instantaneously. The old horse was killed first. A quantity of cotton waste was fastened to his head and around his right hind leg just below the gambrel joint. Then the wires were attached and the current turned on. The contact of the current with the horse's body was less than half a minute, and he was killed instantly. The current registered about 1060 volts. Dr. MacDonald said that this confirmed the experiment which he and Dr. Rockwell had had with a horse at Edison's laboratory last summer. The horse killed then did not struggle. The horse killed yesterday was despatched in an effectual manner. In the case of the calf the current was of the same voltage as the one used to the horse; the contact on the calf was less than ten seconds. An hour after the calf fell over Dr. Fell went to work on its body to see if animation had simply been suspended. He performed the operation of tracheotomy, opening the windpipe and applying his patent resuscitating apparatus. An artificial respiration was kept up for half an hour, but there was no sign of returning life.

The heart of the calf could not be made to beat again, and the members of the Commission were in high glee because Dr. Fell's apparatus has been used with success in five cases upon human patients. These cases were ones where attempts to take life had been made with poison and cutting the throat. An artifical respiration had been kept up for several hours and the patients restored to life. Dr. Fell also thought here by the commission for the special purpose of making this test. The apparatus which he used is his own invention and consists of a bellows and tube and a delicate mechanical contrivance to govern its working. Dr. MacDonald said that Dr. Fell's failure to restore the calf's life demonstrated the power of electricity to cause death instantly, and that the theory of temporary suspension of animation was nonsense. The machine in Auburn prison can generate a current of 2000 volts.

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES.

ITALY'S KING PREDICTS A YEAR OF PEACE IN EUROPE.

A 13-year-old Boy Murdered out of Revenge—Prince Hatzfeldt to Wed Miss Caldwell and her Millions—A Collision in the Harbor—Dublin's New Lord Mayor.

ROME, Jan. 1.—The King replying to the congratulations of the parliamentary deputation said: "There was a time when I would not have ventured to guarantee peace for a fortnight, but now peace is assured by the good understanding between Germany and Russia."

As the parliamentary deputation was leaving the palace a man threw among the deputies a copper box to which was attached a burning fuse. The fuse was extinguished and no damage done. The man was arrested. He said that he was a Sicilian, that his name was Vita and that his motive was revenge for injustice done him by the Government.

Dublin's New Lord Mayor.

DUBLIN, Jan. 1.—Mr. Kennedy, the new Lord Mayor of Dublin, assumed his duties to-day. The bodyguard of Mr. Sexton, the retiring Lord Mayor, consisted of a number of National Foresters attired in Lincoln green instead of the usual body of dragoons. The trade guilds and members of the National League took part in the procession. A large crowd witnessed the ceremonies and much enthusiasm was displayed.

The Shah Encourages Immigration.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 1.—The Armenians in the Province of Alashgard recently sent a petition to the Shah of Persia, asking permission to emigrate to that country in order to escape the oppression of the Turks. The Shah assented, and granted lands to the petitioners, besides offering them money to assist in the work of cultivation.

A Collision in the Mersey.

LONDON, Jan. 1.—While proceeding up the Mersey to Liverpool this morning the steamer City of Paris, from New York, collided during a heavy fog with an outward bound steamer. The City of Paris lost her bowsprit and the other steamer one of her masts. The passengers on the City of Paris were greatly alarmed but nobody was hurt.

The Sultan's Blind Request.

LONDON, Jan. 1.—A Mohammedan writes to The News from Constantinople asserting that the trial of Mousa Bey was all prearranged, and that the tribunal acted under instructions from the Sultan. The Sultan has now become uneasy about it and will watch the debates in parliament in regard to Armenia and Crete with increased interest. It is reported in Constantinople that he has asked the British Government to suppress The News and some other papers.

The Cardinal and the Workmen.

LONDON, Jan. 1.—Cardinal Manning replying to an address of the Catholic Workmen's club of Vienna, says: "I always remembered the words of the Lord, 'Have pity upon my people.' Extreme poverty exists in England but the workmen listen to those who counsel moderation.

AMBITIOUS CITY NEWS.

Mr. W. T. Ramsay Honored — Proposed Grant of $200,000 to the New Railways.

HAMILTON, Jan. 1.—Mr. W. T. Ramsay, son of Mr. A. G. Ramsay of this city, who returns to Hamilton to assume the position of superintendent of the Canada Life Assurance Company so faithfully filled by his late brother, was on the eve of his departure from Calgary presented by the citizens with a handsome gold watch and chain and an address.

By a vote of 11 to 1 the Civic Railway Committee at its last meeting resolved: That this committee report in favor of a by-law for a grant to the South Ontario Pacific Railway and the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway Companies, of a sum estimated to be sufficient to purchase the right of way for their respective roads through the city on the route laid out by Mr. Jennings, that being the only route which meets with the approval of both companies, the grant to be placed in the hands of trustees and to be subject to such conditions for the protection of the interests of the city as the city solicitor may advise and as this committee and the City Council may approve, the said sum to be fixed as a maximum at $300,000.

WHAT IS GOING ON IN MONTREAL.

A Partnership Change—Customs Returns—The Contest in Berthier.

MONTREAL, Jan. 1.—The co-partnership heretofore existing between Thomas Workman, Henry Archbald, Edward Murphy and George W. Eadie has dissolved in consequence of the death of Mr. Workman, and the surviving partners, together with Edward Archbald and Real Angers have entered into partnership and will continue the business under the well-known name of Frothingham & Workman.

The customs returns for the port of Montreal for the year 1889 were $9,321,982, as against $8,778,362 for 1888.

There are now two candidates in the field in Berthier, Mr. O. Dostater, Nationalist, who has promised full support to the policy of Mr. Mercier, and the Conservatives have Ald. Savignac of Montreal, a large property owner in Berthier. The contest promises to be warm.

Rubenstein Will be in Russia Jan. 2.

MONTREAL, Jan. 1.—Louis Rubenstein, the famous fancy skater, will leave here tomorrow afternoon for New York, whence he will sail by the Etruria for St. Petersburg, where he will compete for the skating championship of the world. Rubenstein will spend a few days in London and will then proceed direct to St. Petersburg. It is a novel fact that owing to the difference in the Greek calendar, by which the Russian time is computed, Russia is behind Canada some twelve days, so that while Rubenstein expects to reach St. Petersburg on the 19th of January, it will only be January 3rd in Russia. The great skating tournament takes place on February 1st, which will be February 13th here. Rubenstein is confident that he will be able to return from the Czar's dominions with the world's skating championship for Canada.

TURNBULL'S

If you should give the days of the week trade names, Saturday would be clothing man's day.

Look at the clothing store news up and down the columns of the papers! Is it not so.

We could pile adjective upon hyperbole—could print with display type the most impossible statement we choose, but we spare you.

They can all gang their ain gait, while we go on making our clothing business bigger by making it better; the only sure way and we hold our own with the best in quality, style and make with real cheapness. Our boys' Readymade clothing cannot be beaten in style, quality and price.

We had a heavy run on Ladies' Mantles last week. A lot of good goods at Bargain Prices still to select from.

Our 40c. Heavy Canadian tweeds please the eye and pockets of all.

In the name of Jack Frost—Blankets. If we could only tell you all we know of Blankets, it would be good reading. One thing we do know, and don't fear to say is, you will get more good wool and generous size in the Blankets now here at $5, than is generally offered. Blankets at $4 and $3.75 of good medium sizes.

Once more the cheapest stock of Grey Flannels and Cottons is with us. The people carry it off with more industry than ants, which is the best proof that business men have that goods are cheap.

NEW YEAR AT WASHINGTON.

A Brilliant Reception at the White House in Spite of the Weather.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—New Year began with a cold, disagreeable rain which lasted throughout the day. The White House today was the central point of interest. Those whose memory and experience add weight to their judgment agree that no one of the predecessors has exceeded in brilliancy the first official reception given by President Harrison. Certainly never before has there been at a White House reception such a large and distinguished representation from the other nations of the world. This was due to the presence, in addition to the regular diplomatic and consular officers, of the delegates to the International Marine Conference and the Pan-American Conference. The mansion had been specially prepared for the occasion and when the reception was at its height presented a spectacle of beauty and splendor.

THEY ARE FRIENDS.

The Story of Mary Anderson's Engagement to De Navarro Denied.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Much amusement was caused in society circles here to-day by the publication of a cable report from Nice, France, intimating that Mary Anderson, the actress, was engaged to Antonio De Navarro. Mr. De Navarro, who is a son of the wealthy real estate owner and elevated railroad capitalist, has been a devoted admirer of Miss Anderson for years and their engagement has been frequently reported in consequence, but it is understood by friends of both young people that they will never be more than friends. Mr. Navarro's brother, who is here, says he has not been apprised of any engagement and places no faith in the report.

(A Wonderful Vegetable Discovery That Removes the Terrible Results of Overwork.

A True Invigorator.

Weakness and prostration of the nervous system usually follow that overwork and worry which brings sorrow and suffering to so many Canadian homes. The terrible results of nervous weakness, are seen on every hand. Pains in the back, poor and unrefreshing sleep, lack of appetite dyspepsia, and lost energy and strength, are the first symptoms of others serious and deeper-seated trouble. This is the way that Paralysis, Insanity begin. Do not delay a moment longer, for some time it will be too late to regain your lost health and vitality. Use Paine's Celery Compound now, and the dull eyes will regain their brightness, the cheeks will grow rosy, the brain become clear, the nerves strong and steady, your sleep restful and refreshing, appetite good, and health and happiness will take the place of misery and suffering.

A. Sabiston, the well known lithographer of Montreal, writes: "In the summer of 1888 I had to work very hard, and was troubled considerably with insomnia (sleeplessness). I resolved to try your Paine's Celery Compound, and after taking the contents of two bottles, felt like a new man. A good night's rest gave me strength for the duties of the day, and instead of starting out to business in the morning feeling as if I had completed a day's work instead of being about to commence one I started out in good spirits, feeling fresh and strong. My wife and various friends, to whom I recommended the medicine, have been benefited greatly, and in fact 'Paine's Celery Compound is a household word in our family."

A DAY OF RECEPTIONS

In the Home, the Hall and the Church.

Receptions at the Y.M.C.A., the "Y" and the Charlotte Street Church—How the Ladies of the Town Entertained their Friends.

New Year's day is the proverbial reception day, though of late years the practice of "calling" at the homes of friends has been but little indulged in, at least so far as Peterborough is concerned. The first day of the year 1890 was not propitious to such a pastime, the rain descended steadily all day and effectually put a damper upon migratory movements out of doors. But, despite this drawback, no doubt a few enthusiastic young men braved the storm and visited their most intimate friends.

From being an individual or family custom, however, the New Year's reception has become of more comprehensive and public a nature, and is being adopted by associations and churches as an annual institution for the benefit of their members and friends. There were several of these pleasant affairs New Year's day, and all were fairly successful.

ASSOCIATION RECEPTION.

The Young Men's Christian Association, as has been the custom for several years past, tendered a public reception to young men which spread over the afternoon and evening. The rooms were prepared specially for the reception and entertainment of the two hundred and fifty guests who called during the day and registered their names in the visitors book. The main hall was elaborately decorated with evergreens, flags and handsome mottoes, the floor carpeted, chairs and couches supplied, and the interior arranged to resemble a drawing-room with articles of furniture and bric-a-brac kindly loaned for the occasion by friends of the Association. All the afternoon the room was filled with young men who played at the games provided for their convenience or clustered around the piano and sang college and other songs. In the parlor others sat and read magazines or indulged in games. The dining room was as well patronized as any department. The Ladies' Auxiliary treated each visitor to a cup of coffee and cake and presented him besides with a souvenir in the shape of a handsome motto card. To the ladies is due a large measure of credit for the success of the reception. Those principally concerned were Mrs. Fairbairn, Mrs. Wm. Davidson, Mrs. J. C. Brown, Mrs. Turnbull, Mrs. W. J. Green, Mrs. Jno. Bradley, Mrs. Walsh, Miss Embury and Miss Aldridge.

During the evening the following programme was rendered in the concert hall, President G. M. Roger occupying the chair:

Selection	The Band
Duet	Messrs J Miller and W Mann
Chorus	Glee Club
Reading	Fred Saunders
Song	M Bowman
Cornet solo	J Miller
Solo	Mr Fletcher (of Woodstock)
Duet (inst)	Messrs Bowman and Mann
Chorus	Glee Club
Selection	The Band

Prof. Seward presided at the piano during the rendition of the programme.

The reception closed a little after ten o'clock, the young men firmly convinced that here at least is one place where they are always well treated and where strangers are always welcome.

Friday evening it is the intention of the Association to tender a reception to their lady friends. All the ladies are invited to come.

THE YOUNG LADIES.

The "Y" rooms were open from two o'clock till six to receive young men and others who chose to call. The young ladies took them in, made them register on the visitors' book, gave them coffee and other refreshments, supplied them with different kinds of amusements, rendered vocal and instrumental music for their special delectation, and sent them away with very pleasant recollections of the hospitality of the "Y." The ladies who did all this for the young men were Miss L. Sanderson, President; the Misses Lazenden, Miss Hope, Miss Barrie and Miss Scott, this bevy of entertainers being chaperoned by Mrs A. McGuire. During the afternoon quite a number of visitors recorded their names.

ON CHARLOTTE STREET.

New Year's night the Endeavor Society of the Charlotte Street Church were prepared to receive the young members of the church, and a considerable number availed themselves of the opportunity of becoming their guests. The reception was held in the school room, where the following short, but excellent, programme was rendered, Mr. Thos. Barrie being chairman of proceedings:

Duet	Misses Fawcett and Brandrette
Recitation	O C Rowse
Duet	Misses Stevens
Instrumental Solo	Miss Clarke
Address—"Reading"	Rev S J Shorey
Anthem	The Choir

Rev. Mr. Shorey's address was particularly interesting.

The Charlotte street Epworth League was also organized with 24 members and the following officers:—

HON. PRESIDENT—Rev. S. J. Shorey.
PRESIDENT—Thos. Barrie.
VICE-PRESIDENT—Miss Graham.
SECRETARY—F. Hamilton.
COR. SEC—Miss Fawcett.
TREASURER—Miss M. Neil.

The League meets every Tuesday evening, except next week, when the meeting will be held on Monday night.

Refreshments were then served in abundant quantity and excellent quality, after which the gathering dispersed.

Bread! Bread! The Cry for Bread!

A million loaves, not enough for one city! Five millions, not enough for one State! Fifty millions, not enough for this country a single day, yet often what sour, soggy stuff it is, nevertheless it is eaten, and the result is dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, impoverished blood, pimples, blotches and scrofula. For the correction of all this, and as a general tonic for the system, take Gordon Medical Discovery prepared by Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo. Its action is like a charm, a "benediction that follows prayer." A remedy for stomachic and liver trouble, as well as a specific for throat and lung disorders. It is guaranteed to benefit or cure, or money refunded. b

Boy Covered with Scabs.

My boy, aged nine years, has been troubled all his life with a very bad humor, which appeared all over his body in small red blotches, with a dry white scab on them. Last year he was worse than ever, being covered with scabs from the top of his head to his feet, and constantly giving forth matter, although he had been treated by two physicians. As a last resort, I determined to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and am happy to say they did all that I could wish. Using them according to directions, the humor rapidly disappeared, leaving the skin fair and smooth, and, after consuming a thorough cure. The CUTICURA REMEDIES are all you claim for them. They are worth their weight in gold.

A TERRIBLE EXPLOSION.

SIXTEEN TONS OF POWDER FIRED BY A COLLISION.

A Cartridge Factory Touched Off and Several Houses Burnt—Ten Persons Killed and Many Wounded—Victims Blown to Atoms—A Scene of Desolation.

CINCINNATI, July 15.—Sixteen tons of powder in two freight cars exploded at King's Mills this afternoon, causing the explosion of a cartridge factory, the burning of several houses, the killing of ten persons and the wounding of thirty men and women.

Two empty freight cars were being rolled on to a side track where a car containing 500 kegs of gunpowder was standing. As the cars struck there was a terrific explosion and immediately afterward another car containing 400 kegs of powder exploded, making 1800 altogether.

William Franks, brakeman in the service of the Little Miami, was standing on one of the empty cars when the explosion occurred. His body must have been blown to atoms, as no trace of it has yet been found. Five others supposed to be employes of the powder company were killed.

The King Powder Company and Peters' Cartridge Works have works on both sides of the river along the railway. The explosion occurred on the south side and the destruction was enormous. There are a number of cottages occupied by workmen in the powder factory and situated close to the track. These were shattered by the explosion and their inmates injured; 13 or 15 girls at work in the cartridge factory were crippled by the explosion. The railway station and the freight house belonging to the Little Miami Railway, with the adjacent buildings, were set on fire and totally consumed. The havoc wrought by the explosion of these 16 tons of powder is dreadful. The track and ties of the railway are fairly torn out of the ground, and a great hole is plowed in the ground.

The Peters cartridge factory was burned to the ground. Nothing but a mass of smoking ruins remains to mark the spot where the building stood.

As soon as the news reached this city about 5 o'clock a relief train was despatched to the scene with Superintendent Peters and a large party of surgeons on board, and relief was afforded the sufferers as soon as possible. The work of searching for the missing and caring for the wounded is now progressing. Most of the girls who were injured live at Morrow and South Lebanon, and it is probable that they will be taken to their homes. The names of none of the killed or wounded are as yet obtainable.

Peters' cartridge factory was a large building and fully supplied with a great amount of costly machinery, both for the manufacture of shells and the loading of shotgun ammunition. A large force of employes was at work at the time the explosion occurred.

News from King's Mills at 9 o'clock to night is that 10 dead bodies have been taken from the ruins and 30 are known to be wounded. Definite news is more likely to swell the list of casualties than diminish it.

The Pan-Handle train due here at 6¼ this evening arrived at 11¾, the delay of 5¼ hours being caused by the accident at King's station. The passengers say the wrecked district presents a scene of utter desolation and state that in a dwelling shattered by the explosion an unknown woman had her back broken by the shock and an infant was killed. The reports of 10 killed and 30 or 40 wounded are also confirmed.

A messenger of the Adams' Express Co. arrived from King's station at 12¾. He says that at King's station at 11¾ all was bright as day. Everything combustible was burning and people for a great distance around were fighting the fire. He says Peters' cartridge factory was a large three-story brick building, and it was still burning. The road-master of the Little Miami road informed him there were three families living in cottages near the place of the explosion, but six hours' search had failed to find any trace of them. He says more than 10 were killed.

The Minnesota Cyclone.

LAKE CITY, Minn., July 15.—The lake shore was made to reverberate this morning with the thunder of dynamite, which was brought into requisition with the hope that it would bring some of the as yet unrecovered bodies to the surface. None, however, were found.

It is reported that Capt. Wethering of the wrecked Seawing has been jailed at Ellsworth at the instance of his friends to protect him from violence at the hands of friends of victims of the disaster. Forty-four funerals of victims took place to-day. The coroner began an inquest this evening, but being advised that no inquest could be held legally on bodies bearing no marks of violence dismissed the jury. The county attorney will have the grand jury investigate the disaster. The body of Rikka Vietha, aged 18, was found this afternoon along the shore below Lake City. This was the only body recovered to-day.

GEN. MIDDLETON'S SUCCESSOR.

It Is Said the Government Will Select Col. Charles Robinson.

OTTAWA, July 15.—It is said that the Dominion Government will make an effort to satisfy the demand for the appointment of a Canadian commandant of the militia by selecting Col. Charles Robinson, a Canadian, now assistant military secretary at the Horse Guards in London, to the position. Col. Robinson is a son of the late Chief Justice Sir John Beverley Robinson and a brother of Hon. J. B. Robinson, late Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, and of Mr. Christopher Robinson, Q.C. He has seen active service in Ashantee, in Zululand and elsewhere, and is a full colonel in the imperial service.

Some time ago the Department of Justice forwarded to Mr. Sam Bedson, the warden of the Manitoba penitentiary, a copy of the report of the select committee of the House of Commons on the Middleton-Brunner affair, with a request for an explanation as to his own conduct. Mr. Bedson has sent a curt reply stating in effect that he knows nothing whatever about the Brunner fur business.

Stagnation in Railway Business.

CHICAGO, July 15.—Most of the western roads complain of stagnation in business, partly due to the recent rate war. A shortcrop in the Western States does not make the outlook encouraging, and the managers are cutting expenses down. The North-western Railway yesterday discharged about 200 men employed in its shops because there was no work for them.

EDMUND YATES' GOSSIP.

EMPEROR WILLIAM'S ASSIDUOUS STUDY OF RUSSIAN.

Parnell and the Radicals—The League's Exchequer Drained—Reckless Stories About Mrs. Stanley's Presents Refuted—Bismarck's Busy Life.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Edmund Yates cables from London: Emperor William has been studying Russian assiduously during the last year in order to be able to converse in that language during his visit to Peterhof next month, instead of hearing nothing but French, as he did in 1888; for neither the Czar nor Czarina speaks German well. The Emperor is to command his Russian regiment of Viborg dragoons during the manœuvres at Toarskoi Selois, and it is essential that he be able to make himself understood in the language of the country. Emperor William is very anxious that there shall be some great naval function at Heligoland when that island is formally transferred to Germany. It is proposed that the British squadron and German squadron meet there, with the Duke of Edinburgh and of Connaught as representatives of our royal family. The Emperor desires to be in supreme command of the combined squadron during the review.

Parnell's speech on Friday created dismay among the Radical ranks. It was a direct invitation to the chief secretary to come to a friendly arrangement about the land purchase bill. If Parnell and the Government come to terms the measure will pass, and all the fulminations of the Opposition will be so much wasted energy. Sir William Harcourt's countenance was a study during the delivery of Parnell's speech. If ever anger, disgust and disappointment were legibly written on a human face it was on that of the member for Derby. Parnell's moderation was mainly due to the financial state of the league. New Tipperary and the Ponsonby estate cost the league £30,000, and the drain continues. America refuses to contribute to such playthings as New Tipperary, and the league consequently is near the end of business. When his story of the expenditure on the plan of campaign comes to be known it will, I think, be found that the Parnellite lawyers have not done badly. Parnell's speech gave deep offence to his own party. Messrs. Dillon and Healy detest moderation, and the compliments which the chief secretary gave to the speech of Parnell only rendered it more distasteful to the latter's followers. It was for the purpose of showing that they had no sympathy with the moderate course of their leader that Healy got up a violent scene later on in the evening, when he hurled a discharge of Billingsgate at the chief secretary.

There can be nothing to excuse the exaggeration about the magnificence and splendor of Mrs. Stanley's presents. They were very pretty and very numerous, but were not to be compared with those received by many of the brides who from time to time startle society by the magnificence of their corbeilles. The story that the Baroness Burdette-Coutts had given her £10,000 was a good illustration of the reckless way in which people invent stories. The Stanleys will remain at Malchet court until Stanley is better. His recovery may be slow. The bride and bridegroom took down a hospital nurse, and Dr. Parks was to be kept duly informed as to the condition of the patient and ready to go at a moment's warning.

Prince Bismarck leaves Friedrichsruhe in the course of a few days for his ancestral estate at Schoenausse, near Berlin. Thence, after a brief stay, he goes to his Pomeranian seat at Harzin. He devotes his whole time, not occupied by addresses, to deputations and interviews and to the care of his large landed property, which he manages under the advice of Herr Bleichroed with much intelligence. Prof. Schwening saw him very recently and, although his general report was satisfactory, he warned his illustrious patient that he might have to insist on a visit to Kissingen or Gastein after all. His projected expedition to England is no longer mentioned.

The Chess Players.

LONDON, July 15.—A chess match between Lee and Blackburn began here yesterday. Yesterday's game was drawn. Twenty-three moves were made. To-day's game was won by Blackburn in 44 moves. The winner is to be the one who first scores six wins, drawn games not to count. The match excites considerable interest in London chess circles and a handsome purse has been provided for the winner.

The Pope Takes a Ride.

ROME, July 15.—The Pope in a carriage escorted by two soldiers of the Guardia Mobile left the Vatican grounds by way of the Fondamenta gate to-day and drove as far as the Musei gate, where he re-entered the grounds. The sentries at the Mint presented arms as he passed, and the workmen along the road knelt down reverently.

The object of the Pope's drive was to visit the sculptor Aurell and inspect his statue of St. Thomas Aquinas.

Dangerous Insanity.

PARIS, July 15.—The man who fired a revolver outside the Elysee yesterday while President Carnot was passing from his carriage to the palace was examined to-day by physicians and pronounced insane. He said that he fired the shot to attract the President's attention.

The firing of blank-cartridged revolvers at or near President Carnot in order to call attention to a personal grievance is becoming frequent. The last case was in May, 1888, at the celebration of the centennial anniversary of the meeting of the States General on May 5, 1789. The President, attended by his military and civil household, left the Elysee Palace shortly after midday in a state coach drawn by four horses to drive to Versailles. As the cortege turned into the Avenue Marigny from the Faubourg St. Honore, a man about 40 years of age suddenly drew a revolver and fired it point-blank at the President. Fortunately it was not loaded. On being taken to the police station the man said he merely wanted to call the President's attention to the injustice of the Minister of Marine towards him "in sending him to Senegal, where he did not want to go." The papers found on him showed that he was a steward on one of the government cruisers and that his name was Nicholas Perrin.

Killed in Dakota.

ORILLIA, July 15.—Word has been received here that Patrick Boyle, son of Peter Boyle of Mara, had been killed. He was a conductor on the Northern Pacific road, but no particulars as to the accident were sent. His body will be brought here for interment.

HOW IT FELL THROUGH.

HARRISON'S "SPIRITED POLICY" IN BEHRING SEA.

The President Prepared to Fire the Popular Heart and Carry the November Elections for His Party Even if it Brought on War.

NEW YORK, July 15.—The Herald's Washington special says: On the day the McKinley bill passed the House the President, after a characteristic period of slow, quiet and non-committal deliberation, openly entered upon a spirited foreign policy by which our revenue cutters were to be required to visit, search, seize and confiscate British merchant vessels in Behring Sea. This policy was finally agreed upon at a cabinet meeting May 21. And here is a State secret which has never before even been hinted at. The proceedings of the cabinet were supposed to be a profound secret. The instructions that had been agreed upon to be sent to the commanding officers of the revenue cutters Bear, Rush and Corwin were also to be kept strictly confidential. Mr. Blaine was to proceed with the negotiations with Sir Julian Pauncefote as though we really desired to settle the Behring Sea question by arbitration.

The British Minister was even asked by Mr. Blaine what view his government would probably take of the pending negotiations, and received the frank assurance that they would proceed on the supposition that nothing would be done during the coming sealing season to aggravate the question which made these negotiations a part of his diplomatic mission to the United States. The cutters were to sail and begin their depredations. It was calculated, coolly calculated, that perhaps early in August the first news of such seizures would reach the United States and a month at least would elapse before the real question in controversy would be publicly understood. The probable attitude of Great Britain was anticipated and, right or wrong, the administration was certain the country, regardless of political views, would stand by it to a man.

Here, then, was President Harrison's opportunity. The argument shaped itself in this way: If we, while negotiating with England, continue to seize and confiscate her ships her Government, press and people will ferment over it, calling our Government and people bad names, and even bluntering against them. This will excite our press and people, and in the warfare of words the rights and wrongs of the matter will be lost to sight. Whatever unites and rallies our people against a foreign power must unite and rally them upon the administration then in office. Hence, if we can fan the controversy with England into a popular quarrel and keep it lively, we can carry the Congressional elections, on the pure and simply ground of a patriotic duty to sustain the hands of the Government.

Why did the scheme fall through? Because somebody in the confidence of the President leaked. Perhaps the leak was not altogether without a purpose. That I will not pretend to say. But on the morning of May 22 the very literal details of what were intended to be secret, confidential orders to the commander of the Bear, which was about to sail for Behring Sea, were printed throughout the country.

The base treachery of the administration in its dealings with the British Minister confronted the President and all his cabinet. This story of President Harrison's interference with Mr. Blaine's conduct of the Behring Sea negotiations has been so fully and recently told that there is no need of saying another word about it, except that the facts have been in no wise exaggerated. Three weeks of mortification followed the exposure and betrayal of a plan to fire the popular heart for political ends. Some one had proved a traitor to the President's scheme, and had made it impossible for him now to honorably proceed with it.

MASONIC GRAND LODGE.

Growth of the Order—Election of Grand Priory Officers.

KINGSTON, July 15.—The reports to the Board of General Purposes of the Masonic Grand Lodge in session here show a substantial growth in the Order during the past year, and the financial condition of the Grand Lodge is, as a consequence, in such a state of health that they will be able to perform their great work of benevolence with added vigor. The Sovereign Grand Priory elected these officers:

Deputy Grand Master—Dr. J. A. Henderson, Q.C., Kingston.
Grand Chancellor—Daniel Spry, Barrie.
Grand Chaplain—Rev. Frederick Bates, Chatham.
Grand Constable—R. J. Craig, Port Hope.
Grand Marshal—W. G. Bell, Winnipeg.
Grand Treasurer—David McLellan, Hamilton.
Grand Registrar—G. W. Lovejoy, Montreal.
Grand Vice-Chancellor—S. J. Sanford, Barrie.
Provincial priors—London district, S. Dubber, St. Thomas; Kingston district, James Greenfield, Kingston; Quebec district, Joseph Martin, Montreal; Toronto district, N. T. Lyon, Toronto; Manitoba district, T. W. Taylor, Winnipeg; Hamilton district, John Mallory, Hamilton; New Brunswick district, S. F. Mathews, St. John; Nova Scotia district, S. J. Waddell, Truro.

These members of the Grand Council were elected:

R. E. Sir Knights J. Ross Roberson, R. E. Sappard, E. T. Malone, Toronto; J. S. Dewar, London; Daniel McWatt, Barrie.

The Grand Master appointed these members of Grand Council:

R. E. Sir Knights S. S. Lasier, Belleville; C. F. Lasier, Parkdale; S. F. Griffith, Quebec; Donald Ross, Picton; J. H. Mackay, Berlin.

A MINNEAPOLIS SCORCHER.

Over $1,000,000 Goes up in Smoke—Spontaneous Combustion.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 15.—The large seven story warehouse of the Security Warehouse Company on First and Fourth-avenue north owned by Wood & Morse was burned with its contents this afternoon, entailing a loss of nearly $1,000,000. The fire caught upon the second floor and is supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion. It soon spread to the upper floors, which were filled with agricultural implements, while on the fourth floor were 500 tons of binding twine. The firemen soon got to work, but were hampered by the intense heat, which old firemen say was the greatest they ever came in contact with. Upon the north of the storage house stood a three-story stone building. This was crushed flat by the falling walls, as was a one-story frame building used as a shipping room, in which was stored a quantity of machinery. The burned warehouse was erected in April last, and was used as a storage and transfer warehouse.

Threatened With a Duffell.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Senator Carlisle of Kentucky says that the expenditure of the Government for the current fiscal year will exceed the revenues by $45,000,000.

Foiled.

BROCKVILLE, July 15.—A young Englishman, who for some time past has been employed as cook with a gang of linemen in the employ of the Bell Telephone Company, came into town from the work near Lyn Saturday and celebrated the 12th. Yesterday morning he called at Harding's drug store, and asked Dispensing Clerk Leslie for a supply of laudanum, cheerfully stating that he wanted to end his life. His intentions were to write to his girl first and then take the laudanum. The purchase was not effected, however, and the young man's distorted body has not yet been discovered.

He Was Insane.

HAMILTON, July 15.—James Cleland, whose body was found in the Grand River, was admitted to the Hamilton Hospital on Jan. 28 and discharged on June 14. He was suffering from hysteria, and his mind was apparently affected.

To-day was the hottest of the summer, the thermometer registering 94 in the shade at noon.

While out sailing on the bay this afternoon John Kegan lost his hat overboard and jumped in the water after it. He was taken with cramps and drowned. The body has not yet been recovered.

The Royal College of Dental Surgeons in session here has elected these officers: President, Dr. N. Pearson, Toronto (sectionalities); vice-president, Dr. C. N. Sculthorpe, Toronto; treasurer, Dr. Spaulding, Toronto; secretary, Dr. Rounds, Barrie; auditors, Dr. Hipple, Stratford, and Dr. Swan, Ghiness. Barrie was selected as the place of the next meeting, which will be held on the second Tuesday of next July.

James Flannigan, aged 35, a sectionman employed on the G.T.R., met with a fatal accident last evening. He was engaged, with a number of others, in ballasting the track at the foot of Simcoe-street when a shunting engine approached. Flannigan delayed too long before stepping off the track and was struck by the engine and knocked down. The wheels passed over his left leg, mutilating it so badly that it merely hung together by a slender thread of flesh. The ambulance was summoned and Flannigan was taken to the Hospital, where the leg was amputated, but the shock was too much and he died from the effects at 7¾. Flannigan leaves a wife and four small children. He resided at 178 Sackville-street.

MURDERED MISSIONARY LARGE.

His Widow and Child Pass Through Denver on Their Way to Canada.

DENVER, July 15.—Mrs. T. A. Large and child of Tokyo, Japan, arrived in the city yesterday evening. When upon the street she always goes closely veiled for the reason that a deep scar extends the entire length of the left side of her face. Two fingers missing from her left hand indicate that she passed through some terrible encounter. Until three months ago Mrs. Large and her husband were the leading missionaries in Tokyo, Japan, when, as related at the time, two assassins entered their house, killed Mr. Large and left his wife so seriously injured that she has just recovered.

She is now on her way to Toronto to visit relatives and will return to Japan this fall. Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Jameson of Hong Kong, China, and J. J. Wright, an English tourist, are in company with Mrs. Large. They will go to England. Mr. Jameson is an attache of the British Consulate at Hong Kong, and will spend several months in the Mother Country upon a leave of absence.

Escaped From Sandwich Jail.

WINDSOR, July 15.—Edgerton R. Sheply, who has been confined in Sandwich jail on a commitment for debt since January last, escaped Saturday. He at one time was a very prominent citizen of Essex county, and knowing Sheriff Ilar and the attaches of the jail intimately, he was allowed considerably more freedom than that accorded to other prisoners. In the morning he went out in the yard, and at 7¼, when the turnkey went to call him to breakfast, he could not be seen, but a wire ladder over the jail showed how Sheply had escaped. The police and constables were notified, but the only trace of him came from a man who knew him well, and says he saw him in company with another man driving westwards from the fish hatchery. He cannot go to the other side, so it is altogether probable he will be kept in hiding by some of his friends in Essex. Sheply was at one time manager of the Walkerville stores, leaving there for St. Paul, where he embarked in a large commission business and for a time bought for cash. Then he bought on ten days' credit, and at one time purchased goods to the amount of $40,000. He rapidly exchanged these goods for money and skipped to Canada and was arrested at Windsor. Since then he has been kept in jail on the charge of debt and Detective McKee says he could not have been held more than a week longer.

THE CANADIANS BEATEN.

United States Cricketers Win by an Inning and 81 Runs.

PHILADELPHIA, July 15.—The International cricket match between Canada and the United States came to a quick conclusion to-day owing to the complete inability of the Hanuck batsmen to cope successfully with the strategic American bowlers. G. S. Lyon was the only man to make a respectable showing. His 27 and 34 were put together in capital style. Lyon's hitting to leg greatly pleased the spectators. Sankler got 17 in the second inning in good form. The other men went in apparently without any confidence.

The trundling of the Americans proved to be too much for the Kanucks, and one of the strongest teams Canada has ever put in the field suffered an innings defeat. To the wonderful bowling of Brown, Baily and Clarke is the collapse of the visitors mainly due. The score:

PHILADELPHIA.
First inning.....220

CANADA.

NATIONAL—Boston 14, Cleveland 9; New York 7, Cincinnati 3; Philadelphia 6, Pittsburg 4; Chicago 13, Brooklyn 0.

AMERICAN—Columbus 16, Brooklyn 2; Toledo 7, Rochester 9; St. Louis 6, Athletics 8; Syracuse 8, Louisville 10.

Transportation in Bond.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—In the Senate to-day Mr. Cullom offered a resolution which went over till to-morrow directing the Secretary of the Treasury to report to the Senate by what authority merchandise in bond and goods of domestic origin are permitted to be forwarded between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States on the Canadian Pacific railway, such merchandise on arrival at Vancouver being there transhipped, and whether or not such transportation and transhipment on foreign territory is consistent with the safety of the revenue; also other facts in that connection.

They Call Him William Cobourg.

STRATFORD, July 15.—A new-born infant was left in the yard of Justice Wilson Saturday night. Who the parents are is a mystery, but there is a well-defined rumor afloat. As the occurrence took place on the 12th in Cobourg-street the people here christened the infant William Cobourg.

The First Electrocution July 21.

ALBANY, July 15.—Governor Hill has received a petition for executive clemency in the case of Chapleau, the murderer confined in Clinton prison under penalty of death. His execution is set down to occur during the week beginning July 21, and unless the Governor interferes he will be the first murderer to be executed by electricity.

Look Out for This Swindle.

ORILLIA, July 15.—Here is another swindle which sharpers are working on farmers in this section. A stranger calls to see a farming-mill. During his conversation and a walk about the farm with the farmer he is sure to see a horse that just suits him, and offers to pay a small sum to secure the bargain. If accepted he asks for a receipt of the money deposited, stating that he will go to the bank and return in a day or two for the animal. Such receipt turns out later in the bank as a note against the farmer.

France's Demands.

PARIS, July 15.—The Temps says that in return for the British protectorate over Zanzibar France demands that England shall expressly recognize France's right to grant exequaturs to foreign consuls in Madagascar and give France liberty of action in the Niger country; also France's right to terminate the Anglo-Tunisian treaty in 1895 and to deal similarly with the Italian-Tunisian treaty. The Temps' study is considerable.

Struck by a Train.

ST. CATHARINES, July 15.—A young son of Rev. Mr. Mowat, Presbyterian minister of Morrisburg, was struck by the engine of the Niagara Central train and seriously and probably fatally injured about the head.

'Coughs, Colds, Croup.
Allen's Lung Balsam was introduced to the public after its merits for the positive cure of such diseases had been fully tested. It excites expectoration and causes the Lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; changes the secretions and purifies the blood; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours' time, if not of too long standing. It contains no opium in any form and is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child. There is no real necessity for so many deaths by consumption when Allen's Lung Balsam will prevent it if only taken in time. For Consumption, and all diseases that lead to it, such as Coughs, neglected Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and all diseases of the Lungs, ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is the Great Modern Remedy. For Croup and Whooping Cough it is almost a specific. It is an old standard remedy, and sold universally at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. The 25-cent bottles are put out to answer the constant call for a Good and Low-Priced COUGH CURE. If you have not tried the Balsam, call for a 25-cent bottle to test it.

TOO REALISTIC.

A Firemen's Exhibition at Havana, Cuba, Results Disastrously.

HAVANA, Cuba, Dec. 30.—Last evening thousands of people assembled on the grounds of the Club Almendares to witness a firemen's exhibition, the object of which was to raise funds for the fire department. A two-story wooden building had been erected which was to be set on fire. After the torch was applied and the firemen had taken their places in different parts of the burning structure it was discovered that the water supply prepared for the occasion had been tampered with by some miscreant. Not having sufficient water with which to fight the flames the firemen were obliged to escape from the building as quickly as possible, some being compelled to throw themselves from the roof. Twenty-two of them were injured and three cannot recover.

DEATH FROM NATURAL CAUSES.

John Milligan's Close Shave—Result of the Coroner's Jury.

TORONTO, Dec. 31.—Coroner Lynd last night completed the inquest on the death of Mrs. Fanny Milligan which occurred under circumstances which warranted the arrest of her husband John Milligan on a charge of murder. The evidence of Robert Anderson, father of the deceased, of Frances Letitia, the 13-year-old daughter, and of Drs. Mackenzie, Hunter and Caven who made the post mortem examination was taken. The doctors' evidence showed that death resulted from heart affection, and County Crown Attorney Badgerow impressed them with the fact brought out in the doctors' testimony, that the ill-treatment Mrs. Milligan had received at the hands of her husband had no doubt a tendency to increase her danger, and that Milligan was therefore to some extent responsible for his wife's death. There was found to be nothing in the story told by the old man, about Milligan having jumped on his wife with his knees. The jury took about half an hour to consider, and then brought in a verdict of death from natural causes.

LABOR TROUBLES.

A Big Force of Pinkerton Detectives Arrive at Punxsutawni.

PUNXSUTAWNI, Pa., Dec. 31.—One hundred and six Pinkerton men arrived here last night. They were brought by the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg Coal Company. It is now over two weeks since the strike was inaugurated at Watson and Adrian, involving 1600 men and boys. Notices were served on the miners occupying the company's houses to vacate within 10 days. The time will be up to-day. The committee appointed by the miners to adjust their differences has been ignored by the company and a proposition by the committee to submit the matter to arbitration was rejected by the company. The company mines at Flinca and Beach Tree are still running, enabling the company to fill part of its orders for coal and coke.

BRUSSELS, Dec. 30.—The situation at Charleroi is more serious. There are now 17,000 strikers. There is a great scarcity of coal and supplies are coming from England and Germany. The Governor of Hainault has summoned a meeting of strikers and employers to effect a settlement.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Dec. 30.—The strike on the Evansville and Terre Haute and Evansville and Indianapolis, both in the Mackay system, paralyzed freight traffic on those roads to-day. There is every indication to-night of a stubborn contest.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 30.—The grippmen on the Pittsburg traction road struck to-day because of the discharge of 20 members of the Knights of Labor. Traffic was suspended for a short time, but the cars are all running to-night with new men. Police are guarding the company's property.

A Tilbury Brute's Crime.

WINDSOR, Dec. 28.—A brutal outrage is reported from the township of Tilbury. A laborer has for the past month been working for Smith Bros., of Stewart, and boarding with a family consisting of Frank Trembley, wife and two children. On last Thursday evening, in the absence of the rest of the family, he criminally assaulted the youngest child, aged 3 years. The child's condition is very precarious and the man has skipped. A reward is offered for his arrest.

The Work of Tramps.

GUELPH, Dec. 30.—An unoccupied house on the outskirts of the city, owned by John Dooley, implement agent, was gutted by fire this morning. Loss about $250, insured for a small amount. The fire was evidently the work of tramps.

No Yellow Fever in Florida.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 31.—The statement in The New York Times that there were two cases of yellow fever in Jacksonville is wholly without foundation. There is no yellow fever in the state.

Mothers!

Remember that Castoria does NOT contain morphine, opium, or any other narcotic substance, in any quantity, shape or form. It is entirely vegetable, pleasant to take, positively effective and perfectly harmless. It is not a secret remedy; the formula is printed on the wrapper. Your physician will recommend it. Paregoric, Hateman's Drops, and many so-called soothing syrups are composed principally of opium or morphine; in any quantity they stupify, and in large quantities are deadly. Castoria neutralizes the food and regulates the bowels, cures diarrhœa, allays feverishness and frefulness, soothes the pain in teething, relieves constipation and kills worms. It brings refreshing and natural sleep to the child, and gives rest to the mother.

"Castoria is so well adapted to infants and children that I recommend it as superior to any other known remedy."
DR. H. A. ARCHER,
111 S. Oxford st., Brooklyn, N.Y.
March 8, 1887.

"From personal knowledge and observation I can say that Castoria is an excellent medicine for children, acting as a laxative and relieving the pent up bowels and general system very much. Many mothers have told me of its excellent effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD.

Wild Cherry Bark, Rhecampine, Horehound and Senega. These are the remedies with which Dame Nature has supplied Canada for the cure of Colds, Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Loss of Voice. All these are contained in Wilson's Wild Cherry in their most active form, and with other medicines constitute this most reliable cure for all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs. Wilson's Wild Cherry is sold by all druggists. dw

Make no Delay!

IS a perfect cure for croup and colds, and I can recommend Hagyard's Yellow Oil—one bottle of which cured me of a very bad cold. I would say to all sufferers, make no delay in using it as it gives quick relief.

A New Element

MUST be infused into the blood of the weak and debilitated, who suffer from disease of the stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys or blood. This revitalizing constituent is supplied by Burdock Blood Bitters which repairs waste, drives out all impurities and restores health to the entire system. 2w52d

Death Dealing Drugs.

SUCH as Calomel, Morphine, etc., are remedies better left alone. They often weaken even strong constitutions. This Burdock Blood Bitters never does, it contains no mineral or other poison, and cures all diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood by unlocking the secretions and removing all impurities. 2w52d

COLD, wet weather is very hard on sufferers from Neuralgia troubles, and to to those Dyer's Quinine and Iron Wine is strongly recommended, It is palatable, easily assimilated, and can be safely taken by the weakest invalid. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6d1

NATIONAL PILLS are mild purgative, acting on the Stomach, Liver and bowels, removing all obstructions. dw

The First Sign

Of failing health, whether in the form of Night Sweats and Nervousness, or in a sense of General Weariness and Loss of Appetite, should suggest the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation is most effective for giving tone and strength to the enfeebled system, promoting the digestion and assimilation of food, restoring the nervous forces to their normal condition, and for purifying, enriching, and vitalizing the blood.

Failing Health.

Ten years ago my health began to fail. I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and I am now as healthy and strong as ever.—Mrs. E. L. Williams, Alexandria, Minn.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, that it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. I have also prescribed it as a tonic, as well as an alterative, and must say that I honestly believe it to be the best blood medicine ever compounded.—W. F. Fowler, D. D. S., M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

Dyspepsia Cured.

It would be impossible for me to describe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians and tried a great many kinds of medicines, but never obtained more than temporary relief. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties more perfectly. To-day my health is completely restored.—Mary Harley, Springfield, Mass.

I have been greatly benefited by the prompt use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It tones and invigorates the system, regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, and vitalizes the blood. It is, without doubt, the most reliable blood purifier yet discovered.—H. D. Johnson, 383 Atlantic ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

MEMORY

DISCOVERY AND TRAINING METHOD

In spite of adulterated imitations which mimic the theory, and practical results of the Original, in spite of the grossest misrepresentations by envious would-be scientists, and in spite of "base attempts to rob" him of the fruit of his labors, (all of which demonstrate the undoubted superiority and popularity of his teaching), Prof. Loisette's Art of Never Forgetting is recognized to-day in both Hemispheres as marking an Epoch in Memory Culture. His Prospectus (sent post free) gives opinions of people in all parts of the globe who have actually studied his System by correspondence, showing that his System is used only where being studied, and differently, that any book can be learned in a single reading, mind-wandering cured, &c. Ashburnham School Trustees.

The elections took place Wednesday, resulting in the following votes being polled:—Henry Colgatt, 41; Absalom Ingram, 35; Edward A. Peck, 32; John A. McWilliams, 28. The first three named were elected. These three gentlemen and Messrs. P. Glover, F. Adams and J. J. Rooney constitute the full board for 1890.

The Municipal Contests.

Mr. Jas. Stevenson has resigned his candidature for school trustee in No. Two Ward, and has been elected by acclamation in No. Three Ward, Mr. John McKee having resigned in his favour.

There will be elections for councillors in the second and third wards. Mr. John McClelland is the new candidate in No. Two, and Messrs. E. Weir, B. Shortly and W. H. Moore in No. Three. In the other wards the old councillors are returned by acclamation.

Result of an Explosion.

Mr. Frank Sherwood is home from Detroit for a few holidays. He is engaged in a large drug establishment, and not long ago was slightly injured by a chemical explosion. Mr. Kenneth Kincaid, formerly of Peterborough, who is also employed in the same establishment, fared less fortunately, and was badly burned about the face. His eyesight was destroyed, and it is feared he will be blind the rest of his life. "Ken's" many friends in town will be pained to hear of the accident.

At the Opera House.

The Opera House was well filled Wednesday night, when the Emma Wells Comedy Company gave a performance which appeared to thoroughly satisfy the audience. The first part of the programme consisted of singing, in which several took part. Miss Wells has the rare gift of being able to sing in four different voices—soprano, alto, tenor and baritone. Her voice has a remarkably wide range. The entertainment wound up with a laughable farce, which at times convulsed the house. The performance was well worth the low price of admission charged.

Separate School Trustees.

Voting took place in two wards Wednesday for the election of Separate School trustees. In the first and second wards P. McNamara and Dr. Brennan were elected by acclamation, the other candidates having resigned in their favor. In the third ward the contest was between Messrs. J. J. Lynch and Jas. Marty, Mr. Lynch being elected by a majority of only one vote, the poll standing 27—26 in his favor. In the fourth ward also the contest was keen, Mr. Jno. McGrath defeating Mr. M. O'Brien on a vote of 25 to 24—a majority of one. Quite a bit of excitement was worked up over the election, though the vote polled is rather small.

When the blood is impure, thick and sluggish, or thin and impoverished, there can be no health. With these conditions, all the functions of the body are impaired, and the result is a variety of dangerous complications. The best remedy is Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Theatre.

The committee of the "T" New Year reception desire to make grateful acknowledgment of generous contributions by the following ladies:—Mrs. Halliday, Mrs. McGill, Mrs. Thos. Ledgate, Mrs. Pollie, Mrs. W. J. Green, Mrs. J. R. Stratton, Mrs. T. W. Robinson, Mrs. Geo. Paton, and Misses Edmonds and Chamberlain. They were also tendered to Mrs. A. Maguire for the use of plants, and to Messrs. York & Lee for curtains.

Phrenology.

There are many in town not aware that Prof. Miller a noted phrenologist and physiognomist located at 344 Aylmer street. He is singularly expert in the indication of character, through the medium of phrenology. It is a duty every parent owes to his child to find out its particular tendency of character and what trade or calling it is best suited for. This will not only assist in training up the child but will permit of the selection of a calling with every prospect of success. Prof. Miller has been very successful, and those wishing to have their heads read like a book, should call on him at once, at 344 Aylmer street. 1d

Kidd the "Booter" and "Clothier" wishes all his patrons the compliments of this festive season.

Donations to the Y.M.C.A.

The Y. M. C. A. desire to thank their friends for the following donations:—A cushion, from an unknown friend; College song books, J. R. Stratton; register book and College songs, Lee & Thompson; picture from W. McCamus. The following articles were loaned for the reception:—J. W. Crosby, piano; Miss Sanderson and Mrs. Bradden, parlor-organ; A. Clegg, curtains and table; York & Lee, table; C. B. Routley, curtain poles and pictures; O. C. Rowes, table covers; R. Fair and J. C. Turnbull, carpets; H. S. Griffin, curtains; MacFarlane Wilson, half dozen lamps; Jos. Mitchell, hanging lamp; J. J. Turner, F. Brownscombe and A. V. R. Young, flags; G. M. Roger and F. Mason, flowers; W. Smart and others, pictures.

Funeral Rites.

The funeral of the late John Hackett took place this forenoon, and despite the stormy weather was largely attended. At ten o'clock high mass was celebrated by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, assisted by Rev. Fathers Radkins, Conway, Lynch and Cotsy. The church was draped in mourning and the entire service was of a most impressive character. After the mass had been said the Lordship delivered a very touching eulogy upon the late Mr. Hackett. He referred to his many virtues and good qualities, to the deep interest he took in the promotion of educational and church interests. Reference was made to his faithful observance of his religious duties, and his unostentatious but effective charity. It is something very unusual for a bishop to thus depart from the ordinary mode of procedure, but the high esteem in which Mr. Hackett was held by his clergy, rendered the unusual honour paid to his memory peculiarly fitting. Mr. Hackett also enjoyed, in a very high degree, the respect of the citizens generally, as is shown by the large concourse that joined the procession, which followed his remains to their last resting place.

The Jessie Mills Company.

An exchange, referring to the Company which opens a season of three nights in Bradburn's Opera House on Monday evening, January 6th, says:—

"Low prices' the expectation of being lucky enough to secure a present and a favorite drama demonstrated last evening in the Opera house how that place can be filled. Standing room only was the legend some time before the curtain went up. The play was "The Planter's Wife," and Miss Mill's and her support rendered it in a manner that was acceptable to those present. The distribution of the presents was conducted upon a plan that gave evidence there was no favoritism indulged in. For this evening "An Unequal Match" is bulletined, and the attraction of the play, with the low price of admission, combined with that disposition in human nature to gamble, will no doubt fill the Opera house again to-night from pit to dome."

Concert by the League.

The Epworth League of the Mark Street Methodist Church, Ashburnham, gave a concert New Year's night, which was well attended. Rev. A. C. Wilson occupied the chair. A handsome pen-scroll, bearing the motto, "Happy New Year," the work of Mr. Wm. Smith, hung on the wall behind the pulpit of the church—was worthy of special mention. The following programme was rendered:—

The Nora Clench Concert.

This important event takes place in Bradburn's opera house, on Thursday evening, Jan. 9th. Those who are fortunate enough to be present will enjoy a delightful musical treat. "Metronome," in Toronto Saturday Night, says:—"Miss Nora Clench was naturally the cynosure of all eyes—and ears. Her studies abroad have strengthened her tone and enlarged her experience. She has a fine, broad and resonant tone and she has also abundant executive facility, and she plays with wonderfully ease and grace, and with the most charming manner in the world. She is artistic and finished in all she does and won the affections of her audience at once." She will be supported by Mrs. Chambers, the leading soprano soloist, of Montreal, and Mr. T. Dunn, baritone. Miss Clench will contribute three numbers and Mrs. Chambers and Mr. Dunn are down for solos each and also a duet. Plan of hall now open at Sailsbury's Bookstore. Tickets, 25 and 50 cents. Reserved seats 75 cents.

New Year Weddings

Miller—McWilliams.

Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock the beautiful residence of Mr. J. B. McWilliams, Water street, was the scene of a happy hymeneal event. The occasion was the marriage of his daughter, Miss Millie McWilliams, to Mr. W. H. Miller, of Rochester, N.Y. The wedding was a very quiet one, only the members of the two families and near relatives being present. Rev. E. F. Torrance was the officiating clergyman. The groom was assisted by Mr. Alder, of Rochester, and the bridesmaids were Miss Lily Dixon and Miss Katie Hall. The bride was tastily attired in a pearl satin dress, with pearl ornaments. Miss Dixon wore pink satin and cashmere, and Miss Katie Hall cream satin and cashmere. After the ceremony the bridal party sat down to an elegant dejeuner, prepared by Mr. Harry Long, caterer. Mr. and Mrs. Miller left on the 5.15 train for Toronto, en route to their home in the Flower City of the States.

The EXAMINER begs to tender its congratulations to the newly married couple and wish them all possible felicity in their wedded life. The bride was one of Peterborough's most charming and accomplished young ladies. Her absence will be keenly felt in social and church circles as well as in her parental home. She was connected with St. Paul's church, where her services in the Sunday School will be gratefully remembered. Among the many handsome and valuable gifts the bride received on the occasion, were two beautiful hand-painted plaques, from the pupils of her Sunday School class, which was presented to her on Christmas eve, accompanied by a highly complimentary address. Another present was a large family Bible, revised edition, from her grandfather, Mr. Davidson.

Lillico-Irwin.

Wednesday evening at the residence of the brides' father, Mr. John Irwin, the wedding of Mr. James Lillico to Miss Katherine Jane Irwin was celebrated by Rev. M. L. Pearson. The groomsman was Mr. Thos Lillico and the bridesmaid Miss Minnie Irwin. The occasion was a most happy one, and Mr. and Mrs. Lillico will receive the warmest congratulations of a host of friends. During the evening the band serenaded the wedding party and were handsomely entertained by Mr. Irwin. The serenade was also intended as a compliment to Mr. Fred Irwin, who has just returned from Toronto with a bride in the person of Miss Stewart. Mr. Irwin was formerly a member of the band.

Public School Promotions.

List of the Pupils Who Advance a Step The Last Not on Large as Usual.

The following pupils of the public schools have been successful in the promotion examinations, and will next term pass to a class one grade higher. It will be noticed that the number of those successful is much smaller than usual. Heretofore the number of promotions made has been in a considerable degree regulated by the accommodation in the rooms to which promotions were to be made; but the erection of the new buildings gives ample room for all grades without promoting anyone until thoroughly fit. In the late examinations, therefore, a standard was set and strictly adhered to, a little allowance being made in the 2nd and 3rd book classes of the Ennish Ward School for the loss of time caused by the building operations there. The Inspector and the Headmasters are anxious to raise the standard of the work done in the various classes; and it is anticipated that the fact of so many pupils remaining for another term under the same teacher will have a tendency to effect the desired result:—

The Late Dr. Hunter.

Intelligence was received yesterday of the death, at Ogden, Utah, of Dr. J. B. Hunter, son-in-law of Mr. James Stratton, Collector of Customs. It will be remembered by many that Dr. Hunter paid a visit to Peterborough last August, he having been at that time compelled to resign the practice of his profession on account of failing health. He was advised to spend the winter in a warmer climate, and accordingly he went south, but finding the climate had not the good effect expected, he proceeded to the Western States. At Ogden, Utah, he stopped off to see a brother who resides there. While there his health declined rapidly, and his condition became so serious that his wife, who was staying in Peterborough, was summoned to join him. She arrived, accompanied by her little daughter, Thursday. She had the melancholy pleasure of being with her husband in his last hours. His death took place on Tuesday.

Dr. Hunter was the son of David Hunter Esq., of St. George, Ontario, and was born in the year 1856 being aged 34 year at the time of his death. He was educated at Toronto University, and was a graduate of the Toronto Medical School. Upon graduating he spent several years at Bellevue Hospital, New York. Upon leaving the hospital he went to Manitoba, practising his profession very successfully at Minnedosa for about three years, leaving there for Detroit where he has since resided.

Dr. Hunter leaves behind him a widow and one child, the former a daughter of Mr. James Stratton, to whom he was married about six years ago. Unostentatious in character, he was very highly respected by his many friends, and professionally he had a bright future in prospect. He was a member of the Masonic Fraternity, Ancient Order of United Workmen and Foresters. At the request of Palestine Masonic Lodge De rott, Dr. Hunter will be buried with Masonic honours. His body is expected to arrive in Peterborough on Saturday. The funeral will take on Sunday at 2.30 p.m.

The Chestnut Concert.

An Old Landmark Under a New Name—The Royal Templars' Celebration of the New Year.

The Chestnut Concert under the auspices of the Royal Templars Wednesday night attracted as large an audience as the hall could accommodate. As the rather peculiar name would indicate, the concert was composed largely of what are now regarded as back numbers—not the talent, for some of the performers made their debut at this entertainment—but the selections rendered were all or nearly all of the antique variety. Old and at one time standard selections, which had been buried in oblivion for years, were resurrected and presented to the audience, to many of whom they were quite new again.

Before the concert began refreshments were served in the adjoining dining room, where the ladies supplied an admirable lunch free of extra charge.

Dr. Goldsmith occupied the chair, and the following programme was run off, Mr. Hoover playing the accompaniments:—

A Great Success.

The wonderful bargains and immense value given at the great sale of M. Sullivan & Co's has caused the great success of the sale. Hundreds of customers have come to "shop" and stayed to buy. The prices and goods were such as they could not resist. A splendid stock, kept well assorted, placed at figures which must sell the goods. A beautiful line of woven shawls form one of the latest and most attractive features. Don't neglect this great sale. If you do you will miss the biggest bargains ever presented in Peterborough. dw

One More Chance.

There are scores who were not remembered on Christmas day with the customary gift, and they feel, as they have a reason to feel, slighted. But there is another holiday coming—New Year's day—when gifts are given and received. An appropriate present would be something consoling. And nothing fills the bill better than a package of hawley bros' superb tea—pure, strong and first class. This firm makes a specialty of teas. Buying direct and in large lots, they buy at the best rates, therefore customers get the advantage of it. Conservatism vs. The Rage for Novelties

The Seed Annual for 1890, issued by D. M. Ferry & Co., of Detroit, Michigan, has reached our table. Its cover this year is especially artistic and attractive, and its contents as usual, interesting and instructive. Ferry's Seeds are thoroughly reliable and always come true. The directions given in the annual for the cultivation of both flowers and vegetables are so full and explicit that no one can fail of success who uses their seeds and follows the instructions.

D. M. Ferry & Co. are very conservatives both in offering new sorts and in their claims for them when offered; but they take pains to inform themselves as to the true character of all new varieties, so if some much lauded novelties are not found in the Annual, the probability is they have tested them and found them of no value.

A request sent to the firm at Detroit, Michigan, will bring you a copy of the Seed Annual for 1890 by return mail.

Presentation and Address.

On Tuesday evening, 31st Dec., the last night of the first quarter, the members of the Peterborough Choral Society met at their rooms on Water street, and presented Mr. J. H. Ketcham, Conductor, with the following address and handsome Photograph Album. The address was read by Miss Aldridge and the presentation made by Mr. Milne:—

Mr. J. H. KETCHAM,

DEAR SIR,—As the first quarter of the Peterborough Choral Society has come to a successful termination, the members wish to express to you their feelings of pleasure for the instruction received and the able manner in which they were given.

By your genial and hearty manner you have won the admiration and respect of every member of the Society, and the progress made has fully sustained your previous widespread reputation as a first class conductor of choral societies.

In conclusion we beg you to accept this present as a slight token of our regards.

Hoping that you will continue the class for another term, and wishing yourself and family a Happy and Prosperous New Year,

We are yours very truly.

Signed on behalf of the Peterborough Choral Society,

John Milne.	W. A. Smith.
Geo. Edmison, jr.	Thos. Graham.

Dec. 31st, 1889.

Mr. Ketcham was taken completely by surprise, and, in a brief reply, thanked the members for their kindness, for their punctuality in attendance at practice, and for the attention given to his instructions. He hoped to be able to continue the Society, and that the members would continue to make as satisfactory progress in the future as they had done in the past.

SEVERAL HUNDRED CASES OF LA GRIPPE IN MONTREAL.

Spread of the Disease at Ottawa—An Eminent Physician Discourses Learnedly on the Subject—The Epidemic Appears in Missouri.

MONTREAL, Jan. 2.—The change in the weather has assisted the spread of "la grippe" very considerably, and an increased number of cases was reported last night and to-day. A West-end physician reports that he has 50 new influenza cases. Dr. George Ross says that there are several hundred cases of influenza under medical treatment in the district in which he resides. The spread of the disease appears to be general throughout the city. A number of applicants for charity at the weekly distribution of the Board of Outdoor Relief to-day reported members of their families as laid up with influenza.

Dr. Sirady's Opinion.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—In an article in the Medical Record Dr. George F. Sirady says: There is now no doubt that influenza, or the "Grippe," has become edidemic in this city and is scattered broadcast over the country. Fortunately it is of such a mild type that save for its invasion of large districts and for the large numbers of persons attacked it would scarcely be noticed in the catagory of ailments connected with the usual ones which occur during winter months associatdd with rapid and varied changes of temperature and humidity. The type of the present epidemic partakes more of the febrile and nervous variety than that of the purely catarrhal. The prostration is oftentimes extreme, but by no means dangerous, and readily yields to the usual remedies. Rarely is the ordinarly robust patient confined to his room more than two or three days. The reports of the fatality of the disease have been very much exaggerated. Particularly does this remark apply to the alarming reports of the recent death rate in Paris. In fact there is no disease with such a wide prevalence which has such a comparatively low mortality. The after effects of the epidemic will doubtless be marked by feelings of prostration more or less continued and a lowering of the health tone. The previously robust will quickly rally while the feeble will require stimulants and tonics for variable periods. The contagiousness of the malady has not declared itself. The treatment has necessarily varied. The remedies which have found most favor are laxatives, anodynes, antipyretics and tonics with stimulating expectorants. From present indications and from past history the epidemic is likely soon to pass over, a few days more settling the question of immunity from attack.

Many Cases at the Capital.

OTTAWA, Jan. 2.—La grippe in its true aspect struck Ottawa to-day. Scores of cases are reported. Thirteen clerks in the city postoffice alone are laid up on sick leave.

BROCKVILLE, Jan. 2.—There are 400 cases of the grip here.

Influenza Afloat.

TANGIER, Jan. 2.—The United States squadron arrived here to-day and exchanged salutes but did not communicate with the city as there are on the ships altogether 48 cases of influenza.

Count Taafi Has It.

VIENNA, Jan. 2.—Count Taafi has the influenza and is confined to bed.

In the Wooly West.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 2.—There are 98 cases of influenza here. Labor Commissioner Merriweather and Gov. Francis' private secretary, M. A. Fanning, are among the victims.

Great Mortality.

PARIS, Jan. 2.—The mortality here is still abnormally great. Tuesday there were 899 deaths, and Wednesday 834. The re-opening of the schools, already closed, is postponed.

VIENNA, Jan. 2.—The number of victims of the epidemic here is decreasing somewhat, but the disease is more virulent in Prague and Dresden it is increasing.

DRESDEN, Jan. 2.—The Queen of Saxony, Baron Mohrenheim and Dr. Dollings have the influenza.

PARIS, Jan. 2.—The St. Sulpice Seminary, the greatest school in France, is closed.

ROME, Jan. 2.—Signor Crispi has the influenza, which is spreading in all the large towns.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 2.—Influenza is on the increase here but no deaths are reported.

Shot in a Saloon.

WILLIAMS, Cal., Jan. 2.—Daniel Matheson was shot in a saloon here yesterday by Joseph Casey, a son of Joseph Casey who was hanged by the San Francisco Vigilance Committee in '56 for murdering James King. Matheson died to-day. Casey was arrested.

Still After Powderly's Scalp.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 2.—Yesterday a constable here received by mail a warrant for the arrest of Master-Workman Powderly sworn out by Edward Callaghan of Scottdale. The warrant was presented to Alderman Donohue for his endorsement but he refused to endorse it. Powderly will leave to-morrow on a lecturing tour.

Sold to an English Syndicate.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 2.—T. B. Ripey, the Anderson County distiller, has sold to the English syndicate a two-thirds interest in his distilleries, valued at $500,000. Ripey is retained as manager.

The Globe Trotters.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—A cablegram to-day from Miss Elizabeth Bisland announces her arrival at Colombo Tuesday and departure same day. She expects to reach New York on her tour around the world in seventy-two days from the time of her departure. Nelly Bly was due at Yokohama to-day. She is to sail from there Jan. 6 for San Francisco.

The Daily Smash.

SAVANNAH, Jan. 2.—A mail train and a local train on the Central Railway collided in a fog 20 miles west of Savannah to-day. The local was standing on a side track. Both engines were wrecked and six passengers slightly injured.

Failure of an Iron Firm.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Jan. 2.—The iron firm of Curtin & Co. of Roland has assigned. The liabilities are about $135,000, nominal assets $50,000. The iron works were established about 1810.

A $40,000 Blaze.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—A fire in the double five-story building, 119 Fulton-street and 50 Ann-street, to-night caused $40,000 damage. E. A. Soltmann, dealer in artists' manterials, was the principal loser.

INTERESTING ITEMS BY WIRE.

Maggie's Wedding Was Postponed.

BRANDON, O., Jan. 2.—As Miss Maggie Layman was dressing for her wedding here last night, she picked up a revolver and was about to place it in her dresser draw when the weapon was discharged. The ball entered her thigh, making a dangerous wound. The wedding was postponed.

Shielded an Assassin.

WASHINGTON Jan. 2.—J. A. Jones of Maryland, an employe in the Navy Yard here, has been discharged for complicity in the escape of J. Wilkes Booth after the assassination of President Lincoln. Jones acknowledged his complicity.

He Was Excusable.

LANCASTER, Pa., Jan. 2.—Wm. R. Rogers, a Pennsylvania railroad engineer on trial for criminal negligence, in causing the death of Conductor John C. Ryan, was acquitted to-day. Rogers ran into Ryan's train while asleep at his post, having been on duty 29 hours.

Hopes for Four.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 2.—Governor Beaver to-day issued warrants for the execution Feb. 20 of murderers Thomas J. Cole and Jacob S. Schoop of Philadelphia, William S. Hopkins of Bellefonte and John W. Rudy of Lancaster.

Mrs. Hicks' Benevolence.

JAMAICA, L.I., Jan. 2.—The will of the late Mrs. Elizabeth T. Hicks, a wealthy Quakeress of Westbury, bequeaths $35,000 each to the societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals and children and to Swathmore College, Pa.

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES.

KING CARLOS ON THE ANGLO-PORTUGUESE DIFFICULTY.

His Government Will Endeavor to Satisfy England of the Justice of Portugal's Claims in Africa—England, France and the Vatican.

LISBON, Jan. 2.—At the opening of the Cortes the king announced that the foreign relations of the kingdom were all that could be desired. He reviewed the progress made in the African colonies of Portugal and said:

The patriotic aspirations of Great Britain to extend her vast possessions in Africa have been met at several points by the fixed design of Portugal to maintain her authority over those regions that Portuguese were the first to discover and open to Christianity and commerce and where Portuguese authorities have exercised jurisdiction and influence sufficient to indicate incontestable possession. The collision has provoked a difference of views and has led to a diplomatic correspondence which is also dealing with the difference of opinion regarding the conflict between the natives of the Shire country and the Portuguese scientific expedition. Supported by the two Chambers my Government will endeavor to convince the British Government of our right to rule the territory north and south of the Zambesi River, hoping to obtain an equitable adjustment of all legitimate interests which may, as I desire, promptly restore a perfect accord between two nations that have been united by bonds of friendship and tradition for centuries.

A Platonic Idea.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 2.—The Novoe Vremya, commenting on the Pope's allocution, says: "Nobody knows better than the Pope that nowhere in Europe can he ever again exercise earthly sovereignty, and that the recovery of the temporal power is a platonic idea."

Independence at any Cost.

BUCHAREST, Jan. 2.—In the Chamber of Deputies the Foreign Minister, in debating the address, said the country must be consulted, and in the event of an outbreak of war it must be prepared to sacrifice both treasure and blood to preserve its independence.

The Latest from Zanzibar.

ZANZIBAR, Jan. 2.—Mr. McKenzie, agent of the East Africa Company, sent a native force to Vitu and dislodged a chief on the British territory, and forced the British stations on the Tannus and made search for Dr. Peters' party. English postoffices have been opened at Mombassa and Lamu. The Europeans all feted and banqueted Stanley's party at Mombassa.

England, France and the Vatican.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The Catholic News has received the following from its correspondent at Rome. General Simmonds, the English special envoy for Maitese affairs, seems to encounter some difficulties in accomplishing his mission. The difficulties this time come not from Ireland, because the General never has any Irish affairs entrusted to him, but from France. The reason is very simple: England desires a kind of Catholic patriarchate erected at Malta to preside not only over Malta but also over Egypt, and the English possessions in Africa. Of course France, which already possesses the primatical see of Algiers, with jurisdiction over all Africa through Cardinal Lavigerie, cannot now revoke this protectorate. Cardinal Lavigerie will soon visit Rome in regard to this matter, and I am certain the Holy See will respect the reasoning of the cardinal and of France. As regards other political views of England I have from a good source that the Holy Father will accept the offer of having a stable English representative at Rome, but on condition that he will never interfere in Irish affairs. Leo XIII. has declared again, he will never treat Irish affairs with England. He would only take the part of an arbiter when asked by both countries.

Prince Bismarck Better.

BERLIN, Jan. 2.—Prince Bismarck is better. He is able to walk out but still suffers neuralgic pains. In all other respects his health is remarkably good. He received 600 telegraph despatches wishing him a complete recovery and the compliments of the season.

Massacre of Exiles in Siberia.

VIENNA, Jan. 2.—Some details have been received here of the recent massacre of exiles in Siberia. The Nihilists in exile endeavored to work some printing presses. The authorities destroyed these and the exiles resisting were fired upon, thirty being either killed or wounded. The Cossack Guards, it is said, helped the exiles.

Dr. Peters Fate.

FRANKFORT, Jan. 2.—The Frankfurter Journal has news from Lieut. Rust, who has arrived at Aden. He states that while on the way to join Dr. Peters he was seized with severe illness and lay unconscious for five days. All his followers deserted him except one personal attendant. Subsequently one deserter returned and told Rust that at a point one day distant he had seen the murdered bodies of Peters and Tiedmann, that one of Peters' arms was separated from his body and that there were three spear wounds in Tiedmann's breast.

The Belgian Colliers' Strike.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 2.—The strike among the colliers is spreading. At Liege 1200 miners have joined the movement.

Breslau Miners' Out.

BERLIN, Jan. 2.—The miners in Breslau have struck for eight hours as a day's work, and unlimited output and higher wages. The masters and the men are negotiating for a settlement.

A Ferocious Editor.

DUBLIN, Jan. 2.—Mr. McInery, editor of The Limerick Leader, who has been on trial for intimidation, has been found guilty and sentenced to three months' imprisonment. The Appeal Court has dismissed similar charges made against Mr. Redmond of The Waterford News, and Mr. Fisher of The Munster Express.

Wealth Left Behind.

ROME, Jan. 2.—Cora Kennedy, the American lady who died here Dec. 31, has made many important legacies, among others $6000 to the International Peace Society, $20,000 to the Hospital Tortona and $10,000 to the Milan Society for the protection of animals.

The Laeken Palace Fire.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 2.—The damage caused by the fire at Laeken is estimated at $1,200,000. Some priceless statues were destroyed. The table upon which Napoleon signed the declaration of war against Russia was shattered. Their Majesties intend to reside in the portion of the palace which has been preserved, and which is called the Pavilion d'Honneur. The contents of the palace were insured for $550,000.

Russian Officers Arrested.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 2.—Thirty-two officers have been arrested, charged with being members of a secret society, the object of which is to abolish the aristocracy and establish a constitutional monarchy.

Death of a West Durham Pioneer.

OSHAWA, Jan. 2.—Mrs. M. McLaughlin, mother of Robert McLaughlin of the carriage works here, died yesterday, aged 90 years. Deceased was one of the pioneers of West Durham and was highly esteemed by all her acquaintances. Her funeral will take place to-morrow.

Kingston's New Mayor.

KINGSTON, Jan. 2.—There will be no election for the mayoralty, Mayor Thompson having sent in his resignation as a candidate. Ald. W. M. Dreanan is therefore elected mayor by acclamation.

Snakes in His Blood.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 2.—A patient received this evening at Johns Hopkins Hospital has animals in the shape of snakes living in his blood. He is from Charleston, S.C., and has suffered from his disease for 20 years. Many times his blood has been examined under the microscope, and the snake-shaped parasites have always been found. The blood has generally been drawn from a finger tip. It is said that only 35 cases of this disease have been reported in the country.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

CHILLICOTHE, Mo., Jan. 2.—A boiler explosion occurred in a sawmill near here to-day. William Hughes and John Funkle were killed.

DEATH IN THE POT.

Poisoning of an Illinois Family—Probably a Jealous Suicidal Crime.

JOLIET, Ill., Jan. 2.—John Dall, a single man, lived on a farm near the village of Mokena with his mother, Mrs. Amelia Dall, 70 years old. Connected with the household were a hired man named Schueller and a girl named Mina Schenck. Yesterday the girl prepared dinner and when the coffee was served each of the family noticed it had a strong, bitter taste. The stuff was thrown away and a new lot made. This was also bad, but not enough so to prevent the family from partaking freely of it. Soon after dinner they all became alarmingly sick. The hired man and girl drank fresh milk, which caused vomiting and saved their lives. Mrs. Dall died after a few hours of excruciating pain and last evening John Dall breathed his last. The physicians called could not determine the character of the poison. A white powder was noticed in the first pot of coffee. John Schafer, a former employe of Dall and a rival suitor for the hand of the servant maid, was suspected as the guilty person. When the sheriff arrested him at Mokena to-day he tried to commit suicide with a razor.

LICENSED EVILS.

How the System Works in Texas—A Conflict Between City and State.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 2.—Since yesterday the City Clerk has issued licenses in accordance with a new ordinance to proprietors of gambling establishments and keepers of houses of prostitution and inmates of the latter. The fees thus far aggregate $7000 and not more than a third of the persons required to secure such licenses have yet done so. District Attorney Paschal declares he will prosecute all parties procuring such licenses despite the city ordinance, which will cause a conflict between the city and State officials. A woman who a few days ago paid $250 to the city for the privilege of conducting a house of prostitution for six months was to-day arrested by a deputy sheriff and fined $100 by Justice McAllister. The woman had to pay the fine or go to jail. Mayor Callahan this afternoon instructed Chief of Police Shardine to raid all places to-night and arrest all persons found therein who have not procured a license.

He Ought to Get a Verdict.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 2.—Frank B. Hooper of Dayton to-day brought suit against the Northern Pacific for $10,000 damages for personal injuries received in a peculiar way. During the blizzard last Saturday night Hooper boarded a train at Glyndon, between the first coach and the baggage car. He tried to enter the passenger coach but could not open the door. The conductor refused to assist and Hooper rode on the platform from Glyndon to Fargo, Dak. The whole of one side was frozen and he had to be removed from his position when the train reached its destination. Physicians say his feet and fingers will have to be amputated.

A Big Judgment.

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 2.—The jury in the case of Elizabeth B. McComb v. the Southern Railroad Association to-day rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount claimed—$2,904,100. This is the heaviest sum ever awarded in a Delaware court. The plaintiff is the widow of the late Col. Henry S. McComb, who was a heavy stockholder in the Mississippi Central Railway, which was absorbed by the Southern Railroad Association. The verdict is for 900 Mississippi Central coupon bonds of $1000 each, bearing interest at 7 per cent. from date of issue, Dec. 15, 1873. The verdict does little more than establish the validity of plaintiff's claim, since the assets will fall far below the judgment.

Dom Pedro's Wealth.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Papers from Brazil, received by Minister Valente, state that the crown jewels and other valuables belonging to the Imperial family have been deposited in the treasury vaults subject to order of the ex-Emperor. An inventory of the property was taken by officials acting with a trustee who is a personal friend of the ex-Emperor. Mr. Valente says the provision government never contemplated confiscating the property of the Emperor. He states that the inventory shows the Emperor possessed much more property than was generally believed.

The Honest Traveling Man.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 2.—A gentleman who has kept his name secret arrived here New Year's eve. He took a room at a hotel and left a valise in it while he went to supper. He returned to his room and soon rushed into the hotel office and gasped, "My valise is gone and it contained $150,000." The clerk ascertained that a traveling man named McGlory had occupied the room previously and might have taken the valise through mistake as it resembled a traveling man's grip. This proved to be correct and to-day the valise with $150,000 in stocks, bonds and mortgages was recovered intact.

Confessed Too Late.

TAHLEQUAH, I.T., Jan. 2.—At Illinois station the other day "Minnie" Rogers, a colored gambler and whisky peddler, was run over by a train and fatally injured. Before he died he made a statement regarding the murder in 1886 in the Cherokee Nation of Dr. J. M. Pyle and Mrs. William Kerr, who were found murdered in their beds at their respective houses, their heads having been crushed in. John Stephenson was convicted of the murder and hanged. On his death bed Rogers confessed he had committed the deed unaided. He swore he was hired to do it by the enemies of the victims.

Cronin's Unburied Body.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—A paper here says: "The mutilated remains of Dr. Cronin still repose in the black coffin in the dismal vault of Cavalry Cemetery. No date has yet been decided upon for, the final interment but it will probably take place early in the spring. There will be a demonstration on the occasion that will probably exceed in magnitude the great outpouring on the day of the funeral. Delegations of prominent Irishmen from the leading cities of the country will participate in the proceedings."

Shot in Mistake For a Burglar.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 2.—Edward Sherman was awakened here at 2 this morning by the sound of some one working at the lock of the door to his room. Thinking it was a burglar he fired through the panel and heard a heavy fall. Opening the door he found he had mortally shot W. H. Phillips, a real estate agent, aged 73, who occupied an adjoining room and had gone to Sherman's door by mistake.

Sick and in Prison.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—A writ of habeas corpus was secured by Mrs. Martin, mother of Hannah B. Southworth who killed Mr. Pettua, requiring the production in court of her daughter. Mrs. Martin says her daughter is afflicted with a complication of diseases and is slowly dying. The prison physicians, she says are inattentive, and she wishes her daughter removed to a hospital. The writ is returnable to court to-morrow.

He Was Black and Desperate.

SHREVEPORT, La., Jan. 2.—Tuesday Henry Holmes, a negro, was found hanging to a tree in Bossier parish. He was a desperate character, and recently shot a well-known citizen.

The Sheriff Wouldn't Act.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Jan. 2.—The Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg Company, 1500 of whose employes are on strike, were not successful in the effort to eject the miners from their houses to-day. Sheriff Sutter refused to act to-day. The sheriff has until the February court to make return of his writs of ejectment and he can serve them any time within the intervening period. Superintendent Haskell declares he will open the mines Monday at any cost.

Pennsylvania Miners' Trouble.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Jan. 2.—J. Langdon & Co., proprietors of the Pink Ash vein at the Nelson Shaft, offered to start work this morning at a reduction of 15 per cent. The miners, numbering 400, rejected the offer and went on strike.

MT. CARMEL, Pa., Jan. 2.—Congressman Scott's Pennsylvania Colliery suspended operations to-day, throwing 1000 miners out of employment.

The Flour Market Dull.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 2.—The Northwestern Miller says: "The aggregate flour output last week was 108,820 barrels, against 140,640 the week before and 60,000 barrels for the corresponding time in 1888. The flour market continues very dull, though millers say the demand is much better than is usual during the holiday season.

DOMINION NEWS NOTES.

BLOOD FLOWS FREELY IN A QUEBEC CLUB ROW.

Premier Mercier Submits to the Religious Authorities a Bill With Reference to the Taxation of Religious Communities—The C.P.R. Arbitration in Final Session.

QUEBEC, Jan. 2.—It is reported that charges against twenty-four king have been seen prowling around Isle aux Coudres. It is the first time these ugly customers have been seen so high up the river.

The Quebec Street Railway has won its suit against the city, which wanted to impose on it an annual tax of $4000. Judge Casault pronounced the bylaw illegal on the ground that it was a violation of the contract entered into between the company and the city in 1865.

For some time past there has been ill-feeling between the civilian and military elements of the Garrison Club. Last night this feeling reached its climax and a general row occurred between the two factions. Billiard balls and cues were freely used, coats were thrown off and blood was seen in every direction.

The Legislature opens on Tuesday.

WHAT IS GOING ON IN MONTREAL.

Proposed Legislation with Reference to Taxing Religious Communities.

MONTREAL, Jan. 2.—Premier Mercier stated to-day that a measure has been submitted to the religious authorities, both Catholic and Protestant, and will be presented to the Legislature to finally settle the question of taxing religious communities; that it would be the result of an intelligent compromise between church and state; that it was father Labelle who actively interested himself in the scheme, the most important in the political life of that prelate.

The Dominion Bridge Company of Lachine has just turned out from their works a train of 28 cars loaded with new steel bridges for the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The Great Northern Railway, 20 miles of which was inspected by the Government engineer the other day, will, it is said, be a short line from Ottawa to Quebec via Carillon. It passes through the most fertile portion of the province.

To-morrow the poll takes place here on the $1,000,000 loan for city improvements.

COULDN'T MEET PAYMENTS—[illegible]

A Hamilton Stationer Skips Out—Lost An Arm—A Criminal Jolt.

HAMILTON, Jan. 2.—Max Burkenroad, who ran a book and stationery store at the corner of King and Mary-streets, has skipped away across the border for a little vacation. To-day a notice was posted up on his door announcing the fact that the store was closed while the occupants were taking stock. Burkenroad's brother, who was within, said Max had skipped because he could not meet the payments as they fell due. The stock amounts to about $3500, and the liabilities will reach about $3000. C. M. Williams of Toronto is the principal creditor.

A young man named Thompson Goskill lost his right arm in a steam straw-cutter at Killbride the other day.

Some alleged practical jokers set fire to a tool house on the mountain containing a lot of dynamite, powder, shovels, crowbars and other implements. The laborers were in consequence unable to begin operations at the quarries to-day.

About 150 extra arc lights, scattered all over the city, were lit for the first time last night, making the total number of lights 259.

The Hamilton Oil Company commenced operations to-day, when a tank of 100 barrels of oil arrived for barrelling. The company expects to put up about 7000 barrels a year.

A number of business men entertained Col. Roberts, retiring United States consul here, at the Royal Hotel last evening and presented him with an address and gold watch and chain and Mrs. Roberts with a silver tea set.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Separate School Board Protests—A Cannibalistic Attack on a Butcher.

TORONTO, Jan. 3.—At the Separate School Board meeting last night the protests against the election of Rev. Father Gibbons on the ground of clerical influence and Rev. Father Laurent on the ground that he is not a British subject were not entertained, the chairman holding that the courts were the proper place to show up any illegality.

Mr. Richard Ardah, a butcher residing in Queen-street east, was walking near the Gerrard-street bridge last night when he was attacked by three men and knocked down. His assailants bit a piece out of his chin and ran off. Mr. Ardah made his way to the Hospital and his injuries were attended to.

Death of Hon. J. G. Blanchet.

QUEBEC, Jan. 2.—Yesterday Hon. Joseph Goderic Blanchet, M.D., for many years a prominent and popular figure in the House of Assembly, of which he was speaker for a long period, and speaker of the House of Commons, Ottawa, passed away at his residence in Levis Heights. He resigned his seat in the assembly in 1883 to accept the collectorship of customs at Quebec, which post he held up to his death. Dr. Blanchet was 60 years of age.

Salted for Insulting an Editor.

BRANTFORD, Jan. 2.—On Tuesday evening J. R. Bowlby, son of Lawyer Bowlby, assaulted James M. Miller, proprietor of The Evening Telegram, giving him a bad thrashing. The cause for assault was an article in The Telegram reflecting on young Bowlby's skill as an engineer. The case was tried at the Police Court to-day, when Bowlby was fined $30.

The C.P.R. Arbitration.

OTTAWA, Jan. 2.—The final sitting of the Canada Pacific Railway arbitration commenced this morning. There were present a number of engineers for both parties. The proceedings opened by Mr. Hogg reading the evidence taken in England by a committee some time ago. At the conclusion of the reading the court adjourned. Mr. Blake's argument is expected to last a week.

FURIOUS GALES.

The Crosan's Rough Passage Across the Atlantic—In the Trough of the Sea.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Captain Lord of the British steamer Crosna, which arrived to-day from Middlesboro, reports: We experienced the roughest weather I have ever known. Up to Dec. 17 we had a succession of furious gales. The ship was thrown off into the trough of the sea, although going at full speed, and became unmanageable. We stopped the engines and used a plentiful supply of oil, which aided in breaking the crests of the waves. We, however, shipped one fearful sea which carried everything before it, smashing one boat and damaging others, washing away part of the flying bridge and injuring several of the crew. Part of this sea went down the funnel, the top of which is 60 feet above the water. The water rushed through the tubes in such volume as nearly to put the fires out and caused a great commotion among the men below. On the 18th it blew a heavy gale and on the 20th the wind again became a hurricane. During the night we shipped a tremendous sea over the bows. It swept away everything in its way, carrying wreckage from the main deck over the upper bridge, about 25 feet high, and finally making its exit over the stern. This sea washed a fireman from the forecastle on to the main bridge, lifting him about 20 feet and sending him among the debris under the starboard boat. He was picked up insensible and dangerously injured.

MAD BEAR HAD THE BEST OF IT!

A Sioux Chief Complains of Uncle Sam's Drinking Fads.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The Sioux chiefs had another talk with Commissioner Morgan to-day. Mad Bear said: "You sent us three persons to show us how to farm. They can't talk to us, they only make motions with their hands and then go away. We don't know what they mean. If they would plow and sow and raise crops we could see how they did it and learn to farm. We have boys and half-breeds who know how to farm better than the farmers you send to teach us."

Commissioner Morgan: "You should learn to understand English and then perhaps the farmers could teach you."

Mad Bear: "If we had got the schools on the reservations as promised us in 1868 we would now know English, but we did not get them. We want to learn to farm and do like whites and we want schools on the reservations so we can learn."

If you should give the days of the week trade names, Saturday would be clothing man's day.

Look at the clothing store news up and down the columns of the papers! Is it not so.

We could pile adjective upon hyperbole—could print with display type the most impossible statement if we choose, but we spare you.

They can all gang their ain gait, while we go on making our clothing business bigger by making it better; the only sure way and we hold our own with the best in quality, style and make with real cheapness. Our boys' Readymade clothing cannot be beaten in style, quality and price.

We had a heavy run on Ladies' Mantles last week. A lot of good goods at Bargain Prices still to select from.

Our 40c. Heavy Canadian tweeds please the eye and pockets of all.

In the name of Jack Frost—Blankets. If we could only tell you all we know of Blankets, it would be good reading. One thing we do know, and don't fear to say is, you will get more good wool and generous size in the Blankets now here at $5, than is generally offered. Blankets at $4 and $3.75 of good medium sizes.

Once more the cheapest stock of Grey Flannels and Cottons is with us. The people carry it off with more industry than ants, which is the best proof that business men have that goods are cheap.

IMPORTANT!

Remarkable Restoration to Health of Well Known Canadians whose Cases were Given up as Incurable.

From the few of the hundreds of letters we have received from those who have been restored to health and strength by the use of that wonderful discovery, Paine's Celery Compound, we make a few extracts. We hope that the thousands of Canadian men and women who are suffering from nervous and wasting diseases, will profit by these true and plain statements of facts.

D. S. Davidson, of Montreal, suffered for years with nervous dyspepsia, pain in his back, and sleeplessness. He tried doctors without relief, was losing flesh rapidly, and had about given up heart when he commenced the use of Paine's Celery Compound. "Now," he says, "I am a new man. I sleep well and my food does not hurt me."

Mr. Jas. Johnson, 302 St. Charles Borromeo Street, Montreal, was weak and nervous, had no appetite, and could not rest at night. His nerves were soothed and strengthened by Paine's Celery Compound, and he soon became well and strong.

Annie Gourley, of River Beaudette, P. Q., found the Compound a certain cure for weakness, and now feels as well as she ever did.

A customer of Harrison Bros., druggist, Hamilton, Ont., told them that he was entirely cured of nervous weakness by the use of two bottles of the Compound, after everything else has failed.

The little child of Mrs. G. E. Meredith, 76 D'Arcy St., Toronto, was cured of St. Vitus' Dance by Paine's Celery Compound.

THE SPIRIT OF HEALTH

Dwells With the Banner Town of the Province.

The Death Rate Remarkably Low—Only Twelve and a Half Per Thousand Per Year—It's an Ill Wind that Blows Nobody Good—Detailed Report of the Sanitary Work of the Past Year.

Dr. Clark, Medical Health Officer, has made out his annual report, which is well worth careful digestion. The town is to be congratulated upon its excellent health. Following is the report:—

To the Chairman and Members of the Peterborough Board of Health:

GENTLEMEN,—The present year has been notable for the almost perfect freedom of the town from infectious disease, a single death only, and that from diphtheria which originated elsewhere, being the total mortality from this cause. A very few mild cases of typhoid and scarlet fever have been reported, but none have been fatal, something unusual in a town as large as this throughout a whole year. In no case has any disease spread, the attack being limited to the house in which it broke out and as a rule to one member of the family. Even the deaths among children during the summer months from diarrhœal affections were hardly worth mentioning. The proportion of ordinary or non-infectious illness has also been extremely low. Last year I showed how the death rate had decreased in four years from 18½ to 16 per thousand and expressed the hope that it might remain at that. This year the record is broken more than ever before. Last year with a population of 9989 there were 157 deaths. This year with a population of 9302 there were only 118 deaths. In other words the death rate has been reduced to a shade above 12½ per thousand. This is a remarkable showing and merits the attention of manufacturers and others desiring good locations. Such an uncommonly low death rate, however, is exceptional and a few words may be said about it. There is a general impression that a certain amount of disease must occur whether times be good or bad, but say medical man knows that the proportion is less, other things being equal, in periods of financial depression. It is not that people consult a physician less readily, but the sum total of illness is actually less. Greater abstemiousness in living, the avoidance of excesses in eating and drinking are part of the cause. Rich food and frequent late suppers induce a plethora of the system which predisposes to disease. Then in busy times the wear and tear of money making, the rush and hurry of life, reduce nervous strength, bring on fatigue, and thus render the constitution less capable of resisting attack. Thus dull times, through a financial misfortune, are often a physical blessing. A bow string must sometimes be relaxed in order to preserve its tone, and the human system follows the same law. Still sanitary work must have had a great share in producing this result. Tons and tons of garbage and refuse that were formerly allowed to remain festering and polluting both air and water, are now sifted away every year. Isolation and disinfection have done their work. Besides, there is a vast and unmeasured benefit in the value of sanitary precautions being brought before each individual, and the constantly growing feeling that these matters are of the highest importance, and in the care which is the practical outcome of this feeling.

The following are some of the points on which your officers' attention has been engaged during the year:—

SLAUGHTER HOUSES.—When first the Board of Health was inaugurated it was determined that all the slaughter houses should be removed outside the municipality at the earliest possible moment, and that no others be allowed to begin operations. The number has gradually been reduced to three, which have been allowed to continue so long as they were kept in good sanitary condition. Recently another has started without obtaining permission of the Board, but at the request of the town council proceedings have been stayed until March 1st, when, if not removed, action will be taken. No further permits are to be granted. Inspections of the slaughter houses have been frequently made during the summer; although the wet season has made it more difficulty to keep things in order, a fair condition has been maintained.

REMOVAL OF GARBAGE, ETC.—This has been carried out more systematically and to a greater extent than ever before. Complaints are sometimes made regarding the unpleasant odor noticed here and there on sultry summer evenings and it assumed that very little cleaning up is done in the vicinity. This is often a mistake, as it arises from the adjacent ground which has been saturated for years. The contents of a vault may be removed and yet the surrounding soil give off disagreeable emanations. The remedy is disinfection, frequent and thorough. A few pounds of bluestone or chloride of lime will work wonders. I called the attention of the public to the necessity for this particularly in August and September, which are the breeding months of autumnal fever. I will do so again, as nothing is more important.

EARTH CLOSETS.—Whenever it has been thought advisable, earth-closets have been recommended as substitutes for privy-vaults. But in all cases it is not advisable. Abominations as vaults certainly are, earth-closets become much greater abominations if not properly attended to, as has been disclosed more than once lately. When tenants are coming and going and where removal of earth means expense, earth-closets can be kept in good condition only by means of a scavenger employed by the town. Such an official, whose services could be obtained at any time, without direct cost, would do more to ensure cleanliness than any other arrangement that could be devised.

SEWERAGE.—The question of sewerage is always important, but in view of the increased good health of the town and the investigations that are being made in various places as to the best mode of treating sewage, the Town Council are wisely exercising caution. Electricity is being brought into use for this purpose and there is also a war between different systems of chemicals, hence it is better to wait patiently and see which wins, then to plunge into a large expenditure without definite and accurate information. Last summer I saw the sewerage system in operation at Brantford and everyone seem pleased with it, but the difference between the Grandbee and the St. Lawrence might necessitate some modification here.

POLLUTION OF STREAMS.—As it has been rumored that there is contamination by manufacturers and others of the river above the source of water supply, your officers intend to examine carefully both banks of the river between that and Lakefield and, if necessary, inform the Provincial Board. Now that the season is so far advanced this will be impracticable before spring, but the earliest opportunity will be taken and the results communicated to you. Regarding the creek which passes through the town, I am glad to say that some of the larger manufacturers are discontinuing the pollution of it from closets, and we expect to get householders and others to follow.

INSPECTIONS.—Houses to house inspections have been made by the Sanitary Inspectors in the bi-month of their other duties. In this way a large part of the town has been gone over, larger than in any previous year, the central portions of course receiving the most attention. In spite of the wet weather, yards and premises have been better kept this year than usual.

COMPLAINTS.—A large number of complaints have been sent in throughout the year, but in most cases the grievances have been rectified by a simple notice to the tenders. In a few cases proceedings were necessary, which, it is to be hoped, will have a salutary effect in the future.

WELL WATER.—I have analysed nearly a hundred specimens sent in during the present year, and found them of all degrees of impurity. The most frequent cause is a neglect to clean the wells in spring. Some persons have told me that their wells had not not been cleaned for two or fifteen years. It should be remembered that the by-law requires all well that are in use in the municipality to be cleaned out before the 1st day of July in each year.

MILK SUPPLY.—No complaints have been made as to impure milk being sold, and hence it may be assumed that our supply is above the average in quality.

INFECTIOUS DISEASES.—These have been grossly faithfully reported by medical men, there having been throughout the year 5 cases of diphtheria, 7 of scarlet fever and 3 of typhoid. I have loaned the Librarian of the Mechanics' Institute so that books might not be distributed to afflicted families, but it will be better to have some blanks printed for that purpose.

There is an important point to be attended to in connection with this. Should scarlet fever occur in a family who have at the time books from the Institute in the house, these may be sent back swarming with germs and spread the disease far and near. Some means will therefore have to be found of disinfecting the books in such cases.

NICHOLLS HOSPITAL.—Following are the statistics of infectious diseases in this institution during the year as kindly furnished by the Lady Superintendent. It should be mentioned that these are not always town cases. No deaths have occurred:—

Typhoid fever	5
Malarial fever	5
Scarlet fever	1
Measles	2
Diphtheria	3

SANITARY WORK.—The following is a synopsis of the work done by the Inspectors during the year:—

Yards examined	610
W. closets examined	523
Yards found in good condition	230
Yards ordered to be cleaned	430
Manure heaps and hog pens removed	75
Notices served, dirty yards and closets	155
Notices served, garbage and refuse	35
Slaughter house inspections	22
Dead animals buried	175
Summonses issued	6
Houses placarded	12

"That Miss Jones is a nice looking girl, isn't she?"

"Yes, and she'd be the belle of the town if it wasn't for one thing."

"What's that?"

"She has catarrh so bad it is unpleasant to be near her. She has tried a dozen things and nothing helps her. I am sorry, for I like her, but that doesn't make it any less disagreeable for one to be around her."

Now if she had used Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, there would have been nothing of the kind said, for it will cure catarrh every time.

A POETICAL TRIBUTE
—TO—
HONEST DEALING.

A grateful customer of Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co. has been moved to put into verse the following truthful tribute to the excellence of this firm's goods. Truth and poetry do not always go together, but in this case they go hand in hand. There is no exaggeration nor poetical license in the following lines:—

Last night I had a pleasant dream, and well I did enjoy it,
In sleep I met Parnassus' height, and awoke a full fledged poet:
I carried not to me nor debit, was quickly gained my pen
To tell in verse how cheaply we could clothe our fellowmen.
Our prices make the rich to smile, the poor with joy to sing,
We are learned from this household truth to knock the bottom out:
The man must strike some uneven notch, and about up from there
That understrike the clothing store of H. LeBrun & Co.

Our choice five dollar overcoats, our genial salesmen shown,
Will keep you warm as a pie in the wildest storm that blows.
No ground up rags, no shoddy stuff, no mill pressed glue and hair,
But every thread spun from the sheep—fine, choice, and made to wear.
You need not walk round shabby dressed, our prices must you convince,
Our seven dollar suits will dress you stylish as a prince.
For two and fifty we will clothe your boy from head to toe
Right in the City Clothing Store of H. LeBrun & Co.

Our line of ready-made is good, choice you will receive,
Examine, choose and purchase cloth; with us your order leave.
We guarantee to cut and stitch complete as you commend,
For style and finish every part here unsurpassed we stand.
Young men that wish a stylish suit, for concert, church or ball,
Will have their true wish gratified, by giving us a call.
Out walking, or in sitting room your girl will wish to know
If you had bought that pretty suit from H. LeBrun & Co.

Our expert cutter measures true and strikes each new design,
With skilful hand his shears play crack, round angle, curve or line.
Our tailor's work, neat, strong, complete, o'er all the hot goose steams,
Leaving no wrinkles in the back, nor puckers in the seams.
We don't believe in paper puffs that float off like a kite,
Our goods and prices come and test, as proofs of what we write.
No shoddy pressed, no ripping seams, air holes in two weeks show.
Cheapness and wear the motto is at H. LeBrun's & Co.

Before eighteen and eight-nine bids us a last adieu,
To all our patrons, rich and poor, thanks we return to you.
Fair honest dealing in the past upholds our business name,
And in the future, we resolve strict to pursue the same.
Come old and new friends, welcome come, Christmas is drawing nigh,
How you will smile to see how much a trifling sum will buy.
With pleasure we will suit your wants and salute you as you go.
With all the season's compliments, of H. LeBrun & Co.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS.

The United States Senate Committee Concludes Its Sitting at New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—The United States Senate Committee on Relations with Canada resumed its session to-day. The first witness was Ellis H. Roberts, sub-treasurer. He thought that, from the geographical position of the two countries, they must have rival interests. In his opinion, the interstate question was an important factor. Mr. Roberts thought that Yankee ingenuity would be greatly lacking if we surrendered our markets of 65,000,000 people to obtain in return that of 5,000,000. A reciprocity treaty with Canada would be entirely different from such a treaty with Mexico. Speaking of central and northern New York, the witness said the general feeling was greatly opposed to reciprocity. By a reciprocity treaty this country would give everything and naturally receive nothing in return. Mr. Roberts thought political union would come in due time.

Sylvanus Smith of Gloucester, Mass., owner of fishing vessels, was the next witness. He thought the general feeling or sentiment of the Canadian people along shore was harsh against the American fisherman, as might be inferred from the tyrannous acts of the Canadian customs officials. The latter, he thought, simply carried out the orders of their superior officers.

Charles H. Pew of Gloucester, a fishing vessel owner, said the average earnings of the fishermen annually were $300. They worked on shares. Witness said millions of pounds of fish were caught in British waters, frozen on board the vessels and brought into American ports free of duty because of their being frozen. Mr. Pew thought the fishermen might be easily formed into a naval reserve if the Government offered suitable inducements. Witness spoke of the annoying and vexatious action of the Canadian Government in the fishery matter.

R. E. Loveland, a lumber merchant of Saginaw, Mich., stated he had bought a large tract of forest land in the Dominion, as the rapid denuding of the forests of Michigan made such a step necessary for the preservation of his Michigan plant. The point was finally brought out that if better commercial relations were established with Canada and the export duty of Canada were reduced or taken entirely off of logs cut in the Dominion, he could float logs cut on his tract to his mills on the Saginaw to the detriment of other mill owners in the Saginaw Valley. Though not specially anxious for annexation, he would not object to it.

The other witnesses were Sylvester Cunningham, George Steele and Charles L. Woodbury of Gloucester, who described the state of the American fishermen and gave corroborative testimony to that given by Mr. Pew.

The committee then adjourned to meet in Washington.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Defeat of the Ballot Supporters in the Separate School Election.

TORONTO, Jan. 2.—New Year's day was the quietest here in many years, a heavy rain, which began an hour before noon and lasted until after nightfall, keeping the streets almost entirely deserted. The receptions of the Lieutenant-Governor, Mayor Clarke and Archbishop Walsh were well attended.

The Separate School Board elections were held yesterday, and resulted in the defeat of every candidate who favored the substitution of the ballot for open voting. P. Curran, the defeated candidate for St. James' ward, retired from the contest at 1 o'clock, and when the poll closed served a protest on account of alleged clerical interference and intimidation.

John Flanagan of Montreal, who was arrested Tuesday by Detective McGrath on a charge of embezzlement, was taken back last night by Detective Robinson of the Montreal force.

GAVE THE CHIEF THE SLIP.

An Owen Sounder. Held on a Serious Charge. Escapes From an Officer.

OWEN SOUND, Dec. 31.—George Sheehy, proprietor of the Grand Central Hotel here, was arrested a week ago on a charge of criminal assault on a young woman. He was before the Police Court this morning and committed to stand his trial at the Assizes. While Chief McAulay was taking him from the Police Court to the jail he asked permission to go into his hotel and have dinner. This was granted him. While inside he gave the chief the slip. Jumping into a rig waiting for him, he drove off in the direction of Meaford. Sheehey is described as being heavy built, with light curly hair, about 5 feet 9 inches in height, sandy complexion and about 27 years of age.

Stanley and his staff have started for Cairo. The Sultan of Zanzibar decorated him with the order of the Blazing Star of the first-class set in brilliants.

While running a threshing machine at Grace Hall, Md., Wm. Boiler, aged 83, was caught in the cogs and crushed to death.

Whooping cough, croup, sore throat, sudden colds, and lung troubles peculiar to children, are easily controlled by promptly administering Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. This remedy is safe to take, certain in its action, and adapted to all constitutions.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

WHILE working in a lumber camp a year ago I caught a severe cold which settled on my lungs, I got no relief until I tried Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, which cured me entirely. I highly recommend it.

Mothers!

Remember that Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or any other narcotic substance, in any quantity, shape or form. It is entirely vegetable, pleasant to take, positively effective and perfectly harmless. It is not a secret remedy; the formula is printed on the wrapper. Your physician will recommend it. Paregoric, Hahnemann's Drops, and many so-called soothing syrups are composed principally of opium or morphine; in any quantity they stupify, and in large quantities are deadly poisons. Castoria neutralizes the food and regulates the bowels, cures diarrhœa, allays feverishness and frettfulness, soothes the pain in teething, relieves constipation and kills worms. It brings refreshing and natural sleep to the child, and gives rest to the mother.

"Castoria is so well adapted to infants and children that I recommend it as superior to any other known remedy."

"From personal knowledge and observation I can say that Castoria is an excellent medicine for children, acting as a laxative and relieving the pent up bowels and general system very much. Many mothers have told me of its excellent effect upon their children."

The First Sign

Of failing health, whether in the form of Night Sweats and Nervousness, or in a sense of General Weariness and Loss of Appetite, should suggest the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation is most effective for giving tone and strength to the enfeebled system, promoting the digestion and assimilation of food, restoring the nervous forces to their normal condition, and for purifying, enriching, and vitalizing the blood.

Failing Health.

Ten years ago my health began to fail. I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and I am now as healthy and strong as ever.—Mrs. E. L. Williams, Alexandria, Minn.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, that it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. I have also prescribed it as a tonic, as well as an alterative, and must say that I honestly believe it to be the best blood medicine ever compounded.—W. F. Fowler, D. D. S., M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

Dyspepsia Cured.

It would be impossible for me to describe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians and tried a great many kinds of medicines, but never obtained more than temporary relief. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties more perfectly. To-day my health is completely restored.—Mary Harley, Springfield, Mass.

I have been greatly benefited by the prompt use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It tones and invigorates the system, regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, and vitalizes the blood. It is, without doubt, the most reliable blood purifier yet discovered.—H. D. Johnson, 383 Atlantic ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 3, 1890.

THE BONUS BY-LAW.

On Monday the legally qualified ratepayers will be required to pronounce on the by-law to grant a bonus of $6,000 to the Brooks Manufacturing Company. The company proposes to carry on an extensive manufacturing business in the premises of the Stove Works, which are purchased for its purposes. Extensive as these buildings are, they are only large enough for a beginning for the Carbon Company, and if the season were not so far advanced, additional buildings would be put up this year. The Brooks Manufacturing Company will manufacture hot water and hot air furnaces, carbons for electric lighting, and general electric supplies, and will employ a staff, at the beginning, of about eighty hands—adult workmen—but is certain that, after the works get well under way, this number will be increased, to one hundred men.

The company has gone to work in good faith, believing that they can rely on the town meeting them fairly. All the preliminary preparations are well in hand, and all that is now waited for, before beginning actual operations, is the verdict of the people on the bonus by-law. If the by-law is passed, the work of placing machinery and preparing for operations will be rapidly pushed on, so as to be completed by the first of February.

There is no doubt of the Carbon Company being a live concern. The Company is willing to invest largely, and carry on the work extensively, and they simply ask from the town, the moral and financial encouragement implied in a bonus of $6,000, to be paid over to the Company with ample security, on express conditions, and to be forfeited and repaid to the town in case these conditions are not complied with to the letter. The chief condition is that the Company employ at the least fifty hands, for ten months in each year for nine years. The probabilities are that the number of adult labourers employed, will be at least double the stipulated number, when the business is in full swing. The security is a first mortgage to the town on the buildings and machinery of the Company—$50,000 security—at the lowest estimate—on a payment of $6,000.

The six thousand to be paid over by the town, is spread over thirty years, so that the sum required to be raised annually by taxation for interest and sinking fund, will be only $350. Therefore a man who is assessed for $500 will have to pay an additional tax of 4½ cents a year or $1.35 in thirty years. A man assessed for $1,000, will have added to his taxes on account of the bonus, or in thirty years $2.70.

This additional payment will hardly be felt and the advantages derived from the carrying of the bonus will be the circulation of from $40,000 to $50,000, per year; for the pay roll of the Carbon Company, will amount to this sum, all of which will be spent in the town. This addition to the money circulating in town means, an average of $5 for every man, woman and child; not that each will receive this sum, but the distribution of so large an amount cannot fail to be of general benefit.

Everybody believes that the salvation of the town depends upon manufacturers. The more we get the more we thrive. Now that we have a chance to secure a manufactory which, when fairly started will be equal to any that we now possess, by the granting of the small bonus of $6000, amply secured, and forfeitable on the non-fulfilment of conditions, the people will be standing in their own light if they fail to endorse the by-law.

In Favour of the Bonus.

A Workingman to Workingmen.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Allow me, through the columns of your valuable paper to call the attention of my fellow workmen to the vote to be taken on Monday to give a bonus to the Brooks Manufacturing Company. I might say that I am opposed to bonuses on principle, but, when other towns give them, we shall have to do the same or we shall be left behind in the race.

I question very much if any class of our citizens feel a depression as quick as those engaged in the building trade. There has been a great falling off in the general building trade this summer. The bulk of the work has been confined to a few big jobs. To give a slight idea of this, we have had eleven of the members of our union away on travelling cards and there have been no strangers in town.

Now, this is not very encouraging, and I feel certain that if we do not get more manufacturing establishments in town we shall come to a sudden stop. It is all very well to talk of our fine water power and our splendid agricultural surroundings. These alone will not keep up our prosperity. We want more manufacturing industries in town, so that the town would be to a certain extent independent of outside help.

When the city of London (Ontario) recently gave a bonus of $25,000 to an establishment which employs a hundred hands, surely it is not a bad bargain for Peterborough to give $6,000 to an establishment that will employ fifty hands, with a prospect of this number being double of that.

A two-thirds vote is very hard to carry. There is a large class of workingmen favourable to the bonus, who, not being freeholders, have no vote.

Now, Sir, I say that we, who have votes, have a double duty to perform—to see that we cast our ballot that will benefit the working class at large, and I do appeal to my fellow-workingmen, to do all they can to carry the bonus on Monday.

I know, Sir, that this bonus business is hardly fair to the large manufacturing establishments in town, which have never looked for a bonus, but if it were possible for the council to exempt them from the increase which the bonus will cause, I would be in favour of it.

Yours Very Truly,
GEORGE REED,
President Bricklayers' Union.

"The Hope of Israel."

The Murray Street Baptist Sunday school will render the cantata, "The Hope of Israel," on Friday evening next, 3rd January, at 8 o'clock. A pleasant and profitable evening may be anticipated, as the school has been practising the cantata for some time past. Admission 15 cents. 3d151

S. O. E.

A special meeting of the members of Lansdowne Lodge, No. 25, S. O. E., will be held to-morrow (Saturday) evening in their hall at 8 o'clock, to arrange for the funeral of their late Bro. W. Gaskin, which takes place at 2 30 p. m. on Sunday, from his late residence near Auburn. Brethren of Peterborough Lodge and visiting brethren are invited to attend. 2d2

Rumour Contradicted.

It has been circulated that I have retired from the municipal contest in No. 3 Ward. I beg to deny this most emphatically, and to say that I shall be most grateful for the support of my friends in the ward; and to assure those who may honor me with their support, that my every effort, if elected, shall be for the furtherance of all measures conducive to the prosperity our town.

242 BENJAMIN SHORTLY.

Resolution of Condolence.

At a meeting of Jubilee Lodge of Prentice Boy's No. 7, the following resolution was adopted:—That we, the members of Jubilee Lodge No. 7, I. P. B., having heard of the death of the mother of Bro. F. Sherwood, hereby extend to our bereaved brother our heartfelt sympathy with him in his affliction, and an expression of our regret at the lamentable loss our brother has sustained in the death of his best earthly friend.

Native Wines.

I have in stock a few brands of the choicest quality of native wines, from the celebrated Pelee Island and Niagara vineyards, which will be found good value to those who wish a good, pure wine at moderate cost. Also one package of pure juice wine specially for sacramental purposes. Customers will also find choice brands of Madeira, Sherry and Port wines—all well matured at closest prices.

Legal Intelligence.

Those airy optimists who assure us that the world is growing better, are, to use the revised vernacular, evidently "talking through their tiles." Why, the litigation branch of the legal business is actually increasing! The number of cases entered in the County Court in 1889 was 76, as against 53 entered in 1888—an increase of 23. The number of cases entered in the High Court of Justice in 1889, was 150, as against 119 entered in 1888—an increase of 31. When there comes a depression in legal business, it will be high time to talk of the world growing better.

The Drama.

The "Dear Irish Boy" will be presented at Bradburn's opera house Friday evening, Jan. 3rd. Of this play and company the Chicago Globe says:—"'The Dear Irish Boy,' a new Irish drama received its first Chicago presentation at the Academy yesterday afternoon to a packed house, and opened the evening performance to standing room. The drama, as its name indicates, is of Irish extraction, and is the purest and best work of its kind we have ever seen. The portrayal of the peasantry characters of Celtic birth is finished and true to nature. Dan McCarthy, the author, as Teddy O'Neil, is the comedy part, and a more rollicking Irish lad was never seen. Mr. McCarthy sings and dances beautifully, besides he has the knack of convulsing an audience with his witty sayings and light repartee. Gus Reynolds as Mike McClatchey is the heavy part of the piece. The part, though a thankless one, has fallen to the lot of an artist in every sense of the word. Mr. Reynolds' six years' experience with Boucicault has made him a thorough artist and a credit to the profession. His characterization of this part is a great piece of acting." 1d

MURDER IS SUSPECTED!

All About a Havelock Horror.

The Body of an Aged Wife Found in a Swamp—Rumours of Foul Play—The Husband's Statements—The Coroner's Inquest—Public Opinion.

From Our Own Reporter.

This morning intelligence was received in town of a mysterious death in the vicinity of Havelock, the rumors pointing to the probability that a murder had been committed, the body of the wife of James Holbrook having been found in a swamp. Coroner Bell and County Attorney Wood was summoned to Havelock, and they accordingly proceeded to that village. A reporter of the EXAMINER was at once despatched to the scene, and the following telegram has been received:—

HAVELOCK, Jan. 3.—Havelock and vicinity are greatly excited over the apparently mysterious death of the wife of James Holbrook. It appears that for some time past rumours have been ripe of the alleged ill-treatment meted out by Holbrook to his wife, who, though a Justice of the Peace, is said to bear in the neighborhood. The Holbrook family live about two miles south of Havelock, in the 8th concession of Belmont. Holbrook is aged about seventy years and his wife was about sixty-three. There is a daughter, Mrs. Weese, living close by, and a son who keeps house by himself. Last night Dr. Bell of Peterborough, Coroner and County Crown Attorney, E. E. Wood were notified and came to Havelock, and to-day they are holding an inquest in Mathieson's hotel. The evidence taken shows that Mrs. Holbrook left her home on Tuesday, December 24th, while her husband was absent from home, he having left at eleven o'clock and not returning till four. Mrs. Holbrook had been talking of

AN UNSAVOURY REPUTATION

SPENDING CHRISTMAS DAY

at the house of a neighbour about two miles distant, Mr. Wm. Anderson, and the husband naturally supposed his wife was there. He appeared to think nothing unusual of her absence till the following Friday when Mrs. Weese, the daughter became exceedingly anxious and asked her father to make some effort to ascertain Mrs. Holbrook's whereabouts. She was not found at Anderson's nor any other house, and the search was continued till yesterday forenoon when lying alongside a log and near the line of the old Cobourg railway. The unfortunate woman appears to have died from exposure. The only indications of injury to be seen was a slight abrasion on one leg. The body was found by a party composed of Mr. Holbrook, John Maguire, Walter Smith and William Anderson. When found the body was dressed in ordinary clothing, the head and shoulders wrapped in a hood and shawl. At noon the coroner's inquest was in progress. Only three witnesses had been examined. Dr. Ford, of Norwood, made a post mortem examination in the ante-room of Mathieson's hall, where the body lies.

HER BODY WAS FOUND IN A SWAMP,

There were excited rumours of murder, but so far as the investigation has proceeded, the worst charge which can apparently be sustained is that of culpable neglect.

THE HUSBAND'S STATEMENT.

Holbrook is not under arrest. He frequents the room where the inquest is being held and watches the proceedings with close interest. He told the representative of the EXAMINER that the stories circulated about him were pure fabrications. He denied that, as charged, he abused his wife. He provided well for his household, and it could now be seen well supplied with provisions and wood. He asserted that the origination of the present inquest was the work of some malicious person who wished to injure him. He further stated that his late wife was sometimes unsteady in her mind, and at such times he was compelled to speak and act sharply, but that was the extent of the alleged ill treatment. His wife, he said, not long since, had tried to stab him, and she had burned half the clothing from her person. A careful inquiry from persons in the vicinity reveals the fact that Holbrook, who appeared at the inquest shabbily dressed, does not bear a very high character in the estimation of his neighbors, and there seems to be a majority in favor of giving credence to the charges of foul play in connection with the death of his wife.

Roster's Reception.

Invitations for the reception to be tendered to the officers and members of the congregation of St. John's by the new rector, on the evening of Jan. 13th, will be issued locally to-morrow. Individual invitations will be sent to the officers of the church elected by the vestry. A general invitation will be placed on the church door for the adult members of the congregation. The reception will be held in the Sons of England hall, next the post office on Hunter street. The hall has kindly been placed at the disposal of Rev. Rev. Mr. Davidson by the officials. The installation of officers of Peterborough Lodge, No. 64, which was to have taken place on the 13th has been anticipated and will take place on Monday evening, Jan 6th, in conjunction with Lansdowne Lodge.

MACFARLANE WILSON, IMPORTER—GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH.

Over Twelve Years Established.

A live and well established grocery and provision business for sale. R. H. Green, on account of continued ill-health, has decided to sell his entire stock of groceries, provisions, &c., en bloc, at a bargain, to a suitable purchaser. The goods are nearly all new, well assorted and bought at the lowest possible wholesale prices. The stock, furnishings, horse, rigging, &c., will amount to about twelve hundred dollars, but will be reduced considerably within the next few weeks (if I don't meet with a wholesale purchaser in the meantime), as I am now retailing them at a great sacrifice. Parties wanting good fresh groceries, provisions, &c., for the holiday season will find it to their advantage to call before buying elsewhere, as decided bargains will be given. The goods must be sold. R. H. GREEN, corner of Hunter and Aylmer streets, Peterborough. Dec. 3rd. w47tf

A Great Success.

The wonderful bargains and immense value given at the great sale of M. SULLIVAN & Co's has caused the great success of the sale. Hundreds of customers have come to "shop" and stayed to buy. The prices and goods were such as they could not resist. A splendid stock, kept well assorted, placed at figures which must sell the goods. A beautiful line of woven shawls form one of the latest and most attractive features. Don't neglect this great sale. If you do you will miss the biggest bargains ever presented in Peterborough. dw

Full Stock Xmas Goods.

Raisins, currants, finest imported peel kept in stock, figs, nuts, candies, in fact everything fresh and choice for the holiday's trade. LA GRIPPE IN CANADA.

THE INFLUENZA RAGING IN SEVERAL LEADING CITIES.

Halifax, Quebec, Ottawa and Toronto Visited by the Microbes—No Abatement of the Disease in Europe—The Epidemic in the States.

HALIFAX, Jan. 4.—A number of citizens complain of influenza, and there is no doubt that la grippe has struck Halifax in earnest.

QUEBEC, Jan. 4.—"La Grippe" is still prevailing in this city. Among the convalescent of the disease is Mr. John A. Ено. It has not yet appeared in its worst form, and doctors have no trouble in curing patients. It seldom lasts over three days.

OTTAWA, Jan. 4.—D. Ross, editor of The Journal, is rapidly recovering from an attack of something very like la grippe. A good number of citizens are down with the popular disease, including fourteen postoffice clerks, two carriers and several firemen. Those not affected feel out of the fashion.

TORONTO, Jan. 4.—There is an epidemic of sore throat, colds and influenza here. The banks, civic offices and other semi-public establishments number many victims among their employes.

The Epidemic in Europe.

THE HAGUE, Jan. 3.—The influenza is spreading throughout Holland. The Dutch Railway Company has been obliged to restrict transportation of freight owing to the crippled condition of its staff of employes.

VIENNA, Jan. 3.—The statistics of mortality in this city during the last week show an increase of 50 per cent. over the normal rate.

MILAN, Jan. 3.—The influenza is raging throughout northern Italy.

BERLIN, Jan. 3.—The influenza is very bad among the miners at Dortmund and the coal output is much reduced.

PARIS, Jan. 3.—The deaths here for Thursday were 693.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The Marquis of Salisbury attributes the occurrence of influenza at the Foreign Office to despatches received from Russia. In Paris the epidemic has begun in streets around the Russian Embassy and the doctors there have thought it came from the Embassy.

NICE, Jan. 3.—The doctors of the Riviera are overworked attending patients with influenza. Persons convalescent with pulmonary maladies are ready victims of epidemic.

In the States.

WELLSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 3.—Stephen Wilcoxon, a prominent traveling man for a canning firm of Utica, N.Y., who with his family had been spending the holidays at his father's in the northern end of this county died this afternoon of influenza. He had been suffering from a cold for a day or two. He suddenly took worse to-day and died in less an hour.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 3.—The Superintendent of the Board of Health states there are 3000 cases of la grippe in this city. Fifty letter carriers, 35 policemen and 30 firemen are on the list.

Cloquette's Close Call.

OTTAWA, Jan. 3.—A mishap occurred this morning in the Western Department Block which might have proved fatal had it not been promptly noticed. C. Cloquette was engaged in covering with tar the inside of a large cylindrical iron tank to be used for the storage of air for the new elevator. After he had been inside for some time a fellow-workman noticed that he was being overcome by the fumes of the tar and was sinking to the bottom. As the only means of entrance to the tank was through a small hole at one side about 18 inches in diameter, the task of getting him out was very difficult, and for a while it was feared he could not be got out alive. Fortunately his rescuers were successful.

The Northwest.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 4.—It is semi-officially announced that the Manitoba Legislature will be called to meet Jan. 30. A short session is anticipated.

Upwards of fifty cars of cotton for Japan and other points passed over the C.P.R. yesterday, having come through from Boston and other manufacturing centres.

A member of the Local Legislature in discussing the proposed school legislation stated that the Government has fully decided to abolish the separate school system as it exists at present, but that the matter of religious training would be left to local school boards to deal with.

Starving Newfoundlanders.

HALIFAX, Jan. 3.—The steamer Harlaw arrived to-night from the west coast of Newfoundland, and reports that while at Bonne's Bay a messenger arrived from Flower's Cove, Straits of Belle Isle, informing the Government that about 130 families were in a starving condition, and unless some relief reached them death would certainly occur from starvation. A steamer was despatched, but owing to ice failed to reach the destitute harbors. There is yet a possibility of reaching them via the west coast.

Insane Asylum Abuses.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Horrible charges against the Dupage County Asylum for the Insane are being fully investigated by the State Board of Charities. The evidence so far taken shows a loathsome state of affairs and unheard-of abuses. The cells, in which the inmates are confined are small, unventilated rooms, the floors covered with slime and filth. Patients are kept either entirely nude or covered with shreds and patches.

Escaped Trial by Suicide.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—Willis Gaylord, accused by Frederick A. Babcock of appropriating to his own use $30,000 committed to him for the purchase of railroad bonds, has committed suicide in the jail. He was found hanging to the grating of his window this morning. He was arrested in November last, and his case was to come up in court to-day.

Fatally Burnt.

GREENSBURG, Pa., Jan. 3.—A 7-year-old daughter of William Richardson, residing at Weaver's Stand, was fatally burned by the explosion of a lamp last night. A sister, aged 5, was seriously burned and may die. The lamp was upset by the girls. Mr. Richardson was ill with typhoid fever. In the excitement he jumped from bed and ran out of the house and is now dying.

A Pacific Steamer Disabled.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—A despatch from Bower's Landing on the coast north of this port states the steamer State of California, which is three days overdue here, was off that place this morning with her shaft broken. A tug has been sent to tow the steamer here. The accident happened Monday and since that the steamer has been proceeding under sail. All on board are safe.

Drank a Fortune.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 3.—William Hansel three years ago was worth $60,000; to-day he was sent to the workhouse, a pauper and hopeless drunkard.

A Big Mortgage.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 3.—A mortgage of $150,000,000 given by the the Santa Fe Railway, was filed for record here to-day. The mortgage will be filed in every state that the system passes through.

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 3.—A lunatic named William Grant, from Deseronto, is dying in the jail.

The vital statistics for the past year are: Births 218, marriages 82, deaths 80.

William Dumesnil pleaded guilty to attempted burglary and was sentenced to jail for three months.

The Maritime Exhibition.

BOSTON, Jan. 3.—The international maritime exhibition will close to-morrow. It has been attended by over 300,000 persons during the past two months. The exhibition has not been a financial success. This is the first exhibition of the kind ever held.

A Railroad Boycotted.

SHREVEPORT, La., Jan. 3.—The Board of Trade to-day decided to boycott the Texas and Pacific Railroad because of freight rate discriminations and to send and receive freight to and from New Orleans by steamers.

The Tie-up on the Mackay System.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 3.—The strikers on the Mackay system are still holding out. The company has been unable to secure the services of new men and no freight has been yet moved. The situation is growing graver.

Absorbed by the Cigaret Trust.

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 3.—It is said that Allen & Ginter, cigaret manufacturers, have been absorbed in the New Jersey cigaret trust which has a capital of $60,000,000.

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES

BATTLES FOUGHT IN CRETE AND IN FORMOSA.

Heavy Losses on All Sides—Prince Albert Victor Welcomed at Calcutta—Funeral of the ex-Empress of Brazil—Bradlaugh Sails From Bombay.

ATHENS, Jan. 3.—There has been a skirmish between Turks and Cretans, in which many were killed and wounded. Sixteen wounded Turks were brought to Canea.

Fighting in Formosa.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—Reports from Shanghai state that a Chinese force fought the natives near Eakow, in the island of Formosa, and 100 Chinese and 400 Formosans were killed.

Talmage at Istamboul.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 3.—A public reception was tendered Rev. Dr. T. De Witt Talmage of Brooklyn and Mrs. Talmage here to-day by United States Minister Hirsch. Among those present were Consul-General Sweeney, the members of the American College and many prominent visitors and residents of this city, including a large number of ladies.

The Dead Empress.

OPORTO, Jan. 3.—The remains of the ex-Empress of Brazil were removed to-day to the Lapa Church. The bier was covered with beautiful wreaths. An imposing cortège followed the body to the church. The mourners were all the members of the imperial family except Dom Pedro. The Duke of Oporto represented the Portuguese royal family. A deputation of Brazilians and foreigners resident in Brazil was present. Troops from the garrison formed a guard of honor.

In order to avoid the difficulty of choosing between the Brazilian flags of the empire and the republic the Portuguese flag was hoisted at the Lapa Church in the funeral ceremonies. The French consul absented himself, his Government apprehending that his presence would be considered in Brazil as offensive.

Prince Albert Victor at Calcutta.

CALCUTTA, Jan. 3.—Prince Albert Victor, eldest son of the Prince of Wales, arrived here to-day from Burmah. The Marquis of Lansdowne, Viceroy of India, met him at the pier and welcomed him to the city, after which they drove to Government House. The streets, which were profusely decorated, were crowded with natives, it being estimated that 100,000 of them gathered to see His Highness. The municipal authorities presented an address to the Prince.

All's Quiet on the Congo.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 3.—Despatches from the Congo Free State say that Governor-General Janssen has ascended the river Lomans and found it navigable as far as lat. 40 deg. 27 min, where large falls obstruct the further progress of boats. Affairs on the Upper Congo, the despatches say, are quiet and the people are prosperous.

Bradlaugh Sails From Bombay.

BOMBAY, Jan. 3.—Charles Bradlaugh, who has been visiting India for his health, sailed from this port for England to-day. Thousands of persons gathered to bid him adieu, and he parted amid an ovation.

An Influenza Victim.

MADRID, Jan. 3.—The body of Gavarre, the tenor, was to-day taken to the railway station en route for Foncal. There was an impressive and spontaneous demonstration of respects. Thousands of spectators waited on the line of the procession.

Consitaires Sued.

MONTREAL, Jan. 4.—The Federal Government is about to prosecute all the Crown censitaires of the Province of Quebec who are in arrears, and Sir John S. D. Thompson, through Messrs. Chapleau, Hall & Co., has taken the first two of a series of actions in the Superior Court against Noel Pinsonneault and Sollime Lanctot, farmers, of St. Constant, each for thirty years' rent. The lands which the censitaires occupy to-day belonged to the seigneurs of former days and when the seignorial rights were abolished the tithes which had previously been paid were commuted into rent. The lands in question in these suits were partially under the control of the Jesuit Order up till the conquest, when they reverted to the Crown as seigneur, and after the commutation the Government, it is alleged, demanded the rent from its censitaires. This rent, the Government now claims, has never been paid. Hence the action.

Fires of a Day.

PORT ARTHUR, Jan. 4.—Yesterday afternoon fire broke out in the store occupied by M. Fortune, grocer, and soon the entire row of stores was in flames. The suction of the fire engine, which was a new one and had not been tested, refused to work, and the buildings were soon in ashes. Those burned out are Fortune's grocery, Sullivan's butcher shop; Garland, Silcott & Co., clothing; Andrew's barber shop and A. Clavett, hardware. Loss over $10,000 insured. The plate glass fronts of buildings opposite were damaged to the extent of $1200.

BARRIE, Jan. 4.—The grocery and fruit store of Mrs. Thomas Martin, corner Dunlap and Mulcaster streets, was completely destroyed by fire at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. Insured for $1100 in the Ætna and National. The adjoining building was partly damaged. It is occupied by George Ellis, boots and shoes. Loss light; insured in the Waterloo Mutual.

Panama News.

PANAMA, Jan. 3.—A collision occured last evening at San Pablo on the Panama Railway. A special train, having on board A. L. Rives, the general superintendent of the road, ran into a freight train. The engineers of the two trains are believed to be mortally wounded. Mr. Rives and six other persons were injured more or less severely.

The commission of engineers appointed to investigate the condition of the Panama Canal have arrived here.

A Schooner Scorched.

PICTON, Jan. 3.—About 5.30 this evening fire was discovered issuing from the cabin of the schooner Persia, lying in winter quarters just outside the harbor, and before it could be subdued had done damage to the amount of $1000 or $1200, completely destroying the cabin and sails stored therein. Some men had been working on her during the day and had quit work about half an hour when the fire broke out.

Heavy Fine Paid in Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 4.—This state is undergoing a remarkable rainfall, the storm having been raging for three days. Travel on the railroads is virtually suspended. The Iron Mountain road from St. Louis south to this point is under water for miles and no trains have reached here for forty-eight hours.

Murdered for $10.

GREENVILLE, Miss., Jan. 3.—R. Dixon, too drunk to go home last night, accepted the assistance volunteered by two negroes. He was found dead this morning with evidence of foul play. He had $10 in his pocket when he started for home.

AMBITIOUS CITY NOTES.

Succumbed to His Injuries—Rumored Sale of Three Breweries—Hawkins' Case.

HAMILTON, Jan. 3.—Thomas Gaskell, the young man whose arm was so horribly mangled in a steam straw-cutter at Kilbride early this week, died on Thursday from exhaustion caused by excessive hemorrhage.

There was a rumor around town to-day that Lottridge's, Kuntz's and Gompf's breweries have been bought by an English syndicate for $150,000, $60,000 and $55,000 respectively. The truth of the rumor is denied by those who should know.

Frank Stevens, who lives on Locke street, reported to the police that his nephew stole a quantity of jewelry, a note for $170 and a rifle from his house some time yesterday. It is thought that the lad has skipped out.

The Police Commissioners to-day decided to pay Constable Hawkins, who shot and killed James Douglas some weeks ago, his salary to Jan. 1, and to adjourn further consideration of his case for three weeks.

Miss Annie Baxter, daughter of Charles Baxter, a farmer living in East Flamboro, about a mile north of Waterdown was found dead in bed yesterday morning. She had been suffering from lung disease and asthma.

AT THE CAPITAL

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY ARBITRATION.

Mr. Blake Opens His Argument for the Company—New Customs Regulations for British Columbia Ports—Mulholland's Sentence Commented.

OTTAWA, Jan. 3.—The C.P.R. arbitrators met again this morning. Mr. Osler, for the Government, filed a large number of accounts and other documents. Mr. Blake then opened the argument for the company. He took up the specifications for the original contract and showed that they had been deviated from. Instead of a good standard road with masonry work for bridges, retaining walls, etc., an inferior road had been built and timber very largely used. The commission adjourned at 5 o'clock until to-morrow.

The Customs Department has made these regulations with regard to the transfer in bond of Canadian goods from ports on Puget Sound by American steamers to ports in British Columbia. The Northern Pacific Railway must apply for the appointment of Canadian customs officers, to be stationed at such points west of Duluth and Minnesota as that railway may wish to break the Canadian seals at the transfer of Canadian goods from vessel to car or from car to car. It must also guarantee the payment of the official's traveling expenses and of his salary at the rate of $3 a day. If the officer's services are required before 8 a.m. or after 6 p.m. he will be entitled to 50 cents an hour in addition. The officers will be paid their salaries from Ottawa, and the railway will refund the amount to the department monthly. These regulations are almost identical with those enforced by the United States in similar cases.

The sentence of death passed upon Mc-Mahon, the Essex murderer, has been commuted to penal servitude for life.

The Government has received word that the proposed imperial cable from Bermuda to Halifax will be completed by the middle of June next.

What is Going On in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Jan. 3.—Mr. Van Horne has decided upon the plans for the new opera house to be erected in Vancouver, B.C., by the Canadian Pacific. The building will be a handsome one of brick with marble columns and trimmings. Mr. E. C. Hopkins, the well-known architect, leaves here early in the spring to superintend the work.

The old firm of Gillespie, Patterson & Co., has dissolved. James and George Gillespie have formed a partnership under the firm name of Gillespie & Co. and will continue the wholesale grocery business carried on by the late firm and Messrs. A. Patterson and R. McD Patterson have formed a co-partnership under the name of Patterson & Co. and will continue the general agency of the Phœnix Assurance Company heretofore held by Gillespie, Patterson & Co.

Mr. A. Rochon, who was unseated the other day in Ottawa County, intends to appeal to the Supreme Court against the judgment of the court below.

Voting was held to-day upon the bylaw authorizing the expenditure of $1,000,000 in harbor improvements and will be continued to-morrow. The interest excited has been extremely small, and the result was 955 for and 259 against.

The U.S. Wool Supply.

BOSTON, Jan. 3.—The Commercial Bulletin's telegraphic canvass of the wool supply in the United States shows a total supply in dealers' hands of 70,000,000 pounds domestic and 15,000,000 foreign, against 50,000,000 domestic and 17,000,000 foreign in 1888. The New York and Philadelphia stocks are less than last year, but Boston shows an increase of 1,000,000 pounds of domestic wool. The imports of clothing wool show a decline of nearly 75 per cent.

Drank But Not Drowned.

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 3.—A report reached the city yesterday that an Indian named Dan Kick, well-known in the city, had been drowned at Thames River. Kick, while loaded with fire water, jumped into a boat to reach the other side of the river, when the boat capsized and Kick disappeared. He was found on the bank next morning, having lain on the bank all night in a drunken stupor.

A Great Day For the Colored Gamesters.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 3.—A policy gig, 4—11—44, came out to-day in policy headquarters at Covington, Ky., for all the United States east of the Mississippi River. It is estimated that $30,000 was won in this city and $100,000 in the United States.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 3.—The negro contingent are having a high time to-night over big winnings in policy. Number 4-11-44 has enriched players in this city to the amount of $15,000.

Bad for Michigan Stockholders.

LANSING, Jan. 3.—A Supreme Court decision renders invalid the law under which corporations have been organizing for five years. This renders all members of corporations organized during the past five years liable as partners.

Took Poison.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Joseph Fried, the scenic painter and stage decorator, committed suicide this morning by taking poison in a room of the Morton House.

The Death Roll Numbers Eight.

DETROIT, Jan. 3.—The awful death roll of the Tilden School fire was augmented to-day by the deaths of Bessie Bamford and Lucy Renshaw.

INTERESTING ITEMS BY WIRE.

Gavarre, the tenor, who has just died in Madrid, left a fortune of $800,000.

A letter containing $90,000 has been stolen in transit between Vienna and Pesth.

Dom Pedro has received 800 telegrams expressing sympathy with him in his affliction.

Explorer Baumann will proceed in a short time to Zanzibar in the interest of a German company.

The International electric exhibition to be held at Frankfort, has been postponed until the spring of 1891.

The German Imperial Commission to hear appeals under the socialist law, has rescinded six sentences against newspapers.

The Glasgow iron market is excited. Scotch warrants have advanced to 66d, the highest price reached since the boom set in.

Consular reports say cholera has broken out in Hamadan, Persia. It is very fatal and it is feared it will reach Teheran in the spring.

The French despatch boat Bowvert, which went ashore near Zanzibar, has been floated. She lost her propeller and rudder and is leaking.

Slavin writes to the newspapers that he knows who brought the roughs to the fight in Belgium and that he will name them at the proper time.

The Spanish Ministry has resigned. Senor Segasta will attempt to form a new cabinet on a basis that will reconcile the various Liberal groups.

While King Humbert was returning from a hunting trip, he fell from his horse and was somewhat bruised. He remounted, however, and rode home.

A DOUBLE CRIME AT MONTREAL.

Thomas Williams Murders His Wife and Then Commits Suicide.

MONTREAL, Jan. 3.—Thomas Williams, a bricklayer, living at 145 Beain-street, murdered his wife early this morning by cutting her throat with a razor and then took his own life with the same weapon. It is believed that the tragedy took place about 4 o'clock and that the woman's throat was cut as she lay asleep in bed. There are five children, the youngest, only four months, old being found asleep in bed between the bloody bodies of its mother and father. Williams came to Montreal from Wales about five months ago. He had been subject to fits of mental derangement. The murdered woman, who was 38 years old, had been his wife for 12 years. An inquest was held and a verdict rendered in accordance with these facts.

Jimmy Absorn's Disappearance Explained.

ST. CATHARINES, Jan. 3.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of "Jimmy" Absorn, who for a great many years was an industrious working man employed on the Welland Railway, but who has of late years been subject to epileptic fits and mind affection, was solved this morning by the finding of his body in a wheatfield, a couple of miles from the city, near the Industrial Farm. It is supposed he wandered away and died in a fit.

To the Electors of
WARD No. 3:
Mr. Jas. Stevenson has occupied the position of Chairman of the Board of Education for a great many years, and a position on the Board for 25 years. I think it would be only reasonable that I should recognise his claims, by experience, for the position, and withdraw from the contest for Trustee, which I hereby do, and allow Mr. Stevenson to be elected.
Had any other man than the Chairman of the Board, of such lengthened services, been a candidate, I would have shown my condemnation of the dual representation system and have remained in the field. There are enough of men of ability in the town to warrant the abolition of dual representation.

Have you Neuralgia;
If you are suffering the agonies of neuralgia, and have failed to get a remedy that will afford relief, we want you to try Polson's Nerviline. No remedy in the market has given any thing like the same degree of satisfaction. Its action or nerve pain is simply marvellous, and as it is put up in 10 cent sample bottles no great expense is involved in giving it a trial. Polson's Nerviline is the most pleasant, powerful, and certain pain remedy in the world. Sold by all dealers in medicine, 10 and 25 c bottle. 6dw1

To the Public.
Our aim has been and will continue to be to give the consumer the highest grade of goods consistent with prices charged. We do not manufacture so-called cheap cigars; fine goods are our specialty. Purchasing only the best of tobaccos, irrespective of price, we are in a position to manufacture as fine a class of goods as can be obtained anywhere; Havana not excepted. Insist upon having our well known brands, "Cable," "El Padre" "Mongo," and "Madre E Hijo," and thereby obtain full value for your money. The immense sums expended in introducing our goods, the exceptionally fine quality of tobacco used in their manufacture, and the labor of nearly half a century should convince the most sceptical that the quality of same will not be allowed to deteriorate. mw

IMPORTANT!

Remarkable Restoration to Health of Well Known Canadians whose Cases were Given up as Incurable.

From the few of the hundreds of letters we have received from those who have been restored to health and strength by the use of that wonderful discovery, Paine's Celery Compound, we make a few extracts. We hope that the thousands of Canadian men and women who are suffering from nervous and wasting diseases, will profit by these true and plain statements of facts.

D. S. Davidson, of Montreal, suffered for years with nervous dyspepsia, pain in his back, and sleeplessness. He tried doctors without relief, was losing flesh rapidly, and had about given up hope when he commenced the use of Paine's Celery Compound. "Now," he says, "I am a new man. I sleep well and my food does not hurt me."

Mr. Jas. Johnson, 302 St. Charles Borromee Street, Montreal, was weak and nervous, had no appetite, and could not rest at night. His nerves were soothed and strengthened by Paine's Celery Compound, and he soon became well and strong.

Annie Gourley, of River Beaudette, P. Q., found the Compound a certain cure for weakness, and now feels as well as she ever did.

A customer of Harrison Bros., druggist, Hamilton, Ont., told them that he was entirely cured of nervous weakness by the use of two bottles of the Compound, after everything else has failed.

The little child of Mrs. G. E. Meredith, 76 D'Arcy St., Toronto, was cured of St. Vitus' Dance by Paine's Celery Compound.

In Favor of the Bonus.

Letters From Ratepayers Show That Pro "Bonus" Means "Pro Bono Publico."

To the Editor of the Examiner

DEAR SIR,—After an absence of a few months I am pleased to find that the newspapers of this flourishing town an all desirous of its advancement and all their differences are sunk in the one grand and wise effort to keep Peterborough up to the mark as being a centre of manufacture.

Gentlemen you are doing a patriotic and praiseworthy act. In my short absence I have seen car load after car load of machinery, made by the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company going over the Rocky Mountains, to supply the needs of British Columbia and the western shores of this continent. Down in the valleys of these same mountains, I have crossed the streams on the bridges made and erected by the Central Iron Bridge Company, of Peterborough. I have seen on the shelves of the storekeepers and on the doors of the dwelling houses and hotels of that far western country, and the intermediate places the locks made by the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company, and I have been congratulated by all grades of people as being a citizen of no enterprising a "City" —(for people out there can hardly realize that the place of so much importance to them, is only a town and not a large populous city.)

Men of capital and enterprise have questioned me closely as to our good town's capability of entertaining other projects of industries, and now, on my return, after seeing Peterborough advertised by her manufactured goods as far west as Canadian land extends, I find the citizens all united in getting another of those infants that grow to mammoth statue, located in our town, for I believe that this new industry, for which as small a bonus is to be voted for on Monday next, will grow to be another giant that we will all be proud of. The other industries I mention were small at first to what they are now.

Then let every man on Monday, sinking all minor matters, unite and give the encouragement needed to establish in our midst the Brooks Manufacturing Company. It will be an incentive for other men of means to form companies and come among us.

There is no denying the fact that where the work is done the operative must live and he and his family be housed and fed. When he (the new man) will help to build up our town into a city, and likewise encourage other industries to come here and dwell among us.

Yours truly,
TOM CROLY.

Peterborough, Jan. 3, 1890.

Another Voice in Behalf of the By-law.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

SIR,—I wish to speak a few words in favor of the Brooks Manufacturing Company, and give reasons why we should on Monday next vote for the proposed bonus to the said corporation.

As we know, the gradual decrease in the lumbering trade has created the necessity for new industries to take the place of that which formerly gave employment to numbers of our citizens, and was therefore a source of steady and reliable revenue for our town. We can no longer depend upon our farming community to support us, as we have now too great a population to be dependent upon even the richest agricultural neighborhood, and we must therefore look to manufacturing companies to supply the want. The establishment thereto of such an industry as the above, which will give employment to at least fifty workingmen and leave five hundred or a thousand dollars to be expended weekly among our merchants, is something that is of direct pecuniary interest to us, and when we consider that it means only nine cents out of every thousand dollars of taxable property, surely we can afford to give little that we may get much.

Mr. Brooks has already proven himself to be too good an employer to require any praise from me, and any enterprise in which he may be engaged is likely to prove a success when his past record is taken into consideration. In fact, houses of my own now occupied by employees of Mr. Brooks, would be tenantless were it not for the Lock Works, so that I have received direct proof that it is a wise policy to do as I now in conclusion recommend one and all to do, namely, vote for the bonus in favor of the Carbon Company.

Thanking you for the space given in your valuable paper.

WM. KERNS.

A Ratepayer Opposes It.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR.—Would you be kind enough to allow me space in your valuable paper to state that the council is very anxious to have the people of Peterborough to vote for the Brooks Manufacturing Company bonus, because they are all in a position to derive some benefit by it. But they don't feel it their duty to make it a benefit to the workingmen. They say it is not probable that the workingmen employed will all be brought to town, but if they had taken any interest in the workingmen of Peterborough, they might have arranged with the Company to employ a certain number of Peterborough men—say out of 50 employes, they might have employed 40 Peterborough men. But I don't feel inclined to vote a bonus and be taxed to bring workingmen from other parts to take the bread out of my house and increase the value of what I now have to furnish, without any employment. If the council procure work for the 100 unemployed workmen of Peterborough, these would also purchase as much dry goods etc., as your origin men would.

Yours Respectfully,
RATEPAYER.

The Montreal Witness is offering great inducements to its subscribers this year, in the way of books and pictures, comprising 126 different offers, including Macaulay's and Hume's Histories of England, Dickens', Walter Scott's Works, George Eliot, Cooper, Thackeray, and Washington Irving's, handsomely bound in cots; also Pansy and other leading books. The pictures are:—"The Horse Fair," "The Angelus," "Christ before Pilate," "A Scottish Raid," all celebrated pictures of the day. The Witness enters on its forty-fifth year, and continues to be the favorite family newspaper and champion of temperance and moral reform. Its County Historical Story Competition, which every school boy has heard about, and which has created so much interest in the Dominion, is being continued this year, prizes of great value being offered. The premiums are extended to the subscribers of the Daily Witness and the Northern Messenger, so that all will have an opportunity to secure them. The prices of the different publications are: Daily Witness, $3.00; Weekly Witness, $1.00; Northern Messenger, 30 cents.

"That Miss Jones is a nice looking girl, isn't she?"

"Yes, and she'd be the belle of the town if it wasn't for one thing."

"What's that?"

"She has catarrh so bad it is unpleasant to be near her. She has tried a dozen things and nothing helps her. I am sorry, for I like her, but that doesn't make it any less disagreeable for one to be around her."

Now if she had used Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, there would have been nothing of the kind said, for it will cure catarrh every time.

Cured by Cuticura.

Our eldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant, skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little sufferer's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid mass, ugly, painful, blistered, and scabby. We had no rest or sleep, no peace by day. Finally we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion, your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease has ever occurred.

Boy Covered with Sores.

My boy, aged nine years, has been troubled all his life with a very bad humor, which appeared all over his body in small red blotches, with a dry white scab on them. Last year he was worse than ever, being covered with scabs from the top of his head to his feet, and constantly growing worse, although he had been treated by two physicians. As a last resort, I determined to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and am happy to say they did all that I could wish. Using them according to directions, the humor rapidly disappeared, leaving the skin fair and smooth, and performing a thorough cure. The CUTICURA REMEDIES are all you claim for them. They are worth their weight in gold.

COLD IN HEAD CATARRH THE 4 STAGES CONSUMPTION DEATH.

There is positive danger to health and life in neglecting a case of Cold in the Head or Catarrh, and at this season with its changeable weather, unusual moisture and sudden changes from heat to cold, there is peculiar liability to cold in the head. A neglected case of Cold in the Head rapidly developes into Catarrh, and neglected Catarrh just as certainly developes into Consumption and leads to premature Death. Medical testimony proves conclusively that a large percentage of all the deaths occurring from Consumption had their origin in a neglected Cold, which, by gradual steps, developed into Catarrh, and then into Consumption, that dread disease [illegible] is as yet unable to cope successfully. If you are suffering from Cold [illegible] of the numerous symptoms of Catarrh, such as bad breath, dull [illegible] down the head into the throat, hawking and spiting, copious discharges from the nostrils, [illegible] of smell, or taste becoming dull, hacking cough, [illegible] general feeling of debility, [illegible] wheezing or cracking sound in your chest, when breathing, a feeling of dizziness, particularly when stooping, a feeling of tiredness and indisposition to exertion, a feeling of nausea in the morning when attempting to dislodge accumulations in the throat. Do not neglect them. [illegible] are but a few of the many symptoms of Catarrh, and if you experience any, BE WARNED IN TIME. Do not permit them to run [illegible] under the mistaken impression that the disease will [illegible] eventually wear away. It will not, [illegible] the contrary will wear you away as it has thousands before. Procure at once a bottle of NASAL BALM, the only certain and speedy cure [illegible] offered the public for Cold in the Head and Catarrh. Think not this idle assertion, but an unpaid [illegible] the fact, which is verified by [illegible] thousands of testimonials in our possession telling of many [illegible] cures. These testimonials [illegible] we have received from all parts of the Dominion, and we append a few, selected at random as a fair sample of the whole:—

Mr. Alex. Burns, of Sudbury, Ont., says:—Gents, I may state that I have been afflicted with Catarrh for seven or eight years, and was also troubled with consequent headache, such as foul breath, constant dropping in the throat, hawking and spitting, partial deafness, ringing in the ears, and sickening pain in head directly over either eye. I have used powders and douches, but all to no effect. The only result arising from the use of such was temporary relief, followed by the usual symptoms in a more aggravated form. The results arising from the use of Nasal Balm are sweet breath, stoppage of the droppings into the throat consequently less hawking and spitting, clearness of hearing, and not once since I have used it have I had pain in the head. [illegible] is my opinion that I am cured, and I [illegible] of the "Balm" will effect a cure in the worst case of catarrh.

James H. McLean, Mink River Road, N.S., says:—I have tried other remedies for Catarrh, but received little [illegible] good from them. Your NASAL BALM the [illegible] certainly is the BEST REMEDY I have tried, and all you claim for it. The fact that it is [illegible] and convenient to use adds greatly to [illegible] but its chief worth lies in being a [illegible] CURE for that unpleasant disease.—

W. Chas. Hanley, postmaster, [illegible], says:—I submit the following to [illegible] that any who may be afflicted may [illegible] fitted by the above remedy. Two bottles of your NASAL BALM has RESTORED to PERFECT HEALTH a four year old child of ours, suffering from Catarrh.

Henrietta Shackwell, Parker, Ont., says:—Your NASAL BALM is the BEST REMEDY I have yet used for Catarrh. I can breathe more freely than before and my breath is now sweet as its sweetness. I consider NASAL BALM a boon to the suffering.

Miss Maggie M. Martin, [illegible], says:—Through a friend in Canada I became acquainted with your NASAL BALM. I have suffered for years with Catarrh and find it is the first remedy from which I have experienced relief, and I feel certain it will cure me.

Miss Minnie McNairn, Millbrooke, Ont., says:—Your bottle of NASAL BALM did me much good. The [illegible] disappeared before I had used [illegible] and I find myself receiving the greatest benefit. I am certain NASAL BALM will cure my Catarrh if its use is persevered in.

Mr. John [illegible], Brantford, Ont., says:—[illegible] found it to be a CERTAIN CURE for

[illegible] Doyle, Beulah, [illegible] writes:—As a family medicine to check [illegible] Catarrhal affections and Cold in the Head, NASAL BALM HAS NO EQUAL. We prize it h[illegible]

Mr. A. Schlaedig, [illegible], says:—For a number of years my [illegible] has been badly troubled with Catarrh. Dr. [illegible] here promised to cure her [illegible] after using his remedy for six months [illegible] became worse and weaker than before. I found that I had spent $30 for [illegible] treatment that did no good. Mr. [illegible] began to use your NASAL BALM, and [illegible] improved wonderfully, and she is now stronger than for years. Your [illegible] is the best in the market and you can use this as testimony.

Emilie Pelletier, Granville, says:—I can scarcely find words to tell you how highly I prize NASAL BALM. Its effects in my case have been wonderful.

Alpha H. Daley, Tarbert, Ont., writes:—Your NASAL BALM has made a new man of me. I have never used a remedy so satisfactory.

A CAUTION:—Beware of imitations. If your dealer has not NASAL BALM in stock do not let him persuade you to take any other remedy which he may say is just as good, but send direct to the undersigned and it will be sent you on receipt of price—50 cents and $1.00 a bottle.

FULFORD & CO., Brockville, Ont.

Coughs, Colds, Croup.

Allen's Lung Balsam was introduced to the public after its merits for the positive cure of such diseases had been fully tested. It excites expectoration and causes the Lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; changes the secretions and purifies the blood; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours' time, if not of too long standing. It contains no opium in any form, and is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child. There is no real necessity for so many deaths by consumption when Allen's Lung Balsam will prevent it if only taken in time. For Consumption, and all diseases that lead to it, such as Coughs, neglected Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and all diseases of the Lungs, ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is the Great Modern Remedy. For Croup and Whooping Cough it is almost a specific. It is an old standard remedy, and sold universally at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. The 25-cent bottles are put out to answer the constant call for a Good and Low-Priced COUGH CURE. If you have not tried the Balsam, call for a 25-cent bottle to test it.

PLUMS FOR THE XMAS PUDDING!

What's Nuts for the Buyers is Fun for Us.

12 DAYS OF SACRIFICE

From now until after Christmas we intend to let everything go! Our great $40,000 Sale, at 50 cents on the dollar, was a great success—in fact, away beyond our most sanguine expectations. Notwithstanding the great business done, there is yet about 1300 Overcoats, and 1900 Suits, and nearly 10,000 pairs of Boots to close out. To convert this into money, we have organized a Grand Sacrifice Sale of our whole stock, for 12 days, and will sell every article in our two big stores at ten per cent advance on cost. Taking into consideration that the goods were bought at 50 cents on the dollar, the reader can readily see that this sacrifice means a saving to the buyer of nearly one hundred per cent; or, in other words, WE PURPOSE FOR TWELVE DAYS GIVING GOLD DOLLARS FOR FIFTY CENT PIECES.

PLUMS FOR THE PUDDING:

$2.95 will buy a Man's All Wool Etoffe Overcoat.
$3.90 will buy a Man's Tweed Overcoat, lined with Heavy Sarge, trimmed with Velvet Collar
$5.00 is our sale price, for Twelve Days only, for a Fine Worsted Overcoat.
$9.00 gives you your choice for all $15.00, $16.00 and $18.00 Overcoats.

BOYS' and CHILDREN'S CLOTHING—Mothers should see the value we are showing.
HATS and CAPS—Cheap. SHIRTS and SILK HANDKERCHIEFS away down.
ELEVEN CENTS BUYS A MAN'S SHIRT OR DRAWERS.
BOOTS AND SHOES—Men's Overshoes starting at $1.00.
Men's Good Felt Boots starting at $1.25. Ladies' Boots from 89c up

Don't these prices taste like Plums for the Xmas Pudding. Hurrah! for the Kings of Low Prices,

THE PULSE OF TRADE.

Bradstreet's Review of the Week's Business —Stocks of Grain in Store.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Special telegram to Bradstreet's report a continuation of a moderate volume of general trade throughout the country. The mild weather is largely responsible for this, having marked effect upon sales of coal, woolen goods and other seasonable staples. Throughout some of the Western States it is reported that low prices of farm products are counterbalanced in part by large yields of wheat and corn and the excellent condition of live stock. Farmers in those regions are said to have large quantities of stock to sell. But in the southwest and on the Pacific coast rains, succeeding dry weather in the southwest, cause uneasiness among country merchants as to large stocks of winter goods remaining unsold. Most varieties of hog products are stronger on a better demand at home and abroad. Pork is in fair request and dressed hogs are 3-16c. higher.

The New York stock market is firmer on easier money yesterday and the probability of more seasonable weather during the remainder of the winter, pointing to a better trade in coal and other staples. Money has been erratic, having twice touched 40 per cent. per annum on call, owing to a natural stringency at this time, aided by manipulation. Loans left off at 3 per cent. last evening. Sterling exchange has been weaker, and London would have shipped gold to New York, had not the Bank of England advanced the discount rate from 5 to 6 per cent., owing, to the low state of its reserves. Bank clearings at 37 cities for 1889 aggregate $55,724,560,241, as reported to Bradstreet's, 18¼ per cent. more than last year and 9 per cent. over 1887. Only six cities show decreases, as compared with 1888 or 1887.

Exports of wheat and of flour as wheat, from both coasts of the United States this week aggregate 1,898,054 bushels, against 2,251,634 bushels last week and 1,086,869 bushels in the like week of 1888-89, showing a total from July 1, 1889, to date of 54,345,310 bushels, as compared with 53,800,000 bushels in a like period one year ago and with 76,000,-000 bushels two years ago. Stocks of wheat at nearly 1000 points of accumulation in the United States and Canada east of the Rocky Mountains on Dec. 28, as reported to Bradstreet's, aggregated 54,297,176 bushels, a total not differing materially from that reported one month previously when it was 54,455,455 bushels. One year ago like stocks reported to this journal amounted to 52,740,403 bushels. Stocks of Indian corn at like points aggregated 18,447,400 bushels last Saturday, against 9,456,959 bushels a month ago and 13,180,879 bushels one year ago. Stocks of oats increased only moderately during December, 1889. Stocks of wheat flour last Saturday were 1,657,676 barrels, against 1,606,094 one month ago and 2,102 143 barrels one year ago.

Dun-Wyman's Report of Failures.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—The failures in 1889 numbered 10,882 in the United States and 1777 in Canada. In 1888 the failures were 10,679 in the United States and 1677 in Canada. The aggregate of liabilities was $148,784,337 in the United States against $123,829,975 in 1888, and $14,713,938 in Canada against $14,081,109. But the average of liabilities for each firm failing was lower in Canada, $8579 last year, against $8396 in 1888 and the increase in the United States if an unfavorable indication was still not enough to denote an unhealthy state of commercial credits, for the average in 1887 was but $13,679 against $11,569 in 1888, $17,392 in 1887 and $20,639 in 1886. The failures during the last seven days numbered for the United States 201 and for Canada 31 or a total of 232 against 226 last week and 242 the week previous to the last. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 227, representing 357 in the United States and 28 in Canada.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Notes From The Ontario Gazette—Committed on a Serious Charge.

TORONTO, Jan. 4.—C. L. Mason, Toronto, has been appointed notary public, and Thomas Woodyatt, Brantford, a police magistrate.

These companies have been incorporated: Brown-Whiting Shoe Company, Berlin, (limited), capital $30,000; Good Templars' Fairy Lake Camp Association (limited), capital $3000; Toronto Flats and Power Company (limited), capital $175,000.

Principal MacGregor of McMaster University, after mature deliberation, decided to enter a New York hospital for a time in order to secure the best professional advice and treatment. He accordingly was accompanied thither by Rev. Dr. Newman.

James Boyle, a farm-laborer in the township of Vaughan, has been committed for trial for a criminal assault on his master's wife.

The indication are that McMillan will give Clarke a close rub in the Mayoralty contest and it is not at all improbable that His Worship may be given a chance to devote his time to the concerns of the Ontario Assembly.

Whooping cough, croup, sore throat, sudden colds, and lung troubles peculiar to children, are easily controlled by promptly administering Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. This remedy is safe to take, certain in its action, and adapted to all constitutions.

Life in a Lumber Camp.

WHILE working in a lumber camp a year ago I caught a severe cold which settled on my lungs, I got no relief until I tried Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, which cured me entirely. I highly recommend it.

Valuable to Know.

CONSUMPTION may be more easily prevented than cured. The irritating and harassing cough will be greatly relieved by the use Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, that cures coughs, colds, bronchitis and pulmonary troubles. 2w51d

Mothers!

Remember that Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or any other narcotic substance, in any quantity, shape or form. It is entirely vegetable, pleasant to take, positively effective and perfectly harmless. It is not a secret remedy; the formula is printed on the wrapper. Your physician will recommend it. Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, and many so-called soothing syrups are composed principally of opium or morphine; in any quantity they stupify, and in large quantities are deadly poisons. Castoria assimilates the food and regulates the bowels, cures diarrhœa, allays feverishness and fretfulness, soothes the pain in teething, relieves constipation and kills worms. It brings refreshing and natural sleep to the child, and gives rest to the mother.

"Castoria is so well adapted to infants and children that I recommend it as superior to any other known remedy."
DR. H. A. ARCHER,
111 S. Oxford st., Brooklyn, N.Y.
March 8, 1887.

"From personal knowledge and observation I can say that Castoria is an excellent medicine for children, acting as a laxative and relieving the pent up bowels and general system very much. Many mothers have told me of its excellent effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD.
Lowell, Mass. 4w51d

Wild Cherry Bark, Hoarhound and Senega. These are the remedies with which Dame Nature has supplied Canada for the cure of Colds, Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Loss of Voice. All these are contained in Wilson's Wild Cherry in their most active form, and with other medicines constitute this most reliable cure for all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs. Wilson's Wild Cherry is sold by all druggists. dw

Make no Delay!

IS a perfect cure for croup and colds, and I can recommend Hagyard's Yellow Oil—one bottle of which cured me of a very bad cold. I would say to all sufferers, make no delay in using it as it gives quick relief.

A New Element

MUST be infused into the blood of the weak and debilitated, who suffer from disease of the stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys or blood. This revitalizing constituent is supplied by Burdock Blood Bitters which repairs waste, drives out all impurities and restores health to the entire system. 2w52d

Death Dealing Drugs.

SUCH as Calomel, Morphine, etc., are remedies better left alone. They often weaken even strong constitutions. This Burdock Blood Bitters never does, it contains no mineral or other poison, and cures all diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood by unlocking the secretions and removing all impurities. 2w52d

COLD, wet weather is very hard on sufferers from Neuralgia troubles, and to to those Dyer's Quinine and Iron Wine is strongly recommended, It is palatable, easily assimilated, and can be safely taken by the weakest invalid. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6d1

TO THE DEAF.—A person cured of deafness and noises in the head of 23 years' standing by a simple remedy, will send a description of it FREE to any person who applies to NICHOLSON, 30 St. John st., Montreal. dw

ALL DISORDERS CAUSED by a bilious state of the system can be cured by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. No pain griping or discomfort attending their use. Try them. dw

TO INVIGORATE both the body and the brain, use the reliable tonic, Milburn's Aromatic Quinine Wine. dw

NATIONAL PILLS are mild purgative, acting on the Stomach, Liver and bowels, removing all obstructions. dw

The First Sign

Of failing health, whether in the form of Night Sweats and Nervousness, or in a sense of General Weariness and Loss of Appetite, should suggest the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation is most effective for giving tone and strength to the enfeebled system, promoting the digestion and assimilation of food, restoring the nervous forces to their normal condition, and for purifying, enriching, and vitalizing the blood.

Failing Health.

Ten years ago my health began to fail. I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and I am now as healthy and strong as ever.—Mrs. E. L. Williams, Alexandria, Minn.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, that it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. I have also prescribed it as a tonic, as well as an alterative, and must say that I honestly believe it to be the best blood medicine ever compounded.—W. F. Fowler, D. D. S., M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

Dyspepsia Cured.

It would be impossible for me to describe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians and tried a great many kinds of medicines, but never obtained more than temporary relief. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties more perfectly. To-day my health is completely restored.—Mary Harley, Springfield, Mass.

I have been greatly benefited by the prompt use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It tones and invigorates the system, regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, and vitalizes the blood. It is, without doubt, the most reliable blood purifier yet discovered.—H. D. Johnson, 363 Atlantic ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

A PORTICAL TRIBUTE

—TO—

HONEST DEALING.

A practical customer of Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co. has been moved to put into verse the following truthful tribute to the excellence of this firm's goods. Truth and poetry do not always go together, but in this case they go hand in hand. There is no extinguisher nor poetical license in the following lines:—

Last night I had a pleasant dream, and well I did enjoy it,
In sleep I scaled Parnassus' height, and awoke a full fledged poet;
I turned not to eat nor drink, but quickly grasped my pen
To tell in verse how cheaply we could clothe our fellowmen.
Our prices make the pish to smile, the poor wish joy to shout,
We are received from this benefaction to knock the bottom out;
The men must smile some unseen notch, and shout up from below
That undersells the clothing store of H. LeBrun & Co.

Our choice five dollar overcoats, our genial comforters above,
Will keep you warm as a pie in the wildest storm that blows.
No ground up rags, no shoddy stuff, no mill pressed glue and hair,
But every thread spun from the sheep—fine, cheap, and made to wear.
You need not walk around shabby dressed, our prices must you convince,
Our seven dollar suits will dress you stylish as a prince.
For two and-fifty we will clothe your boy from head to toe
Right in the City Clothing Store of H. LeBrun & Co.

Our line of ready-made is good, choices you will receive,
Examine, choose and purchase cloth; with us your order leave.
We guarantee to cut and stitch complete as you command,
For style and finish every part here unsurpassed westward.
Young men that wish a stylish suit, for concert, church or ball,
Will have their true wish gratified, by giving us a call.
Out walking, or in sitting room your girl will wish to know
If you had bought that pretty suit from H. LeBrun & Co.

Our expert cutter measures true and strikes each new design,
With skilful hand his shears play crack, round angle, curve or line,
Our tailor's work neat, strong, complete, o'er all the hot goose steams,
Leaving no wrinkles in the back, nor puckers in the seams.
We don't believe in paper puffs that float off like a kite,
Our goods and prices come and test, as proofs of what we write.
No shoddy pressed, no ripping seams, air holes in two weeks show.
Cheapness and wear the motto is at H. LeBrun's & Co.

Before eighteen and eight-nine bids us a last adieu,
To all our patrons, rich and poor, thanks we return to you.
Fair honest dealing in the past upholds our business name,
And in the future, we resolve strict to pursue the same.
Come old and new friends, welcome come, Christmas is drawing nigh,
How you will smile to see how much a trifling sum will buy.
With pleasure we will suit your wants and salute you as you go,
With all the season's compliments, of H. LeBrun & Co.

The Nora Clench Concert.

Of this gifted artiste the poetical editor of the Hamilton Spectator says:—

Even as a babe her budding soul was beat
To spread its call on music's golden sea;
With tiny bow, from tiny viol, she
Drew sounds that brought her joy and wonderment:
And then soon a glorious vision came and leant
A hoyden ear, saying, "Nora, love thou me
For I am Art and have been sent to thee
To fill thy heart with high and pure intent."
The years have passed, and now a child no more,
A strong and calm-brow'd Artist she has grown
Communer with the mighty souls that soar,
She teaches us what they to her make known,
Yet she remains just what she was of yore—
A gentle, sweet-souled girl—one of our own!

The Ladies' Reception.

Last night at the Y.M.C.A. rooms the customary order of things were reversed, and the ladies, usually the entertainers, were tendered a reception by the young men. All the lady friends of the Association were invited, and upwards of a hundred attended. The boys received the ladies in right royal style. Two long tables were spread with meats, salads, pastry, etc., and elaborately decorated with flowers and silver. Supper was served from eight to nine o'clock, after which an impromptu programme was rendered, consisting of songs and music by the glee club and band, a reading by Mr. Rowse, etc. Before leaving the table the health of Mrs. Griffin, President of the Ladies' Auxiliary, and that of Mr. G. M. Roger, President of the Association, was drunk to. Mr. Griffin on behalf of the ladies, returned thanks to the young men for the reception, which had been a most gratifying success.

A Ratepayer Speaks.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—It is gratifying to notice that the feeling among all classes of the citizens is so unanimous in favor of the by-law to be voted on on Monday next. It is admitted on all hands that in order that our hitherto steady growth and progress may continue, we must encourage manufacturers to locate with us. With this end in view the council has for the past two years endeavored to attract the attention of manufacturers to our town; but with indifferent success, although they (the council) have spent more time and energy in that direction than the general public is aware of. On Monday we shall have an opportunity of proving our sincerity in this matter. We have the opportunity presented to us of securing a new industry that is morally certain to succeed under the proposed management, one too, that will be a splendid advertisement for Peterborough throughout the Dominion, wherever the Electric Light shall be used—and that means everywhere in the near future—and we can secure this for nothing. It is true we are asked to give a bonus of $6000, when certain conditions shall be complied with by the Co., of the small amount of $350 per annum for some years, but does anyone suppose for a moment that this industry will not add more than sufficient to the present assessment to pay this sum ten times over. In addition to this we shall have an increase to our population, a large amount of money expended weekly in town, and opportunities presented to all classes of workmen of securing employment, not only in this factory itself, but in the erection of buildings and the various other employments contingent on the addition of such an industry.

This, too, will bring others, just as the Lock Works has led to bringing this. For my part, Mr. Editor, I would consider the defeat of the by-law a calamity to the town, as it would mean that we do not want manufacturers here and that all we have said in the past to encourage them was mere buncombe. But I do not anticipate such a result. I am satisfied that the people want manufacturers and that they are willing to give them reasonable encouragement.

I am satisfied that in this case we are getting a good thing cheap—or rather for nothing, and it behoves everyone who desires to see our town prosper to turn out Monday and see that the By-law is carried. Remember that remaining at home means voting against it.

I am, Mr. Editor, yours truly,
AN OLD RATEPAYER.

January 4th, 1890.

Separate School Board.

The inaugural meeting of the Separate School Board was held on Thursday evening, the 2nd January, 1890. All the trustees present, viz.,—Messrs. C. J. Leonard, E. Archambeault, C. Halpin, P. McNamara, J. J. Lynch, J. McGrath and F. Brennan.

The Secretary, Mr. John Corkery, took the chair, and stated the new members had filed the necessary declarations. He then asked the members to elect a chairman for the year 1890.

Moved by Mr. McNamara, seconded by Mr. Halpin, that Mr. C. J. Leonard be Chairman. There being no other nomination Mr. Leonard was unanimously elected. On taking his seat Mr. Leonard thanked the members for their appointment.

On motion of Mr. McGrath, seconded by Mr Halpin, Mr. John Corkery was re-elected Secretary Treasurer.

The Rev. P. Rudkins was re-appointed Local Superintendent on motion of Mr. McNamara, seconded by Mr. Halpin.

Mr. Halpin moved and Mr. McNamara seconded a resolution appointing Messrs. Thos. Cahill and John McGrath as auditors. —Carried.

THE COMMITTEES.

Messrs. Leonard, McGrath and Halpin were named a select Committee to strike standing Committees.

The Board took recess for five minutes—on re-assembling, the following report was submitted.

FINANCE—Messrs. McGrath, Dr. Brennan, and Lynch.

SCHOOL MANAGEMENT.—Messrs. McNamara, Archambeault and Halpin.

SCHOOL SUPPLIES.—Messrs. Halpin, McGrath and Lynch, the first named on each Committee to act as Chairman.—Report adopted.

TO SUPPLY THE FUNDS.

Moved by Dr. Brennan, seconded by Mr. Lynch, that the Chairman and Sec.-Treas. be empowered to borrow from the Bank of Montreal, money not exceeding the sum of three thousand dollars, for the purpose of paying salaries and other necessary expenses, until the Board is supplied with funds from the collectors of taxes.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. McGrath, seconded by Mr. Archambeault, that school rates in the several municipalities be collected by the municipal officials, same as in past years, and that the clerks of the several municipalities be notified to that effect.

The minutes of the meeting of the 23rd Dec. were read and confirmed.

Accounts from Miss Karch, school supplies, $18.20, M. McFaddan, repairs, $2.25, were referred to the Finance Committee.

Tender of Harry Drake to convey one of the teachers from the Convent to Lake street school for 1890 at a salary of $100, was accepted.

FINANCIAL REPORT.

The treasurer read the following statement of receipts and expenditures for the year ending 31st December, 1889:—

Receipts

Balance from last audit	$ 29 12
Bills payable	5,813 97
Town taxes, 1889	2,750 00

Printing and stationery	4 85
Insurance	25 00
Night schools	55 60
Miscellaneous	31 64
Balance in bank	56 76
	$9,254 15

The auditors, Messrs. C. J. Leonard and Thos. Kelly, report as follows:—

"We hereby certify that we have carefully examined the above abstract statement of receipts and expenditures, and also the detailed statement enclosed therewith, and have compared same with vouchers produced by the treasurer and find them correct."

Moved by Mr. McGrath, seconded by Mr. Lynch—That the report of the auditors be received and adopted.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. McGrath, seconded by Mr. Archambeault—That a select committee, consisting of Messrs. Leonard and Dr. Brennan, be named to draft resolutions of condolence expressive of the sympathy of the board for the family of the late Mr. Hackett, ex Chairman of the Board; and that a copy be sent to the widow of the deceased.—Carried.

Messrs. Lynch and McGrath were appointed a committee to visit the schools during the month of January; and the several members of the board are expected to be present at the opening of the schools on Tuesday morning next at 9 o'clock.

The regular meeting of the board was changed from the first Thursday to the first Wednesday of each month.

The board then adjourned to meet on Thursday evening, the 16th inst., for the purpose of considering the appointment of a high school trustee, and other business.

News Nuggets.

—The Public Schools of the town open on Tuesday, Jan. 7th.

—The EXAMINER is requested to state that Mr. John McClelland is a candidate for councillor in No. 2 Ward, but on account of sickness in the family he has been unable to interview the ratepayers.

—The week of prayer commences on Monday. The first meeting will be held in the Baptist church.

—There will be two society funerals to-morrow—that of Dr. J. B. Hunter, under Masonic auspices, and the late Wm. Gaskin, of Auburn, under S.O.E. auspices.

—The body of the late Dr. J. B. Hunter arrived to-day from Ogden, Utah, and the funeral takes place to-morrow from the residence of Mr. James Stanton, Gilmour street, at 2:30 o'clock.

—The committee for the "Y" New Year reception regret that mention was committed in their acknowledgement, of milk furnished by Mr. T. Stothart and a parlour game loaned by Mrs. Hall, and that the name of Mrs. Gen. Hilliard appeared in another form.

THE HAVELOCK HORROR.

Report of the Evidence at the Inquest.

Shocking Bad Treatment of an Old Woman—Stories of Poison, Starvation and Ill-Usage—James Holbrook Tells His Side of the Story—The Jury bring in a Verdict of Death from Exposure and Ill-Treatment—The Husband.

The inquest into the death of the wife of James Holbrook, the grim details of which were published in yesterday's issue, was concluded at Havelock last evening. The verdict, though evidently as strong as warranted by the evidence, does not appear to satisfy public clamor, and there is a feeling in the village and township that Holbrook should not be allowed to escape punishment, as they hold him morally responsible for the poor woman's death. Holbrook attended the inquest and frequently asked questions or made explanations.

After the inquest was over the coroner inquired of Holbrook if he intended giving his wife decent burial. He at first demurred, but when the coroner told him the body would, if unclaimed, be sent to the colleges for dissection, he agreed to dispose of the corpse, and the son promised to see that it was properly interred.

The inquest took place before Dr. Bell, coroner, Mr. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, watching the case in the interests of justice. The jury was empannelled as follows:—

ROBT. PRESTON, foreman.
W. B. Barnett,	A. Primrose,
Wm. Wilson,	Isaac Toms,
D. Batters,	Geo. Phillips,
A. Brown,	S. S. Joyce,
Wm. McMillan,	Robt. Anderson,
John Carey,	W. A. Connaughty.
Mark Scott.

THE EVIDENCE.

SAMUEL P. FORD, M.D., gave evidence concerning the post-mortem examination on the body of the deceased. The body he found in a swale near the old Cobourg railway track. The body was beside a fallen tree, with left leg drawn up under the body. She might easily have fallen in the position found. The place was too wet to notice any tracks. She had on a cotton chemise and skirt, old black dress waist, a shawl around her shoulders, an old coat over all and a black hood on her head; also a pair of men's stockings and men's boots, lower limbs bare except for boots and socks. She had a black shirt over her arm as if carrying it. The coat had caught on the knot of a tree as if she had fallen over to that side. The only marks on her were some contusions and one abrasion on upper part of right leg, and evidently made before death. All marks were apparently recent. The bruises were apparently trifling. The body was seemingly poorly nourished but not much emaciated. The contusions might readily be caused by her stumbling through the swamp. The day she is said to have disappeared, Dec. 24th, was very stormy, a great deal of rain, snow and sleet, middling cold. She had not on sufficient clothing to be on such a day. The exposure and effort to get from the house to where found would be sufficient to exhaust her. Nothing about the place indicated violence.

To a Juryman—Cannot say whether she came to the place where found alive. She may have from the necessary exertions to get there become so benumbed as to be unable to get up, if she fell in the position found.

To the Attorney—Could not tell from a post mortem examination whether the leg became bent before or after death.

To a Juryman—I think the water in the neighborhood where body was found would be a foot or eighteen inches deep. The flesh looked as if it had been frozen and thawed out several times.

GEORGE SMITH, a neighboring farmer who lives northeast of the Holbrook farm, told what he had heard and knew about the death of Mrs. Holbrook, which was about the same as given by other witnesses. Holbrook had told him about the same story as given in his subjoined evidence. Witness further said:—I heard the deceased told Mrs. Wesley Smith that her husband had attempted to force her to take Paris green. I charged him with this act on Monday and he did not deny it. Inside his house there was little but dirt, some old wool and an old bedstead, at least upstairs. Downstairs there was some harness, a barrel with a piece of beef, etc., but I was only in one room. There was another room I did not enter. Everything about the place was filthy and not fit for human beings to live amongst. The husband of the deceased is reputed to be well off. The current opinion amongst the neighbors has been that the husband of deceased did not furnish her with sufficient nourishment nor the necessaries of life, and that she has been frequently starving.

HOLBROOK'S STORY.

James Holbrook, farmer and millowner, of Belmont township, sworn:—I am the husband of the deceased, I live on lot No. 4, 8th concession of Belmount. The deceased lived with me as her home on said lot, we lived alone, none of our family were with us. Her age according to her own statement was about 63 years, being born in 1826. I last saw her alive between 10 and 11 o'clock a.m. at the house on Friday, Dec. 24th. We had dinner together about that time, soon after which I left for Havelock, I left my son-in-law, Henry Weese, outside my house, and deceased was standing about the door. I went by my daughter's, Mrs. Weese's, thence to Mr. Wild's, then to Havelock. I got back home about 4 p.m. Deceased was gone and I found the key where she said she would leave it. There was a fire in the stove. I went to the barn and found she had put the horses in. Did not think it strange she was gone, as she frequently went away for 3 or 4 days. It was a wet, stormy day. I made no enquiries until Friday regarding her, when my daughter suggested I should look for her, and I went to Mr. Anderson's, and found she had not been there. I saw a track in the snow on Tuesday, when I returned home, which I conjectured to be hers, leading away from the house in the direction of Mr. Anderson's. This was before dark. I think she was strong enough to walk ten miles. She was apparently in the best of health that day. I first saw her body yesterday in company with Mr. Johnston, Mr. Hubble and Mr. Smith. We first found an apron and soon after the body. I cannot say whether she had on same underclothing or not which she had on when I last saw her alive. I did not look to see whether she had on a dress or not; made no examination. It is false if any one states that I objected to a search for her body in the direction where found. I objected to my mill dam being torn down unless those who wished to do it would rebuild it. I made no objection to a search of my premises. I said I felt sure she was in the woods. I had no Paris green about the premises since last summer. I told that she gave me Paris green something over a year ago. She was over to Mr. Smith's on the previous Saturday and carried home a pail of milk. I may have told her not to put on a poor mouth and go on with the milk. She may have complained of being weak, but she often did that. She was smarter on Tuesday before she disappeared than for five years back. Mr. Bowen was not at my place on Tuesday, 24th December. I may have shown him the key of the house and said that was the key she locked the door with. This was not before Christmas. It was not on Tuesday. It may have been later in the week. It was before Sunday.

To a juryman—I saw the tracks in the snow leading towards Mr. Anderson's. I did not look closely at the tracks then, but on Friday I examined the tracks and they were those of a man's boot. Sometimes she took long, sometimes short steps. I followed these tracks to the concession line, about half a mile. Mr. Weese, when I met him near my house, was going east toward my house. I spoke to him. I cannot say whether she was capable of walking to Mr. Anderson's on Tuesday or not. I maintained she was not in the mill-pond because I went around it and there was not a track leading to it. I refused to allow the pond to be drained because I was sure the body was not there.

To County Attorney—I think the cause of death was that she wandered about in the woods and became lost and tired, and sat down and perished in the cold. She knew the woods better than I did but in a snow-storm might get lost. It would be between two or three miles from my house to the concession line by the tracks made, and thence to where the body was found. I never was in where the body was found previous to yesterday. Deceased never had to cut the firewood used in my house, except edgings, etc. He truth is that she never cut it. I never looked her in the collar or part her in a root house. She rarely ever or part her in a root house. She rarely ever had to carry a pail of water. During the past year she had a paralytic stroke and her memory was so affected that she occasionally drew bills a year old thereabouts and wished to have them settled. I explained that they were settled. Deceased had clean breakfast I think on the morning she left. I never ate with her in my life. Her clothes were burned up to her waist on her body about four weeks ago, and I rolled her over to extinguish the flames, but I did not strike her. I never told anyone that if any marks were found on her body they were made by my rolling her over when her clothes were on fire. She was free from mark or blemish when she left home. The reason I spoke of marks was because I heard a report that her head was beaten. I did not say that my son John had been intriguing with his mother to my injury. I did not say that John had anything to do with putting her body where found. She was never deprived of any nourishment or food that was in the house, and always had her share of all the rest of our family or myself had. I never locked a cupboard.

THE SON-IN-LAW.

HENRY WEESE, farmer, son-in-law of the deceased, testified that he lived about a mile and a half from her late residence. He saw deceased at her home between 10 and 11 o'clock of Tuesday, Dec. 24th, when she appeared smarter than since last spring. Christmas day deceased's husband came to my house and said his wife had not returned yet, but he supposed she was at Mr. Anderson's. He and his wife did not get along very well together as a rule, but occasionally were quite agreeable until their son John stirred them up. I have heard John since his mother was missed, make remarks about the property which led me to have certain suspicions regarding the death of deceased. He also made remarks about his father's property. I understand John was in a lunatic asylum some years ago. I think he caused trouble between his father and mother. I never saw Jas. Holbrook abuse his wife, but heard rumors regarding it. She complained sometimes of not getting enough to eat. She has conscientously come to my place to get something to eat. Their house is in a bad state and very dirty. Jas. Holbrook is said to be wealthy, and he has said himself he has lots of money. Deceased since her paralytic stroke has not been well able to care for herself. When I saw her Tuesday, 24th, she was not dressed well enough to go out; she should not have gone out. I have known deceased to threaten to use a knife on her husband, also to scold him. There was plenty provisions in the house but she did not seem to know how to use them. She had every liberty, and carried provisions to her son. There was often violent language between James Holbrook and deceased. I saw deceased with a black eye about three weeks ago, and she said she received it by her husband pulling the door shut on her. I got some Paris green from Mr. Holbrook last summer. I never knew Mr. Holbrook to look deceased up anywhere. I do not think he fed and clothed his wife as a husband should. [Witness gave further evidence concerning family matters].

Dr. Ford presented a report of his post mortem examination, which stated that everything about the deceased was in a natural condition. The only point remarked upon was the complete emptiness of the stomach. Dr. Ford gave it as his opinion that deceased had not eaten any food for at least ten or eleven hours before death, and that death resulted from long-continued exposure in the storm which prevailed Dec. 24th.

AND THE SON.

JOHN H. HOLBROOK, son of deceased, who lives about three quarters of a mile from his parent's, sworn, said:—I saw my mother a week ago last Monday for the last time. She was at my place, shabbily clad. She said she was going to Mr. Carr's for a cat. She was rather frail. There has been trouble between my father and mother all their lives. He used to blue-beech her, and sometimes me, too. Father did not show much anxiety in his search for mother. H. Weese told me on Friday night mother was missing and a lot of us went to search for her. When I saw mother's body I turned and ran away, the sight so shocked me. On Monday she told me she was going to Anderson's to spend Christmas, as she had not much at home. My father has between 300 and 400 acres of land, raises a little hay and has a span of horses. I think he has also some money.

To a juryman—I think if my mother had had proper care she would have been alive to-day. I have seen her with black eyes and saw my father give them to her, but not lately. I have had to interfere to save my mother from his violence. I heard him say two or three weeks' ago he would choke her. She was complaining of food being locked up. I once saw her looked up in the house and spoke to her through the window. I have seen her take a knife and threaten him in a mild way when they were having hot words, but I never thought she meant to harm him. I do not know whether my father searched by himself for my mother's body, or whether he tried to lead the searchers away from where she was found. I should not have expected mother could have walked to where found, about three or four miles, in such weather as we had December 24th. My mother told me father threatened to hold her and force her to swallow Paris green. I cannot say how she got to where she was found. I had nothing to do with placing her body there. I think she was not properly cared for or she would have been alive to-day.

MR. J. WESLEY SMITH, farmer, said he lived about a quarter of a mile from James Holbrook's. Deceased on Saturday previous to her death said she was going to lay an information against her husband as she was afraid he would kill her. At my place she had on a light dress, a waterproof coat, a pair of long boots and some rags about her feet. I do not think she was capable of keeping house. Witness gave other evidence of an unimportant nature.

GEO. CARR gave it as his opinion that deceased could not walk from her house to where the body was found.

JOHN JOHNSTON'S evidence was principally concerning the finding of the body. He said the Holbrooks tried to lead the searchers away from where the body was found. First the apron was found, then a bag, then the body. Witness also told of the ill-treatment he knew deceased received at the hands of her husband.

There was a number of other witnesses subpœnaed but none were examined.

THE VERDICT.

The audience then retired, and the jury after a brief deliberation returned the following verdict:—

That the said Eliza Holbrooks came to her death at the township of Belmont on or about the 24th day of December, 1889, from exposure to the cold, and the want of the common necessaries of life, and by no violent ways or means whatsoever to the knowledge of the jurors; and that her husband, James Holbrooks, is guilty of extreme negligence in not providing her with sufficient clothing and nourishment.

"The Hope of Israel."

A Beautiful Cantata Beautifully Presented

If the public had known what a very pleasant musical treat the cantata with the above title proved to be, there would have been a greatly larger attendance at the Baptist church Friday evening. It was a very great success. The choruses by the children were admirably given the time and expression being uncommonly good. The singing was all the more creditable, from the fact that the children had just done justice to a feast that had been spread in the school room. One feature of the singing worthy of special praise, was the singing of the infant chorus, whose training had been excellently done by Miss Gilmour. Pressure on our space prevents more extended reference.

The charming idea of presenting this beautiful cantata originated with Miss Mary Stratton, who actively assisted in its preparation till circumstances a few days ago compelled her retirement. Mr. G. S. Matthews acted as director and Miss Gilmour, who acted as organist, was untiring in her efforts. Miss Aldridge looked after the recitations. Dr. Scott, superintendent, exercised a general paternal oversight. The duets, etc., attending the chart were given by Dr. Scott; Dr. Scott and Miss Branch; Miss Bradley and Miss Hutchinson; Dr. Scott, Frank Matthews, Miss Branch, Miss Bradley. All concerned are to be congratulated on the excellent success of the cantata.

THE AFRICAN GRAB GAME.

PORTUGAL BELIEVED TO HOLD A VERY POOR HAND.

Dom Carlos' Enigmatic Declaration—English Public Sentiment—King Humbert's New Year's Speech—The O'Shea Case—Brradley Pacha's Exit.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The Tribune's London special says: "The dispute with Portugal has made no distinct advance. Dom Carlos' language at the opening of the Cortes is a brave show of upholding Portuguese claims, and this was to be expected, seeing that it was the new King's first address to his Parliament. His words are a declaration that it is the fixed design of Portugal to preserve those parts of the African territory which her missionaries have discovered, and in which Portuguese authorities have exercised jurisdiction and influence according to the social condition of their inhabitants. This is an enigmatic phrase. In most of its territories Portugal has done little more than to patronize the slave trade. Is this lax relation toward the social condition of the inhabitants to give a right of ownership? Englishmen do not dispute that the Portuguese have been great travellers, but discovery is a different thing from effective and continuous occupation. And yet the King's language maintains the claim that the presence of wandering priests of Portuguese origin in this Shire region some century or more ago constitutes all the titles of conquest and annexation. Fortunately Dom Carlos relies on negotiations, and it is a good sign that his Government has given the fire-eating Major Serpa Pinto leave to return home on the ground of health.

English newspapers are very assiduous in encouraging this Government to stand to their guns, and the declarations of some of them that neither a conference nor arbitration will be accepted by England are believed to be inspired by utterances from a high official source. The English public have been not a little annoyed for months past by Lord Salisbury's complaisance toward the Germans in East Africa. They have watched the growing insolence of Portugal and the Portuguese attitude toward the claims of an American citizen at Delagoa Bay has not escaped public attention. In this present dispute the Government will have the most cordial approval of every class of English opinion, even if a fleet be sent to the Tagus and another hold Delagoa Bay. The declaration that Major Serpa Pinto's butchery with Gatling guns was a conflict between the native population and a Portuguese scientific expedition only provokes expressions of contempt.

The New Year's speeches of the Continental rulers are cheerful and confident. King Humbert's words about the rapprochement between Germany and Russia as helping to maintain peace and as an improvement on the time when peace could not be guaranteed for a fortnight, are in some respects remarkable: though it is impossible to overlook the furious zeal with which the Russianization of the Baltic Provinces is being attempted. It is gratifying, however, to have King Humbert's word that St. Petersburg and Berlin have improved their relations.

The most disturbing outlook in Continental affairs is to be found in Russia, where there is a recrudescence of disloyalty and Nihilism. It is even asserted that the recent slaughter of exiles in Eastern Siberia, which so deeply moved the civilized world was the outcome of Nihilism, but this must surely be only another endeavor to impose on public credulity.

Everybody is asking why Captain O'Shea deferred his suit against Mr. Parnell till now. It is known that three years ago Mr. Parnell lived in the same house with Captain O'Shea and Mrs. O'Shea, and respect for Captain O'Shea is not increased for his delaying the service of the writ for many days after filing the suit, and indeed until Mr. Parnell's solicitors compelled that step. Many believe that the case will never go into court, and that it arises from motives of a pecuniary character. Captain O'Shea's fortune has largely depreciated of late, while Mrs. O'Shea has just inherited over £100,000 for her sole and separate use.

If Captain O'Shea ever reaches the witness-box, we are promised political revelations, and may perhaps learn whether the current Gladstonian rumor is correct, that Captain O'Shea has been instigated to take this step by a certain Unionist set to damage the great Irish patriot's character. Mr. Parnell is said to have a pretty budget of correspondence, which throws a strange light on Captain O'Shea's motives and bearing in the past, both toward himself and in the field of politics.

Mr. Parnell must deeply regret having descended into the arena to quell the rebellion of Messrs. Biggar, Healy and others against Captain O'Shea, all of which arose out of Mr. Parnell's relations toward the O'Shea family. Nor is it very cheering to Gladstonians that these charges came to light in definite form on the eve of Mr. Parnell's first visit to Hawarden and immediately after the Chief of Hawarden published a very orthodox homily on divorce.

Broadley Pacha has gone under and one of the best-known figures in London society has disappeared. Many years ago he was in India, holding a promising position in the Civil Service. Grave charges were alleged against him and rather than meet them he fled the country and went to Tunis, where he practised in the Consular Courts. When Arabi Pacha was put on trial at Cairo Broadley Pacha conducted his defence and secured Arabi a pension and a residence in Ceylon, instead of standing before a platoon of soldiers. From Cairo Broadley returned to England, and became Mr. Yates' assistant in conducting The World. Broadley made the best of his opportunities in this position, very much more than Mr. Yates cared for, it is said, for he was in evidence at every big social fête and gathering, and many leading and influential men regarded him as a power in the councils of The World. His salons were frequented by the best men and women, and all went gayly till a fortnight ago, when Vanity Fair published a splendid cartoon—one of Mr. Leslie Ward's best—of "The Defender of Arabi." Those who recalled the Indian blot in his career were astonished at Vanity Fair's selection. The Prince of Wales sent the editor a remonstrance, for the Prince and his relations often appeared in that gallery. The editor published last Saturday an abject apology to everybody whose portrait had been published in his newspaper for having introduced into their select company such an unworthy character. Broadley Pacha then took alarm. The terms of Vanity Fair's language showed that the old scandal was fully known. Before twenty-four hours he was out of the country, and in the next issue of The World Mr. Yates announced that Broadley had ceased all connection with that paper.

Mrs. McComb's Big Verdicts.

WILMINGTON, Jan. 4.—Mrs. Elizabeth B. McComb, executrix of Henry S. McComb, obtained a verdict for $431,130 here to-day against the Southern Railway Association. The plaintiff sued for the principal and interest of 100 bonds of the Mississippi Central Railway, which were granted by the defendant. The case is similar to the one decided in Mrs. McComb's favor Thursday for $2,100,000 against the same association.

An Escaped Wisconsin Prisoner Run Down in the Cascade Mountains.

NEILLSVILLE, Wis., Jan. 4.—A report has reached here that prisoner Daniel Allen has been found living a hermit's life in the Cascade Mountains in Washington, and that he will be brought back here to serve the life sentence which was given in 1887. He used to be a Sunday school superintendent. He was rich and lived on a farm at Loyal, a few miles from this city. His wife was an invalid. Ten years ago Henry Wright and wife were hired by Allen to help about the farm. Mrs. Wright was very pretty, and it was not very long before the Sunday-school superintendent began to make desperate love to her. The intrigue was continued for several months, when Wright made preparations to take his wife away. Allen with Mrs. Wright planned to kill the husband. They gave him arsenic. When he died he was buried without an autopsy. Not long afterward Mrs. Allen died. Then the Clark County authorities had the two bodies disinterred. Both contained arsenic. The woman made a confession and was released, as it was clearly shown that she was an unwilling partner in the conspiracy. Allen was sentenced to the penitentiary for life. Pending his removal to Waupun he was kept in the local jail. One night he escaped. Nothing had been heard of him until yesterday, when a brief telegram was received announcing his whereabouts.

A BROOKLYN TRAGEDY.

ANARCHIST FRANKLIN KILLS HIS WIFE AND BABY.

The Murderer Remains in the House With the Bodies of His Victims Three Days and Then Commits Suicide to Avoid Electrocution—A Compact of Death.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 4.—A man informed the police to-day that nothing had been seen of the Frankin family, living in the rear of No. 180 Munger-street, since Wednesday. Two officers went to the house and effected an entrance through a window. All was quiet in the house, but, passing into the bedroom, Frankin was found sitting on the edge of the bed with a revolver grasped in his right hand. As the officer was about to enter, the man drove him out of the room at the point of the weapon. Then a pistol shot rang out. The officer rushed in and found Frankin had shot himself through the heart. He was not yet dead, but his wife and three-year-old child were lying dead on the same bed. Frankin died soon afterward. The wife and child had been shot through the head. From appearances they had been dead two or three days.

Frankin was an Anarchist, artist, and assistant to his wife in laundry work. For years he had done no work other than to help his wife occasionally. Sickness was his excuse for this. At times he suffered from epileptic fits. His artistic ability ran in the way of painting pictures of Herr Most and others of that ilk. He never made anything out of his painting. Over his mantel hung photographs of the Anarchists hanged in Chicago. Around each was a border of black. The shanty in which the family lived gave evidence that Mrs. Frankin was a neat, thrifty housekeeper. She sympathized with her husband in all he did and said. Frankin left a number of letters. One of these states that when he said the entire family would be better off dead than alive his wife agreed with him, but she wanted to die easily. She suggested that he poison her. With this end in view he purchased paris green. In another letter he says that he is insane, driven so by poverty and the prospect of never being able to better his position. Only death would release him.

It appears that Frankin and his wife discussed the matter calmly and finally agreed to go out of the world together. The child, a pretty blue-eyed thing, not quite three years old, they decided to take with them. Tuesday the wife lay down upon the bed in the rear room. She had previously cleaned up the rooms. The husband brought her a dose of paris green in water. She drank it. When she began to suffer, rolling on the bed in intense agony, she begged piteously for relief. Frankin hurriedly loaded his revolver, placed the muzzle against her right temple and shot her dead. Frankin then strangled his child with a clothes line and laid it beside the dead mother. Its clothing was stained with the mother's blood.

Frankin seems to have been too much of a coward to kill himself there and then. He remained in the house with the dead woman and child, cooking his own meals. It is probable he might not have killed himself for some time yet had it not been for the appearance of the police. He feared punishment, and this prompted suicide. Decomposition had already begun in the bodies of Mrs. Frankin and her child, and the stench was fearful.

Frankin left a letter requesting that all three bodies be cremated. He enclosed $65 for that purpose.

MURDERED TWO CHILDREN.

A Whiskey Infuriated Fiend's Deadly Work in New Hampshire.

HAVERHILL, N.H., Jan. 5.—Stephen La Plant, aged 80, whose home is in Benton, has been visiting his son's family at Center Haverhill. Yesterday his son and his son's wife went to Warren leaving La Plant and his wife in charge of four children. Two of the children went out skating and two—a 5-year-old boy and a 10-year-old girl—remained in the house. There was some dispute between La Plant and his wife in regard to the children. La Plant left the room, returning with a hammer, with which he dealt the boy heavy blows on the skull, scattering the blood upon the ceiling and floor. The girl interfered and La Plant drew a knife and cut her and also dealt heavy blows with the hammer until she fell to the floor insensible. A passer-by was attracted by the noise, and La Plant was seized while murderously assaulting his wife, whose life doubtless he would also have taken. The girl's injuries are fatal. The murderer was jailed. He says he meant to kill the children. He was addicted to liquor and probably was under its influence when he committed the crime.

The Sierra Snow Blockade.

SACRAMENTO, Col., Jan. 5.—One of the greatest snow blockades ever known on the Sierra Nevada Mountains has been raised by the railroad company's force and rotary snow-plow. The plow last evening left Blue Canyon, where it had been stalled for 24 hours, and proceeded towards Colfax. From Emigrant Gap the west-bound trains are able to follow the plow to Colfax and from the latter place the plow will return and clear the track to Cascade, which will free the snow-bound trains at Summit. Nothing will then stand in the way of the four east-bound trains at Colfax.

Can't Compete With Toronto's Industrial.

BUFFALO, Jan. 5.—One of the sensations of the day here is the reported intention to foreclose the mortgage of the International Fair Association. C. J. Hamlin, owner of Belle Hamlin, the famous trotting horse, is president of the association, and the failure to raise the capital stock has caused the creditors to unite and threaten legal proceedings to close the concern up. The property is considered the most valuable of its kind in the country.

MALIGNANT DIPHTHERIA.

Terrible Ravages of the Disease in St. Johns, Nfld.

OTTAWA, Jan. 4.—Advices from St. Johns say the local authorities are unable to check the terrible devastations of diphtheria in that colony. During the past 18 months there have been within the city limits 2,460 cases and 401 deaths, and outside the city limits 106 cases and 26 deaths. There were over 30 cases reported last week but only one death. The Government has spared no expense in providing hospital accommodations and medical aid for the poor, and in improving the sanitary condition of the city. The continuance and spread of the disease is due largely to the careless habits of a section of the people, and to their violation of the rules of the Board of Health. Another cause no doubt is imperfect sewerage.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

Redistribution of Ministerial Seats in the House of Commons.

OTTAWA, Jan. 5.—There will be a partial redistribution of ministerial seats in the House of Commons this session. Hon. J. A. Chapleau will take the seat occupied by the late Hon. J. H. Pope, and Hon. Mr. Tupper will take Mr. Chapleau's.

The voters' list for Haldimand county has been received. If the Supreme Court should uphold the judgment unseating Mr. Colter the new election will be held on the new lists.

The arbitration between the Government and the Canadian Pacific Railway was resumed in the Railway Department this morning before Chancellor Boyd and Messrs. Gregory and Keefer.

A FATAL ERROR.

James Swinton of Hamilton Takes a Dose of Laudanum by Mistake.

HAMILTON, Jan. 4.—James Swinton, a moulder living at 38 Canada-street, while suffering from cramps this evening seized a bottle containing a quantity of laudanum and swallowed the contents, supposing it to be something else. The mistake was not discovered until Swinton had partaken of his supper, after which he became very ill. An emetic was administered but it failed to dislodge the poison and Swinton died before medical aid could be procured.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Sunday Night Raid on a Victoria-Lane Bloody House.

TORONTO, Jan. 6.—No. 73 Victoria-lane has had the reputation for the past few weeks of being the toughest ranch in the ward of St. James. Yesterday the fun became fast and furious and so disgraceful became the scenes enacted in the place that at 11 o'clock last night Inspector Ward and a posse of seven constables swooped down upon it and arrested all the inmates on charges of keeping and being inmates of a disorderly house. As Inspector Ward pushed his way in one of the men in the house got behind him and attempted to stab him in the back. A constable saw the gleam of the knife, and with a quick blow jerked the weapon out of his hand. The name of the man who tried to kill the inspector is Joseph Feniste. There were seven men (all Italians) and five women captured in the raid. Among the males was Frank Murray, a notorious burglar, Giovanni Femilli, Marco Pocco, Dio Gerusto and Joseph Feniste, the man with the dirk. The women are all well known to the police. Their names are Kate Fuller (keeper), Martha Young, Minnie O'Brien, Minnie Hillman and Lizzie Murray. With the prisoners the police carried to the station and left in the cells a little 9-year-old girl, the daughter of the woman Murray.

INFLUENZA AND DEATH.

Stalking Hand in Hand Through Many Cities—The Grippe in Toronto.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Influenza and death went hand-in-hand through the city to-day and made a frightful record. The death rate was the largest since the disease appeared. Two hundred and seven deaths were reported during the 24 hours ending at noon, nearly all from influenza, pneumonia and kindred maladies.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Nine more fatal cases of the grip were reported at the coroner's office to-day.

BOSTON, Jan. 4.—Prof. Seave of the Boston public schools reports that 20 to 50 per cent. of the pupils are absent with la grippe. There were 827 deaths in Boston this week, probably an unprecedented number; 40 per cent. were due to lung diseases and are traceable in a great part to the grippe.

CHARLESTON, W. V., Jan. 5.—Henry Brinkler, a leading banker here, died last evening from influenza.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—The death returns show 150 more men than women died last week. The great preponderance was of those between the ages of 25 and 60. The deaths of children fell below the number of last week.

Across the Sea.

PARIS, Jan. 4.—The epidemic is now severe at Toulon, Nancy, Rouen and in Algiers.

GOTHA, Jan. 4.—Andreas Perthe of the famous house that publishes "Almanac de Gotha" is dead from influenza.

BERLIN, Jan. 4.—Dr. Dollinger, who has the influenza, is very weak and at times delirious. His condition is critical.

FRANKFORT, Jan. 4.—The influenza is abating here and at Leipsic. Two hundred officials are ill with it at Wursburg.

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—Princess Bismarck and Princess Rottenburg are seriously ill with La Grippe. Many deaths are reported.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—There is now no mistake about the presence of the Russian influenza in England. Till within the past day or two many doctors doubted whether any one was suffering from more than an aggravated type of an old and well-known affection. But there are now many bad cases recorded in the hospitals and in private practice, with complete symptoms as seen in Paris and St. Petersburg. But it is rare that a case gets beyond a bad feverish cold, with pain in the limbs. The more terrible aspects and consequences as seen in Paris and Vienna, have not yet reached England. It is said that Lord Salisbury and the German Ambassador trace the origin of their attacks, which after all prove not to have been very bad, to the perusal of foreign despatches sent by correspondents living in affected districts on the Continent.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—There are many cases of influenza in the hospitals here, but there are no signs of a rapid spread of the epidemic. At Cochester the troops are largely affected.

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—The influenza is spreading in the provinces. Business is partially suspended and in many places the school-houses have been converted into hospitals. Herr Patow, formerly Minister of Finance, has died from inflammation of the lungs. The Dowager Empress Augusta, who is suffering with influenza, had a bad night, being unable to sleep. She was a trifle better to-day, but this evening her condition changed for the worse.

Three Hundred Cases at Cornwall.

CORNWALL, Jan. 5.—Col. Alfred T. Light, of the 59th Battalion died here yesterday morning from pneumonia. Col. Light came to Cornwall from England some fifteen years ago.

About 300 cases of influenza are reported here. All the doctors with the exception of two are down with it.

Railway Men Afflicted.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Jan. 5.—La Grippe has fastened itself firmly in this town—over 100 cases being reported principally among railway employes. Over 30 employes of the G.T.R. are confined to their beds with the disease. Men on both the Michigan Central and Grand Trunk are making double time, the companies not being able to supply the sick men's places.

A Young Oshawan Drowned at Belleville

OSHAWA, Jan. 5.—The remains of Edward Morgan, eldest son of B. Morgan, cattle dealer of this town, arrived home by this morning's train. The young man had been attending the Commercial College at Belleville for some time past, and had received his diploma a few days ago. On Saturday, in company with some of his student companions, he went out skating, and the ice being too thin himself and another went down. Young Morgan was drowned, but the other young man, after a hard struggle, managed to get on top of the ice. The deceased was in his 21st year.

Chicago Police Leagued with Thieves.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—It is openly charged that over 4000 members of the police force of this city are secretly in league with a band of thieves which infest the West Side. It is said that the cause of the mystery in the Snell-Tascott case is due to this cause. Mayor Cregier proposes to cleanse the force; and wholesale removals may be looked for. Six patrol wagons full of gamblers were taken to the Central Station last night in pursuance of the Council's order to the Mayor to stop gambling.

Four Men Drowned.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4.—Antonia Nicholas, a Russian fishermen, was rescued from the rocks at Point Bonito lighthouse last night. He had been clinging to the rocks six hours and was nearly exhausted. He said that a fishing boat containing himself and four companions capsised off Point Bonito yesterday. His comrades were all drowned but he reached the rocks. One of the men drowned was George Mitchell, a Russian. The other three were Greeks, names unknown.

SIR JULIAN APPEALED TO.

A British Subject and His Wife Maltreated by a Carolina Mob.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Minister, has received a petition from Rev. T. M. Joiner of Holly Springs, N. C., for redress for injuries received by himself and wife at the hands of a mob at Holly Springs last month. He states he is a British subject, that he and his wife were giving religious and other instructions to the negroes at Holly Springs, which facts he says so incensed some of his neighbors that they broke into his house and assaulted and maltreated himself and wife. The crowd was masked and many of their number were armed with guns and pistols. He says he had previously been warned to leave the place, but had refused to do so. The mob discharged a lot of bullets into the room where he and his wife were sitting, wounding him in the hands and arm. Mrs. Joiner received three flesh wounds in the scalp and was knocked down by one of the men. Mr. Joiner says he appealed for redress, first to the local and next to the State authorities, but received no satisfaction. He then came here with his wife. Sir Julian is investigating the case and expects to bring it to the attention of the Secretary of State as soon as he has received the proper evidence. Mr. Joiner has been preaching in North Carolina since 1883.

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES.

TWO LEADING QUESTIONS FOR THE REICHSTAG.

A Universal Peace Chorus—Intensified Anxiety and Watchfulness at Vienna—Does Bismarck Contemplate Uniting Gen Austria?

BERLIN, Jan. 4.—The leading questions before the Reichstag on its reassembling will be the increase of the military credits and the Socialist Bill. Bismarck's long expected declaration on the foreign policy of the Government will probably be made during the debate on the military credits. The attitude of the Government on the Socialist Bill is inflexible.

The year opens with a universal peace chorus, The National Zeitung declaring that external tranquillity is guaranteed, while internal tranquillity depends entirely on the character of the next Reichstag. Nevertheless the Foreign Office itself was never so pervaded by a sense of the insecurity of the continuance of the Triple Alliance. Bismarck's refusal to support Austria's policy in Bulgaria is a great source of irritation and suspicion, and Signor Crispi's persistent intriguing for the cession of Trentino is another.

The progress of the negotiations for the meeting of Emperor William and the Czar on the Polish frontier in April intensifies the official anxiety and watchfulness in Austria. In diplomatic circles there is a lively discussion of the prospect of a renewal of the German entente with Russia. As Bismarck continues to find the want of homogeneity in the Austrian Empire, and the growing discord between its various nationalities an obstacle to good politics, and sees how greatly these reduce the value of an Austrian alliance, it is said he already contemplates a radical change of base in his policy, and speculates upon a large application of the idea of races that was the basis of so many schemes and projects when Alsace and Lorraine was annexed to Germany. His new application of the theory of bringing all German-speaking people under the German flag would be at the expense of both Austria and Russia, but for Russia there would be compensations. The policy, in fact, would wipe out Austria, as that empire now stands, or Germany would take the Austro-German duchies; and while Germany would also get the German Baltic provinces now held by Russia, Russia would get an equivalent in Galicia and Bukowina, and would be given a free hand in Roumania and the Balkan countries. The Austrian Government knows this is not merely a diplomatic dream, but is of the present possibilities of the Chancellor's policy, and may become a probability if the race feuds now pervading the Empire combined with hostility to Germany shall force the Chancellor to project alliances elsewhere.

The German-Czech Conference opened in Vienna to-day. It is watched here as having an important bearing upon the international relations. Count Taaffe, who presides, is not hopeful of success in reconciling the differences between the German and Czech parties in Bohemia.

It is thought the Landtag will disapprove the lottery project in regard to the monument of Emperor William, but will favor a grant of money by the state.

Fighting in Africa Looked For.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—The Government has received intelligence of the safety of Mr. Johnston, British consul at Mozambique, who is traveling in the interior of Africa, and who is charged by Portuguese papers with having intrigued with the natives against the Portuguese in the territory along the Shire River. Mr. Johnston has pacified the Karangos and subsidized Kotakota and has by treaty secured Western Nyassa to the British. The Portuguese reached Katungas, where the remaining Makololos, trusting to British protection, refused to surrender the British flags presented to them when called upon to do so by the Portuguese commander. The Portuguese thereupon again searched the steamers and compelled them to lower their ensigns. Fighting in Africa is believed to be certain.

The African Lakes Company of Glasgow has telegrams from its agent of the same tenor as the foregoing, adding that the Portuguese crossed the river Pue, boarded the Company's steamers and hauled down the British flag.

A Furious Gale in Great Britain.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—A gale has been raging all over Great Britain to-day, much damage has been done throughout the country and many wrecks are reported. The Protestant Church at Birr, Ireland, was struck by lightening and badly damaged. The Cunard steamer, Umbria, is delayed at Queenstown for repairs.

Floods in Queensland.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Floods are reported in the northwest portion of Queensland. A part of the town of Normanton is submerged, the water in many places being 30 feet deep. All the adjacent territory is under water. The floods cover an area of 300 miles.

The European Stock Markets.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Business on the Stock Exchange the past week was good and rates show a tendency to advance. American railroads have been steadily advancing since Wednesday and closed yesterday strong.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—Although the Bourse was very quiet last week the tone of the market was good.

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—On the Boerse business was rather animated during the week past. Foreign securities were considerably bought yesterday, causing an advance in prices averaging ¾ per cent.

FRANKFORT, Jan. 5.—Business on the Boerse was fairly active during the past week. Prices closed strong yesterday.

Belgium's Coal Famine.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 4.—The Government has stopped the exportation of coal from Belgium owing to the scarcity of that commodity caused by the miners' strike.

The stoppage of the exportation of coal is criticised as premature. The Government is buying coal in England for the use of the state railways.

Berlin Would Welcome Carnot.

BERLIN, Jan. 4.—The National Zeitung comments on President Carnot's new year's address and says: France is the only great power that the Emperor hasn't visited. His reception in Paris would of course be absolutely impossible, but President Carnot might visit Berlin and he could be assured of a sympathetic welcome there as a sincere friend of European peace.

LOSSES BY THE FLAMES.

A Methodist Church Burnt—Big Fires in Idaho and the Transvaal.

DUTTON, Jan. 4.—The Methodist Church was burnt about noon to-day. The fire originated in the furnace. The church was being warmed preparatory to cleaning out for to-morrow's services, and the connection with the furnace being defective, the timbers took fire and spread speedily. With difficulty A. J. Leitch's block opposite was saved. Hugh McArthur's house, adjoining the church, was saved from destruction only by the heroic efforts of his neighbors. Insurance on church $1100 in "Huron and Middlesex".

A Grocery Store Scorched.

AYLMER, Jan. 5.—At an early hour this morning fire broke out in the grocery store of Hall & Ashbaugh and the building and stock were badly damaged. The insurance on the building is $2600 and on the stock $7000. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Twenty-Five Houses Burnt.

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 5.—At Wardner, one of the principal mining towns in the Coeur d'Alene district of Idaho, yesterday twenty-five houses were burned, including six three-story buildings. The loss is $100,000. The reservoir in the mountains, the only water supply, was empty and the men fought the fire with snow, thus saving the town from total destruction.

A $300,000 Loss in the Transvaal.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The Erste Fabriken in Pretoria, the largest structure in the Transvaal, has been burned. Loss £100,000.

A Mysterious Blaze at Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, Jan. 4.—Moore & Lynch's cabinet and picture frame factory in James-street caught fire at 6 o'clock this evening, and despite the efforts of the whole fire department, that portion of the building in which the flames originated, together with its stock, was destroyed. The loss is $40,000. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

IMPORTANT!

Remarkable Restorations to Health of Well Known Canadians whose Cases were Given up as Incurable.

From the few of the hundreds of letters we have received from those who have been restored to health and strength by the use of that wonderful discovery, Paine's Celery Compound, we make a few extracts. We hope that the thousands of Canadian men and women who are suffering from nervous and wasting diseases, will profit by these true and plain statements of facts.

D. S. Davidson, of Montreal, suffered for years with nervous dyspepsia, pain in his back, and sleeplessness. He tried doctors without relief, was losing flesh rapidly, and had about given up heart when he commenced the use of Paine's Celery Compound. "Now," he says; "I am a new man. I sleep well and my food does not hurt me."

Mr. Jas. Johnson, 308 St. Charles Borromee Street, Montreal, was weak and nervous, had no appetite, and could not rest at night. His nerves were soothed and strengthened by Paine's Celery Compound, and he soon became well and strong.

Annie Gourley, of River Beaudette, P. Q., found the Compound a certain cure for weakness, and now feels as well as she ever did.

A customer of Harrison Bros., druggist, Hamilton, Ont., told them that he was entirely cured of nervous weakness by the use of two bottles of the Compound, after everything else has failed.

The little child of Mrs. G. E. Meredith, 95 D'Arcy St., Toronto, was cured of St. Vitus' Dance by Paine's Celery Compound.

County Valuation.

How the Work is Progressing – The Means Employed—The Value of the Work.

Messrs. Wm. Drummond and Samuel McKibbon, who were appointed at the June session of the County Council to make a valuation of the lands of the county for the purposes of assessment, have been pretty busily engaged in the prosecution of their duties. They have spent between seventy and eighty days, and have gone over the townships of Otonabee, Douro, Dummer, Asphodel, Belmont, Ennismore, and partly over North Monaghan and Harvey. It will require about one day each to complete the valuation of the two latter townships, the bank townships and the villages of Lakefield, Norwood and Ashburnham, are to do, though a portion of Methuen has been valued. The work is being thoroughly and faithfully done. Every farm that is occupied, that is, with a clearing on is personally visited, and in the case of non-resident lands, the best information that can be got in the vicinity as to the value of the lands is obtained. Every lot in the county is valued separately and the valuation placed against it in the record of valuations kept. After the work of inspection has been completed, it will require some considerable time to complete the report of the result of the valuations. Of course, it cannot be presented at the January session, and, though the report will doubtless be ready before June, it will not probably be made use of before the June session. It is hoped that this report will constitute a basis for the equalization of the assessment, which will permit of justice being done to every municipality.

Stewart's, Otonabee.

From a Correspondent.

New Year's day was rather dull in our neighborhood, and lots of rain. However some of our young men started for Zion tea meeting in the evening, among them the two G's, singing "Beautiful Zion." Well, they got there, and also got "clean gone" on some of the sweet singers of that place—and they are good cooks too, but of course everybody knows that, or at least they ought to. After doing justice to the good things, of which there was plenty, they started towards the Post Office through a heavy rain and mud about a foot thick. After seeing their girls safely home, they retraced their steps, singing "Home Sweet Home," which they finally reached, looking more like wet roosters than anything else.

Mr. John Deyell, is taking advantage of the open weather, and pulling stumps on Oak Orchard, the popular camping ground on the Otonabee river.

WEATHER NOTES.—A legend is current in the North of Scotland, when St. Clare of the Isles with his chosen band made such havoc amongst his southern foes, his Satanic Majesty while flying over the Grampian mountains with one in his mouth, one below each arm, one in each hand and one hanging at each foot, was seen by an old shepperd attending his young kids, looking through his wooden spectacles, and he exclaimed in amusement:—"tat pees a drol cloud her nan sell sees this mornin." No doubt a droll cloud has hung over us during December, the month coming in—in pieces no doubt. Fish and water have been in abundance, rain falling on 14 days to the depth of 4 inches, the severest storm being on the 24th, in 14 hours falling 1½ inches. Snow fell on 8 days but only to the depth of 5½ inches, being very light for December. Altogether we had downfall on 22 days. The warmest day was on the 19th, being 42° and 45° respectively; the coldest on the morning of the 4th, the thermometer droping down to 14° below zero; leaving the mean temperature of the month at 30°. We had fog on 5 days, thunder on the morning of the 26th, followed through the day by one of the severest gales experienced here for a long time, with another of less force on the night of the 29th. Taking the month in all it has been of a high temperature. For the small amount of snow and large amount of rain, it is unequalled in any previous year. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month, respectively, namely:—South west 8 day, north east 1 day, north 1 day, south east 7 days, west 3 days, east 4 days, south 3 days, and north west 4 days.

Successful and Pleasant Entertainment

A pleasant and successful Christmas tree and entertainment was held in the Zion Methodist church, Warsaw, on Christmas night, for the benefit of the Sunday school. A delightful and well presented programme, consisting of dialogues, recitations and music by the choir, was rendered, Rev. Mr. Power occupying the chair, and was followed by the distribution to the children of a large and miscellaneous lot of presents which were handed out from the beautifully decorated branches of the Christmas tree. A very pleasing finale to the entertainment was a presentation accompanied by an address to the efficient organist of the church, Mrs. Lyttle. The address, which was read by Mr. Taylor Crowe, spoke of the important services rendered by the organist, and paid a graceful tribute to her ability and faithfulness in the discharge of her duties. The presents were a Persian lamb cap, hanging lamp and album. The highly pleased as well as agreeably surprised recipient returned thanks in suitable terms, and an exceedingly pleasant and successful entertainment was brought to a close by the benediction.

Apple sauce loved once. Hear the pleading
That grew up from mouths of youth,
But grim death, our plans misleading,
Pierces of the fatal dart
Those who with us fain would tarry,
Those we hoped at noon to keep,
And ere long their forms we carry
To the grave so dark and deep.

Pleading with death avails nothing. We must do something to ward off the dart he aims at those we love. We must protect them from him. When the hacking cough, the hectic, or a pain in the side or chest gives indication of a consumptive tendency, act promptly. Go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This remedy allays the inflammation of the delicate lung tissues. It heals the irritated parts. It strengthens the blood and tones up the debilitated system, and in this way death can be forced to relinquish his hold upon our friend. It is guaranteed to cure, if, taken in time and given a fair trial, or money paid for it will be refunded.

Mothers!

Remember that Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or any other narcotic substance, in any quantity, shape or form. It is entirely vegetable, pleasant to take, positively effective and perfectly harmless. It is not a secret remedy; the formula is printed on the wrapper. Your physician will recommend it. Paregoric, Soothsom's Drops, and many so-called soothing syrups are composed principally of opium or morphine; in any quantity they stupify, and in large quantities are deadly poisons. Castoria assimilates the food and regulates the bowels, cures diarrhœa, allays feverishness and frets ulness, soothes the pain in teething, relieves constipation and kills worms. It brings refreshing and natural sleep to the child, and gives rest to the mother.

"Castoria is so well adapted to infants and children that I recommend it as superior to any other known remedy."

DR. H. A. ARCHER,
111 S. Oxford st., Brooklyn, N.Y.
March 8, 1887.

"From personal knowledge and observation I can say that Castoria is an excellent medicine for children, acting as a laxative and relieving the pent up bowels and general system very much. Many mothers have told me of its excellent effect upon their children."

To the Public.

Our aim has been and will continue to be to give the consumer the highest grade of goods consistent with prices charged. We do not manufacture so-called cheap cigars; fine goods are our specialty. Purchasing only the best of tobaccos, irrespective of price, we are in a position to manufacture as fine a class of goods as can be obtained anywhere; Havana not excepted. Insist upon having our well known brands, "Cable," "El Padre" "Mango," and "Madre E Hijo," and thereby obtain full value for your money. The immense sums expended in introducing our goods, the exceptionally fine quality of tobacco used in their manufacture, and the labor of nearly half a century should convince the most skeptical that the quality of same will not be allowed to deteriorate. ms

PLUMS FOR THE XMAS PUDDING!

What's Nuts for the Buyers is Plum for Us.

12 DAYS OF SACRIFICE

From now until after Christmas we intend to let everything go! Our great $40,000 Sale, at 50 cents on the dollar, was a great success—in fact, away beyond our most sanguine expectations. Notwithstanding the great business done, there is yet about 1800 Overcoats, and 1900 Suits, and nearly 10,000 pairs of Boots to close out. To convert this into money, we have organized a Grand Sacrifice Sale of our whole stock, for 12 days, and will sell every article in our two big stores at ten per cent advance on cost. Taking into consideration that the goods were bought at 50 cents on the dollar, the reader can readily see that this sacrifice means a saving to the buyer of nearly one hundred per cent; or, in other words, WE PURPOSE FOR TWELVE DAYS GIVING GOLD DOLLARS FOR FIFTY CENT PIECES.

PLUMS FOR THE PUDDING:

$2.95 will buy a Man's All Wool Etoffe Overcoat.
$3.90 will buy a Man's Tweed Overcoat, lined with Heavy Serge, trimmed with Velvet Collar
$5.00 is our sale price, for Twelve Days only, for a Fine Worsted Overcoat.
$9.00 gives you your choice for all $15.00, $16.00 and $18.00 Overcoats.

CHAPTER I.

"MURDER! MURDER!!"

THE place was Union square; the time, an hour after midnight.

Three men, leaving three different points on the square, met a little north of the monument of Washington. One of them left the corner of Fifteenth street and Fourth avenue, and walked in the direction of Fourteenth street and Broadway; another left the corner of Fourteenth street and Broadway, and walked in the direction of Fifteenth street and Fourth avenue. These two met closely, having walked on the same line in opposite directions. The third left the corner of Fourteenth street and Fourth avenue and walked in the direction of the park, on a line with the monument.

When the other two met, the third had only reached as far as the iron railing which insures the father of his country the uninterrupted enjoyment of that ride upon which he set out some thirty or forty years ago; he had loitered along with the air of one who had no purpose in his walk, smoking with leisurely puffs.

The other two walked briskly.

But the third, having the shorter distance to go, was near enough to see the man who had come from Fifteenth street and Fourth avenue stop short as he was about to pass the other, catch him by the arm and peer sharply in his face, and heard these words:

"It is you, is it? Then take this."

At the same moment, the man at the railing saw a glittering flash in the night, an uplifted arm brought down swiftly, heard a blow—a groan, saw a body falling to the ground, and a man quickly disappear into the park.

Dazed by the rapid action of this tragedy, enacted almost at his very feet, he clung to the iron railing and shouted, "Murder! Murder!!"

The square, which but a moment before seemed to have no occupants but the three, was quickly thronged.

There were hotels and drinking saloons on two sides, cabmen sleeping on their boxes and tramps, plenty, in the park, for it was a summer's night in August.

These produced a crowd, while a policeman came running from Fourteenth street.

"Who did this?" demanded the officer, casting a glance at the fallen man.

No one answered.

He examined the body.

"The man is dead," he exclaimed.

He lifted the arm of the victim.

"Heavens! The knife is still sticking in him. Did any one see this?"

"Yes, I did," said the man who had first shouted "murder."

Then he told what he had seen.

"Stand here till I can take your name and address," said the policeman, "but I must have help."

He rapped several times on the pavement with his long night club; the signal was promptly answered from different quarters; among others who came was the sergeant.

After he had heard all that could be told him he dispatched an officer for the coroner.

Then he asked the name of him who had given the alarm.

"Albert Wessing," was the reply.

"Well, Mr. Wessing, I suppose you will not like it, but you will have to go with me to the station house. Don't leave. You are a valuable witness—the only one who saw the deed committed."

Before the valuable witness could reply two things occurred.

From each side a man forced his way to the spot where lay the body. One, who came from the Fourth avenue side, had a loose coat thrown over his night shirt; his bare feet were thrust into slippers, and his suspenders were gathered around the waistband of his trousers like a belt; he had evidently dressed with great haste. As he came forward he said: "No, not the only witness, for I saw the blow."

"Where were you?" sharply queried the sergeant.

"Looking out of the window of my room," replied the newcomer, pointing to the Union Square hotel. "I was prepared for bed, but I threw on some clothes and came down."

Then, perceiving that the sergeant scrutinized him, he added:

"Have no fear concerning me, sergeant; I am well known in the city. I am a practicing lawyer; my name is Henry Holbrook; I have lived a long time at that hotel. The night clerk will vouch for me."

"Yes," said the man beside him, "he gave the alarm in the hotel as he came rushing down stairs."

This satisfied the sergeant, for he recognized in the man the night clerk of the hotel.

"But why have you not searched the park for the murderer?" asked Holbrook. "He ran in the direction of Seventeenth street and Broadway. I followed him until he was lost to my eyes in the trees. As he ran he threw off a coat."

"Yes," said a frowsy tramp, "I saw a man running through the park when I was woke up by this ere feller hollerin' 'Murder.'"

"Two of you search the park," ordered the sergeant. "That should have been"——

"Great Heavens! It is Mr. Templeton!"

This interruption came from the one who had come from the Broadway side; he had been bending over the prostrate body, and as the two officers moved off at the command of the sergeant, they had opened the ranks of those crowding about, thus enabling the light to shine upon the dead man's face.

"Who are you?" demanded the sergeant, grasping the arm of the newcomer as he straightened up.

The policeman who had come first at the cry of murder recognized the speaker.

Sliding up to the superior officer he said:

"He's all right, sergeant; I know him; head barkeeper over here on the corner—Morton house."

Then, moved by the recollection of sundry sly imbibations, he added:

"A perfect gentleman."

"Oh!" said the sergeant. "Who is Mr. Templeton? What do you know about him?"

"Not very much," replied the barkeeper. "Comes into our place pretty often. Usually stops in on his way uptown of an afternoon. Sometimes comes in at night, but not often. He was in our place half an hour ago."

"Had he been drinking?"

"Not much in our place."

"Was he intoxicated?"

"Oh no, he never gets drunk. Very careful drinker. There were some friends with him. They all went out together."

"Was there any quarreling among them?"

"No, very friendly and jolly."

"Still it might have been one of them who knifed him."

"No," said Holbrook, "I saw this man standing on the corner of Fourteenth street and Broadway. He parted from them and came this way; the others went down Fourteenth street toward the North river. The arc lights made everything clear to me, and there were few people in the square."

"Yes, that is so," remarked Wessing.

The First Sign

Of failing health, whether in the form of Night Sweats and Nervousness, or in a sense of General Weariness and Loss of Appetite, should suggest the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation is most effective for giving tone and strength to the enfeebled system, promoting the digestion and assimilation of food, restoring the nervous forces to their normal condition, and for purifying, enriching, and vitalizing the blood.

Failing Health.

Ten years ago my health began to fail. I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and I am now as healthy and strong as ever.—Mrs. E. L. Williams, Alexandria, Minn.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, that it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. I have also prescribed it as a tonic, as well as an alterative, and must say that I honestly believe it to be the best blood medicine ever compounded.—W. F. Fowler, D. D. S., M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

Dyspepsia Cured.

It would be impossible for me to describe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians and tried a great many kinds of medicines, but never obtained more than temporary relief. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties more perfectly. To-day my health is completely restored.—Mary Harley, Springfield, Mass.

I have been greatly benefited by the prompt use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It tones and invigorates the system, regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, and vitalizes the blood. It is, without doubt, the most reliable blood purifier yet discovered.—H. D. Johnson, 883 Atlantic ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

A POETICAL TRIBUTE

—TO—

HONEST DEALING.

A grateful customer of Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co. has been moved to put into verse the following truthful tribute to the excellence of this firm's goods. Truth and poetry do not always go together, but in this case they go hand in hand. There is no exaggeration nor poetical license in the following lines:—

Last night I had a pleasant dream, and well I did enjoy it,
In sleep I smiled 'Parnassus' height, and awoke a full fledged poet;
I tarried not to quaff my drink, but quietly grasped my pen
To tell in verse how cheaply we could clothe our fellowmen.
Our prices make the rich to smile, the poor with joy to shout,
We are resolved from this henceforth to knock the bottom out;
The man must strike some unseen notch, and shoot up from below
That unravels the clothing store of H. LeBrun & Co.

Our choice five dollar overcoats, our genial salesman shows,
Will keep you warm as a pie in the wildest storm that blows.
No ground up rags, no shoddy stuff, no mill pressed glue and hair,
But every thread spun from the sheep—fine, cheap, and made to wear.
You need not walk round shabby dressed, our prices must you convince,
Our seven dollar suits will dress you stylish as a prince.
For two and fifty we will clothe your boy from head to toe
Right in the City Clothing Store of H. LeBrun & Co.

Our line of ready-made is good, choices you will receive,
Examine, choose and purchase cloth; with us your order leave.
We guarantee to cut and stitch complete as you command
For style and finish every part here unsurpassed we stand.
Young gents that wish a stylish suit, for concert, church or ball,
Will have their true wish gratified, by giving us a call.
Out walking, or in sitting room your girl will wish to know
If you had bought that pretty suit from H. LeBrun & Co.

Our expert cutter measures true and strikes each new design,
With skilful hand his shears play crack, round angle, curve or line.
Our tailor's work, neat, strong, complete, o'er all the hot grome steams,
Leaving no wrinkles in the back, nor puckers in the seams.
We don't believe in paper puffs that float off like a kite,
Our goods and prices come and test, as proofs of what we write.
No shoddy pressed, no ripping seams, air holes in two weeks show.
Cheapness and wear the motto is at H. LeBrun's & Co.

Before eighteen and eight-nine bids us a last
To all our patrons, rich and poor, thanks we return to you.
Fair honest dealing in the past upholds our business name,
And in the future, we resolve strict to pursue the same.
Come old and new friends, welcome come, Christmas is drawing nigh,
How you will smile to see how much a trifling sum will buy.
With pleasure we will suit your wants and salute you as you go.
With all the season's compliments, of H. LeBrun & Co.

Master Kenneth McClelland, son of Mr. John McClelland, jeweler, died this morning after a short illness from congestion of the lungs and complications of other diseases. He was eighteen years of age. Master McClelland was well liked by his young associates, who will regret to hear of his death. The family will be deeply sympathized with in the loss of one of the brightest ornaments of the household. The funeral takes place Wednesday afternoon at half-past two o'clock.

A Macedonian Minister.

Mr. T. G. Malcheff, a young man from the province of Macedonia, in Turkey, who is studying in Toronto for the purpose of fitting himself for mission work among his countrymen, occupied the pulpit of St. Paul's church Sunday night and gave an outline of the political and social aspect of Macedonia, and the religious degradation of the people. Mr. Malcheff is utilizing the time at his disposal during the holidays to visit towns and cities of Ontario with a view to raising funds sufficient to enable him to complete his studies. The collection Sunday night was for that purpose.

Voting Day.

Voting is taking place to-day for councillors, school trustees and on the bonus by-law. In No. Three Ward quite a bit of excitement has been worked up in the councillorie contest. It is feared the by-law is doomed. At a late hour this afternoon but a small percentage of the votes required to carry the by law had been polled.

It's The Influenza.

We're all in the power of in grippe,
We can't seem to give it the slippe;
Is there no way to shake it?
Kerchoo! O, please take it!
Won't the doctors please give us a tippe?

There are a number of cases of influenza in town, but none of a serious type. One physician has two cases on hand. The tendency, however, appears to be to exaggerate facts. Every person with a cold in the head and a running accompaniment of sneezes, is said to be affected by la grippe. The genuine article is more severe, and brings in its wake fever and aches.

The Lock Works Extension.

The Lock Works is shut down for a week during the re-arrangement of the premises consequent upon the completion of the new additions to the buildings. In the old place, to which a story was added, the polishing department is being removed to the new flat. The new building, that lately vacated by Mr. W. J. Munro, will be used for packing and shipping purposes. This will give room for the necessary extension of space in the other departments, thereby relieving the congestion attending upon cramped quarters. The Lock Works will resume operations Thursday.

Week of Prayer.

The following arrangements have been made by the Ministerial Association for services during the week of prayer, which will commence this (Monday) evening:—

Monday, Jan. 6th.—Baptist Church. Subject — "Confession and Supplication." Speaker—Rev. E. F. Torrance.

Tuesday evening, 7th.—Charlotte Street Church. Subject—"Thanksgiving." Speaker—Rev. F. Clifton Parker.

Wednesday evening, 8th.—St. Paul's Church and Mark Street Methodist Church, Ashburnham. Subject—"Families and the Young." Speakers—Rev. M. L. Pearson, St. Paul's; Rev. S. J. Shorey, Ashburnham.

Thursday evening, 9th.—George Street Church. Subject—"Missions." Speaker—Rev. Alex. Bell.

Friday evening, 10th.—St. Andrew's Church. Subject—"Nations and Rulers." Speaker—Rev. A. C. Wilson.

Meetings to commence at eight o'clock.

About the Mild Weather.

The exceptionally mild weather which has so far prevailed this winter rivals in public interest the municipal elections and the influenza epidemic. An evidence of the lateness—or earliness—of the season is supplied by Mr. Hugh Davidson, of Smith, who the day after New Year's killed a common green snake on his farm. A snake in January is a most unusual sight. And as he was stirring the leaves after the snake, a butterfly flew up from the ground and sailed gracefully away. Then on his road home Mr. Davidson passed a large, hairy caterpillar which was crawling along the ground. Snakes, butterflies and caterpillars in January—what need of a Florida winter now?

Mr. Chas. Dredge brought into the EXAMINER office Saturday night two bunches of pansies in bloom which he had picked in his garden six o'clock that evening.

Orchestral music will be furnished by the Amateur Orchestra of fifteen pieces. Though the sale of seats has been enormous, there are still a few good seats on the reserved plan at Sailsbury's Bookstore. d

Farewell to Father Cotey.

Last evening after vespers about twenty prominent members of St. Peter's Cathedral assembled at the priests' house for the purpose of presenting Rev. Father Cotey with a farewell testimonial. Father Cotey leaves to-day for Hamilton. He has been for some time connected with the Cathedral here, and from his zeal and evident adaptability for clerical work, he is no doubt destined for a useful and highly successful career in the church. Mr. C. J. Leonard, on behalf of the congregation, expressed the regret they felt at parting with Father Cotey, and as a token of their esteem and warmest wishes for his future welfare, presented him with a purse of something over $200. Rev. Father Cotey made a fitting acknowledgment for the handsome reminder. His Lordship Bishop O'Connor was present, and expressed his sorrow at having to lose such an earnest young supporter as he had found in Rev. Father Cotey. He had tried to secure his permanent location here, but Hamilton had first claims which could not be overlooked. Rev. Father Cotey bid an affectionate farewell to the people.

Lakefield's Municipal Muddle.

Lakefield is in a little ferment in municipal matters—over the question of whether she has a legally qualified council board or is groping in a state of anarchy. On nomination day the reeve was elected by acclamation—Mr. W. H. Casement—and the following were nominated for councillors, the first four being members of the council of 1889:—Messrs. S. Nelson, J. Hull, S. Henderson, J. Moore, Dr. J. R. Fraser, F. Lillicrap and W. A. Eastland. All of the candidates for councillors, except Mr. Moore, regularly resigned their candidature, and virtually Mr. Moore, who had no opponent, and Mr. Casement, who had been elected reeve by acclamation, constituted the village council board for 1890. In view of the dilemma the wholesale resignations placed the village in, the three members of the old council, who had resigned their candidature, acting, it is said, under legal advice petitioned the returning officer to withdraw and cancel their resignations, and declare them elected members of the council. The course was adopted and the three members were declared members of the council of 1890. There seems, however, to be a doubt in some quarters that the course of action adopted is not legal. If it should prove not to be legal the village will be in a state of anarchy.

Presentation and Address.

To-morrow Mr. J. Milne, who has for some time been a member of St. Andrew's church choir, leaves town to become a resident of Toronto. Previous to his departure, the members of the choir presented Mr. Milne with a volume, each, of Swinton's, Tennyson's and Ingelow's poems, accompanied by the following address:—

To MR. MILNE:

DEAR FRIEND—It is with regret we learn of your departure from our midst to a new sphere of duty. We cannot permit you to leave St. Andrew's choir where you have so long and so ably assisted, without expressing our sorrow at parting. We feel that by your faithful and constant attendance to duty, you have stimulated many times when our spirits flagged. And now we cannot but express our gratitude. We desire you to accept the accompanying token of esteem, not for its intrinsic value, but as in some slight measure, showing our feelings towards you, and trust that you may long be spared to enjoy many occasions similar to what we have spent together.

Signed on behalf of the choir of St. Andrew's,

J. H. KETCHAM, Leader.

Mr. Milne made a graceful and appropriate reply, expressing his thanks for their kind remembrance of him. He had always assisted in the work of the choir with great pleasure, especially since the leadership of Mr. Ketchen, when the progress and harmony in a double sense—had been very gratifying.

Two Society Funerals.

The Masonic Brethren Lay their Late Brother, Dr. J. B. Hunter, at Rest—The Sons of England pay the Last Honours to a Departed Brother.

THE LATE DR. HUNTER.

The funeral of the late Dr. J. B. Hunter took place on Sunday, and the occasion testified to the high respect in which the deceased was held. The casket was loaded with beautiful floral tributes; prominent among these was a handsome anchor contributed by Court Peterborough Lodge, A.O.U.W., of which order the deceased was a member. After a devotional service by Rev. E. F. Torrance, the Masonic brethren took charge of the funeral ceremonies, and after the prescribed ritual, the body was borne to the hearse, and the funeral procession formed, the Fire Brigade Band leading; then a procession of about 100 Masons in regalia and a long procession of the general public in carriages. Following are the names of the pallbearers who were all members of the Masonic Order, viz:—Wor. Bros. H. C. Rogers, R. E. Wood, Dr. Jas. T. Halliday, Adam Dawson and Bros. Dr. D. N. Carmichael Robt. Fair, Jno. McKee and A. L. Davis.

On arrival at the cemetery the procession halted at the burial plot of Mr. James Stratton, which commands a prominent situation in the south western section. Here the body was taken and slowly deposited in its last resting place, by the hands of the deceased's Masonic brethren. The Rev. P. C. Parker of the Baptist church, then stepped forward and delivered the customary burial service of his church, followed by the Rev. S. J. Shorey in an impressive prayer. After which the beautiful burial ceremony of the Masonic Order was performed.

On the return of the Masons to their hall, the lodges were again opened and called up to labour. Among the visitors present were R.W. Bro. D. H. Hunter, D.D.G.M., Woodstock, a brother of the deceased, and R.W. Bro. John Hoodless, of the city of Hamilton, accompanied by Bro. J. R. Stratton, M.M.P., brother-in-law of the deceased. The visitors were introduced by R. W. Bro. Beej. Shortly, and were appropriately welcomed by their Peterborough brethren, received with the grand honours, and invited to seats in the East. The following resolution of condolence, moved by R.W. Bro. E.H.D. Hall, and seconded by Bro. Wm. Menzies, was passed:—

Resolved—That the members of the Masonic bodies of Peterborough desire to tender to the bereaved relatives of their late Bro. Dr. J. B. Hunter, their fraternal sympathy for the loss they have suffered by his early death; and especially to express to the afflicted wife and child of our deceased brother the earnest hope that in their hour of sorrow the Grand Architect of the Universe may minister unto them an abundance of the consolations He has promised to bestow upon the widow and the fatherless, that they may know by experience that "earth has no sorrows that Heaven cannot heal."

Copies of this resolution, bearing the official signatures of the Wor. Masters of the local lodges, were ordered to be forwarded to the family of the deceased, and to Palestine Lodge, Detroit, of which deceased was a member at the time of his death.

R. W. Bro. D. H. HUNTER addressed the brethren, thanking them in feeling terms for the mark of respect which they had just shown to the memory of his late brother. He took it as a great favour, and one that he would never forget as long as he lived, that so many of the Peterborough brethren should have turned out in such terrible weather to perform the last sad rites for his departed brother.

R. W. Bro. JOHN HOODLESS returned thanks for the cordial reception they, as visitors, had received at the hands of the brethren of Peterborough. In the city of Hamilton, where he lived, and where their deceased brother was well known, Masonry flourished in an eminent degree; but he had no idea of finding it so strong and so flourishing in Peterborough. He was surprised and very agreeably disappointed by the Masonic gathering he had seen to-day, and when he went back to Hamilton he would not fail to tell his brethren there what he knows of the strength and spirit of Masonry in Peterborough.

THE LATE WILLIAM GASKIN.

The funeral of the late Mr. Gaskin, of Auburn, took place on Sunday afternoon, under Sons of England auspices. The deceased brother was held in high respect. About 120 of the brethren assembled at the lodge room and proceeded to the late residence of deceased. After services by Rev. J. W. McCleary, a procession of the Sons of England members was formed headed by the Y.M.C.A. band, and proceeded to St. Luke's church, where the funeral service of the church was conducted by Rev. Mr. McCleary. As the funeral was leaving the church the organ wailed forth the mournful notes of the "Dead March in Saul." On arrival at the cemetery, the body was laid at rest with the peculiar ceremonies of the order. The brethren of the Sons of England have a high appreciation of the courtesy shown them by the brethren of the Masonic procession. The latter was retiring from the cemetery on Crescent street, and meeting the Sons of England procession, the Masons opened their ranks and stood with uncovered heads while the other procession passed between.

Boycotting a Baker.

To the Editor of the Examiner

SIR,—In this enlightened age, and particularly in Canada, it is a rare thing to hear of boycotting. But, nevertheless, we have a case of it here right in our own good town. The bakers of the town of Peterborough have formed a combine to raise the price of bread. They sent a deputation to see me and because I refused to fall in with their ideas they notified the mills not to sell me any more flour, or they would withdraw their custom. Now, all I ask is a fair price, but I do not intend to be a party to robbing the public, for I certainly consider that the proposed action is nothing more or less than that. My price for bread is ten cents, but the bakers seem to imagine that that figure is too low and they have asked me to raise my price one cent. In taking this action the other bakers are doing the millers a great injustice; as they are certainly driving trade away from town, but my thick headed competitors do not so regard it. In this matter I feel confident that I will receive the support of every fair minded person in town and I do not propose to back down in the slightest degree from the position that I have taken.

L. POTVIN.

Peterborough, Jan. 4th, 1890.

Personal.

Mr. R. Calvert, late with the Lock Works Co., leaves to-morrow for Boston.

Mr. R. A. Goodwin, an old resident of Lindsay, who at one time lived in Peterborough and has a sister living here still, died on the 31st December.

Bert Kennedy, K.M.C., is at Belleville. This cadet is the youngest son of the late W. N. Kennedy, of Peterborough and Winnipeg, who died of smallpox in London on his return from the Egyptian expedition.

A Great Success.

The wonderful bargains and immense value given at the great sale of M. Sullivan & Co's has caused the great success of the sale. Hundreds of customers have come to "shop" and stayed to buy. The prices and goods were such as they could not resist. A splendid stock, kept well assorted, placed at figures which must sell the goods. A beautiful line of woven shawls form one of the latest and most attractive features. Don't neglect this great sale. If you do you will miss the biggest bargains ever presented in Peterborough. dw

Have you Neuralgia;

If you are suffering the agonies of neuralgia, and have failed to get a remedy that will afford relief, we want you to try Polson's Nervilina. No remedy in the market has given any thing like the same degree of satisfaction. Its action or nerve pain is simply marvellous, and as it is put up in 10 cent sample bottles no great expense is involved in giving it a trial. Polson's Nervilina is the most pleasant, powerful, and certain pain remedy in the world. Sold by all dealers in medicine, 10 and 25 c bottle. 61w1

The Presbyterian Year Book.

The EXAMINER has to thank the Presbyterian Printing and Publishing Company, Toronto, for a copy of the sixteenth annual edition of "The Presbyterian Year Book." This is a most comprehensive and valuable collection, relating to every interest and department of Presbyterian work. It is illustrated with a portrait of Rev. Principal Grant, and pictures of several prominent churches. No Presbyterian, who wishes to keep abreast of the progress of the church and acquire that knowledge of her interests essential to his successful assistance in the promotion of them, can afford to be without a copy of this comprehensive and complete little work, which costs only 25 cents. CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Prof. Loisette's MEMORY

DISCOVERY AND TRAINING METHOD

In spite of adulterated imitations which miss the theory, and practical results of the Original, in spite of the grossest misrepresentations by envious would-be competitors, and in spite of "base attempts to rob" him of the fruit of his labors, full of which demonstrates the undoubted superiority and popularity of his teachings), Prof. Loisette's Art of Never Forgetting is recognized to-day in both Hemispheres as marking an Epoch in Memory Culture. His Prospectus (sent post free) gives opinions of people in all parts of the globe who have actually studied his System by correspondence, showing that his System is used only while being studied, not afterwards, that any Book can be learned in a single reading, mind-wandering cured, &c. DEMOCRATIC MEASURES.

THREE IMPORTANT BILLS INTRODUCED IN CONGRESS.

A Change in the Extradition Law with Great Britain Demanded—Four New States Seeking Admission—Transportation in Bond—Cuba and the Monroe Doctrine.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—These bills were introduced in the House to-day:

Mr. Stewart (Dem., Ga.)—Requesting the Executive Departments to change the extradition laws with Great Britain so that persons charged with grand larceny, embezzlement and other crimes may be extradited from Canada.

Mr. Springer (Dem., Ill.)—For the admission of Arizona, Idaho, New Mexico and Wyoming into the United States.

(Senate) Mr. Reagan (Dem., Tex.)—To prevent transportation of merchandise in bond from ports and territories of the United States into the Republic of Mexico, and to restore that privilege when the zona libra along the boundary between the two countries is abolished.

Mr. Call (Dem., Fla.) offered a long preamble and resolution in regard to the island of Cuba and asked for immediate action. He states that there is reason to believe that the debt of that island as consolidated by the decree of the Queen of Spain on May 10, 1886 ($124,000,000 at 6 per cent.), is now in the hands of German bankers and subject to the control, more or less active and direct, of the Government of the German Empire; that by a subsequent decree dated Nov. 19, 1886, such debt was converted into a new one bearing less interest but for a larger amount and is subject to the same condition and guarantees that this debt is secured by special mortgage of the customs revenue of the Island of Cuba and of all taxes, direct or indirect; that under the ordinary course of events and the financial condition of both Cuba and Spain it is more than probable neither Cuba nor Spain will be able to meet their obligations and to pay off either principal or interest when they become due; that under these circumstances, and for all practical purposes the political as well as the financial control of the island of Cuba has been transferred to the Government of the German Empire; that the immediate consequence of such a state of affairs is an alliance between Spain and Germany, not less binding and powerful because of its being unwritten, whereby the German Government becomes interested in assisting Spain to perpetuate her sovereignty in Cuba, thus interfering with the historical laws and principles which must rule in the American hemisphere; that such a condition of things is not only contrary to the traditional policy of the United States and to its most cherished tenets, but constitutes a menace to the best interests of the United States as well as to the best interests of the whole sisterhood of American Republics. The resolution therefore declares that in the sense of the senate everything done or attempted to be done in the Island of Cuba, tending in anyway whatever to transfer the financial and political control of Cuba to any European power is contrary to the policy and to the best interests of the United States and must be discountenanced and protested against. It also requests the President to furnish to the Senate such information as may be in possession of the State Department in regard to the matter, so as to enable the Senate in its executive capacity or otherwise, to take such action as may be deemed proper under the circumstances.

Mr. Sherman: "I object to the present consideration of the resolution unless to have it referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations."

Mr. Call: "I have no objection to that reference."

The resolution was then referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

National Bank Circulation Scheme.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—John J. Knox, president of the National Bank of the Republic of this city, has prepared a bill to be introduced in Congress providing for a permanent National Bank circulation. The bill provides for the issue of bank circulation in amount not exceeding 50 per cent. of the capital of each bank, 70 per cent. of this circulation is to be secured by the deposit of United States bonds at par or of silver bullion at the market price. The other 30 per cent. is not to be secured by a deposit of each bank but by a safety fund on deposit with the United States Treasurer.

A REAR END COLLISION.

Two Extra M.C. Freights Crash Together near Cayuga—No Lives Lost.

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 6.—An extra east-bound train on the Michigan Central ran into the rear end of another extra east-bound freight on the Grand River bridge, near Cayuga, at noon to-day, and seven empty coal cars, two flats and the caboose tumbled into the river 20 feet below. The engine was also wrecked. The trainmen escaped by climbing up on the bridge.

Another extra freight jumped the track a mile east of this city and four cars were completely wrecked.

A Big Record in Receipts.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—The season of Italian opera, closed at the Auditorium Saturday afternoon, was the most memorable in the history of amusements in Chicago. Since the dedication of the opera-house four weeks ago there have been twenty-one performances and the gross receipts of these and the dedication ceremonies amount to exactly $282,954. It is believed that these figures exceed any record in the history of the amusements in this country.

They Don't Know Joiner.

RALEIGH, N.C., Jan. 6.—The News and Observer says that after making a thorough examination it has failed to ascertain that such a person as Rev. T. M. Joiner, the alleged British subject making complaint of improper treatment at Holly Springs, has ever been in that vicinity or that such outrage as reported ever occurred there. Joiner is entirely unknown to the people of that community.

A Death Dealing Train.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Jan. 6.—A mail and express train to-night killed four men. The train despatcher and an unknown man were killed at Tyrone. At Bens Creek the train, killed two others, both unknown. The train struck an omnibus in Morrellville and severely injured a passenger.

Detroit's Collector Resigns.

DETROIT, Jan. 6.—After a heated open correspondence of a fortnight's duration Collector of Customs J. Campau to-day sent his resignation to Secretary Windom. Campau was the last Democrat holding an important federal office here.

Not Provided for by Law.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Assistant-Secretary Tichenor has informed a correspondent that there is no provision of law which would authorize the admission free of duty of old plushes from Canada for the purpose of being renovated and returned to that country.

Ex-Empress Augusta's Condition.

BERLIN, Jan. 6.—The ex-Empress Augusta is still in a critical condition.

HIS SKIN PUZZLES THE DOCTORS.

Henry Borst of Arlington, N. J., Changing Color, Chameleon-like.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Physicians in Arlington, N.J., and several in this city are puzzled over a mysterious disease that afflicts Henry Borst of Elm-street, Arlington. Borst was employed in the cellonite works. He complained a few weeks ago of peculiar pains in his head. At the same time he noticed that the flesh on his breast and limbs assumed a strange color, at first appearing in faint blotches and accompanied by itching. The pains in his head ceased in a few days, but his sufferings continued. He was troubled with gastritis, and the skin on several portions of his body became very tender and began after a time to look like that of a fish. In places it peeled off of its own accord. So sore did he become that he could not lie in bed, and was too weak to stand or walk.

Arlington physicians failed to give him any relief, and then they consulted several eminent pathologists in the medical colleges of this city. Consultation after consultation was held and the doctors all agreed that the disease was one they had never heard of. Finally it was decided to send Borst this week to a medical institution at Plainfield, where he will have the attention of experts.

Neighbors of Borst shun the house as they would that of a leper, fearful lest it be that or some other equally dreaded disease.

SALISBURY INSISTENT.

THE PREMIER SENDS A FRESH NOTE TO LISBON.

Senor Carlos Presumptuous Ignored—The Rights of England Must be Respected—Torpedo Mines Being Laid in the Tagus—General Cable News.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Lord Salisbury to-day sent a fresh note to the Portuguese Government on the African question. He ignores Portugal's protestations and insists upon Portugal respecting the rights of England. He threatens an immediate rupture of diplomatic relations or worse unless satisfaction is given for Major Serpa Pinto's outrages.

The Standard of this morning insists that vigorous action must be at once taken to restore the prestige of England in Africa.

German engineers are reported to be laying torpedo mines in the Tagus to protect the harbor of Lisbon. The report that a British fleet would be in the Tagus on Jan. 12 was premature.

The West End Scandal.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The trial of Arthur Newton, the solicitor, Frederick Taylorson, his clerk, and Adolphine De Galla the interpreter, who were arrested on the charge of conspiring to defeat justice in connection with the West End scandal, began before Magistrate Vaughan in the Bow-street Police Court today. A lad named Algernon Allies testified that he had resided in the Cleveland-street house and had received moneys for immoral purposes. He had destroyed letters that he had received from Lord Arthur Somerset. Allies admitted that he had stolen valuables from a club in which he had been employed as a waiter. He was not imprisoned for the thefts, Lord Arthur Somerset becoming his security. The witness stated that subsequent to the expose of the scandal Taylorson had tried to induce him to go to America.

Wissman Fights Another Battle.

ZANZIBAR, Jan. 6.—Another engagement has taken place between the insurgent natives and the forces commanded by Major Wissman. After severe fighting Wissman captured Bwaniberis' fortified position near Soadini. Many natives were killed. Fifteen Germans were wounded. When the natives were driven from their position they left behind them rifles and ammunition of all kinds.

An English Yacht Wrecked.

CADIZ, Jan. 6.—The English yacht Inca has been wrecked on the Aceiteras rocks. It was reported fourteen men were drowned and four saved. It is now reported ten men in the boats are missing.

Her Majesty's Illness.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—Queen Victoria is said to be suffering from the rheumatism, but it is privately reported that her ailment is the influenza.

The Contest for the World's Fair.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—A delegation of thirty Missourians, headed by Gov. Francis and Mayor Noonon of St. Louis, arrived here this afternoon to begin the work of looking to St. Louis being selected for the place of holding the world's fair. To-night the delegation met and appointed three committees to confer with similar committees from New York, Chicago and Washington regarding an amicable contest for the prize. It was decided to have Congress first authorise the holding of an exposition and then decide in what city to hold it.

Duty or a Bounty Wanted.

WASHINGTON, Jan 6.—Ex-Gov. Warmoth of Louisiana and other representatives of the sugar producing interests, were before the Ways and Means Committee to-day urging the retention of the present duty on sugar, or if this is removed the payment of a bounty instead.

Effected a Painful Reconciliation.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Jan. 6.—Joel K. Brown of Dayton left his wife last Friday and joined another woman. Whitecaps took the couple out and whipped them until they were nearly dead. Brown then effected a reconciliation with his wife.

LOSSES BY FLAMES.

A $60,000 Blaze at Quebec—A Kansas Hotel Goes up in Smoke.

QUEBEC, Jan. 6.—Yesterday fire declared itself in the Canadian shoe factory, in St. Valier-street. The whole interior factory was gutted. The loss will exceed $10,000, which is mostly covered by insurance. Two hundred and fifty persons were employed in the Canadian shoe company and they are thus suddenly deprived of employment. The fire originated in the engine-room.

A Hotel Burnt.

HIAWATHA, Kas., Jan. 6.—Fire was discovered in the principal hotel early this morning and guests were obliged to jump from the second and third story windows to save their lives. A number of persons were injured, but none fatally.

Afraid of the Cars.

DUBLIN, Jan. 6.—At a meeting of the Municipal Council to-day a motion was made to ask the Queen to visit Dublin and open the new museum. The motion was rejected on the ground that the council had no authority over the museum and that if such a request was made political opponents might use the facts against those members who voted in favor of it.

A Planing Mill Burnt.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 6.—The Hutchinson planing mill and a large gearing works at Westerville, near here, were destroyed by fire this afternoon. Loss $60,000.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

LA GRIPPE'S GAMBOLS.

Holding High Carnival in Montreal and Other Canadian Cities.

MONTREAL, Jan. 6.—La grippe has not yet nearly reached its height here. There are few establishments which are not short handed as a result of the epidemic. The staffs of both the great railway offices are considerably reduced by the prevailing sickness. The Street Railway Company has some thirty of its conductors and drivers down with influenza and the management have considerable difficulty in running their lines. In the postoffice twenty-eight men are incapable of work; half the staff of nurses at the Montreal General Hospital are confined to their beds with influenza. Several serious cases of complications of influenza with pleurisy and pneumonia are under treatment at the hospital.

20 Cases at Picton.

PICTON, Jan. 6.—One of the leading physicians of the town reports at least fifty cases of influenza here. Some of these cases have developed into pneumonia.

In Its Worst Type at Sunderland.

SUNDERLAND, Jan. 6.—Influenza in its worst type has set in in this village and locality. Entire families are prostrated with the disease, and although no fatal cases are yet reported, recovery is doubtful with some.

The Grippe at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Jan. 6.—The grippe is becoming alarmingly prevalent, and in some cases the symptoms are quite violent. Mayor Doran is suffering with it, though he was able to be about to-day. A number of Grand Trunk employes are unable to work, and blame the grippe, while every second citizen has got something that very much resembles it.

It Kills a Prince.

BERLIN, Jan. 6.—The Prince of Thurn and Taxis is dead. He had the influenza, followed by pneumonia.

The epidemic is rapidly abating here, but it is spreading in the Palatinate, in Franconia, in Bavaria and Saxony.

Labouchere His Own Medicine Man,

LONDON, Jan. 6.—"I like to be in the fashion," writes Mr. Labouchere, "so I bore my fate with equanimity when I discovered that I had caught last week the prevailing epidemic. All of a sudden I seemed to have caught a cold and took to sneezing, etc. Then came a cough and headache and an all-overish ache. Knowing that it was not dangerous I proceeded to doctor myself by the light of common sense. To prevent any fever I at once administered to myself thirty grains of quinine—that settled the fever. To meet the cough I took unlimited squill pills—that settled the cough. To meet the cold I went to bed, heaped on the bed blankets and took nothing but slops—that settled the cold. In four days I was quite well."

In the States.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—La grippe is spreading rapidly here and several deaths are reported. Private Secretary Halford and Secretary of the Treasury Windom are victims. At least one-fifth of the Government clerks are reported down with it.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 6.—While suffering from la grippe Richard Borswith of this city became insane and jumped from a second story window. He has not been seen since. follow elections

Ingersoll Bylaws Carried.

INGERSOLL, Jan. 6.—The frontage improvement tax by-law carried to-day by a majority of 339 votes.

A bylaw establishing a free library was carried by a majority of 252.

The Doherty Bonus Beaten at London.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The bylaw for a $25,000 loan to the Doherty Organ Company of Clinton, as an inducement for the removal of their works to this city failed to obtain the ⅔ vote.

Proposed Oshawa Bylaw Defeated.

OSHAWA, Jan. 6.—The local improvement bylaw was defeated to-day by a large majority.

Guelph Junction Bylaw Carried.

GUELPH, Jan. 6.—The bylaw to grant a loan of $18,000 to the Guelph Junction Railway, after being twice defeated, was voted on to-day for the third time and carried, 611 to 314.

Found Dead in the Road.

WARKWORTH, Jan. 6.—A man about 55 years of age, commonly dressed, was found dead in the road this morning near David Cummings' farm, 7 miles west of this village.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Mayor Clarke Re-elected by Nearly 2000 Majority—Death of a Newspaper Man.

TORONTO, Jan. 7.—Yesterday was the quietest election day in many years. Interest centered in the mayoralty contest which resulted in the return of the present incumbent, Mr. E. F. Clarke, by a majority of 1974 over Ald. McMillan.

John C. Maclean, the youngest brother of the Messrs. Maclean of The World, died yesterday of pneumonia. He was at various times connected with The Mail, Telegram Globe and World. Mr. Maclean was in his thirtieth year.

J. R. Noland's fur store, 23 York-street, was broken into Sunday night and a number of valuable muffs stolen.

John Slater, a man who has lost both legs, was sent to Kingston Penitentiary yesterday morning for 2½ years. He requested a severe sentence. He had stolen $250 from an old pensioner named Richard Kirman.

THE TRENTON MYSTERY.

No Clue to Mrs. Knifin's Murderer—The Doctor Attempts Suicide.

TRENTON, Jan. 6.—A pall of mystery still envelops the Knifin murder case. Excitement and interest have increased steadily since murdered Mrs. Knifshaw as discovered in her bed in her husband's home, until public feeling has reached a point rarely, if ever before, attained in this old town. Days have passed since the woman with the chloroform-steeped coverlid over her face was found dead, but no progress has been made towards the solution of the occurrence.

Dr. Knifin took an ounce of aconite and gashed his wrists and throat with a razor at his home this morning. He will live. He says he attempted to take his life because he was discouraged at the strong tide of public feeling against him.

IMPERIAL ABSOLUTISM.

THE AGGRANDIZEMENT OF THE EXECUTIVE IN GERMANY.

William O'Brien's Novel Expected to Cause a Sensation—The Attempt on Mackie's Friend—The Friends of Water Popularity—Ready on the 6-Hour Question.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The New Year letter of Emperor William to Prince Bismarck has aroused considerable discussion over what is called the aggrandizement of the executive in Germany. The fact which strikes the critic is that since the accession of William II. the emperor figures more and more as the mainspring of the Government, and the ministers fall more and more into the background, while the legislative bodies, and even the minor sovereigns, sink into comparative insignificance. This is a departure from the method of William I., who appeared during his lifetime rather as the instrument or supporter of his ministers than as the spontaneous controller of all that was done, although the light that has since been thrown on many important transactions shows that the monarch was often really the prime mover where he was least suspected of independent action. His grandson, for the present, seems anxious to settle all burning questions himself. This, it is contended, has created a revolutionary feeling among many Germans, who think it is putting the clock back a whole century. The German official belief, on the other hand, seems to be that absolutism is the ideal of the future.

The novel on which William O'Brien employed his time in prison will soon be published. A friend of O'Brien, who is no bad judge in literary matters, has read several chapters of the book, and says he believes that it will create a sensation by revealing remarkable and hitherto unsuspected literary powers on O'Brien's part, and by shedding light upon the inner soul of the Irish problem. Although not a political novel in any sense of the word, it is likely to do much for the Irish cause. The report that Mr. O'Brien had parted with the copyright is incorrect. He has received overtures from several publishers, but has not as yet offered the work to anyone.

No date has yet been fixed for the resumption of the Bishop of Lincoln's trial. The bishops, during the past week, have held several animated conferences on the subject of broaching the question of the primate's jurisdiction at the next session of the convocation, in which case the trial would stand adjourned until March. By that time a whole year will have elapsed since the reconstitution of the archbishop's court on the promotion of the church association. Certainly the half dozen protests now being signed by the clergy—and by none so readily as the evangelical clergy—point to a grave impeachment in convocation of the archbishop's preliminary judgment with respect to his jurisdiction over com-provincials.

The continued and even growing popularity of the Prince of Wales is evidenced by the variety and eminence of the visitors who have recently accepted his hospitality at Sandringham. Among others entertained by the prince this week were Sir Charles Russell, Arnold Morley, Henry Fowler and other Liberal members of parliament. It so happened that these prominent Gladstonians arrived just as an equally prominent party of their political opponents were departing, among the latter being Lord Hartington, Lord Randolph Churchill and Sir Henry James. The unique position of the prince, as a social and political harmonizer, is not without value as an influence in public affairs.

Lord Randolph Churchill's second letter on the eight-hour question is attracting quite a good deal of attention, and is regarded in a variety of ways by the different sections of politicians. The ministers generally regard it as rather a wild bid for popularity and power; but in Tory circles of less responsibility the letter is otherwise interpreted. In London the conditions of labor are essentially different from those which obtain in any of the great towns of the north. It is not the rule here for men to work in conjunction with great investments in machinery. This lessens the amount of opposition from powerful capitalists to be encountered here as compared with most other English cities in regard to the eight-hour plan. Lord Randolph Churchill is evidently counting on this fact in his attempt to commit the Conservative candidates in London to a position on the labor question which will give them the support of many followers of the socialist John Burns and take the wind out of the sails of the advanced Liberals. On the other hand, however, there is quite a strong party in the working class who are afraid of the eight-hour system because they fear it will involve reduction in pay or abolition of over-time. Pitifully enough, men can be found who are working an average of sixty-eight hours a week, yet who protest against a proposal to lessen their period of work. They can hardly be blamed, however, for their fears, since disinterested and learned political economists are by no means agreed as to what effect a compulsory eight-hour law would have upon wages. At all events John Burns, within a few days, has intimated to the Liberal leaders that the Tories are ready to concede all that the socialists demand on this point.

That Glorious Climate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—The storm has caused great damage to the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company's road. Three accidents have been reported. Fireman Oros was scalded at Hood River yesterday and Fireman Orvis was killed in a collision between a freight and passenger train near Willows last night. It is rumored two men were killed and thirteen persons injured on the same road at Ripara, but this is unconfirmed. The first train from Spokane in five days arrived to-day. Eight engines have been demolished on this road. The heaviest snowstorm in years prevails.

A Bigamist Arrested.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 6.—Robert Konigdorffer was arrested here to-night for bigamy. The marshal thinks his right name is Adolph Brand and that he is the same man who figured in Peoria, Ill., under the name of Carl Herbert, where he is wanted for robbing his employer, H. Smek, of $1000. He fled to this city leaving his wife behind. He was married here on Nov. 9. The Illinois authorities have been notified.

Explosion of a Naphtha Still.

LIMA, Jan. 6.—One of the thousand barrel stills of the Naphtha works exploded to-day. Wm. Culver, foreman, was found insensible, cut and burned; Peter Devine, a brick mason, leg broken and badly burned. Both may die. Seven others were burned but not seriously.

The Window Glass Trust.

BOSTON, Jan. 6.—It is said the American window glass trust has been formed at Pittsburg. The twelve largest American importers of window glass met here the past week and agreed upon an advance of 10 per cent. Prices abroad have risen because of the advance in raw materials.

Killed Their Sister's Betrayer.

HARRISBURG, Ky., Jan. 6.—Joseph and Campbell Noell, brothers, this afternoon waylaid, shot and killed J. W. Langford for ruining their sister.

Funeral of Chancellor Pierson.

ALBANY, Jan. 4.—The funeral of the late Chancellor Henry R. Pierson took place from St. Peter's Church this afternoon, which was crowded to the doors. Governor Hill, George William Curtis, Secretary of State Rice, the regents of the university and other prominent persons, including President Webster of Union College, Dr. R. P. Fairbairn of St. Stephen's College, Rev. Father Kircher of Niagara University, were present.

Sully Will Umpire No More.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Dave Sullivan, the famous baseball umpire, died suddenly last evening of heart disease. He had just finished singing "McGinty" and was laughing heartily with a couple of friends when the fatal moment came. He was 34 years old.

Adopted the Morse Code.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Secretary Tracy has directed the substitution of the American Morse code for that now used by the navy. This code has already been adopted by the army.

Gen. Rivas Captured.

LA LIBERTAD, San Salvador, Jan. 4.—Gen. Rivas, the leader of the suppressed revolution, has been captured.

Nellie Speeding On.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Nellie Bly arrived in Yokohama yesterday. She expects to reach San Francisco Jan. 20.

Look at the clothing store news up and down the columns of the papers! Is it not so.

We could pile adjective upon hyperbole—could print with display type the most impossible statement if we choose, but we spare you.

They can all gang their ain gait, while we go on making our clothing business bigger by making it better; the only sure way and we hold our own with the best in quality, style and make with real cheapness, Our boys' Readymade clothing cannot be beaten in style, quality and price.

We had a heavy run on Ladies' Mantles last week, A lot of good goods at Bargain Prices still to select from.

Our 40c. Heavy Canadian tweeds please the eye and pockets of all.

In the name of Jack Frost—Blankets. If we could only tell you all we know of Blankets, it would be good reading. One thing we do know, and don't fear to say is, you will get more good wool and generous size in the Blankets now here at $5, than is generally offered. Blankets at $4 and $3.75 of good medium sizes.

Once more the cheapest stock of Grey Flannels and Cottons is with us. The people carry it off with more industry than ants, which is the best proof that business men have that goods are cheap.

CANADIANS
Work Too Hard!

The Result is Sleeplessness, Nervousness and a Broken-Down System, often

Ending in Insanity.

Thousands of overworked business men, worried housewives, industrious mechanics, and tired women, in all parts of the Dominion are to-day in a terrible position. Their nerves are weak, digestion poor, head aching, and they cannot sleep, work or live in comfort. This is what fills our Insane Asylums. This is the cause of that terrible Pemale Ruine. If it is too late, use Dr. Phelps' wonderful discovery, Paine's Celery Compound. It removes the results of overwork, restores strength, renews vitality, regulates the whole system, and tones up the overworked brain and body. Do not despair, but use this wonderful remedy, and be restored to health and happiness, the same as was Mr. John L. Brodie, of Montreal, who writes: "I have great pleasure in recommending your Paine's Celery Compound. My system was run down and I was not fit for business, could not sleep well at night and was nervous. I commenced taking Paine's Celery Compound and improved immediately. I am now able to transact my business and endure any amount of excitement without bad effect."

Paine's Celery Compound can be purchased at any druggist's for one dollar a bottle. If he should not have it on hand, order direct from WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Montreal.

The Daily Examiner.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 7, 1890.

WHEN the Mail advocates extended trade relations for Canada with the United States, the Empire refers to the Mail as a "Grit journal." But when the Mail takes up the Tory platform as represented by Mr. Meredith, "mum's the word." Can the Mail and Empire think that they can thus play the Tory game, without the public seeing through it?

A contemporary furnishes the following list of wealthy members of the U. S. Senate, and the estimated amount in each case:—Harbour, $1,000,000; Brown, $2,500,000; Cameron, $3,000,000; Farewell, $3,000,000; Hale, $1,000,000; Hearst, $10,000,000; Jones, (Nevada) $2,000,000; McMillan, $10,000,000; Payne, $5,000,000; Plumb, $1,000,000; Sawyer, $3,000,000; Sherman, $3,000,000; Squire, $1,000,000; Stanford, $30,000,000; Stewart, $1,000,000; Stockbridge, $1,000,000; Washburn, $1,000,000.

THE Montreal Star very properly remarks that the proposal to establish Farmers' Institutes in this province on the model of those in Ontario is an excellent one, and Colonel Rhodes will have the best wishes of the community in carrying it into effect apart altogether from mere party considerations. In Ontario these institutes have been of immense benefit to the farmers, in giving them opportunities for meeting and discussing their mutual interests. The debates carried on and resolutions adopted at these meetings furnish a valuable indication of the tendency of thought in the rural constituencies, make known the feelings of the agricultural class, and are an educating influence of great value to the general public as well as to the farmers themselves.

ENGLISH capital getting possession of Mexican railways is not wonderful, seeing that the same capital is gobbling up American money-making institutions. When people want to make themselves safe they invest in English ventures. England is the home of capital. All the potentates of Europe for some generations have been investing their money in English bonds, because England had the most stable of all governments:

"Bread-based upon the people's will
And surrounded by the invisible sea."

In America we have seen this capital buying up all sorts of businesses of late, and no man can tell in the United States what are the influences that control their greatest enterprises.

THE statistics of bankruptcy in the United States and Canada for 1889 show that the total number of failures in the Dominion last year was 1,777, compared with 1,677 in 1888. In the United States the failures increased from 10,679 to 10,882. In Canada the proportion of failures was one for every 45 firms or individuals in business, while in the United States it was one for every 97 persons or firms. The aggregate of liabilities of the Canadian bankrupts was $14,713,223 in 1889, compared with $14,081,109 in the preceding year, and there was a proportionate increase in the liabilities of United States bankrupts. These figures do not indicate a very prosperous condition of business under trade restriction. In 1878 when our Tory leaders perambulated the country patriotically declaring that everything was going to ruin, business was in a far more healthy condition in the Dominion than in the United States. Now, judging from the bankruptcy returns of the year just ended, the very reverse is the case. Estimating the population of Canada at five millions and that of the United States at sixty millions, we find that during the year 1889 there was one business failure in Canada for every 2,813 inhabitants, while in the neighbouring republic the failures were one in every 5,972 of population.

Guarding Against Competition

Our pusillanimous trade restrictionists pretend that Canadians cannot compete with Americans in a fair field. This is a gross libel upon Canadian manhood and Canadian intelligence, and it is acknowledged to be such even by the restrictionists of the United States. Congressman Chipman, of Detroit, has introduced in the Washington House of Representatives a bill to prevent Canadians from carrying on business in the United States without becoming American citizens. Mr. Chipman's measure, which is avowedly aimed at Canadians, proposes to enact that no foreigner shall be either officer, president, superintendent, manager or director of any corporation formed under the laws of the United States or any of the states; nor be a conductor, engineer, fireman, brakeman, baggageman, switchman, or car driver on any railroad, including street railroads, nor contract to do any work for the United States, or for any state, municipality, nor be a contractor for any work for any corporation in the United States; nor be a master, engineer, pilot, fireman or porter, on any water craft navigating in the waters of the United States, unless he be a resident of the United States, and has declared his intention to become a citizen. While this piece of proposed legislation betrays a narrow, cowardly and contemptible spirit on the part of its promoters, and will properly be laughed out of congress, it is nevertheless a confession that Canadians and other foreigners can work their way to the front and prove a permanent benefit to the United States, over the heads of native Americans contented to stay at home, even giving up their allegiance to the country of their birth. Yankees should be active themselves upon the employment of Canadians in Detroit and elsewhere is in fact a compliment. Americans that Canadians are upon their merits a superior class of men, who must be handicapped in some way if native Americans are to have a show.—Ottawa Free Press.

Among our loved ones. Hear the pleading
That goes up from aching hearts,
But grim death, our plea unheeding,
Pierces of the fatal dart
Those who with all life would tarry,
Those we long so much to keep,
And are long their forms we carry
To the grave so dark and deep.

Pleading with death avails nothing. We must do something to ward off the dart he aims at those we love. We must protect them from him. When the hacking cough, the hectic, or a pain in the side or chest gives indication of a consumptive tendency, act promptly. Go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This remedy allays the inflammation of the delicate lung tissues. It heals the irritated parts. It strengthens the blood and tones up the debilitated system, and in this way death can be forced to relinquish his hold upon our friend. It is guaranteed to cure, if, taken in time and given a fair trial, or money paid for it will be refunded. a

Mothers!

Remember that Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or any other narcotic substance, in any quantity, shape or form. It is entirely vegetable, pleasant to take, positively effective and perfectly harmless. It is not a secret remedy; the formula is printed on the wrapper. Your physician will recommend it. Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, and many so-called soothing syrups are composed principally of opium or morphine; in any quantity they stupify, and in large quantities are deadly poisons. Castoria assimilates the food and regulates the bowels, cures diarrhœa, allays feverishness and fretfulness, soothes the pain in teething, relieves constipation and kills worms. It brings refreshing and natural sleep to the child, and gives rest to the mother.

"Castoria is so well adapted to infants and children that I recommend it as superior to any other known remedy."

DR. H. A. ARCHER,
111 S. Oxford st., Brooklyn, N.Y.
March 8, 1887.

"From personal knowledge and observation I can say that Castoria is an excellent medicine for children, acting as a laxative and relieving the pent up bowels and general system very much. Many mothers have told me of its excellent effect upon their children." DR. G. C. OSGOOD.

PLUMS FOR THE XMAS PUDDING!

What's Nuts for the Buyers is Fun for Us.

12 DAYS OF SACRIFICE

From now until after Christmas we intend to let everything go! Our great $40,000 Sale, at 50 cents on the dollar, was a great success—in fact, away beyond our most sanguine expectations. Notwithstanding the great business done, there is yet about 1800 Overcoats, and 1900 Suits, and nearly 10,000 pairs of Boots to close out. To convert this into money, we have organized a Grand Sacrifice Sale of our whole stock, for 12 days, and will sell every article in our two big stores at ten per cent advance on cost. Taking into consideration that the goods were bought at 50 cents on the dollar, the reader can readily see that this sacrifice means a saving to the buyer of nearly one hundred per cent; or, in other words, WE PURPOSE FOR TWELVE DAYS GIVING GOLD DOLLARS FOR FIFTY CENT PIECES.

PLUMS FOR THE PUDDING:

$2.95 will buy a Man's All Wool Etoffe Overcoat.
$3.90 will buy a Man's Tweed Overcoat, lined with Heavy Serge, trimmed with Velvet Collar
$5.00 is our sale price, for Twelve Days only, for a Fine Worsted Overcoat.
$9.00 gives you your choice for all $15.00, $16.00 and $18.00 Overcoats.

BOYS' and CHILDREN'S CLOTHING—Mothers should see the value we are showing.

CHAPTER II.

THE CORONER TAKES CHARGE.

THE coroner came up at this moment and the sergeant gave him all the facts in his possession.

The official, who was a physician, examined the body.

"Death was instantaneous," he said; "the knife passed between the ribs and pierced the heart; a powerful blow."

The two policemen who had gone into the park returned. They brought with them a pair of trousers, a coat and a hat; they had been found at different places, but on a line with the supposed flight of the murderer; first the coat, then the trousers and lastly the hat—tossed on one side or the other, on the grass.

The coroner closely examined them, and then handed them to the sergeant. There was nothing whatever in the pockets.

They were of cheap quality, such as you see in front of Chatham street clothing stores on wire frames, marked six, eight and ten dollars the suit.

Apparently they had never been worn before, for the creases, which come from being folded in piles on the counters, were still in them.

"Worn for the purpose of being thrown off," commented the sergeant. "Where is the vest?"

"We didn't find any."

"Look again."

The two officers moved off to obey the order.

"Has the body been searched?" asked the coroner.

"No."

"Then search it."

Little was revealed. A handkerchief, a pair of kid gloves, a card case filled with cards, bearing the name of "James Holroyd Templeton," a receipted tailor's bill, a wallet containing memoranda, descriptions of real estate in various parts of the city, a gold toothpick, ninety-one dollars in bills, less than a dollar in silver change, a gold watch and chain, a few cigars.

These articles were placed in the handkerchief, tied up, and given to the coroner.

"The body may be removed, sergeant," said the coroner. "Have the clothes taken to the station house. Have you the names and addresses of the witnesses?"

"Yes; also the names of those who were last with the deceased."

"That is well."

"Except the address of this man," turning to Wessing, who had never left the side of the sergeant.

"I am a stranger in the city," he replied. "I live in Philadelphia; I came from there this evening."

"You came last night."

"Yes, since this is the morning, a new day."

"Where are you stopping?"

Wessing hesitated.

This made the sergeant suspicious.

"The truth is, sergeant," said Wessing, "I have not taken lodgings yet. My valise is over there at that hotel," pointing to Fourteenth street. "I was about to take a turn in the park, smoke my cigar and then go back to take a room."

"Um. Well, I will accommodate you with lodgings for the rest of the night."

"Why," said Holbrook, "he saw no more than I did."

"That may be," replied the sergeant, grimly, "but he may know more than you do. At all events, he must give a better account of himself than he has yet done."

This made Wessing smile.

"That I will do, but I prefer doing it at the station house rather than in this crowd."

"Well, let us go."

"I will go, too," said Holbrook, who was strongly attracted by Wessing.

"As you please," rejoined the sergeant; then turning to an officer he said: "Watch the body; I will send a litter to you as soon as I can."

Arriving at the station house, after all had been excluded except the coroner and Holbrook, Wessing gave a straightforward account of his coming into the city from Philadelphia the night previous, and his determination not to register himself at any hotel until after he had taken something to eat; that having eaten at an eating house on Fourteenth street and lit a cigar, he thought he would smoke it in the park and cool off before he returned to the hotel.

He gave names and addresses in Philadelphia whereby his statements could be verified by telegraph.

The sergeant, however, determined to hold him until verification could be made.

To this Wessing acquiesced so readily that Holbrook was convinced he had nothing to fear from investigation.

So expressing himself, he remarked to the sergeant: "Be careful you do not have a suit for false imprisonment on your hands."

This made the sergeant uneasy.

The coroner laughed, but would say nothing to relieve the officer.

"Have no fear," said Wessing, "you are only doing your duty."

This complaisance secured for Wessing the captain's room for the night rather than a cell.

Holbrook, having nothing to detain him, went away.

When he reached the square he went over to the spot where the murder had been done. He had no purpose in going there; an irresistible impulse—a strong fascination—drew him thither.

The square was deserted again and quiet reigned. The revelers had gone back to their haunts, the tramps to their benches in the park, the "night hawks" slept again on their beats, while they awaited the belated ones who might require their services. The moon shone brightly. The silence was oppressive; unbroken only at intervals by the snatches of drunken song in the distance and the occasional rumble of the trains on Third avenue.

Holbrook meditated on the uncertainty of life. The man Templeton was young, strong, in health, and in a moment his had been struck down and was dead. He walked the streets late at night himself at times, and the same fate might as easily have been his. But this manifestly was not a murder for the purpose of robbery. And was it a wanton blow struck in sheer wickedness through lust for blood? Hardly such things do not occur in our civilization. There was a motive for the act, a strong one doubtless. The discovery of the motive would lead to the discovery of the murderer. The first effort of the police would doubtless be to discover that motive.

As he stood something sparkled, under the sudden flaring of a distant electric light, at his feet.

He picked up the shining object.

It was a cuff button—a round, gold button with a diamond imbedded in its top.

Holbrook looked about him. The murdered man must have lain upon it.

"When was that lost?" he muttered to himself. "Does it have any connection with this murder?"

"Pshaw," he added, "it may have lain there all night. But stop! The street sweeping machine passed over this spot twenty minutes or less before the two met and would have swept it away."

He examined it closely.

"The button belongs to a man who commands money, and is particular in his dress. Good! Bar keepers and policemen do not wear diamond buttons of this kind, nor cabbies, nor tramps sleeping in the park, nor indeed many lawyers. It belonged either to the murdered man or his murderer."

He felt pleased with himself and thought he would make a shrewd detective.

"Perhaps it belongs to the coroner," he said aloud. "Not probable," he added, on another thought. "A coroner awakened in the middle of the night to view a body recently killed would hardly array himself with diamond buttons. At all events I suppose I must turn it over to the authorities. In the meantime I shall go to bed."

He put the button in his purse and entered his hotel.

It was a curious coincidence that at the moment Holbrook picked up the button a young man of fashion, who had just returned from his club to his apartments, half a mile distant, took off his coat and discovered that the buttonholes of his right cuff were torn out and his cuff button gone.

He looked at it a moment, muttered an oath and asked himself, "How was that done?"

Then he proceeded with his disrobing.

When troubled with a cough or cold get a bottle of Wilson's Wild Cherry and cure it at once, before it has time to settle on your lungs. Why experiment with new and untried remedies, when this old and reliable cure may be got from all leading druggists. A Good Corn Sheller for 25 cents.

A marvel of cheapness, of efficacy and of promptitude, is contained in a bottle of that famous remedy, Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. It goes right to the root of the trouble, there acts quickly but so painlessly that nothing is known of its operation until the corn is shelled. Beware of substitutes offered for Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor—safe, sure and painless. Sold at druggists. 6dw2

Of failing health, whether in the form of Night Sweats and Nervousness, or in a sense of General Weariness and Loss of Appetite, should suggest the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation is most effective for giving tone and strength to the enfeebled system, promoting the digestion and assimilation of food, restoring the nervous forces to their normal condition, and for purifying, enriching, and vitalizing the blood.

Failing Health.

Ten years ago my health began to fail. I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and I am now as healthy and strong as ever.—Mrs. E. L. Williams, Alexandria, Minn.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, that it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. I have also prescribed it as a tonic, as well as an alterative, and must say that I honestly believe it to be the best blood medicine ever compounded.—W. F. Fowler, D. D. S., M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

Dyspepsia Cured.

It would be impossible for me to describe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians and tried a great many kinds of medicines, but never obtained more than temporary relief. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties more perfectly. To-day my health is completely restored.—Mary Harley, Springfield, Mass.

I have been greatly benefited by the prompt use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It tones and invigorates the system, regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, and vitalizes the blood. It is, without doubt, the most reliable blood purifier yet discovered.—H. D. Johnson, 368 Atlantic ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

A POETICAL TRIBUTE

HONEST DEALING.

A grateful customer of Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co. has been moved to pen him verse the following truthful tribute to the excellence of this firm's goods. Truth and poetry do not always go together, but in this case they go hand in hand. There is no exaggeration nor poetical license in the following lines:—

Last night I had a pleasure dream, and well I did enjoy it,
In sleep I reached Parnassus' heights, and awoke a full fledged poet;
I turned not to cot nor debut, but quietly pressed my pen
To tell in verse how cheaply we could clothe our fellowmen.
Our prices make the rich to smile, the poor with joy to shout,
We are removed from this housedoorth to locate the bottom out;
The man must strike some warmer notch, and about up from below
That conducts the clothing store of H. LeBrun & Co.

Our choice five dollar overcoats, our special salesman shows,
Will keep you warm as a pie in the wildest storm that blows.
No ground up rags, no shoddy stuff, no mill pressed gins and hats,
But every thread spun from the sheep—fine, cheap, and made to wear.
You need not walk round shabby dressed, our prices must you convince,
Our seven dollar suits will dress you stylish as a prince.
For two and-fifty we will clothe your boy from head to toe
Right in the City Clothing Store of H. LeBrun & Co.

Our line of ready-made is good, choices you will receive,
Examine, choose and purchase cloth; with us your order leave.
We guarantee to cut and stitch complete as you command,
For style and finish every part here unsurpassed we stand.
Young sports that wish a stylish suit, for concert, church or ball,
Will have their true wish gratified, by giving us a call.
Out walking, or in sitting room your girl will wish to know
If you had bought that pretty suit from H. LeBrun & Co.

Our expert cutter measures true and strikes each new design,
With skilful hand his shears play crack, round angle, curve or line.
Our tailor's work, neat, strong, complete, o'er all the hot goods pleases,
Leaving no wrinkles in the back, nor puckers in the seams.
We don't believe in paper puffs that float off like a kite,
Our goods and prices come and test, as proofs of what we write.
No shoddy pressed, no ripping seams, air holes in two weeks show.
Cheapness and wear the motto is at H. LeBrun's & Co.

Before eighteen and eight-nine bids us a last adieu,
To all our patrons, rich and poor, thanks we return to you.
Fair honest dealing in the past upholds our business name,
And in the future, we resolve strict to pursue the same.
Come old and new friends, welcome come, Christmas is drawing nigh,
How you will smile to see how much a trifling sum will buy.
With pleasure we will suit your wants and smile you as you go,
With all the season's compliments, of H. LeBrun & Co.

A Runaway.

Monday afternoon Mr. Geo. Pope's delivery horse left the market square in rear of the store, dragging a fifty pound weight which was hung around its neck. It ran down Simcoe street a short distance when the weight around its neck upset the horse and his brief runaway exploit came to an ignominious termination.

Sunday School Anniversary.

Next Sunday the anniversary services of the George street Methodist church will be held. Rev. C. O. Johnston, of Napanee, preaches both morning and evening—in the morning to the children, and in the evening to parents and workers. The following Tuesday evening Dr. Barns will lecture, his number being one of the Sunday School Star Course.

Sons of England.

The remains of the late Wm. Gaskin, which were deposited in the vault Sunday, were to-day placed in the ground by about a dozen members of the Sons of England Society. Grand President Kemplin, of Barrie, conducted the burial.

To-night the Grand President and a few of the Peterborough brethren confer the White Rose degree in the Lakefield lodge.

How it Works Here.

A town physician who is said to have a number of influenza cases under treatment sends in the following "veritable symptoms" of la grippe in Peterborough:—"If a man is known to moose twice in one day, to spit on the carpet where he smokes, and to look cross at his wife, it is then conceded on all hands that he has a bad dose of la grippe."

The Week of Prayer.

There was a good congregation in the Baptist church last night at the first meeting in connection with the week of prayer. Rev. E. F. Torrance was the speaker. To-night's meeting is in the Charlotte street church, when Rev. P. Clifton Parker will deliver an address on the subject of "Thanksgiving."

Institute Teachers.

A meeting of the School Board is called for this evening. The principal business will be making appointments to the Collegiate Institute staff. Mr. Waugh, whom the Board first engaged, has withdrawn his acceptance, and it is understood the position of Mathematical Master will be given to Mr. Ross, one of the applicants. Mr. Pakenham, of Smith's Falls, is spoken of for the Science Mastership.

Native Wines.

I have in stock a few brands of the choicest quality of native wines, from the celebrated Pearce Island and Niagara vineyards, which will be found good value to those who wish a good, pure wine at moderate cost. Also one package of pure juice wine specially for sacramental purposes. Customers will also find choice brands of Madeira, Sherry and Port wines—all well matured at closest prices.

Foresters!

Last night Mr. H. Hesbitt, D.D.H.C.R., Canadian Order of Foresters, instituted a new Court at Zion, in Otonabee. He was assisted by a number of Peterborough brethren. The new Court has a membership of 25. Court Zion No. 227, meets in the Grange Hall, Otonabee, the first and third Mondays of each month. Following are officers:

Samuel Dayell	P C R
W W Dickson	C R
Wm Rae	V C R

Observing Jessie Mills.

This clever Canadian actress packed the Opera House last night in every part and the large audience was immensely delighted with her splendid rendition of the role of Marion Delcastro in "Passion's Slave," the drama so capitally presented. Miss Jessie Mills is a Canadian, and a clever and charming artiste. She was ably supported last night, and the enthusiastic applause that greeted the progress of the play testified to the delight of the audience. An interesting feature of the evening was the presentation of numerous articles of silverware to the holders of lucky tickets. The beautiful quadruple-plate silver water pitcher, fell to the lot Mr. G. H. Noble—number's luck, every time. To-night the company will present the three act drama, "Nobody's Child," and the merit of their performance last night should again pack the house. Popular prices, 15, 25 and 35 cents.

The Carbon Company.

Though the official returns have not been declared at this writing, the Brock's Manufacturing Company assumes that the by-law has been carried, and is acting accordingly. The first thing Tuesday morning was the sending of a telegram to Cleveland directing the sending forward of the cars laden with machinery, and the men to be employed in putting it and the furnaces into position. Mr. J. W. Taylor of Cleveland, is now at the works putting matters forward. The erection of the machinery will be begun the moment it arrives, other preparations for beginning operations will be pushed forward with all possible despatch, and it is expected that, within seven or eight weeks, electric light carbons will be placed upon the market. The people of Peterborough have stock in this concern now and they will be interested in knowing that even in this weather, the Brock's Manufacturing Company is not allowing the snow to melt under its feet in beginning operations. There is every indication that the company will prove an important addition to our number of thriving manufacturing industries and fully justify the wisdom of the people in giving the encouragement implied in the granting of the bonus, on Monday.

Oddfellows' Officers.

Last night the officers of Otonabee Lodge of Oddfellows were installed by Bro. Pettigrew, D.D.G.M., of Norwood, assisted by Bros. Gear and Stewart of Norwood lodge, and Bros. McFarlane and Cowie, Past Grands of Peterborough lodge. The complete list of officers is as follows:—

P G	R M Roy
N G	John Nugent
V G	Thos Armstrong
R S	W H Meredith
P S	F D Mackay
Treas	J Braden
Warden	J Downer
Con	O Huffman
O G	D Yarnold
I G	J F Perchard
R S N G	M Mowry, P G
L S N G	R Huffman
R S V G	Jos Matchless, P G
L S V G	C H Allison
R S S	R Huffman
L S S	W J Pearson
Chap	Geo J Eerly, P G
Pianist	W F Green, P G
Physician	Dr R W Bell, G M

After the installation the brethren adjourned to the dining room at the invitation of the Noble Grand, and spent a pleasant hour around the tables. About forty Oddfellows sat down to luncheon. The occasion was taken advantage of to say farewell to Bro. E. Calvert, who leaves to-day for Boston. Mr. Calvert is an esteemed member of Otonabee lodge, who, judging from the many kind words spoken of him, will be greatly missed. May success attend him in his future life beneath the Stars and Stripes.

The Bakers' Boycott.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—In the EXAMINER yesterday there appeared a letter signed L. Potvin. That gentleman has his ideas a little mixed. The "bakers have not formed a combine to raise the price of bread," neither do they intend doing so. As to the other bakers driving trade away from town, their aim is to keep the trade in town. As regards the action taken with the millers, we ask them to choose whom they will supply with flour, those who sell at a living profit and pay for what they get, or those who run the price down. In the past four years there has been a number of so-called bakers who have started, cut prices, and dropped out again. The millers know best how much "justice" there was in them. We ask that those bakers that sell only at their stores and do not send out bread, will sell at one cent below us, who have to deliver our bread. We believe that is just to themselves, the grocers, who have to sell at our price, and to us, who have to have extra help and keep horses and rigs.

Thanking you for space,

A BAKER.

The Price of Bread.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR—"A Baker" in the Review of last evening has the hardihood to deny that the bakers had combined to raise the price of bread. If that is true is it not odd that one of their number called on me on several occasions and tried to get me to raise the price of my bread, and also tried to get me to attend a meeting to arrange the price at which they would sell. Their action in trying to freeze me out by notifying the millers not to sell me flour on pain of losing their custom, also shows their intention and to what length they were prepared to go in order to make people pay more for their bread. This action was certainly calculated to drive trade out of town, for no town miller would drive away six or seven customers for one and I would have to purchase out of town, and then trade would be driven out of town. These bakers must have known this, no matter what they say now.

As to the price at which I sell, ten cents a loaf, I do not intend to raise it at the dictation of others. If I did I would show that I was as thick-headed as my competitors, for if I sold at eleven cents I would have to sell, at my store, half loaves at six cents, the same price as the others bakers deliver for. I consider that I have as good profit at my price, without the expense of delivery, as the others have who sell at twelve and deliver. I have never cut prices. I have sold steadily at the one price, a fair one to my customers and myself, and I do not propose to do otherwise at the order of outside parties. The sneer at bakers who have dropped cut does not effect me. They have tried to boycott me out, but they will find that I will not drop out, and, further, that I will control my own business. The millers and others with whom I have dealt know who pay me when they get, and with them I am satisfied to leave that. I believe the public understand this matter, and with them I will leave it.

Yours truly,

L. POTVIN.

The Municipal Elections.

Only One Change in the Personnel of the Town Council—The Issues Largely Carried by a Close Vote—Municipal Miscellany.

Monday was election day, and about the quietest Peterborough has seen in a long time. Municipal affairs as a rule absorb public interest, but this year there was probably deeper concern taken in the welfare of the house by her than in the election of the people's representatives.

In No. Two Ward there was practically no contest, Mr. McClelland being compelled to withdraw on account of sickness and death in his family. Monday morning he sent a notice to the returning officer that he did not wish any votes cast for him.

In No. Three Ward the only change in the council board was made, Mr. Beggs being replaced by Mr. Moore, an old and favorably-known ex-councillor. The new men in the field, Messrs. Sheehy and Weir, made a good run. Mr. Adam Dawson is apparently the peoples' favorite, as he again headed the poll, with Mr. Moore second and Mr. [illegible] a close third.

Following are the figures of Monday's vote for councillors:—

WARD NO. TWO.

Thos Kelly	344
E H D Hall	333
A Hall	322
J McClelland	320

WARD NO. THREE.

A Dawson	320
J D Beggs	75
A Rutherford	321
S Sheehy	170
W H Moore	320
Robt Weir	155

This Year's Council.

MAYOR.

James Stevenson.

COUNCILLORS.

WARD No. ONE.—Thos. Cahill, S. S. Davidson, H. C. Winch.

WARD No. TWO.—T. Kelly, E. H. D. Hall, A. Hall.

WARD No. THREE.—A. Dawson, W. H. Moore, A. Rutherford.

WARD No. FOUR.—Wm. Langford, Jas. Kendry, J. J. Hartley.

The School Trustees.

In the first and second wards considerable excitement was worked up.

In No. One, Mr. Wm. Menzies, though his name was on the ballot, was not a candidate, but he nevertheless received 8 votes. Mr. T. E. Bradburn was elected on a vote of 144, Mr. Geo. Rose receiving 80 votes.

In No. Two the contest was between Messrs. W. H. Hill and R. W. Erwin, the former being again returned to his seat at the board by a majority of 72. He received 177 votes and Mr. Erwin 105.

In Nos. Three and Four, Messrs. Jas. Stevenson and Jas. Kendry were elected by acclamation.

The By-Law.

It was with fear and trembling that the advocates of the bonus by-law awaited the result of the count. It was feared there would not be a sufficient vote polled to give the by-law the necessary two-thirds proportion, for, though the majority of the freehold ratepayers, who were entitled to vote, were evidently in favor of it, it was difficult to get them out to vote in wards where there were no other contests. But the friends of the by-law were pretty well organized, and they succeeded in carrying the measure by a narrow majority of 9. The required number of votes was 762. Following is the vote:—

	For.	Agt.	Maj.
Ward No. One	291	17	274
" Two	126	13	113
" Three	303	29	174
" Four	155	7	146
	771	65	708

Over the River.

The municipal contest in Ashburnham was a hot one, and the largest vote ever polled in the village was brought out on this occasion. There were two distinct tickets canvassed for. A large number of the ratepayers openly expressed dissatisfaction with the civic government last year, and a considerable change has been made, only one of the old councilors, Mr. H. Calcutt, being re-elected. The new men are Messrs. Wand, Throop and Adams. Following are the returns:—

W Wand	176
H Calcutt	176
F Adams	164
J Throop	149
J Craig	143
S Tivey	104
J McWilliams	97

The Ice Industry.

Proposed to Erect a Gigantic Ice House at Peterborough—See our Ice Men Have Trouble.

A couple of Chicago men and two C.P.R. officials arrived in town last night on a mission which may result in an important addition to Peterborough's industries. The first most needful in every town contemplating extensive improvements, and as Peterborough has secured large exhibitions of capital from the Chicago men on the old country, Messrs. J. J. Murphy and W. J. Hay representing Armour & Co., Chicago, who intend to ship extensively this summer. There will probably be two or three trains per day, of twenty-five cars each, pass over the C.P.R. during the season, and the company are looking out for a half-way station where the cars can be iced during their transit from Chicago to the seaboard. Peterborough is the only suitable place between Toronto and Shawlan Lake, and it is likely the ice-houses will be built here.

The Chicago men are accompanied by General Superintendent McKinnon and Assistant Tate, of the C. P. R. They are this morning looking over the ground in Ashburnham, where with the main line of the C.P.R. on one side and the Little Lake on the other there should be no difficulty in selecting a site. They need room for a siding 1,000 feet long, upon which the most trains will be run for icing. The ice-house will be about 130x60 feet and of good height, fitted up with all the modern appliances for storing away and distributing the ice.

A vast quantity of ice will be required, and if it is decided to build here the industry will give employment to a large number of men during the winter. There is every probability of this being accomplished, in fact, it is said Armour & Co's. agents have already decided to build near the old brewery site. This being the case, they will soon begin to prepare for the housing of the ice harvest.

Police Court.

TUESDAY, Jan. 7.

The first session of the police court this year was held this morning. Mr. John Hawkins, who lives at the corner of London and Downie streets, was charged with keeping a vicious dog. It appears that the animal the other day bit a son of Mr. M. McFadden, and Mr. Hawkins refused to comply with Mr. McFadden's request that he dispose of the dog, hence the action. The evidence went to show that the dog was a source of annoyance and dread, if not actual injury, to the neighbors, and the magistrate ordered Mr. Hawkins to either shoot the animal or send it away.

A young man named John Eastland while drunk last night about ten o'clock, lurched up against a woman at the corner of George and Simcoe streets, and catching hold of her almost threw her down. This morning he pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and was fined $10.

Bridgenorth.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

When the merry chimes of bells and whirling ring of skates are quelled, can the nestning heart possibly rejoice at Christmas? No, that inspiration fled the spirit, by a white robed land, sparkling with silvery scattered sheets, has stolen from the goblet.

So goes an old proverb: "A green Christmas makes a fat churchyard." Then who did not feel more like sickening than observing such glorious feasting so uncomely a dress—gloomy clouds, black fields and empty streets, save by the occasional presence of mud dripping wheels.

Not even Chemong could reserve a suitable patch where to exercise our long since rusted steels. Despite the resistance her plated brim was torn from shore to shore and the countless white caps again dashed their angry spray in a chilling gale.

But now it is past, and New Year's day frowns with a more sullen brow, until sol's unseen flight takes its decline. Then a continued rain storm sent down its damp quota.

However, we were not without outside sport. Mr. D. Rosborough found shelter for his braves on the hotel verandah, where the afternoon was pierced with incessant firing at the turkey target. Some very good shooting was done, but the lake scored the more balls.

The night before, a select party, consisting of about thirty couples, under the able management of Messrs. A. Graham but, Daly and O'Horne, held an exceedingly successful ball in the village hall. A palatable supper was served by Mr. L. G. Fobert, and the dance was continued until six o'clock next morning, when all retired home favourably impressed by Bridgenorth as a sporting port.

Our village takes another stride ahead. Last week a harness shop, a barber shop and another wood-working shop were opened out. Mr. G. Joping also means business. He has torn the old cooper shop down and is preparing the site for two new brick stores, which will be ready by the first of May.

The ferry boat at Gannon's narrows is yet operated. This is a piece of mechanical work which is attracting considerable attention, and much credit is bestowed on Mr. Wm. Stoneburg, the builder. It is just what South Harvey wanted, and they now have a conveyance which gives complete satisfaction as well as constructed to last.

Mr. T. Forde, late of the Rochester morning Herald, spent two weeks' holidays at the Bridgenorth hotel, en route for Indianapolis where a lucrative position awaits him.

Mr. Dean Udy is home for his holidays. Dean holds a responsible office in a large Midland lumber firm, and will therefore be compelled to make brief his stay with us.

Mrs. C. Gravelle has returned from a lengthy visit with her parents in Port Neuf, Que.

Mr. Wm. Stoneburg has just completed repairs on Mr. W. B. Kelly's little steamer.

"La Grippe" or Lightning Catarrh.

MR. EDITOR,—"La Grippe," or Russian influenza, as it is termed, is in reality an epidemic catarrh, and is called by some physicians "lightning catarrh," from the rapidity with which it sweeps over the country. Allow us to draw the attention of your readers to the fact that Nasal Balm, as well as being a thorough cure for all cases of the ordinary cold in the head and catarrh, will give prompt relief in even the most severe cases of "La Grippe," or Russian influenza, as it will effectually clear the nasal passages, allay irritation and relieve the dull, oppressive headache accompanying the disease. No family should be without a bottle of Nasal Balm in the house, as cold in the head and catarrh are peculiarly liable to attack people at this season of the year, and Nasal Balm is the only prompt and speedy cure for these troubles ever offered the public. Easy to use and agreeable. If you cannot get it at your dealers, it will be sent, post free, on receipt of price (50 cents and $1 per bottle) by addressing FULFORD & Co., Brockville, Ont. eodw

A live and well established grocery and provision business for sale. R. H. Green, on account of continued ill-health, has decided to sell his entire stock of groceries, provisions, &c., en bloc, at a bargain, to a suitable purchaser. The goods are nearly all new, well assorted and bought at the lowest possible wholesale prices. The stock, furnishings, horse, rigging, &c., will amount to about twelve hundred dollars, but will be reduced considerably within the next few weeks (if I don't meet with a wholesale purchaser in the meantime), as I am now retailing them at a great sacrifice. Parties wanting good fresh groceries, provisions, &c., for the holiday season will find it to their advantage to sell before buying elsewhere, as decided bargains will be given. The goods must be sold. R. H. GREEN, corner of Hunter and Aylmer streets, Peterborough. Dec. 3rd. w47tnf

CHAPTER III.

A NEW CHARACTER ENTERS.

WHEN Holbrook left the station house the coroner and the sergeant entered into a consultation as to the best method of procedure.

The sergeant thought he saw an opportunity to gain credit to himself by the speedy discovery of the murderer, and he was anxious that as much progress as was possible should be made at once.

He was compelled by the rules of the department to inform the central office of the crime at once. He had done so, but he hoped the headquarters detectives would not stir in the matter until later in the day, when he hoped to have made much progress.

He had already concocted a theory, but he was anxious to hear what the coroner, who was a man of great common sense and no little experience, had to say.

The trouble was, the coroner had a theory too, and no idea of giving the sergeant the benefit of his brains, though he was anxious to know what the sergeant thought.

It can be imagined, therefore, that neither said very significant things, and that each approached the other diplomatically.

"A mysterious case, sergeant.

"Very; something different from the ordinary run of cases, when this old and reliable broker, doing a fair business, living quietly, going into society somewhat and into the best, fond of the theatre, but not of the actresses. A reputable man. No, you will have to look deep for the motive of this crime."

The sergeant stood somewhat in awe of the reporter, for he believed in his shrewdness and experience.

"You think then the murderer waylaid him?" he asked.

"No, I do not; the meeting was accidental, but I think he had it in for Templeton. It was bound to come when they met."

"Why do you think so?"

"The circumstances surrounding the deed, the remark of the murderer shows surprise at the meeting. The deed shows it was intended—the remark does too."

"I agree with you there."

"You have no clews?"

"The wallet containing the memoranda of engagements may furnish one."

"No good; they relate to his daily business."

The sergeant looked annoyed.

"There is the knife."

"Properly worked that may amount to something."

"Then there are the clothes found in the park."

"Let me see them."

The sergeant brought them out.

"Never worn but once and but for a short time. Cheap."

He handed them back.

"There is one clew you have not spoken of," said the reporter.

At this moment an officer brought in a "drunk," and when the sergeant turned again the reporter, much to his chagrin, was gone.

monious culture of the Princess Augusta. She was married to the late Emperor William 1 on June 11, 1829. She attended personally to the education of her two children, the late Emperor Frederick and Princess Louise, now the Grand Duchess of Baden. Empress Augusta was much respected for her love of science, letters and art, and for her benevolent disposition, displayed especially in 1870-71 in labors for the relief of the wounded soldiers. The death of her husband, Emperor William I, occurred on March 9, 1888, and that of his successor, the late Emperor Frederick, on June 15 of the same year.]

Sagasta Resigns.

MADRID, Jan. 7.—Senor Sagasta, having found it impossible to organize a new cabinet, has resigned. The insuperable difficulty was found with the Protectionist Liberals, who demanded that revision of the tariff should be made part of the Government program. The Queen has consulted the President of the Cortes and leading statesmen and it is probable a provisional cabinet will be formed to pass the Budget.

The papers here comment strongly on United States Senator Call's resolution in regard to Cuba. They declare his statements are absurd and that the bulk of the Cuban debt is held by Spaniards and Frenchmen. The Epoca says: "Spain is not inspired by the base utilitarian spirit; Cuba can never be sold."

The West End Scandal.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The trial of Arthur Newton the solicitor, Frederick Taylorson his clerk and Adolphus De Galla the interpreter, charged with conspiring to defeat justice in connection with the West End scandal, was continued to-day. An ex-postal messenger named Perkins testified that after he gave testimony to the police against Newlove, who took the witness to the house in Cleveland-street, and against Veck, who assisted in the management of the house, Newton tried to induce him to go to Australia. Newton said he knew somebody who would give £20 down and a £1 a week each for three years to Perkins and the other boys, Wright, Swinscow and Barber who had also given information to the police, if they would all emigrate together.

An Oriental Show for Albert Victor.

CALCUTTA, Jan. 7.—A magnificent public festival was given here to-day in honor of Albert Victor, son of the Prince of Wales. It was entirely oriental. Nautch. Kuttak and Thibetan dances alternated with native theatrical shows, and the streets were brilliantly illuminated.

A Fatal Waterspout.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 7.—A waterspout is reported at Nankin. Hundreds of people were drowned, numerous boats were destroyed and great damage was done.

Exonerated by the Pelican Club.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The Pelican Club has investigated the alleged relations of Fleming and Abington, the friends of Jem Smith the pugilist, to the ruffianly proceedings at the prize fight at Bruges and exonerates them from the charges against them.

Smothered in a Fit.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Two maiden sisters came from Toronto, Canada, in September, hired an attic room for $2.50 a week, at 34 St. Mark's-place, found employment at cap making and sewing, and lived contentedly. The people in the house saw little of them. Yesterday when the younger sister awoke, she found the elder, Jessie Roy, who was 53 years old, dead beside her. Miss Roy was subject to epileptic fits, and was seized with one as she lay upon her face, so that she was smothered by her pillow.

THREE MEN KILLED.

Fatal Accident on a Pennsylvania Railroad—A Defective Bridge.

ELMIRA, N.Y., Jan. 6.—An accident occurred on the Fall Brook Railway last evening near Wellsboro, Pa. A construction train with a large number of workmen was crossing a bridge, part of which gave way, precipitating the engine and several cars to the bottom of the creek. Three men were instantly killed and 18 injured, some of them fatally. The road was blocked all night and is not yet opened.

Gamblers by the Cartload.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—The police Saturday night continued their new crusade against gambling. Hankins' establishment in Clark-street, one of the largest houses in America, was raided at 12:30 a.m. Over a hundred gamblers were made prisoners, loaded into patrol wagons and carted off to the police stations, while the streets were crowded with curious persons, who hooted them on their involuntary journey.

A POETICAL TRIBUTE

—TO—

HONEST DEALING.

A grateful customer of Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co. has been moved to put into verse the following truthful tribute to the excellence of this firm's goods. Truth and poetry do not always go together, but in this case they go hand in hand. There is no exaggeration nor poetical license in the following lines:—

Last night I had a pleasant dream, and well I did enjoy it,
In sleep I smiled Parsimony' height, and awoke a full fledged poet;
I trembled not to see our debt, but quickly passed my pen
To tell in verse how cheaply we could clothe our fellowmen.
Our prices make the rich to smile, the poor with joy to shout,
We are resolved from this henceforth to knock the bottom out;
The man must strike some unseen notch, and shout up from below
That undersells the clothing store of H. LeBrun & Co.
Our choice five dollar overcoats, our genial salesmen shown,
Will keep you warm as a pie in the wildest storm that blows.
No ground up rags, no shoddy stuff, no mill pressed pine and hair,
But every thread spun from the sheep—fine, cheap, and made to wear.
You need not walk round shabby dressed, our prices must you convince,
Our seven dollar suits will dress you stylish as a prince.
For two and fifty we will clothe your boy from head to toe
Right in the City Clothing Store of H. LeBrun & Co.
Our line of ready-made is good, choices you will receive,
Examine, choose and purchase cloth; with us your order leave.
We guarantee to cut and stitch complete as you command
For style and finish every part here unsurpassed we stand.
Young swain that wish a stylish suit, for concert, church or ball,
Will have their true wish gratified, by giving us a call.
Out walking, or in sitting room your girl will wish to know
If you had bought that pretty suit from H. LeBrun & Co.
Our expert cutter measures true and strikes each new design,
With skilful hand his shears play crack, round angle, curve or line.
Our tailor's work, neat, strong, complete, o'er all the hot goose steams,
Leaving no wrinkles in the back, nor puckers in the seams.
We don't believe in paper puffs that float off like a kite,
Our goods and prices come and test, as proofs of what we write.
No shoddy pressed, no ripping seams, air holes in two weeks show.
Cheapness and wear the motto is at H. LeBrun's & Co.
Before eighteen and eight-nine bids us a last adieu,
To all our patrons, rich and poor, thanks we return to you.
Fair honest dealing in the past upholds our business name,
And in the future, we resolve strict to pursue the same.
Come old and new friends, welcome come, Christmas is drawing nigh.
How you will smile to see how much a trifling sum will buy.
With pleasure we will suit your wants and salute you as you go.
With all the season's compliments, of H. LeBrun & Co.

a large sum of money was placed at the disposal of a special committee to enable them to distribute seed grain in the Province of Quebec wherever the frost and rain had destroyed the crops in 1888. This committee has concluded its entirely disinterested labors with an impartiality and success beyond all praise. This aid so opportunely distributed throughout the country has produced excellent results by preventing emigration and famine and by supplying good seed grain.

My Government considers that it is now time to increase the number of members of the Legislative Assembly, and a bill to that effect will be submitted to you.

The carrying out of the amendments made last year to the Election Act granting the franchise to farmers' sons and other persons was prevented by the want of the legal machinery required for the preparations of the valuation rolls in rural municipalities. New provisions will be submitted to you to obviate this difficulty.

My Government has diligently carried on negotiations with the Federal authorities for the purpose of definitely fixing the northern limits of the province, and although its efforts have not been entirely successful, it hopes soon to secure the triumph of the legitimate claims of the province and it requests you in a very special manner to carefully consider the resolutions which will be submitted to you in this connection, which are calculated to hasten the solution of this important question.

The jury system, especially in criminal matters, has been the subject of special studies and inquiries on the part of my Government. The drawbacks of the present system as regards the selection, summoning, qualifications and the pay and treatment of jurors may necessitate certain changes which you will shortly be called upon to consider.

Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

The public accounts for the year ending June 30 last, as well the ordinary and supplementary estimates, will be submitted to you without delay so that their consideration will not retard your parliamentary labors. You will doubtless be pleased to learn that the receipts and expenses again show a satisfactory surplus in favor of the former.

A proclamation was issued putting into force the act of last session establishing distinctions for agricultural merit and you will be called upon to provide for the necessary expenditure in order that our agriculturists may receive the rewards to which they are entitled. You will also be requested to increase the number of bursaries to be placed at the disposal of pupils in our agricultural schools in order to enable a greater number to attend such schools and to further popularize the theoretical and practical instructions required for our farmers' sons.

Honorable Gentlemen of the Legislative Council;

Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

I am happy to inform you that arrangements have been made with a company of citizens offering suitable guarantees and organized for the purpose of holding annual and permanent agricultural and industrial exhibitions in the city of Montreal.

The collection of amounts levied upon municipalities for the maintenance of the insane asylums presents difficulties which render it almost impossible and my Government will submit a bill to you which will in this respect establish a more just and rational system which, without disturbing existing contracts, will effect desirable economy.

THE RATE WAR

Traveling from St. Paul to Canadian Points and Boston Made Easy.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 6.—The Chicago, Burlington and Northern and the Omaha to-day made a reduction in through rates to New England and Canadian points announced by the Soo line, which are to go into effect to-morrow on a basis of $22.60 first class and $20 second class to Boston. The Soo gave notice of a further reduction on a basis of $20.60 first class and $19 second to Boston, or only $1.80 higher than the rates from Chicago to Boston. Railroad men predict that the rate to Boston will drop to $12 before bed rock is reached. The Soo line to-night announced a further reduction of rates to $19 first class and $16.40 second class, St. Paul to Boston.

ALLEGED MONEY SNATCHERS.

Two Suspects Arrested at Montreal—One Claims Toronto as His Abode.

MONTREAL, Jan. 6.—Some days ago a robbery was committed in the Bank du Peuple of $184 by a man who snatched the money from a boy who was making a deposit. To-day two men were arrested who are believed to be the parties needed. One is Joseph M. Barlow, who claims he is a book-keeper from Kingston. The other is Henry Black, who alleges that he is a druggist from Toronto. He is belived to be Walter Sheridan, the well-known American bank thief, and in fact the prisoner admitted as much in the cells.

CANADIANS Work Too Hard!

The Result is Sleeplessness, Nervousness and a Broken-Down System, often

Ending in Insanity.

Thousands of overworked business men, worried brain-workers industrious mechanics, and tried women, in all parts of the Dominion are to-day in a terrible position. Their nerves are weak, digestion poor, head aching, and they cannot sleep, work or live in comfort. This is what fills our Insane Asylums. This is the cause of that terrible Paresis Before it is too late, use Dr. Phelps' wonderful discovery, Paine's Celery Compound. It removes the results of overwork, restores strength, renews vitality, regulates the whole system, and tones up the overworked brain and body. Do not despair, but use this wonderful remedy, and be restored to health and happiness, the same as was Mr. John L. Brodie, of Montreal, who writes: "I have great pleasure in recommending your Paine's Celery Compound. My system was run down and I was not fit for business, could not sleep well at night and was nervous. I commenced taking Paine's Celery Compound and improved immediately. I am now able to transact my business and endure any amount of excitement without bad effects."

Paine's Celery Compound can be purchased at any druggist's for one dollar a bottle. If he should not have it on hand, order direct from WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Montreal.

An Astonishing Revelation.

[From the Globe.]

In our present despatches from Washington will be found one of the most astounding disclosures ever made in connection with Canadian politics. The revelation is that the opponents of Unrestricted Reciprocity have been propogating in Washington the opinion that Annexation will be soon sought by Canadians if Unrestricted Reciprocity be withheld To this nefarious device the enemies of Canada's Liberal party have resorted in the hope of inducing Congress to defeat the Butterworth Bill. That bill proposes, not a Customs Union, but just such a scheme of Unrestricted Reciprocity as is favored by Sir Richard Cartwright and his political associates. Were it adopted by Congress the offer of an acceptable plan for Continental Free Trade would be distinct, and no Canadian party proposing to refuse the offer could survive a general election. To balk the Butterworth Bill is therefore necessary to the salvation of Canadian Restrictionism. Now it is natural for American politicians to wish for the annexation of Canada, Were they persuaded that the refusal of Unrestricted Reciprocity would bring Annexation to pass at an early date they would, of course, reject the Butterworth Bill. Therefore was sent to Washington to do the required work, as specified in the remarkable letter contained in our despatch. After this perhaps nobody in Canada will be gullable enough to give any credit to the Mail's professions of independence. Our contemporary's principal man, by the plain avowal of Senator Hoar, furnished the Hoar Committee with the statistics which were used to further the impression that Washington should refuse Unrestricted Reciprocity in order to promote Annexation. Thus we find Mr. Christopher Bunting and Sir John Macdonald pulling heartily together as in the days of the Bribery plot. The Hoar Committee, whose Chairman has been in close correspondence with the Mail man, manifests "a tendency to a policy of indifferentism, slightly tinged with retaliation." This, be it remarked, is the opinion of an impartial American observer.

Can such a conspiracy as is now revealed be justly called anything less than traitorous? We will say nothing of the iniquity of the attempt to block a bill which would greatly serve Canadian interests, nor anything of the meanness of spreading secretly in Washington a false story designed

TO INJURE POLITICAL OPPONENTS AT HOME.

We say the conspirators have behaved traitorously, inasmuch as they have tried to indoctrinate the American Congress with an opinion which, if generally entertained in Washington, would tend to make serious international trouble. When a Conservative emissary tells Mr. Blaine, Senator Hoar and other prominent American politicians that they can bring Canada soon to Annexation by refusing Unrestricted Reciprocity, he tells them in effect to "put the screws on Canada," and he urges them to a disposition which may produce the most deplorable consequences. Surely the Canadians who have conspired to prevent an early and honorable settlement between Canada and her principal neighbor are traitors to the Dominion. That they have slandered this people by representing them as craving Annexation is a minor count in the indictment.

It may be said that Sir John Macdonald had no part in instructing the emissary of the Mail. Suppose so, for argument's sake. Still we find the Messenger to Washington and dead against the Liberal interest and the interest of the country. If the revelation of to-day be said to make nothing clear except that the "real purpose" of the Mail is, as the Montreal Gazette of Saturday said, "the dissolution of Confederation," how does it come that a journal working for that purpose is no less anxious than Sir John to defeat Unrestricted Reciprocity? If the Tories admit that the Mail is disclosed as "straight out Annexationist," how will they account for its attempt to defeat a measure which they affect to think Annexationist? If they don't favor the scheme of Mr. Butterworth, and if the Mail is plainly Annexationist in its foreign campaign against that scheme, then the Tories and the Annexationists areplainly in company.

WORKING IN THE TORY INTEREST

That the Mail emissary went to Washington on behalf of Sir John Macdonald to imbue Congress with a belief that Canadians will soon crave Annexation if they can't get Unrestricted Reciprocity, is our opinion. We are aware that many worthy people, who have not much acquaintance with

SIR JOHN'S ARTS AND DEVICES,

find it difficult to believe that he can have inspired every somersault of the Mail during the last five years. Yet these good people did themselves lately witness the whole course of just such a manœuvre as we believe Mr. Bunting to be executing in Sir John's interest, In 1885 the Premier's organs in Quebec, La Monde and La Minerve, together with more than a score of his most faithful followers, were sent into nominal but apparently ferocious hostility to his Cabinet. They were the loudest in keening over the corpse of Riel; they were the foremost in the Race and Revenge movement; they were the shortest in proclaiming the necessity for a "Nationalist" party. By this game a large number of Bleus won seats at the general elections. Since then they have been the Premier's most subservient followers. Why, then, should it be improbable that Mr. Bunting has been steadily employing his journal on a

SECRET UNDERSTANDING WITH SIR JOHN?

Is not the real improbability with those ingenious people who allege that confidence ought to be given to the "independent" claims of a journal whose manager undertook to bribe the Ontario Legislature with $1,000 bills furnished from Ottawa? What can be more apparent than that the Mail "stood in" with Unrestricted Reciprocity in order to get into a position to betray the cause at Sir John's instance. The betrayal occurred. Was it not contemplated from the start? Were not all our contemporary's independent professions made for the very purpose of winning that confidence which all wary Liberals have refused to the Bunting organ. Have not all its proceedings fitted exactly to our opinion that it is constantly working for the Tory interest? When did it affect to strike at the Tories without striking twice in the same article at the Liberal leaders? What lesser degree of independence could a journal affect that had been contracted by its master with the task of undermining his opponents? It is amusing

THAT ANYBODY CAN BE SO GULLIBLE

as to doubt that Mr. Bunting has been always Sir John's "main man." By the exposure of to-day the connection between them is made once more manifest. To block Unrestricted Reciprocity and injure the Liberal party is the Tory purpose which the Mail has sought to serve by spreading in Washington the report that Annexation will soon be sought by the Canadian people.

Fortunately the Washington people are not likely to be gulled by the tale. The prospects are that Mr. Butterworth's bill will be approved by the Committee of Ways and Means and afterward by the House of Representatives. We have trustworthy information—nay, we have seen proof—that one of the most influential Republican leaders, formerly supposed hostile to Unrestricted Reciprocity, is now a warm friend to the plan. Hence the present outlook for Continental Free Trade is very favorable. But let it not be forgotten that, no matter what Congress may do this session, Canada can never reasonably concede that Unrestricted Reciprocity is unattainable till the Canadian Government have formally proposed negotiations in the matter.

Mothers!

Remember that Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or any other narcotic substance, in any quantity, shape or form. It is entirely vegetable, pleasant to take, positively effective and perfectly harmless. It is not a secret remedy; the formula is printed on the wrapper. Your physician will recommend it. Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, and many so-called soothing syrups are composed principally of opium or morphine; in any quantity they stupify, and in large quantities are deadly poisons. Castoria assimilates the food and regulates the bowels, cures diarrhœa, allays feverishness and fretfulness, soothes the pain in teething, relieves constipation and kills worms. It brings refreshing and natural sleep to the child, and gives rest to the mother.

"Castoria is so well adapted to infants and children that I recommend it as superior to any other known remedy."

DR. H. A. ARCHER,
111 S. Oxford st., Brooklyn, N.Y.
March 8, 1887.

"From personal knowledge and observation I can say that Castoria is an excellent medicine for children, acting as a laxative and relieving the pent up bowels and general system very much. Many mothers have told me of its excellent effect upon their children."

A Little Spark

MAY kindle a great fire, just so dyspepsia and bad blood give rise to countless complaints which cannot be cured until the dyspepsia is removed, and the blood purified. To do this is the work of Burdock Blood Bitters, a medicine which always cures dyspepsia, bad blood and all complaints of a similar organ. 2w52d

Coughs, Colds, Croup.

Allen's Lung Balsam was introduced to the public after its merits for the positive cure of such diseases had been fully tested. It excites expectoration and causes the Lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; changes the secretions and purifies the blood; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours' time, if not of too long standing. It contains no opium in any form and is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child. There is no real necessity for so many deaths by consumption when Allen's Lung Balsam will prevent it if only taken in time. For Consumption, and all diseases that lead to it, such as Coughs, neglected Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and all diseases of the Lungs, ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is the Great Modern Remedy. For Croup and Whooping Cough it is almost a specific. It is an old standard remedy, and sold universally at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. The 25-cent bottles are put out to answer the constant call for a Good and Low-Priced COUGH CURE. If you have not tried the Balsam, call for a 25-cent bottle to test it.

CHAPTER III.

A NEW CHARACTER ENTERS.

WHEN Holbrook left the station house the coroner and the sergeant entered into a consultation as to the best method of procedure.

The sergeant thought he saw his opportunity to gain credit to himself by the speedy discovery of the murderer, and he was anxious that as much progress as was possible should be made at once.

He was compelled by the rules of the department to inform the central office of the crime at once. He had done so, but he hoped the headquarters detectives would not stir in the matter until later in the day, when he hoped to have made much progress.

He had already concocted a theory, but he was anxious to hear what the coroner, who was a man of great common sense and no little experience, had to say.

The trouble was, the coroner had a theory too, and no idea of giving the sergeant the benefit of his brains, though he was anxious to know what the sergeant thought.

It can be imagined, therefore, that neither said very significant things, and that each approached the other diplomatically.

"A mysterious case, sergeant."

"Very; something different from the usual drunken brawl."

"Yes; likely to give us much trouble."

"A long examination; little to go upon in the beginning, anyhow."

"Unless the examination of the friends the man was with last develops something."

"Perhaps it will."

This sort of sparring not having brought forth anything, they were silent for a short time, when the sergeant put in a feeler.

"What could have been the motive?"

The coroner returned the ball.

"It could not have been robbery, evidently."

"At all events there was no attempt made."

"Unless after the blow the man was frightened by the cry of Wessing."

"That's one view of it, certainly."

This having brought forth nothing, the coroner made a lead.

"Still it could not have had robbery for its purpose. You see both Holbrook and Wessing say the man was about to pass when he stopped short and said, 'It is you, is it;' that shows he knew the man Templeton. No, it was not robbery."

"That was what I was thinking; if it had been robbery, even if he had known him he would have said nothing. As a matter of fact it seems to me that it was an accidental meeting—that is, the man was not waylaying him."

"Oh, do you think so? That would make it all the more difficult."

"Unless Wessing was in the job and gave the signal from the other corner."

"I shouldn't wonder if you had hit it straight now." This was what the coroner said aloud; what he thought was, "My friend the sergeant has gone off on the wrong tack; so this is his theory, eh?"

The sergeant thought, "If he won't talk he can't pump me, and so I'll give him that little misleader."

This game of verbal chess might have long continued, if it had not been interrupted by the arrival of the reporters, who had been aroused by the receipt of the news at the Central office.

Among them was one reputed to be very shrewd, and who was credited with having tracked more than one crime home, where the police authorities had failed.

He was known as Tom Bryan.

When the others hurried off with their information he remained, asking permission to write his report at the desk.

He wrote hurriedly; the coroner, who had been detained by the reporters, proposed to go home for the night.

As he was about to leave, Bryan asked:

"Do you think Wessing to be connected with this crime?"

"No," replied the coroner unguardedly.

The sergeant said to himself, "Hang it, I didn't give him a 'stiff' after all."

The coroner could have bitten off his tongue for his carelessness.

"Why do you hold him then?" said Bryan.

"Because he refused to tell his business in M[illegible] city," replied the sergeant.

"That's [illegible]," commented the reporter. "It isn't everybody who wants to make his business public. It would be very tough on me if I had to tell my business every time I entered a strange town."

This increased the uneasiness of the sergeant, who doubted the wisdom of detaining the man, and it was he who had taken the responsibility, not the coroner.

"Oh," said the coroner, "we have the right to detain him as a witness."

The sergeant felt better; the responsibility now rested on the coroner as well, nevertheless he proposed another visit to their prisoner.

"I do not know why I should not tell you," said Wessing; "I do not want to get into the papers. Why, you will appreciate it when I tell you. Here is the reason of my visit: A short time ago a gentleman, one Charles Pierson, a wealthy man, died in this city leaving a large property, but neither children nor will."

"I know the case," said the sergeant.

"My mother, for certain reasons, believes she is the nearest heir, if not the sole one—that is, she thinks she is a relative. I have come to New York at her request, first, to identify the deceased man with our relative if I can, and, having established the identification, to determine whether my mother is an heir. I have so little faith in the enterprise myself, I don't want any publicity; and again, publicity would not help my search, if there was anything in it. These facts you can verify by telegraphing to my mother or the lawyer we consulted. He is a man of high standing at the Philadelphia bar. I'll give you the addresses whenever you want them."

The sergeant and the coroner consulted, and the coroner said:

"Mr. Wessing, your statements will be verified, and if found to be true, we shall not detain you; but we shall exact the promise that you will not leave the city until after you have given your testimony at the inquest."

The promise was readily given.

The coroner left, and the sergeant found Bryan waiting for him.

"This will turn out to be a mysterious case, sergeant," said Bryan.

"I hope to have track of it by to-morrow night."

"I don't think you will. I know something of this man Templeton. He was an upright man, not given to dissipation, or to having alliances which would bring him into trouble. He was a real estate broker, doing a fair business, living quietly, going into society somewhat and into the best, fond of the theatre, but not of the actresses. A reputable man. No, you will have to look deep for the motive of this crime."

The sergeant stood somewhat in awe of the reporter, for he believed in his shrewdness and experience.

"You think then the murderer waylaid him?" he asked.

"No, I do not; the meeting was accidental, but I think he had it in for Templeton. It was bound to come when they met."

"Why do you think so?"

"The circumstances surrounding the deed, the remark of the murderer shows surprise at the meeting. The deed shows it was intended—the remark does too."

"I agree with you there."

"You have no clews?"

"The wallet containing the memoranda of engagements may furnish one."

"No good; they relate to his daily business."

The sergeant looked annoyed.

"There is the knife."

"Properly worked that may amount to something."

"Then there are the clothes found in the park."

"Let me see them."

The sergeant brought them out.

"Never worn but once and but for a short time. Cheap."

He handed them back.

"There is one clew you have not spoken of," said the reporter.

At this moment an officer brought in a "drunk," and when the sergeant turned again the reporter, much to his chagrin, was gone.

A Common Cold

Is often the beginning of serious affections of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes, and Lungs. Therefore, the importance of early and effective treatment cannot be overestimated. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral may always be relied upon for the speedy cure of a Cold or Cough.

Last January I was attacked with a severe Cold, which, by neglect and frequent exposures, became worse, finally settling on my lungs. A terrible cough soon followed, accompanied by pains in the chest, from which I suffered intensely. After trying various remedies, without obtaining relief, I commenced taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was

I am satisfied that this remedy saved my life.—Jno. Webster, Pawtucket, R. I.

I contracted a severe cold, which suddenly developed into Pneumonia, presenting dangerous and obstinate symptoms. My physician at once ordered the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. His instructions were followed, and the result was a rapid and permanent cure.—H. E. Simpson, Rogers Prairie, Texas.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Cold which settled on my Lungs. I consulted various physicians, and took the medicines they prescribed, but received only temporary relief. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking two bottles of this medicine I was cured. Since then I have given the Pectoral to my children, and consider it for Colds, Coughs, and all Throat and Lung diseases, ever used in my family.—Robert Vanderpool, Meadville, Pa.

The Best Remedy

Some time ago I took a slight Cold, which, being neglected, grew worse, and settled on my lungs. I had a hacking cough, and was very weak. Those who knew me best considered my life to be in great danger. I continued to suffer until I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Less than one bottle of this valuable medicine cured me, and I feel that I owe the preservation of my life to its curative powers.—Mrs. Ann Lockwood, Akron, New York.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is considered, here, the one great remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs, and is more in demand than any other medicine of its class.—J. F. Roberts, Magnolia, Ark.

A POETICAL TRIBUTE
—TO—
HONEST DEALING.

A grateful customer of Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co. has been moved to put into verse the following truthful tribute to the excellence of this firm's goods. Truth and poetry do not always go together, but in this case they go hand in hand. There is no exaggeration nor poetical license in the following lines:—

Last night I had a pleasant dream, and well I did enjoy it,
In sheep I sealed Parnassus' height, and awoke a full fledged poet;
I tarried not to eat nor drink, but quickly arranged my pen
To tell in verse how cheaply we could clothe our fellowmen.
Our prices make the rich to smile, the poor with joy to shout,
We are resolved from this henceforth to knock the bottom out;
The mean must strike some unseen notch, and shout up from below
That undersells the clothing store of H. LeBrun & Co.

Our choice five dollar overcoats, our genial salesmen shown,
Will keep you warm as a pie in the wildest storm that blows.
No ground up rags, no shoddy stuff, no mill pressed glue and hair,
But every thread spun from the sheep—fine, cheap, and made to wear.
You need not walk round shabby dressed, our prices meet you co-nivince,
Our seven dollar suits will dress you stylish as a prince.
For two and-fifty we will clothe your boy from head to toe
Right in the City Clothing Store of H. LeBrun & Co.

Our line of ready-made is good, choices you will receive,
Examine, choose and purchase cloth; with us your order leave.
We guarantee to cut and stitch complete as you command
For style and finish every part here unsurpassed we stand.
Young men that wish a stylish suit, for concert, church or ball,
Will have their true wish gratified, by giving us a call.
Out walking, or in sitting room your girl will wish to know
If you had bought that pretty suit from H. LeBrun & Co.

Our expert cutter measures true and strikes each new design,
With skilful hand his shears play creak, round angle, curve or line.
Our tailor's work, neat, strong, complete, o'er all the hot cross seams,
Leaving no wrinkles in the back, nor puckers in the seams.
We don't believe in paper puffs that float off like a kite.
Our goods and prices come and test, as proofs of what we write.
No shoddy pressed, no ripping seams, air holes in two weeks show.
Cheapness and wear the motto is at H. LeBrun & Co.

Before eighteen and eight-nine bids us a last adieu,
To all our patrons, rich and poor, thanks we return to you.
Fair honest dealing in the past upholds our business name,
And in the future, we resolve strict to pursue the same,
Come old and new friends, welcome come, Christmas is drawing nigh.
How you will smile to see how much a trifling sum will buy.
With pleasure we will suit your wants and salute you as you go,
With all the season's compliments, of H. LeBrun & Co.

Sad News.

Mr. Thos. Brooks has received intelligence of the death in Brooklyn of his eldest brother. Mr. Brooks intended to have gone to the funeral, but as the remains of the deceased were removed to Vermont for interment, and he could not make train connections to enable him to reach his destination before the obsequies were over, he was obliged to forego his intention. Mr. Brooks has the sympathy of the community, in which he has so many friends in, his bereavement.

New Church Concert.

In The Opera House Thursday Evening, January 9th

Miss Church's programme numbers will consist of Wieniawski's Polonaise, Beethoven's "Romance in G" and the "Danse Hongroise" of Brahms-Joachim. What a store of musical delight contained in these selections, will Miss Church bring out!

Mrs. Chambers will give two or three vocal numbers, Mr. T. Dunn will sing two or three of his stirring baritone selections. On the whole the programme will be a sterling one. Entr'acte music by the Examiner orchestra of 15 pieces. Only this evening and to-morrow to secure the few good seats left. Reserved plan at Salisbury's Bookstore.

Resolution of Condolence.

At the meeting of Court Little John, No. 92, C.O.F., the following resolution of condolence was moved to Brothers H. Sherwood and R. H. Lithgow:—

Resolved—That the officers and members of Court Little John, No. 92, C.O.F., desire to express their heartfelt sympathy with you and you families on account of your late sad bereavement. The most sacred feelings of humanity are connected with the name, Mother; and the loss of a beloved mother is perhaps the severest affliction which we are called upon to suffer. The severity of the blow in your case, however, must be mitigated by the reflection that to her last moments she was surrounded by her loved ones and consoled by a firm reliance upon a loving Saviour. May her example and her triumphant death so influence the lives of her mourning family that they may be prepared for a happy reunion in the Grand Court above.

At the Opera House.

There was a good audience at the Opera House last night to witness the second performance of the Josie Mills Dramatic Company. "Nobody's Child" was capitally put on. Josie Mills came out remarkably strong as "Lucy Tregarven," in the emotional situations the piece affords, and she was excellently supported. Lillian Bayeras "Patty Laverock," and William Enos as "Joe, the Waif," being deserving of special mention. The entire cast filled their roles creditably and the play gave every satisfaction. Another splendid lot of silverware was distributed to the holders of the lucky tickets, including the valuable water pitcher. The company is worthy of the largest patronage. First class plays are well presented, and the gift distribution is fairly conducted. To-night the sterling comedy, "Dad's Girl," will be given with the best effects. The silverware gifts for to-night are on view at Greatrex's drug store. Prices 15, 25 and 35 cents. The manager announced that the company would also play here Friday and Saturday, with matinee on Saturday. At each performance an entirely new play will be presented.

A Stubborn Steer.

The stubbornness of the average brindle steer is proverbial, but the animal which exhibited its obstinacy on George street Tuesday afternoon appeared to be the very incarnation of "cussedness." Two boys undertook to drive it into town from a farm about four miles out in the country. The steer was destined for a slaughter house, but the spirit of stubbornness seemed to possess it, and a whole day was wasted in bringing the refractory animal to its destination. On Dublin street the steer lay down on the roadside and could not be moved even by the most cruel treatment. The boys tied the beast up and went to dinner, and when they returned it was in a more tractable mood. Slow progress was made down George street, and near the corner of Simcoe the steer again dropped down and refused to be budged. It was kicked, yanked by the rope, its tail twisted and every means tried to move it without avail. Blood streamed from the animal's knees where the skin had been scraped off on the hard ground. At last a noose was made around its nose, and two men pulled until the poor brute's wind was choked off and it rolled over on its side apparently dying. An axe was procured and preparations made to slaughter it on the street; but it suddenly revived and appeared to be ready to move on. It was given a chance, and after considerable urging it walked as far as the corner, where it again stopped. Then a carter's truck was run alongside the steer, and the beast was hauled on and borne away to its fate. A large crowd witnessed the whole proceedings, and as the animal was carried off a little cheer went up from the spectators.

St. John's Sunday School.

The annual treat of the pupils of St. John's Sunday school took place last evening, when all or nearly all the children were present. The school-room was prettily decorated, and three long tables were spread with a substantial repast, the work of the teachers, friends and senior scholars. At half-past five o'clock the tables were filled with the joyful faces of the children, who enjoyed the supper as only hearty and healthy young people can. At six o'clock the tables were cleared away and the room prepared for an impromptu entertainment, the girls doing the work while the boys enjoyed a romp outside. Choruses, songs and recitations were rendered by the children, followed by Mr. R. M. Roy's stereopticon views. The local views, particularly that of St. John's church and grounds, elicited rounds of applause. The views were interspersed with choruses by the children under the conductorship of Prof. Seward, who trained then in the singing. Then the distribution of prizes took place. Every pupil who had attended 30 Sundays or more during the year was presented with a well-bound prayer and hymn book, the idea being to make the gifts of lasting benefit to the pupils. At the conclusion of the prize-giving, which was overseen by Rev. J. C. Davidson, Mr. Wm. Brandrette, Superintendent, and Mr. F. L. Somerville, a hearty vote of thanks was moved to Mr. R. M. Roy. The children then dispersed, happy and wearied after their evenings enjoyment, with the singing of "Sun of My Soul."

Trustee in Fitting up the Collegiate Institute Vacancies—The Kindergarten to be Adopted—The Caretaker of the Public Schools.

At the meeting of the School Board Tuesday evening there were present Messrs. O'Meara, Burnham, Beasley, English, Hamilton, Deane, Hill and Dumble. On motion Mr. HILL was elected to act as chairman.

Mr. Robt. Weir sent in his resignation as High school trustee.—Received.

Mr. G. C. Smith wrote his acceptance of the position of first assistant in the Central School.—Received.

An account from S. S. No. 11, Deane, for for seventeen town pupils attending that school, amounting to $26.50, was ordered to be paid.

THE NORTH WARD.

Mr. DENNIS inquired when the seats for the North Ward School would be here.

Mr. ENGLISH said they were expected this week, but had been delayed on account of some mistake in the manufactory.

CONDITION OF THE SCHOOLS.

INSPECTOR TILLEY presented a short report concerning the condition of the Public schools. He regretted to say that the results for the half year were not, in all cases, satisfactory, which might be accounted for, in part at least, by the shortness of the term and the unusual breaks in the school work, particularly in the South Ward. The Board could reasonably expect improved results this year. The Inspector said he would, in his midsummer report, give a more detailed account of the work in the different rooms. It might be well, he suggested, for the Board to remind some teachers that the law requires them to be in their rooms some short time, say ten or fifteen minutes, before the opening of the school in the morning, as he had reason to believe that a few failed in that respect.

THE INSTITUTE VACANCIES.

Mr. DUMBLE, chairman of the Committee on Appointments, reported progress in the filling up of the vacancies on the Collegiate Institute staff. They met with several disappointments and much time was lost. The committee were handicapped also by the limit of salary fixed, and several of those who applied, though undoubtedly good men, were not qualified. The committee had finally secured Mr. Hugh Ross, a graduate of Toronto University, for Classical Master, whom Inspector Hodgson had selected for them. Mr. Ross was now in town. But they were not able to get a Science Master. Mr. Dumble showed a telegram he had received that evening from one of the applicants for the position, to whom it had been offered. This last resource had failed, as the message stated he could not accept. Mr. Dumble proposed that they ask the Department to allow them to get an unqualified man to fill the position for the present.

Mr. HILL said Mr. Parkenham called on him and stated he had decided to go to the University and he therefore wished to withdraw his application for a position on the staff.

On motion of Dr. Burnham the matter of securing a Science Master was left in the hands of the committee, Messrs. Dumble, Stevenson and Boucher, and the engagement of Mr. Ross was ratified, the question of salary being left open.

THE KINDERGARTEN.

Mr. DUMBLE, with reference to the employment of a kindergartan teacher, which had been left with himself and Mr. Stevenson at the last meeting, stated that Mr. Stevenson went to Toronto and engaged a Miss Warner, at a salary of $400. Miss Warner appeared to be well qualified for the position. A list of required articles for the kindergarten had been ordered, and she also wanted a piano and suitable furniture, such as tables, cupboards, etc. The most suitable room available was required, and it had been decided to give her the one in which the Board met. The Inspector had proposed that Miss Warner could divide the school and take two departments. This could be done if, as she suggests, two or three young lady teachers help her, without salary, thereby fitting themselves as kindergarten teachers. Perhaps this plan could be adopted here. They would do the best they could.

INSPECTOR TILLEY said when he proposed engaging a kindergarten teacher he scarcely thought the Board would get the full kindergarten system, but perhaps it could be carried out as Mr. Dumble had suggested. He thought it better to talk this matter over with the teacher herself to see how it could best be arranged. He understood the work could be carried out satisfactorily in a modified form.

On motion of Dr. Burnham, the committee was empowered to procure all the necessary apparatus for the kindergarten.

MOTIONS.

Mr. Dumble moved, seconded by Dr. Boucher that the trustees of Auburn school be notified that the Board desires to terminate the arrangements for a Union school now existing, to take effect Feb. 1st, 1890.—Carried.

Dr. Burnham moved, seconded by Mr. English, that the headmasters of the several schools keep record of the attendance of teachers, and that they report to this Board any dereliction on the part of teachers.—Carried.

On motion the question of increasing the salary of Janitor Lachear, of the South Ward school, was referred to the Property Committee.

The Board then adjourned.

Faithful Services Recognized.

Perhaps the most pleasing incident in connection with the Presbyterian S.S. entertainment last evening, says the Norwood Register, was the presentation of a $75 gold watch, and chain, and a purse, to Miss Annie Raddon, by the members and adherents of the church. Miss Raddon has for years been an efficient member of the choir and has latterly filled the position of organist with marked ability. Not only in connection with the choir has she labored faithfully, but in every department of church work she has been foremost. The acknowledgement of her services was timely and richly merited. The following is a copy of the address:—

DEAR MISS RADDON,—We, the undersigned, on behalf of the members and adherents of the congregation, are pleased to present you with this gold watch, chain and purse, as a slight appreciation of your unceasing labors amongst us. If there is work to be done, you are ever found amongst the foremost to join in that work. Your efforts in securing the beautiful instrument we have in our church were untiring. Your place at the organ, both during service and practice, is rarely empty. We wish you a bright and happy future, a future as the past, full of labors that minister to the happiness of others. May you also have a very happy Christmas, and be long spared to wear the memorial from this congregation just presented to you.

(Signed), G. A. PETTIGREW,
J. MCMILLAN.

Miss Raddon made a suitable reply.

Nassau.

From Our Own Correspondent.

At the last regular meeting of Nassau L.O.L. No. 457, the following resolution of condolence was passed to Mrs. John E. Campbell, jr.:—

Whereas it has pleased God in His allwise providence to remove from our midst by the hand of death your husband, John Edward Campbell, jr., who was an esteemed and worthy member of our noble order, we are hereby reminded of the necessity of having our work well down when the Master calls, it is unanimously resolved by the members of L.O.L. No. 457, Nassau, that we extend to you and your family our sincere and heartfelt condolement in your sad affliction and bereavement," although we humbly bow to Him who is the author of our being, and who has in His unerring wisdom transferred His labors from terrestrial to celestial fields, making our loss His eternal gain, we earnestly commend you to God, who never chastens, but in His wisdom, and He alone can heal the wounds He inflicts.

Signed,

All the rage,
Crowd into your cage,"
Here Comes the "ATHLETE,"

the SWEETEST, the PUREST and the BEST VALUE. p-tf

Elsie

In memory of Miss J. E. Holland, who died October 27th, 1889, aged 65 years, 3 months and 27 days.

The end of the wearisome journey
Has come, dear mother, at last;
Pardoned and forgiven unto death,
Rich thy reward in Heaven shall be.
What peace and joy is now thy lot,
At home, with those forever blest,
All those years of suffering o'er;
What a sweet and welcome rest.

How oft you longed to be released
From pain and suffering here below;
Yet from this earth, some kindness tie
Would fain to let thy spirit go.
Nor would your ancient home-sweet soul
On life release its feeble hold,
Till all entrusted to your care
Were safe within the Shepherd's fold.

Oh, with what faith and love,
The many anxious hours were shed
Upon your knees in humble prayer,
That all to Jesus might be led.
Nor did your prayers ascend in vain,
Yours was the precious promise given,
The fervent, effectual prayer,
A vailiah much with God in Heaven.

Mother, we hold thy memory dear;
We never can forget the love,
That taught our wandering feet the way
To heavenly joy and rest above.
And, oh, may this be thy reward,
When time shall be no more,
To see your children, every one,
Safe on the bright and happy shore.

L. R. BOSLAND, Toronto.

Omemee.

From Our Own Correspondent.

There have been no serious cases of the so-called influenza here as yet, though there are a great many complaining of bad colds.

Nominations and elections have been all the rage, and keenly contested both in Omemee and the township of Emily.

The Presbyterian concert on New Year's evening, came off successfully, despite the inclement state of the weather. The principal attractions were Prof. Cameron, of Toronto, and the singing of Miss Lily Jackson, who, for a child, pleased every lover of a good and well trained voice. We are hoping to have an opportunity, at some future occasion, of listening to the melodious voice she possesses.

Schools are re-opened, and our citizens are again settled down to their respective duties.

LOSSES CAUSED BY FLAMES.

The City Building and Postoffice at Lewiston, Me., Consumed.

LEWISTON, Me., Jan. 7.—The Lewiston city building was burned to-night. It was a brick structure 200 by 60 feet with an ell. Besides city offices it contained several armories, the rooms of the Manufacturers' and Mechanics' Association and the postoffice. The fire quickly got beyond control of the firemen who were menaced by a lofty tower. After the tower fell the firemen were able to work at shorter range. The building cost $250,000; there was no insurance. The library of the Manufacturers' and Mechanics' Association, consisting of some 11,000 volumes, was destroyed. It was insured for $6000. The military companies lose all their equipments. The fire extended to Tracy's block, which was ruined. This was occupied by F. L. Hoyt's picture store, Weeks' printing office and The Lewiston Daily Advocate. The Androscoggin poultry show opened to-day in the building and most of the fowls were burned.

HAVRE, Jan. 7.—The Alcazar Theatre was burned to-night.

CUTTING PASSENGER RATES.

The Railroad War Spreading Among the Northwestern Lines.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—The northwestern passenger rate war is spreading. The west-bound reduction went into effect to-day, making the rate from Chicago to St. Paul $9 first-class and $7 second-class by all lines. Furthermore the Chicago and Northwestern and the Union Pacific reduced rates to Montana and Northern Pacific coasts points by way of Omaha to meet the competition by way of St. Paul. This was done without disturbing Missouri River rates.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 7.—The Soo road has cut rates as follows, to take effect Jan. 9, meeting the Burlington and Northern cut: $18 first-class, $15 second-class, to Montreal; $19 first-class, $16.40 second-class, to Boston, and other points in proportion. To Portland, Me., and points north of there the Soo rate will be lower than Chicago quotations, as the Soo road has the shortest route. The rates to Portland are $19 first-class and $16.40 second-class, whereas the lowest rates from Chicago are $23 and $19.

A Hungarian Newspaper War.

VIENNA, Jan. 4.—At Neusats in Hungary, two editors of local newspapers fought a duel. Editor Tomics of The Sastava killed Editor Dimitrevics of The Branik.

Connaught to Visit Canada.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The Duke of Connaught is making arrangements for a month's sojourn in Canada and intends afterwards to pay New York a visit.

Professed and Confessed.

FORT SMITH, Ark., Jan. 7.—Of the nine murderers who are to be hanged here on Jan. 16, all but one have made professions of religion and confessed their crimes.

Plague and Want in West Virginia.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Jan. 7.—Physicians sent into the mountain district along the Ohest River tell horrible stories of suffering. The people are afflicted with epidemics of diphtheria and "black tongue." Thirty deaths have occurred from the latter disease. Many children are suffering from diphtheria. Families attacked by either disease are in want. The county has erected a hospital and a large force of physicians and nurses have came to attend to it.

Powderly Must Go This Time.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 7.—The third warrant sworn out by Edward Callaghan, Assemblyman of Westmoreland County, for the arrest of General Master Workman Powderly was received here this afternoon by Constable Moran. The warrant covers all the points of law omitted in the previous one and passed muster before a Scranton alderman, who endorsed it. The constable, however, will not serve the warrant until Powderly is able to leave his home, where he is still laid up with an affection of the throat.

Escape of the Elmira Female Swindler.

ELMIRA, N.Y., Jan. 7.—Miss Ella White, the former fashionable music teacher and bucket-shop speculator who about a year ago swindled business people in this city out of sums aggregating $30,000 by means of forgeries and who escaped from custody and was later captured in Chicago, where she was living as Mrs. North, and confined in the county jail here awaiting trial, is missing. Miss White was a model prisoner and was allowed to walk in the jail corridor evenings. She hid outside her cell last night when the turnkey locked the door, and escaped through the sheriff's residence after the family had retired. A reward of $100 is offered for her arrest.

DEATH ON THE TRACK.

A TORONTO GIRL KILLED BY A NORTHERN ENGINE.

A Belated Express Runs Over Sarah Drake—Another Scaffold Accident—Three Men Injured—Three Bills for Serious Offences Returned by the Grand Jury.

TORONTO, Jan. 9.—An accident occurred up west last night which resulted in the terrible death of a young girl of scarce 14 years of age. The name of the victim is Sarah Drake, who lived with her parents at No. 9 Northern-place, off St. Alban's Ward. At 8 o'clock she was on her way home along the old Northern track, when between Jameson and St. Clemen's-avenue, while blinded by the snowstorm the express from the north which, though due at 7.30, was half an hour late, struck her, killing her instantly. The engineer stopped the train. The body was picked up and conveyed to the father's residence where it awaits the action of Coroner Lynd, who, so far, does not think an inquest necessary.

Still another scaffold accident must be added to the already long list of such disasters. By the collapse of a scaffold at a building in the rear of 103 Sumach-street yesterday morning two men were seriously injured and a third received a severe shaking up. On the scaffold at the time of the accident were George Rymer, laborer, 450 Church-street; Frederick Greenlaw, laborer, 33 Pape-avenue; Henry Burrows, laborer, 145 Jarvis-street and Joseph Schener, bricklayer, 83 Pape-avenue. The three last named fell a distance of twenty feet, Burrows breaking his left leg at the thigh, and Schener sustaining internal injuries and injury to his back. Greenlaw was not seriously hurt. Rymer escaped by clinging to the top of the window frame and swinging himself in at the window. Burrows and Schener were taken to the hospital and at a late hour last night were doing as well as could be expected.

The Grand Jury presented these true bills yesterday: Richard Pryor, forgery (three cases); William McMillan, forgery (three cases; Nathaniel Kirby, rape; Michael Neelon, seduction; Louis Deas, murder; Thomas Kane, murder, and David Christie, assault with intent to rob. No bill was returned in the case of John Ganly, charged with larceny.

Mayor Clarke's exact majority over McMillan, as declared by the City Clerk yesterday, was 1894. Clarke polled 10,326 votes and McMillan 8432. His Worship took the oath of office in the council chamber yesterday morning.

THE MISSISSIPPI FIGHT.

Sensational Arrests—Harding, Donovan, Cleary and Muldoon the Victims.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Great excitement prevails among the sporting fraternity here over the arrest of William E. Harding, Professor Mike Donovan, Mike Cleary and William Muldoon, Sullivan's trainer, on a requisition from Governor Lowry of Mississippi charging them with aiding and abetting the Sullivan-Kilrain fight at Richburg, Miss., last July.

The mandate issued by Governor Hill ordered the arrest of the four men mentioned and others who took a prominent part in the fight. The men were taken to Jefferson Market Police Court. The governor's mandate could not be produced in court because it was in use in another county for the purpose of making another arrest. Judge Mitchell, counsel for the prisoners, in asking the magistrate, Judge Hogan, to fix a date for the examination of his clients, stated he had already telegraphed to Governor Hill requesting a hearing in the case. He wanted the day for the examination fixed subsequent to the hearing before the Governor. Judge Hogan assented to this. All the prisoners except Muldoon gave $500 bail at once. Muldoon was paroled until to-morrow. It is said the names of the other sports on the requisition are Frank Stevenson, Jim Wakely, Charlie Johnson and L. B. Allen. The hearing has been set down for January 18.

THE ANCIENT CAPITAL.

A Belgian Decoration For Mr. Garneau—A Big Timber Limits Sale.

QUEBEC, Jan. 8.—A distinguished Belgian order specially sent out by King Leopold was this morning conferred upon Hon. Mr. Garneau, Commissioner of Public Works, by M. Van Bruyssel, Belgian consul at this point, in recognition of the minister's patronage of Belgian skill in connection with the building of iron bridges in the province.

An important sale of timber limits and fishing privileges is announced by the Government to take place in the sale room of the Department of Crown Lands to-morrow. The limits are situated in the Upper Ottawa, St. Maurice, Saguenay, Gaspe and other agencies, and are known to be of great value. The total mileage to be offered is in the vicinity of 3000 square miles.

Judgment was rendered in two cases heard some time ago against Elsear Paquet in connection with smuggling whisky, condemning him in one case to pay a fine of $201 or to be imprisoned for one month, and fining him $50 in the other or a similar period of imprisonment.

An Anarchist's Suicide.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The dead body of Guseppi Cerretti, an Italian, aged about 25 years, was discovered in his room at 113 Bleecker-street to-day. The body was badly decomposed. He had killed himself, apparently, with a pistol shot in the head. The landlady saw him last on the Saturday before Christmas, and it is supposed he has been dead since that time. The dead man is said to have been an anarchist and he often threatened suicide.

Killed by Sulphuric Acid Fumes.

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 8.—Joshua Williams, William Ross and Abraham Brown, all colored, employed at the Walton & Whann phosphate works, were overcome by sulphuric acid fumes yesterday while cleaning out a leaden tank. They were removed to their homes where Williams and Ross died during the night.

Ruined by Forgeries.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8.—The estimated liabilities of the Glanmorgan Iron Company, that assigned yesterday, were made public to-day as $230,000. The assets are much less. The capital stock of the company is $350,000. The assignment was brought about by forgeries of Charles Burgton, the treasurer.

A Wife's Disgrace.

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 8.—A suit for divorce to-day revealed the fact that the wife of George K. Dixon of the wholesale grocery house of Park & Dixon has left her husband and is now conducting a fashionable resort of a disreputable character.

An Unnatural Father's Fate.

RALEIGH, N.C., Jan. 8.—J. O. Parish, now in jail here under sentence of death for assault on his own daughter, will be hanged Friday. Governor Fowle to-day announced his decision not to interfere with the course of law.

A Cold Wave in Nevada.

TRENTON, N.J., Jan. 8.—Dr. Knifton and Miss Purcell have been arrested on the charge of murdering Mrs. Knifton.

Arcadian Sold For $10,000.

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., Jan. 8.—Webb & Laboef of this city have sold their celebrated stallion Arcadian to a Minneapolis syndicate of horsemen for $10,000.

A Chicago Failure.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—The big drygoods house of T. R. Lawlor was closed to-day by the sheriff. Liabilities said to exceed $100,000, assets about half that sum.

Death of Mr. William Cooke.

PORT DALHOUSIE, Jan. 8.—Mr. William Cooke, harbor master here for the past fifteen or eighteen years, who was stricken with paralysis several days ago, died this evening.

The best anodyne and expectorant for the cure of colds and coughs and all throat, lung and bronchial troubles is undoubtedly Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Ask your druggist for it and, at the same time, for Ayer's Almanac, which is free to all.

MATTERS IN MONTREAL

THE REIGNING SENSATION IN CLUB CIRCLES.

Four Prominent Citizens Black-balled—Nominations in the County of Berthier—Mr. Shaughnessy's Detroit Mission—Judgment Against a Railway Company.

MONTREAL, Jan. 8.—Considerable excitement has been caused in club circles over the blackballing of four prominent candidates for membership in the leading club here. The opinion is freely expressed that this policy of exclusion, which has now been persisted in for some years, is working a good deal of dissatisfaction amongst the older members. The opposition to further admissions is supposed to proceed from a certain set among the younger fry, connected largely with one of the railway staffs, in conjunction with others from abroad. The combination, it is charged, is too apt to place its veto against Canadians, however responsible they or their sponsors may be. A similar feeling was evoked some years ago, when a well-known and much respected citizen proposed by one of the oldest members, was unceremoniously barred. This recurrence of the trouble in an aggravated form will probably result in causing a lukewarm spirit among the best portion of the club's membership.

A complimentary dinner was tendered Mr. B. A. Greenshields of Greenshields, Guerin & Greenshields at the Windsor, on the occasion of his approaching marriage to Miss Maud Gooderham of Toronto.

Nominations took place to-day in the Court of Berthier. The candidates are Messrs. L. A. Dostaler (Nationalist) and J. R. Savignac (Conservative). Polling will take place on Jan. 15.

Mr. Shaughnessy of the Canadian Pacific Railway left here to-night on his way to Detroit, where it is said he is gone in connection with the proposed entry of the Canadian Pacific Railway into that city.

Judgment for $64,844 was rendered by default this morning against the Montreal and Sorel Railway Company on three promissory notes to the order of Messrs. Rankin, Beattie & Co., on which payment had been refused.

U.S. TARIFF REVISION.

Agricultural Interests Demanding Protection—Canadian Competition Feared.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Before the Ways and Means Committee to-day Congressman Lansing of New York spoke of the desirability of giving agriculture the same degree of protection given manufactures. He wanted 40 cents a bushel on peas and beans raised for seed. The people in Canada would by reason of cheaper labor undersell the American seed raiser at least 30 per cent. Barley and hay should also be made to pay a higher duty. He complained that the Canadian, by reason of better rates for long hauls from railroads on hay, could undersell the American farmer in the Eastern market after paying the duty of $2. He wanted 20 cents duty instead of 10 cents on barley and $4 instead of $2 on hay.

Rice Producers Want Protection.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The Ways and Means Committee spent the afternoon hearing arguments from the producers of rice. They urged the retention of the present duty on rice and an amendment to the laws so as to make the classification more specific.

HEIRESS AND COACHMAN.

A Wealthy Illinois Girl Shot by Her Colored Admirer—Her Assailant Wounded.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., Jan. 8.—For a long time the affairs of Miss Fannie Keener, a young, beautiful and wealthy girl, and Nathan Pasten, her colored coachman, have been the gossip of the town. Recently Pasten went to Iowa, and Miss Keener sent him a large amount of property. Miss Keener remained here with her brother. Yesterday Pasten returned to Jacksonville and went to Miss Keener's house. He was ordered away by Tom Keener. As Pasten turned to go he met Miss Keener and a young man named Bancroft. Without warning, Pasten drew a pistol, shot and wounded Bancroft twice, and then fired at Miss Keener, who returned the fire. Miss Keener is in a critical condition. Pasten was shot in the arm and head. Tom Keener and a colored boy then clubbed Pasten until disarmed by the crowd which had assembled. Pasten is in jail. It is thought that both Pasten and Miss Keener will die. The Keener family is one of the most prominent in Jacksonville.

The Doctors Puzzled.

CLEAR LAKE, Ia., Jan. 8.—Two more cases of an unknown disease have occurred here, making eight deaths from the malady within a short time. A post portem on the body of the latest victim, David Carleton, shows the same conditions as in the previous cases, numerous plugs of pale yellow fibrine filling the cavaties of the heart. The doctors are at a loss to classify or cure the disease.

A Midland Brakeman Killed.

WHITBY, Jan. 8.—Christopher Brett, aged 24, whose home is in Weston, a brakeman on Conductor White's train on the Midland running north from here, fell beneath the train at Whitby Junction last night about 7 o'clock. The wheel of the box car tore out the abdominal region of the body, and death ensued at an early hour this morning.

The Flour Market.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 8.—The flour output last week was 135,730 barrels. Almost everybody is grinding more than current sales amount to. Local millers generally report sales light the past week. One large concern claims to have sold a single party 140 cars patent for export. Export trade is much worse than domestic, bids to-day by cable being at a lower range. Millers are maintaining prices pretty well.

The Pelican Club Split.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The scandal in sporting circles growing out of the Smith-Slavin fight, instead of subsiding appears to expand. The members of the Pelican Club desired a further enquiry into Abington's conduct. The committee that made the recent investigation and reported exhonerating Abington has resigned, and a split in the Pelican is threatened

LA GRIPPE.

Progress of the Epidemic in Canada—Many Deaths in the States.

RIDGETOWN, Jan. 8.—Mr. G. E. Casey, M.P., was unable to be present at the meeting of West Elgin Reformers to-day owing to the serious illness of his wife who is down with influenza.

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—La grippe has not abated much in this city. Mrs. C. H. Tupper is recovering from a severe attack of influenza. Sir John Macdonald is to-day indisposed with a slight cold and is confined to the house. Mr. E. D. Ingall, mining engineer of the geological survey, is ill in New York. He was taken down with la grippe while visiting New York, and complications have, it is understood, set in which are serious.

Many Deaths in the States.

SACO, Me., Jan. 8.—W. A. Henderson, an Amherst College student, died here to-day of the grippe.

BOSTON, Jan. 8.—Three cases of death from la grippe were reported here to-day.

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 8.—James Oliver died to-day of influenza.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—For the 24 hours ending at noon to-day, the unprecedented number of 250 deaths were reported in the city. The warm weather or the grippe seems to be responsible for the mortality. There are ninety bodies at the morgue, which is crowded to its utmost capacity. There were 144 deaths from diseases kindred to the influenza and four due to the grippe itself.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 8.—The first death from a grippe occurred this morning—James Phelan, a well-known grocer.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—It is reported to-night that there are at least 30,000 cases of influenza here. Secretary Windom was obliged to cease work this afternoon owing to the disease. Private Secretary Halford, Miss Sanger the stenographer and two other White House clerks are down with it, while the President himself has some symptoms of it, although his physician says it is only a bad cold.

Across the Sea.

VIENNA, Jan. 8.—Official returns show 800,400 persons in the city and suburbs, amounting to forty-two per cent. of the population, have suffered from the influenza.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

TO FIGHT FOR EIGHT HOURS.

An Important Meeting of the American Federation of Labor in New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor have been in session the past two days at No. 25 Clinton-place. Besides President Gompers there were present William Martin, General Secretary Iron and Steel Workers Association, and P. J. McGuire, General Secretary United Brotherhood of American Carpenters and Joiners, vice-presidents; Christoper Evans, secretary, and Henry Emrich, treasurer. The meeting is of the utmost importance, as it will decide what trades unions will enter the field on May 1 for the enforcement of the eight-hour workday. The representatives of several industries which were considered sufficiently well organized to make a successful battle were in attendance, but what those industries were the council refused to divulge. There will be probably three national unions chosen. When the decision is reached notice will be then given to the employers, so that an amicable arrangement can be reached. Should the employers in those trades refuse to make terms the federation will support the designated organizations with all the means at its command.

As the revenue of the federation between now and May will be two cents a member a month, and there being, it is said, over 600,000 men in the federation, there will be $60,000 in the treasury besides the funds of the respective unions, which will be husbanded for the battle. A special circular will be sent out to all affiliated bodies calling for mass-meetings on Washington's birthday throughout the country to discuss the subject.

A cablegram was received from John Burns, the London labor leader, stating that the condition of his health would not permit him to accept the federation's invitation to come here to agitate the eight-hour question before May 1.

AMBITIOUS CITY NOTES.

Opening of the Assizes—Two Aldermen Elect Said to be Disqualified.

HAMILTON, Jan. 8.—The Assize Court opened this morning. In charging the grand jury Judge McMahon instructed them that they should return a bill for murder against John Moore for the killing of a telegraph operator named Reuben Shoupe at Glanford last summer. His Lordship referred to the agitation for the abolition of the grand jury system and alluded to the procurator-fiscal plan in vogue in Scotland. He requested the grand jury, if it saw fit, to make a presentment on the subject.

Holly, the gay young benedict who was unable to find sureties to keep the peace toward his lady love, was discharged on his own recognizance.

There is a report around town that A. D. Stewart and F. Fitzgerald, who were elected aldermen for wards 3 and 5 respectively on Monday, cannot show the necessary qualification to entitle them to seats in the council. They were not on the assessment roll for 1889, but their names appear on the roll just completed for 1890. The contention is that the roll for 1890 was not the last revised assessment roll on nomination day, when the election is supposed to commence.

Thomas Arnold's name has already been chronicled on the pages of criminal history, and his face is not unknown to the officials at Kingston. He is young yet (only 22), and unless stopped in his career, bids fair to reach a high rung in the ladder of criminal fame. For the past two weeks he has been laboring for John Fillman, a farmer on the mountain, and last evening the barn on the farm was set on fire. Mr. Fillman suspected Arnold, who had gone away with a horse taken from the barn. Mr. Fillman at once secured a warrant. Fillman's neighbors soon secured Arnold. The young desperado was incarcerated in the cells by Constable Barron. This morning he was brought before the Magistrate and charged by Mr. Fillman with trespass and arson; by Peter Fillman with threatening to shoot, and by Constable Barron with carrying firearms. The case will come up for trial to-morrow.

Rev. W. J. Dey, who accepted a call from St. Paul's Church, Simcoe, will leave Erskine Church to-day. He will be inducted at Simcoe to-morrow night by Rev. Dr. Fletcher of the Macnab-street church.

The gallows that hanged Harvey, the Guelph murderer, passed through here yesterday on its way to Welland. It was consigned to the sheriff of Welland.

There are some very severe cases of distemper among horses in the neighborhood of Stony Creek.

Miss Zealand, daughter of Capt. Zealand of this city, was married this afternoon to Robert Allan, merchant of Essex Centre.

PASTOR STRAN'S DEFENCE.

The Church Which Accused Him of Theft Owed Him His Salary.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Jan. 8.—Three hundred negroes crowded the Police Court here to watch the progress of a trial. Most of them were members of the congregation of the Colored Union Baptist Church, and the prisoner in whose trial they were interested was their pastor, Rev. J. P. Stran. He was accused of embezzling several petty sums from his congregation. The pastor was engaged at a salary of $35 a month, which offer induced him to leave a poor congregation in Northern Kentucky. There is no testimony to show that he ever received $25 in a lump. He took it in chips and whetstones, and his wife cried a little over the washing some kind neighbors gave her to do, while her husband pored over his Bible in the kitchen and sought out truths simple enough for his congregation to grasp. Then he was arrested for embezzlement. His huddling flock of sheep was one of pathetic poverty, but they fancied their pastor had stolen their little. If Stran had stolen the church bodily he couldn't have sold it for what was due him.

Stran has battled quite like a man to get to where he is now. He is 40 years old, and in 1860 was a slave on the plantation of Col. Hiram Paige Whitner in Southern Virginia. His young master taught him to read, and showed fondness and something like tenderness for him. On an Ohio River steamboat one night the slave saw his young master shot to death in a game of cards. A white-haired minister, Rev. Enoel K. Stran, of Tennessee, also saw the act, and poured out such an appeal against sin over the dead body of the murdered man that the people were profoundly stirred. The minister felt something clinging timidly to his leg as he concluded, and, looking down, saw the little negro holding him tightly by the trouser leg and crying piteously.

Rev. Mr. Stran, a Southerner and slave-owner himself, was touched by the circumstance, especially when he learned that the murdered man had been a kind friend to the slave boy. He purchased the child and cared for him tenderly until his own death, when young Stran was given his freedom. To tell how the negro youth has fought his way up from then to now is to tell of the cotton-field, the grocery store, the canal-boat, the charity student. He is back in the shadow now. But the whites of this city think he has tried to teach the word of God, and pity him that he is dragged into court for stealing money from a church that owed him his scant salary.

PEOPLING THE NORTHWEST.

Last Year's Emigration to Manitoba—A Comparison of Prices of Wheat.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 8.—Foreign immigration to Manitoba and the Northwest last year was: Germans, 1043; Scandinavians, 356; French and Belgians, 223; other nationalities, including Icelandic, 545.

Wheat is quoted at 64c in Grafton, Dakota. At similarly situated places in Manitoba the price is from 70c to 75c.

The Blue Ribbon society of Winnipeg has disbanded.

It is probable that a Manitoba immigration office will be opened in Chicago in the spring. Premier Greenway says immigration work will be carried on in Europe, Eastern Canada and the States, and he hopes to bring in 50,000 people during 1890.

Stove Foundries Shut Down.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 8.—All the stove foundries in this city are closed. It is claimed that an overstock is on hand and that work will be resumed in March. There is much suffering among the hundreds of laborers out of work.

Congressman Kelly Dying.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Judge Kelly is slowly sinking. There is no hope of his recovery. At midnight Dr. Staunton, his physician, said he might live a few days and might die within a few hours.

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES

PARNELL'S SILENT CONTEMPT FOR CAPTAIN O'SHEA.

The Irish Leader Says He is not Culpable and Will Defend the Action—Stanley at Aden—The English Court in Mourning—The Miners' Strike.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Mr. Parnell takes notice of the Times Board's vote of confidence in Captain O'Shea's charges only to say that this proceeding "may be most advantageously met with the deadly weapon of silent contempt." He says: "I intend to defend the action. At the same time I utterly and entirely deny all culpability—for, to use the words of Stonewall Jackson, there are times when the insignificance of an accuser is lost in the ingratitude of the accusation."

A U. S. Ex-Consul on American Politics.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—American residents and visitors here have had a lively topic to interest them to-day. It is a rather remarkable speech made by one of their countrymen. Ex-Consul Underwood last night attended a banquet at Glasgow. He made a speech in which he declared that he deplored the low level politics in America had reached. The best men abstained from politics because of the disgraceful features connected therewith. He said the ablest legal talent shrank from assuming official position and devoted their attention to practice at the bar and were not to be found on the bench. If an eminent man was appointed to represent the United States abroad it was purely an accident.

The English Court in Mourning.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The Court will wear mourning for a month because of the death of ex-Empress Augusta of Germany. The Court Circular states that the Queen is deeply grieved at the loss of one who had been for forty years her intimate friend.

France's Sympathy.

PARIS, Jan. 8.—President Carnot has instructed the French ambassador to Germany to convey his condolence to Emperor William on the death of Empress Augusta.

Stanley at Aden.

CAIRO, Jan. 8.—The Katonia, with Mr. Stanley on board, touched at Aden to-day and proceeded to Suez.

The Pope's Revenues.

ROME, Jan. 8.—The Peter's pence for 1889 yielded to the Pope $30,000 less than in 1888. The legacies bequeathed to the Pope during the year amounted to $800,000.

Eight Persons Drowned.

LUBECK, Jan. 8.—Many persons broke through the ice while skating here to-day. Eight were drowned.

The Charleroi Strike.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 8.—The striking miners at Charleroi are becoming enraged and the authorities fear serious trouble, as the men are very menacing in their attitude.

PATTI'S MEXICAN SEASON.

Fashionable Society Making Great Preparations for the Event.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 8.—The Patti season, which begins to-morrow, will be even more successful than the last one, the sales of boxes and seats already aggregating $140,000, and will undoubtedly reach $200,000. People are coming in from interior cities to attend the opera season, and the fashionable world of Mexico is in a state of pleasurable excitement and anticipation regarding what promises to be the most successful opera season ever known here. It is estimated that the opera season will involve an expenditure of fully $1,000,000, as most lavish preparations in the way of toilets are making in fashionable society.

BLOWN TO ATOMS.

An Ottawa Workman Killed by an Explosion of Dynamite.

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—William McMullen was blown to pieces this afternoon by dynamite. The unfortunate man, with a number of other workmen, was blasting rock for the city on Division-street, near Fisher's Hill. A number of charges had been exploded successfully. McMullen was engaged carrying dynamite from the magazine where he and a fellow-workman named Farrell were thawing the cartridges. When about ten feet from the magazine there was a sudden explosion followed by a cloud of dust. When this had cleared away poor McMullen was discovered to have been blown to pieces. It is supposed McMullen let one of the cartridges drop. The magazine was blown to bits by the explosion, stove and all, but Farrell, who was sitting by the stove with his hands full of cartridges, escaped.

THE RATE WAR.

A Hot Fight Between the "Soo" and Burlington Lines.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 8.—The rate war between the "Soo" and Burlington lines is getting hot. Yesterday the Burlington met the reduction made by the "Soo" to eastern points and the latter promptly retaliated by making another cut. The differential which the "Soo" has been contending for is $1.80 for first class and $1 for second class tickets. But instead of making this the basis of the cut under the Burlington, the rates were lowered on an average of $3 for first class and $2 for second class tickets. The new rates will go into effect Jan. 10.

Cutting Bound to Ensue.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—The answer of the Union Pacific and the Northwestern to the charges preferred by the Rock Island, Atcheson and St. Paul roads has been handed to Chairman Walker and will be read at the president's meeting at New York. No matter what the answer is a rate war is bound to ensue.

AMONG THE POLITICIANS.

Annual Meeting of West Elgin Reformers—Addington Conservative Convention.

RIDGETOWN, Jan. 8.—The annual meeting of the West Elgin Reform Association for the Dominion was held here to-day in the Town Hall. Owing to the almost impassable condition of the roads the attendance of delegates was small. These officers were elected: President, D. Lang, Aldboro; vice-president, Charles MacDonald, Ridgetown; secretaress, S. R. Morris, Rudney. Short addresses on different political topics were delivered by Messrs. Ford and Brierly, St. Thomas, Lea of Highgate, MacDonald of Ridgetown, Stalker of Bismarck, Darling of Howard, McColl and Morris of Rudney. After passing the usual resolutions the meeting adjourned to meet at West Lorne.

Addington Conservative Convention.

TAMWORTH, Jan. 8.—At the convention of Addington Liberal Conservatives, held here to-day to select a candidate to contest this county for the Ontario Assembly, James Reid was chosen as the party's standard bearer.

THE BRAZILIAN REPUBLIC.

Separation of Church and State Proclaimed—Religious Liberty Guaranteed.

RIO JANEIRO, Jan. 8.—An official decree just promulgated proclaims the separation of church and state, guarantees religious liberty and equality and continues the life stipends granted under the monarchy.

A Pennsylvania Desperado Captured.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 8.—The desperado, who made the attempt at robbing the First National Bank at Bloomsburg at noon yesterday, was captured this afternoon near Danville, fifteen miles from Bloomsburg, by Edward Tustin, a one-armed assistant cashier, and Constable Williams. The man's name is Amos Appleman. He was recently released from the penitentiary. He pleaded guilty at a preliminary hearing and was remanded for trial.

An Afflicted Family.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 8.—The ravages of diphtheria in the family of Arthur Carroll, living near Carbondale, have been fearfully sad. Four children between the ages of three and ten years died during Monday night. All were taken away for burial in one grave. Another child, the last of the family, died this morning, making five deaths in the family inside of 36 hours.

Several Thousand Dollars Short.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 8.—C. N. McLemore, junior member of H. A. McLemore & Bro., doing a milling and general commission business at Columbia, Tenn., is missing since Dec. 29, and is several thousand dollars short in his accounts. He left ostensibly for Louisville but was next heard of in St. Louis, where he married Miss Nellie Carwell, alleged Columbia, who was visiting that city. Creditors have attached.

TURNBULL'S

If you should give the days of the week trade names, Saturday would be clothing man's day.

Look at the clothing store news up and down the columns of the papers! Is it not so.

We could pile adjective upon hyperbole—could print with display type the most impossible statement if we choose, but we spare you.

They can all gang their ain gait, while we go on making our clothing business bigger by making it better; the only sure way and we hold our own with the best in quality, style and make with real cheapness, Our boys' Readymade clothing cannot be beaten in style, quality and price.

We had a heavy run on Ladies' Mantles last week, A lot of good goods at Bargain Prices still to select from.

Our 40c. Heavy Canadian tweeds please the eye and pockets of all.

In the name of Jack Frost—Blankets. If we could only tell you all we know of Blankets, it would be good reading. One thing we do know, and don't fear to say is, you will get more good wool and generous size in the Blankets now here at $5, than is generally offered. Blankets at $4 and $3.75 of good medium sizes.

Once more the cheapest stock of Grey Flannels and Cottons is with us. The people carry it off with more industry than ants, which is the best proof that business men have that goods are cheap.

CANADIANS Work Too Hard!

The Result is Sleeplessness, Nervousness and Broken-Down Systems.

Ending in Insanity.

Thousands of overworked business men, wearied brain-workers industrious mechanics, and tried women, in all parts of the Dominion are to-day in a terrible position. Their nerves are weak, digestion poor, head aching, and they cannot sleep, work or live in comfort. This is what fills our Insane Asylums. This is the cause of that terrible Paresis Before it is too late, use Dr. Phelps' wonderful discovery, Paine's Celery Compound. It removes the results of overwork, restores strength, renews vitality, regulates the whole system, and zones up the overworked brain and body. Do not despair, but use this wonderful remedy, and be restored to health and happiness, the same as was Mr. John L. Brodie, of Montreal, who writes: "I have great pleasure in recommending your Paine's Celery Compound. My system was run down and I was not fit for business, could not sleep well at night and was nervous. I commenced taking Paine's Celery Compound and improved immediately. I am now able to transact my business and endure any amount of excitement without bad effect."

Paine's Celery Compound can be purchased at any druggist's for one dollar a bottle. If he should not have it on hand, order direct from WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Montreal.

The Daily Examiner.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 9, 1890.

A PETITION has been forwarded to the interior department by the settlers of the Battleford district protesting against the action of the federal government in setting apart large reservations of hay lands and wood lots for the use of the Indians. The settlers say that to limit the area of hay lands available for the use of farmers and stock raisers in the manner proposed will greatly discourage settlement; and that they have at present much difficulty in obtaining their winter supplies of fodder. With respect to the necessities of the Indians, it is contended that the present reserves are sufficient for them, and that to look up more lands would be grossly unjust to white settlers. Mr. Dewdney pretends to know all about Northwest matters, and yet he is constantly creating trouble for the settlers. Referring to his proposal to create reserves of hay lands the Battleford Herald, a Conservative paper, says that to tie up more lands for the Indians than is really necessary is to throttle the stock raising industry in its infancy.

THE North American Review for this month contains an article from Mr. Gladstone on free trade and one from Mr. Blaine on protection. Mr. Gladstone clearly and comprehensively states his cause as follows:—America produces an enormous mass of products, which are sold in the unsheltered markets of the world; the producers of them are fined for the benefit of protected interests and receive nothing in return; yet they obtain for their country, as well as from the world, the whole advantage of a vast natural trade—that is, a trade in which production is carried on at a minimum cost in capital and labor as compared with what the rest of the world can do; that America invites and obtains in a remarkable degree from all the world one of the great elements of production without tax of any kind—namely, capital; that, while securing to the capitalist producer a monopoly in the protected trades, she allows all the world to do its best by a free immigration to prevent or qualify any corresponding monopoly in the case of workmen; finally, that America draws upon a bank of natural resources so vast that it easily bears those deductions of improvidence which simply prevent the results from being vaster still. Farther on Mr. Gladstone proves that all Mr. Blaine's protectionist arguments were exploded in England long ago.

WE see sometimes strangely assorted allies. It was a millennial marvel to see the Empire and Globe gushing in unison over Mayor Clarke, and still the wonder grows to see them both denouncing the Mail for its Annexation plotting. But with a difference. There is no doubt of the bona fides of the Globe's attack, it means what it says—it strikes with a solid stick, while the Empire belabours the Mail with a stuffed club—with resounding thwacks, with the idea of making the public believe that it is at cross purposes with the senior Tory organ. Now the fact is that the Empire and the Mail are making for the same political port. The difference is that the Empire sails a straighter course, while the senior Tory organ tacks to catch the shiftiest of breezes. It is not to be deplored that the Empire thus fires the charge of treason to Canada, upon the Mail, when it says:—"That the Mail has been playing a treacherous, traitorous part has been more than suspected, but the cold-blooded treason of this deliberately prepared and secret-given aid to those who would annex our country will strike horror into all patriotic Canadians."

No person can say now that the Mail has been tradoced in the matter by the Globe raising a cry for political purposes. Family "spats" often give a peep at the family skeleton. Nobody will seriously doubt that the Mail, masquerade how it may behind divers disguises, is not first, last and always the senior organ of the Conservative party, allowed, for the sake of attaining certain ends to take an apparently antagonistic course. The Mail may affect independence, sacrifice loyalty, "smash Confederation," conspire in favour of annexation, but it still clings to that distructive badge of Tory organship, patronage. When a Conservative organ is asserting its independence, sacrifices it pap, one may be certain its apostacy is genuine and complete.

"La Grippe" or Lightning Catarrh.

MR. EDITOR,—"La Grippe," or Russian influenza, as it is termed, is in reality an epidemic catarrh, and is called by some physicians "lightning catarrh," from the rapidity with which it sweeps over the country. Allow us to draw the attention of your readers to the fact that Nasal Balm, as well as being a thorough cure for all cases of the ordinary cold in the head and catarrh, will give prompt relief in even the most severe cases of "La Grippe," or Russian influenza, as it will effectually clear the nasal passages, allay irritation and relieve the dull, oppressive headache accompanying the disease. No family should be without a bottle of Nasal Balm in the house, as cold in the head and catarrh are peculiarly liable to attack people at this season of the year, and Nasal Balm is the only prompt and speedy cure for these troubles ever offered the public. Easy to use and agreeable. If you cannot get it at your dealers, it will be sent, post free, on receipt of price (50 cents and $1 per bottle) by addressing FULFORD & Co., Brockville, Ont. eodw

A Chemong Indian's Experience

I went from Chemong to Hiawatha to board the Christmas Ship. I am glad to say the Hiawatha's are almost equal to the whites in any way you like to take them. There was one Christmas tree and one ship. Both were loaded to the water's edge with presents, and as many more on the platform too heavy for the tree. I was very pleased to hear the recitations of the children without their books, especially a girl about 8 years of age—she was far ahead of any of your white girls. If you don't believe this, come to Chemong for our next entertainment, I am getting this girl to appear there—you couldn't get one of your own girls of the same age that will equal her—but your life, don't you forget it. Well, so long!

CHEMONG.

Mothers!

Remember that Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or any other narcotic substance, in any quantity, shape or form. It is entirely vegetable, pleasant to take, positively effective and perfectly harmless. It is not a secret remedy; the formula is printed on the wrapper. Your physician will recommend it. Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, and many so-called soothing syrups are composed principally of opium or morphine; in any quantity they stupify, and in large quantities are deadly poisons. Castoria assimilates the food and regulates the bowels, cures diarrhœa, allays feverishness and fretfulness, soothes the pain in teething, relieves constipation and kills worms. It brings refreshing and natural sleep to the child, and gives rest to the mother.

"Castoria is so well adapted to infants and children that I recommend it as superior to any other known remedy."

DR. H. A. ARCHER,
111 S. Oxford st., Brooklyn, N.Y.
March 6, 1887.

"From personal knowledge and observation I can say that Castoria is an excellent medicine for children, acting as a laxative and relieving the pent up bowels and general system very much. Many mothers have told me of its excellent effect upon their children." DR. G. C. OSGOOD.

If You Have a Cough

DO not neglect it. It should be loosened as soon as possible, and to do this nothing excels Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Obstinate coughs yield at once to its expectorant, soothing and healing properties, while colds, hoarseness, whooping cough, asthma, etc., are promptly relieved by its perfect action on the throat and bronchial tubes. 2w2d

Sudden Change.

MRS. George Flewelling, St. John, N.B., writes:—I suffered from weakness and costiveness, so I bought a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and before I finished it I noticed a change. After using three bottles I am now entirely cured, and recommend B. B.B. as a positive cure for costiveness. 2w2d

Well Pleased.

DEAR sirs,—I can recommend Hagyard's Yellow Oil as a sure cure for rheumatism. I had it for some time and was cured by two bottles, and I must say it is the best thing I can get for general use as a pain reliever. J. MUSTARD, Strathavon, Ont. 2w2d

PLUMS FOR THE XMAS PUDDING!

What's Nuts for the Buyers is Fun for Us.

12 DAYS OF SACRIFICE

From now until after Christmas we intend to let everything go! Our great $40,000 Sale, at 50 cents on the dollar, was a great success—in fact, away beyond our most sanguine expectations. Notwithstanding the great business done, there is yet about 1300 Overcoats, and 1900 Suits, and nearly 10,000 pairs of Boots to close out. To convert this into money, we have organized a Grand Sacrifice Sale of our whole stock, for 12 days, and will sell every article in our two big stores at ten per cent advance on cost. Taking into consideration that the goods were bought at 50 cents on the dollar, the reader can readily see that this sacrifice means a saving to the buyer of nearly one hundred per cent; or, in other words, WE PURPOSE FOR TWELVE DAYS GIVING GOLD DOLLARS FOR FIFTY CENT PIECES.

PLUMS FOR THE PUDDING:

$2.95 will buy a Man's All Wool Etoffe Overcoat.
$3.90 will buy a Man's Tweed Overcoat, lined with Heavy Serge, trimmed with Velvet Collar
$5.00 is our sale price, for Twelve Days only, for a Fine Worsted Overcoat.
$9.00 gives you your choice for all $15.00, $16.00 and $18.00 Overcoats.

THE DIAMOND BUTTON

FROM THE DIARY OF A LAWYER AND THE NOTE BOOK OF A REPORTER.

By BARCLAY NORTH.

(Copyrighted, 1889, by O. M. Dunham. Published by special arrangement through The American Press Association.)

CHAPTER IV.

CUPID EXAMINES HIS ARROWS.

THE diamond button first occupied the thoughts of Holbrook on awakening in the morning.

He determined that immediately after breakfast he would seek the coroner and deliver up to him what possibly might prove to be the leading clew in the mystery.

On his way to the station house the thought occurred to him that he was going a little fast in concluding that it belonged to the murderer, for it might quite as well belong to the murdered man, torn from him in the conflict.

When, therefore, he was told at the station house that the coroner would not be at his office until noon that day, he said nothing of the button, but asked to be permitted to view the body.

It had been removed to a neighboring undertaker's and thither he bent his steps. On looking at the cuffs of the dead man (for his clothes had not yet been removed) he found them supplied with oxidized silver buttons.

"My diamond button did not belong to Templeton," he said. "My first conclusion is correct. I will go to my office and see the coroner at twelve."

As he left the undertaker's he met Wessing.

"Ah, you are free," cried he.

"Yes, just free. They have verified my story, and finding it confirmed in every particular have let me go. So I'm off for breakfast."

They parted, Holbrook going straightway to his office.

There for a time he became so engrossed in business that the murder and the diamond button were driven from his mind.

Upon what small threads do matters of human interests hang?

The young lawyer had for some time anticipated that a contingency would arise calling him from the city to a distant point for at least three weeks, in the interest of a client.

His mail that morning informed him that the contingency had arisen. His first impulse was immediately to prepare for his departure. His second thought was, if he went the coroner would not have him for a witness, and as a matter of public duty he ought to remain.

Then he thought that while the client was a valuable one, nevertheless the duties to be performed were of the simplest character—the superintending of the signing of papers and contracts already drawn—so he called in a neighboring young lawyer to whom he often tendered business, and who consented to go.

Had Holbrook gone this story would never have been written.

During the morning Holbrook received a note from a lady in whose good graces he wished to stand high, asking him to call upon her.

The lady was young and handsome, and rumor said rich. She lived with her uncle, her parents being dead.

Holbrook was greatly delighted with the summons. He had been attentive, but as yet had received little encouragement from the young lady.

Her manner toward him, while courteous, was not different from that displayed toward a dozen or more of the young gentlemen with whom he was in rivalry.

Her name was Flora Ashgrove, and she was spoken of in the clubs as "The handsome Flora."

Rumor did not credit any man with having the favor of the fair lady. Her acquaintances of her own sex said she angled for suitors and failed despite her beauty. Twenty men knew she had refused the offer of one man at least.

She did not want for a gallant in the park nor an escort to the opera; she was sure of an invitation to the hunt and a seat upon the most distinguished coach in the parade; at each regatta her name was seen among the guests of the most sought after yacht, while at the charity fairs her booth turned in twice the money any other did.

These were hard nuts for her dear female friends to crack, but they hammered at them persistently; consequently she was a great social success.

Holbrook was a self contained young man, whose good opinion of himself was fully equaled by his good looks, and upon that score he was well content. While not of a very ardent nature, still he admitted to himself that if the divine Flora would but give him some sign that she found more pleasure in his attentions than in those of others he could quite readily fall in love with her; but until she did he proposed to keep himself well in hand and not make a fool of himself, as some others he could name had done.

The note lying before him was the first he had received from her, and, indeed, the first intimation he had had indicating that she cared whether he came or went.

His was therefore filled with pleasurable emotion and no little wonder.

The note had driven from his mind all recollection of the button and his visit to the coroner, and, disposing of his business as speedily as possible, he took himself to her uncle's residence—a handsome dwelling in Fifty-sixth street, not far from Fifth avenue.

When ushered into the richly furnished parlors he was made aware that it was the summer season. The furniture was covered, and so were the ornaments, statuary and most of the pictures.

Then he remembered he had wondered how it was that Miss Ashgrove was in the city at that time of the year.

But one picture was exposed, and from that the cover had been thrown back over the easel upon which it rested. This was the portrait of the lady herself.

He fell to a study of it, waiting the coming of the lady who had summoned him to her presence.

He thought it would be a fine thing to have so handsome a head as his table. Other lovers would probably have given rein to other thoughts, but Holbrook was one of those young men who get on in the world, less given to sentimental considerations than to those of a practical nature.

While thus engaged the original of the picture entered the room through a door which brought her to the back of her visitor.

She was entitled to the name of "the handsome Flora." Tall, of superb proportions, her exquisite form was full though not plump; her hair was flaxen and shining in waves over her perfectly proportioned head, standing erect upon a white column of a neck; her skin was white as alabaster, and her cheeks had the delicate tinge of a peach; her lips were twin cherries, full to the point of sensuality; her features faultless in their classic regularity.

She stopped for a moment, placing a shapely white hand upon the back of a chair, steadying herself. Her footfall had been so light upon the soft carpet that she had not attracted the attention of her visitor. She observed him intently for a moment.

As she stood there a gracious picture in the half light, it could be seen that her eyes were gray, luminous and large, but cold, even hard, and greatly at variance with the full and sensuous lips and the voluptuous curves of her face and the folds of her neck.

Finally she moved up and said:

"I hope you admire the art of my old professor, Mr. Holbrook?"

The young lawyer sprang up startled, but quickly recovering his self possession replied:

"I was less engaged with the art of the picture than with the beauty of the subject."

The lady made a deprecatory gesture as she said:

"As a work of art it has been greatly admired."

"The artist had inspiration in his subject worthy of his greatest skill."

"A truce to compliments," laughed the lady, "but sit here, where we may have light and air," leading the way into a rear apartment. "Indeed, this is the only habitable spot on this floor."

"I supposed until I received your note you were still in the country," he remarked as he seated himself in an easy chair.

"We returned yesterday on some tiresome business my uncle insisted upon. You see," waving her hand over the room, "we are not living, merely existing for a few days."

"I was delighted to hear from you," said Holbrook, not very brightly, but for the sake of saying something that would lead to the reason of his summons.

His effort was successful, but some high expectations were tumbled and he was filled with astonishment when he heard her unfold it.

A Common Cold

Is often the beginning of serious affections of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes, and Lungs. Therefore, the importance of early and effective treatment cannot be overestimated. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral may always be relied upon for the speedy cure of a Cold or Cough.

Last January I was attacked with a severe Cold, which, by neglect and frequent exposures, became worse, finally settling on my lungs. A terrible cough soon followed, accompanied by pains in the chest, from which I suffered intensely. After trying various remedies, without obtaining relief, I commenced taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was Speedily Cured.

I am satisfied that this remedy saved my life.—Jno. Webster, Fawtucket, R. I.

I contracted a severe cold, which suddenly developed into Pneumonia, presenting dangerous and obstinate symptoms. My physician at once ordered the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. His instructions were followed, and the result was a rapid and permanent cure.—H. E. Simpson, Rogers Prairie, Texas.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Cold which settled on my Lungs. I consulted various physicians, and took the medicines they prescribed, but received only temporary relief. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking two bottles of this medicine I was cured. Since then I have given the Pectoral to my children, and consider it for Colds, Coughs, and all Throat and Lung diseases, ever used in my family.—Robert Vanderpool, Meadville, Pa.

Some time ago I took a slight Cold, which, being neglected, grew worse, and settled on my lungs. I had a hacking cough, and was very weak. Those who knew me best considered my life to be in great danger. I continued to suffer until I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Less than one bottle of this valuable medicine cured me, and I feel that I owe the preservation of my life to its curative powers.—Mrs. Ann Lockwood, Akron, New York.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is considered, here, the one great remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs, and is more in demand than any other medicine of its class.—J. P. Roberts, Magnolia, Ark.

A POETICAL TRIBUTE

—TO—

HONEST DEALING.

A grateful customer of Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co. has been moved to put into verse the following truthful tribute to the excellence of this firm's goods. Truth and poetry do not always go together, but in this case they go hand in hand. There is no exaggeration nor poetical license in the following lines:—

Last night I had a pleasant dream, and well I did enjoy it,
In sleep I neared Parnassus' height, and awoke a full fledged poet;
I turned not to eat nor drink, but quickly penned my pen
To tell in verse how cheaply we could clothe our fellowmen.
Our prices make the rich to smile, the poor with joy to shout,
We are resolved from this henceforth to knock the bottom out;
The man must strike some unseen notch, and stand up from below
That understands the clothing store of H. LeBrun & Co.

Our choice five dollar overcoats, our genial salesmen shown,
Will keep you warm as a pie in the wildest storm that blows.
No ground up rags, no shoddy stuff, no mill pressed glued wool hair,
But every thread spun from the sheep—fine, cheap, and made to wear.
You need not walk round shabby dressed, our prices must you convince,
Our seven dollar suits will dress you stylish as a prince.
For two and fifty we will clothe your boy from head to toe
Right in the City Clothing Store of H. LeBrun & Co.

Our line of ready-made is good, choices you will receive,
Examine, choose and purchase cloth; with us your order leave.
We guarantee to cut and stitch complete as you command
For style and finish every part here unsurpassed westward.
Young gents that wish a stylish suit, for concert, church or ball,
Will have their true wish gratified, by giving us a call.
Out walking, or in sitting room your girl will wish to know
If you had bought that pretty suit from H. LeBrun & Co.

Our expert cutter measures true and strikes each new design,
With skilful hand his shears play crack, round angle, curve or line,
Our tailor's work, neat, strong, complete, o'er all the hot goose steams,
Leaving no wrinkles in the back, nor puckers in the seams.
We don't believe in paper puffs that float off like a kite,
Our goods and prices come and test, as proofs of what we write.
No shoddy pressed, no ripping seams, air holes in two weeks show,
Cheapness and wear the motto is at H. LeBrun's & Co.

Before eighteen and eight-nine bids us a last adieu,
To all our patrons, rich and poor, thanks we return to you.
Fair honest dealing in the past upholds our business name,
And in the future, we resolve strict to pursue the same.
Come old and new friends, welcome come, Christmas is drawing nigh,
How you will smile to see how much a trifling sum will buy.
With pleasure we will suit your wants and salute you as you go,
With all the season's compliments, of H. LeBrun & Co.

A Sudden Illness.

The play at the opera house last night was interfered with by an unfortunate casualty which at first threatened to be very serious. Mrs. Haystead, or, as she is known to the public, Miss Mills, the leading lady in the company, was stricken down by a severe pleuritic attack and was unable to appear on the stage. She had been in bed all day suffering from a cold, but at night, despite the persuasion of her husband and friends, the plucky little woman determined if possible to fill her engagement and started for the Opera House. On the stairway in the arcade she suddenly fainted and fell over apparently lifeless. She was carried into the dressing room, and Dr. Pigeon summoned, who when he arrived pronounced the cause of her illness to be pleurisy. Under the physician's care Miss Mills quickly rallied and is to-day much better. It is fully expected she will be able to take her part on the stage Friday night in "Dad's Girl." Miss Mills' many friends in private and theatrical circles will be pleased to hear of her speedy recovery.

To Late Comers.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—In view of the concert to-night, I wish to ask a favour of habitual late-comers at public entertainments. It is this—don't come late. In a really good concert where every number counts, you miss much by losing a single passage, as you may do by coming late. Besides, your late coming, will prevent scores from enjoying the music. A party sailing in during a delicate passage, whose chief beauty consists in the conditions that make perfect silence a necessity, spreads an area of disgust around, by the tramp of feet, the removal of rustling wraps, and by the cough that one's always be left at the door. In rare cases there may be a legitimate excuse for coming late, but, in general, it can be avoided. If some habitual late comers could hear the chaff their friends indulge in at their expense, they would amend their habits. For instance, young Aleck Smyrtle, remarks—"Slowboy's late again—guess Mrs. Suds didn't bring home his washing in time," etc., etc., etc. In concerts I have attended in the Old Country, the doors are closed during the execution of a number—and nobody can get in till it is over. This is done for the protection of the listeners to the music as well as of the performer for the time being. I appeal only to late comers, not to do so. It is hopeless to appeal to those who persist in talking during the execution of music, especially delicate pianissemo passages—the last three words of the Earl of Roscommon's crusty couplet is strikingly suggestive.

Immodest words admit of no defence,
For want of decency is want of sense.

Yours truly,
OLD-TIMER.

Bread Dear Enough.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—I take a great interest in the controversy now raging amongst the bakers regarding the price of bread. I do not sympathize with the bakers that are trying to raise the price of the staff of life. If a loaf that costs six cents to make, is sold for twelve cents, I think that is profit enough. If one honest baker is willing to sell for ten, then I say don't prevent him; give the poor man a chance. In these hard times, and scarce money, I think it's a shame to those bakers who are trying to make the poor man fight for his daily bread any harder.

Your friend,
A WORKINGMAN.

Another Pleasant Surprise.

Mrs. J. B. Dixon Remembered by the Ladies of Her Class—A Handsome Memento.

Last night about a dozen members of Mrs. J. B. Dixon's class in connection with the George street Methodist church called at Mrs. Dixon's residence, George street, and pleasantly surprised their hostess. Mrs. Dixon leaves town next week for Toronto, where she expects to reside in future, and her class could not allow her to depart without giving her some tangible token of their regard. After conventionalities had been gone through with, Miss Effie Turner stepped up and read an address to Mrs. Dixon, Miss Mattie Brown presenting the handsome and suitably inscribed silver server and pickle cruet. The address read as follows:—

PETERBOROUGH, Jan. 8th.

To MRS. DIXON:

DEAR SISTER IN CHRIST—We the members of your class in the George street church, Peterborough, desire to express our feelings of heartfelt sorrow and regret at your intended removal from our midst.

Your faithfulness in the discharge of your duties together with your simple, earnest Christian life has been an inspiration to us in trying to walk in the narrow path which leads to life. We have been cheered and comforted by the many kind words which you have spoken to us, our hearts been drawn nearer to our dear Master, and we have felt the influence of your earnest prayers in our behalf.

We earnestly pray that God will use you in your new sphere of Christian duty and make your life a blessing to others, as it has been to us. If we are not privileged to meet again on this earth, we know that if we are faithful to Him who has been faithful to us that He will bring us to the brighter and happier world, where parting shall be no more.

Please accept this service as a slight token of our kindest love and esteem to you as a class leader and Christian counsellor.

We remain, your sisters in Christ.

Personal.

Mr. N. H. Ramer, of Guelph, is renewing old associations in town.

Miss Nora Clench arrived in town last night. She is the guest, during her stay here, of Mr. W. G. Bain.

Mr. Wm. Leitch, a former resident of Peterborough, who has been absent from here about twenty years, the last eight of which he has spent in Dakota, where he now resides, has been visiting friends in Peterborough (he is a brother of Mr. John Leitch, Water street). He returned home to-day.

The Plan of Campaign.

Curlers Preparing for the Season's Sport—Arrangements Made for the Local Matches—Enthusiastic Meeting of the Club Managers.

A large attended meeting of the skips, vice-skips and managing committee of the Curling Club was held at the rink last night. The cold snap has put the curlers in a jovial mood; at last there is some prospect for the grand game.

Last night the rink resounded with the merry shouts of the brave curlers. The ice was in good condition and a splendid game was enjoyed. After the sport a meeting was held in the club room to make arrangements for local matches, as required under the new rules and regulations adopted by the curling club this year. There being only ten original skips, it was found necessary to appoint two extra skips for the local matches only. Them were Messrs. W. H. Clarke and Geo. Brown. And as there are 66 members of the club, including the juniors, it was also found necessary to play five men to each rink in order to prevent crowding of the skips. Drawing them took place for first, second and third rinks, and the following rinks were made up:—

PRESIDENT VS. VICE-PRESIDENT.

The first match to be played is that of the President against the Vice-President, the rinks being composed as above. The match is for the usual New Year's offering to the poor. The following dates are fixed for the matches:—

Saturday evening, Jan. 11—Judge Weller (President) vs. F. J. Lewis (Vice-Pres.), Mr. Lewis skipping Mr. Dunsford's rink; Brown vs. Bradburn; Atkill vs. Hesterford.

Tuesday evening, Jan 14—Clarkson vs. Ferguson, Boucher vs. Ray, Donnelstown vs. McGill.

INTER-RINK MATCHES.

The inter-rink medal matches take place Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, until completed, two rinks only being occupied each night. The dates fixed for the first rounds are as follows:—

Thursday evening, Jan 16—Boucher vs. Judge Weller, McGill vs. Clarkson.

Monday, 20th—Ray vs. Atkill, Brown vs. Donnelstown.

Wednesday, 22nd—Budden vs. Rutherford, Ferguson vs. Connal.

Mr. Dunsford drawing the bye in the first round.

THE ROTATION SYSTEM.

As is already known the system to be adopted in playing foreign matches, other than tankard or medal matches, is that the original skips appointed by the club at the beginning of the season shall be taken in rotation after the first draw, which last night resulted as follows:—McGill, Budden, Ferguson, Ray, Attrill, Donnelstown, Weller, Rutherford, Boucher and Dunsford.

SELECTING SKIPS.

Saturday night at ten o'clock a meeting is called of the skips and vice-skips, to carry out the necessary procedure for the selection of skips for the medal and tankard matches, the dates of which are already known.

Installation of Officers in the Two Local Lodges—A Jolly Time Among the Englishmen.

Last evening the annual installation of officers took place in the Sons of England Benevolent Society. There was a large attendance of the brethren, and the impressive ceremony was performed by the Supreme Grand President, Bro. J. W. Kempling, in the handsome lodge room on Hunter street. Following is a complete list of the officebearers for the two lodges:

After the installation, business matters were discussed, and the Grand President addressed the brethren on the aims and objects of the Order, among other things, stating that the Order had in the past twelve months increased nearly 100 per cent., both in membership and the number of lodges.

The brethren then adjourned to the supper room, where lunch was partaken of and a pleasant hour spent in impromptu after-dinner toasts and addresses.

THE CHAPLAIN HONORED.

Rev. J. C. Davidson, Chaplian elect of Peterborough Lodge, was declared appointed by the Supreme Grand President, Bro. J. W. Kempling, Deputy Grand Chaplain to the whole order.

Ashburnham Brevities.

After a storm there is always a calm, and so it is here. Everbody is moving on now without a jar, just as if there had been no great contest on Monday.

The School Board has ordered the teachers to close the school doors at noon hour in order to prevent romping over and through the seats. Some parents object strongly to it, as they wish their children to bring their dinners, and don't like the idea of having their children looked in for over an hour.

The finance committee of St. Luke's church met Wednesday night and discussed the financial condition of the church, which they found in a very satisfactory state.

The Rev. S. J. Shorey, of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church, preached a very interesting and instructive sermon Wednesday night, in connection with the week of prayer service, in the Mark Street Church. Owing to the very blustery state of the weather the attendance was small.

There are some cases of "la grippe" in the village, but none of a serious nature.

None of the shops in the new town hall are yet occupied, although some of them are engaged.

News Nuggets.

—If the cold snap continues there will be skating at the rink to-morrow night.

—The Literary and Musical Association will not meet to-night on account of the concert in the opera house.

—This evening's meeting in the week of prayer series will be held in the George Street Church, Rev. A. Bell speaking on the subject of "Missions."

—The amateur dramatic company in connection with the Royal Templars of Peterborough present "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" at Keene to-morrow night.

—The Hastings Star says:—Mr. Will. Christie has entered the machine shop of Peter Hamilton, of Peterborough, as an apprentice. We trust that Will. will speedily master the details of the trade and attain the top of the ladder as an expert machinist.

Genesis of "La Grippe."

The Origin, Symptoms and Treatment of Epidemic Influenza.

A recent number of the New York Sun, treats of the subject of the prevailing epidemic of influenza which took its rise, like many other epidemics, in Russia. The Sun says:—

The exciting cause of the disease undoubtedly is atmospheric, but its exact nature has not been ascertained. There are evidences that the disease is slightly contagious; but contagion is a factor of little importance as regards its propagation. If the miasmatic theory described by Sydney, in 1884, be shown to be characteristic of influenza, this fact will have an important bearing upon the treatment of the disease. It is almost certain, however, that the disease is due to the presence of a microbe introduced through the air passages.

An attack of influenza is very like an ordinary bronchitis which has been preceded by a cold in the head. The most point of difference is that the fever, general sense of discomfort, and depression of the system, are much greater than is warranted by the local trouble. In point of fact, the characteristic symptoms of influenza are seldom if ever seen except during an epidemic. If the epidemic should prevail in this city, no one affected would find any difficulty in very speedily recognizing the fact.

Unless complicated with some inflammatory disease, but relapses may occur during the same epidemic, and one attack does not secure immunity for the future. A mild case is usually preceded by a sense of languor and general discomfort, which may last for a day or two; there is then a tickling sensation in the nose and throat, soon followed by acute inflammations most prominent in the nose, or in the form of a severe cold in the head. There is always more or less headache, which sometimes is intense, and some irregular fever. A general bronchitis is developed soon after the inflammation of the mucous membrane of the nose. In very mild cases the disease may run its course in three or four days, but the usual duration is seven or eight days. In this form the disease is attended with no danger, but there is very great discomfort, and those afflicted often are confined to the bed for several days. In nearly all cases there is remarkable nervous depression, with low spirits and neuralgias, denoting considerable general disturbance of the system.

INFLUENZA IS SELDOM FATAL;

In severe cases the attack is usually sudden and may begin with a chill, followed by high fever, intense nervous depression, severe neuralgic pains, headache, and even delirium. Still, even these cases, when uncomplicated, are rarely fatal. The is broncho-pneumonia, which may intervene early in the disease. Ordinary pneumonia, when it occurs, is observed in the later stages of the disease. Inflammation of the small bronchial tubes, or capillary bronchitis, a very serious complication, may occur. Œdema of the lungs is another occasional complication. Serious or fatal complications, however, seldom occur, except in old or debilitated persons.

If a sudden epidemic of influenza should make its appearance, it is probable that a large number of persons would be simultaneously affected, many of whom might not be able to secure early medical advice. It would be important for all to avoid exposure or other depressing influences, and to be careful to protect the body from cold. An ordinary "cold," at the time of an epidemic, would certainly predispose to the disease. Attention to the general health would in many instances secure exemption and would certainly render the system better able to resist the disease should it occur. The first indications of a severe cold in the head, especially if preceded by languor, a sense of fatigue, headache, and symptoms of nervous depression, should be met by prompt and VIGOROUS MEASURES OF TREATMENT.

On the first appearance of the characteristic symptoms a full dose of quinine should be taken. In an adult without any constitutional peculiarity unfavorable to the action of quinine, the first dose should be twenty grains; after this ten grains may be taken three times a day, unless there should be intense ringing in the ears, with some impairment of hearing. An attempt should also be made to destroy the microbe by local applications. These may be made to the nose and throat. A snuff made of a drachm and a half of powdered sugar, a drachm and a half of roasted coffee, finely powdered, and three grains of menthol, thoroughly mixed, should be used. This should be drawn into the nostrils, if possible, as far back as the throat, every hour or half hour, or even oftener. This may be used as freely as desired. A gargle of one drachm of borax, one drachm of salicylic acid, one fluid ounce of glycerine, and seven ounces of rose-water should be used three or four times in the day. At night ten grains of Dover's powder, with hot drinks and abundant bed-clothing to promote perspiration, will be useful.

Influenza, or la grippe, as it is called by the French, is by no means an agreeable visitor, but there are no known sanitary measures by which its advent can be prevented. Recent epidemics have been so mild that it is hardly probable that it would prostrate a community as it did in former years. In the epidemic of 1729–30 more than sixty thousand persons were ill with the disease in Vienna. The same influence has also extended to domestic animals, especially horses, in the form of an epizootic. Although the disease may attack a great many persons, and, of itself, is seldom fatal, it is nearly always the case during an epidemic that the general rate of mortality is largely increased.

Chemong's Christmas Celebration.

A Chemong correspondent writes:—"A jolly good Christmas Day in Chemong, 'you bet your life,' we had. Mr. A. E. Kennedy, agent, occupied the chair. The Crowe family was present (we had to take down our scare-crows for fear they would shy and not come). I am glad they came, and glad to say they gave us the best singing we ever had in Chemong, and they are coming back at the latter end of January or beginning of February, 1890. By bringing back the Crowe family we will be giving a chance to those who could not get over on account of bad ice. Mr. Kennedy, agent, made a short address to his Indians. He said at the close that some ministers objected to funny speaking and singing, but he thought that as Christmas came but once a year, if we had a good jolly time there was not much harm done. Mr. Alf. McCue, from Christian Island, our former teacher, also made a brief speech, and referred to the importance of education for the young. The distribution of the cargo of the Christmas ship was the event of the evening. The entire entertainment passed off with decided success."

Over Twelve Years Established.

A live and well established grocery and provision business for sale. R. H. Green, on account of continued ill-health, has decided to sell his entire stock of groceries, provisions, &c., en bloc, at a bargain, to a suitable purchaser. The goods are nearly all new, well assorted and bought at the lowest possible wholesale prices. The stock, furnishings, horse, rigging, &c., will amount to about twelve hundred dollars, but will be reduced considerably within the next few weeks (if I don't meet with a wholesale purchaser in the meantime), as I am now retailing them at a great sacrifice. Parties wanting good fresh groceries, provisions, &c., for the holiday season will find it to their advantage to call before buying elsewhere, as decided bargains will be given. The goods must be sold. R. H. GREEN, corner of Hunter and Aylmer streets, Peterborough. Dec. 3rd. w47tnf

IN DEADLY QUICKSANDS.

FOURTEEN MEN LOSE THEIR LIVES IN THE OHIO QUICKSANDS.

[illegible] of the Waters by the Breaking of a Caisson Employed in the Construction of the Bridge Between Jeffersonville, Ky., and Jeffersonville, Ind.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 9.—The most appalling accident known here in many years occurred this evening about 6 o'clock. A caisson of the new bridge now under construction between Louisville and Jeffersonville gave way and the workmen employed in it were crushed to death by stone and timber. Only four of the eighteen men in the caisson escaped.

The caisson was 100 yards from the Kentucky shore. As the working men of the pumping station were looking for the men in the caisson to put off in their boats leaving work for the night, they suddenly saw the low dark structure disappear in dashing white waves and heard the roar of a furious maelstrom. A runner was dispatched to the live-saving station, and three skiffs pulled to the scene of the wreck. A squad of police was also sent to aid in the work of recovery. The coroner was called and went with a corps of physicians.

The site of the bridge is at the upper end of the city, just below Towhead Island. Within an hour from the disappearance of the caisson 3000 people were on the shore and strained their eyes trying to see something of the wreckage. Dozens of boats were plying about over the spot where the caisson had stood, and lights danced to and fro with them, but there was no trace of the massive structure of stone and timber. The water rolled sullenly but smoothly down from the cofferdam above the pumping barge, below where the caisson had stood.

The grief-stricken wives and mothers of the victims were among the spectators. The bridge officials ordered the reporters off the pumping barge and made it as difficult as possible to get information.

The following is a list of the killed:

WM E. H. RAYNES, 40.	JOHN KNOX, 20.
JAMES MCADAMS, 26.	FRANK MAHAR, 28.
PAT NAYLOR, 27.	HAMILTON MORRIS, 20
THOMAS SMITH, 27.	ROBERT TYLER, 16.
THOMAS ASH.	MONROE BOWLING.
CHARLES CHILES.	THOMAS JOHNSON.
JOSEPH GORDON.	FRANK SOAPER.

The six last named were colored men.

The saved are: Abe Taylor, Lewis Coon, Frank Holdox and Murray.

The last man out of the caisson was Frank Holdox. He was barely saved by Murray, who dragged him from where he was caught waist deep in the quicksand.

Taylor says he stood nearest the iron ladder by which they got in and out of the caisson. He heard a rumbling and there was a rush of air. Almost at the same instant he jumped up the rungs of the ladder followed by the other men. They had hardly got clear of the Caisson when the water burst through the manhole in a surge, knocking them all into the river were they were picked up. Holdox says he saw Sam Morris who was climbing next below him swiftly drawn under by the sand and heard his cries for help but could do nothing.

The caisson is not wrecked, as at first supposed, but has settled down in the bed of the stream completely filled with sand and water. The pumping station is hard at work clearing the way to the bodies, but none will be reached to-night.

There seems absolutely no hope for any of those caught within the caisson. John Knox, the gang boss, took charge of the work Monday. The negroes who escaped say he had them dig too deep before letting the Caisson settle and the digging was too close to the shoe of the Caisson. Just before the accident Knox gave some order to Robert Baldwin, the keeper in charge of the upper door to the exit. Baldwin then opened the door and the compressed air which kept out the river rushed out, letting in the stream.

The men say they were working in an ugly quicksand at the time. The caisson was about forty feet by twenty and built of timbers twelve inches square. It was protected by a cofferdam but the river is very high and the pressure of the water very great.

LA GRIPPE'S VICTIMS.

Great Mortality in New York—The Epidemic in Ontario and Abroad.

CHATHAM, Jan. 9.—About one-third the people of Chatham have had or have the grippe. The Banner staff is almost hors de combat, and this week's issue made its appearance under great difficulties. It says: "Last night our force comprised one compositor and a pressman just recovering. Ten absentees and no 'subs' available is a good deal worse than a strike. We have done all that was possible under the circumstances to give the most important of the local occurrences, and hope to be in proper form again in a day or two."

TORONTO, Jan. 10.—It is estimated that in the 24 hours ending at 6 o'clock last night there was an increase in the number of la grippe of about one-third. That means that there are 800 persons suffering from it and that there are now some 3000 people in the city who are sick with the pestiferous disease.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 9.—Dr. S. T. Evans, a leading physician of Union City, committed suicide to-day by shooting him self through the head. He had been suffering from influenza.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Earl Spencer has the influenza in a very bad form.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—The deaths here yesterday numbered 311. The daily average for the last week was 383. The reduction indicates decreased verulence in the influenza epidemic.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Jan. 9.—La grippe is still on the increase in this city. Mrs. Henry L. Young, the wife of a millionaire, died of pneumonia to-day which was superinduced by la grippe.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The number of deaths in this city during the 24 hours ending at noon to-day was 207, a decrease of 43 as compared with the preceding 24 hours. Of these deaths 26 were attributed to consumption, 29 to bronchitis, 63 to pneumonia, 14 to inguenza, of which 13 were complicated with pneumonia and one with bronchitis.

BUDA-PESTH, Jan. 9.—All the schools here are closed in consequence of the prevalence of the influenza.

Sudden Death at Brampton.

BRAMPTON, Jan. 9.—Upon the arrival of the 2 o'clock train this afternoon a lady, accompanied by a bright little boy 10 months old, alighted and gave directions that her trunk be sent to the Canadian Pacific Railway depot. She then dropped dead upon the platform. It has since transpired that she was on her way to Shelburne where she lives and that her name is Mrs. William Stewart. Heart disease was the cause of her death.

Wrecked by the Wind.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Jan. 9.—During the gale last night the new three-story hotel at Nonquitt was wrecked by the wind.

Rev. Mr. Joiner's Case.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The British Minister conferred with Secretary Blaine to-day, it is understood, regarding the case of Rev. Mr. Joiner, the English clergyman who says he suffered personal violence at the hands of a mob at Holly Springs, N.C., because he insisted on giving religious instruction to colored people. The case will probably be referred to the Attorney-General for investigation.

A Yarmouth Vessel Wrecked.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—The steamer City of Pekin arrived from Hong Kong and Yokohama to-day. Chinese advices report the wreck of the British ship Nyegbaa from Yarmouth, N.S., on Protas shoal Nov. 25. Captain Butler and eight men arrived at Hong Kong in a small boat four days later. Another boat containing Mate Briggs and six men is missing. The British gunboat Cockchafer went in search of the boat, but returned without finding her.

Consul-General Lay Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The Senate to-day confirmed the nomination of Richard G. Lay of the district of Columbia as Consul-General at Ottawa.

The best anodyne and expectorant for the cure of colds and coughs and all throat, lung and bronchial troubles is undoubtedly Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Ask your druggist for it and at the same time, for Ayer's Almanac, which is free to all.

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES.

PORTUGAL'S REPLY TO LORD SALISBURY'S NOTE.

[illegible] Ready to Be Submitted—The Queen's Speech Prepared.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The Lisbon minister at Lisbon has telegraphed the reply of the Portuguese Minister of Foreign Affairs to Lord Salisbury's last note regarding affairs in Africa. The reply expresses the hope that the assurances in the note will prove satisfactory to the British Government.

To Restore the Status Quo.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The Times of this (Friday) morning says Portugal has agreed to restore the status quo and withdraw her troops from the debatable territory in East Africa. A rumor is current in Vienna that Prince Bismarck has been acting as mediator between Great Britain and Portugal.

The Squadron at Zanzibar.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—It is reported from Zanzibar that Rear Admiral Freemantle's squadron will sail to-morrow for a secret destination. The Boadicea (flagship) is held ready to sail at a moment's notice.

Admiral Freemantle's squadron consists of 15 unarmored steam cruisers, of which the Boadicea and the Garnet each carry 14 guns, the Turquoise 13 guns, the Mariner 8 guns, the Reindeer, the Kingfisher, the Pigeon and the Cossack each 6 guns, the Algerine and Griffon each 4 guns, and the Ranger 3 guns. The Sphinx is a side-wheeler and carries 7 guns.

"LORD C." AND "LORD L"

Another Chapter in the London West End Scandal.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—In the trial of the persons charged with conspiracy to defeat justice in connection with the West End scandal, a boy witness to-day referred to two aristocrats who frequently visited the house in Cleveland-street. The court ordered that their names be suppressed for the present and that they be indicated as "Lord C." and "Lord L."

Mr. Parke, editor of The North London Press, now awaiting trial on the charge of criminal libel made by the Earl of Euston in connection with the affair, has placed at the disposal of the court twenty-six letters and photographs to be used in tracing the criminals.

The Baby King Dying.

MADRID, Jan. 9.—At 5.30 this afternoon King Alfonso's condition was apparently improved and he was in less pain. The solution of the Cabinet crisis is postponed as Queen Christina is constantly at her son's bedside.

The latest bulletin records a slight increase of fever in the king's case. Many statesmen and diplomats are constantly calling at the palace.

Queen Christina has telegraphed to the Emperor of Austria that King Alfonso is much worse.

At 9 p.m. the gravest fears are felt for the life of King Alfonso. The threatening feature is the much increased prostration.

MADRID, Jan. 10.—4 a.m.—A bulletin has been issued from the royal palace announcing that the infant King of Spain is sinking.

Gen. Simmons' Slow regress.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—A despatch from Rome says General Simmons does not make satisfactory progress in his negotiations. The Pope besides wishing to maintain all the existing privileges of the church in Malta demands additional concessions.

The Dead Empress.

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—A solemn requiem was given in the chapel of the palace here to-night. The body of the dead Empress was escorted to the schoolos chapel by a squadron of the guard, the coffin was carried by twelve non-commissioned officers of Augusta's regiment, accompanied by torch-bearers. The Emperor and the Grand Duke of Baden followed the remains on foot. The Empress and the Princess of Saxe-Meinengen went in a carriage.

INLAND REVENUE REPORT.

An Increase of Nearly Half a Million Dollars Over the Preceding Year.

OTTAWA, Jan. 9.—The report of the Minister of Inland Revenue was issued to-day. A summary of it shows the accrued revenue of the year to have been $6,974,540, an increase of $470,141 over last year. The following statement exhibits the details of Excise Revenue accrued during the past two fiscal years:

	1888.	1889.
Spirits	$3,088,016	$3,574,022
Malt liquor	6997	13,710
Malt	493,030	518,230
Cigars	554,067	563,173
Tobacco	1,740,542	1,840,622
Petroleum	26,959	35,745
Manufactures in bond	53,312	28,062
Seizures	13,006	4980
Other receipts	13,962	15,940
Total	6,010,561	6,982,512

The chief increase in Excise Revenue accrued is from spirits, such increase having amounted to $882,051. Probably this is in a great measure due to duty-paid alcohol having taken the place of methylated spirits in the preparation of many of the tinctures and liniments made up by druggists, methylated spirits being only permitted to be used in the mechanical arts under special bonds.

The quantity of spirits produced during the year was 5,847,508 proof gallons, against 5,514,589 gallons during the preceding year, the raw material used in their production being as follows:

	Lbs.
Malt	4,359,081
Indian corn	77,686,635
Rye	15,006,917
Wheat	93,087
Oats	1,365,921
Barley	46,050
	98,973,941

The quantity entered for consumption was 2,960,447 proof gallons, as compared with an average consumption during the preceding four years of 2,873,033. The duty and license fees accrued amounted to $3,873,607, as against an annual average since 1884-85 of $3,582,864, and for last year $3,009,016. The increase is probably due to the withdrawal from the market of methylated spirits for other purposes than the mechanical arts. The quantity used in bonded factories has been curtailed more than one-third since the department undertook the production and sale of methylated spirits. The products manufactured therefrom were 619,620 gallons of vinegar, having an acetic strength of 6 per cent., and 9561 lbs. of crude fulminate, all the latter being exported on completion of manufacture. The production of malt is in excess of the average of the preceding four years by nearly 20 per cent., and the consumption has increased from an average of 43,970,383 pounds to 51,111,429. The exports continue to fall off at a rapid ratio. The revenue accrued from malt was $530,949, against an average for four years preceding of $458,123. The quantity of methylated spirits manufactured during the year was 100,283 gallons, of which 97,473 gallons were sold, hereby leaving 2811 gallons in warehouse.

Falling Off in the Arrivals of Chinese—The Bottle Manufacturers' Prayer.

OTTAWA, Jan. 9.—The Chinese revenue for December last was $1644. The number of arrivals in south[illegible] [illegible] for the same month last year, which [illegible] to be [illegible] that the Restriction Act will be either modified or repealed [illegible] session [illegible].

A delegation representing the bottle manufacturers of the country interviewed Hon. Mr. Bowell, Minister of Customs, to-day, asking for more protection to [illegible] industry. The Minister said he would consider the matter and lay the representations before his colleagues.

A correspondent interviewed Hon. Mr. Bowell to-day regarding the statement telegraphed from Winnipeg that the settlers in Southern Manitoba were petitioning the Government to get seed grain imported free of duty from the United States, otherwise they will be prevented from cropping a large acreage of land. Mr. Bowell said that no such petition or request had reached his department. In past years the Local Government was permitted to import red Fyfe wheat free of duty for seed grain and sell it to farmers at cost price, and no doubt if they wanted to do so again they would be granted the privilege. From some parts of the Northwest the Minister stated applications had been made to import hay free of duty.

ANOTHER HAMILTON BIGAMIST.

A Young and Pretty Widow Deceived by Sinclair MacBeth.

HAMILTON, Jan. 9.—The story of James Swinton, the married man who courted and won the affections of a young woman named Annie Yorke, has recently had [illegible] to [illegible] Swinton [illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible] to [illegible] Sinclair MacBeth, who has lived in this city for the past sixteen or seventeen years. He was a member of Knox Church, where his apparent devotion won for him the respect of all who knew him. About fourteen years ago MacBeth married a young woman in Rome, N.Y., and brought her to this city. They only lived together a few months when the wife packed up her things and left without telling her husband where she was going. Since then MacBeth has lived with his mother on Napier-street.

Mrs. Annie Durphey, the victim of the bigamist's wiles, is a prepossessing young widow, and talks in a manner which impresses one that she is able to look after her own interests without interference. She tells her story as follows:

"I have known MacBeth for about six years, and always regarded him as a God-fearing man. He was about 48 years of age, and was a member of Knox Church. He asked me to marry him last June, but I did not care for him and refused to accept him. Afterwards I decided that he would give me a good home, and as he appeared to think so much of me and was so lavish in his affection, I decided to marry him. The wedding was set for Dec. 18, but the day before I received an anonymous letter stating that MacBeth was already married. I confronted him with the letter, and he swore that his wife was dead and buried in Cleveland. We were married by Rev. Mungo Fraser on Dec. 18, but as my sister was ill, I went to her house immediately after the ceremony, and I am glad that I did so. I received another anonymous letter, and I at once went to MacBeth and cornered him. At first he denied it, then he wrote out the following confession, which he signed in the presence of my sister and her husband.

"HAMILTON, Jan. 8, 1890.

"I, Sinclair MacBeth, do hereby swear that I had a living wife when I married Annie Durphey. I do hereby swear that she was not my lawful wife, that I deceived her, that I hereby repent and make full confession, and give her freedom before witnesses.

"SINCLAIR MACBETH."

"After he signed this confession he wanted me to go and live with him, so I took an iron shovel and pounded him just as hard as I could with it, then I turned him out of the house. No, I do not intend to prosecute him for bigamy. I believe that he has tried the same thing several times before, but never so far as to get married."

MacBeth's friends say that he met with an accident some years ago, and that his mind has been a trifle unsound ever since, his peculiar freak being a tendency towards bigamy.

BEEKEEPERS AND DAIRYMEN.

The Conventions at Belleville Concluded—The Officers Elected.

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 9.—The joint meeting of the Beekeepers' and Dairymen's Associations last night was largely attended. Senator Read presided and addresses were made by D. Derbyshire, Rev. W. F. Clarke and Prof. Roberts. The speakers urged the use of silos and feeding of corn in order to produce milk cheaply, and to maintain and improve if possible the quality of the product.

This morning there was a conversational discussion on ensilage and an exhibition of dairying apparatus. Inspector Bailey of this district reported that he had prosecuted 32 persons for frauds in milk and collected $243 in fines.

The auditors presented their report this afternoon, showing a balance of $369.

These officers were elected: President, T. T. Warrington, Belleville; First Vice-President, F. W. McCrea, Brockville; Second Vice-President, Platt Hineman, Grafton; Auditors, Thomas Miller, Spencerville; J. G. Foster, Moira. Henry Wade was appointed director for the Toronto district.

A resolution was passed congratulating Prof. Robertson on his appointment as Commissioner of Dairy Husbandry and approving of the action of the Dominion Government in creating the office.

The Beekeepers' Association concluded their session this afternoon. The treasurer's report showed a balance on hand of $299. These officers were elected: President, Allen Pringle, Selby; Vice-President, F. A. Gammell, Stratford.

BROUGHT GOOD PRICES.

Sale of Timber Limits at Quebec—Death of Justice Taschereau's Sister.

QUEBEC, Jan. 9.—A sale of Government timber limits took place at the Province Buildings this morning. The prices realized were the best that have ever been procured. The sale realized in all about $200,000. A few of the limits in outlying districts were withdrawn. Among the principal purchasers were: P. Fitzpatrick, W. Ross, E. Lauson, J. B. Laflamme, Hon. James McShane, H. J. Beemer, Price Bros. & Co., P. Jalbert, Guay & Co., Dudley, Sewerby, Audet and Thomas.

News comes from St. Marys, Beauce, today, of the death at the age of 47 years of Mrs. Charles Lindsay, at her husband's residence in that parish at an early hour this morning. She was the sister of the Hon. Mr. Justice Taschereau of the Supreme Court and of Mr. L. E. Taschereau of St. Foy.

The death is announced to-day of Mr. F. X. Langevin, advocate, the doyen of the Quebec bar. He was admitted to practice in December, 1843.

SETTLED FOR $100.

A Breach of Promise Case Compromised—Ambitious City Notes.

HAMILTON, Jan. 9.—Miss Mary Jane Lambier of East Flamboro sued John H. Allison for $2000 for breach of promise. The case, which was to have been tried at the assizes to-day, was settled by the payment to plaintiff of $100.

Thomas Arnold, charged with setting fire to John H. Fillman's barn and with other offences, was to-day committed for trial at the assizes.

Hackman Michael Donovan was to-day fined $10 for overcharging a passenger.

The new organ for the James-street Baptist church has arrived. It was built in Toronto at a cost of $4000.

A large gang of men commenced work on the Grand Trunk spur line at the beach yesterday, and are rushing on the work.

DAIRYMEN AND BEEKEEPERS.

Two Conventions in Session at Belleville—A Joint Meeting.

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 8.—The annual convention of the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association was opened this morning with a fair attendance. After short addresses, from President [illegible] and Judge Bea[illegible] on the business committees were appointed. Mr. Reddick, instructor, presented his report and Prof. Robertson of the Agricultural College, Guelph, gave an address on "Cheesemaking, Buildings and Utensils." The attendance this afternoon was the largest that the Association has yet had in Belleville. The speakers were Messrs. Robertson, Bissell, McPherson and Massey.

The Beekeeper's Association of Ontario met here this afternoon. All the officers and directors and some twenty members were in attendance. The association held a joint meeting with the Dairymen's Association this evening.

ATLANTIC MAILS.

A Conference Between Sir Julian Pauncefote and the Postmaster-General.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Minister, to-day consulted for an hour with Postmaster-General Wanamaker. It is understood the subject considered was the establishment of postoffices on mail steamers plying between Great Britain and the United States.

A TORONTO MYSTERY.

JANE SPEERS PECULIAR DEATH IN AN AGNES-STREET HOUSE.

[illegible] Found in a Room Adjoining Where Another Woman Was Living—Was It a Murder?

TORONTO, Jan. 10.—[illegible] afternoon about 4 o'clock word was [illegible] at the Agnes-street Police Station that Jane Speers, an unmarried woman living in the rear of 18 Agnes-street, had been found dead in her bed. Inspector Ward at once went over to the house, where he found the woman lying in a pool of blood on the floor of the dining-room and with a rope hanging loosely around her neck. He sent word back to the station to have a doctor called. He telephoned for the ambulance and had the woman removed to the Hospital, where she died last night. The woman was still alive when discovered, but would not say anything about how she came to be in the condition in which she was found. The detectives now have the case in hand and will make every possible effort to throw some light on the mystery before the inquest takes place.

Miss Speers' body was first discovered by a Mrs. Ward, who lives in the adjoining house. There is a cupboard in Mrs. Ward's house against the partition between Mrs. Ward's house and the house where Miss Speers has lived. Mrs. Ward was in the act of taking some dishes out of this cupboard when she heard her name called out. She listened intently and heard a voice which she recognized as that of Miss Speers, weak and faint as it was, calling "Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Ward." She immediately went into Miss Speers' house and there saw a sight which, as she told a reporter last night, "fairly took her breath away." Miss Speer's body was lying in the western corner at the back of the kitchen. The table, a common board one, was beside her. It was covered with blood and there was blood spattered on the floor around the table. Miss Speers lay on the floor with a rope hanging loosely over her neck. She was still alive, but was breathing faintly and seemed to be very weak from loss of blood. Around her head was wrapped a print jacket. The jacket was saturated with blood and there were blood marks here and there on the floor. There was no one in the house at the time.

After the body was removed to the hospital Inspector Ward made a careful search of the house. Everything was in perfect order, and nothing had been disturbed except Miss Speers' trunk, which was in the east front room. The trunk was an old-fashioned square box, the lid of which was open and was thrown back against the wall. The contents of the trunk were in great disorder. There were but few papers and letters, but what there were were scattered here and there amongst the clothing. There was nothing of value in the trunk except a small leather purse which contained a small amount of money. There were several old silver coins of little value and a gold dollar of United States issue. All the coins were evidently keepsakes or "luck money."

When the woman was brought to the hospital her face was covered with blood and there was blood in both ears. There was a puffiness of the scalp and bright contusions on both arms and on her left ankle. She appeared to be conscious for a short time, and said on being questioned that her name was Jane Speers, and that two men had assaulted her. One of them, she said, was fair, but she did not know what the other one was like. After making this statement she lost consciousness. She was very much bruised about the head and neck. Both eyes were closed up completely, being greatly swollen and blackened. Her face was considerably bruised, swollen and discolored. Across her neck and extending up above her right ear was a black mark which looked as though it had been made by pressure. Her right ear was cut in two places and bled.

The room in which the body was found was the "dining room." It contained but little furniture other than a few chairs and a table. Everything was clean and tidy, the blood on the carpetless board floor and on the deal-table being the only evidence of the death struggle. The police officers and detectives who examined the room very carefully as soon as they were notified of the occurrence, say there was nothing in the room to which the rope, which the woman had around her neck, could have been fastened so that she could have strangled herself. There was a rolling-pin hanging on a small nail behind one of the doors. But this nail was not strong enough to support any weight. There was no blood on the rolling-pin.

Deceased is a woman of about 34 years of age. She is short, rather fleshy and dark-complexioned. She has lived in the house in which she was to-day found dead for some years, and before going there is said to have been in service somewhere in Toronto.

WELLAND CONSERVATIVES.

William McCleary of Thorold Chosen as Candidate for the Assembly.

PORT ROBINSON, Jan. 9.—One of the largest political gatherings seen in the County of Welland for years, assembled here to-day at the call of the chairman of the Liberal Conservative party for the purpose of selecting a candidate to contest the county in the Conservative interest at the approaching election for the Legislative Assembly. Mr. William McCleary, lumber merchant of Thorold, was unanimously chosen as the standard bearer.

Prince Edward Reformers.

PICTON, Jan 9.—A mass meeting of the Reformers of Prince Edward was held in the Town Hall here this afternoon to select a candidate for the Ontario Assembly. As Mrs. Hamilton is a person of [illegible] New York society, the publication of [illegible] Judge Beach [illegible] [illegible] estimations by publication. In her complaint Miss Donnelly says the statements made by Mrs. Hamilton and Dr. Hamilton [illegible] [illegible] which and [illegible], caused her [illegible] [illegible] of blood and confined her to bed 26 days suffering intense pain," and that she "will forever have to employ physicians and purchase medicines in order to effect a cure."

OUT ON $20,000 BAIL.

Rev. Knifton and Miss Purcell Released on a Writ of Habeas Corpus.

TRENTON, N.J., Jan. 9.—Dr. Knifton and Miss Purcell, arrested last night on a charge murdering Mrs. Kniffen, were released to-night on a writ of habeas corpus issued by Chief Justice Beasley. Counsel for the prisoners made another argument before the Chief Justice this afternoon and his appeal was granted to-night. The prisoners were driven to the residence of the Chief Justice where some fifty prominent citizens had assembled to go on their bonds. The bail was fixed at $20,000 in each case and the bonds were signed immediately.

THE LADIES!

A New and Distinct Form of Disease which is Afflicting Canadian Women.

How some of Them Regained Fresh Complexion, Perfect Health and Superb Physical Beauty.

A great London Physician says that he notes a new and distinct form of nervous disease produced in Canadian women by worry about servants and overwork in caring for the House. This is only too true. It is why we see so many ladies pale, weak, languid, and suffering from headaches and innumerable weaknesses. They cannot stand the strain upon their nervous system. Many of them have found the means to sustain their failing strength, to give color to the cheeks, and new life and vigor to the body, in Paine's Celery Compound. This pure and scientific remedy is especially adapted to the needs of women, and is daily making the most remarkable cures. Mrs. W. E. Cooper, 60 St. Hypolite St., Montreal, was for a long time troubled with nervous headaches, loss of appetite, low spirits, etc. After using the Compound, her headaches disappeared, appetite was good, and her spirits revived.

Annie Gosney, of River Beaudette, P.Q., found the Compound a certain cure for weakness, and now looks as well as she ever did.

Many a Canadian lady has the same reason to be grateful.

Paine's Celery Compound can be purchased at any druggist's for one dollar a bottle. If he should not have it on hand, order direct from WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., MONTREAL.

Read the Advertisements.

"Do I read the advertisements?" "Yes; they form one of the most interesting branches of my study," said the old man, laying his favorite paper across his knee and looking over the rim of his spectacles. "After reading editorial for opinions, and all the news, to know what is going on among the people of the world superficially, I turn to the advertising columns for romance, mystery and a study of human nature. There is more of human interest in advertisements than in the great mass of works which are written to entertain and to present to our view the various phases and fashions of life and the impulses of mankind. I read them with the interest of a novel, and I find instruction and entertainment not to be had from any but the highest works of fiction. There is a popular notion that woman, only, read advertisements. They do read them more, perhaps, than men do, but it is only as they read more romance—because they have more time. Men have to deny themselves many of the pleasures of the imagination."—Washington Evening Star.

The Parrot, the Pigeon that flies in the air,
The Pig with a ring on his nose;
For Paper and Pen, for Printer and Press,
For Physic, and People who sell it;
But when you are sick, to relieve your distress
Take at once Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

O yes, indeed! These are the P's for you, poor, sick man or woman. Nothing like them for keeping the bowels and stomach regulated and in order—tiny, sugar-coated granules, scarcely larger than mustard seeds. They work gently but thoroughly.

Mothers!

Remember that Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or any other narcotic substance in any quantity, shape or form. It is entirely vegetable, pleasant to take, positively effective and perfectly harmless. It is not a secret remedy; the formula is printed on the wrapper. Your physician will recommend it. Paregoric, Batesman's Drops, and many so-called soothing syrups are composed principally of opium or morphine; in any quantity they stupify, and in large quantities are deadly poisons. Castoria assimilates the food and regulates the bowels, cures diarrhœa, allays feverishness and fretfulness, soothes the pain in teething, relieves constipation and kills worms. It brings refreshing and natural sleep to the child, and gives rest to the mother.

"Castoria is so well adapted to infants and children that I recommend it as superior to any other known remedy."

DR. H. A. ARCHER,
111 S. Oxford st., Brooklyn, N.Y.
March 8, 1887.

"From personal knowledge and observation I can say that Castoria is an excellent medicine for children, acting as a laxative and relieving the pent up bowels and general system very much. Many mothers have told me of its excellent effect upon their children."

Worn Out and Run Down.

BY disease and debility, the human system becomes worn out and run down before its time. Keep the head clear, the bowels regular, the blood pure, the kidney and liver active, by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, nature's great tonic and regulator, and disease cannot exist. 2w2d

If You Have a Cough

DO not neglect it. It should be loosened as soon as possible, and to do this nothing excels Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Obstinate coughs yield at once to its expectorant, soothing and healing properties, while colds, hoarseness, whooping cough, asthma, etc., are promptly relieved by its perfect action on the throat and bronchial tubes. 2w2d

Sudden Change.

MRS. George Flewelling, St. John, N.B., writes:—I suffered from weakness and ocsiveness, so I bought a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and before I finished it I noticed a change. After using three bottles I am now entirely cured, and recommend B. B.B. as a positive cure for costiveness. 2w2d

Well Pleased.

DEAR sirs,—I can recommend Hagyard's Yellow Oil as a sure cure for rheumatism. I had it for some time and was cured by two bottles, and I must say it is the best thing I can get for general use as a pain reliever. J. MUSTARD, Strathavon, Ont. 2w2d

PLUMS FOR THE XMAS PUDDING!

What's Nuts for the Buyers is Fun for Us.

12 DAYS OF SACRIFICE

From now until after Christmas we intend to let everything go! Our great $40,000 Sale, at 50 cents on the dollar, was a great success—in fact, away beyond our most sanguine expectations. Notwithstanding the great business done, there is yet about 1300 Overcoats, and 1900 Suits, and nearly 10,000 pairs of Boots to close out. To convert this into money, we have organized a Grand Sacrifice Sale of our whole stock, for 12 days, and will sell every article in our two big stores at ten per cent advance on cost. Taking into consideration that the goods were bought at 50 cents on the dollar, the reader can readily see that this sacrifice means a saving to the buyer of nearly one hundred per cent; or, in other words, WE PURPOSE FOR TWELVE DAYS GIVING GOLD DOLLARS FOR FIFTY CENT PIECES.

PLUMS FOR THE PUDDING:

$2.95 will buy a Man's All Wool Etoffe Overcoat.
$3.90 will buy a Man's Tweed Overcoat, lined with Heavy Serge, trimmed with Velvet Collar
$5.00 is our sale price, for Twelve Days only, for a Fine Worsted Overcoat.
$9.00 gives you your choice for all $15.00, $16.00 and $18.00 Overcoats.

The Horticultural Society.

Annual Meeting of the Society—A Satisfactory Report for the Past Year—A New Caretaker for the Park.

The annual meeting of the Horticultural Society was held in the council chamber Thursday afternoon, over which the President Mr. J. H. Roper presided. There were present Messrs. Jas. Stevenson, John Barnham, H. C. Rogers, Dr. Barnham, D. W. Dumble, F. J. Lewis, Treasurer; P. Henry, Secretary.

DIRECTOR'S REPORT.

The President read the following report:—

To the members of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society:

GENTLEMEN.—The directors beg to submit the following report:—

If the success of our last annual exibition be any proof of the progress of the Society, we must say that the past year has been the most prosperous one its history.

The number of exhibits was very largely in excess of that of former years. The season of 1889 was very favorable to the cultivation of all kinds of plants and vegetables. This to a great extent, coupled with, we believe, a deeper interest in the Society, accounts for the finer display made at the exhibition.

The Court House Park received the usual care and attention during the year, and we are glad to be able to say that there has been no material damage done to any part of it, although thousands of citizens and strangers have frequented the grounds, especially during the several evenings upon which the band has favored the public with their much appreciated open-air concerts. This we take as an indication of an increased desire on the part of the public to protect what has been done by this Society pro bono publico in providing such an enjoyable place of resort, which is not only the admiration of our fellow-citizens, but also of the many visitors to our good town.

With a view to make the park even more attractive, your directors, after careful consideration, decided to ask for tenders for the entire care and planting of the grounds for the coming season. This was done, and several were received, and amongst them one from Mr. Frank Mason, who being the lowest tenderer and believing him to be fully competent to undertake the contract, we accepted his tender and feel sure he will give entire satisfaction.

The Treasurer's report is herewith submitted.

J. H. ROPER, President.
P. HENRY, Secretary.

Peterborough, Jan. 9, 1890.

H. C. ROGERS,
J. BURNHAM.

To J. H. Roper, Esq., President Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society:

SIR.—Above is statement of receipts and payments of your Society for year ending January 9th, 1890, showing a balance on hand of $89.72. The Society owe about $25.00 for unpaid prizes and $75.00 for unpaid accounts and $200.00 for a note due to Messrs. Mulholland & Roper. I hand you herewith vouchers for above charges, and petty cash book showing details.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

F. J. LEWIS,
Treasurer.

On motion Messrs. H. C. Rogers and Dr. Barnham were appointed auditors, and after looking over the books they reported as follows:—

We hereby certify that we compared the vouchers with the statement and find them correct."

The Directors' report and statement were then adopted.

DEPUTATIONS.

Messrs. Roper, Stevenson, and Stratton were appointed a committee to wait upon the county council at its first meeting with reference to obtaining a grant for the Society.

Another deputation consisting of President Roper and Messrs. Lewis and Dr. Barnham was selected to wait upon the town council upon a similar mission.

OFFICERS FOR 1890.

The officers were then elected as follows:

PRESIDENT.—J. H. Roper.
1ST. VICE-PRESIDENT—Jas. Stevenson.
2ND. VICE-PRESIDENT—D. W. Dumble.
TREASURER—F. J. Lewis.
SECRETARY—P. Henry.
BOARD OF DIRECTORS—H. C. Rogers, John Barnham, J. R. Stratton, Dr. Barnham, Rev. V. Clementi, R. D. Hamilton, T. A. Hay, John Cobb, E. Pearse and Adam Hall.

The meeting then adjourned.

THE DIAMOND BUTTON

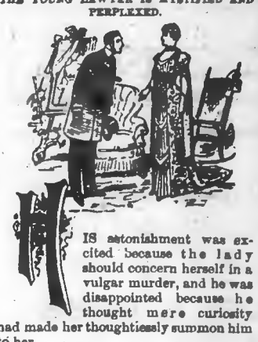
FROM THE DIARY OF A LAWYER AND THE NOTE BOOK OF A REPORTER.

By BARCLAY NORTH.

(Copyrighted, 1889, by O. M. Dunham. Published by special arrangement through The American Press Association.)

CHAPTER V.

THE YOUNG LAWYER IS MYSTIFIED AND PERPLEXED.



His astonishment was excited because the lady should concern herself in a vulgar murder, and he was disappointed because he thought mere curiosity had made her thoughtlessly summon him to her.

Thus she answered his leading question.

"Yes, I wanted to see you badly. I read an account of that shocking murder in Union square last night, and I also read that you were one of those who saw the frightful deed."

"Yes," he replied shortly, and though annoyed and astonished he did not fail to appreciate that she was greatly agitated and seemed to make efforts at self repression.

"I knew the murdered man," she continued. "Indeed he was somewhat of a relative; I was much shocked."

"Very naturally."

"Who committed the murder?"

"Oh, that is wrapped in mystery. The authorities are at a complete standstill; they have not a single clew of any value."

"But you saw the man, according to the newspaper account."

"Yes, at a distance. Indeed, I saw him closely, but did not then observe him with attention. I was looking from my window, and was dimly conscious of a man standing on the pavement beneath, and of his stepping off the curbstone to walk across the street. I was awakened to full consciousness of his existence by seeing him seize the man he met by the arm, and then striking him down; the next moment he fled through the park. I was not aware murder was done until I heard the cry from a third."

"Was the third man connected with the attack? I saw he was arrested."

"I think not. He gave a clear account of himself, and his statements have been verified by the police; he was released this morning."

A shade of vexation passed over the face of his charming companion, and Holbrook's astonishment was further increased by the fact.

"Were not the authorities foolish in letting him go?" she asked, after a brief moment of silence. "He may have been the murderer."

"Impossible," said Holbrook. "I saw the man strike his victim and then run into the park, and saw the other twenty feet away crying murder."

"You will be a witness, then, in his favor."

An angry flush spread over Flora's face, and her gray eyes glittered.

"Certainly, if he be accused," replied Holbrook, amazed at the question. "But there is little fear of that."

"If an accuser be needed, he may find one in me."

Holbrook was utterly confounded.

"Do you know the man? Do you know anything of this murder?"

The lady showed that she felt she had discovered more emotion than the situation warranted, and, by an effort, resumed control of herself.

"You ask two questions. I do not know the man. I never heard of him before. What is his name?"

"Wessing."

"Yes, Wessing. Do I know anything about this murder? Nothing except what I have read and what you have told me. But how happens it that he was there at that hour in the morning so opportunely to cry 'Murder' and mislead others by attracting attention to himself? Were you not mistaken, awakened, as you confess, from a sort of stupor, and did not imagine you saw a man running away?"

She had again lost control of herself, and she was speaking with great earnestness and with heightened color. Holbrook wondered at it all, but he replied coldly:

"No, Miss Ashgrove, I was not mistaken. If you were to accuse this young gentleman you would be doing a grievous wrong, and, as well, placing yourself in a false position. You forget that I saw the man run away after the blow, throwing off his coat as he ran. Subsequently the coat and other articles used for this disguise were found."

Flora tossed her head incredulously. Holbrook continued:

"The bitterness you manifest surprises me."

The lady shot an angry glance at him.

"It is you who forget now. I told you that Mr. Templeton was a friend and a relative, though a remote one. Why should I not feel an interest in his murder? Is there anything surprising in my desire for justice and vengeance? I can tell you I have little faith in your police. He is an unusual stupid criminal who cannot escape your detectives. Still, I may be entirely mistaken. You may have been fully conscious that you saw three men, not dimly."

The sneer conveyed in these words was unmistakable. Before Holbrook could recover himself from this indignant rush of words, she spoke again in strangely altered tones:

"After all, I suppose you are right, and I am silly to set up my judgment against those who were present."

Holbrook noticed that she was making a violent effort to compose herself, and he gave her time by not replying; when she spoke again, it was with an obvious attempt to speak lightly.

"See what sympathetic creatures we of the weaker sex are; here am I working myself into quite a fever over poor Templeton's death, even disputing with you as to what you did or did not see. But the man who ran away? Was he a tall man?"

"Yes, I think he was."

Alarm quickly passed over her face, but not so quickly that Holbrook, whose senses were now all alive, did not observe it.

"And slight in figure?"

Whether the flying man was slight or not Holbrook did not remember, but he quickly determined to follow the lead she was giving him.

"Decidedly slight and tall."

She had greater command over features and manner now, but ver voice betrayed intense interest as she said:

"Yes, I suppose so, since he ran so fast as to get away before any one could seize him. He must have been a young man?"

She looked at him most inquiringly.

Holbrook replied:

"Unquestionably."

"What was his complexion, did you notice?"

Holbrook did not fail to realize how absurd it was to ask, or to assume to know, the complexion of a man, running at a distance of at least 300 feet, in th moonlight, to an observer looking down from a height of 40 feet, but his mind was working actively, and he recollected he was fair.

"Unquestionably dark, with a handsome profile—a straight nose."

Was she prepared for the answer, that her face expressed nothing but curiosity and that her color remained steadfast? And was he certain that she seemed to clutch at her heart with her left hand?

There was a silence between them for a little time—Flora deeply absorbed in thought, and he watchful and keen.

Suddenly he was possessed of an idea. He trembled at its audacity.

But he was a man of nerve.

He drew his purse from his pocket, and took from it the diamond button.

"See," he said abruptly, "I found something valuable at the place of murder."

There was no mistaking now. Her face flushed red and then grew ghastly pale, while alarm was plainly visible.

"It is a cuff button."

She stretched forth a trembling hand to take it.

The moment she possessed it she examined it eagerly.

He studied her face and was perplexed.

He read recognition, relief, surprise and satisfaction strangely blended.

"Have you its mate?" she asked.

"No, I found but this one."

"Where?"

"At the place of murder. Afterward."

"Does it belong to the murderer?"

"That is for the police to find out. I shall turn it over to the authorities."

She handed it back to him and said:

"I have seen"——

The door opened and her uncle, Mr. Witherspoon, entered.

When troubled with a cough or cold get a bottle of Wilson's Wild Cherry and cure it at once, before it has time to settle on your lungs. Why experiment with new and untried remedies, when this old and reliable cure may be got from all leading druggists. Thousands bear testimony to the remarkable curative properties of Wilson's Wild Cherry in such diseases as Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, Coughs, etc. Get the genuine in white wrappers only. dw

A Good Corn Sheller for 25 cents.

A marvel of cheapness, of efficacy and of promptitude, is contained in a bottle of that famous remedy, Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. It goes right to the root of the trouble, there acts quickly but so painlessly that nothing is known of its operation until the corn is shelled. Beware of substitutes offered for Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor—safe, sure and painless. Sold at druggists. 6dw2

A Common Cold

Is often the beginning of serious affections of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes, and Lungs. Therefore, the importance of early and effective treatment cannot be overestimated. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral may always be relied upon for the speedy cure of a Cold or Cough.

Last January I was attacked with a severe Cold, which, by neglect and frequent exposures, became worse, finally settling on my lungs. A terrible cough soon followed, accompanied by pains in the chest, from which I suffered intensely. After trying various remedies, without obtaining relief, I commenced taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was Speedily Cured.

I am satisfied that this remedy saved my life.—Jno. Webster, Pawtucket, R. I.

I contracted a severe cold, which suddenly developed into Pneumonia, presenting dangerous and obstinate symptoms. My physician at once ordered the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. His instructions were followed, and the result was a rapid and permanent cure.—H. E. Simpson, Rogers Prairie, Texas.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Cold which settled on my Lungs. I consulted various physicians, and took the medicines they prescribed, but received only temporary relief. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking two bottles of this medicine I was cured. Since then I have given the Pectoral to my children, and consider it for Colds, Coughs, and all Throat and Lung diseases, ever used in my family.—Robert Vanderpool, Meadville, Pa.

Some time ago I took a slight Cold, which, being neglected, grew worse, and settled on my lungs. I had a hacking cough, and was very weak. Those who knew me best considered my life to be in great danger. I continued to suffer until I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Less than one bottle of this valuable medicine cured me, and I feel that I owe the preservation of my life to its curative powers.—Mrs. Ann Lockwood, Akron, New York.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is considered, here, the one great remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs, and is more in demand than any other medicine of its class.—J. F. Roberts, Magnolia, Ark.

Come and give the school your support. Admission only 25 cents. 1d

Farmers in Session.

The first meeting of the Farmers' Institute was held this afternoon in the council chamber, Mr. Dawson Kennedy, presiding. There was a good attendance, and all the speakers were present, including Mr. J. J. Hobson and Mr. T. Reynor, of Guelph Agricultural College, and Mr. John Croil, of Auliveille. Meetings will be continued to-morrow, beginning at 10 a.m. There will probably be a public meeting in the council chamber to-night.

Annual Lumber Sale.

The annual auction sale of cull lumber at the Nassau mills took place yesterday, and proved quite satisfactory. There was a good attendance of builders and lumbermen from the town and country, and a few from a distance, among them Messrs. Baldrick and F. B. Parker, of Stirling; R. H. and T. Osborne, Bowmanville; Wm. Hall & Son, Toronto; W. C. Harrison, Norwood. The prices realized were good and about 300,000 feet of lumber were disposed of. Considering the wide-spread depression of trade the country over, Mr. Irwin is satisfied with the result, though it is not up to former years. Mr. Chas. Stapleton was auctioneer.

The Star Course.

George R. Wendling, the famous platform orator, appears at the Opera House here Wednesday, Jan. 15th, under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. A critic says of Mr. Wendling:—"No one in America more nearly approaches the ideal orator in platform presence and faultless diction, in classic declamation and in thrilling eloquence, than does George R. Wendling. One hundred and thirty nights upon the platform during the five months of his career, and over thirteen hundred nights in the seven following years, is the unequaled record of the splendid orator and scholar. And each year Mr. Wendling grows in power and popularity. A close observer of men and events, a hard student, possessed of wide scholarship and indefatigable industry, and combining with all these qualities the accomplished manners of a genial gentleman and a high moral character, he will doubtless continue to be one of the giants of the platform, and gracefully wear as long as he lives the title he has won."

The Third Ward Councillors.

An esteemed newspaper friend gives the EXAMINER the following "piece" for publication. A person possessed of an elastic imagination and a tolerance of punsters' licenses, will be able to appreciate it:—

"There were six candidates in the field, the sixth man on the list, though he received his Baptis-m last year, figuratively speaking, was not again dipped in the fountain of popularity. The ratepayers pronounced by their franchise that they Weir not ready for the fifth man, but the fourth showed by his votes that he would "get there" Shortly. The third man (here's a brain twister) stood Ruther-for'd o' the ones that were left, while the man ahead of him, number two, had Moore votes still. Of the candidate at the head of the list we Dawson't say much—he's too solid with the ratepayers to be affected by the adamantine jokes of funny men."

The Way of the Law.

Constable Short, of Lindsay, this morning took Alfred Cooney to that town as a witness in the trial of Alexander Ritchie, who is charged with arson. It seems that while in gaol here Ritchie confessed the crime, or at least is alleged to have done so, to Henry Huffman, who was imprisoned at the same time, and as soon as his term was served Ritchie was at once taken to Lindsay. The trial is now going on. Huffman was taken to Lindsay by Chief Bell a couple of days ago, and Cooney, who was also in gaol with Ritchie, was summoned as a witness; but having no money he could not go, though he offered to accompany Chief Bell. The latter said it didn't make much difference; they could get along without Cooney all right, as his evidence wasn't material. Yesterday Constable Short arrived with a bench warrant for Cooney, who was subjected to arrest and taken to Lindsay this morning.

Canada's Comic Paper.

Grip begins its thirty-fourth volume with the New Year, which means that this brave little journal has celebrated its seventeenth birthday. When we say—as we can without hesitation—that its ability both literary and artistic has been kept up to a uniformly high standard throughout this long period, and that to-day it is as bright as ever, we mention a fact exceedingly creditable, not only to the conductors of Grip, but also to the Canadian people, without whose appreciation and support this phenomenon of journalism would have been impossible. We call it a phenomenon advisedly, for so far as we are aware, there is not another country of Canada's age—certainly no other Colony—that can boast of a sixteen-year-old Comic Journal. Grip has well deserved its success. It is not merely a clever and amusing paper, it is also a recognised power in Canadian public life, and a power which, we are glad to say, is always on the right side where questions of moral principle are concerned. It ought to be a pleasure to every Canadian to contribute to the success of such a journal—and the most practical way of doing this is by subscribing. The price is only Two Dollars per year, or if taken in connection with the DAILY EXAMINER, $5.60; or the WEEKLY EXAMINER and Grip, $2.60. Subscriptions may be sent direct to Grip, Toronto, or to this office.

Personal.

Rev. D. S. Houck, Bridgenorth, is ill and will not be able to resume his duties for a few days.

The Nora Clench Concert.

A Brilliant Success—A Splendid House—Magnificent Music.

Everybody was there. The opera house was packed in every part by the best audience Peterborough could produce. A musical treat of the highest order was anticipated—and there was no disappointment in this respect. The shortness of the programme was delightfully balanced by its excellence—it was one of the most classical ever presented to a Peterborough audience. This is a copy of it:—

PART I.

1 Selection from William Tell ..... Rossini
Peterborough Amateur Orchestra.
2 A Son of the Desert am I ..... Phillips
Mr. T. Dunn.
3 Polonaise ..... Wieniawski
Miss Clench.
4 { a. Thine is My Heart ..... Schuberg
{ b. Last Night ..... Kjerulf
Mrs. Chambers.

PART II.

1 Overture, Reception .....
Peterborough Amateur Orchestra.
2 Norman's Tower .....
Mr. T. Dunn.
3 Romance in G ..... Beethoven
Miss Clench.
4 Softly Sighs (from Der Freischutz) ..... Weber
Mrs. Chambers.
5 Hungarian Dances—Brahms ..... Jacobius
Miss Clench.
6 Holy Mother, Guide His Footsteps .....
Mrs. Chambers and Mr. T. Dunn.

The Peterborough Amateur Orchestra led off with a fine, smooth and graceful execution of "Reception" overture, which was warmly received, but their second number at the opening of the second part, a morceau from "William Tell," was even better. The audience rewarded their excellent effort by a hearty encore, which brought out a selection from "Il Trovatore." This was a compliment the orchestra well deserved. Their playing was excellent. The time and harmony were good and the beauty of shading and admirable ensemble would have been creditable to professional orchestras of far greater pretensions.

Mr. T. Dunn's baritone solo, "A Son of the Desert," was capitally given, with good voice, and the excellent enunciation that characterizes all his singing. He bowed his acknowledgments to the warm recall given him. His second number, "The Sentinel," was most dramatically rendered, and the hearty recall it evoked would not be denied, and he responded with "First in the Field" sung with great taste and vigor. Mr. Dunn is a night sang at his best, and his singing showed that no long as his services are available, we cannot do better by importing the best outside talent.

Mrs Chambers, a favorite in Peterborough, appeared first in a double number—Schubert's "Thine is My Heart," and Kjerulf's "Last Night." She sang with all her old-time sweetness and was very warmly applauded. She sang also, in her second part, in excellent style, "Softly Sighs," from Der Freischutz, and, especially in the latter part, greatly distinguished herself. She was warmly encored, but only bowed her acknowledgments.

The finest vocal contribution of the evening was the magnificent duet, "Holy Mother, Guide his Footsteps," by Mrs. Chambers and Mr. Dunn.

The audience did not have long to wait for the appearance of Nora Clench—she was down for the second number. The curtain was swept aside and the appearance of a slight, graceful figure, clad in some pale pink attire, was simultaneous with a great burst of applause. Without the least timidity, but with the most ingenuous modesty, she poised her bow, and the first sweet notes of Wieniawski's stately Polonaise made a great hush, which was not broken till the last note died away. Of course the enthusiastically demanded encore was inevitable, and the Sirens of the Strings responded with the "Souvenir de Posen," by Wieniawski. The second number was Beethoven's "Romance in G." The severe classicality of this composition does not appeal strongly to popular taste, but Nora Clench's interpretation of it opened every heart to its majestic sweetness. Again the inevitable recall and a popular selection, "Garry Owen," which Vieuxtemp's variations made classical, was given. The theme sparkled clear-cut and crisp amidst the rippling stream of melodious sound the fair artist's witchery poured around it. The "Hungarian Dances," (Brahms Joachim) was her crowning triumph—it brought her a triple recall. The brilliant virtuosity it demanded and received, had a delightful contrast in the simple soulful playing of Auld Robin Gray, which was given as an encore number. What plaintive pathos the player drew from the subdued and chastened G string—there were tears in every tone. She was again twice called out, but appeared without her violin and simply smiled her thanks.

It is difficult to criticise Nora Clench's playing. The only fault shown by her last night was that she did not play enough. Her playing is full of feeling, her technique, in the most brilliant passages, is facile and unconstrained. She is utterly devoid of trickery, all the marvellous effects she produced are legitimately brought out. She does not play to her audience. Her whole heart is in her work. Still she appreciates success. She told a representative of the EXAMINER, who found her modest unaffected and simple-souled as a child that, she was highly gratified with her past success, but that she was not satisfied with it. She is still working hard, and brilliant as are her nightly triumphs, she has not yet reached the goal her ambition aims at. Miss Clench is thoroughly unspoiled by a success that might turn many an older head.

The accompaniments were very tastefully given by Miss. Colvin for Miss Clench, by Mrs. Dunn for Mr. Dunn, and by Miss Loch for Mrs. Chambers.

The concert was an unequivocal success throughout. Everything ran smoothly and the public enjoyed an entertainment classical in its excellence of character. The managers of the concert deserve the public gratitude for giving the people an opportunity of enjoying a thoroughly first class concert.

NOTES.

Miss Clench was to have performed in Bowmanville to-night, but the engagement was cancelled on account of the prevalence there of the influenza epidemic.

Mrs. Chambers was suffering from an attack of influenza, but despite her indisposition pleased everyone with her singing. Her physician advised her not to attempt to sing in public, but rather than disappoint the managers of the concert she bravely did her best.

The pianoforte used last night was one of Evans Bros., kindly supplied by Messrs. Jackson & Co., town.

The managers of the concert entertained the Amateur Orchestra and other gentlemen who had contributed to the success of the concert, at a deliciously served supper at the Palace Restaurant by Mr. T. Dunn.

Long Life.

Out of 1,600 old men in this country, noted by Dr. C. M. Hammond, 461 were farmers, and "nearly all began life upon the farm," says the Philadelphia Press. Out of the 59 French centenarians whose occupations were known 22 were farmers and 8 land-owners, so that in France, while a larger proportion than here sprang from the land, the proportion is still one-third less than the three-fourths of the total inhabitants, which the land bears in France. The most distinguished of French centenarians, M. Chevreul, who died last year at 102, had lived in Paris all his life. The world over the chance both of death and of birth seems less in the modern city than in the country. In other words, both the birth rate and death rate are less in cities. Special habits have little or nothing to do with long life, and it will be found as our list of old men grows that a fair proportion use spirits and tobacco. Early hours are the rule and a dinner in the middle of the day, as well as offspring, but these are so universal in the class from which old men and women come, that it is not easy to draw conclusions. Old men and women are far more common than they once were. In England from 1838-54 to 1881-82, the death rate dropped from 22.5 per 1,000 to 19.5, and this stands for an average addition of two years to the lives of men and three years and four months to the lives of women. In this country which shares this advance, this means that at the end of 30 years, 4,000,000 more people, or a state as large as Pennsylvania, will be alive, who under the earlier death rate would have been dead. In Sweden, where a longer comparison is possible, the death rate in 1770-90 was 28.5 per 1,000; in 1860-5 it was 17.5. The death rate in London was once 40 per 1,000; it is now 16, 15 and even 13.

Toronto Live Stock Market.

The local live stock market was fairly active and steady this morning. The demand was good and all the pens were cleared. The receipts were 21 loads, including 63 sheep and lambs and 100 hogs. The demand for cattle was both for local butchers and for shipment to Montreal. About four loads were sent east.

The Sale of Timber Limits.

When the Dominion Government is charged with disposing of its timber at prices so low that nothing but fraud, corruption or imbecility can account for the waste of the country's resources, the answer usually made is that the timber is not disposed of outright, but continues to yield a revenue to the country in the shape of timber dues and ground rent. Thus when the charge was made in the House of Commons that year that seventy-nine square miles of timber had been sold to Mr. Robillard and his friends for $4 per square mile, Mr. Dewdney, Minister of the Interior, replied that the Government, and through them the Indians, would receive not $1 per annum, but, hoard dues, $3 per thousand feet, timber dues and the rentals, and $2 a mile ground rent.

Premising Mr. Dewdney's statement is true, it does not relieve the Dominion Government from a charge of a waste of the public resources so gross as to create a strong presumption of corruption. Why? Because the sales made by the Dominion Government will not for a moment stand the test of a comparison with the sales made by the honest and capable Government which has charge of the timber of the Province of Ontario. The Ontario Government, like the Dominion Government, charges $1 per thousand, board measure, for pine cut upon its limits. The Ontario Government, like the Dominion Government, charges a ground rent of $3 per square mile. These items may, therefore, be struck off both sides of the account in making the comparison. And then we are once more face to face with the fact that where the Dominion Government collects $4 a square mile by way of bonus, the Ontario Government collects $300, $1,000 and even $3,000 a square mile. Between 1872 and 1886 the Ontario Government collected in bonuses upon 2,907 square miles, the sum of $1,160,000, or an average of nearly $400 a square mile. In Dember, 1887, the Ontario Government sold 480 miles for $1,300,000, or $3,000 a square mile.

The force of these facts cannot be broken. They not only prove the case against the Dominion Government, but they prove the honesty and the splendid business capacity of the Government, which, happily for the people of Ontario, is the steward of the timber resources of the province. It must be borne in mind that the bonuses do not represent the entire revenue from the timber. The people are still profiting, and, as long as the present Government is in power, they will continue to profit, from the sales made by the Government in the past. The lumbermen are compelled to share their profits with the people. Every year, in addition to bonuses, the people are receiving large amounts by way of timber dues and ground rents. In the year 1888, the total amount which accrued due was $1,688,015. This sum was made up as follows:—Bonus, $769,990; timber dues, $823,-775; ground rent, $58,893; interest, trespass, etc., $35,356. The limits in the old Ottawa and Belleville districts, upon which the bonuses have long since been paid, yielded over half a million dollars in timber dues and ground rent. The bonuses all came from the newer western district, which is also yielding large sums in timber dues, and will yield still larger sums in dues long after the bonuses have been paid. The chances are that the revenue from this source will continue to increase so long as there is a Government in power whose policy is to give the whole people of the Province a large and continuing share in the profits derived from the development of our great timber resources.—The Globe.

England and Portugal.

The limits of British and Portuguese jurisdiction in Southeastern Africa were the subject of diplomatic correspondence, when Major Serpa Pinto enlivened the negotiations by making an attack upon the Makololo people. The Makololo were strong friends of the explorer Livingstone, and their name occurs frequently in his account of his travels. They dwell upon the right bank of the Shire River, which flows from Lake Nyassa to the Zambesi. The British claim to the control of the region appears to be founded on Livingstone's discoveries, on missionary enterprise, on the operations of a trading company called the African Lakes Company, and more especially upon the facts that several months ago the Makololo actually placed themselves under the protection of the British flag. In a general way Portugal is understood to claim all the country lying between the Indian Ocean and the South Atlantic Ocean, but this claim is more fanciful than serious. Until recently Portugal had never put forth a claim to any country north of the Rue, a tributary of the Shire, which lies considerably south of the district now in dispute. Latterly her ideas of African Empire must have grown more ambitious, as it appears that a Portuguese railway was being located in the Makololo country. The Portuguese justify Serpa Pinto's action by saying that the Makololo interfered with the surveying party. It is also alleged on behalf of Portugal that the Makololo had signified their intention of making war upon all whites, and had stopped the traffic on a part of the Shire, which is well within Portuguese territory. Both countries claim that they have been doing the work of commerce and civilization in the disputed territory. We may rest assured that British interests will not suffer any injustice, as Britain is insisting upon her claims with vigor and determination.

Keene.

Considerable improvements have been made in the Methodist church, as the choir has been placed behind the pulpit.

A happy event took place on Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. Wm. Lang J.P., being the marriage of his granddaughter, Miss Jane Lang, to Mr. John Moore, of Keene. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large company, by the Rev. F. Andrews. Miss Laundreville, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Mr. G. Blezard, cousin of the groom, was groomsman. After the ceremony, the company sat down to a wedding supper, and afterwards heartily enjoyed themselves for a few hours. We join in wishing the couple a long and happy life.

The concert given by Prof. Ketchum's class was largely attended and was a decided success. Mr. Ketchum's singing was greatly appreciated, as was also that of the quartettes, and everyone was well satisfied with the progress the class had made.

The Methodist church was crowded on the occasion of the annual Christmas tree and entertainment. The entertainment was opened with an overture on the organ, from "The Messiah," by Mrs. Harrison, excellently rendered. The cantata "Celestial Star," was then given and the choruses and each part were well taken, and the audience was delighted. The distribution of presents followed and the National Anthem closed a very successful entertainment.

At the public school meeting, Mr. John O'Keefe was re-elected trustee. Mr. T. Campbell and Dr. Shaw were appointed auditors.

A barn belonging to Mr. W. J. Dixon, at Greystock, was blown down by the strong wind on Thursday, 27th ult. It was a new frame barn. Fences and trees were leveled in all directions.

At the closing of the public school for the holidays, Miss Rork was the recipient of an address and dressing case.

The Grain Situation.

The speculative wheat markets have been quiet and irregular the past week. In Chicago the May option sold as low as 81½ Tuesday. Altogether the statistical position is strong, the markets in the States fail to respond. There was another slight decline in the visible supply on this side this week, and a small decrease in the amount afloat. India continues to ship quite freely of wheat, but the season is now at hand when exports dwindle down, and, in fact, those of last week show a decrease of 280,000 bushels, or one-third, compared with the previous week. The markets were quiet and freights easier. In Southern India crop prospects are very unfavorable, owing to drought.

BRANDON, Jan. 7.—Buyers on the street were paying 71c. for wheat. About 650 bushels were marketed to-day.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Wheat was active to-day, the easier feeling of yesterday continuing. Prices breaking half a cent under the sales by local longs, and closing unsettled at near bottom figures. The market is now on a new ground, and some further decline looks probable. Cables are easier, and the news generally was bearish. Corn—There was a very quiet feeling; steady, light trade; no special features.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY ARBITRATION.

Mr. Blake to Conclude His Argument To-day—Notice Given of 88 Private Bills for Parliament's Consideration—Flour and Wheat Duties.

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—The Canadian Pacific arbitrators sat again to-day, and Hon. Edward Blake resumed his argument on behalf of the company. He quoted largely from the evidence given by the witnesses, giving the shorthand reporters a lively time to keep pace with him. To find out the rate of speed at which Mr. Blake spoke one of the reporters counted the words uttered during one hour's straight argument, and found that they amounted to 180 per minute. When reading extracts his rate of speed slightly exceeded 200 words per minute, and yet his articulation is excellent. He will probably conclude his argument to-morrow evening.

Owing to the death of a sister causing the absence of Judge Taschereau, the Supreme Court will not meet on Jan. 13 to take up the Haldimand case, as previously arranged. The court will not meet until Jan. 22.

Notice has been given of 88 private bills which will come up before the house next session. It is understood that Mr. Brown's Bird Bill will be included along with them.

About twenty workmen returned to the city to-day from the Regina and Long Lake Railway. They charge the contractors, Messrs. Mackenzie, Ross & Co., with violating an agreement with them made prior to leaving the city, and intend taking legal action to obtain their rights. They assert that they were engaged for six months but discharged after working three months, and that while their railway fare was to be paid both ways, they had to defray the cost out of their own pockets.

While no definite answer was given to Mr. Plewes, secretary of the Dominion Millers' Association, by members of the Government whom he interviewed yesterday afternoon, it is understood that the question will be settled one way or another at the approaching session.

Messrs. J. B. McIntyre, J. S. McCleland, James A. Keyes, J. E. Cuff, Albert Pay, E. Gardner, Wilson Davis and William Chaplain of St. Catharines arrived here to-day and had an interview this afternoon with Sir John Macdonald for the purpose of opposing the location of a new bridge by the Department of Canals at Lock 2 in the old Welland Canal. The delegates want the bridge where the old one is now located, and which is convenient to the Wellandvale Manufacturing Company's works.

The results of the recent civil service examinations held in a large number of cities all over the Dominion will be published in to-morrow's issue of The Canada Gazette. Over one half of the candidates were successful.

ANOTHER LYNCHING.

Barnwell County Again the Scene of the Mob Murder of a Negro.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 10.—Intelligence reaches this city to-night of the lynching of a negro near Robins Station, Barnwell County, last Tuesday night. The particulars are meagre as yet, but the report goes that the negro was arrested for burglary and while being conveyed to the local justice was taken by a mob, tied to a tree and shot to death. It is also reported that some of the perpetrators have been arrested and are now being taken to the Barnwell jail.

The Pacific Record Broken.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Jan. 10.—The Parthia arrived from Yokohama, 12 days 23 hours out, beating all previous records. She beat the City of Pekin to San Francisco 6 days.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—A cablegram received this evening by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company announces the arrival of the steamer China at Yokohama, Japan, after a voyage of 10 days 18 hours, which beats the record.

Memphis Civic Boodlers Indicted.

MEMPHIS, Jan. 10.—Fourteen indictments were returned by the grand jury to-day against D. P. Hadden, president, and C. L. Pullen, secretary of the City Government. The amount of shortage is alleged to be $896,900, extending over two years.

A Policeman Turns Thief.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Policeman Ira B. Ryerson was dismissed from the force to-day, arrested as a thief and held in $500 bail for stealing an $18 thermometer from a jewelry establishment in the Astor House.

Sale of Fishing Privileges.

QUEBEC, Jan. 10.—The Provincial Government's sale of 10-year leases of fishing rivers to-day was well attended. The purchasers included sportsmen and clubs from Quebec, Montreal, New York, Boston and Chicago.

Turned the Gas on Again.

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 10.—James Burd of Hungerford, who failed to turn off the gas properly at a hotel here on Tuesday night, died this morning. Deceased was 65 years of age and a prominent man in the township.

The P.A., D. & W.'s Progress.

PORT ARTHUR, Jan. 10.—The P.A., D. & W. Railway are building their bridge over the Kaministiguia River.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT.

The McKeesporter Has Decided to Face the Torontonian.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 10.—In a consultation to-day between John Teemer and his backers, it was decided that a race in best and best boats for the championship of the world should be arranged between the McKeesporter and William O'Connor of Toronto regardless of how the Boston regatta terminates. Teemer will endeavor to arrange the match with the Torontonian at as early a date as possible. Teemer arrived at this conclusion seeing that it was the only genuine manner of arriving at a satisfactory result.

The Myer-Gilmore Fight.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—The date for the big sparring and athletic entertainment at Battery D has been changed from Monday, Jan. 13, to Wednesday, Jan. 15. Permission for the exhibition has been secured, the building engaged, and it may be set down that on that evening Billy Myer and Harry Gilmore will for the first time show a Chicago assemblage their relative skill as boxers. A big program is being arranged for the evening.

Shooting for the Ontario Cup.

ORILLIA, Jan. 10.—At the shooting match for the Ontario cup at Bradford to-day, Dan Reilly of that burgh won by a score of 98. Three of the Orillia Rifle Club competed, Messrs. W. W. Wood, the former holder of the cup, J. D. Fortier and W. H. Hammond.

Grand Trunk Earnings.

The return of traffic of the Grand Trunk Railway for the week ending Jan. 4 was:

	1890.	1889.
Passenger train earnings	$123,302	$123,627
Freight	219,315	189,087
Total	$342,617	$311,114
Increase 1890	$ 31,503

Dividing the Honors.

Quinn's display of neckwear this winter has taken the Canadian world by storm. Old cynics, who never expected to enjoy the luxury of anything new in neckwear, have been driven wild by excess of admiration. Nothing is talked of just now but quinn's neckwear and the grippe.

North Grey Liberals.

OWEN SOUND, Jan. 10.—The Liberals of North Grey held their convention here to-day and nominated Mr. James Cleland, ex-reeve of Meaford, as their candidate to contest the constituency for the Ontario Assembly.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—The boiler in John Morris & Co.'s printing establishment in Monroe-street, exploded late this afternoon. Eight employes, mostly girls, were injured, some probably fatally.

An Inhuman Father Hanged.

RALEIGH, N.C., Jan. 10.—J. C. Parish was hanged here to-day for committing a felonious assault on his 13-year-old daughter.

ASKING A NEW TRIAL.

THE CRONIN DEFENDANTS FILE THEIR MOTION.

Thirty-nine Alleged Errors of the Court—The Employment, by Private Parties of Special Counsel to Assist the State Complained of—Other Matters.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—This afternoon Attorneys Wing, Donahoe and Forrest filed a motion for a new trial in the cases of Coughlin, Burke, O'Sullivan and Kunze, convicted of the murder of Dr. Cronin. The motion was filed in accordance with the order of Judge McConnell, before whom the arguments will be made Monday. The motion assigns thirty-nine causes of error in the rulings of Judge McConnell during the trial. These grounds of alleged error embrace every point contested by the attorneys for the defence and range from an objection to the court's overruling the motion to quash the indictments up to the assertion that the defence has since the trial discovered new evidence which entitles them to a new trial.

The first error alleged is that the court erred in overruling the motion to quash the indictment, made on behalf of each of the defendants. The denial of Coughlan's motion for a separate trial is made the basis of four alleged errors, there being a separate count for each defendant. The refusal of the court to permit the defence to show that Messrs. Mills, Ingham and Hynes were employed in the prosecution by parties who were actuated by improper motives, is alleged to have been prejudicial to the defendants. The court's allowing these three lawyers to assist in the prosecution is said to be an error. Mr. Hynes is made a subject of a special count in the motion in which he is said to have been moved by a spirit of personal hostility towards Coughlin, Burke and O'Sullivan, and was not fit to act as a prosecuting attorney.

The overruling of the challenge for cause preferred by the defendants to a long list of veniremen whose names are given in the motion is said to be an error. Side remarks made by the State's Attorney while examining jurors are charged to have been improper. Judge Longenecker's opening statement to the jury is cited as an error and characterized as improper and illegal and prejudicial to the rights of the defendants.

Another alleged error was the failure of the court to enforce the rule excluding witnesses for the state from the courtroom during the trial. It is charged as an error that the prosecution was permitted to introduce as evidence and exhibit to the jury the clothing, instruments and hair of Dr. Cronin, the false teeth, the trunk and all material evidence in the case. The introduction of Dr. Cronin's knives, after the state had closed its case, is said to have been in error.

Objection is made to a number of the instructions given to the jury by the court. The verdict is pronounced contrary to law and not justified by the evidence, and finally it is said: "The defendants and each one of them have discovered evidence which entitles them to a new trial."

OUR IMMIGRANTS.

Last Year's Arrivals at Montreal—Their Nativity and Destination.

MONTREAL, Jan. 10.—Dominion Immigration Agent Daley has just forwarded his annual report to Ottawa. The report says: There has been a decrease in the number of arrivals compared with last year, but what was wanting in quantity was fully made up in quality. They were of a superior class in every respect.

Of the total 7981 arrivals 5480 came across the Atlantic to Canada direct and 2451 via United States ports. Of this number there were 4314 males, 1635 females and 1992 children of 12 years and under. They were distributed as follows:

Quebec	2800
Ontario	2980
Manitoba	917
Northwest Territories	194
British Columbia	187
United States	1003
Total	7981

The nationality of those who remained in Canada was as follows:

English	3301
Irish	220
Scotch	439
Germans	227
Scandinavians	83
French and Belgians	136
Other nationalities	762
Total	6168

The occupations of those who settled here were: Farmers, 430; farm laborers, 427, general laborers, 1428; mechanics, 899; clerks and traders, 244; female domestics, 430; not classified, such as mothers and children, 3105.

It is estimated that these people brought about $500,000 of cash and effects into the country.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Agnes-street Murder—No Clue to the Perpetrator.

TORONTO, Jan. 11.—The developments of a day go to show beyond a doubt that the woman Jane Speers was the victim of a brutal murder. An inquest will be held to-day at 4 o'clock. The post-mortem was made yesterday, and proves that the woman met her death at the hands of one or more murderers. In addition to the bruises about the head and body it was discovered that one of the legs of the deceased had been fractured and in such fashion as to point to the most callous inhumanity. It transpires that the victim was married. There have been no arrests and if the detectives have any clue to the murderer they keep the facts to themselves.

The Kingston Skating and Curling Association (limited), with a capital stock of $10,000, has been incorporated.

These appointments have been made: Alexander Bartlett, Windsor, police magistrate for North Essex; Dr. David Thompson, Cayuga, associate coroner for Haldimand; W. W. Osborne, Hamilton, and Horace Harvey, Toronto, notaries public; David T. Rogers, Cayuga, clerk of the second division court of Haldimand.

ONTARIO SILVER.

The Badger Mining Company Declares a 10 per Cent. Dividend.

PORT ARTHUR, Jan. 10.—The Badger Mining Company, owners of the Badger silver mine near Port Arthur, have just declared a first dividend payable Jan. 15, of 50 cents per share on 50,000 shares, equivalent to 10 per cent. on the total capital stock of $250,000. This is all the more remarkable when it is considered that the mine had previously returned to the proprietors all the original capital invested in lands, buildings, mining work, machinery and mill, besides having ample cash for ordinary working expenses still left in the treasury.

The Motor of the Future.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 10.—The St. Paul City Railway Company has decided to abandon the proposed new cable lines and all the present horse-car lines and run cars entirely by electricity. The same thing will be done at Minneapolis. The change will cost $400,000 and was decided on by the success of the electric line at Minneapolis.

DEATH OF DR. DOELLINGER.

The Great Catholic Reformer Falls a Victim to the Grippe.

MUNICH, Jan. 10.—Dr. Doellinger, the head of the old Catholic movement in Southern Germany and one of the famous opponents of the doctrines of papal infallibility, is dead. He will be held to-day at 4 o'clock. The post-mortem was made yesterday, and proves that the woman met her death at the hands of one or more murderers. In addition to the bruises about the head and body it was discovered that one of the legs of the deceased had been fractured and in such fashion as to point to the most callous inhumanity. It transpires that the victim was married. There have been no arrests and if the detectives have any clue to the murderer they keep the facts to themselves.

HAMILTON, Jan. 10.—The far-reaching results of the epidemic of influenza are apparent in the fact that the drug known as antipyrine is almost exhausted in the local drug stores, as it is all over the country and in Europe. The prices here have jumped from $1.35 an ounce to $3 or $4, and is scarce at that. A German in New York, Herr Knorr, has the secret and monopoly of the drug, which is used for reducing the human temperature, and he will make his fortune by this sudden demand. There is another drug known as antifebrine which has a similar effect, but it is also a monopoly article and the supply is likely to be exhausted if the disease continues to spread.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—In this city the number of deaths during the 24 hours ending at noon to-day was 202. Of these 56 were due to pneumonia, 21 to bronchitis and 20 to consumption. There was one death from influenza without complications and 18 from influenza complicated with other diseases, principally pneumonia.

A MAJORITY OF 16.

The Vote on the Address—L'Electeur on the Toronto Mayoralty Election.

QUEBEC, Jan. 10.—The vote on the adoption of the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne took place last night and resulted in a majority of 16 for the Government. The vote stood 33 to 27.

L'Electeur, this morning says: "We rejoice at the victory of Clarke Wallace and the Orange Association, in [illegible] Mayor Clarke has elected the supporter of Archbishop Walsh to be punished, provided opposition to him. The Equal Rights candidate was defeated by more than a thousand votes. This is a proof that though there is plenty of fanaticism in the columns of The Mail there is none in the heart of the Protestant population of Toronto.

LABOR TROUBLES.

The Pennsylvania Miners' Demands—What the Operators Say.

SCOTTDALE, Jan. 10.—The coke operators to whom the miners' new scale was presented yesterday claim that the new scale would cause an advance of 30 to 60 per cent. over present wages. In some instances the percentage reaches 135 per cent. They say that at the present price of coke the operators would lose money if they paid the scale. The men are determined to stand firm for the advance.

Not in Ireland.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Jan. 10.—Only three families of the striking miners were evicted to-day. After the Sheriff, accompanied by thirty-three Pinkerton's armed with Winchesters had thrown out an Italian family at Walston 200 Italians collected and began yelling and firing into the air. About 200 shots were fired. Master Workman Wilson arrived on the scene and quelled the crowd. He told them not to break the peace or they would ruin the cause. Wilson says that had he not appeared when he did there would have been one of the bloodiest riots ever seen in this country, as the Italians were terribly excited. There will, it is thought, be a great many more evictions to-morrow. Wilson says every effort has and will be made to induce the foreign element to respect the law. The evicted families are being taken in by friends. Another warrant was sworn out to-day charging a Pinkerton man with assault.

THE PULSE OF TRADE.

Colder Weather Causes a Slight Improvement—Bradstreet's Review.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's note the temporary appearance of colder weather, followed at important western cities by a moderately improved distribution of clothing, boots and shoes and grocery staples. The gain is not large. Leather and lumber are quiet, and cattle and hogs, with freer receipts, tend to weakness at western centres. Mercantile collections generally are slow, and the immediate outlook is not for material improvement. At the West Indian, corn is moving with freedom, but South farm products are shipped with less freedom, notably cotton. Hog products have been more active, with firm or steady prices, and in some instances slight advances.

The New York Stock Market was depressed by tight money last week, and this week by the trouble about Reading incomes. Charges have been made that the executive of the Reading Company recently asserted that dividends had been earned and would be declared on the income bonds. The management declares the dividend has not been earned and will not be paid. Sugar trust has dropped to 50¼, the lowest on record, but has reacted. Money is easy at 1 to 7 per cent. on call. Sterling exchange continues to favor the importation of gold, but the Bank of England prevents it by raising its rate of discount.

Reports to Bradstreet's of gross earnings of 92 railroad companies for 1889 aggregate $327,580,853, an increase over 1888 of 9 per cent.

The demand for flour and for wheat has been dull both at home and abroad. Stocks of wheat in the United States, both coasts and Canada, out of farmers' hands, with like stocks in Australia, in Europe and afloat from all countries for Europe, as cabled to Bradstreet's, aggregated 115,800,000 bushels on Jan. 1, against 133,800,000 bushels on Jan. 1 1889, a decline of 18,000,000 bushels or 13½ per cent. Exports of wheat (and flour as wheat) from both coasts, United States and Canada, this week aggregate 2,817,231 bushels against 1,898,054 bushels last week and 1,662,885 bushels in the like week of 1889. The total of wheat (and flour as wheat) exported July 1, 1889, to date is 56,662,831 bushels against 53,989,006 bushels in a like portion of 1888-'89.

Business failures reported to Bradstreet's number 354 in the United States this week against 310 last week, and 337 this week last year. Canada had 46 this week against 26 last week. The total of failures in the United States Jan. 1 to date is 663 against 623 in 1889.

Dun-Wiman's Review.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Dun, Wiman & Co.'s weekly review of trade will say: An easier money market and colder weather have helped business somewhat, but it cannot be denied that the opening trade of the new year has thus far been a little disappointing. For this the widely prevalent sickness is to some extent responsible as it retards operations of buyers and sellers in every directions and lessens retail trade, except in drugs. In other branches business has been fairly active, but not up to expectations, though the prevailing belief is that the lack is only temporary and that a large business is to be expected soon. The large payments by the treasury have much relieved the money market, the excess of disbursements over receipts during the past week having been no less than $5,300,000, but the remarkable movement in foreign exchange which has risen from $4.84 to $4.86 during a single week tends strongly to increase the impression that the advance in rate by the Bank of England to 6 per cent. and the refusal of gold bullion for export by that bank have started a considerable realising on American securities by foreign holders.

LOSSES CAUSED BY FLAMES.

Heard & Co.'s Old Factory Building at Amherstburg Burnt.

AMHERSTBURG, Jan. 10.—About midnight last night fire broke out in the large frame factory building belonging to Heard & Co. of St. Thomas. The building was completely destroyed with the exception of the engine room. The fire got a start again this morning and destroyed the engine room, in which was a first-class engine and boiler which were slightly damaged. The factory was unoccupied. Colin Wigle, miller, had about six car loads of bran burned, which was stored in the building. Middleditch's foundry across the street was damaged to the extent of $500. The factory was uninsured. The origin of the fire is unknown. Loss on building $3000, Wigle's loss on bran about $400.

TWO LIVES LOST.

An Insignificant Blaze at Montreal Causes Two Deaths.

MONTREAL, Jan. 10.—A small fire occurred to-day in Craig-street of no importance in itself but disastrous in results. Mrs. Gorman, one of the inmates of the building, was ill in bed at the time and her 16-year-old daughter Mary and 4-year-old boy Joe were with her. The smoke pouring up the stairway soon filled their rooms. Those in the street secured a ladder and placed it against the building. The mother directed the little boy to go down the ladder, but he lost his hold upon the second rung and sliding down it half way fell into the street. The daughter next attempted to escape but the too old part way down the ladder and then fell off. The distracted mother was at the window waiting to come down next, but the fright occasioned by the fire below and the sight of her children falling from the ladder so unnerved her that she lost her balance and came plunging from the window to the icy sidewalk beneath, a distance of about 40 feet. The mother and daughter died a few hours afterwards and the boy is under treatment at the hospital.

Other Fires.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—Pila's silk factory at Lyons has been burned. Loss 600,000 francs.

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 10.—There are 80 cases of la grippe at the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb.

WEBSTER SPRINGS, W. Va., Jan. 10.—The house of Thomas Henderson was burned and Mrs. Henderson and two children were burned to death.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES.

THE ANGLO-PORTUGUESE STORM BLOWS OVER.

Emperor William and the Newspapers—The United Kingdom Elections—Nordenfelt Bankrupt—Other Items of Interest.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—It is most officially stated that Lord Salisbury responds the reply of Senhor Soares to the final British note relative to the Anglo-Portuguese dispute concerning territory in East Africa as affording the basis for an amicable settlement of the trouble. All the political groups in the Cortes concur in the opinion that the Serpa Pinto incident will not retard the two Governments in reaching a satisfactory agreement.

Peace Assured.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—It is reported from Gibraltar that the British fleet will on Tuesday resume the original program for the Mediterranean cruise. From this it is inferred that the dispute with Portugal is settled.

The Prohibition Removed.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The Portuguese Government had forbidden the reception at Quillamane near the mouth of the Zambesi of all British despatches intended for England, but not intended to pass through the Portuguese post office. That prohibition is now removed. It is denied that Bismarck has offered to mediate between England and Portugal.

Captured by Banaberi.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—A Zanzibar despatch says fears are entertained that Banaberi has captured Lieut. Gravenreuth of Major Wissmann's command and two other German officers.

Nordenfelt a Bankrupt.

"Stop My Paper."

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—The Emperor has ordered that the newspaper organs of the Ultra-Conservative party be no longer received at any royal palace. This order was provoked by the irritation these organs have caused to the Emperor by their electoral tactics and their political reports and articles.

Another Discovery Scandal.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The world of society and aristocracy in England is absolutely astounded to-day by the intelligence that the police have discovered another scandal in the West End of London, exceeding in its suggestions of filthy and unmentionable immorralities those which have been brought to light in connection with the Cleveland-street club-house. The most general details of the new scandal are all that have as yet been given out by the police who are busily engaged in unearthing the unsavory villainy.

King Alfonso Slightly Better.

MADRID, Jan. 10.—Although there is no considerable change in the condition of the King there are some symptoms that indicate a slight improvement. He slept in the morning and was again feverish this afternoon.

At a Cabinet Council, at which Sagasta presided, it was unanimously decided that the ministry should remain in office with unimpaired powers and that in the event of the King's death the crown should pass immediately to his eldest sister, with Queen Christina as regent.

The latest news from Alfonso is that he progresses favorably.

Queen Christina wired to Vienna to-night that since noon there had been a change for the better in the condition of Alfonso, that he was improving every hour. His fever was gone and he was merry and bright.

The midnight bulletin reports Alfonso as tranquil and without fever. He has had symptoms of collapse, which are now disappearing.

Relates to Matters of Form.

ROME, Jan. 10.—The semi-official press says Russia's objection to the Italian treaty with Abyssinia relates to matters of form rather than to essentials.

Poisoned by His Uniform.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—It is reported that the Czar's doctors have observed symptoms of cutaneous poisoning after wearing his German uniform.

WHAT IS GOING ON IN MONTREAL.

The Bank of Toronto's Proposed Purchase—C.P.R. Official Changes.

MONTREAL, Jan. 10.—Mr. Joly de Lotbiniere has called attention to a fact which should have been emphasized by the opposition during the discussion on the Jesuit Estates Bill, viz.: That there was no confiscation as Mr. Mercier ostentatiously wrote in his bill, but that there was an "escheat." Confiscation is not known, he says, to English law save under very extreme circumstances which did not exist in the matter of the Jesuits' estates.

The Bank of Toronto is negotiating with the La Chapelle estate for the purchase of the lot and building at the corner of McGill and St. James-streets, occupied at present by the Canadian Pacific Railway ticket office and the Guarantee Company. The present owners are asking $100,000 for the building, and the transfer is merely waiting a final decision from the directors of the bank. If the sale is affected the Montreal office of the bank will move into the building on May 1.

These changes have been made on the Eastern division of the Canadian Pacific Railway: Mr. B. W. Coyne will hereafter be assistant superintendent of the "Soo" extension, and will be replaced by Mr. W. J. Singleton as assistant superintendent over that portion of the line from Chalk River to Cartier. Mr. J. Rodger will be acting assistant superintendent over that part of the line between Cartier and White River.

The Louisville Disaster.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 10.—The efforts to recover the bodies in the bridge caisson by pumping in air have been given up and in the morning men will be sent in by the excavation shaft. It is hoped then that the thirteen remaining bodies will be taken out. The body of Hamilton Morris was recovered in the pipe at the top of the sand before the machinery broke to-day.

THE DAILY SMASH.

On the Intercolonial This Time—Engineer and Fireman Killed.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Jan. 10.—The express train for Quebec on the Intercolonial met with an accident near Jacquet River this morning. The Shakespeare's Crew Rescued.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The steamer Stag from Brunen, arrived to-day, having on board the crew of the ship Shakespeare, which was wrecked in mid-ocean. Capt. Mullen of the Shakespeare died of heart disease and exhaustion before he could be rescued. The other members of the crew were bruised and in an exhausted condition.

Was Widow Burghey Duped?

HAMILTON, Jan. 10.—Another chapter is added to the romantic story of Sinclair MacBeth's double marriage. A friend of the husband asserts that Widow Durphey was aware that the man who sought her hand was already married and had a wife then living, but went through the form of a marriage with MacBeth for the sake of getting her hands on his money.

Ending in Insanity.

Thousands of overworked business men, wearied brain-workers industrious mechanics, and tried women, in all parts of the Dominion are to-day in a terrible position. Their nerves are weak, digestion poor, head aching, and they cannot sleep, work or live in comfort. This is what fills our Insane Asylums. This is the cause of that terrible Parasis Before it is too late, use Dr. Phelps' wonderful discovery, Paine's Celery Compound. It removes the results of overwork, restores strength, renews vitality, regulates the whole system, and tones up the overworked brain and body. Do not despair, but use this wonderful remedy, and be restored to health and happiness, the same as was Mr. John L. Brodie, of Montreal, who writes: "I have great pleasure in recommending your Paine's Celery Compound. My system was run down and I was not fit for business, could not sleep well at night and was nervous. I commenced taking Paine's Celery Compound and improved immediately. I am now able to transact my business and endure any amount of excitement without bad effect."

Paine's Celery Compound can be purchased at any druggist's for one dollar a bottle. If he should not have it on hand, order direct from WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Montreal.

Farmers' Institute.

Annual Meeting of the West Riding Institute—A Fair Attendance—Interesting Papers on Farm Topics.

The annual meeting of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute began in the council chamber on Friday afternoon. There was a fair attendance of farmers.

The first address was that of Mr. J. J. Hobson, Chairman of the Agricultural College, Guelph, upon the subject of "Hoed Crops vs. Summer Fallowing." The speaker had had good opportunities of observing farm methods. The relative merit of these methods could not be decided by argument—but only by experience. In exceptional cases summer fallowing was profitable. He had found that for the average farm, hoed crops and the tillage and destruction of weeds, implied, were preferable. The system, the speaker advised, was to plough the stubble land thinly, and early in the fall, in order to start the growth of weed seeds. This repeated twice during the fall, a great many of

WEED SEEDS WILL BE DESTROYED,

especially Canadian thistle, wild mustard and all other oily seeds which remain in the ground for years, and ploughing would start them and they would be destroyed. Hoed crops were advisable where wheat was not grown. The most successful farmers were those who turned more or less attention to stock feeding, and this involved hoed crops, which thoroughly cleansed the soil. Turnips and hoed crops should be horse hoed three or four times, and given enough hand work to make the job thorough. Horse hoeing did double service—destroyed weeds and loosened the soil. Corn for fooder should always be grown in wide drills. Soiling is the growth of crops to take the place of grass during the season and to carry the crop to winter feeding. The crop was always cut before weed seeds matured, and one are two seasons would clear the soil of weeds. As regards the expense, it would pay if judiciously conducted. The remarks he had made were the results of his personal experience.

Mr. Geo. Hilliard suggested that, considering the high price in the States, the growing of beans would be profitable and cleansing to the soil.

Mr. Kennedy said beans were very exhausting to the soil.

Mr. Raynor thought beans would not yield well on rich lands. Beans drew heavily on the nitrates or flesh forming qualities of the soil. Referring to summer-fallowing, he thought it should be abandoned for hoed crops, which yielded paying crops and had the same weed destroying effects as summer-fallowing and the loss of a year's crops. The importance of stirring the soil was pointed out as well as the great benefit of soiling crops both as fodder and soil cleansers. Green crops contained the nitrates in themselves and if ploughed under the soil would get the benefit of them,

Mr. G. J. Galvin agreed with the abolition of summer-fallowing where the soil is well cleared, but in this county many farms were not sufficiently cleared.

Mr. Kennedy said the way farmers in his section destroyed wild oats was to plough in fall and spring.

Mr. Trennum gave his

SATISFACTORY EXPERIENCE OF

ensilage which was a hoed crop.

Mr. Hobson said he had grown as soiling crops successively clover, peas or tares, soiling corn and rape.

Mr. Kennedy thought rye would be a good first crop instead of clover, which was uncertain. Rye out when coming into bloom made good hay.

Mr. Rosebrough said that rape had a bad effect on milk.

Mr. Thomas Hooper said rape was dangerious in fall feeding for both cattle and sheep. If fed it should be fed early—before frost. It was best for sheep or young stock, very fattening.

Mr. Raynor suggested as the best remedy for wild oats, thick seeding with clover and timothy, and also for tympanitis or bloating from green feed a dose of oil of turpentine—an ounce and a half for cattle beast and half an ounce for young stock and sheep.

A general discussion brought out the fact that corn was an exhaustive crop (on clay loam) and also turnips.

Mr. John Cacil, of Auburnie, read a paper on the subject of the "Farmers' Orchard." Every farmer should have an orchard. The great cause of failures was the planting of trees unsuitable to the climate. A solution of hypophosphate of soda was recommended for the black spots in apples. Farmers should plant such kinds as succeeded best with their neighbours. Farmers were advised to plant orchards as a reserve crop in case a failure of cereals. A well grown orchard should yield about $100 per acre. Trees about five feet high were better than higher ones—about forty feet apart. Don't seed down an orchard till it is in full bearing.

Mr. Raynor said light crops benefitted orchards.

Mr. Croil suggested as the best varieties to plant—Wealthy, Golden Russet, Seek no Farther, Talman Sweet, St. Lawrence, Fameuse, McIntosh Red (originating in Stormont county), Yellow Bellflower, Ben Davis and Duchess of Oldenburgh.

Mr. Raynor, of the Agricultural College, defined manure as a material containing the elements of plant growth, applied to soils that lack these elements, nitrogen, phosphorus and oxygen. The chief element is nitrogen, and the most valuable is manures—general, artificial or green manure. Green manure was pronounced the most rapid and effective way of restoring exhausted soil, and the best was red clover, whose roots drew nitrogen from the subsoil and spared the top soil. Shallow rooted crops exhaust the surface soil. Buckwheat was recommended for ploughing under for clay soils. It draws largely from the air. Of artificial manures we had superphosphates, made from our great mines of phosphates. Phosphates were best for sandy soils. Farmers should be careful in PURCHASING ARTIFICIAL MANURES.

Before using, send samples for analysis to Guelph Agricultural College, where it will be done for nothing. As to animal manure, that from the sheep was first in quality, the horse next, the cow next and then the pig last. The food largely determined the value of manures. Those containing the most nitrogenous material were best. Use just enough litter to absorb the urine—too much unused fire fang. Mr. Hooper preferred spreading the manure on land when it is drawn out—surface manuring in the winter.

Mr. Hooper said by ploughing under his manure in the spring he considered he got a year's start.

Mr. Kennedy said he had got noticeably good manurial results from burning straw on the ground, instead of converting it into manure by stock.

Mr. Hobson agreed with Mr. Hooper that it was best to draw out manure in the winter and leave it in compost heaps.

Mr. Payne's question brought the reply that soot was good as a garden manure and insect destroyer.

Discussion brought out the excellent manurial value of ashes—as rich in potash.

Mr. Kennedy found good results from green manure ploughed in. Clover, millet and buckwheat ploughed under were excellent for clay soil.

Evening Session.

Mr. Raynor delivered an address on the subject of the Ontario Agricultural College, the advantages and objects of which were largely misunderstood by the farmers in general. It was not so much to give the young men an education as farmers, as to keep up their interest in farming as a science. There were some 500 acres in connection with the college, on which a practical illustration of all branches of farming was conducted. In the college a good education, consisting of mathematics, English literature and chemistry, was given the students. They had several professors, specialists, who had charge of the different departments. One professor gave lectures on the growth of crops and other subjects connected with agriculture. In this way the young men were given a sound elementary education on literary and scientific, as well as agricultural topics. On the outside, the students are given every opportunity of studying the different kinds of animals—an education in itself—enabling him to distinguish the best breeds for all purposes. The mechanical department is superintended by a competent carpenter, who gives young men a good idea of general farm building. In the experimental, the growth and acclimatization of the different kinds of grain imported to this country. There is also a horticultural department, where much useful education can be got. The dairy department would give any man if he kept his eyes open a practical knowledge of butter-making. Thus it would be seen that the training at the College was practical, and not all theoretical. Regarding the cost, he thought with careful economy a young man entering as a county scholar (who are exempted from a $20 tuition fee), could get along on about $50 a year. One not a county student would have to pay $20 more. The College was better patronised from the other provinces, the States and even England, than by young men from Ontario. This was not as it should be. The advantages of such a school was apparent. Apart from the education, it gave the young man self-reliance, a better value of money, entitled him to all the privileges of a well equipped reading room and athletic department.

SUCCESSFUL FARMING.

Mr. Hobson said he would speak on the subject of agricultural depression, and first would point out what were some of the difficulties of successful farming. With increased expenses consequent upon an improved condition of domestic comfort, the demand for improved implements, the increased cost of production, the strong competition encountered from producers in all parts of the world, in grain, beef and other products—all these things tended to decrease the profits of farming in Ontario. But in spite of this he had faith that the Canadian farmer would hold his own, and he mentioned the force of example of thrifty and intelligent farmers upon less progressive ones as an influence which would tend to the advancement of the farming community. The establishment of agricultural colleges and experimental farms by the legislatures and government was a powerful factor in this direction. The farmers of to day must not be content with their present status—they must take advantage of every means of progression within their reach. He advised habits of industry and observation, and emphasised the absolute necessity of education in the farmer of the future. It rested with the young men to wipe out the stigma of reproach attached by some to agriculture, and by grasping every opportunity to develop and enlarge their minds and characters and help to place agriculture in the foremost ranks.

Coughs, Colds, Croup.

Allen's Lung Balsam was introduced to the public after its merits for the positive cure of such diseases had been fully tested. It excites expectoration and causes the Lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; changes the secretions and purifies the blood; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours' time, if not of too long standing. It contains no opium in any form and is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child. There is no real necessity for so many deaths by consumption when Allen's Lung Balsam will prevent it if only taken in time. For Consumption, and all diseases that lead to it, such as Coughs, neglected Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and all diseases of the Lungs, Allen's Lung Balsam is the Great Modern Remedy. For Croup and Whooping Cough it is almost a specific. It is an old standard remedy, and sold universally at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. The 25-cent bottles are put out to answer the constant call for a Good and Low-Priced Cough Cure. If you have not tried the Balsam, call for a 25-cent bottle to test it.

BOOTS FOR THE NATION

READY-MADE CLOTHING CHEAPER THAN EVER

Positive proof has been given, that in the case of several responsible parties who have taken in the town and compared prices, that GOUGHS in every case give by big odds the Best Value. One customer stated:—"I looked at a suit up town for $10 (ten dollars) and GOUGHS' price for the same suit and cap and boots to fit the same person included, came to a trifle over $8. Make a note of this. You can save money on every deal at GOUGHS.

OVERCOATS:

733 Yet on Hand. It's a little late for Overcoats, and like the waggon-maker who has too many sleighs on hand in an open winter, must sacrifice in order to sell. Now here is our offer:—We will sell you any overcoat in our store at Net Cost. This means a saving to the buyer of at least 20 per cent.

BOOTS! BOOTS! BOOTS!

Our Boots for Ladies' and Men's wear at 85c., $1, $1.25, $1.75 and $2.00, beat anything in Canada either wholesale or retail; and why should they not when we bought them at 50c. on the dollar, and therefore when wholesale houses cannot compete with the Wonderful Cheap Men, it is simply impossible for small retail houses to compete. Sixty per cent. of the Goods we sell we buy at less than first cost of manufacture, and hence the reason we make the bold assertion that no wholesale house in Canada can touch our prices. Give us a look; we will greatly add to your personal appearance, without affecting your pocket.

CHAPTER VI.

A BIT OF RETROSPECTION.

LIFE is rapid in New York. Events of yesterday are ancient history.

After a week the tragedy of Union square was forgotten. The coroner had held the inquest and had established nothing.

The strictest inquiry had failed to discover a motive for the deed. Mr. Templeton's life was an open one and rather commonplace in its exactness and regularity. He attended strictly to business during business hours, and stood well in commercial circles. He took l is pleasures soberly in his hours of relaxation. He had no vices and no entangling alliances.

Neither the clothes cast off by the murderer in his flight, nor the diamond button found by Holbrook, nor the knife left in the body of the dead man, had proved to be clews of value to the police.

The verdict of the coroner's jury had been: "Came to his death by being stabbed with a knife, in the hands of a person unknown."

The police adopted the theory that the man had been struck in mistake, and that another victim had been intended.

Why? That was a secret they guarded, and they worked on that line.

A large reward for the detection of the criminal was offered by the authorities. And the affair faded from the newspapers.

The funeral had been a quiet one. There were but two mourners present—an elderly lady and a younger one closely veiled, both evincing great grief. There were but few attendants from curiosity.

Neither Mr. Witherspoon nor Flora Ashgrove were present.

Holbrook, who was, noted this fact, and contrasted her intense interest in the murdered man the day after the murder, with her absence from the funeral ceremonies.

A few of Templeton's business acquaintances, and the friends with whom he spent the last hours of his life made up the rest.

Apparently the tragedy was of one act, and the drop curtain was down.

Holbrook's law office was on the seventh story of one of those tall buildings which in recent years have become a conspicuous feature of lower New York.

His private office was a corner room, and from the window his eye could roam over the roofs of adjacent buildings, across the Hudson river and beyond the houses on the Jersey shore to the green hills back of them.

One afternoon, two weeks after the murder, he was resting himself from his labors and enjoying the extensive view spread out before him.

In fact, he was reviewing that strange interview with Flora Ashgrove the day after the murder.

Her manner, her emotion, her eagerness, her anger, all dwelt vividly in his mind, but his perplexity was as great as on the day he left her presence.

What connection, if any, had she with the murder? What did she know, if anything? What relation had existed between herself and the dead man? Why did she want to know so particularly the appearance of the murderer? What was at the bottom of the intense anxiety she displayed? And for whom was this anxiety displayed? She was tall and slim, or would be if dressed in men's clothes—could it possibly have been herself? Was she the kind of a woman whom jealousy would impel to such a crime?

These were the questions he had asked himself again and again, and never had found satisfactory answers to them.

They haunted him like a nightmare, and at every leisure moment returned to vex him, until he plunged deeply into work to escape them.

Of this, however, he was conscious—his feelings toward Flora had undergone a great change. As beautiful as she undeniably was, he preferred that she should be some one else's wife. In her interview with him she had uncovered a disposition he did not like, and the tormenting questions that would come unbidden had finally bred in him a fear of her and he had taken alarm.

As he was thus musing, a clerk informed him that two ladies desired to see him.

"What are their names?" he asked.

"They would not give them; they said they would convey no information. They are dressed in deep mourning—one young, one old."

"Show them in."

THE CUBAN STEAL.

Boodlers Rob the Government of $700,000—A Big Conspiracy.

HAVANA, Jan. 9.—The defalcation in the Treasury Department grows the more it is investigated. The amount of funds missing at first was estimated at $250,000, now it reaches $700,000. Many officials are implicated. There was an extensive conspiracy to plunder the Government. One of the officials under arrest is a chief of administration of the first class and has at times acted as Superintendent-General of the Treasury. The news of the capture of one of the fugitive employes in New York gives great satisfaction.

Lucky Mrs. Young.

HAMILTON, Jan. 6.—Mrs. J. B. Young, wife of a book-keeper for John Harvey & Co. of this city, had a lottery ticket given her by a friend in New York. It drew $15,000.

A STRIKE PROBABLE.

Demands of the Workmen in the Connellsville Coke Regions.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 9.—At a conference between the operators of the Connellsville coke regions and Knights of Labor leaders at Scottdale to-day the workmen demanded an increase in wages, ranging from 8 to 14 per cent., and a reduction of house rents to 1 per cent on the value of the property. These unprecedented demands so startled the operators that they adjourned their conference at once. If the men persist in their demands there will probably be another riotous strike. The 10,000 or 15,000 workmen in the Connellsville region are principally Hungarians, who live in shanties owned by their employers and buy all their supplies at the company stores.

The Association Circuit.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—A secret conference was held at the Astor House to-day of parties who are determined to place an American Association Baseball Club in Brooklyn. Among those present were President Whitaker of the Athletics, Manager Powers of Rochester, Manager Chapman of Louisville, John Wallace of the Ridgewood Park Company (Brooklyn) and J. C. Kennedy also of Brooklyn. President Phelps of the American Association and Messrs. Whitaker and Lasarus, at a recent meeting in Rochester, were authorized to select the eighth club. They announced this evening that the Association circuit the coming season would be composed of these clubs: St. Louis, Louisville, Columbus, Athletics, Toledo, Syracuse, Rochester and Brooklyn.

Plans for Watkin's Tower.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Two hundred and forty-eight architects and engineers, sixteen of whom are Americans and Canadians, and sixteen Frenchmen and Germans, are designing plans for the tower proposed by Mr. Edward Watkin, to be erected on the banks of the Thames. Many novelties are produced in the designs.

Death of Congressman Kelly.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Judge William D. Kelly died at 6.20 this evening. Judge Kelly has represented a Philadelphia district in Congress for so many years as to become known as the "Father of the House." He was a Republican and a staunch Protectionist, his devotion in the latter line to the interests of his constituents having earned for him the title of "Pig Iron Kelly." The respect felt for him by his colleagues of both political parties was shown by the fact that for many years he has been exempt from the seat-drawing lottery. The immediate cause of death was cancer.

Mr. Kelly was in his 76th year, and had he lived to finish this term, he would have served continuously 30 years in Congress.

The Daily Smash.

SIDNEY, Neb., Jan. 9.—The Union Pacific fast mail train was wrecked near here about 6 o'clock this morning by a broken rail. The cars caught fire and two mail cars and baggage cars were burned, together with most of their contents. Baggagemaster C. T. Dobbins was badly but not fatally injured. Two sleepers, "Sweet Water" and "Castle Rock," were badly burned, but all the passengers escaped in their night clothing.

A Common Cold

Is often the beginning of serious affections of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes, and Lungs. Therefore, the importance of early and effective treatment cannot be overestimated. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral may always be relied upon for the speedy cure of a Cold or Cough.

Last January I was attacked with a severe Cold, which, by neglect and frequent exposures, became worse, finally settling on my lungs. A terrible cough soon followed, accompanied by pains in the chest, from which I suffered intensely. After trying various remedies, without obtaining relief, I commenced taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was Speedily Cured.

I am satisfied that this remedy saved my life.—Jno. Webster, Pawtucket, R. I.

I contracted a severe cold, which suddenly developed into Pneumonia, presenting dangerous and obstinate symptoms. My physician at once ordered the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. His instructions were followed, and the result was a rapid and permanent cure.—H. E. Simpson, Rogers Prairie, Texas.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Cold which settled on my Lungs. I consulted various physicians, and took the medicines they prescribed, but received only temporary relief. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking two bottles of this medicine I was cured. Since then I have given the Pectoral to my children, and consider it for Colds, Coughs, and all Throat and Lung diseases, ever used in my family.—Robert Vanderpool, Meadville, Pa.

Some time ago I took a slight Cold, which, being neglected, grew worse, and settled on my lungs. I had a hacking cough, and was very weak. Those who knew me best considered my life to be in great danger. I continued to suffer until I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Less than one bottle of this valuable medicine cured me, and I feel that I owe the preservation of my life to its curative powers.—Mrs. Ann Lockwood, Akron, New York.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is considered, here, the one great remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs, and is more in demand than any other medicine of its class.—J. F. Roberts, Magnolia, Ark.

All the ladies interested in foreign mission work are cordially invited to attend. There will also be an open meeting under the auspices of the Presbytery in the Mill street church at 7.30 p.m., when addresses will be given by the Rev. Mr. Johnston, of Lindsay, and the Rev. Mr. J.B. Smith, M.A., principal of the Ahmednegger College, India.

Pastoral Induction.

The ceremony of induction at St. John's to-morrow will take place at the 11 a. m. service. The Bishop of the Diocese will deliver his commission, and the keys of the church will be handed over by the wardens at the beginning of the service. The usual order of Morning Prayer and Holy Communion will then follow, marked by special prayers, Psalms and lessons from Scripture, appropriate to the occasion. The Bishop will celebrate the Holy Communion and preach the sermon, and also be present at 7 p.m. The special preacher in the evening will be the Rev. Canon Davidson, of Colborne. It is expected that the Bishop will visit the schools and Bible classes of the parish in the afternoon.

A meeting is to be held in the Business College rooms on Tuesday evening next, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a Choral Society in Peterborough. It is to be hoped that all lovers of music will attend, as it is the intention to organize at once for an Oratorio to be given during the winter season. dd9

The Rink Opened.

Jack Frost has been so busy warming his fingers at the North Pole that, now he is here he contributes a goodly hearty welcome from Newfoundland. The young people especially who follow skating as their principal winter amusement are rejoiced at being able to indulge in their favorite pastime. The rink was opened for the season last night, and the ice was crowded with a merry throng. The Fire Brigade Band was present and applied music at intervals. The ice was in good condition, due to Mr. John Cousins' strenuous efforts, and the skaters enjoyed a pleasant evening. The rink will be open afternoon and evening in future.

Assistance for the Armory.

Last night the Finance Committee of the town council was waited upon by Col. Rogers and Major Bell, of the 57th Batt., with regard to obtaining assistance from the corporation for the proposed new armory. The matter was discussed and it was thought better for the delegates to appear before the council in session. They will probably attend Monday night's meeting for that purpose. The Government, it appears, will not undertake to erect the armory unless the town bears half the expense.

Ritchie Discharged.

Alexander Ritchie, accused of arson, was tried at Lindsay yesterday and discharged. It was alleged that while in gaol here Ritchie confessed to Huffman, a fellow-prisoner, that he fired I. Junk's buildings in Bobcaygeon a year or so ago and was paid for the job. On the strength of this alleged confession Ritchie was arrested as soon as his term here was completed. At the trial Huffman, a negro resident of Peterborough, swore that Ritchie had confessed to him, as stated, but Alfred Cooney, who was in gaol with Ritchie and Huffman and was summoned as a witness for the defence, testified that Huffman had told him he had been promised $100 by Detective Wm. Bantin, (who worked up the case) if he secured a confession from Ritchie. In view of this fact the Judge would not accept Huffman's evidence and discharged the prisoner. In doing so he censured Chief Bell, who, he stated in yesterday's EXAMINER, did not take Cooney to Lindsay when he took Huffman, though both had been summoned, Cooney having to be subsequently taken on a bench warrant. The Judge held that it appeared as if Chief Bell did not wish to give the prisoner a fair trial. Bantin is now in the Western States. There was a reward of $500 offered for the conviction of the guilty party.

Sawdust as an Explosive.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Will you kindly reproduce the appended clipping from the Ottawa correspondence of the Empire.

Yours truly,

PRO BONO PUBLICO.

A terrible explosion occurred early this morning about 300 yards from the Queen's wharf. The explosion was due to gas generated from sawdust. The hole rent in the ice was over 50 yards in circumference, and it looked as if hundreds of tons of the ice had been thrown up, great blocks two and three feet thick and six or eight feet high lying in all directions. Had the explosion occurred yesterday afternoon when hundreds of people were skating on the river, Senator Clemow would have been furnished with an irresistible argument against mill-owners being permitted to allow sawdust to enter the river.

Hon. George E. Wendling

Will Give His Matchless Lecture,

"Saul, of Tarsus."

In The Opera House,

Wednesday Evening, January 15th.

This is his masterpiece. In an article covering several columns the Kingston Daily Whig said:—"Hundreds came, found the hall filled, and sadly turned away. * * * * A sea of upturned faces greeted Mr. Wendling when he rose to speak. His lectures here on "Hamlet and Immortality" were grand, but his "Saul of Tarsus" was sublime. Gifted as he is he speaks well on any topic, but here he was best upon this theme. He has made a profound study of one of the most wonderful men the world has known, and carried his audience with him for two hours and then made them sigh because the end had come."

In order to allow everyone to enjoy this great intellectual feast, we shall only place the tickets at the people's popular price, 25 cents. Can be reserved at Scholfield's drug store on and after Monday on payment of 25 cents extra.

Dramatic Events.

The Josie Mills Co. at the Opera House—A Local Amateur Troupe Perform at Keene—A Coming Event.

"Dad's Girl," a remarkably bright and attractive comedy-drama, was presented at the Opera House last night by the Josie Mills Company. It was without doubt the best performance of the week. The play seemed to have been created for Miss Mills, whose piquant, vivacious manner was especially fitted for the character. Miss Mills, though still weak from her recent illness, showed not a trace of fatigue in her acting, which was sprightly and charming throughout the whole play. As the merry, mischievous, boyishness, mastered but true hearted and loving Irish country lass known as "Dad's Girl," and again as the refined and accomplished young society lady, Miss Mills excelled herself. Her interpretation of the dual role was well conceived and skillfully portrayed, and the whole company ably seconded her efforts, each character being well taken. The play is well-balanced throughout, and deals with the incidents of a love-romance. A young artist falls in love with "Marcy" and marries her for her pretty face and loving ways. But she is ignorant and unsophisticated, and her errors of speech and manners become so distasteful to the husband that he treats his wife coldly. Her sunny nature cannot stand such treatment, and she leaves the house with her father, and all trace is lost of her for several years, when she turns up again in a fashionable drawing room under an assumed name as the belle of the season. She had been attending school in the meantime. Her husband meets her, and after some skilful parrying which constitutes a pleasant little scene, she acknowledges herself and husband and wife are reconciled. There is a strain of incidental comedy in the play which acts as sauce to the pudding. In the last act, the drawing room scene, the ladies appeared in elegant costumes and the gentlemen in evening dress suits. Altogether the performance gave general satisfaction. Afterwards the usual quantity of silverware was given away.

The company give performances this afternoon and evening.

THE TEMPLARS AT KEENE.

An amateur dramatic troupe composed of members of the Royal Templars of Temperance presented "Ten Nights in a Bar-room" at Keene last night. The company have had the play under rehearsal for a month or so, and prided themselves on having it well prepared. They drove down yesterday afternoon and performed to a packed house in the Town Hall. The play was exceptionally well put on and was met with a very warm reception. This success is all the more gratifying as it is the first time the company ever presented the play in public; the performers had made very conscientious study of their parts—the prompter could have been almost entirely dispensed with. The following made especial hits:—Mr. H. Dixon, Mr J. A. Turner, Mr. J H. Wyatt, Miss Eva Thompson, Miss Saunders and Miss Eva Carey. These ladies and gentlemen, though they received more marked applause, had the advantage over the other characters of having a more effective part. It may be said that all took their parts well and that the play ran very smoothly and successfully. The following is the cast of characters:—

Joe Morgan	J A Turner
Sample Switchel	Herb Dixon
Simon Slade	J H Wyatt
Harvey Green	W Hendricks
Frank Slade	Frank McNaughton
Mr. Romaine	B Armstrong
Willie Hammond	Thos Barrie
Mrs Morgan	Miss Nellie Saunders
Mrs Slade	Miss Lousley
Mehliable Cartwright	Miss Eva Thompson
Mary Morgan	Eva Carey

[The company will produce Ten Nights in a Bar-room in the opera house on Friday evening next, Jan. 17th. Admission, 20 cents; reserved seats 30 cents.

THE BELLEVILLE MINSTRELS.

It is probable the Belleville Amateur Minstrels will visit Peterborough this winter. The troupe is composed of young men of high social position in the Bay City, and they give an entertainment refined and elevating. It will be a treat to be able to attend a first class minstrel show without fear of one's finer sensibilities being shocked. The Belleville boys give concerts before their own people every year.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

Young Men's meeting to-night at 8 p.m. Mr. Walter Anderson will lead the meeting, hearty singing led by Orchestra.

Consecration meeting Sabbath morning at 9.30 a.m.

Sabbath afternoon at 4.15 Personal Purity Meeting, led by Mr. John Carlyle. Y.M.C.A Orchestra in attendance.

Gospel and song service at 8.30, Sabbath evening, Mr. Isaac Richardson will address the meeting. We extend a cordial invitation to all young men, especially strangers in our town to come and enjoy these helpful services.

Women's Prayer meeting Tuesday afternoon at 3.30. All ladies interested in our work invited.

Bible training class Tuesday evenings for young men to study God's word. We hope many will avail themselves of this helpful class.

We tender our thanks to Miss Maggie Davidson for elegant fan for an ornament for the parlor, also to Mr. H. S. Griffin for "Self Help" by Smiles, for our library.

Personal.

Hon. R. Hamilton's condition to-day is unimproved. He is gradually sinking.

Mr. Wm. Smith, Principal of the Central School, is still confined to his house by illness. His class is being taken by Mr. Walkey.

Mr. Chas. Shaw, late of the Bank of Toronto, left this morning for Chicago, where he will enter the offices of the Pullman Car Co. Mr. Shaw will be greatly missed in social and musical circles in town. His many friends will wish him every success in life.

The many friends of Mr. George Leitch, one of the oldest residents and first settlers of Haldimand township, near Cobourg, will regret to hear that he is suffering severely from chronic diabetes. Dr. Yelland, of Peterborough, visited him Friday.

Murdered by His Mistress.

ELMIRA, N.Y., Jan. 10.—At 4 o'clock this afternoon the police were summoned to the residence of Mrs. Ellenberg, East Church-street, where a murder had been committed. They found William Edwards, a well known man, lying in the hallway dying, having been shot in the back of the neck. He died soon after the coroner and police arrived. Mrs. Ellenberg claims he shot himself during a quarrel with her over money matters. It is alleged that Mrs. Ellenberg has been Edwards' mistress a number of years and during a quarrel, shot him. Mrs. Ellenberg is quite wealthy. She has been married twice, her second husband leaving her on account of alleged infidelity. "Billy" Edwards was a fine-looking man about 40 years of age, married, and has a family. Mrs. Ellenberg has been arrested.

Victims of the Great Flood.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Jan. 10.—Three more bodies were recovered to-day, victims of the great flood. One was identified as that of a German named Voeghtley. The other two were too badly decomposed to be identified.

A Dish of New P's.

P stands for Pudding, for Peach and for Pear,
And illustrates for Poetry and Prose;
The Parrot, the Pigeon that flies in the air,
The Pig with a ring on his nose;
For Paper and Pen, for Printer and Press,
For Physic, and People who ail it;
But when you are sick, to relieve your distress
Take at once Pierce's Purgative Pellet.

O yes, indeed! These are the P's for you, poor, sick man or woman. Nothing like them for keeping the bowels and stomach regulated and in order—tiny, sugar-coated granules, scarcely larger than mustard seeds. They work gently but thoroughly.

Sudden Change.

MRS George Fenwelling, St. John, N.B., writes:—I suffered from weakness and costiveness, so I bought a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and before I finished it I noticed a change. After using three bottles I am now entirely cured, and recommend B. B.B. as a positive cure for costiveness. 2w2d

Obituary.

Another of Peterborough's pioneers has been laid in her last resting place, in the person of Mrs. Henry Sherwood. She was the daughter of Mr. George Brown, one of Ashburnham's first settlers. She was born in the year 1833, in the said village. At twenty years of age she was united in marriage to Mr. Henry Sherwood, who still survives her, and since that time she has lived in the neighbourhood of Smithson Hill up to the time of her death, December 27th, 1889. Mrs. Sherwood was the mother of five children, three sons and two daughters, who are all living, two sons and one daughter being married and settled comfortably near the old home. Through life her chief desire was to train those whom God had given her to become good citizens of earth, and, above all, to be citizens of Heaven, of which she has become an heir. The writer has been acquainted with her for a number of years, and has known her to be an affectionate wife, a loving mother, and a good and kind neighbour. It was my privilege to visit her many times during her illness, which was of considerable length, and amidst all her pain and suffering, which she bore with Christian patience, she never lost sight of the Crown which lay at the end of her earthly career. A few hours before her death, calling her dear husband and family to her bedside, she gave them each a mother's advice in a calm and prayerful way; then bid them each good-bye, wishing to meet them again, where death will never enter.

Her life was such that in death all fear and pain were taken away. Our sister, is dying, could adopt the following lines:

I leave this world without a tear,
Save for my family I have no dear.
To heal their sorrows, Lord, look down,
And to my loved ones prove a friend.

THE CONQUEROR CROWNED.

Servant of God, well done!
Thy earthly warfare's past;
The battle's fought, the race is run,
And thou art crowned at last.

BY A NEIGHBOUR.

"La Grippe" or Lightning Catarrh.

MR. EDITOR,—"La Grippe," or Russian influenza, as it is termed, is in reality an epidemic catarrh, and is called by some physicians "lightning catarrh," from the rapidity with which it sweeps over the country. Allow us to draw the attention of your readers to the fact that Nasal Balm, as well as being a thorough cure for all cases of the ordinary cold in the head and catarrh, will give prompt relief in even the most severe cases of "La Grippe," or Russian influenza, as it will effectually clear the nasal passages, allay irritation and relieve the dull, oppressive headache accompanying the disease. No family should be without a bottle of Nasal Balm in the house, as cold in the head and catarrh are peculiarly liable to attack people at this season of the year, and Nasal Balm is the only prompt and speedy cure for these troubles ever offered the public. Easy to use and agreeable. If you cannot get it at your dealers, it will be sent, post free, on receipt of price (50 cents and $1 per bottle) by addressing FULFORD & Co., Brockville, Ont. eodw

People Who Are Too Good.

There is a candidate for some post office out west, says the Washington Post; and the men who are after it are putting as much energy into their respective canvasses as if it were the presidency. One candidate came out last week and brought a trunk full of papers. He had the indorsements of two-thirds of the business men, 70 per cent of the republican voters, and letters from every clergyman in the place. He laid these before Mr. Wanamaker, who looked them over carefully. "Hadn't you better keep these?" asked the postmaster general. You may want to get into heaven some time." And that brings up the story which is told on a certain Sunday school superintendent. There had been the usual ante-Christmas influx of scholars, whose sudden show of religious interest wanes by New Year's and disappears with the January thaw. One particularly tough and unregenerate scion came in last Sunday and applied for admission to the fold. "Are you a good boy?" asked the superintendent. "Yes, sir," answered the aspiring one, as he drew the back of his hand across the end of his nose. "Do you go to school?" "Yes, sir." "Don't you tell lies?" "No, Sir." Always obey your mother?" "Yes, sir." "Say your prayers night and morning?" "Yes, sir." "Well, you had better keep away from this Sunday school, I am afraid you would get led astray."

Mothers!

Remeber that Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or any other narcotic substance, in any quantity, shape or form. It is entirely vegetable, pleasant to take, positively effective and perfectly harmless. It is not a secret remedy; the formula is printed on the wrapper. Your physician will recommend it. Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, and many so-called soothing syrups are composed principally of opium or morphine; in any quantity they stupify, and in large quantities are deadly poisons. Castoria assimilates the food and regulates the bowels, cures diarrhœa, allays feverishness and frees fulness, soothes the pain in teething, relieves constipation and kills worms. It brings refreshing and natural sleep to the child, and gives rest to the mother.

"Castoria is so well adapted to infants and children that I recommend it as superior to any other known remedy."

DR. H. A. ARCHER,
111 S. Oxford st., Brooklyn, N.Y.
March 8, 1887.

"From personal knowledge and observation I can say that Castoria is an excellent medicine for children, acting as a laxative and relieving the pent up bowels and general system very much. Many mothers have told me of its excellent effect upon their children." DR. G. C. OSGOOD.

To the Public.

Our aim has been and will continue to be to give the consumer the highest grade of goods consistent with prices charged. We do not manufacture so-called cheap cigars; fine goods are our specialty. Purchasing only the best of tobaccos, irrespective of price, we are in a position to manufacture as fine a class of goods as can be obtained anywhere; Havana not excepted. Insist upon having our well known brands, "Cabla," "El Padre" "Manga," and "Madre E Hijo," and thereby obtain full value for your money. The immense sums expended in introducing our goods, the exceptionally fine quality of tobacco used in their manufacture, and the labor of nearly half a century should convince the most skeptical that the quality of same will not be allowed to deteriorate. ms

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

CHAPTER VII.

A DEUCED PRETTY CLIENT.

HE younger of the two entered first.

"Be seated," said Holbrook as he drew chairs toward his desk for them to occupy. "In what way can I serve you?"

As he asked this question the younger of the two threw back her heavy crape veil.

Holbrook was struck with the marvelous beauty of the face thus uncovered before him—a face almost colorless, of marble whiteness, exquisite in form and feature, delicate, refined and sensitive; two large, soft brown eyes looked upon him appealingly, soft brown hair crowned the beautiful face; she was slight and petite in figure.

In a low, sweet voice she said:

"My name is Templeton—Annie Templeton. This is my mother."

The lady referred to threw back her veil to acknowledge the bow of Mr. Holbrook.

She was at least 50 years of age, and, satisfied as to his death, so much difficulty surrounded the obtaining of information that he made no effort to secure it—it amounted to so little."

"Had he no relatives?"

"Yes, a brother who left home young and died before he was of age; and a sister—a maiden lady who died in Plainfield ten years ago. She left a small property to Annie here."

"Her grand niece?"

"Yes, she was very fond of her."

"Was her property inherited?"

"Yes, from her father."

"Why then did not your father have property?"

"He did; but he lost it in speculation."

"Oh! Did your son leave property?"

"He must have left some, for during the very last conversation I had with him he told me he had been fortunate in business during the past three years, and had made some profitable investments."

"We have not thought of that," broke in the sister, "only of this terrible murder and how to clear up its mystery."

"It ought to be thought of, though," replied Holbrook gravely; "the way to a solving of the mystery may be through an examination of his business affairs. Pardon me, were you and Mrs. Templeton dependent on your brother?"

"No; when we became of age he refused to take his share of the property, but settled all on mother."

"It was not much when divided, he said," broke in the mother, "but when left as a whole it was more than enough for Annie and myself."

"He studied law and was admitted to the bar," said the sister, "but, failing to get practice, he went into the real estate business."

"Had your son no very intimate friend?"

"Yes, one; but he is in China now and has been for a year."

"Was your son engaged to any young lady or attentive to any one?"

"None that I know of or ever heard of."

The sister confirmed this statement eagerly. It was evident that both were jealous of the supposititious young lady.

The Little Seed.

A little seed lay in carter's path;
A little shoot bowed in the strong wind's wrath;
A little shrub grew, by its roots held fast;
Then a st rm tree braved al the winter's blast.

A little cough stood—twas only light;
A little chill shivered the hours of night
A little pain came and began to grow,
Then consumption laid all his brave strength low.

Be wise in time. Check the little cough, cure the little chill, despell the little pain, ere the little ailment becomes the strong, unconquerable giant of disease. Dr. Pierces' Golden Medical Discovery, taken in time, is a remedy for these ills. s

Don't be a Clam.

When troubled with a cough or cold get a bottle of Wilson's Wild Cherry and cure it at once, before it has time to settle on your lungs. Well Pleased.

DEAR sirs,—I can recommend Hagyard's Yellow Oil as a sure cure for rheumatism. I had it for some time and was cured by two bottles, and I must say it is the best thing I can get for general use as a pain reliever. J. MUSTARD, Strathavon, Ont. 2w2d

The New Pain King

Polson's Nerviline cures flatulence, chills, spasms and cramps.

Nerviline cures promptly the worst cases of neuralgia, toothache, lumbago and sciatica with which Her Majesty is affected. It is stated that the Queen has lately experienced so much difficulty in locomotion that she assented to the trip only when assured by her medical advisers that the treatment prescribed was imperatively necessary as a means of averting complete helplessness.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The Tribune's London special says: It does not surprise the public that at the last moment the Queen decided not to open Parliament in person. Her Majesty's rheumatism increases every year, and in the highly contagious condition of the metropolis, it would be most imprudent for a rheumatic subject to be present at an aggregation of the contagious multitude. It is probable that the rumor is correct that as soon as possible the Queen will visit the Homburg baths.

Hartington Dangerously Ill.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The Marquis of Hartington is dangerously ill at Merton Hall, Norfolk, the seat of Baron Hirsch. He has been the guest of Baron Hirsch for a week and caught cold while shooting. The cold was neglected astrival but has developed into congestion of the lungs. The Marquis has a very high fever and the local doctors see so much gravity in the case that they have cabled London doctors in consultation. Doctors Powell and Roose went down this afternoon. Great alarm is felt and the Queen has telegraphed her sympathies and earnest enquiries.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Despatches from Norfork state that the condition of the Marquis of Hartington shows improvement, and that unless a relapse occurs he is in a fair way to speedy recovery.

Gladstone's Hawarden Speech.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—Mr. Gladstone's speech at Hawarden was remarkable for two features. He not only girded at land nationalisation, but he formulated a heavy attack against single ownership. Read between the lines, the latter was an argument against land purchase in Ireland. Mr. Gladstone stood to his guns about the duality of landlords' and tenants' interests. He expressly laid down the ideal of 3 per cent for the landlord and 10 per cent for the tenant. It was not stated whether Mr. Gladstone's own tenants were obtaining 10 per cent, but if they are the Hawarden estate must be an agricultural paradise. Mr. Gladstone's denunciation of the cultivator being the owner of the soil has provoked the inquiry whether it be really true that Mr. Gladstone himself, when last in office, formulated a purchase scheme which was to cost between fifty and one hundred and fifty millions. These points are challenging a good deal of criticism. Outside of them the speech was in general clever and unusually full of interest, even for Mr. Gladstone.

Must Disclose Its Circulation.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—In the libel suit brought by Mr. Parnell against The Times the court has refused The Times, appeal against answering an interrogatory regarding the circulation of The Times at the time of the publication of the articles on "Parnellism and Crime." Under instructions from Ald. Farrell, president of the local union, however, they went to work again, pending the result of an interview with Sir John Macdonald.

Losses Caused by Fiames.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 12.—Seven business houses at Lamarne were destroyed by fire last night. The inmates had narrow escapes with their lives. The loss is $27,000, insurances $18,000.

MUNCIE, Ind., Jan. 12.—The Boyce block, containing five large stores, was ruined by fire here yesterday. Loss $110,000. One theory is that the fire was caused by the electric wires.

PEORIA, Ill., Jan. 12.—Fire to-day in the Monarch distillery burned seven copper stills and appurtenances and 100,000 gallons of untaxed spirits.

The Ohio Record.

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 12.—Specials from 86 towns in Ohio outside of the large cities show 4000 cases of la grippe and 36 deaths to-day.

Up to this point the doctor says he had no suspicions whatever that possibly he had been imposed upon, but at 7¼ that evening he was telephoned that no person of the name of Frank Blaine could be found at Osgoode Hall. He then had the telegram sent on to Brampton, when another reply came that no such person could be found in Brampton. He then gave further instructions to have it sent out to his country house, 2½ miles distant, as Mrs. Blaine said they lived not in, but out of Brampton.

On Monday morning he was again telephoned that no such person could be found in or around Brampton.

That the doctor had been swindled seems clear, for during the past week he has been in receipt of letters which clearly go to show that this is not the first episode in the career of a skilled, professional adventuress. One gentleman writes: "There is no person in Brampton named Mrs. Frank Blaine. I fear the lady who called upon you is the same one who was here a few weeks ago and victimized some of the people. She afterwards went to Barrie or Orillia, and with stories about Brampton and Toronto, obtained money from persons there." Another letter from John Fingland, county constable of Brampton asks for a description of her appearance, as he holds a warrant for the arrest of Miss Dolly Beely. In Brantford she gave her name as Dolly.

Mrs. Blaine is a smally, natty, good-looking woman, evidently English by birth.

Four at a Birth—Three Ditto.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 12.—The wife of E. L Page, a merchant of Ingersoll, Tex., Friday gave birth to four well-developed babies. The mother and little ones are getting along nicely.

The wife of N. H. Pegram, residing five miles from Carrollton, Ill., gave birth to three girls yesterday.

THE QUEBEC CABINET,

A Rumor that Owen Murphy is to be the Irish Representative—Notes of the Session—The Berthier Election.

QUEBEC, Jan. 12.—Rumors are being circulated that Mr. Owen Murphy, member for Quebec West, will shortly enter the Cabinet as Irish representative in the Local Legislature, Hon. James McShane, who lately filled that position, was interviewed to-day by your correspondent. He at first refused to speak on the question and when asked what the Irish electors of Montreal would do should Mr. Murphy enter the Cabinet, he stated that when the time came an effectual protest would be made. He refused to personally say anything regarding Mr. Murphy, who is alleged to be his bitter enemy and formidable rival.

Several members are down with la grippe, but so far the session has been characterised by sharp attacks and able repulses by the two parties. The session promises to be a short one.

Great interest is manifested in the Berthier election. The Nationalists are unusually confident and claim they will carry the constituency by an increased majority.

One criticised feature in the Speech from the Throne is the long-talked-of settlement of the boundary line of the province. It will be remembered that Hon. Francois Langelear was sent to Ottawa to settle the question and that his fee, although he did not once open his mouth, was $3000.

SAFE IN CANADA.

A Buffalo Father Abducts His Daughter and Crosses the Line.

BUFFALO, Jan. 12.—Josephine Warren, a child about 9 years old, was abducted Friday by her father, R. E. Warren, who took her to Canada. The parents of the girl do not agree and have not been living together for the past two years, and the abduction was the evident result of their separation and the desire of the husband to obtain possession of the child.

Mrs. Warren lives on Washington-street, near Clinton, and the father took the little girl on Clinton-street, between Washington and Elm-streets, when she was going to No. 11 School. He was waiting in a carriage, and dragged her in with him and drove rapidly to Ferry-street and crossed the ferry to Fort Erie. A Buffalo policeman had followed him and he had the Canadian authorities detain both father and daughter.

The Canadian authorities decided that the only charge on which they could hold Warren was that of taking stolen property into the Dominion and that the clothes worn by the little girl, and not the child herself, would come under that head. According to the Canadian laws, or according to the reading that the officers in Canada gave them, the father had as much right to the child as had the mother, and as Mr. and Mrs. Warren have never been divorced, it was decided that a husband cannot steal from his wife, and so Warren was not free and allowed to retain possession of the girl.

At noon it was reported that the King continued to improved and the Queen Regent had been enabled to secure a brief rest. A special mass was celebrated this morning for the recovery of the King. Hundreds of telegrams of enquiry have been received.

Serious Trouble Feared.

LONDON Jan. 11.—Though there is nothing in the dispatches sent out from Madrid to indicate any variation from the normal condition of affairs, it is learned through private mail advices that matters are in a vastly more desparate state than the authorities will permit to become known if they are able to prevent it. The action of the Cabinet in deciding to retain office ostensibly pending the uncertainty of the condition of the King, but really because of their complete backdown from the position the Ministry has assumed on tariff and official matters, has not improved the situation, but rather has had the effect to increase the popular distrust of the continuance of internal harmony. On the part of the Government it is feared that the death of the King, the succession of a female to the throne and the extension of the regency will create an agitation sufficiently violent to spur even the most lethargic of the Republicans to action, in which they will be joined by the Republican malcontents of Portugal, to the imminent danger of both thrones. This feeling is, of course, not admitted, but it exists, nevertheless, and the worst of it is, there is no alternative to the succession of Princess Mercedes and the regency of her mother. To oppose the legitimate rights of Princess Mercedes would surely result in revolution, where there is a possibility that her succession may be quietly acquiesced in; therefore it is deemed best to let things take their natural course and trust to fortune to avert the uprising which certain leaders stand ready to precipate upon any pretext, or no pretext at all. Meanwhile everyone is praying that the King may be spared, since upon that little fellow's life rests the best guarantee of peace within the borders of Spain.

The Russian Budget.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 11.—The budget statement says that in accordance with the wishes of the Czar the budget of 1890 provides for no increase of taxation and imposes no fresh burdens upon the people. In making these dispositions His Majesty has given a fresh proof of his unalterable resolve to continue his efforts to maintain a peace honorable to Russia and to maintain order. Under its shade all plans made by His Majesty to develop the resources of the country and to increase the welfare of the people may be carried out without impediment.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Journal des Debats of Paris, referring to the Russian Budget, says it gives evidence of a pacific policy on the part of Russia. The St. Petersburg papers make similar comments. The Journal de St. Petersburg says: The Bulgarian loan prejudices Russian rights, Article 23 of the Berlin Treaty, assuring Russia of the expense of occupying Bulgaria for which the revenues of the Bulgarian railways were assigned. The payments of these revenues have been in arrear since 1886.

Confirmation Classes Discontinued.

MONTREAL, Jan. 12.—Bishop Bond announced in Christ Church Cathedral to-day that confirmation classes throughout the diocese would be discontinued on accorat of la grippe.

THE WEST END SCANDAL.

Popular Indignation Over the Slowness of the Legal Proceedings.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Great public indignation is felt at the manifest purpose of somebody in authority to clog the wheels of justice in the West End scandal case now before the Bow-street Court. No reason is apparent why the case should not have been disposed of long ago, and nobody believes that it would not have been had all of the persons involved been of the lower class; yet the matter is permitted to drag wearily along while the principal offenders are betaking themselves to foreign countries without hindrance, begetting the natural inference that its progress will not be expedited until the last of the aristocratic criminals and the chief witnesses against them have had time to arrange their affairs and place themselves beyond the reach of the law.

To Build Docks on the Thames.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—A company has been formed with a capital of £1,000,000 with the object of building an immense system of docks on the Thames, the construction of which will occupy five years. Already hundreds of investors are seeking to place their idle capital in the enterprise.

CANADIANS Work Too Hard!

The Result is Sleeplessness, Nervousness and a Broken-Down System, often

Ending in Insanity.

Thousands of overworked business men, wearied brainworkers industrious mechanics, and tried women, in all parts of the Dominion are to-day in a terrible position. Their nerves are weak, digestion poor, head aching, and they cannot sleep, work or live in comfort. This is what fills our Insane Asylums. This is the cause of that terrible Paresis Before it is too late, use Dr. Pheips' wonderful discovery, Paine's Celery Compound. It removes the results of overwork, restores strength, renews vitality, regulates the whole system, and tones up the overworked brain and body. Do not despair, but use this wonderful remedy, and Be restored to health and happiness, the same as was Mr. John L. Brodie, of Montreal, who writes: "I have great pleasure in recommending your Paine's Celery Compound. My system was run down and I was not fit for business, could not sleep well at night and was nervous. I commenced taking Paine's Celery Compound and improved immediately. I am now able to transact my business and endure any amount of excitement without bad effect."

Paine's Celery Compound can be purchased at any druggist's for one dollar a bottle. If he should not have it on hand, order direct from WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Montreal.

Farmers' Institute.

Second Day's Session—Relative Feed Values—Breeding and Feeding of Cattle.

SATURDAY, Jan. 11th.

The Institute opened with only a fair attendance, Mr. Dawson Kennedy, President, in the chair.

The Chairman said that the question had been asked what was the relative feeding value of shorts or pollards at $13.00 and barley at $14 60.

Mr. RAYNOR addressed himself to the subject, and after an explanation as to food values, which depended upon the object aimed at—whether flesh or workingpower, he stated that a good general ration was barley, oats and peas—⅓ of each, and bran equal to ⅓ of the whole. The speaker said that it paid better to feed barley at $14 60, than pollards at $13.00, in both a proper admixture of bulkier food, clover, etc.

Mr. ROBERT JACKSON spoke of the value of turnips. If fed largely and long enough, they would fatten the stock. For milk he fed dry bran and turnips, and had the best results. Several gentlemen said that if turnips were fed after milking, they would impart no taste.

Mr. BEST said his experience was that turnips had during milking produced no bad results.

As to dry feed the argument of most present was that bran should be fed dry, though Mr. Hobson said the best plan was to cut all fodder and turnips and mix the bran with them. Feed very little long feed.

Mr. KENNEDY said the introduction of ensilage revolutionized the system of feeding.

Mr. R. E. BIRDSALL explained his system of feeding ensilage. He took it out through a side door—a double door, and found no deterioration of the feed through taking it in this way. All the expense of filling his silo, manure cultivation, etc., amounted to $1.50 per ton. He fed it with turnips.

Mr.— TAYLOR said he fed his ensilage from the top by means of a spout.

Mr. HOBSON said Mr. McPherson, of Lancaster, fed from the top, and as he fed it, mixed dry feed with it. The top of the silo was covered with cut straw.

Mr. GEO. HILLIARD read an extract from a report of a Quebec Institute, showing the immense value of ensilage as a food.

Mr. McINTOSH took up the subject of "Creamery Butter." He found in seven years' experience that improvement was possible and was coming. Canada was capable of producing as good butter as the old country. Sweet cream butter could be made in Canada, but he did not think it was advisable for shipment Butter making was easy under proper conditions. Cream must be kept at a uniform stage of quality. When cream is all raised, it is cured by bringing to proper warmth, a day or a day and a quarter, till the butter could be brought in fifteen minutes. The moment that cream breaks cold water should be added, and churning ceased and the buttermilk withdrawn from the butter and the butter thoroughly washed—three or four rinsings. The butter is then placed on a clean cloth on a table and salted, three quarters of an ounce to the pound for immediate sale, and for packing one ounce. Leave butter one day before packing or working into rolls. Great care must be exercised in preserving to avoid foul odors, etc.

Afternoon Session.

"BREEDING AND FEEDING OF CATTLE."

Mr. J. J. HOBSON, in introducing this subject, advised farmers to have some definite standard and be careful in the selection of animals. The selection of a male was the most important. Be sure to have animals adapted to the conditions of your farm. Certain breeds were adapted to certain soils and conditions. The most common cause of failure is mismanagement—to still neutralize the best selection. Bad feeding and care not only injure the animal itself, but injure it as a stock getter. Regarding pedigree—an animal with good points, but without pedigree was better than a poor pedigreed animal. But, other things being equal, the animal with a good pedigree should be preferred. The speaker did not think it wise to breed the general purpose cow—that is one equally good for beef and milk. The two necessary characteristics were so opposite that it was impossible to combine the two in one animal. As to the best system of feeding. Take the calf. Have it come late in fall, thus it will be ready for the market profitably early. After calving let calves suckle, at the same time giving the calves all the good food it will eat. Calves should be kept in good condition; this was essential to success. As to grade cattle, have the calves come in March or April—cows are more cheaply wintered before then after calving. Thus steers can be got ready for the block in two years. Regarding feeding—

FEED LIBERALLY BUT AT SMALL COST.

Give new milk for about five weeks gradually mixing skim milk. The best substitute for new milk cream was linseed—say half pint of oilcake for two calves. Mix the oilcake, warmed to the natural heat of milk, and mix with skim milk. Afterwards feed freely with oats and bran. By this calves can be increased from two to three pounds per day up to seven months. Conditions must decide other points, but there must be liberal feeding. The system he suggested was deduced from his own experience. To keep cattle in full flesh during the growing period, he (Mr. Hobson) supplemented the summer scarcity of grass, by the growth and feeding of soiling crops. A thoroughbred heifer should not drop a calf under thirty months. While thoroughbred calves are suckling they should be fed bright, clean cloven hay cured in the cock. For further feeding mixed food was the best.

MR. JOHN STOTHART said he thought a large cow was best for general purposes.

MR. ROBERT JACKSON said that fattening and milking could not be carried on at once with every animal. He also thought a fat heifer at 3 years was more profitable than a steer at the same age. He considered that milk delivered to a cheese factory should be paid for according to its quality. The feed strongly affected the quality of the milk.

Mr. RAYNOR said that feed affected even the richness of Jersey milk. Jersey and Guernsey cows gave milk especially rich, in large cream globules and consequently they were good butter makers. Ayrshires and Holsteins were better for cheese making—they give a large quantity of milk which is good if proper food is used. Whey is comparatively useless by itself for feed.

Mr. KENNEDY urged that a standard of quality of milk delivered to cheese factories, be adopted. The man who fed his cattle best and produced the best milk should get the advantage.

HOW PLANTS FEED.

Mr. RAYNOR explained that rust was parasitic life feeding on the nutriment of the plant required to perfect the seed. Moist lands tended to rust, and the remedy was to drain low lands and to confine wheat to higher lands. Entering his subject, he stated that, plant growth proceeded by the development of cells. Sunlight was necessary to the growth of plants. All plants contain large quantities of starch, the best producing quality of food. All the chemical constituents of plants, were found in good soil. One source of plant food was the air, the chief supply of carbon, which plants absorb. As the need of all exhaustive crops is beans, followed in order by wheat, rye, oats, barley, peas, roots, hay, pasture. Plant food is supplied the soil by absorption from the air, from rains. Tillage is a sort of manure. The more the soil is tilled the better. In working the soil we open it up to air influences and make available plant food available. Plant food is supplied in another way by the application of manures, which he had spoken of yesterday. Black muck should be applied to light soil sufficient to make it more adhesive. It had a beneficial effect mixed with barnyard manure, as it absorbs ammonia.

Mr. BIRDSALL had found great benefit from swamp muck, while Mr. Roseborough found no effect whatever. The result of the discussion was not by any means decisive, the general consensus of opinion however being that the chief value of swamp muck was mechanical.

"THE FARMERS' GARDEN."

Mr. CROFT defined gardening as high farming—raising the best crops at the least cost. The vegetable garden should be near the house. Don't have the garden too large. Plough deep in the fall, manure well, pulverise thoroughly. Minute directions were given for planting. The Beauty of Hebron was the best garden potato. A small hot bed is almost a necessity. The various other other conditions to a successful farm garden were forcibly and humorously brought out.

"THE HORSE."

Mr. R. E. BIRDSALL read a paper on this subject. He particularly insisted on having a first class mare for breeding—free from blemish or hereditary taint, and none but the best sires should be used. Mares in foal should not be given any violent work, but she required proper exercise. The treatment of the mare at foaling time, of the colt after foaling, weaning and feeding were detailed. Particular attention to feeding and care should be given the first year of the colt's life.

A brief discussion, in which Mr. Hobson, Mr. Hilliard and Mr. Roseborough joined, concluded the regular proceedings of the Institute.

A vote of thanks to the visiting speakers and chairman was unanimously passed.

Puritan Fine Cut

is not a "cheap" tobacco; it is manufactured from the finest tobaccos procurable, and is placed on the market not for a day or a year but for "all time." Those who have tried it pronounce it a remarkably fine, cool and sweet smoking tobacco. As its merits become known, the demand increases. Many years' experience in handling tobaccos with every facility for manufacturing and purchasing, insures the smoker a good article at a price consistent with the quality of same. D. Worn Out and Run Down.

BY disease and debility, the human system becomes worn out and run down before its time. Keep the head clear, the bowels regular, the blood pure, the kidney and liver active, by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, nature's great tonic and regulator, and disease cannot exist. 2w2d

If You Have a Cough

DO not neglect it. It should be loosened as soon as possible, and to do this nothing excels Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Obstinate coughs yield at once to its expectorant, soothing and healing properties, while colds, hoarseness, whooping cough, asthma, etc., are promptly relieved by its perfect action on the throat and bronchial tubes. 2w2d

THE DIAMOND BUTTON

FROM THE DIARY OF A LAWYER AND THE NOTE BOOK OF A REPORTER.

By BARCLAY NORTH.

CHAPTER VII.

A DEUCED PRETTY CLIENT.

HE younger of the two entered first.

"Be seated," said Holbrook as he drew chairs toward his desk for them to occupy. "In what way can I serve you?"

As he asked this question the younger of the two threw back her heavy crape veil.

Holbrook was struck with the marvelous beauty of the face thus uncovered before him—a face almost colorless, of marble whiteness, exquisite in form and feature, delicate, refined and sensitive; two large, soft brown eyes looked upon him appealingly, soft brown hair crowned the beautiful face; she was slight and petite in figure.

In a low, sweet voice she said:

"My name is Templeton—Annie Templeton. This is my mother."

The lady referred to threw back her veil to acknowledge the bow of Mr. Holbrook.

She was at least 50 years of age, probably older, with silver hair; truly the mother of her daughter, having the same refinement and sensitiveness of feature and expression, the same brown eyes, though somewhat dimmed—a sad face and worn—not a face to battle with the world. Quite evidently she was one of those who are led, who do not lead.

The young lady continued:

"We are the mother and sister of the Mr. Templeton who was foully murdered in Union square."

"I presumed so when I heard your names," said Holbrook, for the sake of saying something.

"I hardly know what we want to say to you, Mr. Holbrook—hardly know what we want to do. We have been so disappointed. The coroner seems to have washed his hands of the whole matter, and the police give us no satisfaction or hope. We have no friends in the city—we are quite alone. But we thought that as you had been a witness of the terrible deed we would call upon you and ask if there was anything you saw that has not been made public."

The helplessness and the innocence of the two women, impelled by love for a son and brother to an enterprise for which they were wholly unfitted, touched Holbrook; he felt a boundless pity for them, and he was surprised at it, for his sympathies were not particularly quick.

There were mute appeals for help in the brown eyes of both, clouded with tears as they looked upon him.

He felt a choking sensation in his throat and could hardly realize it.

"I believe, madam, all that is known of the sad affair has been made public. I am aware the police authorities are completely mystified, and now have the theory that Mr. Templeton was attacked under the impression he was some one else."

"That is what the detectives told us," said the mother; "but is it not awful that in a crowded city a man can be so killed without reason?"

"The case has been surrounded with mystery from the beginning," replied Holbrook, gravely. "Mr. Templeton's life in the city has been carefully inquired into, and nothing elicited to suggest an enmity that could end in murder. His life was thoroughly reputable, honorable, upright and virtuous."

The eyes of the two women blessed him for his words. He continued:

"Perhaps you would permit me to ask you some questions?"

"Oh, please do," cried the sister. "We don't know what to say or tell and no one has helped us."

Holbrook thought if she would but continue to look upon him in that appealing manner he would never want to stop trying to help her.

"In the first place, Mr. Templeton's father is dead, I apprehend?"

"Yes, he died fifteen years ago."

"You do not live in this city?"

"No, we have always lived near Plainfield, New Jersey."

"Have you any relatives?"

"None that we know of. My husband was an English gentleman, who came to this country when quite a young man with his uncle. The uncle died a year after, and Mr. Templeton, who had come to Plainfield, married me. He bought the place where we now live."

"What business did he follow?"

"None. He was a student and experimented in chemistry. He died from injuries received while conducting an experiment."

"On your side have you no relatives?"

"No," replied Mrs. Templeton. "My mother died in giving me birth; shortly after my father, whose name was Carroll Preston, went to Philadelphia, leaving me to the care of my mother's sister—my aunt. After living there a year or two he went abroad on business and died there. Some years after my uncle, with whom I lived, heard that he had married again in Philadelphia, but that was never verified. Both my aunt and uncle are dead; they had no children."

"What disposition was made of his property?"

"He had none to dispose of except his personal effects, and while uncle was satisfied as to his death, so much difficulty surrounded the obtaining of information that he made no effort to secure it—it amounted to so little."

"Had he no relatives?"

"Yes, a brother who left home young and died before he was of age; and a sister—a maiden lady who died in Plainfield ten years ago. She left a small property to Annie here."

"Her grand niece?"

"Yes, she was very fond of her."

"Was her property inherited?"

"Yes, from her father."

"Why then did not your father have property?"

"He did; but he lost it in speculation."

"Oh! Did your son leave property?"

"He must have left some, for during the very last conversation I had with him he told me he had been fortunate in business during the past three years, and had made some profitable investments."

"We have not thought of that," broke in the sister, "only of this terrible murder and how to clear up its mystery."

"It ought to be thought of, though," replied Holbrook gravely; "the way to a solving of the mystery may be through an examination of his business affairs. Pardon me, were you and Mrs. Templeton dependent on your brother?"

"No; when we became of age he refused to take his share of the property, but settled all on mother."

"It was not much when divided, he said," broke in the mother, "but when left as a whole it was more than enough for Annie and myself."

"He studied law and was admitted to the bar," said the sister, "but, failing to get practice, he went into the real estate business."

"Had your son no very intimate friend?"

"Yes, one; but he is in China now and has been for a year."

"Was your son engaged to any young lady or attentive to any one?"

"None that I know of or ever heard of."

The sister confirmed this statement eagerly. It was evident that both were jealous of the suppositious young lady.

The Little Seed.

A little seed lay in carter's path;
A little shoot bowed in the strong wind's wrath;
A little shrub grew by its roots held fast;
Then a sturdy tree braved all the winter's blast.

A little cough started—'twas only light;
A little chill shivered the hours of night
A little pain came and began to grow,
Then consumption laid all his brave strength low.

Be wise in time. Check the little cough, cure the little chill, despell the little pain, ere the little ailment becomes the strong, unconquerable giant of disease. Dr. Pierces' Golden Medical Discovery, taken in time, is a remedy for these ills.

Don't be a Clam.

When troubled with a cough or cold get a bottle of Wilson's Wild Cherry and cure it at once, before it has time to settle on your lungs. Why experiment with new and untried remedies, when this old and reliable cure may be got from all leading druggists. Thousands bear testimony to the remarkable curative properties of Wilson's Wild Cherry in such diseases as Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, Coughs, etc. Get the genuine in white wrappers only. dw

Well Pleased.

DEAR sirs,—I can recommend Hagyard's Yellow Oil as a sure cure for rheumatism. I had it for some time and was cured by two bottles, and I must say it is the best thing I can get for general use as a pain reliever. J. MUSTARD, Strathavon, Ont. 2w2d

A Common Cold

Is often the beginning of serious affections of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes, and Lungs. Therefore, the importance of early and effective treatment cannot be overestimated. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral may always be relied upon for the speedy cure of a Cold or Cough.

Last January I was attacked with a severe Cold, which, by neglect and frequent exposures, became worse, finally settling on my lungs. A terrible cough soon followed, accompanied by pains in the chest, from which I suffered intensely. After trying various remedies, without obtaining relief, I commenced taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was Speedily Cured.

I am satisfied that this remedy saved my life.—Jno. Webster, Pawtucket, R. I.

I contracted a severe cold, which suddenly developed into Pneumonia, presenting dangerous and obstinate symptoms. My physician at once ordered the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. His instructions were followed, and the result was a rapid and permanent cure.—H. E. Simpson, Rogers Prairie, Texas.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Cold which settled on my Lungs. I consulted various physicians, and took the medicines they prescribed, but received only temporary relief. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking two bottles of this medicine I was cured. Since then I have given the Pectoral to my children, and consider it for Colds, Coughs, and all Throat and Lung diseases, ever used in my family.—Robert Vanderpool, Meadville, Pa.

Some time ago I took a slight Cold, which, being neglected, grew worse, and settled on my lungs. I had a hacking cough, and was very weak. Those who knew me best considered my life to be in great danger. I continued to suffer until I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Less than one bottle of this valuable medicine cured me, and I feel that I owe the preservation of my life to its curative powers.—Mrs. Ann Lockwood, Akron, New York.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is considered, here, the one great remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs, and is more in demand than any other medicine of its class.—J. F. Roberts, Magnolia, Ark.

The Administration of Injustice.

The police authorities of Port Hope are a bright and enterprising set of men. On Saturday a Hope township farmer bought a ticket for Port Hope at the Garden Hill station, receiving in change four quarters. While standing on the market square in Port Hope a constable asked the aforesaid farmer to change a bill, and the latter handed out the same four quarters, which were at once pronounced counterfeit by the over-intelligent limb of the law. The constable reported the case to the chief, and being told by the farmer that the money had been got from the station agent at Garden Hill, the latter was arrested as soon as possible. A trial was at once begun, but the whole case was knocked endways by a druggist declaring the money genuine—it stood the test. The abused station agent was of course discharged. Probably that constable will be more careful next time.

RECTOR OF PETERBOROUGH

Rev. J. Cheyne Davidson Rightly and Duly Inducted.

An Interesting Ceremony—A Large Congregation Witnesses It—The Keys of St. John's Delivered to the New Incumbent—The Rector's Promise—Sermon by the Bishop.

On Sunday, January 12th, 1890, St. John's church witnessed a most interesting ceremony—the induction of a new Rector, Rev. J. Cheyne Davidson, M.A., who has been in charge of the parish during the past thirteen months. It is over thirty years since a similar ceremony took place. There was present a very large congregation. The induction took place under very auspicious circumstances to the new rector. He was surrounded by a large congregation, the presence of very many being due to the energy and earnestness of his past ministration. The beautiful church itself still retained the beautiful decorations of the Christmas tide; his father was present to assist in the ceremony and his bishop was present to conduct them.

The processional hymn was 262—"As my Father sent Me, even so I send you." The procession

INCLUDED THE RECTOR-DESIGNATE,

Rev. J. Cheyne Davidson, M.A., Rev. C. B. Kenrick, M.A., Rev. J. Davidson, Incumbent of Colborne, and the bishop.

The ceremony began by the Bishop saying:

"Brethren, we are here assembled together to induct the Reverend John Cheyne Davidson, M.A. as Rector of this Parish; he having been already instituted by the Bishop to the cure of souls."

Rev. Mr. Davidson then read aloud the declaration of assent, signed by himself, enjoined by the canon in that behalf.

Rev. J. Davidson, of Colborne, proceeded to read the mandate of induction, and the bishop addressing the Minister said:

"In the name and on the behalf of the Parish of Peterborough we do now induct you into the real, actual and corporal possession of the incumbency of the said Parish, and of all the rights, privileges and emoluments thereto pertaining. And in token thereof, we give into your hands the keys of the church.

The Churchwardens, Dr. Geo. Burnham and Mr. C. H. Sheffield advancing delivered the keys of St. John's Church to the Bishop, who then handed them to Rev. Mr. Davidson, who received them with these words:

"I receive these keys of this House of God at your hands, as the pledges of my Induction and of your reception of me as your appointed Minister. And I on my part do promise by God's help to be a faithful shepherd over you in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. AMEN."

Then the bishop presented to the inducted rector, the Bible and the Book of Common Prayer, saying,

"Receive these books and let them be the rule of thy conduct in dispensing God's Holy Word, in leading the devotions of the people, in administering the Sacraments of Christ, and in exercising the discipline of the Church, and be thou in all things a pattern to the flock committed to thy charge

The service for the day followed, conducted by Rev. Mr. Kenrick, Rev. J. Davidson father of the new rector reading the lessons. The lessons had especial reference to the institution and duties of the ministry of the Gospel, the first lesson being Ezekiel, chap. xxxiii, to the end of v. 9 and the second, St. Luke chap. x, to the end of v. 16. The same may be said of the Psalms, 122, 132 and 133, and also the Epistle and Gospel in the communion service as well as the hymns.

The bishop preached

THE SERMON,

from the text,—Acts of the Apostles, chap. xiii, v 2.

"As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them.

The bishop said that it was too plain to admit of doubt that Barnabas and Saul were sent forth to their ministry by the direct command of the Holy Ghost and the authority of the church, and the precedent this fact afforded has since been followed. The mere laying on of hands in ordination to the ministry was not enough, the outward ceremony must receive its complement in the inward call which every candidate for the disciples was required to feel that he had received. The preacher pointed out that the Holy Ghost was the warrant of the holy ministry. The minister was sent by the Holy Ghost to a specific sphere of action. From this was deduced the fact that the guidance of the Holy Ghost was not confined to the call alone. He directed the appointment to a specific work. Thus He watched over the church. Without His guidance the office of bishop would be one of unendurable perplexity, but a belief in the Holy Ghost gave the assurance that God watched over all our faulty devisings and over-ruled them for the promotion of His work. It was pointed out that congregations were generally difficult to please in the selection of a minister. The justice of their claim to have a voice in such a selection, in view of their contributing to a minister's support, was admitted, but this right was not to be regarded in the light of a mere business transaction, for to admit this as a basis of action in the regard in question was to shut out the Holy Ghost and ignore the fact that God sent His ministers forth to His work. If this truth were unreservedly accepted by congregations there would be less exhibition of personal feeling and more prayer that their minister might be blessed in his work. The attitude of the clergy to appointments was adverted to. They were human, and, therefore, ambitious and desirous of preferment; because they were human it was natural that under certain circumstances they should feel a sense of injustice or resentment, but if they accept the truth that it is God who sends His ministers, there would be a ready compliance with God's will as expressed through the church. In such appointments the procedure is directed on the recognition of the lawful appointing authority. The natural source of authority was the chief pastor of a diocese and he was the best judge of the needs of a parish under his charge. In dwelling on these facts the preacher pointed out that the relations of the present rector to the parish, indicated the guidance of the Holy Ghost. Rev. Mr. Davidson had come to the people in the way of Providence. God's seal had been placed on his faithful and devoted services. The question of his fitness for the position could not arise—it was answered by the abundant evidence of his work. It had given him (the bishop) great pleasure under the circumstances to induct Rev. Mr. Davidson. He did not introduce a stranger to the congregation as an experiment, but he felt sure that his appointment would cement a relation already in existence. In the field to which Rev. Mr. Davidson was sent, the demands for hard labour and ministerial abilities were of no slight nature. Though young in years their pastor was no novice in ministerial work. He had the advantage of two years training and experience in an English parish, under a parish priest of great ability and administrative power, where he had practical opportunities of studying the best systems of parochial organization. His work and worth had been tested in a provincial parish, where a flourishing condition had been wrought from spiritual destitution.

In Peterborough also his work had been highly appreciated. The speaker was glad to express satisfaction with the work of Rev. Mr. Davidson's coadjutor, Rev. Mr. Kenrick, and to say that this relationship would continue to exist. There would thus be no interruption to parish work. He asked the people to receive their new minister as one sent by the Holy Ghost. He bespoke their cordial and hearty welcome to him in the various relationships his appointment involved. They should not forget him in their prayers, and should willingly support him and cheer him in his labors. They should be more ready to hear than to censure. In conclusion the bishop used the words of St. Paul to the Thessalonians: "And we beseech, brethren, to know them which labour among you are over you in the Lord, and admonish you; and to esteem them very highly in love for their work's sake."

After the celebration of the Holy Communion, at which there was a very large number of communicants, the newly inducted minister, kneeling at the Lord's table, said aloud this prayer.

O most glorious Lord God, I acknowledge that I am unworthy to serve under thy rock; yet be graciously pleased to accept the dedication of myself to thy service in this Parish, and to prosper all my undertakings. Fill me with a holy fear of thy Divine Majesty, and with a deep sense of my own unworthiness; that approaching thy sanctuary with lowliness and devotion, with clean hands and a pure heart, I may always perform a service acceptable to thee. Enable me, O Lord Jesus Christ, both by my life and doctrine to set forth thy glory and rightly and duly to administer thy Holy Sacraments. And to all thy people give thy heavenly grace; and especially to those who are here placed under my Ministry, that, with meek heart and due reverence, they may hear and receive thy Holy Word, and that they, and all who profess and call themselves Christians, may hold the faith in unity of spirit, in the bond of peace, and lead such lives as may become thy holy Gospel. Grant this, O Father, for the sake of thy only Son Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The benediction, given by the bishop, brought to a conclusion the solemn and impressive ceremonies incident to the induction of Rev. Mr. Davidson as rector of Peterborough. There is in the circumstances reason for reciprocal congratulation. The rector is to be congratulated upon the possession of the ministerial abilities, energy, moral aggressiveness and record of successful church work, which so amply justify his being placed in charge of one of the most important parishes in the diocese; the congregation of St. John's is to be congratulated upon having secured them the services of such a pastor, and the town generally is to be congratulated upon the permanent addition to its citizenship of a clergyman, whose whole soul and indomitable energy are directed to the improvement of the moral condition of the community. The EXAMINER on its part begs to welcome Rev. Mr. Davidson to the town, as a clergyman (not to ignore higher considerations) in touch with the progress of the age, whose liberality of spirit and earnest desire for the promotion of church interests and general morality leads him so recognize the importance of the aid of the press; and, so far as its province avails, the EXAMINER will heartily give in the future, as it has done in the past, its co-operation with him, as well as all the other ministers of the town and county, in the promotion of the great objects of church work.

Evening Service.

Rev. Canon Davidson, of Colborne, father of the rector, preached the sermon in the evening to a large and attentive congregation.

THE CHOIR.

During the day there was a full choir in attendance, and the musical portion of the services was unusually excellent. In the evening Mrs. Seward and Miss Cottingham sang a duet at the offertory, entitled, "He that hath pity on the poor lendeth to the Lord," the composition of Mr. L. Seward, organist. At the close of the evening service the choir was asked to remain, and the Bishop came out and expressed his enjoyment of the music during the day. He complimented the choir upon its singing and remarked upon the importance of good music in connection with the church services. His address was most encouraging and complimentary.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

At the young men's meeting Saturday evening Mr. Clouston, of Montreal, and the General Secretary gave short addresses. The singing was hearty and uplifting, the orchestra leading the service of song.

The meetings Sunday were full of interest and power. Mr. John Carlisle gave an interesting and pointed Bible reading on "Sin and the sin-bearer." The singing was led by the orchestra. The Gospel and song service was a fitting climax for the day. Short, practical talks were given by Mr. Clouston and Mr. Isaac Richardson. It was a very impressive and profitable service, and was much enjoyed by all the young men present. We know much good will follow these helpful services.

Resolutions of Condolence.

At the last regular meeting of Branch 30, C.M.B.A., the following resolutions were carried unanimously:—

Whereas it has pleased Almighty God in his infinite wisdom to remove from this life our highly esteemed and much beloved Bro. John Hackett; and whereas the intimate relations long held by the deceased with the members of this Branch, render it proper that we should place upon record our high appreciation of his services as a member of our association; therefore be it

Resolved—That resolutions of respect to his memory be spread on the records of our Branch and published in the local papers of our town; the Catholic Review, Toronto; our official organ, the Catholic Record, of London, and a copy be submitted to the bereaved family; and

Resolved—That the members of Branch 30, Catholic Mutual Benefit Association, while we bow in humble submission to the will of divine Providence, do tender their their heartfelt sympathy to the family of Bro. John Hackett in this their hour of sad affliction and bereavement. And be it further

Resolved—That by the death of Bro. John Hackett, our Branch has lost a valuable, warm and earnest member, his wife loses a loving and devoted husband; his child a father's care—an affliction that cannot be replaced; society deprived of a man of preeminent habits and true, Christian, charitable ways. May God comfort and console his stricken wife and child, and may his soul rest in peace.

THE WORK OF THE WIND.

A Destructive Gale Passes Over Peterborough.

Mr. Peter Hamilton's Implement Works Damaged—A Frontier Academy—Tales of Destruction Caused by the Wind.

One of the fiercest gales in the memory of the oldest inhabitant passed over Peterborough to-day and left a trail of destruction in its wake. Numerous casualties are reported. Trees and fences were blown down, windows broken, buildings in course of erection stripped of their scaffolding, and other depredations of the wind-fiend are abundant. But these minor accidents sink into insignificance besides the greater ones which have made to-day's gale memorable.

About half past eleven o'clock the tall brick chimney towering over Mr. Peter Hamilton's Agricultural Works yielded to the blast and upon the building beneath, crushing in the roof like an egg-shell and crushing the direct havoc among the machinery. Over thirty feet of the massive chimney, which was built three or four bricks thick, fell in a solid mass. The chimney was snapped off close to the roof and buried down brandside by the gale, which blew from the west and threw the huge built on the southern incline of the roof of the blacksmith shop, which is attached to the rear of the main building. Portions of the roof were carried right through to the floor by the overwhelming mass, and the entire system of cross-beams and shafting in the affected parts was torn down in the descent and on the floor. The escape of the men working beneath the roof is nothing short of marvellous. There were about a dozen employees in the machine and blacksmith shops, and strange to say only two of them received injuries, and those of a slight nature.

FELL WITH A MIGHTY CLATTER

HEAPED UP IN CHAOTIC RUIN

Everything was running along smoothly, when suddenly there came a deafening, crashing roar, and the machine and blacksmith departments were filled with clouds of dust which prevented the men from seeing what had happened. An involuntary cry went up from the employees, and quickly as possible they make their escape. Then thoughts of less fortunate comrades possibly killed or maimed came to them, and they returned to investigate. The found the place in a state of ruin impossible to describe. The roof was completely demolished, and open to a view of the scudding, wind-driven clouds in the sky above. Huge beams, shivered and snapped in two by the concussion; distorted shafting, wheels and belting, sections of roof and masses of brick work all unarticularly commingled—confusion worse confounded.

Then the men realized what a narrow escape they had, and one and another began to tell how he in particular was situated when the accident occured. Two of the men were hurt, but not seriously. Geo. Vaught operated an emery wheel in the grinding room, and he happened to be passing through the machine shop when he was and crushed to the floor by a blow from some unseen force. He lay still for a while, partly stunned, thinking vaguely that the engine boiler must have burned, but as soon as he realised somewhat his position he shook off the layer of brick and woodwork resting on him and staggered out of the place. His shoulder is hurt, and he is pretty badly shaken up. Immense beams and pieces of heavy machinery were piled up all around him, and he escaped most providentially as it were.

In the grinding and blacksmith sho Robert Powell was running a wheel when whirled past him and crashed on to the floor. The brick wall between the machine and blacksmith shops saved him from utter destruction. He was struck on the head and rather severely bruised.

Dick Moore, a blacksmith, worked at a forge in the machine shop, and just where he was wont to stand there was a mound of brickwork which must have crushed him to jelly had it fallen on him. By a fortunate chance Mr. Moore had only a moment before the calamity occurred, left his forge and stepped through a doorway a few feet off. He had just passed the threshold when the mass fell.

Robt. S. Hamilton was working at a drill in the middle of the floor He was almost hemmed in by the confused mass of timbers and machinery, which were

HEAPED UP ALL ABOUT HIM,

but he didn't receive even a scratch. Along the north wall of the machine shop Geo. Waller, Clem. Guerin, Jas. Hartley, Sam. Mann, Wm. Hamilton and Geo. Milne were working at their benches, but none were hurt. Alf. Plummer was taking some books out of a cupboard when the crash came, and he was saved from injury by the beams which rested at an angle against the wall, just where they had been pitched by the force of the falling pile. Altogether it is a most wonderful example of the working of God's Providence. The men in the other departments were not in a position of danger. The blacksmith shop was almost as badly wrecked as the machine shop, and it will take sometime to renew the structure.

Mr. Peter Hamilton was greatly surprised at the accident. The chimney was considered perfectly safe, and only a few years ago it was built up higher than originally. He is rejoiced, however, that the men escaped so luckily.

The premises are once more in a state of order. The large staff of men went to work after dinner and quickly cleared out the debris. It will be a week at least before work can be resumed, as the portion of the roof carried away will have to be replaced and the shafting put up.

The boiler was not injured by the fall of the smokestack, and the engine room was not affected in any way.

Mr. Hamilton cannot estimate the damage; he says it would be a rough guess at the most.

A Peculiar Accident.

Just about noon a section of the iron cresting on the Dolan block, about twelve feet long, was disengaged by the wind and blown to the sidewalk, where it smashed to pieces. Mrs. Walter Finney, of South Monaghan, was in front of Mr. P.D. Dolan's store at the time, and the heavy ironwork in its descent just grazed her clothing and tore her cloth clister to rags besides making a rent in her dress. It was another miraculous escape. Mrs. Finney was badly frightened and rested in a store for some time.

A Windmill Uprooted.

The large windmill at Mr. John Carnegie's residence was blown down. Its base was rivetted to the solid rock upon which it rested, but the gale uprooted it and cast it to the ground as though it were a flagstaff.

Mothers!

Remember that Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or any other narcotic substance, in any quantity, shape or form. It is entirely vegetable, pleasant to take, positively effective and perfectly harmless. It is not a secret remedy; the formula is printed on the wrapper. Your physician will recommend it. Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, and many so-called soothing syrups are composed principally of opium or morphine; in any quantity they stupify, and in large quantities are deadly poisons. Castoria assimilates the food and regulates the bowels, cures diarrhœa, allays feverishness and fretfulness, soothes the pain in teething, relieves constipation and kills worms. It brings refreshing and natural sleep to the child, and gives rest to the mother.

"Castoria is so well adapted to infants and children that I recommend it as superior to any other known remedy."

At about 10 o'clock the force reached 90 miles an hour carrying everything before it and destroying outbuildings, barns, trees, telegraph poles, railway semaphores and fences. The greatest sufferer will be the Canadian Web Company. The wind struck the northwest gable of their 50x80 two-story factory, tearing the roof from the back walls, tumbling the north and west walls in upon fifteen girls who were employed in the upper story. All of them escaped except Alice Dickout, aged 15, who was buried among the bricks and debris. Upon medical examination the girl was found to have one leg broken and was badly bruised about the body. Damage to the factory is estimated at $1500.

The Niagara Falls tobogganing slide, went down in a pile of matchwood. Loss $500.

About 11 o'clock two quays of the foot and carriage suspension bridge that had been rebuilt this spring snapped and fell into the river. The greatest anxiety was felt for fear that the bridge would also go down. The bridge rocked to and fro like a cradle. The officials closed the approaches and would not allow any one to cross the structure.

The telegraph and telephone wires are down in all directions. A tree fell across the Rome Watertown & Ogdensburg track in front of a freight train about 6 miles east of Suspension Bridge, N.Y., piling the engine and 19 freight cars in the ditch. The engineer was badly hurt.

Blown From the Track.

MONTREAL, Jan. 13.—Word has been received at the Grand Trunk general office that the local train from Acton Vale for Montreal had been blown off the track by a gale of wind near St. Hilaire, and asking for assistance. A wrecking crew was at once organized at Point St. Charles and despatched with the usual appliances under Superintendant Stephenson. Medical Superintendant Dr. Roger, accompanied the party. The accident took place while the train was passing the curve a couple of miles the other side of St. Hilaire station. That part of the track is noted for the gusts of wind which rush through the deep gully in Beloeil Mountain, and sweep across it. The track as usual at heavy curves slants towards the centre of the circle of which the curve is an arc, and it was while the train was on this slant that this gale caught it and threw it over. The first-class car and the engine were left on the track but the baggage car, second-class car and smoking car were rolled over into the ditch beside the track.

Several of the passengers sustained minor injuries and three were seriously injured and had to be removed to a farm house where they were placed under medical treatment. The conductor, train man and mail clerk were also injured. The wind threw the rear cars completely on their sides and the baggage car as it fell wrenched the tender over. It in turn threw the engine over the track and the shock and wind together threw the mass over on its side. It is said that some of the overturned cars caught fire and were consumed, but this is denied.

The Worst for Many Years.

GODERICH, Jan. 13.—A severe wind storm struck this town this morning. The velocity of the wind was about 75 miles per hour. It uncroofed several old buildings and levelled fences in exposed places. A new Grand Trunk Railway freight car standing at the station was uncroofed and the roof carried over the bank. The wires were badly used up but men were sent out and they are working till night to-night. This is the worst storm that has occurred here for many years.

Horses' Pranks at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Jan. 13.—The high wind did considerable damage in this vicinity to-day. Fences were torn down, plate glass windows broken and signs demolished. Residents along the beach say the storm was one of the most fierce wind storms that has struck them in years. A good deal of damage was done. The waves washed very high, and it was impossible for any one to stand on the piers unaided. At the race course, North Barton, a good deal of damage was done. A lot of the fencing was blown down and the driving sheds suffered similarly. The grandstand formed a sort of butt for the wind and suffered severely. The keeper of the hotel got a scare, but nothing worse.

A Terrific Gale at Kingston.

KINGSTON, Jan. 13.—A terrific westerly gale has been blowing all day. Many buildings have been damaged and fences in the country are reported levelled in all directions. The weather is mild and the ground almost bare of snow.

Blow in the Glass.

BROCKVILLE, Jan. 13.—A heavy wind storm prevailed here to-day. Every pane of glass in the Great Northwestern Telegraph office is blown in.

Played Havoc at Tweed.

TWEED, Jan. 13.—To-day's wind played havoc with buildings in this locality, taking the tin roof completely off McGowan's brick block and seriously damaging a number other buildings. Several barns were completely wrecked. The loss in this place is estimated at $2000.

Buffalo Newsboys on Strike.

BUFFALO, Jan. 13.—The familiar cry of the newsboys has not been heard in the city to-day. The dealers and boys refused to handle any evening papers at the new schedule agreed on by the proprietors. A large crowd of boys and dealers walked from one office to another but not one paper has been sold in the city to-day. The organization of the Common Council and the great storm make people clamorous, but no man or boy can be found that will handle the papers.

The Plover's Crew Rescued.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 13. — The steamer Tancarville, from Havre, arrived here yesterday with the captain and crew of the steamer Plover, from St. Johns for Sydney, C.B., which was abandoned in a sinking condition the other day 30 miles off Cape Race. The Plover was coal-laden. She sprang a leak in a gale and the pumps became choked and useless. The Plover was a vessel of 298 tons.

Still on the Rocks.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Jan. 13.—The steamer City of Worcester is still on the rocks near Bartlett reef lightship and a heavy sea is running.

Boodling in Bolivia.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Advices from Bolivia state there is an unexplained deficiency of $300,000 in the accounts of the Bank of La Paz.

THE WORK OF THE WIND.

St. Louis Visited by a Hurricane—Several Lost.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 12.—This afternoon shortly after 4 o'clock a hurricane struck this city, uncroofing houses, tearing out trees by the roots, blowing down the steeples of churches, levelling telegraph poles and doing considerable damage generally. All the eastern telegraph wires entering at East St. Louis are blown down, and a rumor comes from the little town of Venice, 8 miles north of East St. Louis, that several houses were destroyed there and three or four persons were killed. Several lives were lost here during the storm. The list of victims secured up to 9.30 p.m. is as follows:

Dead—Mrs. Maggie Conners, aged 40; Bernard McConnell, aged 40; Jos Weaver, aged 9.

Injured—Teresa Weaver, aged 6, both legs broken, will probably die; Mrs. Charles Miller, badly cut and bruised, serious condition; Annie Connors, Maggie Connors, Francis Connors.

A DEATH DEALING STORM.

ELEVEN KENTUCKIANS KILLED BY A TORNADO.

Fifty-three Persons Wounded—Fatalities at St. Louis, Rochester and Syracuse—Widespread Destruction Caused by the Winds.

CAIRO, Ill., Jan. 13.—A tornado last night struck the east side (Clinton, Ky.), demolishing 55 houses, killing 11 persons and wounding 53. The killed as far as ascertained are: J. A. Rhodes and two children, Mrs. Wm. Bone, Burnett Bone, Walter Nance, John W. Gaddis, an infant of Judge C. C. Hodges and two others not yet identified.

The wounded are: Judge E. C. Hodges, wife and two children; G. R. Gayun, wife, child and father; C. W. Voorhees, child and two relatives, names unknown; Rev. N. W. Little, wife and two children; D. Stubblefield, several members of his family, though not seriously; Mrs. Chester and two children; Mrs. J. A. Rhodes and one child, the latter will die; A. L. Emerson and two children; A. F. Watts and one child; Mr. Jackson; Robert Johnson, sr., Robert Johnson, jr., both dangerously, the latter will die; W. R. Nance, wife and child, and others whose names cannot be ascertained.

Widespread Destruction.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 13.—A special says: For several miles around Clinton, Ky., nearly every thing is razed to the ground. The first building struck by the cyclone was a section house about half a mile out of town occupied by John Rhodes and family, consisting of his wife and three children. All were killed. The population of the town is about 1000 and at first it was feared hundreds had been killed but only eleven bodies have been found. The loss to property is estimated at $70,000. Eight of the 53 injured are not likely to live.

At Wycliffe, Ky., some of the principal business houses were wrecked and 20 people were injured.

The cyclone visited Moscow, Ky., and two persons were killed and four or five wounded.

It Was a Hustler.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 13.—The cyclone yesterday afternoon lasted only about five minutes. It left behind it a track of ruined buildings, unroofed houses, shattered walls, dismantled churches and schools, wrecked factories and mills, streets heaped with debris and telegraph poles blown down by thousands.

Those killed by the cyclone were: Matthew McCollum; Mrs. Connors and Joseph Weaver. The injured were: Ida Weaver, fatally; Maggie and Mamie Connors, William Brady, Mrs. Robert, Mrs. Charles Miller and child, Charles Miller, Mrs. McQuade, Mrs. J. Ryan and daughter, Mrs. B. Versfield, M. J. Ackerman, unknown woman, James McCosh, W. Hemsel, Frank Kohler. The number of buildings damaged will probably reach 150, with a loss ranging from $100,000 to $200,000. A large force of men are clearing away the debris.

General Throughout Western New York.

ROCHESTER, Jan. 13—Despatches from many points show that the cyclone was general throughout Western New York. Churches and other buildings were damaged and in some cases demolished. Trees were torn to pieces and blown down, and fields, streets and highways are strewn with wreckage. The telegraph service is badly crippled.

Suffering in Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 13.—The blizzard in Kansas and Missouri has ceased. No lives were lost. Intense suffering is reported in the destitute districts in the western counties of Kansas. There are over forty cars of provisions at Liberal cut, that is 50 to 70 miles from the starving people, and nobody is willing to take chances of freezing by hauling the freight in wagons.

The Wires Demoralized.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 13.—The storm here early this morning completely demoralized telegraphic communication. Telephone wires were in bad shape. Much damage to trees and small buildings is reported throughout Southern Illinois.

Two Fatalities at Rochester.

ROCHESTER, Jan. 13.—A heavy gale, reaching a velocity of 70 miles an hour, was blowing here to-day. Great damage was done all over the city. An old brick block belonging to the Central Railroad Company was blown down but all the inmates, 19 in number, escaped. By the fall of a chimney George Wetter, cabinet maker, was instantly killed. Plate glass, signs, poles, roofs and trees are down all over the city. The damage is estimated at $3000. Expressman Seward while driving in a wagon was blown over and the horse fell on him. He was taken to a hospital in a dying condition. Many wagons were overturned.

A Freight Depot Collapses.

SYRACUSE, Jan. 13.—A terrific wind-storm struck this city about 3 o'clock to-day. The large Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg Railroad freight depot in process of construction and nearly completed collapsed and was levelled to the ground. About 40 carpenters were at work on the building at the time and 12 of them who were inside were buried in the ruins. W. H. Willis was taken out dead and nine others were badly hurt. The roof of the penitentiary was torn off and a dozen houses in the city were unroofed.

At Oswego the tall steeple of the Church of the Evangelist was blown down but no one was hurt.

A Record Breaker.

BUFFALO, Jan. 13.—A terrific gale struck this city at 9 o'clock this morning. The wind attained a velocity of 90 miles an hour for several minutes. This is the highest velocity on record.

Lake Erie was never seen in such a turbulent state. The steeples of the North and St. John churches are down. Trees were blown down, signs torn down from their fastenings and the streets were entirely deserted. Water stopped the belt line trains and the Michigan Central trains are compelled to stop several miles outside of the city.

Marriage of Mr. Pacaud.

WINDSOR, Jan. 13.—Gaspard Pacaud, M. L.A. for North Essex, was married to-day to a Bay City (Mich.) lady. The wedding trip will be to Quebec, the former home of Mr. Pacaud.

Back from New Orleans.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Among the arrivals in New York to-day by steamer from New Orleans were D. Girauard, Q.C., M.P., of Montreal and lady, and Dr. George A. Ryerson and lady of Toronto.

A Good Reason for Postponement.

NEWBURG, N.Y., Jan. 13.—The racing committee of the National Skating Association to-night postponed the races till Jan. 21 and 25 at Newburg on account of lack of ice.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Louis Deas on Trial for the Murder of Mike Birtle.

TORONTO, Jan. 14.—At the Assizes yesterday Louis Deas was placed on trial for the murder of Michael Birtle. The story of the crime is well known. Tersely told, it is that at midnight Birtle and a companion named Wilson visited Deas' house 10 Brunswick-street. The prisoner had two apartments in his premises sub-let to a woman named O'Reilly, and occupying the rooms besides Mrs. O'Reilly were, Anne O'Reilly, her daughter, and a young woman named Eva Carney. Birtle aroused Deas by knocking on a side door, and the latter spoke to him from an upper window. Birtle asked to see Eva Carney, his niece, and after a lapse of some minutes the two girls, Annie O'Reilly and Eva Carney, came downstairs. The three stood outside at the door conversing for several minutes. A row occurred subsequently in the hallway, Deas objecting to Birtle coming into the house at that hour of the night. A second dispute occurred on the stairway, when Deas drew his revolver and fired at Birtle, the bullet entering his left eye and lodging in his brain. Birtle died at the Hospital 30 days later, after several unsuccessful efforts on the part of the surgeons to extract the bullet. The witnesses examined yesterday were the same as at the inquest. Their testimony varied little and was not materially shaken by cross-examination. The court sat till 7 o'clock, when the whole of the evidence for the prosecution was in. The defence opens this morning.

The death is announced at Alhambra, Cal., of John Hamilton Kane, assistant cashier of the Dominion Bank. Mr. Kane came to Toronto from Quebec and was 48 years of age.

SENT FOR TRIAL.

The Shocking Story Told by a 13-Year-Old Hamilton Girl.

HAMILTON, Jan. 13.—Ann Elizabeth Harris, 14 years old, told Magistrate Cahill at the Police Court to-day, a story, which, if true, makes her stepfather, John Webb, one of the lowest scoundrels brought to justice here in a long time. Webb is a burly, dark-complexioned, heavy-featured slightly pock-marked man and the girl is tall and thin, with an innocent-looking face, fair complexion, plain features, and not over-intelligent. She said that she had been living out at domestic service, but was at home sometimes for awhile. Her stepfather, she said, had habitually taken improper liberties with her since she was 10 years old; part of the time they lived in England. During November last there were week-night meetings in the Northern Baptist church, in Ferguson-avenue, and her stepfather had her accompany him to these services. The first night they went, she alleges he took her along Strachan-street to the railway track and brought her into a vacant lot near Wellington-street, where he succeeded in his vile purpose. The same proceedings were repeated, sometimes once a week and sometimes twice a week, according to the girl's testimony, until about five weeks ago. On Sunday night a week ago the whole affair was exposed through Mrs. Webb detecting her husband taking improper liberties with the child. In the row which ensued the girl was ordered out of the house by her stepfather. On Saturday she told a woman that her stepfather had seduced her. Dr. Griffin testified that he had examined the girl on Saturday night, and found her condition such as to correspond with her story. The prisoner was committed for trial to the Assize Court at its present sitting.

Edward McMahon, 13 years of age, who was arrested on New Year's Day charged with drunkenness, died at the hospital yesterday. His trial at the Police Court was postponed twice owing to his inability to appear, as he complained very much of internal pains. When at the Police Court he told the Magistrate that he had spent New Year's eve in company with several men and boys, one of whom purchased liquor and gave it to him.

The asylum authorities reported to the police this morning, the escape of one of the inmates named Joseph Albertson, 30 years of age. He is about 5 feet 4 in height, wears full beard and is dressed in grey overcoat, and cap with peak and grey trousers. He escaped about 10.30 a.m.

The trial of John Moore for manslaughter was in progress at the Assizes to-day. Moore is charged with causing the death of Reuben Shoupe by striking him on the head with a cordwood stick at Glanford station on Sept. 13 last.

The Unitarians in the city, who have for some time been worshipping in the Foresters' Hall, James-street, have now decided to build a church of their own. Under the ministration of Mr. Hodgins the congregation has prospered and increased to such an extent that this step has been deemed advisable. It is said that the American Unitarian Association will come to the assistance of the congregation here and will advance the funds necessary to the erection of a suitable building.

The death is announced of Dr. William Lafayette Smith of Glanford, from inflammation of the lungs. Dr. Smith was 53 years of age.

The City council of 1889 held its last meeting in the new City Hall last night.

A game cock valued at $10 was stolen from Andrew Stuart last night.

SUICIDE OF ANARCHISTS.

Despair and Destitution Among the Wild-Eyed Foreigners.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Detective Miller of Brooklyn, who broke up a gang of incendiaries about a year ago, states that he has received information which leads him to believe that a number of anarchists in New York and Brooklyn have entered into a compact to commit suicide. At least four suicides have occurred recently among anarchists, and Miller lately received a letter from an anonymous correspondent telling him that the violent anarchists had despaired of bringing about a social revolution, and there was nothing left for them but suicide, as they were all destitute. The detective says that when he broke up the incendiary conspiracy he learned that there were sixty-two anarchists who had banded together to burn New York and Brooklyn and commit suicide if caught or detected. He arrested nine of them, and though they were not convicted the arrests broke up the gang. They seem to have abandoned the incendiary idea now and to have resolved upon suicide pure and simple.

In at least two cases the anarchists have killed their wives and children before killing themselves.

A NEWSPAPER MONOPOLY.

The Winnipeg Free Press Has the Field to Itself—General Northwest News.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 13.—The Daily Sun, which was recently purchased by persons who, it was announced, were Conservatives, ceased publication this morning, its plant, franchises and subscription list having been purchased by The Free Press, which now has a monopoly of the daily field in the city.

Rumors are current regarding another change in the newspapers, but what it is to be cannot be ascertained.

Speaker Winram returned yesterday from Europe not improved in health.

Messrs. Daly, Davin, Prior, Earle and Ross, M.'s P., and Senators Boulton and Perley have left for Ottawa.

United States Senator Hoar's Proposition Touching the Duty on Lumber.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—In the Senate to-day Mr. Hoar (Rep., Mass.) offered a resolution instructing the Finance Committee when it reports a tariff bill to incorporate a provision that if any foreign country imposes an export duty on logs or on manufactured, or partially manufactured lumber, a duty shall be collected on such logs or lumber in the United States equal to the amount of the export duty, in addition to the duty otherwise imposed.

FELL UNDER THE WHEELS.

A 16-Year-old Watford Lad Killed by a Railway Train.

WATFORD, Jan. 13.—In attempting to board a passing train near the Grand Trunk Railway station here this afternoon, Richard, the 10-year-old son of L. Fowler of this place, slipped and was dragged underneath the wheels of the cars. Both legs were amputated and he only lived a short time.

LOSSES CAUSED BY FLAMES.

A Baltimore Elevator Burst—A British Steamer Destroyed—Three Lives Lost.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 13.—The Northern Central Railroad elevator No. 8 was burned to-night. The elevator was worth $300,000 and the loss on the corn stored there is $280,000.

The British steamship Sacrobasco, lying near the wharf, was consumed by flames from the burning elevator. The British steamers North Erin and Rhio had their masts and rigging and some of their upper works destroyed. Three of the crew of the Sacrobasco are missing and it is believed they were burned to death. They are Robert Carus, chief engineer; John White, fireman; Charles Johnson, seaman. Among the crew seriously burned are—Charles Appleton, steward, Thomas Knight (colored) cook, and Westside and A. T. Robinson, seamen. The sailors aboard the Sacrobasco had to jump into the water and swim for their lives. Some were picked up after being in the water two hours. The fire at midnight is under control.

A YEAR IN JAIL

Is Eloper Legare's Punishment—A Husband's Costly Experience.

MONTREAL, Jan. 13.—High Constable Bissonnette returned from Toronto on Saturday morning with Ulric Legare, Mrs. Seguin and accompanied by Mr. Theophile Seguin, husband of the eloping woman. From the train Mr. Bissonnette brought his prisoners down to the Police Court. No charge was preferred against Mrs. Seguin, but Seguin accused Legare of stealing $650 in cash, a gold ring worth $12, a box of cigars and half-a-dozen silk handkerchiefs from him. Legare pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment, and while the necessary commitment was being drawn up Mr. and Mrs. Seguin made up and left the court together. Seguin loses about $150 in cash by his wife's escapade.

GLADSTONE GETTING READY FOR A BIG FIGHT.

The Government's Foreign Policy to Be Attacked—Prince Albert Victor and the West End Scandal—The Pope Suffering from Influenza.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Everybody who has seen the Prince of Wales lately speaks of the signs of care which have crept into his hitherto jolly expression. The nature of his ailment is to depress; but it would be wrong to put down his present anxiety to his state of health. He is worried by the persistent rumors regarding the connection of his son, Prince Albert Victor, with the west end scandal. These rumors have no foundation save in the inventive imagination of those who give them currency. Scandals which have touched his own household have left their mark upon him, and he is using whatever influence he possesses to secure, if possible, a complete revelation of the actual facts. In this connection it may be remarked that a singular rumor is afloat to the effect that the stories about the young heir presumptive were started with a view to keeping the Prince of Wales quiet. The report is that the men of rank and title who are implicated in the Somerset scandals know that they need expect no sympathy from the prince, and that none of the influence of the royal family would be used to shield them from police investigation and judicial exposure. The prince, though he has never pretended to be a saint, never descended to the depths of vice reached by the effeminate creatures who are now fleeing from the wrath to come. Their only hope of suppressing the investigation, so the story runs, was to implicate a member of the prince's family in their misdeeds, and thus bring the great influence of the prince to bear upon the side of silence and oblivion. It so happens, however, that the prince's belief in his son's innocence is stronger than his natural repugnance to the publicity which further ventilation of the affair must entail, and the outlook is bad for the accused aristocrats, whatever it may be for young Prince Albert Victor.

GLADSTONE'S PROGRAM.

The Government's Foreign Policy to be Attacked—The O'Shea-Parnell Case.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Mr. Gladstone proposes to make an attack on the foreign policy of the Government on the opening of Parliament and is in consultation with his colleagues of the Liberal party on the subject. His plan is to ask Lord Salisbury why he has allowed Germany to acquire a paramount position in East Africa which may interfere with England's general interests and paralyse her power in the whole of Africa. He will compare her attitude toward Germany and her domineering treatment of Portugal, the differences being now apparent to the world to the humiliation of England.

He will also refer to the inaction of the government in full view of the Turkish outrages in Crete and Armenia, and the shameful perversion of justice in the case of Mousa Bey, acquitted in the face of the cumulative and uncontradicted evidence against him, evidently through the intervention of the Turkish Government in his favor. The details of this plan will be thoroughly considered by the Liberal leaders before Parliament assembles, by which time the program will be arranged.

Mr. Parnell is ready and anxious to meet, as soon as possible, the charges made against him by Captain O'Shea in the divorce suit in which he has been so wantonly and maliciously made a co-respondent, as his friends say. Those conversant with the case and Mr. Parnell's intentions intimate that his defence, when made public in court, will create as great a sensation as the disclosure of the Pigott forgeries and perjuries. No inkling of the character of the defence is given other than the vague but significant hint that medical experts hold the key and it will rest upon their testimony.

Portugal Properly Punished.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The Times says: "The imprudent attitude of Portugal required sharp treatment. We rejoice that Lord Salisbury was equal to the occasion." In regard to the rumors of the resignation of Minister Gomes The Times says: "To be ignominiously expelled is certainly no severer punishment than is deserved by a government which sent a notorious firebrand to Africa and then audaciously tried to profit by his brutal and unprovoked attack upon a peaceful region and a friendly power."

The Crisis in Lisbon.

LISBON, Jan. 13.—The Cabinet has resigned. The minority were in favor of evacuating the Shire district, but opposed the other demands of England unless submitted to arbitration. There is much excitement.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

A Remarkable Case Reported From a Michigan Town.

THREE RIVERS, Mich., Jan. 13—A curious phase of the recent killing of a tramp here by Marshal Maam has come to light. The man shot was identified by Mrs. Charles Willard of Kalamazoo as her husband, and she followed the body to the grave as the chief mourner. Saturday her husband appeared at her home alive and well. The dead man had the same face and scars as Willard and the resemblance between the two otherwise was very close. The case is not made less remarkable by the fact that Mrs. Willard had applied for a divorce before the shooting occurred.

Look Out for This Fraud.

INGERSOLL, Jan. 13.—Some time ago a stranger called at the residence of Grocer Hartwell D. McCarty of this place, and asked to leave an organ there until the following morning. Mr. McCarty consented, and has not seen the man since. On Friday morning an agent of the Woodstock branch of the Molsons' Bank presented a note for the price of the organ to Mr. McCarty, and demanded payment, or, in default, a return of the organ. Mr. McCarty at once declared the note to be a forgery. The man who left the organ was an agent of Carter, the music dealer who failed in Woodstock a short time ago, and he played the same trick on several Ingersollites.

MURDER IN CHICAGO.

James Prendergast Runs a Knife Through His Rival's Heart.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—While walking along the street to-night with John Baines, James Prendergast suddenly turned and ran a long knife into Baines' heart. The assailant withdrew the weapon and tossing it aside said: "There, I guess that went through him." Baines expired on the sidewalk before the eyes of half a dozen horror-stricken people, while Prendergast for the time being escaped, but was captured soon after by the police. The men had been rivals for three years for the favor of a certain woman.

Death of Donald Chisholm, M.P.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 13.—Dr. Donald Chisholm, M.P. for the New Westminster district, one of the pioneers of this province, died at New Westminster to-day, aged 68 years. Dr. Chisholm was a Conservative. For the past two years he has not been in very robust health.

TURNBULL'S

If you should give the days of the week trade names, Saturday would be clothing man's day.

Look at the clothing store news up and down the columns of the papers! Is it not so.

We could pile adjective upon hyperbole—could print with display type the most impossible statement if we choose, but we spare you.

They can all gang their ain gait, while we go on making our clothing business bigger by making it better; the only sure way and we hold our own with the best in quality, style and make with real cheapness. Our boys' Readymade clothing cannot be beaten in style, quality and price.

We had a heavy run on Ladies' Mantles last week. A lot of good goods at Bargain Prices still to select from.

Our 40c. Heavy Canadian tweeds please the eye and pockets of all.

In the name of Jack Frost—Blankets. If we could only tell you all we know of Blankets, it would be good reading. One thing we do know, and don't fear to say is, you will get more good wool and generous size in the Blankets now here at $5, than is generally offered. Blankets at $4 and $3.75 of good medium sizes.

Once more the cheapest stock of Grey Flannels and Cottons is with us. The people carry it off with more industry than ants, which is the best proof that business men have that goods are cheap.

IMPORTANT!

Remarkable Restoration to Health of Well Known Canadians whose Cases were Given up as Incurable.

From the few of the hundreds of letters we have received from those who have been restored to health and strength by the use of that wonderful discovery, Paine's Celery Compound, we make a few extracts. We hope that the thousands of Canadian men and women who are suffering from nervous and wasting diseases, will profit by these true and plain statements of facts.

D. S. Davidson, of Montreal, suffered for years with nervous dyspepsia, pain in his back, and sleeplessness. He tried doctors without relief, was losing flesh rapidly, and had about given up heart when he commenced the use of Paine's Celery Compound. "Now," he says, "I am a new man. I sleep well and my food does not hurt me."

Mr. Jas. Johnson, 302 St. Charles Borromee Street, Montreal, was weak and nervous, had no appetite, and could not rest at night. His nerves were soothed and strengthened by Paine's Celery Compound, and he soon became well and strong.

Annie Gourley, of River Beaudette, P. Q., found the Compound a certain cure for weakness, and now feels as well as she ever did.

A customer of Harrison Bros., druggist, Hamilton, Ont., told them that he was entirely cured of nervous weakness by the use of two bottles of the Compound, after everything else has failed.

The little child of Mrs. G. E. Meredith, 76 D'Arcy St., Toronto, was cured of St. Vitus' Dance by Paine's Celery Compound.

East Peterborough Farmers.

A Successful Institute Meeting at Norwood—Interesting Subjects Discussed Farmers take an Active Interest—A Good Attendance.

JANUARY 14th, 1890.

The first meeting for 1890 of the East Riding Farmers' Institute, was held at Norwood to-day. There was a good attendance of the farmers. Mr. Frank Birdsall, President, occupied the chair, and in opening referred to the immense benefit that had been derived from Farmers' Institutes. He then called upon

Mr. Wm. Birdsall, a student of the Guelph Agricultural College, who read a paper on "Unnecessary Waste on the Farm." His paper, which was a clever production, detailed graphically the waste that took place on the farm, the most prominent of which was that in connection with manures—in their saving and application. There was an immense waste in the use of feed, which, in the case of horses, amounted yearly in Canada to about three millions of dollars. There was waste in fruitless law suits, waste for want of plan and system, want of care of implements, waste in the planting of unsuitable crops, etc., etc.

Mr. Hobson, in commenting on the paper, said the reading of so able a paper by a student was a convincing proof of the imparted by the Guelph Agricultural College. He wished to ask a question suggested by the paper—could a farm be kept up to the proper standard of fertility, and stock to its full capacity, without artificial means, especially if growing and ploughing under clover were practiced?

Prof. Fletcher answered that he believed it was possible by a judicious growth of clover and ploughing in of it to keep a farm up to the standard. Mr. Honey and Mr. Raynor agreed with this view, and even went farther and thought it might be possible to improve the soil under the conditions named.

Mr. J. G. Honey, Castleton, spoke briefly on the subject of sheep. He insisted that farmers should keep sheep, but it was important that fewer in number should be kept, and the quality improved. He had found by his experience that the keeping of sheep was profitable if a good kind was kept.

Mr. Hobson thought it paid better to feed lambs properly to maturing and sell for good prices, than to sell early in season. In answer to a question he said that an important fact in fattening stock was to keep the animals quiet.

Mr. Raynor spoke of the methods of preparing soil for crops. For barley, if stubble land was used, put on a gang plough as soon as crop is off—plough lightly to let weed seeds germinate, then harrow and cultivate, and then plough again late in the fall and lay up land well to the frost. To get the best results in growing barley, sow on clover sod, ploughed twice. If possible cut clover early, and plough under second crop. [illegible] after timothy sod or after barley. As a general principle, put on a cleaning crop after a dirty crop, and vice versa. The general treatment for peas was similar to barley. The same remarks generally apply to preparing for oats. For corn, plough once late in the fall. In spring, after seeding, gang plough and manure. In the spring get on land as early as possible. Work the soil well before applying the seed. For barley, five inches and shallow seeding. For early seeding, sow broadcast; for late seeding, drill. For peas, use seed drill and place rows north and south. Before sowing prepare land thoroughly, and for (Keat) peas drill two inches. For corn, work in manure thoroughly, plough the last time and plant by the 24th of May. Corn land should be ploughed in spring with gangs, then apply manure and plough deeper with single plough. In a system of rotation, sow a clean crop after a dirty crop, a deep-rooted after a shallow-rooted crop, and a light crop after an exhaustive crop.

DOMINION EXPERIMENTAL FARMS.

Prof. James Fletcher of the Dominion Experimental farm, gave a very interesting outline of the farm system, which consisted of the Central farm Ottawa, at the extreme eastern end of Ontario to serve that province, and Quebec, and four branch farms [illegible] the maritime provinces, at Naphan, N.S. The chief problems to be worked out here were in relation to early varieties of grain, dairying, fodder plants, including grasses, clovers and the most suitable varieties of corn for ensilage, etc., and fruit. At the Manitoba farm [illegible] 630 acres, at Brandon, attention was directed to cereals stock-breeding, and the fruit and forest trees suited to the country. In the Northwest Territories a farm of 640 acres was situated at Indian Head. Here the same problems as at the Brandon farm demanded attention, particular attention, however, being given trees, grains and grasses, suited to the dry regions. The fourth farm of 300 acres was situated at Agassiz, B.C. Here attention was chiefly given to the study of fruits, dairying and poultry. The Central Farm contained 465 acres under the charge of an efficient staff. Prof. Saunders superintended the whole system, and also has heretofore had charge of the Agricultural department, which investigated the most successful methods of crops, including the adaptability of certain soils to special crops, treatment of manures, etc. A head for this department had not yet been appointed. Mr. W. W. Hillborn had charge of the Horticultural department, which was devoted to the cultivation and amelioration of known varieties of fruits. Mr. Shutt, the chemist, directed his work to chemical analyses of soils and products of the farm, and manures. It was the object of this department to show what crops gave the best results upon given soils and with given manures. Prof. J. Fletcher, the speaker, finds an outlet for his energies in considering the growth of plants and insects respectively beneficial and injurious to the farmer. Prof. Fletcher went on at length to describe some of the leading pests of the past season, and mentioned the most successful remedies.

The speaker said with regard to the work at the Farm, every effort had been and would be made to have it practical and useful and applicable to the needs of the farmers of the Dominion. Careful records were kept of every experiment, and as decisive areas, these results would be published in the form of reports or bulletins. It was the desire of the government that the farmers should make use of the information brought out in connection with the Farm. The reports issued were not wasted by promiscuous and indifferent distribution, but sent to applicants who furnished evidence of their bona fides. The farmers from every part of the Dominion were cordially invited to visit the Farm. It was not a political institution, but it was maintained for the benefit of all farmers irrespective of political creed. Farmers were urged to remember that the Farm was their's—that they furnished the money to maintain it and had a right to its benefits.

Messrs. Hobson and Grell also gave addresses on subjects which have been already reported in the Examiner.

An interesting evening meeting was held.

Over Twelve Years Established.

A live and well established grocery and provision business for sale. R. H. Green, on account of continued ill-health, has decided to sell his entire stock of groceries, provisions, &c., en bloc, at a bargain, to a suitable purchaser. The goods are nearly all new, well assorted and bought at the lowest possible wholesale prices. The stock, furnishings, horse, rigging, &c., will amount to about twelve hundred dollars, but will be reduced considerably within the next few weeks (if I don't meet with a wholesale purchaser in the meantime), as I am now retailing them at a great sacrifice. Parties wanting good fresh groceries, provisions, &c., for the holiday season will find it to their advantage to call before buying elsewhere, as decided bargains will be given. The goods must be sold. R. H. Green, corner of Hunter and Aylmer streets, Peterborough. Dec. 3rd. w47tf

Peculiarities of the Hair.

THE DIAMOND BUTTON

FROM THE DIARY OF A LAWYER AND THE NOTE BOOK OF A REPORTER.

By BARCLAY NORTH.

(Copyrighted, 1889, by O. M. Dunham. Published by special arrangement through The American Press Association.)

The young lawyer mused a moment. Finally he asked: "Are you acquainted with a Mr. Witherspoon?"

"Witherspoon? I never heard the name before," replied the mother. "Did you, Annie?"

"No, I never did."

"Nor a person by the name of Ashgrove?" continued the lawyer.

"No," said both together.

"Never knew or heard of a young lady named Flora Ashgrove?"

"Never," said the mother.

"The name has a familiar sound," said the girl wonderingly. "Is she not a fashionable young lady of this city whose name is in the papers frequently?"

The lawyer smiled and answered, "Yes."

"Stop!" cried the girl suddenly. "I recollect once when my brother was at home I lifted a coat he had thrown upon a chair, and a letter fell from the pocket signed 'Flora Ashgrove.' I handed it to him and he said: 'An invitation to a dinner I went to last week—from one of my customers.' 'Do you have ladies for customers?' I asked, and he said: 'Quite frequently, but this lady writes for her uncle, who has been one of my best customers.'"

"Has been?" queried the lawyer.

"That is the way he spoke. I remember, for it conveyed the idea to me he was so no longer. But why do you ask these questions?"

"There is nothing significant in them," said the lawyer, seeing the interest he had aroused. "I called at the house of Mr. Witherspoon, who is doubtless the uncle referred to by your brother, on the day following the murder. Miss Ashgrove seemed to be much shocked at the murder, and said she was acquainted with Mr. Templeton. In looking at this matter and in trying to help you, I am grasping at straws in every direction. There is no more significance in the question concerning her than in the others."

"But," he continued, "I have one piece of advice to give you and which I must urgently and respectfully press, and that is that you take immediate steps with regard to your son's business and property. In that way you may come upon revelations you little dream of now."

"What should we do?" asked the sister.

"You should consult a reputable lawyer, place the matter in his hands, and be guided by him."

"Are you not a lawyer?"

"Yes, I am a lawyer," he replied, "and should be most happy to undertake your case."

"Please do," pleaded the sister. "We should have such confidence in you. You are the only one who has been kind to us in this sad business."

Then she blushed a rosy red, thinking perhaps she had said too much, and Holbrook actually blushed because she blushed.

He began to think the whole interview was very unprofessional. So after taking some memoranda and promising to call upon them at the hotel where they were stopping, the next evening, to report progress, he accompanied them to the elevator.

As they passed in, Tom Bryan passed out.

"Hello, Holbrook, I was coming to see you" he cried, but seeing Holbrook with the ladies he begged his pardon and stepped aside.

"A deuced pretty client, Holbrook," said Tom mischievously, as the lawyer turned to him.

"Tush," warned Holbrook, "that is Templeton's sister."

"What, the man who was murdered in Union square?" Then he sprang to the elevator and pressed the button hurriedly several times, calling out: "Here, stop, stop that elevator!"

CHAPTER VIII.

THE REPORTER DISCOVERS A PLAN TO THE LAWYER.

HOLBROOK collared him.

"Here, you lunatic, what are you up to?"

"I want to stop her. I want to interview her. Stop that elevator."

"That you sha'n't."

"Who'll prevent me?"

"I will. I am her counsel, and she will not be interviewed against my advice. Come in. If you want to interview anybody, interview me."

Tom looked at him roguishly and said: "Do you recollect what the reply of the king was to Richelieu, when the cardinal told him if he must love anybody, to love him?"

"No."

"He said, 'A very poor substitute, your eminence, for a fresh young demoiselle.' So say I."

Holbrook led the way into his private office, closing the door behind them.

"Squat," said he to Tom, "and take a cigar."

Tom threw himself on the lounge at full length and as he lit his cigar, said:

"By Jove—puff—puff—it's a deuced—puff—strange thing—puff—puff—puff—that I should—puff—have run up—puff—puff—against Templeton's sister here."

"Why?"

"Because it was precisely that murder which led me here. What have you got new about it?"

"Nothing."

"And you her counsel?"

"Yes, since ten minutes ago."

"Hasn't she got a suspicion of any kind—of a woman, or a quarrel, etc.?"

"Not a suspicion. But let me put you on the right track. I am retained to look after the dead brother's property, and see to closing up his business."

"Oh, well, I haven't dropped that murder yet."

"What do you know more about it?"

"Not much, if anything. The old man has become very much interested in the case, and has discharged me."

The "old man" was the editor-in-chief of the paper Tom was employed on.

"Discharged you?"

"Yes, at my suggestion."

"I don't understand you."

"No? Well, then, I am detailed to work the matter to the end. As a first move I have gotten myself discharged, so as to throw the other boys off the scent? Do you see?"

"Oh!"

"I have been working for three days, and I want help. Those confounded detectives are jealous of me ever since I rooted out that nest of burglars up the country—you remember—and watch me like a hawk."

"How can I help you?"

"Very easily, and all the more since you are now counsel for the sister. I want an exact description of that suit of clothes the man wore who knifed Templeton. Of course if I asked to see it I could easy enough, but I'd have the whole lot of them on my heels."

"And you want me to get the suit for you?"

"No, but I want you to become thoroughly acquainted with it."

"To what end?"

"I want to buy a suit just like it."

"Pshaw."

"You think I am fooling?"

"I don't think it, I know it."

"Holbrook, you pass in this city for being one of the ablest of the young lawyers, but you can be an awful stupid fool at times."

"Thank you."

"I mean it. Can't you see what I'm driving at?"

"No, I'm blest if I can."

"Well, I'll let you in a little way. The man who knifed Templeton wore a cheap suit of clothes which he had just purchased—wore it for the purpose of a disguise."

"Yes, doubtless."

"After the cutting he ran away, throwing off his coat."

"Good."

"Then he threw off his pantaloons and hat."

"Yes."

"These were found, but no vest."

"All of these chestnuts are proper in form and solid in substance."

Tom paid no attention to the sarcasm, but pulled steadily on his cigar, the fire of which had nearly died out. Restoring to his mouth,

The Little Seed.

A little seed lay in carter's path;
A little shoot bowed in the strong wind's wrath;
A little shrub grew by its roots held fast;
Then a stout tree braved all the winter's blast.

A little cough started—'twas only light;
A little chill shivered the hours of night
A little pain came and began to grow,
Then consumption laid all his brave strength low.

Be wise in time. Check the little cough, cure the little chill, despoil the little pain, ere the little ailment becomes the strong, unconquerable giant of disease. Dr. Pierces' Golden Medical Discovery, taken in time, is a remedy for these ills. s

Don't be a Clam.

When troubled with a cough or cold get a bottle of Wilson's Wild Cherry and cure it at once, before it has time to settle on your lungs. Why experiment with new and untried remedies, when this old and reliable cure may be got from all leading druggists. Thousands bear testimony to the remarkable curative properties of Wilson's Wild Cherry in such diseases as Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, Coughs, etc. Get the genuine in white wrappers only. dw

Well Pleased.

DEAR sirs,—I can recommend Hagyard's Yellow Oil as a sure cure for rheumatism. I had it for some time and was cured by two bottles, and I must say it is the best thing I can get for general use as a pain reliever. J. MUSTARD, Strathavon, Ont. 2w2d

Wilson's Wild Cherry cures coughs and colds. dw

A Common Cold

Is often the beginning of serious affections of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes, and Lungs. Therefore, the importance of early and effective treatment cannot be overestimated. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral may always be relied upon for the speedy cure of a Cold or Cough.

Last January I was attacked with a severe Cold, which, by neglect and frequent exposures, became worse, finally settling on my lungs. A terrible cough soon followed, accompanied by pains in the chest, from which I suffered intensely. After trying various remedies, without obtaining relief, I commenced taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was Speedily Cured.

I am satisfied that this remedy saved my life.—Jno. Webster, Pawtucket, R. I.

I contracted a severe cold, which suddenly developed into Pneumonia, presenting dangerous and obstinate symptoms. My physician at once ordered the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. His instructions were followed, and the result was a rapid and permanent cure.—H. E. Simpson, Pogue's Prairie, Texas.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Cold which settled on my Lungs. I consulted various physicians, and took the medicines they prescribed, but received only temporary relief. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking two bottles of this medicine I was cured. Since then I have given the Pectoral to my children, and consider it for Colds, Coughs, and all Throat and Lung diseases, ever used in my family.—Robert Vanderpool, Meadville, Pa.

Some time ago I took a slight Cold, which, being neglected, grew worse, and settled on my lungs. I had a hacking cough, and was very weak. Those who knew me best considered my life to be in great danger. I continued to suffer until I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Less than one bottle of this valuable medicine cured me, and I feel that I owe the preservation of my life to its curative powers.—Mrs. Ann Lockwood, Akron, New York.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is considered, here, the one great remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs, and is more in demand than any other medicine of its class.—J. F. Roberts, Magnolia, Ark.

Retiring from Retail Business.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Mr. P. D. Doran in another column. Mr. Doran has decided to retire from the Retail Dry Goods business and is offering his first class stock of Dry Goods at marvelously low prices to enable him to clear out the whole stock in the shortest possible time. Great Bargains will be given and every person wishing Dry Goods should not miss this great opportunity. Come early in the morning and avoid the rush. 3d11 1w

A Sure Cure for "La Grippe."

For every new disease there is no end of remedies. Quack remedies are advertised as nauseam for the influenza. Every old woman has her vaunted sure cure. There is one simple remedy however, which can safely be taken with delightful effect, that is a cup of hawley bros. tip-top tea. A against all of the best brands always on hawley bros. prices. Those who use the quality unsurpassed are healthy systems, pure teas or coffees, go to hawley bros. tea and coffee store, 372 George street.

Freaks of the Wind.

In addition to minor accidents to fences, buildings, etc., at Norwood, the gale of Monday tore the galvanized iron roofing from the new residence of Mr. J. B. Pearce. To save the rest of the roof from going, several men were engaged to sit on it—while they were nailing it down more securely.

In Peterborough an old man and woman who were walking down George street had a narrow escape from death or injury. A heavy plank was lifted off the top of the Gough block and dropped on the sidewalk close to the old couple. There was only a few inches between them and death.

What They are Doing at the Charlotte Street Methodist Church.

At the Official Board meeting on Friday evening last, Mr. A. L. Davis was unanimously appointed Recording Steward of the church.

Mr. O. C. Rowse has been appointed to the position of Pew Steward, and will be pleased to receive applications from parties desiring pews or sittings.

The "Onward, Upward" branch of the Epworth League, will meet this evening for business and entertainment.

The election of officers and teachers for the Sunday School will take place on Friday evening next.

THE BYLAW COMPLETED.

Mr. Davidson presented the bonus bylaw for its third reading. The bylaw was finally signed and sealed.

THE LAKE SHORE PROMENADE.

Moved by Mr. Cahill, seconded by Mr. Davidson,—That the Street and Bridge Committee be and are hereby authorized to procure the necessary materials for building a sidewalk on Crescent street, from Lake street to the Little Lake Cemetery, and have said sidewalk put down at the first favorable opportunity.

After some little discussion the motion was left over as a notice of motion.

Wm. Walshe, an indigent resident of the county, who has lived in Otonabee, Smith, Douro and Peterborough, appeared before the [illegible] relating to the Fire[illegible] which agreed to have him [illegible] poor house. The township of Otonabee agreed to pay one-fourth cost, on motion of Mr. Davidson, seconded by Mr. A. Hall; the township of Smith agreed to pay one-third (to the surprising [illegible] Douro had refused to give any help, the authorities of Smith offering to contribute its share. It was understood that Mr. Walton should be admitted at once.

IMPROVING THE FIRE SYSTEM.

Mr. A. HALL said he had been talking with Mr. Kent, of the Telephone Co., with regard to the improvement of the fire alarm system. At Mr. Hall's request the matter was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. Davidson,—That the reporters be granted $10 each for their valuable services during the past year.

After this motion was passed the Council adjourned.

The Rector's Reception.

A Pleasant Affair in the S. O. E. Hall—A Large Attendance and Splendid Programme.

The reception tendered by Rev. J. C. Davidson to the congregation of St. John's last night was a brilliant affair and a success in every way. The beautiful Sons of England hall, so kindly loaned for the occasion, rendered more beautiful by the addition of furniture and fancy articles borrowed by the Rector, was filled to overflowing. As the guests arrived they were met at the doors by Messrs. Foot, H. Long and G. L. Hay, who provided them with programmes and announced their names to the Rector and Rev. C. B. Kenrick, by whom they were received and presented to his His Lordship, the Bishop of Toronto. The latter warmly shook hands with everybody and delighted them all with his kindness and geniality. The gathering was of the nature of a conversazione, comparatively few seats being provided and people walking about and conversing pleasantly with each other. During the evening a choice selection of songs and instrumental solos were rendered. We append a copy of the programme:—

PART ONE.

1 Instrumental selections ..... The Peterborough Amateur Orchestra.
2 Song..... "The Powder Monkey" ..... Mr V G Cornwall.
3 Piano Solo..... "Tarantelle" ..... Heller Mrs A Smith.
4 Song..... "The River of Years" ..... Theo Marsials Miss Davidson.
5 Piano Duet..... "The Awakening of the Lion" ..... The Misses Loch. [Kontski
PART TWO.
1 Instrumental Selections ..... Peterborough Amateur Orchestra.
2 Song..... "The Better Land" ..... F Cowan Miss Cottingham.
3 Song..... "The Sleeping Camp" ..... E St Quentin Mr V G Cornwall.
4 Piano Duet (Overture and Anvil Chorus) "Il Trovatore" ..... Verdi The Misses Loch.
National Anthem ..... Orchestra.

REFRESHMENTS—Bread and Butter, Cakes, assorted; Ice Cream, (vanilla and straw berry); Tea, Coffee, Lemonade.

The singing of Miss Davidson and Mr. Cornwell, both visitors to Peterborough, the former being a sister of the new rector, and the latter an old parishioner from Colborne, was much appreciated. Miss Cottingham, as usual, delighted her audience, while the graceful piano solo of Mrs G. A. Smith and the brilliant duets of the Misses Loch were thoroughly enjoyable. But much of the success of the evening was due to the Amateur Orchestra, who discoursed sweet music on the platform at intervals during the proceedings.

In addition to the members of St. John's congregation, there were several other guests present, noticeably the Mayor of Peterborough, and Rev. Mr. Torrance, of St. Paul's, one whom the clergy of St. John's are always glad to see. There was also present a detachment of Mr. Davidson's brother-members of the Sons of England. The following visitors from a distance were also there:—Rev. Canon Davidson, and Mrs. Davidson, the Misses Davidson, and Messrs. Cornwall and G. E. R. Wilson, Colborne Mrs. Kenrick and Mr. N. F. Davidson, of Toronto; Rev. John Gibson, Norwood; Rev. Mr. Warren, Lakefield; also Rev. Mr. McCleary, of St. Luke's, Ashburnham.

Towards the end of the evening refreshments were announced, and the gentlemen proceeded to escort the ladies to the supper room to partake of the rector's lavish hospitality. Messrs. Long Bros' ice cream, charlotte russes, cakes, &c., were done full justice to, and nobody could deny that the new rector has begun well in fulfilling the apostolic precept: "A Bishop should be given to hospitality." Somewhere in the neighbourhood of eleven o'clock the proceedings terminated, after an address from Rev. Mr. Davidson, in which he thanked the Bishop for his attendance, and all others who had helped to make the reception a success.

Ashburnham Brevities.

Mr. William Dawson, of Downer's Corners, is confined to the house by illness.

Mr. W. Goalie has removed his butcher shop to one of the shops in the new town hall.

The school board meets on Wednesday evening in the school at eight o'clock, instead of at noon as previously announced.

THE [illegible]

The Number of Cases Now in Town

And the Doctors' Opinions About Them—A Census of La Grippe—Pythology Not so Bad as Some People Would Have to Believe.

The influenza "fad" does not seem to abate much, and everyone who is suffering from a cold proudly asserts the claim to be suffering from la grippe. To ascertain the real extent of the epidemic and gain a consensus of medical opinion on the matter, an EXAMINER reporter visited the different doctors in town on Monday and gathered the appended information:

DR. BELL—I have had 25 or 30 cases since Thursday last, and to-day eight new ones. The symptoms in the cases I treated were not the same as given in the newspapers. None of my patients had sneezing or coughing, but rather a high fever, and pains in the head and back, and bones aching all over. I have no serious cases, and usually from 24 to 36 hours is enough to allay them. I do not think the epidemic is altogether due to the weather; it appears to be sweeping the country.

DR. BINGHAM—I have a great many cases of what is popularly called la grippe, but the cases present only a few symptoms different from the ordinary cold, such as we are accustomed to during the winter in such variable weather as we have had. There is no cause for alarm, though the epidemic is on the increase just now. It will run its course.

DR. BOUCHER—This is simply an old disease under a new name. Its an epidemic of colds, that's about all, but its on the increase. I have about twenty cases on hand; none serious.

DR. BERNHAM—I have had, I suppose, nearly fifty cases of influenza the past week or so, averaging eight or ten a day; though at ordinary times they would not have been looked on as worse than bad colds. Some of my patients were very sick, though.

DR. BURNHAM—I have fifteen or twenty cases just now, and the number fluctuates from day to day. These cases are the common influenza, though there is no doubt an epidemic of the disease, and it is on the increase now. I do not approve of the idea of newspapers giving much publicity to the matter, as it frightens women and others who are suffering from nervous depression.

DR. CALDWELL—I have no cases that I could call worse than severe colds. I haven't seen any of the influenza talked about.

DR. CARMICHAEL—I have only four or five cases of genuine influenza, though there are plenty of ordinary colds.

DR. CLARKE, Medical Health Officer—I had 12 or 15 new cases to-day and yesterday about the same. The symptoms are precisely the same in all the cases, aches in the back and head, with chills and fever, and a very weakening effect. I have treated between 50 and 60 cases already, and certainly the epidemic does not appear to be decreasing. It seems to run in families, in some houses three, four and five people being laid up. I think the epedimic is about at its height, and can't last much longer. I have no dangerous cases. Of course there is a tendency for people to call common colds influenza, but it is a serious matter enough. A person afflicted should at once go to bed and begin treatment. An English medical journal says:—"The complaint is sometimes spoken of as one of inferior gravity like a common cold, but the symptoms are distinctly different; it is contagious, intensely weakening, occasionally fatal, and for these reasons it is not a thing to treat lightly."

DR. FIFE—I have 4 or 5 real influenza cases, but don't come across as many cases as the amount of public talk would lead me to expect.

DR. GOLDSMITH—There is a something epidemic in town which if la grippe was not spoken of I would call cases of bad colds. I have treated a great many cases, and the disease seems to be on the increase, but none of the cases were typical influenza cases, according to the symptoms published in the papers. Yesterday I had fifteen or twenty cases on hand. The colds, however, appear to be epidemic, as is known by the fact that four or five of my own family were attacked Sunday morning.

Another prominent physician stated that he had treated a great many cases of influenza of a severe and epidemic nature recently. The disease did not appear to be growing, but remained about the same. He had now on hand between 20 and 30 cases of influenza.

DR. KING—I have seventeen or eighteen cases of influenza. I have not seen any of the malignant la grippe about which there is so much talk. My cases are the result of an epidemic influenza, pain in the head and depression being the principal features. I have no serious cases. The disease has been on the increase the past few days.

DR. MCGRATH—I have only two or three cases of la grippe. I have not found the disease very excessive. There is none of it in the country, where my practice principally lies.

DR. MOHER—I have just got down to the office to day after being laid up a week with the genuine la grippe, and can't therefore say much about it at present. Before my sickness I had a few cases. That the disease is epidemic is shown by the way it runs through families.

DR. PIGEON—I have a large number of cases on hand, and they are increasing. I had eight or ten calls last night. I can scarcely call it la grippe; it is something I never saw before. The cases are evidently a mild type of influenza, beginning with a violent attack and as a general thing speedily improving. I was down with the disease myself last Saturday.

DR. SCOTT—I had 12 or 15 new cases yesterday, including some children, but I could not say any of the cases were more than ordinary colds. I have not yet seen any distinct la grippe cases.

DR. YELLAND—I have had a great many cases, and the numbe rie on the increase. I visited 15 or 20 grippe patients yesterday, all showing the same symptoms. In one house five people are down.

From the above it would appear that la grippe is not such a dreadful monster as popular fancy has created him. The disease does not appear to have struck Peterborough with much force, probably because ours is an exceptionally healthy town.

A George street druggist says his store is besieged by people after medicine for the grippe. The epidemic, whatever it is, appears to him to be universal.

Among the victims are Chief Engineer Macklin and C. W. Forbes, of the G. T. R.; H. Lebran, Jos. Mills, R. H. Fortye and many others.

The building destroyed was some distance from the main building of the asylum, but connected with it by a covered and enclosed passage. The companies opposed the action on the ground that the policies only covered the "main building," which did not include the kitchen. The Court of Appeal, however, affirms the judgment of the court below and holds that the structure burnt was part of the "main building."

Ald. John Baxter, who has served in the city council for 28 years, has resigned and will accept the post of Assistant Police Magistrate.

Yesterday morning the Morality Branch of the Police Department was informed that Mrs. Bruce Miller of 37 Stafford-street was dying, it was suspected, of criminal malpractice. The physicians in attendance, Drs. Eadie and Sweetnam, refused to allow the police to interview the woman, who died in the afternoon. Coroner Johnson will hold an inquest this afternoon. Mrs. Miller leaves a husband and family of small children behind her.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

EVERYTHING IN READINESS FOR THE SESSION.

Some of the Measures That Will Come Before Parliament—Divorce Cases for the Gay Old Senators—Railway and Other Deputations.

OTTAWA, Jan. 14.—Each train which arrives in the city brings Senators and Members of Parliament to attend to their [illegible] duties, but not until to-morrow evening will occur the great influx of legislators and pressmen. Everything is in readiness for the opening and the cards of invitation to the floor of the Senate to hear the Speech from the Throne were issued to-day. The various leading hotels are beginning to have their sessional appearances. Yesterday the Cabinet sat all-day. Another meeting is on to-day.

The applications already made for bills to be introduced this session are 91 in all, or about the same number as last year. Four are bills of divorce, over which the old Senators will have a gay time. There are 5 applications for incorporation of railway companies. There are 20 applications and 29 applications for amendments to existing charters of railway companies. There are 23 miscellaneous bills of incorporation and 14 miscellaneous bills for amendments to existing legislation.

The divorce bills are as follows: Harford Ansley v. Sabra Maud Ansley; David Clapp v. Alice M. Clapp, nee McDonald; Christina Gloon v. C. C. Gloon; Hugh Forbes Keefer v. Rebecca Ann Keefer, nee Tisdale, and Emily Walker v. A. H. Walker. The first two are made on the ground of adultery, the next on the ground of adultery and desertion and the last for desertion.

Among the railways asking incorporation are the Hamilton Junction Railway and the Niagara Falls Railway & Improvement Company. Amendments are asked for the St. Catharines & Niagara Central Railway and Toronto, Hamilton & Buffalo Railway Company. Among the miscellaneous bills is that of the Orange Order asking incorporation, and among the miscellaneous bills seeking amendments that of the Canada Southern Bridge Company.

A large delegation, accompanied by six priests, from Three Rivers called on the Government asking $60,000 subsidy to a projected railway in Sir Hector Langevin's constituency.

A deputation, composed of W. A. Shopard, Mail job department, James Murray: H. B. Brough, J. Gilman, President Typographical Union No. 91, Daw Croll, all of Toronto, and Wallace Maclean of Hamilton, waited upon Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Minister of Customs, The object of the deputation was to urge an increased duty on electrotype and stereotype plates coming into Canada. The deputation was favorably received but no definite promise was made.

Mr. A. E. Kemp of the Kemp Manufacturing Company, Toronto, interviewed the Minister of Customs to-day with reference to duties on tin. Tin plates are admitted free but the steel plates necessary to make them are charged 12½ per cent. duty. Mr. Kemp wanted this anomaly rectified.

Mr. M. J. Dee of The Detroit Evening News and F. S. Evans of Windsor saw the Minister of Customs this morning with regard to admitting free of duty one of Rogers' typographs for exhibition purposes. This is a new machine designed to supersede type setting, and these gentlemen want one admitted free in order to enable them to form a company for its manufacture, which they propose to do in Montreal. The request was granted.

For some days an enquiry has been proceeding under the conduct of Dr. Thorburn, chairman of the Civil Service examiners, as to whether any of the candidates who presented themselves at the recent examinations had obtained copies of the question papers before the examination. Suspicion has been aroused at some recent examinations that such things have been done and in some cases, though the extreme penalty of law has not been enforced and the imprisonment of those using corrupt practice in examinations been demanded, clear proof of improper uses of papers has been obtained.

The invitations for the Saturday afternoon "At Homes" at Rideau Hall during the session were issued to-day.

FIGHTING IN RIO.

A Revolt Among the Soldiers—100 Insurrectionists Shot—Many Arrests.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—A correspondent of C. R. Flint writes from Rio Janeiro under date of Dec. 23, 1889: "The outlook here is not reassuring. Last evening parts of two regiments of cavalry, infantry and artillery mutinied. They tore up the public flag and hoisted the imperial flag. It required all the other regiments and artillery to subdue them.

They fought at Sao Christovas till after 12 o'clock last night and 100 of the rebels were killed and wounded before the rest surrendered.

To-day 21 of the ring leaders were shot.

None of the commissioned officers were in the mutiny but all the non-commissioned officers were. The cause of the mutiny was dissatisfaction with the men's pay. The police are paid two milreis ($1.10) a day and the soldiers claim they were promised the same, when it was raised to not quite that amount.

It is said a number of old Conservatives and Liberals have been tampering with the soldiers and were at the bottom of last night's row. This morning early Silviera Martinz, Assis Martinz, Bayas De Lagoe, Dr. Lima Durate, Dr. Ferrire Vienna, Minister of Justice in the last Conservative ministry, and Commander Braga, one of the leading merchants of Rio, were arrested.

ALL THEIR OWN WAY.

Fourteen Government Candidates for the N. B. Assembly Returned.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Jan. 14.—Nominations throughout the province for the House of Assembly took place yesterday. Out of the 41 seats the Government claim the return of 14 supporters by acclamation. In the following lists the names of members of the last Assembly are printed in Italics, names of members of the Executive Council in SMALL CAPITALS, others in Roman. These Government supporters were elected by acclamation:

Kings—WM. PUGSLEY, George L. Taylor, Albert S. White.

"DOWN WITH ENGLAND!"

WHAT EXCITED PORTUGUESE ARE SAYING.

The Mob Creating an Uproar in Lisbon—Senhor Pimental Forms a Cabinet—Portugal Sends a Circular Note to the Powers Relative to the Dispute.

LISBON, Jan. 14.—The King has accepted the resignation of Senhor Gomez, and has charged Senor Pimental to construct a cabinet. There is a movement for the formation of a patriotic league to put into operation an international boycott against English commerce. Crowds of students in the streets near the Cortes are shouting, "Viva Portugal!" "Viva Pinto!"

At Oporto a public meeting has been called to protest against submission to English demands.

At 11 p.m. the streets were still thronged with processions bearing the national flag. These visited and cheered every legation in the city except the English. Especial demonstrations of good will were made at the Spanish, French and Austrian embassies. The papers generally give the highest praise to the support received from France, Spain and Austria.

Senhor Gomez at the session of the chamber of peers yesterday made a full statement of the recent negotiations with England. He expressed regret that he had been unable to consult the Cortes in consequence of the rapid and sudden development of events. He declared he had always sought to maintain an agreeable understanding with England and hoped the divergent views of the two countries might yet be reconciled. He had done all that lay in his power to maintain the dignity of Portugal without compromising its interests. Senhor Gomes has personally expressed to the British minister his regrets at the insults offered to him. The government officially assured the minister that the escutcheon would be replaced, all damage repaired, and all persons concerned in the outrage punished.

The Dia says Senhor Pimental belongs to a party whose tradition is that it always agrees with England in all colonial enterprises. He may succeed for this reason in a case where Gomes failed, because he was regarded as a systematic enemy of Great Britain and an auxiliary of Germany. Many shops were closed yesterday in consequence of the agitation on the streets. The patriotic demonstrations were in favor of Pimental. The rioting students yesterday endeavored to force an entrance into the chamber of deputies; but only a deputation was admitted for the purpose of presenting to the president a patriotic resolution. When this was presented the students were excluded and the gates barricaded.

Keeping up the Excitement.

LISBON, Jan. 14.—The demonstrations of students continue to keep the city unquiet. To-day they veiled the statues of the old Portuguese navigators around the Camoens monument as a sign of national mourning. The crowd looked on with sympathy and shouted "Down with England!" "Down with the pirates!" General Vasco de Guerdes, Governor of the Indies, has been appointed Minister of War and will come home at once.

Portugal's Complaint.

LISBON, Jan. 14.—The Government sent a circular note to the powers Monday relative to the dispute with England. It alleges England did not wait for the reply of Senhor Gomez of Jan. 10 to the note of Lord Salisbury but submitted her ultimatum on mere reports that Serpa Pinto had disobeyed telegraphic orders sent him by the Portuguese Government in compliance with the wishes of Salisbury. Pinto, the note says, quitted Nyaseland and the Shire district three weeks ago, sometime prior to the sending of the orders, and is now sick at Mozambique. The note further said Gomez never alluded to arbitration during the negotiations but suggested throughout the holding of an international conference to settle the difficulty.

Sympathy For Portugal.

MADRID, Jan. 14—Nearly all the Madrid papers sympathize with Portugal, and declare the conduct of England unjustifiable.

The cabinet has decided to reinforce the garrisons of all the posts on the Portuguese frontier, and to instruct the authorities to be prepared for eventualities.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—Several papers here discuss England's demands upon Portugal, and condemn the menacing attitude taken in support of them.

A British Consulate Attacked.

OPORTO, Jan. 14.—Noisy crowds wandered through the streets last nights cheering for the independence and integrity of Portugal, and shouting "Down with England." A crowd attacked and stoned the British consulate. The authorities have placed a guard at the consulate.

Portugal's New Cabinet.

LISBON, Jan. 14.—The new Cabinet is constituted as follows:

President, Minister of the Interior and ad interim Minister of War—A. De Serpa Pimental.
Minister of Justice—Senhor Logronas.
Minister of Finance—Senhor Branco.
Minister of Marine—Senhor Arroy.
Minister of Foreign Affairs — Senhor Ribeiro.
Minister of Works—Senhor Aronca.

Senhor Pimental had an interview with the King.

The mails from Mozambique confirm the report that the country along the course of the Zambesi is tranquil. Lieut. Cordon passed through the whole Sanhal district subjecting the rulers to the authority of Portugal. They were rejoiced at the Portuguese assurances that Portugal would prevent other tribes from raiding their country. The expedition suffered a great deal and endured much privations. All hands lived for 43 days on putrid buffalo meat. No force was used and not a shot was fired. Sultan Macangire is expected at Quillimane to ratify his vassalage to the King of Portugal. Gangembauan is preparing for war with Binguana, but the Portuguese officials at Inhambane hope to avert the conflict.

Stanley Calls on the Khedive.

CAIRO, Jan. 14.—Henry M. Stanley, arrived here to-day and called on the Khedive.

The Times' Brief Refused.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Sir Edward Clark, Solicitor-General, has refused to accept the leading brief for The Times in the action for libel brought against that paper by Mr. Parnell. He bases his refusal on the ground that he is a law officer of the Crown.

Preferred Death to Siberia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 14.—Col. Voicikoff, an officer of the Czar's Bodyguard, and some other officers of the same corps have committed suicide. It is supposed they were implicated in a recently discovered plot against the life of the Czar. It is reported the Czar's brother the Grand Duke Sergius will shortly be banished from the capital for meddling with politics.

Bismarck's Iron Hand.

ZANZIBAR, Jan. 14.—Owing to the extreme pressure put upon him by the Germans the Sultan has accepted their terms for the rent of the customs duties on the German coast line.

Four Children Suffocated.

ERIE, Pa., Jan. 14.—Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rogalinski left their four children at home to-night with Mrs. Rogalinski's brother while they made a call. The little ones' uncle was intoxicated and he laid his lighted pipe on the bed in which the children were sleeping. The bed took fire and the house was nearly consumed. The drunken man escaped as did Mary Towlinski, the owner of the house, but the children were all suffocated. Their names are Mary, aged 5; Charlie, 4; Helena, 3, and Annie, 1.

A Big Artesian Well.

WOONSOCKET, R.I., Jan. 14.—The flow from the great artesian well at this place has been checked at last. A lake covering 40 acres has been formed in lower town and the damage to property will not be less than $40,000. The well is the most powerful in the world and now a solid 6-inch stream is thrown 150 feet high with only half pressure turned on.

A Big Storm on the St. Lawrence.

OGDENSBURG, Jan. 11.—A terrible wind and snow storm has prevailed here for the past 24 hours. Twelve vessels wintering at this port broke loose and were driven out into the St. Lawrence. The schooner Beals, loaded with wheat, has not been recovered and all the vessels have been damaged.

MR. CHAPLEAU INTERVIEWED.

The Secretary of State Talks to a New York Reporter.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The World to-day contains the following: J. A. Chapleau, Secretary of State for Canada, the leader of the French-Canadian race, is a man of striking and distinguished appearance. His charming manners, his melodious voice, his eagle-like eye and classic countenance, set off by long, wavy hair—the style of which is imitated by every barkling French politician in the Province of Old Canada—and his magnetic presence all combine to make him a remarkable man. Mr. Chapleau was yesterday stopping at the Brunswick in this city, where he was seen by a World reporter.

"When I left the position of Prime Minister of the Province of Quebec," said Mr. Chapleau, with some earnestness, "I did so voluntarily to accept the portfolio of Secretary of State for Canada, and I was then supported by fifty-three out of sixty-five counties in that Province. And yet it might not be seemly for me to make predictions as to the future of the country. My views are these: The people generally, French and English, are perfectly happy under the present condition of affairs, and exceedingly hopeful for the future of the country. In fact, the strides that Canada has made within the last ten years have been such as to satisfy every one but the most unreasonable. Of course it is unnecessary to say that the good feeling which had existed from the time of Sir George Cartier down to the unfortunate outbreak of 1885 in the Northwest, succeeded by the other outbreak in the Province of Quebec under Mr. Mercier, has been disturbed. Up to the Riel rising and the Mercier agitation, the harmony between the people of different races and creeds in Canada was really all that could be desired. The agitation for the pardon of Riel was taken as a political lever in the Provinces of Quebec to unite the French Canadians into what they call the National party, or Nationards, which is not quite the same thing.

"The reaction by the extreme Protestant party against the French National combination, which reaction I feared and predicted at the time, has now called into existence what is called the party of Equal Rights, who have begun to agitate for the abolition of all the privileges which before my compatriots were allowed to possess in peace. The Nationalists, under Mercier, are anti-British in the sense that they believe that the French and Catholic minority in the Dominion of Canada do not receive justice at the hands of the English and Protestant majority. The Nationalists are naturally anti-federalists; and if some of their leaders have expressed opinions in favor of the independence of their fellow-countrymen, it is not and it could not be the wish of the French-Canadian for the independence of Canada as a whole, because then these very Nationalists, deprived of any appeal to England from the acts of the majority, would, from their own point of view, be in a worse position than they are now.

"But the Equal Righters are as anti-French as the Nationalists are anti-British, and in the sense that they believe that the English minority in the Province of Quebec has not the full measure of justice under Mr. Mercier's Government. Both these parties will necessarily, and very shortly, dwindle to insignificance. Created only by the exigencies of party tactics and for party purposes, they will disappear when the development of politics will have shown their dishonesty and their emptiness.

"As to annexation," said Mr. Chapleau in reply to a question, "I must say that the French-Canadian population as a whole is entirely opposed to annexation. There is, to them, a great guarantee in a Catholic country like the Province of Quebec; and it has been shown in the past that the hierarchy in the Church, that is to say, the great and influential body of the bishops, is essentially loyal to the Crown, and will control and prevent any partial movements that might be made towards the dismemberment of the British Empire and the political union with a country where the same concessions would not be granted. We believe, in Canada, that we can grow and expand peaceably and healthily under the political conditions that exist there, leaving to time and uncontrollable events to fix the date when our country shall arrive at the age of majority and be emancipated.

"The utopia of the Equal Rights party to impose only one language upon the people of Canada and to forcibly unify the different national elements of the Dominion, is as absurd as would be the idea of forcing the different elements of nature, which in due time unite together and create the various products of the earth. Time is the only agent, and forced processes only prevent and retard what time would ultimately accomplish."

"Will there be any legislation inaugurated by your Government this session touching our international relations or looking to a settlement of the fisheries question?"

"I think not."

"And you think, Mr. Chapleau, that American statesmen are mistaken when they assert, as Mr. Chauncey Depew asserted lately, that Canada was like a ripe plum, which would fall into our lap if we only waited?"

"If Canada is ripe for anything it is certainly not ripe for a fall into your lap, or anywhere else, but ripe to go alone by herself. It may be ripe for self-government, and under our free institutions the people have had sufficient experience of self-government to be prepared to accept it whenever the destiny of the country brings it about."

SET FIRE TO A SLEEPING MAN.

Kerosene Poured on His Shoes and Trousers and Ignited.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—John Moore, aged 22 years, of No. 437 West Thirty-ninth-street, and Patrick Connelly, aged 18 years, who lives in the same house, were arrested and locked up in the West Thirty-seventh-street police station last night, charged with a brutal and inhuman act. Thomas Callamore of No. 610 West Thirty-seventh-street, the complainant, alleges that on the night of Jan. 5 the young ruffians found his brother Robert of No. 426 West Thirty-ninth-street lying asleep on top of a coal-box near his home. They procured a quantity of kerosene oil, which they poured over his shoes and the bottom of his trousers and then set fire to it.

The oil blazed up and awoke Callamore, who was badly burned about the feet and ankles before he succeeded in extinguishing the flames. He was also badly burned about the hands in his endeavors to put the fire out. His cries for assistance brought a policeman, who summoned an ambulance and had him taken to the hospital.

The injured man was subsequently removed to the Charity Hospital on Ward's Island and will remain there for several weeks. The complainant visited his brother and was told by the physician attending him that he would lose the use of one foot and perhaps both. He then laced the matter before the police and the arrests followed.

Lord Napier a Victim of La Grippe.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Lord Napier of Magdala died to-day from influenza.

Lord Napier was born in 1810 and served with distinction in a number of wars in which Great Britain was engaged, his most brilliant campaigning being in connection with the capture of Pekin, the Abyssinian expedition and the capture of Magdala.

A Railway Collision in England.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—A train containing miners on their way to work collided with some trucks on the railway at Chesterfield. Seventy miners were injured.

The Panama Canal.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—The Paix says the President of the French Commission sent to investigate the affairs of the Panama Canal Company on the Isthmus in a speech at Aspinwall declared the canal would be completed.

Editor McHugh's Sentence.

DUBLIN, Jan. 14.—P. A. McHugh, proprietor of the Sligo Champion, was to-day convicted of publishing boycotting notices and was sentenced to four months' imprisonment without labor. He was also required to find sureties that he would not repeat the offence, or to be imprisoned for two months' additional.

Hydrophobia From a Cat's Bite.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Jan. 14.—Miss Ida Spencer died of hydrophobia at Dayton from the bite of a cat. Several weeks ago a mad stone was applied and adhered at the time.

Fighting Editors.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 14.—In a street fight at Macon, Mo., this evening between two newspaper editors a United States marshal, his deputy and one editor were fatally shot.

A Fatal Explosion.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—At Festiniog, Wales, the gas works exploded to-day. The manager was blown to atoms, and many persons were injured.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

KUNZE IN GREAT LUCK.

THE LITTLE GERMAN GRANTED A NEW TRIAL.

Burke, Coughlin and O'Sullivan Sentenced to Imprisonment for Life at Hard Labor and Hustled Off by Night to the Penitentiary.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Judge McConnell this afternoon granted the application of Kunze for a new trial, but denied the motion as to the other defendants, Coughlin, Burke and O'Sullivan.

Burke, Coughlin and O'Sullivan were then asked by Judge McConnell: "Have you anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced upon you in accordance with the verdict?"

Coughlin arose quickly at the judge's words and said: "I am innocent. I was convicted by perjury." Before resuming his seat Coughlin reached over and shook hands with Kunze.

O'Sullivan was as cool as though in his own icehouse. There was not a tremor in his voice as he said: "I haven't much to say, but I have this to say: I protest my innocence. I am innocent before God and man and I feel certain that the day will come when my innocence will be vindicated. I was convicted by a prejudiced jury, perjury and public clamor. I want it understood that I am not pleading for mercy nor for sympathy: I am only asking for justice, and justice I did not have. If I am guilty, then the State did not have justice; if I am innocent, then I have not had justice. That is all I have to say."

Burke in his turn arose, and his voice was slightly unsteady as he addressed the court, saying: "Your Honor, I am innocent. I always understood that in England they put perjured witnesses on the stand to convict innocent men, but I never thought they would do it in America."

O'Sullivan, Burke and Coughlin, were then ordered to stand up and were each sentenced to imprisonment for life at hard labor in the State Penitentiary at Joliet. Mittimuses for their transfer to the penitentiary were made out by Clerk Lee and placed in Sheriff Matson's hands. The convicts were taken to the penitentiary to-night.

They were handcuffed together, Burke being in the middle. O'Sullivan took the matter bitterly to heart and wept a little, Burke laughed, Coughlin was furious. The sheriff, a police captain, two officers and three deputy sheriffs constituted the guard to the depot. At Joliet, where the train arrived about midnight, the prisoners were put into solitary confinement with the prospect before them of being brought out at 7 a.m. to be fitted into the striped prisoners' clothing.

Judge McConnell fixed Kunze's bail at $3000, in default of which he was remanded to jail.

MOORE CONVICTED.

Sentenced to 7 Years at Kingston For the Killing of Reuben Shoupe.

HAMILTON, Jan. 14.—John Moore of Glanford, who has been on trial at the assizes for killing telegraph operator Reuben Shoupe, was found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to 7 years in the penitentiary.

Adam Brown, M.P., and A. McKay, M.P., will leave to-morrow for Ottawa to be present at the opening of Parliament. Mr. Brown will bring up again his bill for the better prevention of cruelty to animals.

The funeral of the late Henry H. Fuller took place at 3 o'clock this afternoon from Bishophurst, the residence of his mother. A large number of friends and acquaintances followed the remains to Burlington Cemetery.

SEVENTEEN DEATHS.

Cold and Exposure Cause the Loss of Many Lives in Kansas.

WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 14.—Seventeen deaths from cold and exposure during the recent storms have thus far been reported from the counties of Stevens and Martin. The victims include the following: Ira Williams, Jennie Williams, Agnes Thompson, Thomas Wilson, Opie Stiles, C. Hommerville, wife and two children, C. Barrett, wife and child. Relief parties have started for the sufferers.

Blown Into the River.

UTICA, N.Y., Jan. 14.—In yesterday's storm at Round Island, St. Lawrence River, the Nims cottage with contents was blown into the river and the Taylor cottage was wrecked and boat houses and docks destroyed. The hotel at Alexandria Bay was badly damaged. The loss along the river will amount to $300,000.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Deas Convicted of Manslaughter—Kane on Trial for Murder.

TORONTO, Jan. 15.—The Court House was crowded yesterday. Louis Deas, the colored waiter of refreshments, was again in the dock, charged with the murder of Michael Birtle on Sept. 27 last. The jury took 40 minutes to consider their verdict. Shortly after noon they returned into court with a verdict of manslaughter. Sentence will probably be pronounced to-day.

The trial of Thomas Kane charged with the murder of his wife Mary Kane, was commenced before Mr. Justice Street at the assizes yesterday afternoon. The facts of the brutal crime at 158 Defoe-street last November are still fresh in the public mind. The cottage where the tragedy was enacted stands on the brink of the acclivity which ascends from the western side of the Garrison creek hollow where it is crossed by Defoe-street. On Saturday night, Nov. 16, Kane and the woman who lived with him as his wife were drinking and quarreling, and a family named Sterling, who lived next door, heard the noise, but paid little attention as it was a frequent occurrence. They went out to do some shopping and all was quiet in the Kane household. Next morning they heard a man's footstep in the cottage, and during the afternoon Kane went out several times to a neighbor's. Towards evening he reported that he had found Mrs. Kane dead, and the crime was discovered by the neighbors. The woman was lying dead on the floor of the kitchen so horribly battered up that she was scarcely recognizable. Her blood stained everything in the apartment, while her head rested in a bread pan, which was half filled with blood. A plasterer's trowel, ash shovel, smoothing iron and other articles had been used on the victim by her assailant. Considerable difficulty was had in obtaining a jury, but nothing new was elicited in the evidence. The trial will probably be concluded to-day.

The Court of Appeal yesterday gave judgment in the action brought by the Attorney-General of Ontario against the Ætna Insurance Company for the loss sustained by the burning of the laundry and kitchen of the London Asylum. The case is a test one, some fourteen companies being interested The building destroyed was some distance from the main building of the asylum, but connected with it by a covered and enclosed passage. The companies opposed the action on the ground that the policies only covered the "main building," which did not include the kitchen. The Court of Appeal, however, affirms the judgment of the court below and holds that the structure burnt was part of the "main building."

Ald. John Baxter, who has served in the city council for 26 years, has resigned and will accept the post of Assistant Police Magistrate.

Yesterday morning the Morality Branch of the Police Department was informed that Mrs. Bruce Miller of 37 Stafford-street was dying, it was suspected, of criminal malpractice. The physicians in attendance, Drs. Eadie and Sweetnam, refused to allow the police to interview the woman, who died in the afternoon. Coroner Johnson will hold an inquest this afternoon. Mrs. Miller leaves a husband and family of small children behind her.

The Court of Appeal gave judgment yesterday in the case of J. Baldwin Hands v. the Law Society. The effect of the court's decision is to disbar Hands. He has removed to New York.

TURNBULL'S

If you should give the days of the week trade names, Saturday would be clothing man's day.

Look at the clothing store news up and down the columns of the papers! Is it not so.

We could pile adjective upon hyperbole—could print with display type the most impossible statement if we choose, but we spare you.

They can all gang their ain gait, while we go on making our clothing business bigger by making it better; the only sure way and we hold our own with the best in quality, style and make with real cheapness. Our boys' Readymade clothing cannot be beaten in style, quality and price.

We had a heavy run on Ladies' Mantles last week. A lot of good goods at Bargain Prices still to select from.

Our 40c. Heavy Canadian tweeds please the eye and pockets of all.

In the name of Jack Frost—Blankets. If we could only tell you all we know of Blankets, it would be good reading. One thing we do know, and don't fear to say is, you will get more good wool and generous size in the Blankets now here at $5, than is generally offered. Blankets at $4 and $3.75 of good medium sizes.

Once more the cheapest stock of Grey Flannels and Cottons is with us. The people carry it off with more industry than ants, which is the best proof that business men have that goods are cheap.

IMPORTANT!

Remarkable Restoration to Health of Well Known Canadians whose Cases were Given up as Incurable.

From the few of the hundreds of letters we have received from those who have been restored to health and strength by the use of that wonderful discovery, Paine's Celery Compound, we make a few extracts. We hope that the thousands of Canadian men and women who are suffering from nervous and wasting diseases, will profit by these true and plain statements of facts.

D. S. Davidson, of Montreal, suffered for years with nervous dyspepsia, pain in his back, and sleeplessness. He tried doctors without relief, was losing flesh rapidly, and had about given up heart when he commenced the use of Paine's Celery Compound. "Now," he says, "I am a new man. I sleep well and my food does not hurt me."

Mr. Jas. Johnson, 302 St. Charles Bersumee Street, Montreal, was weak and nervous, had no appetite, and could not rest at night. His nerves were soothed and strengthened by Paine's Celery Compound, and he soon became well and strong.

Annie Gourley, of River Beaudette, P. Q., found the Compound a certain cure for weakness, and now feels as well as she ever did.

A customer of Harrison Bros., druggist, Hamilton, Ont., told them that he was entirely cured of nervous weakness by the use of two bottles of the Compound, after everything else has failed.

The little child of Mrs. G. E. Meredith, 76 D'Arcy St., Toronto, was cured of St. Vitus' Dance by Paine's Celery Compound.

East Peterborough Farmers.

NORWOOD, Jan. 14th.

THE EVENING MEETING

In the evening a well attended meeting was held. After the opening address by the chairman, Mr. Birdsall, Mr. Blezzard gave an address on general farming topics and the creamery in particular; Mr. Hobson on the "Requirements of the Times" and upon the importance of education for farmers' sons. Mr. Raynor spoke on the subject of the Ontario Agricultural College and the scope of its work, and the great benefit it was proving to the farmers. Mr. Fitzgibbon, varied the programme by a recitation. Mr. J. Fletcher of the Dominion Experimental Farm, spoke on the subject of window gardening.

Mr. A. J. McMillan, Emigration Commissioner for Manitoba, made an address setting forth the agricultural capabilities of Manitoba and its suitability for a home for the settler.

The Institute Meeting at Keene—Creamery Butter—The Farmers Orchard, Breeding and Feeding of Cattle.

KEENE, Jan. 14th.

A meeting under the auspices of the East Riding Institute was held at Keene to-day, there was a fair attendance, Mr. President Birdsall in the chair.

Mr. T. BLEZZARD, M.P.P., addressed himself to the subject of Cheese and Butter. Cheese was the salvation of the farmer in this vicinity, especially this year. The Dominion sent one third of the cheese—and the best too—sent to the old country. The problem in cheese making was to make it more profitable. He thought the creamery butter industry was better adapted to the mixed system of husbandry of this section. Though the beginning of the creamery system might be the more expensive, yet the process of manufacturing would be cheaper. The manufacture must become general so that a shipping lot might be got together as rapidly as possible and shipped as quickly as possible. There was, he thought, 50 per cent. more profit on the making of creamery butter than in cheese making. The profits were much larger in creamery butter than in cheese making, and it had a great advantage over butter made in the ordinary way, both in quality and quantity. In this case there was a lack of uniformity, which in packing interfered with the price. He strongly advocated the introduction of the creamery system. By this system there was an increase of cream and an increase of butter from a given quantity of cream.

Mr. HOBSON inquired, if proper conditions as to cleanliness were observed, why farmers' wives could not make as good butter as a creamery?

Mr. BLEZZARD said proper instruction would have to be given to farmers' wives. At present merchants paid a uniform price for butter irrespective of quality.

Mr. BIRDSALL, president, thought that the better way would be to make butter from the whole of the milk, and to use milk for cheese in summer and butter in winter.

Mr. JOHN CAOIL, of Auburnville, read a paper on "The Farmers' Garden and Orchard," similar to that given at Peterborough and reported in these columns.

Mr. J. J. HOBSON, of the Advisory Board of the Ontario Agricultural College repeated the address on the breeding and feeding of cattle, he gave at the Peterborough meeting.

Mr. RAYNOR in answer to a question respecting a substitute for sweet milk for calves, said the liquor from boiled hay was good.

Mr. FLETCHER in answer to Mr. Wm. Lang said the quality of Northwest beef was good and satisfactory to the English market. From the fact of the ranch interest not being permanent, Ontario farmers would be able to compete in stock raising with the Northwest.

PROF. FLETCHER spoke upon the subject of the Dominion Experimental farm system. In addition to wheat he said at Keene he referred to the wheat weevil or wheat mudge. First the mature mudge lays its egg which hatches into a grub that sucks out the life of the grain, from the point where it joins the head. The remedy for the weevil was the cleaning out of all the chaff under the threshing mills when after threshing the chrysalis is collected in immense numbers. There were millions of these insects which would develop into weevil to attack the next year's crop. Burn them. The turnip fly or flea beetle is most injurious to this crop. The best remedy, according to his experience, was land plaster and paris green—one part of paris green to 50 or 100 parts of land plaster, according to the severity of the attack. Directly the plant appears have the mixture ready and sprinkle on with the dew. These insects attack the seed leaves on the first two leaves that appear and that means the death of the plant. The green cabbage worm was the caterpillar of the white butterfly. It would'n't do to put Paris Green upon cabbage leaves because we eat the leaves. There is a remedy known by the trade name of insect powder. Mix this powder in the proportion of one pint to five or six of wheat flour. This applied to cabbages would kill these worms, while it would not be injurious to human beings. The speaker said that farmers could have taste made of their seed by sending post free, samples to the Experimental Farm at Ottawa. The test as to whether the seed is good or bad, will be made within ten days, and the results forwarded to the correspondent. The farmer can thus find out whether the seed is worth sowing. In answer to a question, Mr. Fletcher pointed out the importance of planting ash, suitable for implements, which was becoming scarce. Experiments were made at Ottawa to show the best means of growing trees from seed—in general trees could be grown almost as rapidly and more satisfactorily from seed than from plants. Pointed remarks were made as to the crying need of tree planting, so much so that the Ontario Government wisely gives a bonus for it. For wind-breaks, which were of the highest value for protecting stock and fruit trees, several kinds which made good wind-breaks were mentioned. Cedar was of slow growth; balsam firs grew more rapidly, but did not live long; spruce grew more slowly, but lived longer. A good screen was an alternate row of maple and ash. The best plan to grow trees from seeds was to follow nature and plant as nature planted.

ROTATION OF CROP.

Mr. RAYNOR spoke on the rotation of crops with an especial view to cleaning the soil of noxious weeds. Manure ploughed under deeply did not benefit barley, which was shallow rooted. But put clover on, the deep roots penetrate and draw up the growth elements of the manure, which is stored up in the plant, and if this clover is turned under, the soil is rich, and this was an example of the benefit of rotation. The benefit of summer fallowing was shown, it not only cleaned the soil for weeds, but opened up the soil to the absorption of elements of fertility from the soil, and renders insoluble elements available for plant growth. Green sowings, the ploughing under of green crops, cleaned the soil. Ploughing under buck wheat was one of the best ways of destroying the couch grass. The green crop soon late taken up elements of growth not loose during the summer which are returned to the soil. Another way of using selling crops was to feed them on the ground—say by sheep in moveable pens. Injudicious rotation, deep rooted crops should follow shallow rooted crops and vice versa.

The cleansing, antiseptic and healing qualities of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy are unequalled. h

Peculiarities of the Hair.

There are times when all persons require to pay some particular attention to the hair. To rekindle the life or energy of the roots is a simple matter if taken in time. Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic will do the word, it works in accordance with nature, supplys fresh nourishment to the glands keeper, the hair luxuriant and natural in shade. Be sure to get, you cannot afford to miss it. Every druggist sells it. It is money well spent. See Dorenwends advertisement in another column.

Coughs, Colds, Croup.

Allen's Lung Balsam was introduced to the public after its merits for the positive cure of such diseases had been fully tested. It excites expectoration and causes the Lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; changes the secretions and purifies the blood; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours' time, if not of too long standing. It contains no opium in any form and is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child. There is no real necessity for so many deaths by consumption when Allen's Lung Balsam will prevent it if only taken in time. For Consumption, and all diseases that lead to it, such as Coughs, neglected Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and all diseases of the Lungs, ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is the Great Modern Remedy. For Croup and Whooping Cough it is almost a specific. It is an old standard remedy, and sold universally at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. The 25-cent bottles are put out to answer the constant call for a Good and Low-Priced COUGH CURE. If you have not tried the Balsam, call for a 25-cent bottle to test it.

THE DIAMOND BUTTON

FROM THE DIARY OF A LAWYER AND THE NOTE BOOK OF A REPORTER.

By BARCLAY NORTH.

(Copyrighted, 1889, by O. M. Dunham. Published by special arrangement through The American Press Association.)

"Suppose I should find a clothes dealer who sold a similar suit too large for the man who bought it, and didn't care for the vest, on the day, or the day previous to the murder, or thereabouts?"

"Tom, I beg your pardon."

"Correct. The easiest way to find such a man and such a suit is to go and buy one."

"I see."

"If I had a piece of the cloth I would be happy."

"I'll get it for you."

"You can't, they won't let you cut it."

"Oh, yes, they will."

"That isn't all."

"What next?"

"I want a jeweler's description of that diamond button you found."

"I'll get that for you."

"You're a jewel yourself. When will you do it?"

"Come and see me the day after to-morrow, in the morning."

"All right. I'm off."

"Stop a minute; I want to talk now."

"What is it? I'm in a hury."

"I want to talk of the Templeton murder."

"Drive ahead."

"Sit down. What I have to say to you is more important than anything you are after."

Tom sat down.

"Have you ever heard of a young lady named Flora Ashgrove?"

"Yes, and have seen her, too."

"Do you know the set she goes with?"

"Yes."

"Do you know the men?"

"All of them."

"Who are they?"

"First, there's Henry Holbrook."

"No, he's last; go on."

"Oh, Charlie Gray, Henry Iskine, Fred Rhinehart, Jack Hardy, Elmore Brandt, Steve Ellengwood and that set."

"Can you fall in with them?"

"Easily enough, in one place or another."

"Well, so much on that head. Now, let's talk about the murder."

"My dear boy, if you want to play with me, play an open hand, no half confidences. You can't switch me off in that way."

Holbrook was annoyed.

"Tom, you are too shrewd for me. I can't say any more today on that score. But I want to say this: I am very anxious to get at the bottom of this matter. Half an hour before you came in I had determined to hunt you up. You are already engaged on the affair. I propose to retain you in the matter additionally and give you some assistance. It won't be long either before I can give it to you, but not today. When you come to me day after to-morrow I will play an open hand."

"Good. I'm off."

"No, hold on. What are you going to do to-night?"

"Nothing."

"Dine with me at 6, and afterward let us go to the Casino."

"All right, I'll do that."

"Meet me at 6 sharp at 'Del's' cafe."

"Good. Now I am off. By-by."

After Tom left the room, Holbrook went to the window and looked out.

The scene before him, however, was not what interested him. His thoughts had gone back again to that singular interview with Flora Ashgrove.

"Why shouldn't I tell Tom of that conversation?" he asked himself aloud. "He is trustworthy and shrewd. It is not like talking to a public official, and he will respect confidence. Suppose the girl is implicated! What then? No obligation rests on me to protect her from her evil deeds, if evil deeds they are? If they are not, and she is not compromised, then no harm is done. Yes, I'll tell him, and to-night."

He laughed.

"I promised myself to keep out of this affair, and here I am going in full length. So much for the influence of a pair of soft brown eyes. By George, she is a beautiful girl, Annie Templeton! A fellow could be very happy in the love of such a creature."

Then he drummed on the window, lost in pleasant castle building.

Suddenly he started with the exclamation:

"Dreaming is not work."

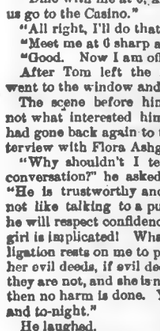
He looked at his watch.

"Half-past three; I have two hours and a half before me."

He caught his hat and hurried out.

CHAPTER IX.

A DINNER AT DELMONICO'S.



NCE in the street, he hurried to Maiden lane and entered the store of a manufacturing jeweler.

A moment later he issued with a companion, and at the corner of Broadway waited for a cab.

One was soon hailed, and the two entered and were driven to police headquarters.

He had not boasted. After a private interview with a high official the garments were brought to him and the diamond button as well.

The high official was present.

The button was shown to his companion, who was the foreman of the manufacturing jeweler.

"I want such a description written of that button as you would give another jeweler," said Holbrook.

The man looked at it curiously

"That was never made in this country."

"How do you know that?"

"How do you know that a copy of the first edition of Littleton was not printed in this country?"

"Because it was printed before this country was instituted."

"Precisely; this button was made before this country was discovered. The diamond has been inserted recently. To know this is a part of my trade. It is not in the work, in what you might call the ornamentation—no, it is in the way the button has been put together that I tell. The work on it has been imitated for many years. Do you want a technical description? It would be valuable only to another jeweler."

Holbrook meditated.

The high official looked on with interest.

Finally Holbrook spoke.

"Can you make me an imitation of that button?"

"Oh yes, pretty near; so near that only a jeweler would discover the difference."

"Stone and all?"

"The stone is the easiest part."

"Make me two then—a pair."

The high official spoke:

"But the button cannot leave here."

"I don't want it, except to get the color of the imitation metal, and the color I can put on here," replied the jeweler.

"That can be arranged," said the official.

"Then I want to see it once to match the stones."

"That also can be arranged."

While the jeweler was making notes of the button, Holbrook began a close examination of the make and style of the clothes. Having satisfied himself as to that, he turned the trousers wrong side out, and found a place where the cloth had been widely turned over at a seam. It gave a complete idea of the pattern of the cloth.

"I want to cut so much off."

The official hesitated and looked grave.

The two retired to a corner and conversed earnestly. Holbrook was persistent and energetic. The official yielded.

A pair of shears from the high official's desk did the work.

When the jeweler intimated that he had finished his work of examination, Holbrook looked at his watch; it was 5 o'clock.

"What will be the cost of these buttons?"

The jeweler named what he thought would be the sum.

"I will give you four times that amount if you will deliver them at my office at 10 o'clock, day after to-morrow."

(To be Continued.)

Weak eyes and inflamed lids indicate an impure condition of the blood. The best remedy is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It vitalizes the blood, regulates the secretions, and expels all scrofulous humors from the system. Try it. Price $1. Worth $5 a bottle.

Can be cured by purifying the blood with

I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a remedy for Scrofulous Humors. It is pleasant to take, gives strength and vigor to the body, and produces a more permanent, lasting, result than any medicine I ever used.—E. Haines, No. Lindale, O.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease.—W. F. Fowler, M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried all sorts of remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured.—Mary C. Amesbury, Rockport, Me.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, and getting no relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured.—Susan L. Cook, 909 Albany st., Boston Highlands, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I have ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach.—Millie Jane Peirce, South Bradford, Mass.

THE OLD RELIABLE.
The Canada Life
Gives further Evidence of its Remarkable Progress as will be seen from the following Extract taken from the "Shareholder:"

When the directors announced at the last annual meeting of the shareholders of the above company, held on the 3rd September last, that the new business for the twelve months ending 30th April, 1889, had reached the high figure of $5,040,188, astonishment and satisfaction at the result were the prevailing features. At that meeting it was decided to change the company's financial year in order to make it fall within the period of the calender year, the result of which would be to reduce the ensuing one in reality to eight months, that is from the first of May to the 31st December, 1889. Owing to this change it was natural to expect that the business of the company for the year, being compressed into eight months, would curtail it considerably, and such was the result looked for. We are pleased to learn, however, that on the closing of the lists for the period referred to, the company had booked new business to the extent of four millions two hundred thousand dollars, or within $840,188 of the amount secured for the preceding twelve months. Taking the average business at $525,000 per month, this would give a total of $6,300,000 for twelve months. Such an exhibition of still increasing confidence in one of our Canadian institutions is most gratifying and must prove highly encouraging. We congratulate the Canada Life Company upon this most convincing proof of its high standing with the community generally. We hope it will go on rolling up its new business at even a greater rate and that its next annual statement at the end of the current year will show the same steady increase that it has done of late years under its present excellent management. dw

The Town Loses.

Judgment was given yesterday in the High Court of Justice, Toronto, in the appeal case concerning the high license bylaw. The hotelkeepers won the case. Following is the report of the case as published in the city papers :—

RE CROFT AND TOWN OF PETERBOROUGH—Judgment on appeal by the Town of Peterborough from an order of Rose, J. (17 O.R. 522), quashing a by law of the town imposing a high license upon sellers of intoxicating liquors. Rose, J. was of the opinion that all electors entitled to vote upon the bylaw had not been allowed to do so, giving to the word "electors" in sec. 42 of the Liquor License Act, R.S.O., ch. 194, the meaning of the word as used in sub sec. 14 of sec. 11, namely those entitled to vote at an election for a member of the Legislative Assembly. The Court dismissed the appeal with costs, not agreeing with the judgment of Rose, J., as to the meaning of the word "electors," but holding that in any view certain persons entitled were excluded from voting, and being of opinion that electors intended by the section were those entitled to vote at a municipal election. Robinson, Q.C., and E. B. [illegible] for the appellants. [illegible], Q.C., and Aylesworth for the respondent.

The Ravages of La Grippe.

The Distemper Spreading Rapidly—Peterborough now Fairly in its Grip.

The epidemic does not appear to be "letting up" in the least. From all reports it would appear that about one-half the people are laid up completely or affected more or less. There's something in the air that is making itself felt.

The disease appears to operate best in places where numbers of people are gathered. Large factories, schools and families are fastened upon with a tenacious grip.

The schools are greatly affected by an unusual amount of sickness among the pupils. The attendance is largely reduced. At the south ward school, for instance, there are seventy or eighty pupils less than ordinarily.

At the Central Iron Bridge Works twenty-six men are laid off—"and the rest are grumbling" says Mr. Law. Mr. Caddy, draughtsman, is suffering from a violent attack of la grippe.

Fifteen or twenty men of the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Works are off duty through illness.

The curling and skating rink is almost deserted on account of the prevalence of colds and influenza. Persons with colds stay away from the rink from fear of adding to their sickness.

The curlers find it difficult to get together enough men to have a game. Mr. W. G. Ferguson was to have skipped a rink against Lindsay to-day, but was taken seriously ill last night.

The village of Lakefield is convulsed. The schools have not more than half their usual attendance. A society was to have been organized there last night, but of the fifteen charter members only four or five were able to be out.

The EXAMINER office has not escaped. About half the staff are laid up or complaining of illness.

At the Auburn mills there is very little work going on, about half the employes being away through illness.

Personal.

Hon. R. Hamilton is still alive but momentarily growing weaker. His demise is not unlooked for any minute.

Mr. A. P. Poussette, Q.C., is in Sarnia in attendance upon the sick bed of his mother, who it is feared will not recover.

Mr. E. K. Ostrom returned home last night from Montreal where he has been conducting a commission business for the past three months.

If James Davey, an old American soldier, will call at the U. S. Consulate, 379 Water street, he will hear of something to his advantage.

Hon. Geo. R. Wendling is stopping at the Oriental hotel. He lectured in Toronto last night. Mayor Stevenson will occupy the chair at the lecture in the opera house to-night.

Mr. John Chambers, of Winnipeg, an old Peterborough boy, arrived in town to-day to look after his father, Mr. Thos. Chambers, who is lying very ill at the hospital. Mr. Chambers, sr., was taken sick shortly after coming to Peterborough on a visit two or three months ago, and has been in the hospital some time.

News Nuggets.

—The ratepayers of Lakefield have declared against borrowing money to establish waterworks. Their present fire engine will be retained.

—Mr. J. H. Ketcham on Monday evening organized a choral society with about seventy members at Selwyn.

—The work of repairing the damage to Mr. Peter Hamilton's machine shop is being pushed forward. A sheet iron smokestack has been erected in place of the demolished brick one.

Biblical Blunders.

Erroneous Notions Regarding the Bible —An Interesting and Instructive Lecture Tuesday Night.

It is safe to say that very few persons among the audience in the George Street Church Tuesday night ever before knew there were so many mistakes in and about the Bible as there actually are. Dr. Burns exploded some popular fallacies and gave out a large amount of information concerning the Word of God in his lecture under the auspices of the George Street Methodist Sunday School. Dr. Burns is a genial, earnest speaker, and evidently a thorough student of the Bible. He is one of the most prominent divines in the Methodist Church, and is at present stationed in Hamilton. Dr. Burns has a big, burly frame, and a massive head, shrouded in bushy, iron-gray hair and whiskers. His genial manner has a most pleasing effect on audiences. At the lecture Tuesday night he opened up the storehouse of his mind and displayed a variety and completeness of knowledge of the Bible apparently inexhaustible on the book itself. His lecture, though on a subject from which one could expect little humor to be expected, was sustained by frequent sprinklings of droll witticisms and laughable sarcasms. It combined wit and wisdom in happy proportions. He first pointed out the human element in the Bible, into which had crept many errors and discrepancies because of bad translations and poor copying. There were, he said, a hundred and fifty thousand different collations of the Bible, and the book, as we have it, was compiled from the best and most reliable of these. But in all these 150,000 manuscripts there was not the slightest difference in doctrine ; simply a few or copying at worst. Dr. Burns said in making these statements some of the old faithful might be shocked ; but it was better to be shocked than build our faith on fallacies. The Bible should be the essence of truth and accuracy, and the more investigation there was after the truth the better. He urged the study of the scriptures, and said the vast majority of Bible readers formed no adequate conception of the relation of different parts of the Bible to each other. The books should all be studied with a view to determining the time and place they were written, and their importance and position in relation to the other books. Dr. Burns briefly ran over the books of the old Testament, giving explanations concerning dates and names, which showed he was perfectly acquainted with the chronology of the Bible. It was also well to inquire into the authors of Books, for though certain books are attributed to certain writers, it does not follow that they actually wrote those books. For instance, who wrote the book of Samuel? It could not have been Samuel, for his death is recorded in the very first chapter. And David is popularly credited with the authorship of the Psalms, when it is known he did not write more than half of them. There were a great many notions extant about the Bible, a sea of errors floating about it, for which the book should not be held responsible. A general supposition is that the writers of the Bible were at all times inspired and that therefore their writings were all the

ERRORS OF TRANSLATION

UTTERANCES OF THE HOLY GHOST,

whereas in reality the individualities of the men entered into their compositions, hence some teachings of the devil himself are in the Bible, as witness the evil thoughts and actions of Moses, David, Peter, James and John. The weaknesses of the characters in the old and new Testaments are shown up. Then what about the contradictions in the Bible—for there were contradictions. Dr. Burns mentioned several apparent discrepancies, which were accounted for by careless translation or copying. These errors as far as known were set right in the revised version. The whole lecture was shown the necessity for the fullest investigation of the Bible. Let every effort be made to discover the truth, the whole truth. A great many people imagine that in studying the Bible they required a large library of reference books. Nothing of the kind. The great mass of information concerning the Bible is got from the book itself. The chronology of every passage is fixed in the Bible without the necessity of outside reference. But after all, though a person can recite every verse in the Bible, unless its doctrines becomes crystallized in our minds and realized in our lives, there is very little use in knowing the Bible. It should be made the guide of our lives, the friend of our bosom.

At the conclusion of the lecture Rev. S. J. Shorey moved a vote of thanks to Dr. Burns, which was seconded by Mr. D. W. Dumble and supported by Rev. G. H. Davis. The motion was put by Rev. M. L. Pearson, chairman, and carried with applause.

The Ladies' Presentation.

Mrs. J. B. Dixon Further Remembered—A Handsome Testimonial.

Several of the members of the Ladies Aid Society and Auxiliary Woman's Missionary Society of George street Methodist church, met together at the residence of Mrs. Wm. Bradburn, London street, on Monday evening to present Mrs. J. B. Dixon, who is removing to Toronto, with a farewell address, accompanied by the presentation of a very handsome gift. Mrs. Dixon has been a faithful worker in both of these Societies, and is at present President of the Auxiliary ; she will be greatly missed from the church of which she was so long a member and which she loved so well.

The address was read by Mrs. J. Kendry, and the presentation made by Mrs. (Dr.) Fife, President of Ladies Aid Society. Mrs. Dixon was taken completely by surprise, but made a very neat little speech in reply, as she knows well how to do.

To Mrs. J. B. Dixon, President of Auxiliary of W. M. S. and ex-President of Ladies Aid Society of George street Methodist church :

DEAR FRIEND,—A few of your many friends have met together this evening to give some expression of the love and respect entertained for you by those with whom you have been associated in church and social life during your long residence in Peterborough.

A quaint old writer has said, "Life has many cross roads," and we who have been journeying along the same path with you for many days past, realize that we have come to a cross road where we must part with one of our best loved ones for a little while. We shall miss you in every department of church work. We will miss your words of counsel in times of perplexity, your kindness and sympathy in times of trouble, and your cheery words of encouragement and hope.

Will you allow us to say to you now as you go from us that your life in Peterborough has been very helpful to many of us. We have seen your earnest endeavor to follow in the footsteps of your blessed Master, "By your fruits you have been known." We have seen you patient and cheerful, through long continued ill health, submissive in sore bereavement, a loving and gentle mother and a kind and faithful friend.

Our earnest wish and prayer for you and your family is that you may be long spared to each other and be very happy and prosperous in your new home. We are confident that you will be useful and honored in your new church relationship, and we have the sweet consolation of knowing that though separated from you by space we will oftened be joined in spirit, for

There is a scene where spirits blend—
Where friend holds fellowship with friend;
Though sundered far, by faith they meet
Around one common mercy seat.

"And what shall the afterward be"—Like ships bound for the same port that have kept company on the self same seas for many happy days, each cleaving the waves side by side, until one night an opening the breeze, and when morning dawned, lo, they had parted company in the darkness. So we who have sailed side by side on the ocean of life for many happy years may drift apart, but

Onward ! let us onward strain,
Brave barks ! in light and darkness, too,
Through winds and tides our compass guides :
To that and our own selves be true.
But O blithe breeze ! and O great seas !
Though ne'er, that earliest parting past,
On your wide plain we meet again,—
Together lead us home at last.
One port, methinks, alike we seek—
One purpose hold where'er we fare ;
O bonding breeze, O rushing seas,
At last, at last, unite us there !

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

THE RAILWAY.—There is considerable anxiety felt by the town and village people as to the coming of that railroad launch to Chemong Park. Here, we may say to many, one of our large property owners who had the casting say in that business erroneously declined the year, thinking perhaps the company saw it to their own advantages to run it in, anyway, were we to give no bonus. Alas ! he has discovered his mistake. But we are yet cherishing the opinion that one will come. If our company doesn't see a bright future by this extreme other way.

OUR ADVANTAGES.—Among the many attractions this place yields, Peterborough people alone, we might here mention a few : Business men may move with their families here for the entire summer season, and leave in the morning for their offices, then return at evening. The same also might be applied to school children. Its high situation, surrounded by breathing woods, chiefly pine, affords a pure, healthy atmosphere, and nothing but the purest cold spring water bursts from the surface. As for fishing, Chemong lake wears the crown. Other lakes, and rivers too, may boast of a big day's catch, but when it comes to an all-round season's fishing Chemong takes the lead ; and no more excellent bathing shores could a lake possess.

A COLD DIP.—David Simcoe, the Indian axe helve manufacturer, well known to the Peterborough hardware dealers, got a cold dip in the lake last Saturday night while going up the ice. It was very cold, and the skating being bad, Dave carried his steely wings in a bag slung over his shoulder, in which was also a heavy tea chest. When opposite the C.V.R. wharf, a wide expanded crack let him drop down below the surface of the water, robbing him of the bag. After a severe tussle he made good his escape and continued his course by terra firma.

THE WIND.—Wednesday night last the tempest caused fright among many Emily-more farmers who were rather late returning from market. The lake was wide open, and fearfully did the roaring waves lash the bridge, making crossing rather risky. Prudence bade them remain in the village until the moon had risen and the gale subsided, when another favorable start was made.

PERSONALS.—We are pleased to see Rev. Mr. Houck is able to be around again. Rev. Mr. Johnston officiated at the evening service Sunday in the place of Rev. Mr. Houck. Mr. John Robinson, who had been ill for over two weeks with heart disease, is, we are sorry to say very low. Master John Smith has returned from the Pacific Coast. John, spend the winter with us.

THE LAKE.—Last Friday the lake froze over for the third time this winter. It has been a novelty to the old residents to see the lake open so long at this season of the year.

Stewart's, Otonabee.

From a Correspondent.

LA GRIPPE—Several of our residents are afflicted with the Russian disease, or at least they think so. At any rate they have all the symptoms of it, but it doesn't look dangerous enough to cause any alarm.

PLUCK UP.—The students of Stewartsville University seemed very shy at their examination at the close of the year, when they couldn't make the presentation to their teacher without imposing on the good nature of their mothers. We hope they may pluck up a little more courage next time.

PERSONAL—Mr. and Mrs. McAmus, of Keene, are visiting friends here, and we noticed Mr. McAmus at Bethel church on Sunday, looking well for a gentlemen of his age. They are the guests of Mr. J. Hanbidge.

From Another Correspondent.

The correspondent had evidently forgotten the clause, the whole truth, when he reported the New Year's tea at Zion ; but we suppose he was afraid of being considered egotistical, as the most comical part of the whole affair was his own lonely tramp home through the mud. One look at his dress and gait was enough to scare away an army of girls. His clothes are the celebrated adjustable stamp—can be quickly changed for low water or high. As I write this I have a picture in my mind of a deserted looking plodder, his pants rolled up to suit high water mark, and a sort of a come-along look on his face. But never mind, he's a hustler, this same young man ; and if he can't get there himself, he knows who can, and he intends to let everybody else know, too.

The late snow storm has been the means of making times more lively around here, and the farmers are taking advantage of the sleighing for drawing out their wood and grain.

North Monaghan.

The Sunday school entertainment which was postponed from Christmas eve till Jan. 7th, was a decided success. Mr. Joseph Forster occupied the chair. The lengthy programme was well rendered, especially the children's kindergarten songs, under the superintendence of Miss Campbell. Miss Maggie Forster presided at the organ during the evening. The proceeds, which amounted to $25, are exclusively for the Union Sunday school.

From Our Own Correspondent.

A certain party from the north came into our village last Sunday night, with a horse and cutter without bells, and drove furiously through the streets, endangering the lives of the people who were going home from church. If his business is so urgent as to compel him to drive so fast, he will have to use bells, or the law will take hold of him.

Otonabee.

LOST THE BELTS.—One of the oldest threshers in Otonabee, who ran a mill for a number of years and did good work and gave satisfaction to every person he threshed for, and never put any grain over the shoe nor rose out in the head, had the misfortune of losing the belts of his machine for a while and could not find them. But he found them again and is now threshing away better than ever.

"La Grippe" or Lightning Catarrh.

MR. EDITOR,—"La Grippe," or Russian influenza, as it is termed, is in reality an epidemic catarrh, and is called by some physicians "lightning catarrh," from the rapidity with which it sweeps over the country. Allow us to draw the attention of your readers to the fact that Nasal Balm, as well as being a thorough cure for all cases of the ordinary cold in the head and catarrh, will give prompt relief in even the most severe cases of "La Grippe," or Russian influenza, as it will effectually clear the nasal passages, allay irritation and relieve the dull, oppressive headache accompanying the disease. No family should be without a bottle of Nasal Balm in the house, as cold in the head and catarrh are peculiarly liable to attack people at this season of the year, and Nasal Balm is the only prompt and speedy cure for these troubles ever offered the public. Easy to use and agreeable. If you cannot get it at your dealers, it will be sent, post free, on receipt of price (50 cents and $1 per bottle) by addressing FULFORD & Co., Brockville, Ont. eodw

Fashion's Latest Freak.

Occasionally fashions start in New York and swing through to popularity at a pace that attracts the attention even of people who have no direct interest in the attire of women. Such a movement occurred last year with the Jane Hading veil. The most obtuse of men discovered that a new veil had come to town, and began to talk about it within a month after Mme. Hading's arrival. Since that time nothing has come up which approached the sudden popularity of the veil until the little capes, which are just now affected by women, came to the surface. The cape, though a single garment, looks as though composed of five or six capes, each one an inch or two shorter than the other. They are patterned apparently after the ones that have been worn by coachmen for the last eight or ten years in New York, and the fashion is said to have been set by Lady Beresford, the wife of one of the most enthusiastic coaching men in Great Britain. They are exceedingly pretty and effective, and they seem to please the men. Perhaps this is one of the results aimed at.—New York Star.

A Quarry of "Serpentine" Marble.

Grand Rapids capitalists are busy prospecting the Verde Antique marble quarry, which they have discovered near Ishpeming in the upper peninsula, and thorough tests show that an inexhaustible ledge of the finest "serpentine" yet known on the continent, better even than the old Greek quarry now worked out, has been found. It is close to the railroad, and Chicago, New York and Boston marble dealers are enthusiastic in the extreme over the discovery, and say that hundreds of thousands of cubic feet will be wanted annually. The work of developing the quarry will be pushed as early as possible next spring.—Grand Rapids (Mich.) Telegram.

A Chapel on Wheels.

The bishop of North Dakota is having a car built in which to make his episcopal visitations. Spare beds and accommodation for strangers are so scarce in his district that he finds it necessary thus to imitate the actors, and find himself in bed and shelter. The bishop's traveling car is to be a chapel on wheels as well as an itinerant house, and he expects not only to hold service in it, but to have it the social meeting place of the more scattered members of his flock.—Montreal Star.

Celluloid for Ships' Bottoms.

In experiments made in France, where plates of celluloid were used for sheathing ships' bottoms instead of copper, it was found that the plates were intact and free from marine growth, which was abundant on parts not protected by the celluloid.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

NO AMENDMENT TO BE MOVED TO THE ADDRESS.

The Provincial Elections Keep the Members From the Maritime Provinces at Home—The Movers and Seconders of the Address.

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—The attendance at the opening of Parliament to-morrow afternoon promises to be somewhat smaller than has been the case for the past two or three years. The provincial elections now going on in Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick will keep the members of the Commons, of both sides of the House, in their constituencies until they are over. So far the only member of Parliament who has arrived from either of these two provinces is Mr. Welch, familiarly known as "Cap."

The trains from Winnipeg and the far west are running about 24 hours late, and this fact will also deter some from hearing His Excellency deliver the Speech from the Throne.

The train due at 4 p.m. yesterday from the west did not arrive until near midnight. On board were Messrs N. F. Davin, M.P., who brought with him a satchel filled with mushrooms picked from the prairie near Regina the day before he left; Col. Prior, M.P., Victoria, B.C., and the new member for that city who takes Mr. Baker's place, Mr. Thomas Earle. The Manitoba, Northwest and British Columbia members contemplate giving a dinner during the session, the eatables to be entirely the products and manufacture of these two Provinces and Territories.

The Mover and Seconder in the Senate.

This morning Major Boulton, Manitoba's new Senator, arrived from Toronto. He has been asked and consented to move the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne in the Senate, and Senator Prowse of Prince Edward Island has been asked to second it.

Things looked lively around the House to-day, everything being ready and in working order to receive those whose principal abode it will be for the next three months.

Hon. Alex. Mackenzie and Mrs. Mackenzie are expected to-night.

Hon. E. Blake is here on the Canadian Pacific Railway arbitration case, which will adjourn to-morrow and next day at an hour to permit him to attend the opening and hear the debate on the address. It is not at all likely that any amendment will be moved, the speeches being confined to Mr. Pope and Mr. Earle, who will move and second the address, the criticism of Mr. Laurier and the answer of Sir John Macdonald.

Reduced to Outports.

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—An order-in-council has been passed reducing a number of customs ports to outports. Dunnville becomes an outport of Hamilton; Kingsville, with its sub-ports of Leamington and Southport, Pelee Island, become outports of Amherstburg; Colborne, or Cramahe, becomes an outport of Cobourg; Clarenceville and Frelighsburg become outports of St. Johns, Que.; Dundee, with its sub-ports of St. Regis and Trout River, becomes outports of Montreal; Russelltown, with its outport of Athelstane, becomes a port of Hemmingford.

THIS WAS NOT IN IRELAND.

A Boston Constable's Alleged Cruelty to a Dying Woman.

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—Mrs. Carroll, a widow with three children, has lived at No. 89 North-street for some time past and has supported herself by washing. About three weeks ago she had to take to her bed, suffering from consumption. For the past two weeks she had not had enough money to pay her rent. Last evening she died.

From the story told by her children to Police Capt. Cain to-day, it would seem that her death was hastened by the cruel work of a constable, who, it is alleged, went to the house yesterday afternoon and demanded that Mrs. Carroll should either pay the rent or leave the apartments. According to the story told by the children, it seems that the eldest child was at work over the kitchen fire when the constable came in, making positives for her mother, who had an abscess on her neck. Without ceremony the constable knocked off the covers of the stove, threw water on the fire and then put the stove and furniture out in the yard. As the mother was in a serious condition, the excitement and being left in the cold caused her death a few hours after the constable left.

The 12-year-old girl, a bright little child, told the story to Capt. Cain, who put Sergt. Boynton at work to investigate and see if the story were true. Boynton found everything as the child told the captain. Mrs. Carroll was once well to do, but a Boston defaulter five years ago ran off with all her savings.

A Peaceful Resolution.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—In the Senate to-day Mr. Sherman (Rep., O.), from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported the following concurrent resolution:

Resolved—That the President is hereby requested to invite, from time to time as fit occasions may arise, negotiations with any Government with which the United States has or may have diplomatic relations, to the end that any differences or disputes between the two governments that cannot be adjusted by diplomatic agencies may be referred to arbitration and be peacefully adjusted by such means.

Paulson No Match for McCormick.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 15.—McCormick won the 5-mile race over Ale x Paulson with ease in 17.54½. Paulsen fell down in the second lap and lost 100 feet, but it was the judgment of those who saw the race that Paulsen was no match for McCormick.

To Adopt the Scrutin de Liste.

QUEBEC, Jan. 15.—It is announced in political circles that the Mercier administration are contemplating the adoption of the French "scrutin de liste" system for future elections in large cities like Quebec and Montreal.

Quarreled About Money.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 15.—Joseph Volinski and John Voshalia, Hungarians, attacked Joseph Losko, a fellow-countryman, with an iron bar, killing him. They quarreled about money. The murderers were arrested.

Sought by a Syndicate.

KINGSTON, N.Y., Jan. 15.—It is rumored that an English syndicate is negotiating for the purchase of the Saugerties paper mills and blank book manufactory, which recently failed for $1,500,000, and is now in the hands of a receiver.

Black Measles in Kentucky.

FORDSVILLE, Ky., Jan. 15.—The black measles is epidemic here. Mrs. Mitchell and two children have died and Mr. Mitchell is in a critical condition. Over 100 cases are reported.

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES.

BUSTON'S CRIMINAL LIBEL CASE ON TRIAL.

Damaging Evidence Against the Titled Complainant Met Boldly by His Denial—The Excitement in Lisbon Subsiding—Monarchies in Danger.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The case of the Earl of Euston against Editor Parks of The North London Press, for criminal libel in charging that the Earl was implicated in the West End scandal, came up for trial here to-day. Sir Charles Russell, counsel for the Earl, said he would prove Parks had published a libel. Mr. Lockwood, for the defence, censured Sir Charles for withholding the Earl from cross-examination at the preliminary hearing until the evidence for the defence was given. Mr. Lockwood declared the Earl had shirked going into the witness box and preferred to rely upon Sir Charles' attack upon the witnesses for the defence, who were necessarily tainted.

A coal dealer named McLaughlin, living 27 yards from Hammond's house in Cleveland-street, a railway porter named Grinley, a bar man named O'Loughlin and Hannah Vergen, residing opposite Hammond's, were called to identify the Earl as a visitor at Hammond's. After some hesitation, the Earl meantime standing, they said they had seen him enter the house on different occasions.

Sir Charles commented upon the hesitation shown by the witnesses and declared their indentification was valueless.

John Saul testified that in May, 1887, he met the Earl in Piccadilly and drove with him to Hammond's house, where they consummated criminal action.

The Earl of Euston testified that, with the exception of the time when, in consequence of receiving the "pose plastique" card in Piccadilly, he visited Hammond's house and left indignant upon learning its true character, he was never in Cleveland-street in his life. He did not know the witness Saul and denied he had made any of the visits to Hammond's house that were testified to by the preceding witnesses.

MAKING ITSELF FELT.

The Growth of Republicanism in Portugal—The King's Dilemma.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—A Portuguese gentleman holding a diplomatic position here, but a strong republican, has received a letter from Lisbon, written before the crisis now prevailing there, which throws light on the events which led to it. The writer says: The republicans of all shades of opinion recently held a meeting, at which a resolution was unanimously adopted declaring that not one jot of Portugal's rights or territory in Africa should be conceded to England. A petition was drawn up and presented to King Carlos urging him to maintain a firm attitude and informing him that a union had been affected throughout the kingdom between republicans and monarchists to oppose any agreement with England that would compromise the interests and the honor of Portugal.

Reply was made on behalf of the King that Portugal was not in a position to go to war with England, and that it would be better to make a peaceful settlement, even though concession was made, so long as honor was maintained. This brought forth an answer from the republicans warning the King that any concession whatever would be fatal to the monarchy. The King is in a fearful dilemma, and he would not hasten his downfall by an act which would disgrace him before the nation.

The writer of the letter says that the republican party was never stronger in Portugal than it is now. It has ninety-seven associations, containing in all 18,000 active members. The republican party is divided into four groups—the nationalists, the radicals, the federalists and the socialists. The lines of demarcation between these groups are not strictly drawn. The divisions lap over into each other, and in case of a great emergency the party can easily become one. The federalists advocate the union of Portugal and Spain and the formation of the Iberian Republic, embracing the entire peninsula. The other groups belong to the positivist school, and are allied with the positivists of Brazil. The republicans of Portugal are more numerous in the provinces than in the cities, but are fast increasing in number in Lisbon, Oporto, Villa, Real and Aveira. In Lisbon people in the smaller branches of industry are enthusiastic republicans. Only a small majority of the workmen are republicans.

Excited by a Canard.

LISBON, Jan. 15.—There was tremendous agitation here to-day because the papers announced the arrival of the British fleet in the Tagus and the departure of the British Minister to-morrow. Nothing of this is known at the British legation. Students from Coimbra to-day paraded with the Lisbon students and presented an address to Senhor Pimental. The excitement is now dying out.

Returned the Bauble.

LISBON, Jan. 15.—The Duke of Palmella, captain of the King's Guard, has sent to the British legation the Crimean medal received by him while serving in the British army.

United Against England.

LISBON, Jan. 15.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day Senhor Pimental said: "The Government has taken office in a grave emergency. Portugal has right on her side but Great Britain has might. The Government will uphold the rights of the nation. Never losing sight of the nation's honor it will protect its interests so far as it is possible and its dignity absolutely. It will maintain the best possible relations with other powers." He then announced a ministerial program including various reforms and said: "The ministers will not demand the support of the majority as they are aware it cannot be given."

Senhor Blirao, the late Minister of Justice, said: "The majority is without confidence in the political theories of the Ministry, but will loyally aid it in the settlement of all problems involving the honor and dignity of the country."

The Monarchies Endangered.

LONDON, Jan. 15. — It is reported that several European statesmen friendly to England have expressed to Lord Salisbury their fears that his action in the Portuguese dispute will afford a pretext for republican activity in Spain and Portugal that will endanger the monarchies there.

LISBON, Jan. 15.—The Queen Dowager has implored the King of Italy to use his influence with England to secure the moderation of demands that imperil the Portuguese throne.

Emin Bey Suffers a Relapse.

CAIRO, Jan. 15.—Emin Bey has had a relapse and is now in a critical condition.

ZANZIBAR, Jan. 15.—Copious discharges from Emin Pasha's ear indicating perhaps an abscess in the brain have begun again. The doctors are anxious to get him to London to perform an operation, but the weather prevents his removal.

It is confirmed that Baron Gravenreuth's party have not been captured.

Spanish Sympathy Suppressed.

MADRID, Jan. 15.—It was proposed to hold a great demonstration here Sunday to express sympathy with Portugal, but the Government has forbidden it lest it should encourage the republicans.

By Way of Berlin.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—The Kreuz Zeitung is informed that Lord Salisbury has not only demanded from Portugal satisfaction and reparation for the outrages against English authority in Africa, but has also insisted upon some guarantee against a repetition of such high handed proceedings as those of Pinto, which it is now believed were deliberately planned between the Portuguese home Government and the authorities at Quillimane.

Disquieting News From Brazil.

LISBON, Jan. 15.—Advices from Brazil are disquieting. It is said the brother of the present Minister of Agriculture, four ex-ministers, three senators and several deputies have been arrested as implicated in the attempted revolt of Dec. 16. The provisional government has ordered that the calendar with saints' names for each day be supplanted by Comte's Positivists' calendar which substitutes names of eminent men for the saints' names divides the year into 13 months and names the months after Moses, Homer, Shakespeare, Dante, etc.

A Collision at Sea.

ANTWERP, Jan. 15.—The steamer Pennland, from New York, arrived here to-day slightly damaged. She collided with and sunk the brig Prince Alfred of Dungun Monday. The crew of the brig were rescued.

And the Earth Quaked.

VIENNA, Jan. 15.—Several earthquake shocks were felt in Corinthia last night. At the theatre at Klagenfurt when the shock occurred a false alarm of fire was raised and the audience became panic stricken and fled. No one was hurt.

Church and State.

ROME, Jan. 15.—The Pope has issued an Encyclical which sets forth the principles which shall guide Catholics in their relations towards the State. The Encyclical says they must obey when such a course does not entail disobedience to divine laws. In countries where the State opposes Catholicism, Catholics must combat the enemy but must not tie the Church to any political party.

His Worship of Wexford's Sentence.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Edward Walsh, Mayor of Wexford and proprietor of the newspaper The People, has been sentenced to two months imprisonment for publishing a boycott notice.

Smallpox in Saxony.

DRESDEN, Jan. 15.—Thirty deaths from smallpox are reported in Saxony.

SENATORIAL OLD MAIDS.

A Squabble at Washington Over the Russian Extradition Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The Senate in executive session to-day discussed for 1½ hours the Russian extradition treaty and finally recommitted it to the Committee on Foreign Relations. Senator Sherman (Rep., O.) in presenting the treaty said no change of importance had been made since it was reconsidered by the committee last year. The clause specifically setting forth that the murder of the Czar or attempt to murder the Czar or any member of his family should not be considered a political offense, was still retained. To this clause objection was made by various senators, the principal speeches being made by Senators Eustis (Dem., La.,) and Teller (Rep., Col.). It was urged in support of the text of the treaty that the Czar and his family were entitled to the same protection that it was proposed to accord to any of his subjects. The rejoinder was made that the treaty without that special definition placed Czar and peasant on the same level and afforded them the same protection. The treaty provides for the extradition of persons charged with murder or manslaughter. The opponents of the treaty insisted that that provision was broad enough to protect the Czar. Mr. Edmunds (Rep., Vt.), joined in the demand for recommitting the treaty, saying there were two or three other provisions which he did not altogether approve. It is the impression that with the clause relating to the Czar and family eliminated the treaty will be ratified by the Senate.

Brutal Murder of a Montmagny County Man by a Farmer.

QUEBEC, Jan. 15.—A. Traver of St. Pierre, Montmagny County, was beaten to death on Monday by a farmer to whom he refused to sell a bottle of whisky.

A British Columbia Tragedy.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Jan. 15.—At Chilliwack yesterday George Rutherford shot and killed Edward Hall and John Segers and killed himself. He was despondent owing to disappointment in love and accused Hall and Segers of tampering with his food.

THE BERTHIER ELECTION.

Mr. Dostaler, the Mercier Candidate, Defeats Ald. Sarigmac.

MONTREAL, Jan. 15.—The election in Berthier to-day to fill the vacancy in the Quebec Assembly caused by the elevation of Mr. Louis Sylvestre (Nat.) to the Legislative Council resulted in the return of Mr. Dostaler, the Mercier candidate, by a majority variously estimated at from 200 to 350 over Ald. Sarignac (Con.).

DEATH OF WALKER BLAINE.

The Son of the U.S. Secretary of State a Victim of La Grippe.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Walker Blaine, examiner of claims in the State Department and eldest son of Secretary Blaine, died at the family residence in the old Seward mansion here at 8.30 o'clock this evening of acute pneumonia superinduced by an attack of the grippe. He had been ill only a few days. He was not feeling well all last week, but went to the Department each day until Friday, when he became much worse and was compelled to go home and take to his bed. He made light of his illness, however, and thought recovery only a matter of a few days. The Secretary gave a dinner party Monday night and Walker Blaine was then feeling so much better that he sat up for some time chatting with the guests and afterwards walked about the house. He caught an additional cold, however, which quickly settled on his lungs and developed into acute pneumonia last night.

Lady Stanley Ill.

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—Lady Stanley of Preston, is seriously ill from an attack of la grippe. In consequence the usual reception held after the State dinner to-morrow to the wives of Cabinet ministers and other invited guests will not be held. The probability also is that the drawing room on Saturday will be postponed.

A Victim at the Capital.

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—Another victim to la grippe is reported this morning. Mr. Vernon Smith, C.E., came to Ottawa some years ago to survey the Ottawa & Gatineau Valley Railroad. Since that time he has been doing occasional work for the Government. The last work in which he was engaged was on the survey of the Short Line Railway in New Brunswick. He came home to Ottawa recently and took ill last Wednesday with an attack of la grippe, which turned into congestion of the lungs, and died this morning. He was between 60 and 70 years of age.

A Bowmanville Victim.

BOWMANVILLE, Jna. 15.—Chief of Police T. T. Coleman, aged 67, died this afternoon of acute inflammation of the lungs superinduced by la grippe. He leaves a widow and six children.

Half of the Quebecers Ill.

QUEBEC, Jan. 15.—Fifty per cent of the population are sick with la grippe. Ten doctors are down with it. The high school is closed, half the employes of the shoe factories are down and half the police are sick.

CHARLESTON'S STRAWBERRIES

A Large Crate Shipped East—Others Ripening Quite Rapidly.

CHARLESTON, S.C., Jan. 15.—A crate containing thirty-two quarts of strawberries was shipped from here to New York to-night. They were grown in a field in the suburbs and in the open air. Should the warm weather continue a week or more the annual strawberry crop will be ready for marketing. The strawberry season here generally opens about March or April, but the fruit is now ripening rapidly and the entire crop, which aggregates about 1,000,000 quarts, will be harvested before March 1 unless a blizzard comes along.

DROWNED HIMSELF,

Suicide of a Wingham Farmer—A Peculiar Coincidence.

WINGHAM, Jan. 15.—A well-to-do farmer named Campbell Hanna threw himself into the Maitland River running through his farm early this morning and was drowned. Three of his neighbors witnessed the act and rushed to assist him, but the river being swollen they were unable to do anything. A strange coincidence in connection with this is that the previous owner of Hanna's farm, named McCourt drowned himself in the same spot and in the same manner some years ago. No cause is known for the act.

THE CRONIN CONVICTS.

Burke Will Make Barrels, O'Sullivan Shoes and Coughlin Cut Stones.

JOLIET, Ill., Jan. 15.—The Cronin convicts were put through the recalling preparatory steps this morning at the State Penitentiary. Burke was sent to the cooper shop, Coughlin to the stone cutters' shop, and O'Sullivan to the shoe shop.

The Spider Knocked Out.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—In the Weir-Murphy fight Weir was knocked out in the fourteenth round.

A TORONTO SENSATION.

TWO ONTARIO BANK CLERKS UNDER A CLOUD.

Ledger Keeper Brown and Accountant "Rolly" Moffatt Help Their Friends to $100,000 of the Institution's Funds—Thomas Kane Sentenced to be Hanged.

TORONTO, Jan. 16.—In the Kane murder trial yesterday the Crown closed its case. No evidence was put in for the defence. The prisoner's counsel in an able address pointed out the purely circumstantial nature of the evidence, and referred to a great many cases upon record where upon such unsafe evidence verdicts had been returned against absolutely innocent persons. Counsel read the prisoner's statement. From this it would appear that he had left his home at an early hour, and by midnight he was in a condition of hopeless intoxication. He succeeded, however, in reaching his home, but upon trying to effect an entrance at the kitchen-door was opposed by someone within, whom he supposed to be his wife Mary. He effected an entrance, however, and lay in a front room until the morning. At an early hour he awakened and proceeded to Mrs. Gray's (a neighbor's) with the intention of securing more drink. But seeing a stranger there he returned to his home, where, assuming his statements, he discovered the dead woman near the door. The prisoner protested his innocence. The jurors were out 80 minutes, and at the expiration of that time brought in their verdict of "guilty." A recommendation to mercy was made on the ground that the murderer was under the influence of liquor at the time. Justice Street sentenced Kane to be hanged on Wednesday, Feb. 12. The prisoner received the sentence unmoved. A reporter succeeded in obtaining an interview with the condemned man before his removal. He was smoking a brier-wood pipe in the cell below the court room, with every appearance of indifference. "Do you still protest your innocence?" asked the reporter. "From first to last," replied the prisoner, puffing complacently at his brier. "What do you think now as to the efforts made by your lawyer?" "I think that he did everything possible for him to do. But I saw from the first how it would go; they were all prejudiced against me, that lawyer for the Crown and the rest of them." "You mean the Crown Counsel?" said the reporter. "Well, the whole of them; the jury and the judge, I think they were all against me. But I am innocent. I know nothing of the crime of which I am accused, excepting what I heard at the inquest and in the court." Five minutes later the condemned man, handcuffed and manacled, slipped into the cab which conveyed him securely guarded to the jail. Three or four curious onlookers were present. "Here comes the murderer," remarked Kane as he stepped into the hack. "Keep your heart up, Kane," said a bystander. "Oh, you need have no fear of that, sir," replied the prisoner, "I am innocent and all right."

There is a big sensation in banking and society circles to-day and down at the Ontario Bank's quarters in Wellington street the midnight gas was burning far into the morning. Several clerks were at work, and in the board-room at the north end of the building were gathered General Manager C. Holland, several of the directors and Mr. Walter Barwick, the bank's solicitor. Rumors were rife in financial circles yesterday that the bank had been victimized on of about $90,000 through the connivance of two of its prominent employes in allowing customers to overdraw their accounts. The employes in question are William R. Moffatt ("Rolly"), the accountant, and Harry Brown, the head ledger-keeper. Mr. Moffatt resigned his position in the bank two weeks ago to go into the real estate business with a well-known young man of the city, and Brown was suspended a couple of days ago and left the city. He was said to be in Buffalo yesterday. He was a married man and lived at 138 Beverley-street. He is said to have come originally from Goderich or that vicinity. One of the officers made this statement to a reporter: "No criminal proceedings will be taken against either Brown or Moffatt. They did not steal a dollar from the bank, nor can we discover that any of the tellers or any other person took any of our cash. Moffatt and Brown never handled a dollar of the bank's money, and therefore could not steal any. What they did was this: They were in the habit of making the checks of friends 'good' when they had no funds to their credit. It is all nonsense, the talk that has been going on around the streets that these customers are overdrawn to the extent of $90,000. It will not be more than $40,000 at the outside. Everyone of them will be compelled to return the money. They are all good for it; in fact many of them have already agreed to do this. There is no individual overdraft to any great extent. We are going to go through this bank from top to bottom to get at the bottom of the whole affair. Brown and Moffatt are bonded for $8000 each in the Montreal Guarantee Company." "By what name do you call Brown's and Moffatt's shortcomings?" asked the reporter of a director. "Well, you can call it conveyance, conspiring or whatever you like. These people have got our money but they will have to return every dollar of it." None of the bank people would mention any names of the persons who were thus specially favored by the accommodating ledger-keeper and accountant. The shortage was discovered in checking over the monthly business. "Rolly" Moffatt is one of the best known men in Toronto. He has always been a leading figure in the social world and he had hosts of friends.

WEDDED WITHOUT PAPA'S CONSENT

He Followed Her to St. Paul from Chicago, but She Wouldn't Desert Hubby.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 15.—Carter W. Damar, a prominent and wealthy citizen of Lexington, Ky., has just overhauled his daughter Nina, who eloped from a Chicago Michigan-avenue mansion last Friday. He found her at the Windsor in this city, bracketed on the register with a Mr. Duncan McLeod, the nephew of President John McLeod of the New Albany & Eastern railway. A sympathetic aunt had accompanied the young people to Milwaukee Friday night, where they were married. After a stormy scene Mr. Damar left the hotel, having failed to induce his daughter to desert her husband. The young couple think Mr. Damar will come around in time, and continued their bridal trip to Winnipeg, en route to visit friends of the bridegroom at Peterboro, Canada.

NOT BAILABLE.

Remi Lamontagne's Habeas Corpus Application Refused.

MONTREAL, Jan. 15.—A petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Remi Lamontagne, accused of the murder of his brother-in-law, Napoleon Michel, came before the Court of Appeal to-day. The application was based on the ground that the Crown failing to proceed with the trial on account of the absence of an important witness, the prisoner could not be kept in jail for an indefinite period. The application was dismissed.

Women's Foreign Mission Board.

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—The 23d annual meeting of the Women's Board of Foreign Missions opened here to-day with a large attendance. It was reported that in the 1391 churches connected with the board there are now 1182 auxiliary societies and a membership of 50,000. Twenty-two missionaries of the board have gone to foreign fields during the year. The receipts during the past year were $112,110.

A New York Society Event.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The most brilliant social event of the season was the marriage to-day at St. Francois Xavier Church of Miss Matilda Eugenia Reynal, only daughter of Jules Reynal de St. Michel, and Mr. Paul Gilbert Thebaud, a son of Paul L. Thebaud. Archbishop Corrigan solemnized the marriage assisted by half-a-dozen leading priests of the diocese.

Civil Engineers in Council.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The American Society of Civil Engineers held their 20th annual meeting here to-day. Among those present was Sandford Fleming of Ottawa. The secretary's report showed a membership of 180 resident, 120 non-resident, and, including honorary, corresponding, associate and fellow a total of 1385.

Look at the clothing store news up and down the columns of the papers! Is it not so.

We could pile adjective upon hyperbole—could print with display type the most impossible statement if we choose, but we spare you.

They can all gang their ain gait, while we go on making our clothing business bigger by making it better; the only sure way and we hold our own with the best in quality, style and make with real cheapness, Our boys' Readymade clothing cannot be beaten in style, quality and price.

We had a heavy run on Ladies' Mantles last week, A lot of good goods at Bargain Prices still to select from.

Our 40c. Heavy Canadian tweeds please the eye and pockets of all.

In the name of Jack Frost—Blankets. If we could only tell you all we know of Blankets, it would be good reading. One thing we do know, and don't fear to say is, you will get more good wool and generous size in the Blankets now here at $5, than is generally offered. Blankets at $4 and $3.75 of good medium sizes.

Once more the cheapest stock of Grey Flannels and Cottons is with us. The people carry it off with more industry than ants, which is the best proof that business men have that goods are cheap.

IMPORTANT!

Remarkable Restoration to Health of Well Known Canadians whose Cases were Given up as Incurable.

From the few of the hundreds of letters we have received from those who have been restored to health and strength by the use of that wonderful discovery, Paine's Celery Compound, we make a few extracts. We hope that the thousands of Canadian men and women who are suffering from nervous and wasting diseases, will profit by these true and plain statements of facts.

D. S. Davidson, of Montreal, suffered for years with nervous dyspepsia, pain in his back, and sleeplessness. He tried doctors without relief, was losing flesh rapidly, and had about given up heart when he commenced the use of Paine's Celery Compound. "Now," he says, "I am a new man. I sleep well and my food does not hurt me."

Mr. Jas. Johnson, 302 St. Charles Borromee Street, Montreal, was weak and nervous, had no appetite, and could not rest at night. His nerves were soothed and strengthened by Paine's Celery Compound, and he soon became well and strong.

Annie Gourley, of River Beaudette, P. Q., found the Compound a certain cure for weakness, and now feels as well as she ever did.

A customer of Harrison Bros., druggist, Hamilton, Ont., told them that he was entirely cured of nervous weakness by the use of two bottles of the Compound, after everything else has failed.

The little child of Mrs. G. E. Meredith, 76 D'Arcy St., Toronto, was cured of St. Vitus' Dance by Paine's Celery Compound.

Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR—I wish to call attention to a short article in last Wednesday's paper descriptive of the treatment used to induce a steer which had lain down, evidently from inability to go farther, to proceed on its way. The article says the animal's tail was twisted, that it was kicked and otherwise cruelly treated, and finally almost choked to death. As these measures proved unavailing $8 was hauled away.

Now, I ask in the name of justice and mercy why this could not have been done without all that barbarous treatment. The animal was styled the "incarnation of cussedness," but the name properly applies to the poor beast's tormentors.

If Peterborough has not a "Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals," may this incident rouse in all right minded persons a burning desire to establish one, that it may no longer be possible for animals to be maltreated in the streets without prompt vindication. We too often forget the duty we owe God's dumb creatures.

Will all those who feel interested and desire to form themselves into a society, please send their names and addresses to L., P.O. Box 111, and they will receive notification of the first meeting for the purpose of organization.

Sir Joseph Hickson.

(From the Shareholder.)

That Her Majesty the Queen had been graciously pleased to confer the honor of knighthood on the highly esteemed and deservedly worthy General Manager of the Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada, was made known in this city yesterday. In no instance that we know of did a similar announcement meet with more sincere appreciation as being worthily bestowed. Congratulations from all quarters were showered upon Sir Joseph Hickson. In this instance it was not, as is frequently the case, the reward of political service. It was the recognition of real unostentatious merit. The Shareholder has often pointed with pride to all that the Grand Trunk has done for Canada, claiming that without the railway this country would never have developed into the present importance. The conferring of knighthood upon the gentleman who has so largely contributed to the country's greatness is therefore a recognition by his Queen of Sir Joseph's valuable services. His loyalty to Canada has always displayed itself in his devotion to its interests, interests to which his great talents were always striving to contribute their best endeavors. While it must be a great gratification to the General Manager to have this distinction accorded to him, there is another which will weigh equally with him, if we understand Sir Joseph aright, and that is the hearty congratulations of which he has been made the recipient and kind words which have reached him from all quarters, even from those in which a certain degree of reticence might have been expected. These we are sure time will never efface, and we are glad the opportunity has arisen to call them into existence. We congratulate the country on having such a man, we congratulate the Grand Trunk on having such a general manager, and we congratulate Sir Joseph on this recognition of his loyalty and devotion to Canada. The young men of this country have here an example of what may await those who display devotion to the interests they may be called upon to attend to, fidelity to the trusts confided to them, and unremitting attention to the duties devolving upon them. Sir Joseph is just at that age to enjoy his honors, and we trust that after his twenty-eight years of industry and perseverance in the Grand Trunk, in addition to that previously had with English companies, he will be enabled to enjoy that rest which every active man requires, even though it be of short duration, in order that his faculties may be refreshed for the completion of the grand work in which he is engaged. Though titled now, he will in manner be Mr. Joseph Hickson still. We trust Sir Joseph will have health and long life to enjoy the title which has been so worthily bestowed upon him.

Stanley and the Heroes of the Dark Continent.

(From the Toronto Globe of Jan. 14th, 1890)

With wonderful enterprise the well-known "World Publishing Company, of Guelph," announce that the complete history of Stanley's travels in Africa is already in course of publication, and will shortly be issued, thus furnishing the earliest, most complete and authentic information of the discoveries and adventures of Stanley during the past two years, and of Emin Pasha's life and government in Central Africa since Gordon's death.

The complete work to be issued by this enterprising publishing company will leave nothing to be desired, as it will be a summary of all that is known of the Dark Continent down to this date. It will be a large and handsome volume, and a perfect panorama of illustrations, all from recent photographs taken on the spot, or from sketches made by artists accompanying Stanley, and the other travellers through Africa.

As we turn the pages of the book, the discoveries of Speke, Grant, Baker, Livingstone, DuChaillu and others are in turn fully given and magnificently illustrated, but, of course, the most important place is reserved for the more recent and important work done by Stanley. Other works are to be published, but it is claimed they are simply old books, with a few pages added, and that this is the only entirely new book, with three times the illustrations contained in any of the others, and with a series of accurate maps showing the whole route of Stanley and explorers.

This great work is being brought out simultaneously by "The World Publishing Company, of Guelph," and one of the largest and wealthiest publishing firms in the United States, and no expense has been spared to make the work complete. Agents who want to make money will apply at once for terms and territory to "The World Publishing Company," Guelph, Ont. Magnificent circulars sent free on application. Prospectuses now ready.

A Rotten Failure.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—The failure of Deimel Bros. appears to grow more rotten as the examination proceeds before Judge Collins. To-day's evidence shows that for two or three days prior to the failure the firm disposed of thousands of dollars worth of goods. The liabilities reach $980,000. To-day Judges Gresham and Bunn in the Federal Court issued a capias for the arrest of Joseph Deimel on an account of James H. Eyer & Company of New York, for obtaining goods under fraudulent statements. The arrest has not yet been made as Deimel is under the protection of the State Court.

In the Hands of the Sheriff.

JACKSON, Mich., Jan. 14.—The Smith Middlings Purifier Company, organized three weeks ago to succeed the George T. Smith Company, is in the hands of the sheriff. The Preston National Bank of Detroit to-day presented a claim for $150,000, payment was refused and an immediate application made for a receiver. The company stake their assets at $600,000, liabilities at $495,000. Other creditors immediately placed attachments on the property and the company made an assignment.

The Alaska Seal Fisheries.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—A communication to the Treasury Department from the Occidental Fur and Trading Company of San Francisco, regarding the Alaska seal fisheries, charges that the present lease has resulted in establishing a monopoly to the exclusion of legitimate companies and that the annual catch of 100,000 seals is sold in England to the great prejudice of American dealers and manufacturers. The company suggests that the Government itself should engage in the business of taking the seals and that the skins should be sold to the highest bidder. This it is claimed would double the Government's revenue from the fisheries.

The French Chamber Opened.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—The Chamber of Deputies elected in September and October last year assembled to-day and elected M. Floquet president and adjourned until Thursday. There are 200 Republican deputies of various shades, including 120 Radicals and 211 of the Opposition, including 47 Boulangists.

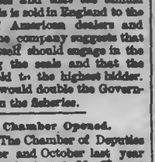
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.



CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Coughs, Colds, Croup.

Allen's Lung Balsam was introduced to the public after its merits for the positive cure of such diseases had been fully tested. It excites expectoration and causes the Lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; changes the secretions and purifies the blood; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours' time, if not of too long standing. It contains no opium in any form and is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child. There is no real necessity for so many deaths by consumption when Allen's Lung Balsam will prevent it if only taken in time. For Consumption, and all diseases that lead to it, such as Coughs, neglected Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and all diseases of the Lungs, ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is the Great Modern Remedy. For Croup and Whooping Cough it is almost a specific. It is an old standard remedy, and sold universally at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. The 25-cent bottles are put out to answer the constant call for a Good and Low-Priced COUGH CURE. If you have not tried the Balsam, call for a 25-cent bottle to test it.

BOOTS FOR THE NATION

READY-MADE CLOTHING CHEAPER THAN EVER

Positive proof has been given, that in the case of several responsible parties who have taken in the town and compared prices, that GOUGHS in every case give by big odds the Best Value. One customer stated:—"I looked at a suit up town for $10 (ten dollars) and GOUGHS' price for the same suit and cap and boots to fit the same person included, came to a trifle over $8. Make a note of this. You can save money on every deal at GOUGHS.

OVERCOATS:

BOOTS! BOOTS! BOOTS!

Our Boots for Ladies' and Men's wear at 85c., $1, $1.25, $1.75 and $2.00, beat anything in Canada, either wholesale or retail; and why should they not when we bought them at 50c. on the dollar, and therefore when wholesale houses cannot compete with the Wonderful Cheap Men, it is simply impossible for small retail houses to compete. Sixty per cent. of the Goods we sell we buy at less than first cost of manufacture, and hence the reason we make the bold assertion that no wholesale house in Canada can touch our prices. Give us a look; we will greatly add to your personal appearance without affecting your pocket.

THE DIAMOND BUTTON

FROM THE DIARY OF A LAWYER AND THE NOTE BOOK OF A REPORTER.

By BARCLAY NORTH.

(Copyrighted, 1889, by O. M. Dunham. Published by special arrangement through The American Press Association.)

"I shall have to work night and day then."

"That's why I offer you four times the sum you name. The affair is urgent."

"They will be done."

Holbrook then went to Delmonico's, where he found Bryan awaiting him.

"Let us get somewhere where we can talk without being heard," said Holbrook.

They took the corner of Twenty-sixth street and Broadway.

Tom took the seat with his back to the corner.

Thus he was enabled to survey the whole room and could note who entered.

After they had given their orders, Holbrook handed Tom the slip of cloth.

"What is that?"

"A piece of the suit worn by the murderer."

"You are prompt. Are you sure it is the same?"

"Sure. I cut it off myself."

"Good. Have you a description of the button?"

"No. I have done better."

"What?"

"I shall have, day after to-morrow, a pair of them—a complete imitation of the buttons, so close you could not tell 'tother from which,'"

"You are an angel. Good, this is getting on with a vengeance. Be quiet—here comes the waiter with our soup."

While they were dining Holbrook told Tom of his singular interview with Flora Ashgrove.

Tom was deeply interested.

He listened without interjecting a remark, only to caution Holbrook to suspend his narrative when the waiter or some one else approached too closely.

When it was finished he was thoughtful.

Finally he said:

"You should have told this to the coroner. But I am glad you did not. You ought to tell this to your high official, but I hope you won't."

"What do you think of it all?" asked Holbrook.

"It is a queer mess, and I think it deeper than ever. There's a great story behind that murder. Um! That girl thinks she knows who did it, and she is afraid for the man. Questioning her would do no good now; nor would it have done when you saw her, although she was then more on her guard than she will be again. After all, she said nothing; as you say, it was all in her manner. I don't think as much of the button as I did."

"Why?"

"Because she recognized it, and saw it didn't belong to the man she thinks did the deed. She thought until she saw it that you had something that could be traced to the man she wants to screen. She thinks now that you are on a false trail. You must throw yourself in her way again as soon as you can. She will be anxious to know how your suspicions are tending. Don't show her that you have an idea that she knows or suspects any one." He thought a moment and said, "I suppose she is in love with the man."

Holbrook had not reasoned so closely, but he was struck with the cogency of Bryan's argument.

"The buttons, then, are of no value," he said, and he laughed as he added, "I promised four times the value to have them done quickly."

"They are of value," quickly responded Bryan, "great value; all the same, they may track the murderer. It is by no means certain that Miss Ashgrove's suspicions are correct. She may be on a false scent. But, after all, she would not suspect any one of committing the deed unless there was a reason existing for doing it. Now what is that reason? That is what we must try to find out."

"But how? The way is dark."

"Oh, I have seen more tangled skeins than this unraveled. The great point is to make the first step. After that things go easy."

Holbrook's tale of the interview with Flora had occupied the time of the dinner, and Tom's comments upon it had been made over their cigars.

Having exhausted speculation as well as argument upon it, Holbrook looked at his watch and pronounced it time to set out for the Casino.

CHAPTER X.

A PERFORMANCE NOT DOWN ON THE BILLS.

THE entertainment on the night of the visit of our two friends was comic opera, for which the house is famous. The one occupying the boards was highly popular, and though it was midsummer the house was crowded.

The audience, however, was not furnished by New York.

It was clearly made up of strangers to the city.

Tom made this remark to his companion as soon as they seated themselves.

"Did you ever know," asked Tom, "that I was an actor once?"

"No."

"Fact. A very bad one. I began life that way, but discovered in time that I had not the qualities requisite for success, and so after two seasons of starvation I abandoned the sock and buskin and eventually drifted into journalism. That is my vocation."

He looked as his programme.

"Yes, I thought so," he continued; "you will see on the stage to-night a girl I was once engaged to."

"You cut her when you cut the profession?"

"No, she cut me—for a pair of diamond earrings. I think that fact had quite as much as anything else to do with the realizing sense of my dramatic deficiencies. Ah, but that was in the long ago."

The first act then demanded their attention, and at its close Tom looked about the house.

He directed the attention of Holbrook to one of the boxes.

"Is that not Flora Ashgrove?"

Holbrook leveled his opera glasses at the box pointed out.

"Yes. No doubt of it, though her back is turned to us. Who are the others in the box?"

"Let me have the glasses," said Tom, "I can not make them out. Three men and another woman. They sit in the shadow. Stop, there is some one coming from the box. Oh, it's Dick Witherspoon, her cousin. That's all right, he'll come back; he is going out for a clove."

"Somewhat strange to see 'the handsome Flora' at a theatre at this time of the year," commented Holbrook.

"Yes, one would suppose she was at Newport."

"She has been there, and came in on some business with her uncle. The business must have detained her."

"So it seems."

"She must have been in the city at the time of the funeral."

"Whose?"

"Templeton's."

"Well, what of it?"

"What of it? Why, she didn't attend it."

"I shouldn't suppose she would."

"You forget. I told you that she said she was a relative—a remote relative, of Templeton."

"True, so you did. It is strange, isn't it?"

By this time the curtain went up on the second act, and attention was again concentrated on the stage. At its conclusion the lady in the box changed her seat so that she could look over the house. In time, as her eyes roamed over the orchestra circle, they encountered those of Holbrook. She recognized him and bowed—somewhat coldly, Holbrook thought.

SCROFULA

Humors,

Can be cured by purifying the blood with

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a remedy for Scrofulous Humors. It is pleasant to take, gives strength and vigor to the body, and produces a more permanent, lasting, result than any medicine I ever used.—E. Haines, No. Lindale, O.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease.—W. F. Fowler, M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried all sorts of remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured.—Mary C. Amesbury, Rockport, Me.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, and getting no relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured.—Susan L. Cook, 909 Albany st., Boston Highlands, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I have ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach.—Mills Jane Peirce, South Bradford, Mass.

THE OLD RELIABLE.
The Canada Life
Gives further Evidence of its Remarkable Progress as will be seen from the following Extract taken from the "Shareholder:"

When the directors announced at the last annual meeting of the shareholders of the above company, held on the 3rd September last, that the new business for the twelve months ending 30th April, 1890, had reached the high figure of $5 040 188, astonishment and satisfaction at the result were the prevailing features. At that meeting it was decided to change the company's financial year in order to make it fall within the period of the calendar year, the result of which would be to reduce the ensuing one in reality to eight months, that is from the first of May to the 31st December, 1889. Owing to this change it was natural to expect that the business of the company for the year, being compressed into eight months, would curtail it considerably, and such was the result looked for. We are pleased to learn, however, that on the closing of the lists for the period referred to, the company had booked new business to the extent of four millions two hundred thousand dollars, or within $840,188 of the amount secured for the preceding twelve months. Taking the average business at $525,000 per month, this would give a total of $6,300 000 for twelve months. Such an exhibition of still increasing confidence in one of our Canadian institutions is most gratifying and must prove highly encouraging. We congratulate the Canada Life Company upon this most convincing proof of its high standing with the community generally. We hope it will go on rolling up its new business at even a greater rate and that its next annual statement at the end of the current year will show the same steady increase that it has done of late years under its present excellent management. dw

Dry Goods Stock Sold.

The stock of dry goods of the late John Hackett was disposed of yesterday. The stock was sold by tender, and quite a number of offers were received. The executors of the deceased finally accepted the tender of Mr. J. J. Sheehy, who bid the lowest.

No Fun in it Now.

There are not so many jokes about the grippe now-a-days. When a paragrapher sits at his desk with every bone in his body aching, his throat sore and the perspiration running from every pore in his body at the rate of seven knots an hour, he does not altogether see that there is much fun to be extracted from the situation.—World.

The Town's Suit.

A peculiar feature of the high license bylaw case, the town solicitor says, is that the Judges decided the matter upon a ground which was not argued at all. Justice Rose in the first place dealt with one class of electors, and the Judges on the appeal took up another class whose claims counsel for the respondent did not urge at all.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

An Sleeping Cousin Getting Rich.

With reference to the item relating the American despatches on our first page headed "Wedded Without Papa's Consent," there are no friends of the bridegroom known in Peterborough. Mr. Duncan McLeod, the only gentleman of that name in this district, does not know of the young man in question, though he has a number of relatives in Chicago. It may be that the hero of the despatch is a relative of Mr. Duncan McLeod, of Peterborough, of whose existence he is not aware. The advertised appearance of the romantic young couple should be made in a few days, when if there is any truth in the despatch, it will be made known.

Leaving Town.

Mr. Johnston Carey is selling off his stock of boots and shoes and purposes removing from Peterborough about the first of February to Goderich, where he will continue the business more in the wholesale line. It is to be regretted that Mr. Carey has found it advisable to leave town. He was one of Peterborough's most indugrious and upright citizens, and a thoroughly reliable business man. His removal in the more regrettable in that it involves the loss also of his brother, Mr. James Carey, and about four or five families of men employed in their establishment. Peterborough can ill afford to lose so many people—half a dozen families at a stroke. But if Mr. Carey can better his position he has a perfect right to go where he chooses, and his many friends here will wish him every success in Goderich. He will take with him the portion of the stock remaining unsold by February 1st.

The Reward of the Faithful.

Owing to the prevalence of la grippe and the unsettled state of affairs existing between Portugal and England, we have overlooked mention of our gratitude to the members of the town council for their unanimous grant of ten dollars ($10) at the last session, as a reward for our "valuable services" during the past year. Gentlemen, we thank you. It makes us weep tears of joy to realise that the power of the press is thus recognised. It's not so much the small subsidy which affects us (though to be sure that will come in handy in relieving our chronic impecuniosity), but it's the sentiment conveyed in the resolution which touches a tender chord beneath the left hand side of our shirt bosom. We will endeavor in the future as in the past to do our duty, and the prospect of another banner at the close of a year's labor will buoy us up in the darkest hours.

Saul of Tarsus.

La grippe affected both audience and lecturer at the opera house last night. There were not nearly as many present as there would have been but for the universally prevalent epidemic, while Hon. Geo. R. Wendling, the lecturer, announced that he was just recovering from an attack of the disease. However, his lecture was a delightful treat. He brought Paul the Apostle down from the clouds in which he has been placed by superstition and traditional theology, and presented him to the audience as a great orator, a warrior and a hero. It was not so much of Paul the Apostle he spoke, as of Saul of Tarsus. The chief points of his grand character were forcibly delineated. The lecturer is a man of commanding presence, with the face of a Cæsar and the voice of an orator, though his American nationality is betrayed in the very noticeable nasal twang peculiar to his countrymen. Hon. Mr. Wendling is bow-ever a fine lecturer, and his address on Saul of Tarsus will long be treasured up by those who heard him.

The lecture was given under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A., as the third number on its Star Course. At the conclusion a vote of thanks was moved to the speaker by Mr. G. M. Roger, seconded by Rev. M. L. Pearson, and carried with applause. The chairman of the evening was Mayor Stevenson.

Condolence.

At the last meeting of the Separate School Board the following resolution was passed:—

Whereas, since the last meeting of this Board it has pleased God to call to his eternal rest our late chairman, Mr. John Hackett;

And whereas, while a member of this Board the deceased was untiring in his efforts to further the cause of Catholic education, and when in health never failed in his duties as such member. Always courteous and gentlemanly in his manner he won the respect and esteem of those with whom he came in contact, and for those qualities and his upright and honorable character he was held in the highest regard by his fellow trustees, who have so often benefitted by his advice and influence.

It is eminently fitting that we, the members of this Board, should publicly mark our esteem for our late fellow trustee, and also our symyathy for his bereaved widow in this the hour of her deep affliction; therefore be it

Resolved, that as a tribute to his memory this resolution be entered on the records of the Board, and farther

Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Mrs. Hackett, to whom we tender our deepest sympathy.

By order of the Board.

CHAS. J. LEONARD,
Chairman Separate School Board.

The First Match Lost.

Lindsay Defeats Peterborough by a Small Majority—An Exciting Game.

The first match of the series between Peterborough and Lindsay for the silver challenge cup took place yesterday and resulted in a "horse" for Lindsay. The two rinks which went to Lindsay were beaten by three points. The ice there was very gummy, requiring main strength to hurl the stones from tee to tee. The news reached here about half past four o'clock, and excitement ran high over the possibilities of the result. Mr. Flavelle had disposed of his opponents, and it remained with the other contesting rinks to decide the battle. When only two ends remained to be played it looked as if Peterborough was a certain winner. But an apparently sure six-end dwindled down to one, and on the final end Lindsay scored four points, thus winning the match by two points. Following are the scores:—

THE TANKARD COMPETITION.

At a meeting of the skips and vice-skips last night twelve men were selected from which will be chosen two rinks who are to represent Peterborough in the tankard competition. The twelve are:—Messrs. Ray, Attrill, Pentland, McGill, Davidson, Clegg, Fitzgerald, Stanger, Ferguson, Rutherford, Budden and McClelland.

Personal.

Mr. Albert Half, of Ashburnham, is very ill with congestion of the lungs.

Mr. Sheriff Hall has been laid up for a week with a severe cold.

Mr. James Stevenson, M.P., and Mr. John Lang, M.P., West and East Peterborough, left for Ottawa to-day to attend the opening session of the Dominion Parliament.

News Nuggets.

—Mr. Peter Hamilton's agricultural works will resume work in the morning. The lock works begins again Monday.

—Hon. Oliver Mowat addressed his constituents at Tavistock yesterday, devoting his remarks principally to the "Third Party," as it is popularly called.

—A young society lady has discovered a new cure for the la grippe, which proceeds on the theory, that like cures like. She advocates the treatment of "la grippe" by "la bag." Any nice young man can be the doctor in this case.

Obituary.

The Late Hon. R. Hamilton.

Though not unexpected, the death of Hon. Robt. Hamilton has cast a gloom over the town. For days his struggle for life has been watched with sympathetic interest by all classes of people, and innumerable were the heartfelt expressions of regret when the tidings came that he had at last succumbed to the disease, or rather complication of diseases, which held him low. Two or three weeks ago Mr. Hamilton was attacked by the epidemic which is sweeping the country, known as la grippe, and the disease rapidly developed into pneumonia and revived an old affection of the heart with which Mr. Hamilton was frequently troubled, and which in the end proved the direct cause of death. Though every means known to medical skill was used to fight off the approaches of disease, Mr. Hamilton gradually sank, and in the last few days he hovered between life and death before finally yielding to the grim monster.

Hon. Robt. Hamilton was one of the best known and most highly respected residents of Peterborough. He was a lavish patron of art and athletics, and always lent his name and practical encouragement to all movements tending to advance the public welfare. The Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association will lose a warm friend and supporter in Mr. Hamilton. Though taking an active interest in public matters, Mr. Hamilton could not be called a public man. He had frequently been asked to enter the arena of politics, but declined firmly, preferring the quiet life of a country gentleman which he led up to the time of his death. Mr. Hamilton leaves a widow and four children—Miles Hamilton, of Brockville; Max. Hamilton, who is now in the Peace River District with the Hudson Bay Company; Wm. F. Hamilton, who is attending McGill College; and Miss Daisy Hamilton, an only daughter. The bereaved family will be heartily sympathized with by a large circle of friends and relatives.

The funeral takes place from Mr. Hamilton's late country seat, Auburn, Friday afternoon.

AN INTERESTING BIOGRAPHY.

Hon. Robert Hamilton was the youngest but one in a family of three sons and seven daughters of the late Major Hamilton, of the 78th and 79th Highlanders, his mother being a daughter of the Hon. William Bowie, for many years Lord Provost of Ayr. His father served with distinction in many campaigns, including that of Sir Ralph Abercrombie in Egypt; and on his retirement from the service received a grant of 2,000 acres of land in Canada from the Imperial Government. Coming to Peterborough in 1823 he purchased the Scott property, and engaged extensively in the milling business, flour and lumber; but was gathered to his fathers, full of honors, in 1836, his wife surviving him till 1848. His son Robert, who was born in the County of Antrim, Ireland, in 1824, remained at home till in his twentieth year, receiving his education at home and the Peterborough Public school. His brothers, who were older than himself, were volunteers during the rebellion of 1837-8. In 1844, Robert entered the services of the Hudson's Bay Company and was sent to their station on the river Saguenay. Afterwards he was stationed at St. John's River, Que., for a year, and went thence to the Labrador coast (Mingan-somgis Station), where he remained till 1851. He was then sent to Abinibi, on the height of land leading to Hudson's Bay. From thence he explored the coast of that northern sea with a view to establishing a fishery for the Arctic whale. He carried on this fishery for the Hudson's Bay Company for twelve years, with some twenty-five whites and over one hundred natives (Indians and Esquimaux) under his direction, being supplied with necessaries from "home" by the annual Hudson's Bay Company's ship, which arrived about the middle of August, returning at once with the year's "catch" of whale oil. The Indians and Esquimaux lived chiefly on the flesh and oil of these sea-monsters. Only for a very short time during the summer could a vessel come near the coasts. It was quite common for the different hunting parties to make long journeys with their dog-teams on the ice of Hudson's Bay all through the month of May, and in the middle of July the ice fields extended in all directions beyond the reach of vision. After about twelve years spent in this interesting region he was transferred to the head waters of the Ottawa, and placed in charge of the post at Lake Temiscamingue, where he remained for two years, when he went to Cumberland on the Great Saskatchewan. After two years of fur-trading here he was placed in charge of "Norway House," the chief supply depot of the Hudson's Bay Company in America, and two years later he received the appointment of Inspector for the Company, and in this capacity travelled over the immense territory at that time subject to their rule, from the coasts of Labrador to the confines of Russian America, and from the United States boundary to the region of eternal snow and ice. He continued in this capacity till 1876, when he retired to private life, at the same time resigning his position as a member of the "North-West Council," to which he had been appointed by the Government on the re-establishment of order in the Red River country after the strangling of the Riel revolt. Mr. Hamilton married Annie Seaborne, daughter of Robert S. Miles, late chief factor of the Hudson's Bay Company.

The regular monthly meeting is held the second Monday of each month.

—MR. THOS. BELL, of Messrs Scott, Bell & Co., proprietors of the Wingham Furniture Factory, writes: "For over one year I was not free one day from headache. I tried every medicine I thought would give me relief, but did not derive any benefit. I then procured a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, and began taking it according to directions, when I soon found the headache leaving me, and I am now completely cured. w3

—Old Adam Dobbin was this morning committed to gaol for three months as a vagrant, at his own request. Adam, like a number of other indigents, regularly seeks a haven during the winter months at the county boarding-house. On his way to gaol the old man fell against Mr. A. Hall's plate glass window and cracked it badly. The window was insured.

"L'HOMME MASQUE."

Rushing Wrestle Between Him Cannon and the Mysterious Question.

The "Man with a Mask" has finally met his match in the stalwart person known as Tom Cannon.

These two redoubtable wrestlers came together the other evening at the Folies Bergere before an audience several times too large for the accommodation offered.

The unusual crush was occasioned by the announcement that America's formidable wrestler was to be pitted against a mysterious individual of wonderful strength and skill, who up to the present has proved a victor against all comers. This eccentric athlete caused a great sensation in Paris last year by appearing on the stage with his face and head entirely hidden by a black silk mask, behind which no one was able to penetrate. He appeared in the same way last evening.

He arrives at the Folies Bergere in a private carriage only a few minutes before he must appear, and is immediately shown to a private room, from which he comes out only to go on the stage. He leaves in the same manner.

Before the struggle last evening I was standing behind the scenes talking with Tom Cannon. Said he:

"I know absolutely nothing about the man I am going to wrestle with. I have a suspicion, though, that he is an old time professional who has reasons for concealing his identity. Either that, or he is some rich chap who doesn't want to be seen here."

"Do you feel in good condition?"

"No, indeed, and that is the worst of it. I have been wrestling here for thirty-four nights in succession without any rest, and sometimes I have met two men in a night."

Finally the curtain rose, and the two giants came bounding forth in front of the footlights. Giants indeed they were: Tom in red tights, the other in black, and both naked to the waist.

A moment's glance was enough to show that the "Man with the Mask" was in perfect physical condition; indeed, he appeared in every respect the better of the two. His skin was of satiny softness, and as white as that of a woman. His chest, thighs, and arms were of Herculean dimensions, and his carriage was that of a gentleman. A significant detail was the singular smallness of his feet and hands.

No time was lost. A grip of two powerful hands, a moment's hesitation before the initial spring, and then they went at it—arms, heads, legs, and bodies. It was about as lively a wrestling match as one could possibly see.

The "Man with the Mask" took the offensive from the start, and for the first five minutes it looked as if he was going to vanquish Tom Cannon with ease. But the man who vanquishes Tom with ease—or without it—has not yet put in his appearance at the Folies Bergere.

In the very first set-to the Unknown forced Cannon over on his back, and to save himself, the latter was obliged to form a bridge with the back of his head and his heels as bases. On this bridge the masked Hercules threw himself with tremendous fury, but Tom held firm, and, watching his chance, slipped from beneath, and with a back "handspring" landed on his feet.

As the struggle advanced the tables commenced to turn. Now it was Tom Cannon who was doing the attacking. At one point the stranger nearly lost his mask, and retired to rearrange it. During the brief intermission Tom stepped on one side and said to me:

"He is the best wrestler I have met in France. He is pushing the fighting, but I shall have my inning pretty soon. I may be mistaken, but I think I am going to beat him."

And Tom was not mistaken.

How he did it it were impossible to describe; but he did it. The masked man fought like a hero; but he had a hero to fight against.

Now one is on top, now another; now they are both down on hands and knees, and presently they are locked—arms, legs and bodies—in a desperate embrace. Then everything gets mixed up—very much mixed up—until suddenly the Unknown goes sailing through the air, impelled by Tom's combined strength and science. He lands on one side and tries to rise, but Tom is upon him, pinning one shoulder to the floor, and slowly, slowly forcing the other into the same position.

The "Man with the Mask" squirms and kicks with the energy of a lost angel. Tom Cannon, relentless, with flashing eyes, presses that other shoulder nearer and nearer to the carpet. The crowd goes mad with excitement. At last it is all over. The mysterious giant struggles no longer—he is vanquished.

All this, which takes a long time to describe, lasted only twelve minutes.—Paris Herald.

Eyes of a Severed Head Open.

A Negannee special to The Detroit Free Press says: A brakeman named Thomas Higgins slipped between two freight cars on a moving train near Maple Ridge yesterday morning. The signal to stop was given by another brakeman who saw the fall and the train stopped and backed up to where Higgins lay. Five cars had passed over his body, which was frightfully mangled. The head was completely severed from the trunk and lay several feet from the track. Fireman Byo picked up the head and was horror stricken to see the eyelids close and again open, then partly close again. This was seen by Engineer William Whitney and the brakeman, and all three were badly frightened. This sign of consciousness was given several minutes after the head was severed from the body.

The Flannel Shirt Doomed.

Letters from England state positively that the flannel shirt is doomed. The fiat has gone forth. For tennis and outings next season a canvas material will be largely used, and the striped pantaloons, or bags as the English call them, will be made of flannel as before. For general wear the white shirt resumes its old position, and will become again the only proper thing for morning, as it always has been for evening dress.—Chicago Times.

A rustic bridge just completed at Beech Haven, Ga., contains fifty-seven kinds of wood and vines, grown on the fifty acres of Beech Haven park. Following is a list of the woods and vines: Short leaf pine, long leaf pine, post oak, white oak, Spanish oak, water oak, red oak, poplar, sweet gum, black gum, red haw, black haw, red bud, prickly ash, chinquapin, wild plum, persimmon, cedar, wild sloe, wahoo, sumac, red elm, pig hickory, scalybark hickory, hook or sugar berry, willow, china, black alder, crab apple, wild mulberry, wild cherry, dogwood, sour wood, winter whortleberry, black locust, sassafras, cotton wood, buckeye, cypress, laurel, beech, holly, ash, ironwood, birch, magnolia, sycamore, walnut, sweet bay, evergreen, spruce. Vines—Grape, muscadine, bellflower, rattan, bamboo.—Exchange.

The Milk We Drink.

About thirty samples of milk are daily submitted to Dairy Commissioner Howard in Minneapolis for analysis. Mr. Howard says that there has been a marked diminution in cases of adulteration in the past six months. The samples of milk lately submitted for testing show a low average percentage of cream, but Mr. Howard says that this fact is largely due to the extreme dryness of the season, causing a falling off in pasturage, while dairymen have not yet commenced feeding their cows on winter feed. He thinks that as soon as they commence doing so there will be a marked improvement in the quality of the milk furnished to customers.—St. Paul Globe.

Losses Caused by the Flames.

SPRINGFIELD, Ont., Jan. 15.—The Commercial Hotel owned by Thomas Semply and occupied by M. E. Stanton was burned last night between 11 and 12 o'clock. The fire was first discovered breaking through a partition around a stovepipe. The loss is estimated at $1500, insured for $1000.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 15.—An over-heated electric light wire set fire to the large dry goods store of D. Crawford and caused a loss of $50,000.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 15.—The business portion of Flora, Miss., with the exception of one small store was burned last night.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Jan. 15.—The barn on the old Pierce farm now owned by Orman Baker was burned to-day. The building was erected about the year 1780 as the first Universalist Church in America. At the centennial celebration of Universalism in America here 1870, thousands of Universalists visited the old barn.

An Insurance Company Defrauded.

UTICA, Jan. 15.—A conspiracy involving thousands of dollars, in which the Prudential Life Insurance Company of Newark, N.J., have been victims, has just been brought to light. To-day Superintendent A. C. Lesli, Assistant Superintendent James Kammerlohr and Examining Physician Dr. Brownell were arrested on a charge of issuing fraudulent death claims on the company. One agent, who was to have been arrested, has gone to Canada. It is known that death certificates were signed by agents and sent to the company when the supposed deceased persons were alive.

Many Injured by a Boiler Explosion.

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa., Jan. 15.—At 8.40 o'clock this afternoon the boiler of a steam shovel used in excavating at Fallston, Pa., exploded with such force that several pieces were blown across the river and driven into the ground ¼ mile away. The regular force employed in running the machine, a number of Italians, and the conductor and engineer of a train sitting in a tool car, were all more or less injured. Wesley Francis of Pittsburg, was so badly mangled that he died on his way to the hospital. Nine men were badly hurt and four slightly.

He Has Cornered Quinine.

I'd an old fashioned cold in the head,
I rather felt grumpy and bad;
It came with a whack, with pains in the back.
That's all in the world that I had.
But a doctor who charged me ten dollars a trip
Declared I was likely to die with the Grip.

Old Hutch ain't a patch on the man
Who started the scare of La Grippe;
It's only the cold, most veritable cold
And catnip made into a flip,
With a plaster of mustard both fiery and broad
Will easily walk up this bare faced fraud.

Yes—Old Hutch ain't a patch on the man
Who started this popular fake,
But the doctors look wise—and are twice their old size,
I wonder how much they will make.
But the man who is booming the terror, I ween
Has certainly "cornered" the whole of Quinine.
—The Khan.

Wealth of Great Britain.

According to Robert Giffen, the well-known statistician, in a paper recently read before the Royal Statistical Society of London, the accumulated wealth of Great Britain amounted in 1885 to ten billion pounds, or fifty billion dollars. The world give, if divided, to each person in the United Kingdom $1,350. If calculated separately, the share to each person in England would be $1,540, in Scotland $1,215, and in Ireland $465. In a comparison of the three nations having the most wealth in the world, Mr. Giffen figures the share per capita of population at $1,350 for Great Britain, $950 for France, and $800 for the United States. A calculation based on the wealth and population of 1880 would manifestly change the comparison, however, materially.

Peculiarities of the Hair.

There are times when all persons require to pay some particular attention to the hair. To rekindle the life on energy of the roots is a simple matter if taken in time. Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic will do the word, it works in accordance with nature, supplys fresh nourishment to the glands keeper, the hair luxuriant and natural in shade. Be sure to get, you cannot afford to miss it. Every druggist sells it. It is money well spent. See Dorenwends advertisement in another column.

DIED

HAMILTON—On Wednesday, Jan. 15th, 1890, at his residence, "Auburn," Peterborough, the Honorable Robert Hamilton, formerly Inspecting Chief Factor of the Hudson Bay Company, in the 66th year of his age.

The funeral will leave the residence on Friday afternoon, Jan. 17th, at 2.30 o'clock and proceed direct to the Little Lake Cemetery.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

DOMINION LAWMAKERS.

LORD STANLEY OPENS THE SESSION OF PARLIAMENT.

The Ranks of the Members Thinned by La Grippe and the Proceedings Rather Quiet—New Incumbents Introduced—Notes of the Day.

OTTAWA, Jan. 16.—Half an hour's formality to-day inaugurated the fourth session of the sixth Parliament of the Dominion. The attendance of commoners was rather slim and the proceedings there were very quietly conducted; even the applause which customarily greets the exquisite bows of the gentleman usher of the Black Rod being omitted. The Ma. P. having followed the Mace and Speaker Ouimet to the senate chamber, Lord Stanley of Preston read the Speech from the Throne.

When Lord Stanley and his train and Speaker Ouimet and the M. P.'s had left the Red Chamber, the Senate proceeded with its regular business and three of the four new Senators called since last session were introduced. The absentee was Senator Murphy of Montreal. Those introduced were:

Samuel Prowse of Prince Edward Island, who was brought in by Hon. Mr. Abbott, leader of the Government in the Senate, and Senator Howlan, the father of the Island senators.

Charles A. Boulton of Shell River, Man., who is a major and appeared in military uniform, was introduced by Hon. Mr. Abbott and Hon. Frank Smith, the other Cabinet Minister in the senate.

These two introduced also James Alexander Lougheed of Calgary, N.W.T.

The oath of allegiance was administered to each and he signed the roll immediately upon introduction. Some uninteresting routine business was transacted and the Senate adjourned until to-morrow, when the address in reply will be considered.

In the Commons three out of the four members elected since last session (all, by the way, Government supporters) were on hand. The first to be brought in was Hon. C. C. Colby, the new President of the Council, who was introduced by Sir John Macdonald and Sir Hector Langevin.

Sir John and Mr. Prior then went into the lobby and returned with Mr. Thomas Earle, the new member for Victoria, between them. He was duly introduced, shook hands with the Speaker and took his seat.

On the third trip Hon. Mr. Colby accompanied Sir John and when they reappeared it was with Mr. Rufus H. Pope, the new member for Compton. Some routine business was transacted and the House adjourned until to-morrow when the address in reply will be moved.

Dr. Landerkin has placed four questions on the order paper: (1) Why the Maple Hill post office has been closed. (2) Whether the Government propose defraying the expenses of trial of Robert Pallet of Durham at the Walkerton Assizes last autumn. (3) The number and titles of provincial acts disallowed since Confederation. (4) Number and names of persons tried for selling whiskey to Indians in Grey or Bruce in 1888-'89 together with particulars of each case.

Mr. Innes is inquiring as to the number of Dominion voters' lists of 1889 printed outside of the Government bureau, the printers and the prices.

Notice of these bills have been given:

Mr. Charlton—To permit reciprocity in wrecking and towing.

Mr. Patterson (Essex)—To admit vessels registered in the United States to wrecking, towing and coasting privileges in Canadian waters.

Mr. Kirkpatrick—To permit foreign vessels to aid vessels wrecked or disabled in Canadian waters.

Mr. Brown—To make further provision as to the prevention of cruelty to animals.

Mr. Masuse, who succeeds Captain Labelle in the representation of Richelieu, was not present to be introduced to-day. He has a working to defeat Mr. Mercier's candidate in Berthier, but victory was not on his side.

The joint report from the two librarians of Parliament was presented in the Senate to-day. Amongst other acknowledgments is that of several pamphlets on anthropology and kindred subjects from His Imperial Highness Prince Roland Buonaparte. The librarians made an attempt to collect the pamphlets and speeches delivered in the recess on trade questions, but they say that in the absence of a compulsory law, whatever that might be, the attempt was imperfectly successful. They note that the library building is much overcrowded with books and that additional space will soon be a necessity.

Mr. Adam Brown will return to Hamilton on Saturday in order to be present at the marriage of his daughter, Miss Brown, to Mr. Smith of London, Ont., a well-known merchant.

A petition from the Pioneer Historical Society of Hamilton who desire that something should be done to commemorate the brave deeds performed at Burlington Heights and Stoney Creek in 1812-15, will be presented to-morrow by Mr. Adam Brown.

On the Hansard Committee Mr. R. S. White this year takes the place of Hon. C. C. Colby.

Two of the Hansard staff, Messrs. Owens and Horton, are down with la grippe. Doubtless several of the absent members are away from this cause. At all events Mr. Armstrong of South Middlesex has it.

The ladies of the households of official Ottawa all suffered from la grippe to-night, for it having seized upon Lady Stanley she could not hold the reception to the ladies, which customarily follows the state dinner. The dinner is for the men only.

THE U. S. DUTY ON LUMBER.

A Congressman's Ignorance of Geography Incidentally Displayed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Before the Ways and Means Committee to-day, Congressman McCormick of Pennsylvania, representing lumber interests, argued against any reduction of the duty on lumber. The price of labor that enters into the cost of lumber in Pennsylvania exceeds the price of the same kind of labor in Canada by more than $1 per M. A lumberman who received $30 a month in Pennsylvania would be well paid at $20 in Canada. The margin of profit, particularly on hemlock and spruce, was hardly a living one. Mr. McCormick said there was no hemlock or spruce in the United States east of the Rocky Mountains, except in his district and some districts in Pennsylvania and Southern New York. The Canadian competition was confined to Nova Scotia and Newfoundland, but some cheap grades of pine also came in competition from other districts in Canada.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Rumors were afloat to-night that Secretary Blaine was seriously ill as a result of sorrow over the death of his son. These were denied at the secretary's home, and the statement was made that, while greatly affected by the loss of his son, he is not ill.

The California Silk Worm.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Joseph Newman's report on his experiments with the wild native silk worm of California speaks encouragingly of his work and recommends the establishment of two experimental stations in California.

The Papal Encyclical.

ROME, Jan. 16.—The papal encyclical insists upon the duty of Catholics to follow papal doctrines with absolute faith and condemns those who profess Catholicism while abusing and criticising acts of the church.

Used Public Funds.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The collector of customs at Suspension Bridge, N.Y., made a personal report to Secretary Windom to-day regarding the case of the cashier in his office, from which it appeared the cashier used $360 of the public funds to meet a personal note, but made full restitution the following day. The collector regarded his conduct as reprehensible and had secured his resignation.

Stokers on Strike.

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—The Hamburg steamship stokers and coal trimmers have struck against a reduction of wages.

The great popularity of Ayer's Pills as a cathartic is due no less to their promptness and efficacy than to their coating of sugar and freedom from any injurious effects. Children take them readily. See Ayer's Almanac for this year, just out.

THE TORONTO BUDGET.

LOUIS DEAS GETS TEN YEARS FOR MANSLAUGHTER.

A Victim of Her Own Malpractice—Mysterious Shooting Affair—A Bear Case Tried at the Assizes—The Ontario Bank Sensation.

TORONTO, Jan. 17.—Louis Deas, against whom the jury brought in a verdict of manslaughter for the shooting of Michael Birtle on the morning of Sept. 27 last, was yesterday sentenced by Mr. Justice Street to ten years' imprisonment in the Kingston Penitentiary. The prisoner made a piteous appeal from the dock on behalf of his wife and five little children who are entirely dependent upon him.

Yesterday afternoon Coroner Powell opened an inquest on the body of Mrs. Bruce Miller, who died on Tuesday afternoon under suspicious circumstances. Dr. Andrew Eadie stated that he was called to attend to the case by Mr. Miller, husband of the deceased. He found symptoms of malpractice and treated her accordingly. She acknowledged having used an instrument and also confessed taking a powder. Witness concluded that death was caused by blood poisoning, the result of using an instrument. The jury brought in a verdict that Mrs. Miller came to her death by criminal malpractice committed by herself.

A mysterious shooting, which took place night before last, resulted yesterday in two arrests. Just before the midnight in question cries were heard issuing from a house in Prospect-street, near Ontario, followed by several shots. Yesterday Detective Watson took the matter in hand and at 7 o'clock last night arrested Malcom Meston, an employe in William Bryce's book store, 31 Front-street west, who occupies room No. 15 in the Romain Buildings, King-street west, and Nellie Weaver, who claims she lives at No. 27 Soho-street. It appears that the pair have been "keeping company" for some time, and when another young man took the girl out for a drive Wednesday night Meston was much incensed. The three met after the drive in the house in Prospect-street and the two men quarreled. The stranger finally dashed out of the house, pursued, it is alleged, by Meston, who fired three shots at him as he drove off in a cab. Fortunately the shots missed their mark. It is also said that the stranger came back again with three other men and gave Meston a thrashing, and the latter again fired several shots at them as they left the house. Detective Watson found Meston and the girl together when he made the arrest. The former is held on a charge of shooting with intent to kill, and the latter as a material witness. Two revolvers were found in a trunk in Meston's room.

There was a bear case on trial in the Oival Assizes yesterday. John McCreary, who runs a butcher shop in Queen-street near Brockton-road, kept a tame bear chained in his yard. On the night of Sunday, Nov. 18, 1888, John Shaw, while returning to his home at 45 Foxly-street, was attacked by the bear, which had escaped from the yard. Shaw sustained serious injuries and narrowly escaped with his life. He sued Mr. and Mrs. McCreary for $2000 damages, and his father, Matthew Shaw, claimed $300, to compensate him for the trouble and expense of nursing his son while recovering from the wounds inflicted by the animal. The action against Mrs. McCreary was dismissed and a verdict of $400 with costs was given against the defendant, John McCreary, divided as follows: John Shaw, $200; Matthew Shaw, $200.

The annual meeting of the Canadian Marine Association was held in the council chamber of the Board of Trade yesterday. These officers were elected: President, Capt. J. B. Fairgrieve, Hamilton; vice-presidents, Capt. Sylvester, Toronto, Barlow Cumberland, Toronto; secretary, W. A. Geddes, Toronto. Executive—James Miller, Capt. Gaskins, R. O. McKay, Capt. J. T. Mathews, C. Miles, Capt. D. Graham, Capt. S. Nealon, Thomas Marks.

Toronto is to lose another of its popular priests. This time it is Rev. Father Hand, who has been connected with St. Michael's Cathedral for the past seven years. Rev. Father Hand has been appointed Parish priest of Oshawa. He will assume the duties of his new charge next week. Rev. Father Hand's successor at the Cathedral, it is said, has not yet been appointed.

Death of Mr. F. Hamel.

QUEBEC, Jan. 16.—Mr. Ferdinand Hamel, one of Quebec's oldest citizens and for many years a leading member of the dry goods firm of Hamel Bros., died last night. Deceased was a member of the Quebec harbor commission and a director of the Banque Nationale and other institutions.

Suicide of a Despondent Couple.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—Charles Hill and wife, an aged respectable couple residing in a suburb of London, tied their wrists together to-day and plunged into the Thames and were drowned. The husband had been compelled to borrow money and being unable to pay it took this method of avoiding disgrace.

Two Heavy Failures.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—T. H. Stone, harness dealer, petitioned the court to-day to be declared an insolvent debtor. Liabilities $204,000, assets practically nothing.

BOSTON, Jan. 16.—Hobbs, Gladden & Co., dealers in building materials, are financially embarrassed. Liabilities $206,000, assets nominally $147,000.

A CRAZY MOTHER'S DEED.

Four Young Children Murdered—A Minnesota Tragedy.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 16.—A terrible tragedy occurred at the home of James McNeal, jr., a farmer near Cannon Lake, this county. As McNeal was starting a fire in the kitchen stove he heard a report of three pistol shots in the bedroom. Rushing to see what was the matter, he found three of his children lying in the bed, each with a bullet hole in its body, while the oldest daughter 6 years old, was choking from carbolic acid which was given her by Mrs. McNeal who also took a dose of the acid and shot herself. Three of the children are dead while the other and the mother are in a critical condition with no hope of their recovery. Mrs. McNeal was suffering from insanity, the result of a recent confinement.

The Daily Smash.

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 16.—At Hampton on the Wyoming division of the Union Pacific yesterday a passenger train was thrown from the track by the spreading of the switch rail. The express and baggage cars and a first-class coach went down the embankment and were smashed. The following were hurt: John Robinson, Long Pine, Neb., shoulder and leg injured; Domingo Stringer, Rock Springs, head bruised; John McChaled, Indianopolis, leg broken; two children of Charles Wachenfitz, scalp wounds and cut about face: Mrs. James Kranz, Des Moines, chest bruised; A. Fashinger, Rock Springs, head and shoulders bruised; Miss Abbie Coolidge, Evanston, Ill., slightly hurt; Charles Tobin, New Washington, O., leg hurt and hand sprained; Z. N. Graham, Ogden, neck bruised; Conductor McIntosh, slightly cut about the head and hands.

The Case Against Ward.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Ex-Judge Henry E. Howland, counsel for John M. Ward, opened the proceedings in the Supreme Court chamber to-day, in the action brought by the National League to restrain Ward from playing with the Players' League. He read extracts from Ward's affidavit in answer to the published allegations of President Day, and went over the history of the League contracts and agreements with players and dwelt particularly upon the reserve clause, which he claimed was unjust in its operation. The injunction, Mr. Howland said, was sought to injure the Players' League and not to retain Ward. If a temporary injunction were granted it would be disastrous to the players. Mr. Joseph H. Choate, counsel for the League, said that the question was whether baseball players are bound by their contracts as the rest of mankind are. He read Ward's book on baseball and read passages to show his former interpretation of "reserve" to the contrary to that advanced by him in this suit, also a letter written by Ward in October, while abroad, admitting being bound by his agreement, and stating that he thought he could be released for personal reasons, particularly if the club won the pennant.

THOUGHT HE WAS A THIEF.

A Toronto Man's Experience With Two Hamilton Policemen.

HAMILTON, Jan. 16.—The Herald to-night says: This city is acquiring quite a reputation through the efficiency of her police force. The finest, as it has been appropriately dubbed. "The finest." Yes, they are the finest, sure enough. They have made clever captures of bank robbers, burglars, thieves, and all manner of criminals. They are all clever, but, of course, there are some stars brighter than others in the constellation. Would it be right to name these?

Perhaps the names of Bryan Doyle and Willie Campaign are not unfamiliar. At any rate, after their work of yesterday they could be immortalized.

Mr. J. Fred Woltz, a diamond broker of 41 Colborne-street, Toronto, came to this city and began looking up some friends. During the afternoon he visited the Brunswick with Mr. Brown, of the Ontario Coal Company. Mr. Woltz wears a handsome diamond horseshoe pin in his cravat, and while conversing with some friends in the Brunswick, someone remarked that he had a nice pin. This turned the conversation to diamonds, and Mr. Woltz, at the request of Mr. Crooks, produced some stones from his pocket and exhibited them to his friends. But the lynx eye of the law was upon him. Detective Bryan Doyle had scented plunder. Visions of diamond thieves rose in ghastly splendor before his mind's eye. He saw fame and fortune within his grasp. What would he do? Would he pounce upon his prey there and then? No. He would wait and watch. He did so. He followed the suspect to the St. Nicholas and Royal, then he took Willie Campaign into his confidence. What transpired afterwards is told by Mr. Woltz:

"After I left the Brunswick I went to the St. Nicholas and Royal, whither I was followed. Then I started out to make a call upon a friend, and as I was on the street I was accosted by two police officers. One of them said: 'You have some jewelry with you;' I replied that I carried a few diamonds, but considered myself capable of carrying my own property.

"'Let us see what you have,' said one of the officers. I took out a case of diamonds from my pocket and handed it to the man.

"'This is very expensive; quite too much so for you to carry,' said Willie Campaign as his eyes rested on the diamonds.

"'Come with us to the station,' said the other.

"I went with them to the station and telephoned to the chief. He told the officers to take me to the St. Nicholas Hotel and see if I could identify myself. This was soon done and I was released. I have been coming to Hamilton for years and I was never arrested as a suspect before and am very sore about it. I always carry some diamonds with me and do not consider that any fresh detective is licensed to arrest me on suspicion."

WHAT IS GOING ON IN MONTREAL.

The Cheyenne Defaulter Released—The Big Telegraph Suit.

MONTREAL, Jan. 16.—Adams, who was arrested on Jan. 8 on suspicion of having left Cheyenne with funds belonging to the Wyoming Investment Company, was discharged to-day by Judge Dugas, there being no proof that he had brought stolen property into Canada and the complainants having abandoned the case.

Mr. Justice Wurtle announced to-day that he would render judgment in the case of the Great North-Western Telegraph Company v The Montreal Telegraph Company on Jan. 31.

Judge Mathieu to-day rejected the Canadian Pacific's petition to upset the award of the arbitrators for the expropriation of part of T. A. Trenholme's farm near Montreal Junction. It was claimed that the award was too large, that the proceedings were irregular, that a speculative value was put upon the property, etc. The court held that the company had shown no act of fraud on the part of the arbitrators and that the award was final. Mr. Trenholme gets the full amount of the award, $12,333.

Father Strubbe, C.S.S.R., has a rod in pickle for The New York Mercury. This morning he waited on Mayor Grenier and stated that the introduction of this journal into his parish was doing harm to people's morals and asked that it be interdicted. The Mayor asked for a copy to be sent him, that he might judge of its moral tone. If it is as bad as described he will see the Chief of Police and City Attorney about it.

The annual meeting of the Magog Textile and Print Company was held yesterday, when these directors were elected: J. K. Ward, M.L.C. (president), R. G. Reid, John McFarlane, William Hobbs, A. H. Moore, Hon. C. C. Colby, C. H. Fletcher, Peter White, M.P., and William White, Q.C.

Mr. Duncan Kinsela's seat on the Stock Exchange was sold this morning to Mr. L. J. Forget for $2300. The last seat sold for $3000, and as high as $5000 has been obtained.

HAMILTON AND THE G.T.R.

Opposition to the Building of the Spur at the Beach.

HAMILTON, Jan. 16.—The City Council of 1889 held a special meeting this morning in the new City Hall for the purpose of taking up the subject of the building of the Grand Trunk Railway spur across the city's property at the Beach. Mayor Doran presided. A resolution was carried that the city solicitor be instructed to take such action in this matter as may seem to him necessary to protect the city's interests.

When Henry Bray, a surveyor from Barrie, was being examined in a case at the Assizes this morning, he fainted in the witness box. The court bailiffs laid him on the floor, poured water on him and succeeded in reviving him. He was too sick to continue his examination.

About three months ago George Forbes, 80 years old, was sent to jail for six months by Police Magistrate Cahill. He had no home, and the police considered that the jail would be the best place for him. A few days ago the old man was taken very sick with bronchitis. Last night he was removed to the hospital, where he died at 8.10 this morning. About six years ago Forbes' son shot his wife and J. Ralston, caretaker of the Central school, and then killed himself.

At the Police Court to-day Hugh Callaghan, who lives in Toronto, charged Louis Walker, a teamster, living at the corner of Hunter and Queen-streets, with threatening to shoot him yesterday. The trouble arose over defendant having been discharged from some work controlled by complainant in Toronto. The magistrate bound Walker over to keep the peace.

A Muskokan Missing.

BARRIE, Jan. 16.—It is feared that Herbert Prowse, who is well known in Muskoka, has been lost. On Dec. 27 he left his home at Berumaris and started for Mr. Skelleter's, a few miles distant. He was warned not to go on the ice, but as he has not since been heard from it is feared he has been drowned.

Harding and Wakely Released.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Harding and Wakely were discharged from custody to-day and Donovan Cleary and Muldoon were turned over to the custody of an officer from Mississippi.

Bold Burglary at Coldstream.

YORK, Jan. 16.—Between midnight and 1 o'clock this morning the house of John Stoker, a farmer who lives alone across the river opposite the village, was entered by three masked men, one of whom kept the old man, who is about 80 years of age, covered with a revolver while the other two ransacked the house. They succeeded in making off with about $250 in cash, consisting of one $50 bill, a $20 bill, several Bank of Hamilton $10 bills and several $20 gold pieces. The paper money was very much mutilated by being chewed by mice. The ruffians did not observe much secrecy in their operations as they effected an entrance by battering in the door with a fence rail. They were tracked by the neighbors for some distance on the way to Caledonia, but the trail was lost owing to the slush on the roads.

Victims of the Epidemic.

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 16.—Five teachers and about 240 of the 480 pupils of the Central School are prostrated by the grippe.

VIENNA, Jan. 16.—The influenza is spreading in Dalmatia.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—Princess Maud, daughter of the Prince of Wales, who has been dangerously ill with influenza, is improving and is now believed to be out of danger.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—Twenty-five deaths from influenza and pneumonia were reported to-day.

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES.

LISBON MERCHANTS WILL REFUSE ENGLISH MONEY.

Resignation of Several Portuguese Colonial Governors—The Sultan Orders Mousea Bey's Case Re-Opened—The Mansion House Dinner.

LISBON, Jan. 16.—Twenty royal marines have been arrested for making a demonstration against England. It is understood a British squadron will visit the Tagus shortly. Portuguese merchants contemplate boycotting England and refusing to receive English money.

Prime Minister Pinsental was absent from the Chamber of Peers to-day owing to a severe attack of influenza. The Minister of Justice delivered a declaration on the dispute with England. His remarks were similar to those made yesterday in the Chamber of Deputies by Senhor Pinsental, who declared the Government would protect its interests as far as possible and maintain its dignity absolutely. A recriminatory debate followed, but all agreed in denouncing the British ultimatum.

Several colonial governors, including the Governor of Mozambique, have resigned.

It is stated the King and Queen cordially applauded the action of the Duke of Palmella in returning the Crimean medal which he received while serving in the British army. The Duke was an intimate friend of the late King.

The Jingling Of The Guineas.

LISBON, Jan. 16.—Several leading English commercial houses here and at Oporto are preparing a protest against the English ultimatum. They regard the despatch of British men-of-war to Portuguese waters as harmful to their business.

The East African Squadron.

ZANZIBAR, Jan. 16.—Admiral Freemantle and the whole British East African squadron will arrive here to-morrow.

A French Comment.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—A paper commenting upon the controversy between England and Portugal says the Shire and Rao regions come within the mediation clause of the act of the Congo Conference, and England had no right to disregard this obligation.

The Vatican Will Not Mediate.

ROME, Jan. 16.—The Osservatore Romano formally denies that the Vatican has sought to mediate between England and Portugal.

Bismarck's Opinion.

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—The North German Gazette, which no doubt speaks in accordance with the opinion of Prince Bismarck, refers to the unfortunate situation in which Portugal has been placed and says it will be wisest for her to seek a friendly settlement with England of African boundaries.

Stanley Dined By The Khedive.

CAIRO, Jan. 16.—Mr. Stanley dined with the Khedive this evening. The officers of the British and Egyptian armies were present. Stanley was praised by the Khedive and cheered by the company, and in response to a toast to his health made a characteristic speech.

Mousea Bey's Case Reopened.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 16.—The Sultan has instructed the judge to reopen the case of Mousea Bey because of the appeal against the court's judgment on the recent trial.

Samoa is Tranquil.

SYDNEY, Jan. 16.—Advices from Samoa state affairs are tranquil there and food is plentiful.

Charleroi Miners Again on Strike.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 16.—The trouble in the Charleroi district has broken out afresh. The miners became involved in a dispute as to the method of executing the concession granted them by the mine owners and again went on strike.

Flocking To The Coast.

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—Major Wissmann telegraphs from Zanzibar that in consequence of the amnesty recently granted thousands of pardoned Arabs are flocking to the coast.

Has The Czar's Approval.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 16.—The Czar has approved the project to construct a railway on the shore of the Black Sea from Novorossisk to Novosensk.

A Socialist's Funeral.

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—The funeral of the socialist Editor Wedde at Hamburg to-day was attended by 60,000 persons.

Emin's Ivory.

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—Despatches published in a white book say Emin Pasha left large stores of ivory in care of reliable chiefs.

The Morganatic wife of the Duke of Saxe-Meininger, an American, nee Grant, is dead.

Another Revolt in Crete.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—A correspondent at Constantinople says the Turkish officials in Crete who have not been paid are quarreling among themselves and the Governor of Crete is preparing to quell a revolt which is expected as soon as the snow melts.

The Infant King Officially Better.

MADRID, Jan. 16.—The doctors having declared King Alfonso to be convalescent, the Queen Regent has resumed political audiences.

Famine In The Soudan.

CAIRO, Jan. 16.—Authentic news has been received of terrible mortality among the natives in the Soudan due to famine resulting from lack of rain during the autumn. The fighting forces have dispersed. Osman Digna has left Omdurman for Tokar. Slatin Bey writes that reports of the death of the Khalifa are untrue.

Aged by His Misfortunes.

CANNES, Jan. 16.—Dom Pedro has arrived here. He appears terribly aged and enfeebled both in body and mind. He intends to spend the whole winter here.

Cigars For The Boys.

VIENNA, Jan. 16.—The Czar, Emperor William and King Humbert each received 10,000 exquisite cigars as a new year gift from Emperor Francis Joseph.

The Natives Are Deceived.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—A French captain named Trivier says that while aboard the British steamer Lady of Nyasa, on the Shire River, the Portuguese compelled the crew to haul down the English flag and hoist the Portuguese colors. Trivier declares the English have lost all prestige through their pacific policy. The natives ascribe the gentleness of the English to weakness and think Portugal is the stronger nation.

The Mansion House Banquet.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—At the Mansion House banquet last evening Postmaster-General Raikes in a speech said he heard nothing regarding the report that the dissolution of the Gibraltar garrison was contemplated by the Government. He said defects had developed in the Benbow's 110-ton guns and it would be dangerous to fire them until they were strengthened.

Earl Derby On The Irish Question.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—Earl Derby, in a speech at Liverpool on the Irish question, admitted a land purchase scheme was necessary as the lesser of two evils. The latest federal development of the Home Rule idea, he said, was much more reasonable than Gladstone's original proposals, and doubtless could be made to work, but he believed it to be impossible to create a satisfactory central body responsible for Imperial affairs because the English representation would outweigh the Irish, Scotch and Welsh together.

Prohibition and Politics.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—The non-partisan element of the Women's Christian Temperance Union revolted at a meeting held here to-day and formed a new organization free from partisan politics, and particularly from the influence of the Prohibition party. Officers were elected and a committee empowered to draw up a constitution.

Beecher's Successor Installed.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Plymouth Church to-day installed Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott as successor to the late Rev. Henry Ward Beecher as pastor. Rev. Howard S. Bliss was installed assistant pastor. Mr. Beecher was installed in 1847 and occupied the Plymouth pulpit until his death.

TURNBULL'S

If you should give the days of the week trade names, Saturday would be clothing man's day.

Look at the clothing store news up and down the columns of the papers! Is it not so.

We could pile adjective upon hyperbole—could print with display type the most impossible statement if we choose, but we spare you.

They can all gang their ain gait, while we go on making our clothing business bigger by making it better; the only sure way and we hold our own with the best in quality, style and make with real cheapness, Our boys' Readymade clothing cannot be beaten in style, quality and price.

We had a heavy run on Ladies' Mantles last week, A lot of good goods at Bargain Prices still to select from.

Our 40c. Heavy Canadian tweeds please the eye and pockets of all.

In the name of Jack Frost—Blankets. If we could only tell you all we know of Blankets, it would be good reading. One thing we do know, and don't fear to say is, you will get more good wool and generous size in the Blankets now here at $5, than is generally offered. Blankets at $4 and $3.75 of good medium sizes.

Once more the cheapest stock of Grey Flannels and Cottons is with us. The people carry it off with more industry than ants, which is the best proof that business men have that goods are cheap.

THE LADIES!

A Few and Startling Facts of Disease which is afflicting Canadian Women.

How some of Them Regained Fresh Complexion, Perfect Health and Buoyant Physical Energy.

A great London Physician says that he notes a new and distinct form of nervous disease prevalent in Canadian women by worry about servants and overwork in caring for the house. This is only too true. It is why we see so many ladies pale, weak, languid, and suffering from headaches and innumerable weaknesses. They cannot stand the strain upon their nervous system. Many of them have found the means to sustain their failing strength, to give color to the cheeks, and new life and vigor to the body, in Paine's Celery Compound. This pure and scientific remedy is especially adapted to the needs of woman, and is daily making the most remarkable cures. Mrs. W. E. Cooper, 760 St. Hypolite St., Montreal, was for a long time troubled with nervous headaches, loss of appetite, low spirits, etc. After using the Compound, her headaches disappeared, appetite was good, and her spirits revived.

Annie Gourley, of River Beaudette, P.Q., found the Compound a certain cure for weakness, and now feels as well as she ever did.

Many a Canadian lady has the same reason to be grateful.

Paine's Celery Compound can be purchased at any druggist's for one dollar a bottle. If he should not have it on hand, order direct from WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., MONTREAL.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 17, 1890.

The United States Market.

The old cry that unrestricted trade with the United States would not benefit the Canadian farmer is still dosed daily in the Government press. If it be true, how was it that between 1854 and 1866, when we had reciprocity in natural products, our agricultural exports to the States increased at such an enormous rate? Why did Sir John make such determined efforts to get the treaty prolonged? Why did he assure the farmers during his N.P. crusade from 1876 to 1878 that his object in taking up protection was mainly to compel the Americans to remove their protective duties? And why, when he came to frame the N. P. in 1879, did he make a statutory offer of reciprocity in a large number of natural products? Lastly, how is it that our farmers even now, with a heavy United States tariff against them, find it so advantageous to send so large a quantity of their wares across the lines? These questions demand an answer from those who are pooh-poohing the value of the American market to the Canadian farmer, but of course they will not be answered. The trade and navigation returns show that Great Britain, which admits our products free, is at present our best market for butter, cheese, horned cattle, square timber, wheat and flour. But for all our other important products the United States, even with its tariff against us, is our best market. Here is a table of farm exports for 1888, which every farmer should paste into his hat:

	To the U.S.	To Great Britian.
Horses	$ 2,403 271	$ 26,750
Poultry	121,322	1,982
Sheep	1,027 410	211,851
Mutton	25 642	330
Eggs	2,119 052	981
Hides, horns and skins	515 230	25 638
Sheep pelts	20 776	.....
Wool	228 135	.....
Barley	6 458 317	700
Beans	146 414	.....
Hay	800,693	64,781
Straw	14,414	.....
Malt	154 145	.....
Potatoes	967,670	973
Other vegetables	93,102	356
Green fruits (apples excepted)	39,327	5,223
	$15,123,119	$343,804

For products other than those of the farm, the United States is again our best customer. Here are a few striking items:—

	To the U.S.	To Great Britain.
Coal	$ 1,411 719	$ 77,584
Iron ores	76 565	350
Copper ore	132 925	13,550
Stone and marble	64 987	50
Fish	2,200,852	858,046
Tan bark	346 068	.....
Firewood	251,906	.....
Lumber	3,091,840	6,430,121
Shingles	209,743	25
Ties	514,799	5 120
Lime	101,307	25
	$13,984,337	$7,384,900

And this, let it always be remembered, with the United States tariff against us, whilst Britain lets everything in free. Our entire exports to the States amounted in value to $37,323,000, and those to Britain to $32,648,000. In the face of facts like these, it takes an unusually bold protectionist to decry the value of the American market to Canada and to argue that if the American customs duties were removed we should not be any better off.

Burdette on the Grippe.

"Have I had the new Russian influenza yet?" Well, no, I haven't had time, says Bob Burdette in the Brooklyn Eagle. But I am going to have it one of these days. I have really had it, I suppose, a great many times, under various aliases. I understand the principal feature of symptom, or whatever you doctors call it, is an aversion to do any work. Well, I have had that under the most malignant forms, thousands of times. Thousands and thousands of times. You know people have everything that comes along, anyhow. There are some people who positively delight in thinking they are sick, especially if the disease is fashionable and they are in no danger of suffering any pain or distress, or dying.

At one time, when I was a boy, everybody used to have the ague, all or part of the time. But is was too realistic in its development; settled down to business in the first round in such a dead earnest sort of a way that it never was very popular in society and never grew to be the dolce far niente kind of malady that our best society liked to dally with, and so fashionable physicians, such as alternate their prescriptions with vers de societe and novels, ceased to prescribe "fever 'nager" under any name for their patrons, and the disease went west, where people were't so particular.

Then, you remember, hay fever was boomed into a sudden popularity by Henry Ward Beecher and some other learned men, and everybody had it just to have something that Mr. Beecher had. For some years it was purely a literary disease; only men of letters, artists and musicians had it; it was a sort of Lotus Club monopoly, and was greatly longed for and universally sought after. By-and-bye some very rich people bought a few specimen cases of it, and the year following the dudes got it, then for a season or two everybody had it—men, women and fools.

After that malaria came in. It was the most universally popular complaint ever known. It took the place of biliousness at once. Malaria was a more euphonius title. It had a strange, imported, classical taste to it, and it fitted every symptom that humanity could invent. And now his new rival "la grippe" enters the field. But it is not to stay long. It hasn't the staying power of malaria.

Oh, for a good, reliable, every day old stand by in all this world of maladies, there's nothing that can shake a stick at malaria. So while it is a trifle out of the swim just now, I believe, if I have anything this winter, I'll have the malaria. I'm used to that. I know how and where to get it, how much of it to take, and what to do for it. But you go to fooling around this new epidemic before people have learned how to handle it, and the first thing you know it will fly the track with somebody and pitch him clean over the fence.

Boulanger's Neglected Wife.

A Sad Story of Devotion Slighted and Loyalty that Never Wavers.

No more pathetic spectacle confronts the eyes of the world than that of Mme. Boulanger, says Paris Figaro. Here is a sad though handsome face, in which pain has cut more lines and grooves than time; while to listen to her low, sweet voice is to wonder how the general can endure passing any of his days beyond the reach of its subtle music.

She is a gentle little heartbroken lady from whom the iron hands of ambition have plucked all that she found best in love. And she has not even the satisfaction of knowing that the man who turned the remains of her earlier days into the blank desolation of the present ever gives her a single thought. Still she does not condemn him. "It is not for me to judge him," she sometimes says when some one accosts her concerning him; "we loved each other once! Some day," she usually adds, "he will need my love again. I do not wish to be divorced from him because I want to retain the right to care for him when all the rest of the world forsakes him—when, save his wife, he has no friend."

"Just hear That Child Scream!"

said Mrs. Smith to her sister, Davis, as the sound of a child's shrieks came across the garden from a neighbor's house. "What kind of a woman have you for a neighbor? Does she abuse her children?" "No, indeed," replied Mrs. Davis. "She is one of the most tender mothers in existence. But you see, she believes in the old-fashioned style of doctoring. When a child needs physic, she fills a spoon with some nauseous dose, lays the little victim flat on her lap, holds his nose till he is forced to open his mouth for breath, when down goes the dreadful mess. Then come the yells." "No wonder," said Mrs. Smith, "why doesn't she use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets? They are effective without being harsh, and are as easy to take as sugar plums. I always give to my children." "And so do I," said Mrs. Davis.

Peculiarities of the Hair.

There are times when all persons require to pay some particular attention to the hair. To rekindle the life an energy at the roots is a simple matter if taken in time. Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic will do the work, it works in accordance with nature, supplys fresh nourishment to the glands keeper, the hair luxuriant and natural in shade. Be sure to get, you cannot afford to miss it. Every druggist sells it. It is money well spent. See Dorenwends advertisement in another column.

Worn Out and Run Down.

BY disease and debility, the human system becomes worn out and run down before its time. Keep the head clear, the bowels regular, the blood pure, the kidney and liver active, by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, nature's great tonic and regulator, and disease cannot exist. 2w2d

If You Have a Cough

DO not neglect it. It should be loosened as soon as possible, and to do this nothing excels Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Obstinate coughs yield at once to its expectorant, soothing and healing properties, while colds, hoarseness, whooping cough, asthma, etc., are promptly relieved by its perfect action on the throat and bronchial tubes. 2w2d

Prevailing Sickness.

THE most prevalent complaints at this season are rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat, inflammations and congestions. For all these and other painful troubles Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the best internal and external remedy. 2w2d

Coughs, Colds, Croup,

Allen's Lung Balsam was introduced to the public after its merits for the positive cure of such diseases had been fully tested. It excites expectoration and causes the Lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; changes the secretions and purifies the blood; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours' time, if not of too long standing. It contains no opium in any form and is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child. There is no real necessity for so many deaths by consumption when Allen's Lung Balsam will prevent it if only taken in time. For Consumption, and all diseases that lead to it, such as Coughs, neglected Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and all diseases of the Lungs, ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is the Great Modern Remedy. For Croup and Whooping Cough it is almost a specific. It is an old standard remedy, and sold universally at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. The 25-cent bottles are put out to answer the constant call for a Good and Low-Priced COUGH CURE. If you have not tried the Balsam, call for a 25-cent bottle to test it.

"Shall you go and speak to her?"

"No," said Holbrook. "I don't know what people I may meet there." The fact was, while hardly conscious of it, ever since his interview he had regarded her with a sort of repugnance.

"I think you make a mistake."

"Perhaps, but I sha'n't go, all the same."

"You mustn't drop her acquaintance."

"That may be, but I don't think her recognition was particularly encouraging. Have you noticed that she has not looked our way once since?"

Tom was not satisfied. Just what Holbrook was to do when he did see her, he could not have suggested. When Holbrook added that in a small box, with several about in close proximity, she was not likely to engage in a confidential conversation, he was compelled to acquiesce. Still he thought Holbrook should call on her.

Finally he said:

"See here, Holbrook. You've seen this opera before, and only care for the music. Well, let us go upstairs. Undoubtedly that party will go on the roof after the performance. We can go up there and hear the music as well as here. I would like to get a nearer view of the people with her."

"To what purpose?"

"Oh, who can tell? I haven't any reason or purpose. Instinct tells me to do something."

"Very well; we'll go."

They left their seats, and Holbrook was conscious that Flora watched them steadily as they went up the aisle. He made sure of it at the door, when he could do so without being observed.

Once upstairs they seated themselves so that they could watch the elevator without being seen.

"I do not know what you are up to," complained Holbrook.

"Neither do I," replied Tom with a laugh. "But the story of your interview with 'the handsome Flora' has made a deep impression. I want to become familiar with those about her. That's all."

They lit cigars, smoked and listened to the music until the curtain finally fell.

"Now, then," said Tom, "in a few minutes we'll know whether we have deprived ourselves of comfortable seats during the third act for nothing."

Holbrook, who was in a bad humor, replied:

"I'm sure we did. She won't go up there; she would think it bad form."

"Bah! it's bad form, so her set would say, to be seen at a theatre at this time of year, especially in the city."

"Hush," he continued, "there she goes now," as the brightly lighted elevator glided up. "Come, let us go up. No, wait until they have had time to be seated."

They waited a moment or two, and then ascended the stairs to the roof. At first they did not see the party, but carefully proceeding they came upon them partially hid behind a large fir tree planted in a tub. They came upon them in such a manner that they were plainly observed.

Tom dropped down into a chair at a vacant table a short distance off, saying as he did so, quite loudly, "Here, Holbrook, here is a place."

Then, in a lower tone:

"Holbrook, you must go over and pay your respects, if nothing else. Let us give our order to the waiter first; don't look up yet. The party is a family party; old Witherspoon, his daughter and son, the 'handsome Flora' and an old file—probably another relative."

Holbrook nodded, and after having given his order arose and crossed to the party on the other side.

Saluting them, he addressed himself to Flora.

"I am surprised to find you in the city, Miss Ashgrove."

"You find me disgusted," she replied. "Uncle is a tyrant about this business; but we return to-morrow."

Her manner was cold, even repellant, and did not offer encouragement. He was somewhat embarrassed, and would have felt awkward, if Mr. Witherspoon had not asked him to join them in their refreshments.

In declining on the score of having a friend from whom he had parted only to pay his respects to them, he was enabled not only to regain self possession, but to recognize in the gentleman Tom had described as "an old file," one of New York's first lawyers.

By no means pleased with Flora's reception of him, he determined to give her a rap before parting from her.

Lowering his tone he said:

"I did not see you at the funeral of your relative."

"Who?" she said, with lazy surprise.

"Templeton—your remote relative."

"Oh, did I say he was a remote relative?" This was said with a haughtiness not unmixed with contempt, as she languidly fanned herself. She did not deign to explain why she was absent.

Holbrook found himself growing red and angry, when to his surprise he saw Flora straighten up quickly, while an anxious, even frightened, expression swept over her face. She looked intently behind him.

He turned and saw a gentleman fashionably clad. He did not know him.

He turned to Flora. She was gazing at him (Holbrook) fixedly; there was a worried, inquiring expression in her eyes; her color was coming and going and her chest heaving, her mouth slightly open.

Apparently she paid little or no attention to the new comer, who was greeting the others of the group.

Holbrook noticed the change in her demeanor and was surprised; so much so that he said bluntly and awkwardly: "I bid you good night, Miss Ashgrove," and bowing to the others returned to Tom.

"What passed between you?" asked Tom.

"Nothing of any moment. She treated me outrageously."

He then gave Tom a literal statement of what had passed, save her curious manner toward him at the end.

He was abstracted, and did not hear what Tom was saying, but stealthily watched the group. He could not fail to notice the extreme nervousness in Flora's manner, and that she was urging their departure. It was quite evident the rest were comfortably enjoying themselves and not disposed to leave.

Finally Flora said something to the newcomer and he arose, stepped to her side and offered his arm. She took it, and they walked toward the front on the Broadway side and sat down out of view.

Holbrook followed them with his eyes. Suddenly he slapped his hand on his knee.

"By Jove, Tom, I've an idea."

"Jot it down, my boy," said the imperturbable Tom; "sometimes they are valuable."

"It's a suspicion."

"Ah, that is valuable, especially in the enterprise we have entered upon."

"Yes, by Jove—tall—slim—dark hair—complexion—handsome profile—straight nose. By Jove!"

"What the deuce are you muttering about?"

"Did you see that man who joined the Witherspoon group while I was talking with Flora?"

"Yes, handsome fellow. Who is he?"

"I have a suspicion he is the murderer."

"The devil!"

"No, the murderer."

"What makes you think so?"

"I don't think; I suspect."

"Ah, a nice distinction. What makes you suspect?"

"You recollect that in my interview with Flora she inquired particularly about the man I saw running away, asking me whether he was tall, slim and dark complexioned."

"Very well."

"Well, this fellow answers to the description."

"So he does. How did they address him when he came up?"

"I only heard them call him 'Harry.'"

"On intimate terms with the family, then."

"That accounts for her curious manner when he joined them," said Holbrook musingly.

"What is that?"

Holbrook described how Flora conducted herself.

"Thunder, the suspicion takes form. It is something to work upon."

"We must learn who he is."

"That is easy; wait for me a minute."

SCROFULA

Humors,

Erysipelas,

Canker, and

Catarrh,

Can be cured by purifying the blood with

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a remedy for Scrofulous Humors. It is pleasant to take, gives strength and vigor to the body, and produces a more permanent, lasting, result than any medicine I ever used.—E. Haines, No. Lindale, O.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease.—W. F. Fowler, M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried all sorts of remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured.—Mary C. Amesbury, Rockport, Me.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, and getting no relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured.—Susan L. Cook, 909 Albany st., Boston Highlands, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I have ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach.—Miss Jane Peirce, South Bradford, Mass.
